Induz Laser Dandiya for the arts

SUBMITTED BY INDUZ PHOTOS BY AMETHYST FOTOGRAFIX

Induz, a Bay Area non-profit, believes that every child deserves a comprehensive education that includes global learning and the arts. Research has shown that three out of four children in low income households have no access to art education. Also, students who study art are four times more likely to be recognized for academic achievement.

Induz has been providing a multi-cultural arts and global educational program, Passport to World Arts™, to low income schools across the San Francisco Bay Area. While the program is of benefit to all children, Induz focuses on low income and high risk children in the U.S. A research study showed that a student from a low socioeconomic background with a high arts educational experience, significantly outperformed peers from low-arts, low socioeconomic status, closing and in some cases eliminating

Navigating the Open Enrollment Maze

Washington Hospital Health Insurance Information Service Can Help You Understand Coverage Options

Washington Hospital's Health Insurance Information Service can help navigate through the various health insurance plan options available during open enrollment. For more information or to schedule an appointment call (510) 494-7005.

Medicare. MediCal. Covered California. PPOs. HMOs. Co-payments. Co-insurance. Deductibles. Maximum out-of-pocket expense. Emergency care. Outpatient care. Hospital inpatient care. Prescription benefits. Physical, occupational and speech therapy limits. Mental health services. Hospice care. Home health care.

Just considering the number of variables when choosing among health insurance plans during open enrollment is enough to give you a headache. It can be intimidating to try to evaluate your health insurance options on your own. Fortunately, Washington Hospital's Health Insurance Information Service can help you navigate your way through the various options available.

Open enrollment – the time period when people can review their health insurance options – falls at different times of the year for different types of coverage:

- Employer group coverage, plans offered through your employer. Group health insurance coverage is a policy that is purchased by an employer and is offered to eligible employees of the company (and often to the employees' family members) as a benefit of working for that company.

- Medicare open enrollment for this year, including Medicare Part D prescription drug coverage and Medicare Advantage Plans (Part C), runs from October 15 to December 7. People who are newly eligible for Medicare because they are turning 65 have a seven-month enrollment period that starts three months before the month they turn 65.

- Open enrollment for individual coverage this year, including Covered California, is November 15, 2014, through February 15, 2015. People who experience a "qualifying life event" such as a marriage, birth of a child, loss of employer-sponsored health insurance or a move into California may sign up for coverage within 60 days of the event in a "special enrollment."

"The Health Insurance Service is available to assist with questions on all types of insurance plans whether employer group plans, Medicare or other government sponsored programs. Our service provides free, unbiased and confidential health insurance counseling so people can get the information they need to select the right plan for them."

Caracappa explains that there are numerous considerations in choosing the right health insurance plan to meet your personal or family needs.

"For most of us, affordability is really important," she says. "What are the monthly premiums? For group plans, what is your personal contribution amount to the premium? What are the fixed amounts of co-payments you will have to make for doctor office visits, emergency care, ambulances or other medical services? What covered services are subject to deductibles – the full amount you must pay for those services before any co-payment or co-insurance applies? What is your annual out-of-pocket maximum expense? It helps to understand exactly what those different options entail."

Understanding the Terms

- Co-payment (also called co-pay) – The fixed amount you pay for a health care service, usually when you receive the service. The amount may vary by the type of service provided. For example, a doctor's visit might have a co-pay of $40, but the co-pay for an emergency room visit usually costs more, such as $150. You also may have a co-pay for medical prescriptions.
- Deductibles – The amount you pay for health care services before your health insurance begins to pay. There are other terms you may see, such as "no deductible," which means you don't have to pay toward the deductible amount for a specific service, although you still have to pay any co-pays; "before deductible" means the service is covered before you have met your deductible, but you still

Washington Hospital Receives CALNOC Award

Washington Hospital will receive a Performance Excellence award at CALNOC's 2014 Annual Conference in San Diego on October 27 and 28.

The Fremont-based hospital is being recognized for its exemplary work as one of the top 10% of the Collaborative Alliance for Nursing Outcomes (CALNOC) hospitals in reducing hospital-acquired conditions with the Prevention of Hospital Acquired Pressure Ulcers (HAPU) Stage II or greater.

Furthermore, Washington was one of only 30 hospitals among 257 across six states to meet or exceed the CALNOC standards.

This award is particularly important because, according to Health Research & Educational Trust, more than 2.5 million patients in U.S. acute-care facilities suffer from pressure ulcers annually with 60,000 dying from pressure ulcer complications.

Implementing Evidence-Based Practices

"We're very proud that we've been recognized for meeting or exceeding the standards for preventing pressure ulcers," said Katie Choy, MS, RN, CNS, NEA-BC, Nursing Director, Patient and Staff Education and CALNOC site coordinator at Washington Hospital. "We always strive to implement evidence-based practices by adopting protocols and using newer techniques and products to minimize pressure ulcer incidents.

"Besides our experienced Registered Nurses," continued Choy, "we also have a team of certified Wound Care Nurses who are available for consults for optimal patient care. The nurses assess, evaluate, and monitor patients at risk for developing pressure ulcers.

"We're aware that a wide variety of patients are at risk to develop pressure ulcers," said Choy, "including elderly patients, immobilized or acutely ill patients, patients with limited mobility because of a stroke, and those who have poor nutrition or diabetes.

"Because of our Patient-First ethic, we use an inter-professional team approach to do everything we can to prevent or minimize the incidents of pressure ulcers," concluded Choy. We're really proud of this award and are always pleased at being recognized by our peers."

About CALNOC

CALNOC (Collaborative Alliance for Nursing Outcomes) has been in the forefront of providing actionable information and research on nursing sensitive indicators to its member hospitals for the past 15 years as the nation's only nurse sensitive registry managed, operated and designed by nursing.

CALNOC created the nation's first database registry of nursing sensitive indicators, transforming staffing, processes of care, and patient outcome data into powerful information to help guide decisions advancing improvement in patient care quality, costs, safety, and outcomes. CALNOC's registry and reporting combines staffing variables overlaid with nurse sensitive patient variables at the unit level to allow hospitals to benchmark against themselves and other like-sized institutions. For more information, visit www.calnoc.org/.

Healthy Halloween treats

This is an ongoing column in which Dr. Mary Maish answers your health-related questions. Questions for Dr. Maish should be emailed to Ask the Doctor at: askthedoctor@whhs.com

Dear Doctor,
With Halloween coming soon, can you share some ideas for healthy treats?

Dear Reader,
There are a lot of options for healthy Halloween treats: prepackaged apple slices or baby carrots, raisins, bags of pumpkin seeds, dried fruit, granola bars, chia seed squeezes, or even frozen grapes make fun treats. Throw in a few toothbrushes into your basket as well! And if you don't want your little ones eating all the candy, tell them the Switch Witch will come while they're sleeping to replace the candy with their favorite new toy.

Dear Doctor,
My husband is diabetic and loves to eat the candy that our grandchildren bring home. Should I be concerned?

Dear Reader,
Concentrated sugars found in candy are especially unhealthy for a diabetic. Insulin is needed to carry the sugar out of the blood stream and into the tissues and without it the sugar stays and damages organs. It is important that everyone minimize their candy consumption, but this is especially true for a diabetic. Maybe you could try the Switch Witch on your husband! (see above)

WHHS LABOR NEGOTIATIONS

OPEN LETTER TO THE COMMUNITY

Dear Neighbors,

Washington Hospital is currently in labor negotiations with SEIU-UHW, one of the unions representing our employees. Despite our efforts, the negotiations to reach a new contract have stalled. Unfortunately, SEIU-UHW has embarked on a public relations effort in an attempt to portray Washington Hospital as a system that does not care about its employees or its patients.

Nothing could be further from the truth. Also, contrary to what's been stated, taxpayers are not taxed to fund Hospital operations or pay for the salaries of anyone at Washington Hospital, including the CEO and its leadership.

In accordance with longstanding Board Policy, Washington Hospital provides fair, competitive wages and benefits and has attracted some of the best and brightest health care employees. Our front-line caregivers, as well as those who work behind the scenes, work hard at providing superior medical services for all members of our community.

Negotiations can always be challenging, and we remain optimistic of reaching a mutually beneficial agreement.

Here are the facts:

- The hospital will continue to pay nearly $2,000 a month to provide each employee's health care coverage.
- Despite recent staffing reductions to adjust to volume changes, staff-to-patient ratios have been maintained to ensure quality of care.
- SEIU-UHW is opposed to our proposal that employees pay a modest ($13-$29 bi-weekly) contribution toward premiums for medical/dental and vision coverage for spousal and family benefits. (Employees not needing to cover a spouse or children will continue to pay nothing for premiums.)

We encourage residents to learn more about these issues by visiting WHHS Labor Facts (www.whhslaborfacts.com), our new website dedicated to providing up-to-date information on SEIU-UHW labor negotiations.

We take pride in the broad health care services we deliver to the community and are hopeful to reach a settlement soon. But we must do so responsibly and in a way that ensures our ability to continue our successful service to the community.

Thank you,

have to pay any co-pays. After you meet your deductible, some services may be covered at 100 percent, or you may have to pay co-insurance.

- Co-insurance – Your share of the costs of a health care service, usually figured as a percentage of the total charge for the service. You start paying coinsurance after meeting your deductible. For example, if your co-insurance rate is 20 percent, you would pay $20 for a $100 health care bill, and the insurance company would pay $80.

- Out-of-pocket maximum – The total amount you must pay during the year for certain covered services. Deductibles usually apply to the out-of-pocket maximums. Depending on the plan, co-payments and co-insurance may or may not apply to the out-of-pocket maximum. Premiums never count toward your out-of-pocket maximum.

Other things to consider when looking for a health plan include the availability of doctors, what hospitals are available in the network, and how the plan works if you are traveling on vacation or business. According to Caracappa, the two most common types of plans are health maintenance organizations (HMOs) and preferred provider organizations (PPOs).

- HMO – This type of plan is an organization that provides managed care. With an HMO, care is provided by doctors and other professionals who have agreed by contract to treat patients in accordance with the HMO's guidelines. When choosing an HMO, you usually will choose a medical group. You are treated by the doctors and specialists in that group. You typically need a referral to see a specialist. HMOs cover emergency care regardless of where you need to be seen for that emergency.

- PPO – A type of health insurance arrangement that allows plan participants relative freedom to choose the doctors and hospitals they want to visit. Obtaining services from doctors within the health insurance plan's network, called "preferred providers," results in lower fees for policyholders; however, out-of-network doctors are still covered. Coverage under a PPO requires ongoing payment of premiums by policyholders to the insurance company.

"If you choose an HMO, you will need to choose a medical group," says Caracappa. "Your services will stay within that medical group unless you are approved to go outside the network. Typically, your primary care doctor must refer you to see a specialist. With a PPO, in most cases, you can go to any plan network doctor, hospital or specialist without a referral. You may also go to an out-of-network doctor or hospital at an additional cost."

Rotary Club of Milpitas fights to end polio

SUBMITTED BY FRANK DESMIDT

In honor of World Polio Day, which is widely recognized on October 24, the Rotary Club of Milpitas is currently raising funds as part of Rotary's 27-year mission to eradicate the crippling childhood disease. World Polio Day follows a succession of significant developments that have made 2014 one of the most important years in the history of the polio eradication initiative.

Today, there are only three countries that have never stopped transmission of the polio virus: Afghanistan, Nigeria, and Pakistan. Fewer than 250 polio cases were reported worldwide in 2012, which is a 99 percent reduction since the 1980's, when the world saw about 1,000 cases per day. If we don't stay the course, experts say polio could rebound to 10 million cases in the next 40 years.

A highly infectious disease, polio causes paralysis and is sometimes fatal. As there is no cure, the best protection is prevention. For as little as 60 cents (US) worth of vaccine, a child can be protected against this crippling disease for life. After an international investment of more than $9 billion (US), and the successful engagement of over 200 countries and 20 million volunteers, polio could be the first human disease of the 21st century to be eradicated.

The Global Polio Eradication Initiative is spearheaded by the World Health Organization, Rotary International, the US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF). It includes the support of governments and other private sector donors. Bill Gates,

Co-Chair of the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation said, "Rotary in particular has inspired my own personal commitment to get deeply involved in achieving eradication."

Since 1985, Rotary has contributed nearly $1.2 billion and countless volunteer hours to the protection of more than two billion children in 122 countries. "In 1985, Rotary International made a promise to the children of the world to eradicate polio from the face of the earth," said Eric Emmanuele, Milpitas Rotary Club President. "The members of the Milpitas Rotary Club are dedicated to helping Rotary International achieve this goal, and are excited that polio could be eradicated from the earth in the very near future."

The message to world leaders is clear; support the final push to achieve eradication now while the goal has never been closer, or face the potential consequences of a new polio pandemic that could disable millions of children within a decade. With this goal in mind, Mayor Jose Estevez, at the request of Milpitas City Council member and Rotarian Debbie Giordano, will be presenting Milpitas Rotary Club President Eric Emmanuele a Proclamation for World Polio Day at the October 21, City Council meeting. ## Great Music Party Drivers for Survivors benefit evening

SUBMITTED BY THE VINE IN NILES

There is a great music party in the works at The Vine in Niles on Tuesday, October 21. Join Michael McNevin and friends for an evening of free live acoustic music around the wine garden fire pit, grab terrific, affordable food and bar selections, and learn how you can lend a hand to neighbors in need in the Tri-City area.

A San Francisco Bay Area native, McNevin has a seasoned voice, accomplished guitar work, and a vivid brand of storytelling. He's logged 20 years of concerts across the U.S. and is a winner of the Kerrville New-folk award in Texas, a six-time winner of the West Coast Songwriters Association "Song of the Year," and a Performing Songwriter Magazine Top 12 "DIY Artist Of The Year." He was raised in Niles, with more than a few songs about the place. McNevin and other local musicians will provide impromptu song swaps and jams, while Drivers for Survivors representatives mingle with the crowd and talk about their mission.

Drivers for Survivors is a local, nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization that offers free transportation services and companionship during treatments for oncology patients in the Tri-City area of Newark, Fremont, and Union

City. The organization was founded in 2012 by Sherry Higgs, a cancer survivor herself. Higgs was diagnosed with a rare and potentially life threatening breast cancer called IBC, or inflammatory breast cancer.

Volunteer drivers provide rides for cancer patients to medical-related doctor appointments within a 60-mile radius from Fremont. Driver companions are thoughtfully selected to match the patient's interests and needs. And, through conversation and friendship, a driver companion also provides what the Drivers for Survivors training physician describes as a "therapeutic presence" to lift the spirits of cancer patients. While the rides may be free, the companionship provided is truly priceless. This organization has given over 3,200 rides and serviced over 124 clients with transportation needs.

Part of the goal for the party is to raise funds to help Drivers for Survivors continue providing its mission. Get together for a great cause, drop a few bucks in the jar, and let your neighbors and family know about Drivers for Survivors.

Letter to the Editor

Super Flea Market to close?

The Administration at Ohlone is planning to close the 28-year Ohlone Super Flea Market; a letter has gone out to vendors announcing this. The reason? There is so much construction going on that there are no parking lots available to house the heavy equipment and they must use all of the parking lots. In years past, through all the construction jobs, once a month the machinery was moved and the flea market went on. This does not seem to be an option for them. I suggested we move the market to the Newark campus and was told there is construction going on there as well.

The flea market started 28 years ago for many reasons; it let the public know about the school behind those trees on Mission Boulevard... a great school. It was successful doing that. It provided hundreds of student jobs, especially for foreign students who cannot work off campus. It also gave senior citizens a place to make extra money to supplement their income. The flea market has operated through two economic busts when hundreds of people came to make some money to avoid losing their homes, businesses and futures. I personally talked to many parents raising money at the flea market, who had welcomed their married children and grandchildren into their home because of lost jobs and homes.

The Ohlone College Super Flea Market, an event on the second Saturday of every month for 28 years, and the construction company can't push the heavy equipment back to the curb in two lots just one Saturday every month?

I retired from full time employment at Ohlone about eight years ago but was asked to continue to run the flea market... and I have. I did this because I felt this was an important part of the College. I also loved the students who worked for me; many became exceptional at their jobs and have since become professional people. Some continue their education at other schools but come back to work part time at the flea market. Student programs have been advertised at the flea market, school clubs have booths at the flea market and in one year, registrations were done at the flea market.

Vendors become lifelong friends and people have even met their future wives at the flea market. Case in point; a vendor selling extraordinary jewelry was taking care of a customer and they soon began dating and then married. Lots of stories like that. These are personal bonds of friendship due to the Ohlone College Super Flea Market over the past 28 years.

Let the college and Board of Trustees know that the Ohlone College Super Flea Market should continue!

Bestselling Author to Discuss New Memoir

SUBMITTED BY SALLY THOMAS

The Hayward Public Library is pleased to be hosting Novella Carpenter at the Hayward Main Library on Saturday, October 18. She will be reading from and discussing her new memoir Gone Feral: Tracking My Dad Through the Wild. Carpenter's father, George—a back-to-the-land homesteader and troubled Korean War veteran—has spent decades battling his inner demons while largely absenting himself from his children's lives. Carpenter is forced to confront the truth: her time with her dad—now 73 years old—is limited, and the moment to restore their relationship is now.

Carpenter is best known for her 2009 bestselling memoir Farm City: The Education of an Urban Farmer, which chronicles her trials and triumphs in running a small-scale farm on an abandoned lot in a tough Oakland neighborhood. She last appeared in Hayward before a standing-room-only audience at the Main Library in 2011, for a memorable Book-to-Action event in partnership with students engaged in Ochoa Middle School's garden.

Carpenter's visit this month is part of the California Reads: War Comes Home program, developed by Cal Humanities' statewide effort to engage Californians in thinking about what it means to come home from war: not only for veterans, but for all of us. What are our responsibilities toward those who have been sent to war, and how can we bridge the gap of experience between those who have served and those who have not? Carpenter's father is not alone — many older veterans have discovered late in life that their chronic personal battles, including challenges with parenting and holding down a job, stem from undiagnosed PTSD related to military service.

The Hayward Public Library and Chabot College have collaborated to present a variety of special events highlighting various aspects of war and the toll it takes on veterans, their families and their communities. Topics have included parenting through war, sexual assault in the military, and post-traumatic stress disorders. The issue is an important one in Alameda County, which is home to more than 57,000 veterans.

A new face greets Hayward air travelers

An important portal to the City of Hayward celebrated its new "face" greeting travelers entering the city via the Hayward Executive Airport. On the planning books since 2002, the Hayward Airport Master Plan called for "a modern and more welcoming facility for based and transient pilots." Moving from confined quarters shared with the Federal Aviation Administration in the control tower, the new facility features offices, a police substation, meeting room, pilot lounge and flight planning room.

The goal, to present a friendly and architecturally appealing appearance, is achieved through a design that suggests an aircraft wing and illuminated walkways in the evening. Another important aspect is the "green" building elements to increase efficiency using regional and recycled materials. In celebration of the new administration building, a ribbon cutting ceremony by Hayward Mayor Barbara Halliday, Airport Manager Douglas McNeely and City and Airport officials was held at a luncheon for pilots and tenants of the airport on October 9th.

KEEP IT CLEAN

If moisture or dirt blocks drivers' view of the road ahead even to a minor degree, the safety of the vehicle's occupants and everyone else on the road is dangerously compromised. This was the case with 16% of the vehicles inspected during a Car Care Council survey. Nearly one in four (23%) of the vehicles examined had little (or no) windshield washer fluid in their washer reservoirs. Because this is not a problem drivers want to face while driving, all vehicle owners are strongly encouraged to refill washer fluid reservoirs and replace worn or damaged wiper blades that don't clear the windshield properly or leave streaks that blind drivers. If necessary, wiper arms with worn springs should also be replaced.

When it comes to driving, small things can make a big difference in regard to safety. This includes regular care and maintenance of your windshield wipers as well as the rest of your car. At BAY STAR AUTO CARE, our experienced technicians can provide the regularly scheduled attention that your car needs so that you can be sure that your family is safe on the road. Call if you would like to make an appointment.

HINT: If wipers are not correctly positioned on the windshield (or beneath the cowl of the hood on some models), turbulence and poor fuel economy can result.

Chevrolet Spark EV: A New Way of Driving and Thinking

By STEVE SCHAEFER

The Spark EV is General Motors' entry in the growing all-electric car segment. These cars sell in small numbers and are not for everyone, but GM has taken its experience with the Volt plug-in hybrid and other hybrids it sells, to bring a strong competitor to market.

The Spark is small—just over 12 feet nose-to-tail—but it has a second row seat that accommodates two average-size adults (like me). Because the side windows drop down at the front, the feeling in this mini-car is surprisingly open and airy. The car is just over current, it can take 17 hours.

The Spark may be designed for efficiency, but it is actually fun to drive. At just under 3,000 pounds, it sits firmly on the road, and feels very stable while rolling along and during turning maneuvers. The big drawing card is the motor's 400 lb.-ft. of torque that, along with 140 horsepower (105 kW), can zip it smoothly from 0 to 60 in under 8 seconds. It feels like flying. There's also a Sport button that lets you launch even more quickly, but it drains the battery faster.

I received my Summit White tester with a little more than half a charge on it, enough to make

Over the past 22 years, Steve Schaefer has tested more than 1,000 cars and published a weekly story on every one. As a teenager, he visited car dealers' back lots to catch a glimpse of the new models as they first rolled off the transporter. He is a founding member of the Western Automotive Journalists. five feet wide, but a tall roofline and chair-height seats make the experience comfortable.

The Spark is also sold as an entry-level gas-powered model, so it's naturally built to a budget, but the look and feel are more upscale than you might expect. The Electric Blue trim in my tester brightened the gray interior considerably. Colorful electronic gauges fill a motorcycle-style binnacle behind the fat, leather-wrapped steering wheel, and the 7-inch center console screen supplies plenty of other useful information on entertainment, climate, phone, and energy use.

Electric cars have the virtue of running virtually silently and consuming no gasoline, but their major downside is range. Other the 30-mile trip home. I parked it in my driveway and immediately plugged it into the charger in my garage (the cord is nice and long). With the 17-hour fill time, the

This means that if I had a 240 charger in my garage, the Spark would be a perfect commute vehicle, as long as I had another car available for longer trips.

The existence of these range limits can be frustrating, but it also changes your driving behavior. For one thing, using the displays in the car, you learn to drive more efficiently. You can monitor your acceleration and braking and keep them smooth. The Spark is a very good regenerator, so you may actually add to your range as you're driving, or see the number stay static for several miles. Stop-and-go traffic is a drag, but it's great for electric cars.

The range limits forced me to make smart decisions. Instead of driving into the city to visit my mom, I took public transit and had her pick me up. That saved gasoline (and bridge fare) and I got to read my book. And, when I wanted to drive to a Jazz festival, I met my friend at his house and we carpooled. So—new technology creates new behavior.

Electric cars are not cheap, but with government tax breaks and attractive leases, it can be easy to own one. My test car was the 2LT upper model, with fancifully patterned leatherette seats and a nice leather wheel, and it came to $28,570, including destination charge. On the way to work, I saw a billboard with a $199/month two-year lease on Spark EVs. Considering the savings of home electric charging versus $4-a-gallon gasoline, that could mean you're practically driving for free.

I have tested several small electric vehicles. All are enjoyable to drive for their quietness and the feeling of helping the planet. The Spark EV has been the most fun so far.

than the extremely expensive Tesla Model S, electric cars have a hard time getting past 80-100 miles on a charge. Charging times are long, too, depending on the type of charger. The Spark fills its lithium-ion battery pack from empty in 7 hours on a 240-volt level 2 charger, such as the public ones offered by Blink and ChargePoint in parking lots. At home, on standard household battery was not fully charged in the morning, but there was enough to get to work. I took the Spark to my closest charging station and topped it off (in about 4 hours). That night, I drove home, but still had plenty of charge left, so the next morning, it was full. The colorful range gauge said 96 miles (despite the EPA's 82).

I was able to drive to work and home with plenty of extra charge.

Coastal Cleanup

SUBMITTED BY NELSON KIRK

On September 20 Kaiser Permanente employees volunteered and celebrated the 30th Anniversary of California Coastal Cleanup Day by removing garbage from Flood Channel "A" section of the Old Alameda Creek near Union City Blvd, Whipple Road and the Tidewater Park area. This project was set up by Kaiser Permanente's Mary Cranley.

Two hundred lbs. of problematic trash such as cigarette butts, plastics bottles, bags, litter, Styrofoam, shopping carts, suitcases and more was removed, items that could have endangered the animals and aquatic life living there. Additionally, trash in our waterways increases the amount of pathogens and chemicals, impacting water quality.

Birds, fish and mammals can mistake plastic for food. Debris may cause choking and injuries, and with plastic filling their stomachs, animals may have a false feeling of being full and may die of starvation. Sea turtles mistake plastic bags for jellyfish, one of their favorite foods. The Laysan Albatross is a sea bird that nests in the Northwest Hawaiian Islands. The adult birds collect plastic debris (along with food) from the ocean to feed to their chicks. In a study of dead chicks during 1994 and 1995, 97 percent of carcasses were found to contain plastic.

Milpitas is among the best small cities in the US

The city of Milpitas has recently been ranked 29th among the top 50 best small cities in the U.S., according to Money magazine, published by Time Inc. With a population of 69,699, the city placed ahead of Pleasanton, Calif., which ranked 31st on the list.

Money magazine cites the "heavy hitters" such as Cisco, Flextronics, and SanDisk as among the biggest employers in Milpitas, a city known for its "close ties to Silicon Valley." This factor also contributed to Milpitas having "terrific schools," including Milpitas High School, a California Distinguished School. According to the article, Milpitas' "home prices are eye-popping by national standards, with a median price of more than $500,000." Aside from award-winning schools and affordable housing, the city has Great Mall with plenty of shops and restaurants to offer its residents and visitors.

Milpitas Mayor Jose Esteves attributes this recent recognition to the city's well-maintained neighborhood parks and roads; clean environment and beautiful mountain view; financial strength; streamlined city operations, and more. He also recognizes that Milpitas is an environmental and business-friendly city, with competitive business support and services.

In terms of community involvement, Mayor Esteves states that Milpitas has active community and neighborhood groups against crime, as well as numerous volunteer groups for safety and emergency. Residents have access to city services and officials through the My Milpitas smartphone application, the city's website, and personal communication. Milpitas has extensive and comprehensive recreational, health, personal development, youth, family, and other city services at nominal cost. More importantly, Milpitas has a culture-rich population because of its diversity.

Music first for Durham Elementary

MUSIC AT THE MISSION

It was a first for students at Fremont's Durham Elementary School when Music at the Mission brought their opening night artists to an assembly of 500 appreciative students on October 7.

Music at the Mission Chamber players Karen Shinozaki-Sor, violin; Michael Graham, cello; and Aileen Chanco, piano; presented "A Conversation through Music." The 45-minute interactive program of live music and engaging educational commentary was designed for students K through 6th Grades.

"It was gratifying to be the first group to present a music program at Durham Elementary," said Aileen Chanco, Executive Director of Music at the Mission. "This year is our 10th Anniversary Season, and one of our most important goals has always been to help bring greater exposure of classical music to the next generation.

"We are grateful to Cargill and the Fremont-Niles Rotary Club for supporting this year's Educational Outreach Program, which makes it possible for schools to receive this opportunity at no cost to the school."

Sandi Pantages represented the Fremont-Niles Rotary Club and introduced the performers on stage.

"Students have already come to the office looking for applications to our band program. You have made a difference!" said Teresa Bonaccorsi, Principal of Durham Elementary.

Daly appointed president of DeVry University Fremont campus

SUBMITTED BY COLLEEN COORS

On October 6, DeVry University announced the appointment of Pamela Daly as president of the Fremont campus in California. Daly will manage operations, admissions and career advising at the Fremont campus and, as metro president, will oversee operations at the university's Daly City, Oakland and San Jose locations (known collectively as the San Francisco Bay Metro).

Daly brings more than 20 years of higher education experience to the role, joining DeVry University in May 2008 as the president of the San Diego campus. Since then, Daly has been committed to student service excellence. Her skills and attention toward the development of a high-performing team resulted in collaboration focused on student success and graduation.

"DeVry University and our students in the San Francisco Bay Metro will benefit greatly from Pam's vision, leadership and commitment to student success," said Robert Paul, president of DeVry University. "Her operations experience, coupled with her work in admissions and student lending, brings great value and experience to the role of San Francisco Bay Area metro president."

Daly earned her bachelor's degree in counseling psychology from Christian Heritage College in San Diego and her master's degree in counseling psychology from Liberty University in Lynchburg, Va. For more information visit, www.devry.edu

Burn curtailment resource guide

SUBMITTED BY HANNAH RAND

Based on the burn curtailment restrictions in the Tri-Cities area and throughout the county, the public may be interested in WhenToBurn.com, a resource that is relevant and valuable especially as burning curtailment season begins in November. To avoid confusion about burn restrictions, Duraflame developed WhenToBurn.com, where residents can easily check daily burn status by zip code. In addition to serving as a single-point resource for determining burn days, the site also shares ways to reduce fireplace emissions.

Twin Cities airport plans solar power project

AP WIRE SERVICE

MINNEAPOLIS (AP), — The Minneapolis-St. Paul International Airport is planning a $25.4 million solar power installation to generate nearly 20 percent of the airport's electricity.

Airport officials announced the plans Thursday with Gov. Mark Dayton. They say the installation will be the largest in the state when completed in fall 2015.

The 3-megawatt installation will be built above parking ramps near the main terminal. More than 7,700 parking ramp lights will be converted to LEDs.

The Metropolitan Airports Commission says $23 million is being financed through a federal loan program. Minneapolis-based power company Xcel Energy will provide a $2 million grant.

The commission says calculations were done on sun patterns and panel angles to ensure the installation won't distract pilots.

The Start Tribune reports Minnesota's current solar leader is a 2-megawatt Xcel Energy system in Slayton.

Report: Amazon to open brick-and-mortar store

AP WIRE SERVICE

NEW YORK (AP), Amazon is planning to open its first physical store.

That's according to a report in The Wall Street Journal that says the largest U.S. e-commerce retailer will open a store in Manhattan ahead of the holiday shopping season. It cites anonymous sources familiar with the matter.

It is not clear if the store will be permanent or a holiday pop up. The newspaper says the store could function as a warehouse and a showcase for inventory.

Amazon has never opened a brick-and-mortar store but has installed pick-up lockers in major cities. It has been investing heavily in the speedy fulfillment of orders, including adding six new distribution centers and about 15 sortation centers before the holidays.

Seattle-based Amazon did not respond to a request for comment.

Idaho man creates expanding shoe to help poor kids

BY JUSTIN DALME IDAHO PRESS-TRIBUNE

NAMPA, Idaho (AP), — Compressed rubber. Leather. Heavy duty buckles and straps.

Put them together and you have a shoe that can grow five sizes and last for five years.

After about seven years of research and development, one Nampa man will launch TheShoeThatGrows.org to provide children around the world with a pair of shoes that readjusts to fit their feet as they grow.

"I'm just excited to get these out there, because I really believe it is just a good, solid shoe for kids," Kenton Lee said. "And I'll do whatever it takes to get as many of these to the kids who need them."

Lee graduated from Northwest Nazarene University in 2007. He spent the next year traveling on mission trips, stopping for five months at an orphanage of 140 children in Kenya. Their parents had all died from AIDS.

The orphanage's electricity would go on and off, there was no clean water and while nobody starved, food was lean, Lee said. Conditions were dirty and dusty.

One day, Lee and the children were going for a walk. He looked at one of the girls. She was about 6 years old. Her shoes caught his attention.

"They were so small that she had to cut the front of them open to let her toes stick out," Lee said. "I thought, spur of the moment, 'Oh, that would be nice if there was a shoe that they could just adjust and expand.'"

The thought stuck, and Lee couldn't shake it once he returned to the U.S.

Samaritan's Feet, an organization that works to distribute shoes around the world, states two billion people worldwide are plagued with parasitic diseases that could be prevented by wearing proper footwear.

In 2009, Lee launched Because International, a nonprofit organization. His first project was to make a shoe that would grow. Five years later, The Shoe That Grows is ready for people to buy and distribute around the world.

"I know I could go back right now and give a pair of these to that little girl, and she could wear them for a few years," Lee said.

TheShoeThatGrows.org will be a one-stop shop where people can buy shoes in packages of one, five, 10, 25, 50 or 100.

"If they travel to places where they know kids need shoes, and kids struggle with that, I'll ship these to them and then they can take them themselves as they travel," Lee said.

An order of 25 shoes comes in a duffel bag with 25 drawstring backpacks to package each shoe.

People can also pay $10 for a pair of shoes that will go to five partner organizations around the world. Once a bag of 50 pairs is filled up, the shoes are sent.

In the coming weeks, Lee will receive his first shipment of shoes to his house from a factory in China.

"I don't know how quickly the first 3,000 are going to go ... but we're excited to place more orders and keep doing that," he said.

Try Retirement with SIR

Sons In Retirement is a nonprofit public benefit corporation for retired men. SIR Branch 59 is one of over 100 SIR branches located throughout Northern California meets at noon on the third Thursday of each month at the Newark Pavilion. Every meeting features a guest speaker from the community. Speakers have included college professors, police officers, retired SF Giant and 49er players, and even the editor of TCV. Twice a year the meeting is open to spouses — the May sweetheart luncheon and the December Holiday Luncheon. The goal of Branch 59 and all other SIR branches throughout Northern California is to provide an avenue for men to have fun in their retirement years. Activities include golf, bowling, walking, computer club, sports, bridge, reading, and much more.

Two of the more popular activities are bowling and golf. Members bowl once a week and participate in about 20 tournaments a year. Tournament days usually begin with a breakfast meeting followed by travel to the tournament, sometimes as far as Reno. Some branches allow women to join them in bowling.

SIR branch 59 is NCGA certified and plays golf weekly at Sunol. They attend state tournaments about seven times a year. To find more information about the SIR golf group, visit their website at www.sirstategolf.com. The golfers travel to Reno, Las Vegas, Solvang, and the Monterey area for their tournaments. The standard format is scramble, but there is also individual play and 2-man best ball. Ladies (with NCGA handicaps) have a separate tournament at the state tournament, always a scramble format. The average handicap for the SIR golfers statewide is mid-20s.

Unequal Pay: Must be a lot of good karma out there

BY BARBARA ORTUTAY
AP TECHNOLOGY WRITER

NEW YORK (AP), Don't ask for a raise. Keeping quiet will give you "superpowers" that will translate into employer trust and other "good karma" that will eventually come back around to your purse.

Microsoft CEO Satya Nadella was widely derided Thursday for his foot-in-mouth statement at an event celebrating women in computing. During his stage interview, Microsoft director Maria Klawe asked Nadella to give advice to women who want to advance their careers but are uncomfortable asking for promotions and raises. His pearl of wisdom? Just trust that the system will reward you "as you go along." He didn't say if he has employed that philosophy during his decades-long career at Microsoft. He later apologized.

Men are eight times more likely than women to negotiate salary when taking a job, according to a study by Linda Babcock and Sara Laschever for their 2007 book Women Don't Ask: The High Cost of Avoiding Negotiation and Positive Strategies for Change.

So how's that good karma working out?

— On average, women in the U.S. working full time were paid 78 cents for every dollar that men earned in 2013, according to Census figures.

WHERE YOU LIVE MATTERS

Louisiana has the nation's largest gender pay gap — women make about two thirds of what men are paid. The District of Columbia has the narrowest with women averaging 91 percent of men's salaries.

This likely has to do with the types of jobs available. Washington boasts highly paid jobs going to a highly educated workforce.

In Louisiana the more lucrative jobs are in the oil and gas industries, which employ mostly men.

YOUR TECHNOLOGY JOB IS CUTTING-EDGE — YOUR PAYCHECK ISN'T

— Women in the computer technology industry earn an average of $6,358 a year less than men, factoring in education, age, region and occupation differences. That's according to a recent study by the nonprofit American Institute for Economic Research. You're a mom too? The "child penalty" will cost you $11,247 a year.

— Female engineering majors earn an average of 88 percent of their male counterparts' salaries a year after graduation. Female majors in computer and information sciences earn 77 percent of men with the same degree, says a study by the American Association of University Women based on the Education Department's 2008-09 Baccalaureate and Beyond Longitudinal Study. It included about 15,000 graduates.

— Most of the technology companies that have revealed diversity figures this year say women comprise less than one-third of their workforce. At Microsoft Corp., women make up 29 percent of employees.

— Facebook's Chief Operating Officer Sheryl Sandberg continues to publicly champion women in the workplace with her "Lean In" book and campaign. But women make up only 31 percent of Facebook Inc.'s total workers and only 15 percent of its tech employees, mainly in engineering.

— Thirty percent of people who work at Google Inc. are women, but when it comes to leadership positions, the number drops to 21 percent.

WANT TO WORK ON WALL STREET? STAY SINGLE

— The pay gap is even bigger in the financial services industry, where women earn $14,067 a year less than men, says the American Institute for Economic Research. Brides earn $16,491 less than single ladies and all men.

— Just 6 percent of partners in U.S. venture capital firms are women, according to a recent study from Babson College. That's down from 10 percent in 1999.

TOP JOBS SCARCE

— Only 5 percent of Fortune 500 companies are led by women. The 25 female CEOs are represented across most industries, including IBM Corp.'s Ginni Rometty, PepsiCo's Indra Nooyi and General Motors' Mary Barra. In 2009, Ursula Burns became the first African-American woman to lead a Fortune 500 company when she was named CEO of Xerox Corp. Safra Catz was recently named one of software giant Oracle Corp.'s two CEOs, along with Mark Hurd. Defense contractor Lockheed Martin Corp. named its first female CEO, Marillyn Hewson, last year.

— About 17 percent of corporate board seats are held by women in the U.S., according to the nonprofit Catalyst.org, which tracks issues surrounding women in the workplace. Norway boasts the highest percentage at more than 40 percent; Saudi Arabia has the lowest at 0.1 percent.

Idaho man creates expanding shoe to help poor kid

A gleam forms in Lee's eye as he explains the launch of a product he has watched grow and expand, much like the product itself.

But it wasn't always easy for a guy who has no shoe experience.

Lee called companies such as Nike, Crocs, Tom's, all of whom said it would be a good idea, but told him to call back once he had the idea ready. They told him the idea wasn't something those companies already produced.

When that failed, Lee thought maybe he didn't explain it well enough. He spent $500 of his own money to make a video and sent it to shoe companies.

There was still no interest.

He kept thinking of the kids in Kenya and how his concept would make more sense to be able to adjust with their growing feet.

Lee bought about 20 pairs of Crocs and cut them all up to find out how the idea could possibly work, but he didn't make much progress.

"I knew I didn't know what I was doing with shoes," Lee said. "I was picturing trying to make a factory in my backyard. I didn't even know the first place to start."

Doubts crept in. Maybe this wasn't a good idea.

Lee went to one Nampa Chamber of Commerce luncheon — the only one he has ever been to. He explained his idea to a fellow NNU grad there, who pointed him toward another NNU grad in Portland, who connected him to a person in France, who connected Lee to Proof of Concept, a shoe company in Portland that specializes in developing footwear.

"They loved the idea," Lee said. "Without them, I probably would have given up about two years ago."

Gary Pitman, founder and president of Proof of Concept, has been in the shoe industry for about 30 years, working for Nike and Adidas. He also grew up in Emmett.

Pitman was interested in the concept and thought the idea was doable. But what made this project stick out above the rest?

"I guess it was the concept of giving back and helping a nonprofit like Because International make a difference in the world," Pitman said.

The shoe went through about six prototypes. Then, a year ago, 100 pairs of prototype-shoes were made, and Lee took them to schools in Kenya. It was a make-it-or-break-it trip to see if the shoe would work.

The kids loved it and were excited about it, Lee said. The adults were excited too about the shoe's sturdiness, because the shoes available to those children are cheap and last only a few months, Lee said.

After feedback, the shoe was adjusted to the design today, with a patent in the works.

"For a long time, it was just an idea, just kind of a harebrained idea," Lee said. "I never really thought anything would come of it. Just step by step, through a lot of failing, too, we finally made it."

The new family portrait? 3D-printed statue selfies

BY PETER SVENSSON
AP TECHNOLOGY WRITER

NEW YORK (AP), Walk into Eddie DaRoz's office and you'll find two of him there: the actual 32-year-old video producer, and a 5-inch statue of him.

"There are a lot of double takes. It's like a little action figure of myself," the Los Angeles native said.

He had the statue made on a lark. While waiting for his brother at a mall, he stepped into a studio that scanned his body and sent the scan off to a 3-D printer. These studios are popping up rapidly as 3-D scanning and printing technology gets more advanced. In New York City alone, there are at least four stores that offer the service, including three just in the past year. You can get scanned in just a few seconds and get your statue delivered in days.

The advent of digital cameras and smartphones killed the traditional mall portrait studio, but 3-D printing has sparked a new trend. Overloaded with digital photos, statues may be moving in to fulfill our desire for portraits that stand out.

Many of the customers of the statue studios are parents who want statues of their kids. Sylvain Preumont, who opened a New York branch of his London-based iMakr store this year, said a soldier's wife had their three children scanned so he could bring them to Afghanistan. Victor De Los Angeles, owner of New York 3-D printing and scanning store Cubo, has scanned several pregnant women.

"I had a lady come in the day before she went into labor and she was like: 'I need it done today,'" he said.

New York's Museum of Art and Design offered scans and statues earlier this year. Shapeways, the company that supplied the exhibit, said it scanned about 6,000 people and sold about 1,500 statues for $30. Woody Allen got himself scanned there, so it's now possible to buy a 3.5-inch statue of a slumping Woody Allen in a cardigan. The Smithsonian Institution scanned President Barack Obama and revealed a 3-D printed bust of him this summer. It will be added to the National Portrait Gallery.

The typical 3-D-printed statue is printed in full color in a material known as "sandstone" — really, gypsum powder. It's glued together by color ink ejected from a head similar to the one found in an inkjet printer. The statues range from three to eight inches tall. The technology allows for a lot of variation in materials. iMakr offered chocolate statues for Easter. For 99 pounds, you got a box with six small chocolate likenesses of yourself.

Big businesses are getting into 3-D statuary as well, with Wal-Mart Stores Inc. at the forefront. In July, at a newly opened Sam's Club in Montgomery, Illinois, and another outside Fort Worth, Tex., 3-D printers scanned shoppers' faces and placed resin printouts of their heads on action figure-sized bodies of one of three Marvel characters. Wal-Mart's British unit, ASDA, starting testing a service in November that lets customers buy 8-inch figurines of themselves for 60 pounds, or $100. The studio is now permanent in one store, and it's been so popular that the company is considering rolling it out to other locations.

"It's become the new family portrait," said ASDA spokesman Russell Craig.

A Staples store in New York scans people's faces and puts them on NBA and Star Trek figurines. The goal of the pilot program is to get small businesses to use Staples Inc. for 3-D scanning and printing jobs, just like they've provided those services for paper.

One example of what that might look like: A bakery that wants to use statues of the bride and groom as wedding cake toppers would need a printer that cost $60,000 or so, plus the expertise to use it. Staples wants to do that job for them, for $70. Before that can happen, small businesses like bakeries have to learn about the possibilities of 3-D printing.

"There's a really big education component that I don't think can be underestimated," said Damien Leigh, senior vice president of business services for the office supplies retailer.

AP Business Writer Anne D'Innocenzio contributed to this report.

An opportunity for your Mutt to Strut

SUBMITTED BY
EMMA VICTORIA G. BLANCO

Is your furry best friend ready to show off that Halloween costume? There's nowhere better to flaunt it than at New Haven Schools Foundation (NHSF)'s 5th "Mutt Strut." NHSF's much anticipated annual fundraiser takes place Saturday, October 18 at the Masonic Home grounds, located along the Union City foothills on Mission Boulevard.

Participants will start the day with a pancake breakfast; at 9 a.m., the walk/run begins at the bottom of the hill. The route will go uphill and around Acacia Creek, where participants will find residents cheering them on. The strut turns north to cross the Masonic Home campus, then finally down the hill to the front of the main building.

The fun doesn't end when participants cross the finish line; in addition to the doggie Halloween Costume Contest (which will also award prizes to the "best pair" adult-and-dog and child-and-dog costumes) there will be other games and activities: a hot dog dunking contest and musical chairs to entertain canines and their two-legged companions.

The best part of the event is that all funds raised go directly to support New Haven student activities and educational programs. NHSF is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization committed to providing financial support for students and teachers of New Haven Unified School District, and assisting in the continuation of student activities and educational programs. NHSF helps provide and maintain consistently high quality educational experiences and school activity opportunities for children of our community. The Foundation also acts on the behalf of the community as an agent for scholarship funding for students of the New Haven Unified School District.

NHSF would like to thank this year's "Mutt Strut" sponsors, including the Masonic Homes of California, Fremont Bank, Washington Hospital, IBEW Local 595, Acacia Creek Retirement Community, and Tri-CED Community Recycling.

For more information or to purchase your ticket, visit www.muttstrutt.org or call (510) 909-9263. Each individual ticket covers registration for one adult and up to two dogs, one pancake breakfast, a Mutt Strut T-shirt, and a doggie goody bag. The family ticket includes registration for up to four people and two dogs, pancake breakfast for two, two event T-shirts, and two doggie goodie bags.

good portions," Reddick explained. It's not just the barbecue that makes Smoking Pig unique. Reddick's vision for the Fremont location is to create and harvest a thriving music community, specifically with the Blues. The decision to play the Blues at a barbecue restaurant went hand-in-hand for Reddick. Just like barbecue, the Blues is a much-loved American original with roots in the South. "There is so much talent in this area – we want to bring the best of the best here," he said.

While Smoking Pig already has live music on Friday and Saturday nights (booked by Grammy Award nominee and two-time Blues Music Award winner Mark Hummel), Reddick is hoping to promote the Blues to younger generations and even work with schools. Young musicians are encouraged to stop by Smoking Pig's Wednesday night jams, starting at 7:30 p.m. – make sure to bring your instrument! Smoking Pig also hopes to become a venue for charity events in the future. In March, the restaurant hosted a fundraiser for the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society. Seven thousand dollars

A makeover for your public face

BY THOMAS FULLER

First impressions are lasting impressions. Curb appeal is the face your property reveals to the world. Is it possible to retain a presentable public face when the drought seems to be working against us?

OK, the lawn looks terrible. That's to be expected when watering is reduced or maybe even turned off entirely. It may be container plant on either side or a cluster of smaller containers may do the trick. Plants don't have to be expensive, just healthy and colorful. If the area is sunny, a pair of patio Rose trees will enhance the area; if shady, try a pair of erect Camellia sasanquas.

Hanging baskets are easy and fun to install. A screw hook attached to the end of a have interesting bark and orange to red fall color. Another interesting small tree is Jacaranda mimosifolia. Often grown as a multi-trunk tree, Jacaranda has a long summer display with clusters of tubular lavender flowers. The delicate and airy, fern-like foliage adds an interesting texture to the landscape.

Given a few more days and a few more dollars, something can be done about a suffering lawn or bare dirt in the front yard. The magic word is "mulch." A wide variety of organic mulches available at a local nursery or home improvement store can help bring a dreary yard back to vibrant life. Trying to cover an entire front yard one sack at a time can be costly and time consuming. Buying the material in bulk quantities is more economical, especially if areas are greater than a couple of hundred square feet.

If dealing with bulk delivery, check the delivery charge and size of the truck. The delivery charge will be the same, whether the truck is fully loaded or not. For example, if the dealer uses a 10 cubic yard truck, it makes more sense to order 10 cubic yards of material, than a partial load, such as 8 cubic yards. The cost is not much greater. Those extra couple of cubic yards always seems to come in handy.

Adding colorful container plants, flowering trees and yard art features can put a big smile on your public face.

that this is the time to abandon the idea of installing or high maintenance of a lawn. Drought tolerant landscaping can take a bit of effort and extra expense but at a minimum, low maintenance cleanup makes sense for everyone. Mow the lawn short, remove the weeds and reevaluate shrubs and other plantings. If they don't look good, get rid of them. You wouldn't keep a vase full of dying flowers on your table, would you? When it comes to revitalizing landscapes, it is time to be tough. Even bare dirt is more attractive than ugly plants or a dead lawn.

What can be done to create quick curb appeal? Start with the front entry. Look at the door itself. If it is shabby, replace it, paint, stain, or seal coat it. Attractive containers with flowering plants placed symmetrically on either side of the entry can create a pleasing sense of balance. Depending on the size of the front porch area, a protruding rafter and you're in business. There are many choices, but some standards are Ivy, Geraniums or Petunias.

Dress up a suffering lawn by installing one or two points of interest. Yard art such as a statue or bird bath can help. A bird bath, fountain or folk art - an old tub, wheel barrow, or wine barrel planter will give your front yard a unique appearance; my yard has a handmade decorative Lithuanian cross. A statue of an angel, a frog, or a turtle will evoke good will and happy thoughts. Dig a circle around the yard art and plant colorful annual flowers such as Marigold, Petunias.

Colorful trees can add a new dimension to your front yard. Many small to medium-sized trees offer interesting color and texture without overpowering; Crape Myrtle is one. Besides their showy pastel flowers, Crape Myrtles

Fremont Education Foundation's Run 4 Education

SUBMITTED BY JESSE SCHAA

The Fremont Education Foundation (FEF) and Lam Research are excited to celebrate the 10th Annual Run for Education on Sunday, October 26. This charity event has raised over $125,000 for the Guy Emanuele Sports Fund (GESF). The event has grown so big that the organizers had to move its location. This year's Run will start at Niles Elementary School in Fremont, highlighting one of Fremont's oldest local schools and historic districts. The 5k and 10k courses will take the runners through the serene Niles Community Park to scenic Alameda Creek trails and back while the Kids one-quarter mile and one-half mile take place on school grounds.

This year also marks 10 years of the Fremont Unified School District (FUSD) Elementary School Challenge. Every year the Challenge encourages local students, administrators, teachers, and parents to participate in the event. Participants are asked to indicate which school they are walking/running for. The school with the most registered participants will receive a $1,000 grant that goes towards sports equipment, uniforms, travel to events, and other needs of sports teams of their school that they could not have been able to provide without the grant.

FEF is grateful for their many sponsors such as Lam Research, Fremont Family & Sport Chiropractic and Tri-Valley Triathlon Club who make this event possible. It is not too late to sponsor. This is one of Fremont's premier running events to promote fitness and healthy lives for local families. The Run also encourages students that could not afford to participate in after school sports programs.

Proceeds from individual or corporate sponsors benefit the Fremont Education Foundation's Guy Emanuele Sports Fund (GESF). The GESF provides scholarships to high school students who face economic hardship and might not otherwise be able to participate in after-school sports or cheerleading. In 2013, the GESF gave money to every Fremont elementary school, $1,500 to each of the junior high schools and 43 grants to athletes and cheerleaders from all five FUSD high schools.

There will be an expo area with booths, games, activities, Kids Corral, podium, race photographer and much more. The awards ceremony will take place after all the races for the top three finishers in all age groups and runs. Fleet Feet has once again donated a pair of running shoes for each of the top finishers of the 5k and 10k runners including Masters. The fun starts at 7:30 a.m. Please visit <http://www.fremontrun4education.org/> for more info and to register.

Not Just Books:

We have programs at the library, too

DENNIS FINNEGAN,
CHILDREN'S SERVICES
LIBRARIAN,
UNION CITY LIBRARY

When people think of libraries they automatically think of books and other reading materials and a space provided to read them. If they've been to a library in recent years, they also know that libraries have DVDs and CDs to check out. If they've been in more recently, they know about access to computers, the Internet and now, downloadable books, music and movies. The one thing that people rarely mention is the services and programs for the communities they serve; from babies to senior citizens... and all of it for free!

The Alameda County Library has 10 branches plus the Bookmobile (six branches are in the Tri-City area) that offer services and programs for all ages.

For babies, toddlers, and preschoolers there are story time programs almost every day in the month of November. This includes sessions in Mandarin (November 6th at 11:30 am - Fremont Library), Japanese (November 5th at 4 pm - Fremont Library), and some that include Toddler Stay & Play programs. There are also music programs (Music & Movement Time Mondays at 10:30 am - Union City Library), Music Together (November 22nd at 1:30pm - Fremont Library) as well as arts & crafts programs.

For school age children we have the Homework Help Center at the Fremont Library and Homework Express at the Union City and Newark Libraries, Monday through Thursday when school is in session (check the library calendar for times). Newark Library also offers the Reading Buddies program on Wednesday and Friday afternoons, and Piano for Kids on the first Thursday of every month. There are also special programs each month, such as Amusement Park LEGO program (November 14th at the Union City Library) and Science for Youth (November 7th at the Fremont Library).

Teens have opportunities to volunteer at Fremont, Union City, and Newark Libraries. For complete details and volunteer application forms, please contact the Teen Volunteer Coordinator at each location.

For adults Tri-City libraries provide legal help by partnering with the Alameda County Law Library for the monthly Lawyer in the Library program. This program runs on the first Tuesday of the month at the Union City Library, the third Thursday of the month at the Newark Library and the fourth Tuesday of the month at Fremont (contact the library directly for times and sign up information). We also partner with the Tri-Cities One Stop Career Center to offer monthly workshops for job seekers at the Fremont, Newark and Union City Libraries.

Programs for older adults like the Teen/Senior Computer and Gadget Help program at the Fremont Library invite Seniors to bring their new device and get help on how to use it. And don't forget the creative writing and craft workshops, book clubs, author talks, and movie nights offered to various age groups, free of charge.

These are just a handful of programs and services that the Tri-City libraries provide for the community. To see our entire program listings, visit our website (www.aclibrary.org) and click on "Services" or "Events," and follow the menu to find the type of program you are interested in. You can also go the individual branch and click on Monthly Calendar of Events for a complete listing of all programs at the individual library. Or contact any Tri-City library directly:

Feedback Requested

The City of Fremont is among a select group of only 52 small and medium-sized cities and counties from across the country that have advanced to the quarterfinal round of the Georgetown University Energy Prize, a $5 million incentive competition to reduce America's energy consumption. You can learn more about the competition at www.guep.org.

To be considered for the full two-year competition that will begin in January 2015 and continue through December 2016, Fremont must develop a comprehensive Energy Efficiency Plan to detail specific strategies we will employ to reduce community-wide energy usage. The Plan is due on November 10, 2014 to Georgetown University.

Help us rethink our community-wide energy use and weigh in on how we can implement creative strategies to increase efficiency. Your feedback will assist the City as we develop an Energy Plan that will represent the needs, interests, and desires of the Fremont community as a whole.

Please submit your feedback at www.Fremont.gov/OpenCityHallEnergy

Video Surveillance Camera Workshop for Fremont Residents

Have you been thinking about installing a video surveillance camera at your home or in your neighborhood?

Do you have questions about what type of camera you should purchase?

Are you curious about what other residents and neighbors are doing to safeguard their homes and neighborhoods?

If so, attend the Fremont Police Department's upcoming workshop on Wednesday, October 22 from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at Forest Park Elementary School Multi-purpose Room, 34400 Maybird Circle in Fremont.

The Fremont Police Department has announced a collaborative effort with the Scott Creek Neighborhood to assist Fremont community members with the use and installation of privately owned and operated video surveillance cameras. To attend, please register online at www.FremontPolice.org/CameraWorkshop.

If you have questions about the Video Surveillance Camera Workshop, please contact the Fremont Police Department's Community Engagement Unit at 510-790-6740.

Competitive tennis burns more calories than aerobics, inline skating, or cycling, according to studies on caloric expenditures. Dr. Jim Gavin, author of "The Exercise Habit," also explains that tennis outperforms golf, inline skating and most other sports in developing positive personality characteristics. It's plain to see why scientists and physicians view tennis as the most healthful activity in which you can participate, and why tennis is truly "the sport for a lifetime." So, get out and play tennis with the City of Fremont Tennis Academy!

Who gets to decide how money is spent?

SUBMITTED BY LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS EDEN AREA

Please join the League of Women Voters (LWV) Eden Area as they host a forum on education, discussing "Money for schools - Who gets to decide how it's spent?" on Friday, November 14, at San Lorenzo Village Community Center. We have invited super-intendents from Castro Valley, Hayward, San Leandro, and San Lorenzo to speak on how each district is implementing the Local Control Accountability Plan (LCAP). This new way of funding school districts is a historic change. According to LCAP, parents, community members, students, and teachers must be used to provide suggestions on funding decisions and help drive the budget planning process before it is adopted.

This is a free event; however, box lunches are available for $10. RSVPs are required before November 10 by sending an email to Suzanne Barba at suzbarba@comcast.net. Visit www.lwvea.org/files/voter10.14.pdf to print the registration form on page 4. Mail your check for lunch and/or registration form to LWVEA, PO Box 2234, Castro Valley, CA 94546. This event is co-sponsored with the American Association of University Women.

Market Match program extended

SUBMITTED BY ELENA TRIERWEILER

Pacific Coast Farmers' Market Association (PCFMA) and Fresh Approach are pleased to announce the extension of the Market Match program in all PCFMA farmers' markets until the weekend of November 2. After reviewing the progress and transactions for the program this year, which offers farmers' market customers an extra $5 when they spend at least $10 on their Cal-Fresh (EBT or food stamp) cards at selected farmers' markets operated by PCFMA, Fresh Approach found sufficient funds to extend it. The program has seen 6,527 transactions this year with 2,833 unique customers spending over $14,000 in green Market Match tokens at PCFMA Bay Area farmers' markets. That means customers are also spending over $28,000 in the original pink CalFresh tokens at the farmers' markets.

PCFMA and Fresh Approach are among the 18 organizational partners in the statewide California Market Match Consortium. The California Market Match Consortium is coordinated by the Ecology Center and supported through a Specialty Crop Block Grant from the California Department of Food and Agriculture.

For more information about Fresh Approach, call (925) 771-2990 or visit freshapproach.org.

Union City resident receives college scholarship

SUBMITTED BY REBECCA NOEL

Jasmine Estiva, of Union City, is the recipient of a $1,000 college scholarship from the Wine and Spirits Wholesalers of America (WSWA) Educational Foundation. Estiva is a recent graduate of James Logan High School and a freshman at University of California, Davis. Estiva is one of 27 college students from across the country awarded scholarships from the WSWA Educational Foundation.

The competitive awards are presented each year to college student dependents of WSWA member firm employees, based on an assessment of the application elements by an independent board of judges. Estiva's mother is employed by Southern Wine & Spirits of Southern California, a member of WSWA.

"One of the ways WSWA helps support the wholesaler family is through the WSWA Educational Foundation College Scholarship Program. Recipients deserve our congratulations for their hard work and commitment to higher education,"

said Craig Wolf, WSWA President and CEO Wolf.

Sun News

Like Earth, the sun has an atmosphere – a mass of gases that surround a planet or star.

The outer layer of the sun's atmosphere is called the corona, and it's a wild mess of activity. For years scientists have tracked the corona's giant eruptions and massive magnetic storms.

King-size Corona

Fill in the missing words in this article.

WIDE SPACECRAFT IDEA BIGGER SPACE SUN PROJECT SHOCKING

Using NASA data, scientists recently made a _____ discovery about the sun's corona: It's much _____ than they originally thought!

While the sun is nearly 900,000 miles _____, the corona actually extends five million miles above the sun's surface. In other words, the sun's atmosphere is six times wider than the _____ itself!

The discovery that the corona is so large is an important one. Before this discovery, scientists thought they had a pretty good _____ where the sun's atmosphere ended and where the rest of _____ began. They couldn't be happier that they were wrong.

That's because NASA is working on a new _____ that will travel to the sun. It will go closer to the sun than any previous mission.

When NASA started working on the spacecraft _____, they weren't sure if it would actually travel through the corona itself. With this new discovery, they now know for sure that it will!

It Really IS a Small World

Compared to the sun, earth is very tiny. If the sun were hollow, you could fill it with _____ Earths!

The sun's surface temperature is about _____ °C.

It takes the Earth _____ days to travel around the sun.

The sun's diameter is about _____ times that of the Earth.

Ghost Train Rides Haunted Rails

The "Haunted Railroad" is a "spooky" train ride that will appeal to children 12 years of age and under. Billy Bones says, "Since the beginning, this event has been designed so that it is not scary for little children. We want everyone to have fun!"

Dates of operation are Friday, Saturday, and Sunday nights October 17 through 19, and 24 through 26. The train will leave every 30 minutes beginning at 7:00 p.m.; the last train departs at 9:30 p.m. (on Sundays the last train is at 9 p.m.).

Tickets are available at the gate on evenings that the Ghost Train is operating—some trains sell out early. Everyone is encouraged to purchase tickets ahead of time at The Book End, 5678 Thornton Avenue in Newark. Prices are $6 for ages 13 and older, and $4 for children 3-12 years old (children under 3 are free). Cash or checks only please. Groups of 10 or more may make reservations by calling (866) 417-7277; please leave a message and someone will get back to you.

Please note: All children must be accompanied by an adult, and for safety reasons each child under three years of age must be accompanied by a separate adult. The train is operated by the Society for the Preservation of Carter Railroad Resources (SPCRR) in association with East Bay Regional Park District. Costumes are OK, but no face masks on adults please.

This event is the main fundraiser for the SPCRR, which operates The Railroad Museum at Ardenwood. SPCRR is an all-volunteer, non-profit 501(c)(3) corporation that restores and operates antique railroad cars. Many were built in Newark by Carter Bros. in the 19th Century.

Explore the Refuge on Science Day

ture biologists will be demonstrating mammal trapping, a retired microbiologist will be sampling bacteria in our marshes, and biologists from U.S. Geological Survey will be sampling macro invertebrates in the mud. In addition, experts in the field will be surveying and documenting the birds that use the refuge and the plants that grow on the refuge."

Visitors are expected to see birds like Northern Shovelers, willets, and egrets, songbirds, and hopefully, a gray fox. In addition to the activities and animal sightings, Don Edwards will also be hosting a native plant sale. This is your chance to purchase that perfect native plant to add to your garden! Whether you're looking to re-landscape your yard with drought-resistant plants, or create habitat for neighborhood birds and butterflies, this is the place to be. Cash or check only will be accepted.

Wieckowski honors local leaders

SUBMITTED BY JEFF BARBOSA

Assemblymember Bob Wieckowski (D-Fremont) will honor seven Latino leaders at his annual Latino Heritage Leadership Awards Ceremony on Friday, October 17 in San Jose.

"These honorees have performed great community services for years in both Alameda and Santa Clara counties," Wieckowski said. "Through their contributions in higher education, print and broadcast media, charitable foundations and the public sector they have raised awareness of Latino culture and worked to improve the quality of life of thousands of local residents. They have highlighted local successes and tackled challenging issues, such as health care and social services. They have demonstrated their commitment to our community and I am pleased to recognize their efforts."

The honorees are: Alcario and Carmen Castellano, founders of the Castellano Family Foundation, which invests in local non-profit community-based groups that address the needs of the local Latino community.

Rita Cepeda, chancellor, San Jose-Evergreen Community College District, and a statewide leader on community college issues.

Patricia Montejano, senior community preservation specialist - Newark Community Development Department, and Newark Chamber of Commerce ambassador.

Hilbert Morales and Elizabeth J. Rose-Morales, co-publishers of El Observador, a longtime weekly newspaper, serving Latinos in the Bay Area.

Damian Trujillo, host and producer of NBC Bay Area's public affairs program Comunidad Del Valle.

The event is free and open to the public, however RSVPs are requested. Attendees are encouraged to RSVP to Assemblymember Wieckowski's district office at (510) 440-9030.

An historic win for Mission San Jose Warriors

Football

SUBMITTED AND PHOTOS BY MIKE HEIGHTCHEW

On an historic night at Tak Fudenna Stadium in Fremont, the Mission San Jose Warriors beat the Irvington Vikings 29-16. Amid the pandemonium that followed the final gun, coaches, players and fans savored the end of a losing streak that stretched back to October 15, 2005.

An elusive dream finally became reality as the struggle by the Warriors to capture a Mission Valley Athletic League victory was realized. A football program for a 48-yard touchdown giving the Warriors a lead going into the locker room at halftime... and they never looked back. Destiny was within their grasp entering the third quarter as the Mission defense took control, making big play after big play, in right places at the right times.

The end came for the Vikings with just three minutes left in the game when the Warriors kicked a field goal to increase the margin to 29-16, making it a two possession spread and out of reach. The excitement and emotion could be seen and felt everywhere on the Mission sidelines as everyone started counting down the final seconds of the game. Warrior players, coaches and fans erupted in excitement - nine years of waiting was finally over! The scene following the game was filled with emotion as Warrior teammates could be seen hugging family and friends in the stands, then gathering on the field to savor their first victory in so many years. October 10, 2014 will go into the record books as one of the greatest moments in MVAL history.

that fought through many peaks and valleys, sometimes within sight of ending the drought in the win column, has finally achieved a significant measure of success. Mission San Jose Head Football Coach Samuel Baugh and the rest of the coaching staff have been working hard to implement a West Coast offense that has proven to be the right tool to begin a new era for the Warriors.

Mission Quarterback Jacob Walter started to fulfill the dream when he found protection in the pocket to spot open receivers who did their part by making crucial catches. Walter had great success running the ball up the middle as well, following a well-balanced offensive attack. There was magic in the air as the Warriors were the first to break into the end zone, setting the tone for the historic game. The night just seemed to belong to the Warriors; as the first half ended, Walter threw a Hail Mary pass to Raymon Mays

Pioneers score on nation's top defense

SUBMITTED BY SCOTT CHISHOLM

Michael Tiekü's first half equalizer was only the third goal the nation's top scoring defense had conceded in 11 matches. Nationally ranked No. 10 Cal Poly Pomona's Armando Ochoa responded with the go-ahead goal less than four minutes later and added another in the second half to keep his squad unbeaten on the year with a 3-1 result on Friday, October 10th at Kellogg Field.

The Cal State East Bay (3-5-3, 0-3-2, CCAA) top two point scorers this season combined for the game-tying goal in the 33rd minute. A goal mouth scramble from five yards out was finished off by Tiekü for his team leading third goal and seventh point. Javier Martin was credited with his team-best third assist and seventh point this season.

East Bay goalkeeper Adrian Topete and Cal Poly Pomona netminder Fernando Pablo Quevedo each made three saves. The Broncos held advantages of 13-8 in shots taken and 6-4 in shots on goal.

East Bay drops road matchup with UC San Diego

Cal State East Bay men's soccer concluded its trip to Southern California suffering a 2-0 defeat to UC San Diego on Sunday, October 12th at Triton Soccer Field. The host Tritons extended their unbeaten streak to four matches as beneficiaries of a first half own goal and a second half score from Malek Bashri. East Bay goalkeeper Adrian Topete made two saves in the loss.

East Bay suffers setback in loss to Cal Poly Pomona

SUBMITTED BY SCOTT CHISHOLM

Despite a season-high eight saves from East Bay goalkeeper Selena Braun, the Cal State East Bay women's soccer team suffered a 3-0 loss to Cal Poly Pomona at Kellogg Field on Friday, October 10th. The Broncos made the most of their limited second half opportunities scoring three times on just five shots over the final 45 minutes.

Cal Poly Pomona (7-4-0, 2-3-0 CCAA) took the first of its 13 shots during the opening period only 28 seconds into the match. Braun made seven of her eight saves to keep it scoreless while the Pioneers usually potent offense was in search of a spark.

Pioneers on Wrong End of Offensive Outburst

Sophomore Corryn Barney's first goal of the season put the visiting Pioneers out front early in Sunday's league road tilt against UC San Diego. However the host Tritons erased their deficit only 37 seconds later and went on to score five unanswered goals over the ensuing 45 minutes in a 5-1 result.

"Corryn found a ball in front of goal and was able to put it away for the score. It was a good start, but immediately after we allowed UC San Diego to find their rhythm on the attack," said East Bay Head Coach Amy Gerace. "We didn't do a good job playing with urgency in our defensive third and it cost us."

Pioneers Prevail in Season Debut with Cyclones

SUBMITTED BY SCOTT CHISHOLM

Cal State East Bay swimming earned a 156-78 victory over Mills College in the team's official season debut at Pioneer Pool on Friday, October 10th. Hannah Cutts, Mariam Lowe, and Sierra MacIntyre each won multiple individual events in doubling up the Cyclones.

"We all felt really strong coming into today. Our very first meet is always an exciting time," said Cutts. "We always open (the season) with Mills and are very friendly with (the Mills team)," she added.

Cutts won both distance freestyle events taking the 500-yard (5:14.88) and the 1,000-yard (10:53.74) races. She swam nearly one mile of competitive yards and entered the meet following strenuous early-season workouts.

"We had a hard week of practice before this meet. [Coach Ben Looz] told us we should be sore, but it's just the beginning of the season," said Cutts with a smile. "I felt really good about my times today and feel like I'm going to get to where I want to be at conference (championships)."

MacIntyre was the swimmer of the meet winning three individual events. She managed to edge out teammate Madison Hauanio by one one-hundredth in the 50 free (24.54). MacIntyre was victorious in the 100 fly (1:00.68) and 100 free (54.10).

Lowe took care of the 200 butterfly (2:17.73) and 200 backstroke (2:11.29). She was one of eight different Pioneers to earn an individual event victory in the meet. That list includes freshman Claire Beaty who earned her first event victory as a collegiate athlete in the 200-yard breaststroke (2:29.41).

Broncos buck Pioneers in three sets

Women's Volleyball

SUBMITTED BY STEVE CONNOLLY

The Cal State East Bay volleyball team lost in straight sets on the road Friday, October 10th at Cal Poly Pomona (18-25, 22-25, 24-26). It's the fifth straight loss in California Collegiate Athletic Association (CCAA) play for the Pioneers (5-10, 2-8 CCAA) and drops their record to 1-5 away from Pioneer Gymnasium.

Amber Hall paced the Pioneer squad with nine kills to go along with five digs. Kiani Rayford tallied eight kills and two blocks and hit .263 for the match. Jovan Turner added seven kills with a .357 attack percentage. Samantha Bruno scored six kills and extended her program record with a pair of blocks. Defensive specialists Brandi Brucato and Veronica Sanchez each finished with seven digs for the Pioneers. Ashia Joseph notched four kills, 18 assists, and seven scoops. Fabiano shared the setting duties, posting 13 assists and her second career service ace.

Kiani Rayford posted eight kills for the Pioneers in a 3-0 loss at Cal Poly Pomona.

Rebels rebound to beat Dons in tight contest

Football

SUBMITTED AND PHOTOS BY MIKE HEIGHTCHEW

The San Lorenzo Rebels beat Arroyo Dons 28-24 in tightly fought, back and forth battle for boasting rights of San Lorenzo. It looked good for the Dons as they opened a 14 point lead with good offense. But the Rebels rallied back to take the lead; the Rebel defensive backfield had a day to remember as Finau Plau jumped in front of high outside pass on the 35-yard line and took it into the end zone for the final score. Rebels Bejour Wilson went high in the air to stop the Dons again with a great interception to end any Rebel threat. The Rebels' linebacker core was a critical factor in the win.

BART launches interactive game

SUBMITTED BY
BAY AREA RAPID TRANSIT

BART is seeking public input on important spending decisions while planning for the next 40 years of reliable service. The public can weigh in on projects such as: a second Transbay Tube; an Express Bus Service along the busy I-680 corridor; more infill stations in key areas; and fixing the backlog of needed repairs on the BART system. These are some of the projects up for consideration and included in a newly released interactive online game "Future BART," which allows the public to become decision makers with a budget.

The public is invited to join staff and members of the BART Board of Directors during the month of October at one of our station events to play the game and ask questions. The events will be held in the free areas of the station. The public can also go directly online to www.futurebart.org and select the projects and funding sources they prefer.

Here's how the game works: There are three improvement categories participants can select from: Fix and Modernize BART; More Train and Station Capacity; and New Lines & Extensions. Within the three categories participants can choose and prioritize specific projects and the revenue sources to help pay for them. Revenue sources include a bond measure, regional gas tax, higher bridge tolls, and others. The player is given a budget and must stick to it or select additional funding sources if they want to select more projects.

This exercise will show participants, in real time, the potential benefits and impacts of different spending decisions and the annual household cost of your selected priorities.

The feedback received will be used to develop the BART Vision Plan which will help guide the BART Board of Directors and staff when making decisions about the future of BART. "This game can help educate the public about the real costs of what it takes to keep BART reliable and to add capacity to the current system," said Board President Joel Keller. "The BART Vision Plan is about narrowing down the options of projects BART should focus on by determining which ones are most important to the public and fit best into our goals of serving the Bay Area for years to come."

In-station events will be from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m.:

Thursday, Oct. 9 - El Cerrito del Norte
Tuesday, Oct 14 - Pittsburg/Bay Point
Wednesday, Oct 15 - Dublin/Pleasanton
Thursday, Oct 16 - Walnut Creek
Tuesday, Oct 21 - Fruitvale
Wednesday, Oct 22 - Downtown Berkeley

Celebrating National Manufacturing Day

BY JENNIFER CHEN,

Along with 1,600 manufacturers across North America, Fremont celebrated the third annual National Manufacturing Day on October 3rd. Companies hosted open houses and tours showcasing their technologies and facilities to the public. This peek inside the factory floor is helping cut boards and supply chain management, to specialized anti-gravity treadmills, Fremont's manufacturers are helping to spread the word that things do get made in Silicon Valley (as noted in our nifty new infographic at www.thinksiliconvalley.com/mfg14/american-manufacturing-infographic). Students were exposed to career opportunities in manufacturing, and companies had the chance to meet the next-generation workforce.

to shift public perception of manufacturing from dirty, declining and dull — to clean, complex and cool.

The City of Fremont coordinated with educational leaders such as Mission Valley ROJ, DeVry University, Ohlone College, and Northwestern Polytechnic University as well as the Tri-Valley One-Stop Center to provide over 65 students, teachers, and job seekers with guided tours at AlterG, Alom, Astelflash, Bay Area Circuits, Cal-Weld, Lanner, Plexus, and Sonic Manufacturing. With the help of local schools, lead manufacturing sponsor Astelflash, and the full list of participating manufacturers, the events of the day were well-attended and successful. Want to learn more about local efforts to grow jobs? Check out these stories on CNET and Bloomberg.

The political season

flurry of information, disinformation and downright untruths can disarm even the most canny and sane voter.

Endorsements are often fashioned between unlikely allies whose remuneration can be based on a convoluted set of circumstances. The line between a "good" choice and its opposite may not be as simple as those vying for your vote may claim. In this election, Tri-City Voice (TCV) has been drawn into the fray as mandatory accounting forms list expenditures of political candidates and measures.

Although TCV has not endorsed any candidate or measure, we have been asked about our involvement since those in campaigns are required to account for any expenditures (including advertising). Obviously, if candidates or measure proponents or opponents choose to relay their message using our newspaper, expenditure to Tri-City Voice will appear on their fiscal statements. In one case, this was misunderstood by a group that believed this to be an endorsement or contribution to a campaign. This is not so and underscores the difficulty when separating truth from innuendo, rumor and misrepresentation.

We wish all those participating in this exercise of our democratic process to express themselves with passion and enthusiasm, but remember that in order to perpetuate our process, leave the partial truths and dirty tricks behind. There are plenty of marginal practices during campaigns without adding more to the mix. In his literary work, The Prince, Niccolò di Bernardo dei Machiavelli, wrote about the political ethics of the time (1400s-1500s), postulating that public and private morality can be very different. A famous quote from his treatise is "the ends justify the means." Whether a proponent of political idealism or realism, use of unsavory tactics in campaigns should be recognized and rejected.

In local contests, I believe (and hope) that there are few, if any, Machiavellian scenarios. However, as a registered local voter, I feel it is my responsibility to mark my ballot after gathering as much information as I can to make an informed and rational choice.

Will you do the same?

William Marshak
PUBLISHER

We are heading into the home stretch for politicians as ballots are mailed to be counted or constituents wait until November 4th to visit the polls. The last few weeks of campaigning are the most painful for all concerned; pamphlets and flyers clog mailboxes, the airwaves are filled with appeals and many wait impatiently for the results and election agony to subside.

Pros at this game are prepared for the last minute barrage and tricks of the trade while harboring a few of their own to sway votes. In the midst of the cacophony, first time candidates and true believers are caught within a maelstrom of rhetoric, claims and counter claims. It is during this frantic moment in time that facts and reason can become casualties of passion and true believers. The

Make blood donation a lifelong habit

SUBMITTED BY SARA O'BRIEN

The American Red Cross reminds eligible donors that it's never too late – or too early – to make blood donation a lifelong habit.

Many blood donors report making their first blood donation while in high school. High school and college students account for about 20 percent of all blood donations to the Red Cross. Individuals can begin donating at 16 years old and continue to donate as long as they meet eligibility requirements.

Blood donations often decline during the winter holidays when school is not in session. The Red Cross is offering 16- to 24-year-old students currently enrolled in school a way to help overcome this seasonal decline and have a chance to win a college scholarship. Students who sponsor a successful blood drive between Dec. 15, 2014, and Jan. 15, 2015, through the Leaders Save Lives program will be entered to win a college scholarship and will receive a gift card. More information is available at redcrossblood.org/leadersavelives.

Donors are needed year-round, particularly those with types O negative, A negative and B negative blood. Those who attempt to donate in October will be entered to win a $5,000 Visa gift card, courtesy of Suburban Propane.

To make an appointment to donate blood, eligible donors are encouraged to download the new Red Cross Blood Donor App from app stores or text BLOODAPP to 90999 to receive a download link, visit redcrossblood.org or call 1-(800)-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767).

Palmdale Estates to be developed

Robson Homes plans to develop the historic Palmdale Estates in Mission San Jose, building 79 single-family houses and a new care facility for the Sisters of the Holy Family, who currently own the property.

The estate is on the City's Register of Historic Resources and includes two historic houses built in the late 1920's, historic landscaped gardens, and a residence for the Sisters called the Motherhouse. Early owners since the 1850's include the Beard, Gallegos, Lachman, Metzgar, Davis, Best and Starr families.

The Best House is currently used for events such as weddings. The Starr House is now called Armer Hall and used for administration. They will be rehabilitated and sold as private single-family residences.

Three of the new houses will be built off the inner drive that currently serves the Best and Starr houses. Their architecture must complement the historic houses. The Motherhouse, built in the late 1950's, is a large building at the edge of the gardens and is surrounded on three sides by parking areas. It will be torn down and a 47-unit care housing will be built for the Sisters in the northwest section of the estate where there are now private landscaped areas behind the two historic houses.

76 mostly 3-story, single-family houses will replace the Motherhouse and its parking areas. This main residential development area will extend from Mission Blvd. west to the Starr St. apartments.

Bryant Terrace, off Washington Blvd, will be extended north and then branch east and west. There will be a new "right-in, right-out" entrance off Mission Blvd. connecting with the new extension of Bryant Terrace. This will only allow in-out access to southbound Mission Blvd.

The five-acre gardens in the northeast section of the property have walking paths, shrines/grottos, and a portion of Mission Creek running through them. There are over 200 trees including olive, oak, redwood, cedar, and cypress. The plan calls for the gardens to be designated as Private Open Space managed by a non-profit organization.

Concerns:

Traffic in and out of the development will be primarily via Bryant Terrace off of Washington Blvd. There is no plan to install a traffic light at Washington Blvd. as part of this project.

There will be a long, east-west expanse of closely spaced, three-story houses dividing the Oroysom Village area from the grounds of the Palmdale Estates Historic District.

263 trees will be removed from the residential development area of the property.

Archaeological and paleontological finds were made when Oroysom Village and the Montessori School were developed from sections of the original Palmdale Estates. For that reason, the developer will have to take extra precautions beyond those that all developers must take to protect such resources.

Hoary bats have been sighted on the property and their roosts will have to be protected. Other wildlife will also be safeguarded.

The school district no longer guarantees school assignments for new developments. This property is closest to Mission San Jose Elementary, Hopkins Junior High and Mission San Jose High School.

Development Project Review:

Because Palmdale Estates is listed on the City's Register of Historic Resources and lies within the Mission San Jose Historical Overlay District, the Historical Architectural Review Board (H.A.R.B.) must determine if the layout of the planned district and exterior architecture of the buildings is appropriate.

The Planning Commission will then hold a hearing to determine whether they would recommend approval of the development to the City Council.

Finally, the City Council will review the project and has the option to approve it as-is, to approve it subject to changes or conditions, to postpone the decision until the developer submits a redesign, or to disapprove the entire project.

Residents are encouraged to express their opinions about this project by contacting the City Project Planner listed below and attending any of the review meetings.

Supervisors call for affordable housing study

SUBMITTED BY JANICE ROMBECK

The Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors, on October 7, unanimously approved Supervisor Dave

Cortese's proposal to study the revenue potential of a $100 million Permanent Housing for the Homeless Charter Fund that would require no tax increase.

Under the referral to the Board from Cortese and Supervisor Cindy Chavez, the Permanent Housing for the Homeless Charter Fund would be financed similar to the way the County funds parks and open space acquisition. Voters would be asked to approve a ballot measure setting aside 0.375 cents per $100 of assessed property valuation of the taxes they already pay for new permanent affordable housing. Voters have repeatedly approved setting aside 1.5 cents per $100 of assessed valuation to purchase new parklands.

"This mechanism would set aside $10 million to $12 million per year for the next decade," Cortese said.

"Add to that what we have already committed through the County's share of redevelopment dissolution assets, we could make substantial strides toward reducing our 7,000 homeless population."

For more information, contact Supervisor Dave Cortese's Office at (408) 299-5030.

Additional cases of Enterovirus D68 infection statewide

SUBMITTED BY ANITA GORE

The California Department of Public Health (CDPH) continues to monitor respiratory disease activity statewide. Outpatient reports of respiratory illness are low and within normal levels for this time of year. The proportion of respiratory specimens testing positive for enterovirus/rhinovirus is 20 percent, which is also a normal level for this time of year and decreased from 25-30 percent levels in recent weeks.

As of October 9, CDPH has identified enterovirus D68 (EV-D68) infection in a total of 32 patients. The positive specimens came from the following counties: Alameda (5), Contra Costa (1), Los Angeles (4), Orange (3), Riverside (2), San Diego (8), San Francisco (3), Santa Clara (1), Santa Cruz (1), Solano (1), Ventura (1), and the cities of Long Beach (1) and Berkeley (1). All 32 patients had onset of symptoms in 2014 through late September.

Testing takes 1-2 weeks, and specimens from early October are in process. Our test results suggest that EV-D68 has been circulating widely. CDPH will continue to monitor the circulation of EV-D68 and other viruses. The purpose of CDPH's surveillance is to monitor the presence of the virus in California. This condition is not reportable in California and CDPH does not track the actual number of persons who have suspected or confirmed EV-D68 infection in California.

EV-D68 causes respiratory illness and the virus likely spreads from person to person when an infected person coughs, sneezes, or touches contaminated surfaces. Symptoms of EV-D68 include fever (although fever may not be present), runny nose, sneezing, cough, and body and muscle aches. Some children have more serious illness with breathing difficulty and wheezing, particularly children with a history of asthma. EV-D68 can rarely cause neurologic illness.

Parents should seek medical attention immediately for children who are having any breathing difficulty (wheezing, difficulty speaking or eating, belly pulling in with breaths, blueness around the lips), particularly if the child suffers from asthma. There is no specific treatment for persons with EV-D68, nor is there a vaccine to prevent it. However, everyone six months of age and older should receive influenza vaccine every year to protect themselves against that important cause of respiratory disease.

The best way to prevent transmission of enteroviruses is to: Wash hands often with soap and water for 20 seconds, especially after changing diapers.

Avoid touching eyes, nose and mouth with unwashed hands.

Avoid kissing, hugging, and sharing cups or eating utensils with people who are sick.

Disinfect frequently touched surfaces, such as toys and doorknobs, especially if someone is sick.

Additional information about EV-D68 can be found on the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's Enterovirus D68 page at www.cdph.ca.gov

Potential Botulism Risk

SUBMITTED BY ANITA GORE

California Department of Public Health (CDPH) Director and State Health Officer Dr. Ron Chapman warned consumers on October 10, 2014 not to eat Williams-Sonoma Pumpkin Seed Pesto sauce because it may have been improperly produced, making it susceptible to contamination with Clostridium botulinum.

Ingestion of botulism toxin from improperly processed jarred and canned foods may lead to serious illness and death.

The manufacturer of the product, California Olive and Vine, LLC, of Sutter, California, initiated the voluntary recall after CDPH determined that the product had been improperly processed. The product was packaged in eight ounce glass jars with screw-on metal lids. The recalled product can be identified by the following stock keeping unit (SKU) numbers: 6404305 and 6389043. Photographs of the affected product package are located on the Recalled Product Photo Page. The Williams-Sonoma Pumpkin Seed Pesto has been sold nationwide at Williams-Sonoma retail stores since September 2014.

Botulism toxin is odorless and colorless. Consumers that have any of these products or any foods made with these products should discard them immediately. Double bag the jars in plastic bags and place in a trash receptacle for non-recyclable trash. Wear gloves when handling these products or wash your hands with soap and running water after handling any food or containers that may be contaminated.

Botulism is a rare but serious paralytic illness caused by a nerve toxin that is produced by the bacterium Clostridium botulinum. The initial symptoms frequently experienced are double or blurred vision, drooping eyelids, and dry or sore throat. Progressive descending paralysis, usually symmetrical, may follow. Infants with botulism appear lethargic, feed poorly, are constipated, have a weak cry, and poor muscle tone.

CDPH recommends consumers experiencing any ill effects after consuming these products should consult their health care provider. Consumers that observe the product being offered for sale are encouraged to report the activity to the CDPH toll free complaint line at (800) 495-3232 or visit www.cdph.ca.gov the gap that often appears between low socioeconomic background students and their more advantaged peers.

The organization's global initiatives include Project Tulika in India and Project Sanaa in West Kenya. Project Tulika helps improve the lives of underprivileged children by nurturing their artistic talents and providing them with the means and opportunity to practice art. The program is offered to children at orphanages in India, where children are provided with the proper tools and instruction to learn art forms such as music, dance, drawing, and painting. Project Sanaa provides creative arts, music, and dance classes to underprivileged children in the rural community in western Kenya, to create awareness on high infant and maternal mortality.

In 2013, Passport to World Arts™ received the After School Champion award from the Santa Clara After School Collaborative and YMCA; Induz founders Ray and Piya Mitra received the President's Volunteer Service Award in 2014 for promoting art and culture and making a positive impact in the society. A congratulatory letter from President Barack Obama stated, "Your volunteer service demonstrates the kind of commitment to your community that moves America a step closer to its great promise."

Annual events are held in the Bay Area to raise funds to sustain and expand these projects. In continuation of their efforts, Induz is organizing an exciting "Induz Laser Dandiya 2014" fundraiser October 18 at Centerville Junior High School in Fremont.

Abode Services earns top honors

SUBMITTED BY PAUL T. ROSYNSKY

For the tenth year in a row, Abode Services has earned a 4-star rating, the best rating possible, from Charity Navigator for its sound fiscal management and commitment to accountability and transparency. The 4-star rating from the country's preeminent nonprofit evaluator shows that Abode Services continues to belong in the top echelon of nonprofits in the country. In fact, only 1 percent of the thousands of nonprofits evaluated by Charity Navigator have received at least 10 consecutive 4-star ratings.

This rating recognizes Abode Services' consistent good governance and commitment to its mission to end homelessness. By maximizing the impact of each dollar it receives, Abode Services works to develop and expand programs that make a difference in the lives of Alameda and Santa Clara county residents experiencing homelessness. ## boxART! Program is Up and Running We're happy to report that Fremont's boxART! program is officially off the ground! Artwork that spans diversity, equality, play, environment, and more is poised to grace our traffic signal control boxes. We are thrilled that the artists themselves come from the diversity that is our community.

During the Art Review Board meeting on August 1, board members reviewed the boxART! submissions from our first call to artists. Those that were selected will cover 14 of the City's 165 traffic signal control boxes. By the end of October, about a third of these boxes will be painted. Once you see the artwork pop up around town, expect more to come since we plan to reach out to several more artists in the near future.

The next step is to engage sponsors for these designs. We're excited to see that several civic-minded businesses and individuals have already stepped forward to be the first to support boxART! – and we know there will be many more.

If you would like to learn how to sponsor a box, please contact Susan Longini at boxart@fremont.gov or 510-494-4555.

For more information visit www.Fremont.gov/BoxArt.

Make A Difference Day Saturday, October 25

Fremont individuals, families, clubs, schools, churches, and nonprofit organizations join together for a "national day of doing good."

The annual Make A Difference Day, sponsored by the City of Fremont Human Relations Commission, is an opportunity for Fremont residents to serve their community in a variety of practical ways. Volunteers can help with activities such as sprucing up community gardens, graffiti removal, mural painting, oil changes for single parents, beautification projects at participating local schools, yard projects at mobile home parks, debris clearing and trail maintenance at local parks, putting covers on library books, or writing thank you letters to local heroes. Activities will be available throughout Fremont on Saturday, October 25. This is a way for each of us to Make A Difference in our city.

Last year's event drew more than 1,400 people who served on 90 projects. All of these projects were of great benefit to residents, schools, and religious organizations within Fremont. And, it was a great honor that USA WEEKEND and Newman's Own awarded the City of Fremont with the "National City Award" and $10,000 for our incredible efforts. This year we already have more than 40 projects planned! We encourage Fremont residents of all ages to sign up and participate. Opportunities exist for families to serve together, for students to earn service hours, and for organizations to serve as teams.

If you are unable to volunteer there are opportunities to drop off items such as shoes or peanut butter at local drives. For more information about Make A Difference Day, contact Fremont's Project Manager Christine Beitsch at makeadifferenceday@fremont.gov or 510-574-2099, or visit the Make A Difference website at www.MakeADifferenceDay.com for creative ideas for projects. Please make sure to register all projects with our Make A Difference Day project leader and she will send you more details.

Fremont is Ready for the Next Big Quake – What the City is Doing to Prepare

After the magnitude-6.0 South Napa earthquake struck in late August, it's become more important than ever to ensure that our buildings are seismically retrofitted and prepared for these unexpected disasters.

The City of Fremont has been prioritizing building inspection and safety for some time now, and is helping other Bay Area cities get "earthquake-ready" too. Chris Gale, Fremont's Building Official and a certified Safety Assessment Instructor who has certified close to 100 government workers in the area, was recently requested by the City of Oakland to train its Building and Engineering Departments on post-disaster safety assessments.

Fremont is also doing its part to assist relief efforts in the Napa area. A few days after the earthquake struck, Fremont Building Inspectors Sue Byrne and Joey Tignor received an email from the Chief Building Official of Ventura who serves as the Cal OES coordinator. They needed certified SAP Evaluators/inspectors to help assess the earthquake damage – and they needed them fast.

For the next six days, Sue Byrne and Joseph Tignor went house to house, looking for damage that may have occurred during the earthquake and any aftershocks. Between the two of them, Sue and Joseph worked approximately 100 hours assisting the City of Napa.

The City of Fremont has received another mutual aid request for Safety Assessment Program Inspectors from Napa and the surrounding cities, and will be sending three inspectors for three days to aid in the recovery efforts.

Fremont has also been taking steps to ensure that it is prepared for the next big quake:

- Every member of the Fremont Building and Safety Division is fully certified for Post Disaster Operations and Safety Assessment. Fremont is the only mid-sized city in Northern California with this level of certification.

- Fremont has already trained and certified many staff from the surrounding jurisdictions over the last 3 years, including inspectors from the peninsula.
- Fremont has mandatory regulations by ordinance that require seismic retrofitting of "concrete tilt up" buildings, unreinforced masonry and brick buildings and soft story buildings.
- Fremont enforces only the most current and adopted versions of the Building, Safety and Housing Codes and its Code Enforcement Division is one of the highest performing in the area.
- Unlike most jurisdictions, Fremont's Code Enforcement staff is trained in the California Building Standards Code which enables them to see seismic issues with buildings and structures that the average Code Enforcement Officer is not trained to address.

Earthquake warnings? The City of Fremont is preparing for when the next one strikes.

LETTER TO EDITOR

School district plans to trap cats

Fremont Unified School District plans to trap homeless cats and take them to the Tri City Animal Shelter to be euthanized (killed). A letter written by Associate Superintendent, Raul Parungao, has been posted on the door of the Fremont Unified School District's (FUSD) District Office (4210 Technology Dr, Fremont). This letter stated they will begin trapping cats to "keep the property clean, safe, and healthy." It was noted that one person had been injured at an unnamed school site by a wild animal and, in a phone conversation with another concerned citizen, it was indicated that the wild animal was not a cat and not at the District Office where the letter stated the trapping would begin.

The reasoning presented in the letter was that the cat food on neighboring property was bringing in wildlife so I guess getting rid of the cats means the wildlife will go away too?

Cats in the area around the FUSD district office have been sterilized and "managed" for well over a decade by private citizens performing Trap-Neuter-Return (TNR) practices and the costs of doing this comes out of their own pockets. Feeding and monitoring works to keep the cats healthy and relatively free of feline diseases, it also reduces impact on the natural wildlife competing for the same food and from becoming prey to the cats. TNR is the most humane and effective practice in dealing with homeless cat populations and has been rapidly adopted throughout the US as well as the newer practice of a "Feral Freedom" program being adopted in many locations to release feral (unsocialized) and unadoptable cats back to where they were trapped (Santa Clara County shelters adopted this a few years ago) thereby reducing the burden on the taxpayers.

During the last ten to fifteen years the district office has demonstrated their anti-cat policy by trespassing onto neighboring property to remove feral cat feeding and monitoring stations and several times, well known cats have suspiciously disappeared. The trespassing and removal of feeding stations had recently begun again. Now FUSD is declaring war against these defenseless animals that didn't choose this way of life and have them brought to the Animal Shelter where by law, these frightened creatures will be kept in cages for a minimum of three days before they can legally be euthanized (killed).

Taxpayers, already over burdened, will now pay FUSD staff member(s) to do the trapping (most likely after hours, so with overtime pay), medical costs for any injuries sustained by the in-experienced trapper(s), as well as euthanization of adoptable and trapped feral. It wasn't stated, but FUSD has over 40 properties and this plan could be extended to these other sites. Let's say there are 10 cats at each location that could be over 400 cats trapped and killed.

This trapping plan is wrong for several reasons:
1) Cost to taxpayers
2) Killing non-owned homeless and feral cats.
3) Taxing the overloaded Animal Shelter; killing additional cats to make room for trapped cats.
4) Cats, even well fed ones, provide a beneficial function as they keep the mouse and rat population under control.
5) Is wildlife next to be removed in order to keep the properties "clean, safe, and healthy"?

The commercial area around the District Office is circled by a series of creeks, a natural path for animals to travel; and with a hot dry summer and extreme drought conditions, wildlife has moved further into human habitats. All commercial buildings have trash containers and some contain food scraps; not all are tightly closed against wild critters so cat food is not the only source of food introduced by humans.

FUSD is for educating our children but what kind of message does this send to them?

There are other humane solutions. The internet has many sites with ideas and is a good resource for working with homeless cats: "Alley Cat Allies" (www.alleycat.org), "Fix Our Ferals" (fixourferals.org) and "Feral Cat Foundation" (feralcatfoundation.org).

Are we going to kill cats because of some feces in the landscaping? Then what are we going to do about the feces of the other animals and geese?

If you are appalled by this plan to trap and kill cats please call or email

- FUSD District Office at (510) 657-2350,
- FUSD School Board members.
- In addition, our City Council Members will be most interested in this issue too, so please contact them as well.

Please spread the word to help stop this.

Gang task force makes arrests

SUBMITTED BY UNION CITY PD

On August 23, 2014, Agents from the Southern Alameda County Major Crimes Task Force (SACM-CTF) were called out to a gang-related assault with a deadly weapon that had occurred at Jim's Bar, located at 34696 Alvarado Niles Road, Union City. At the scene agents recovered a surveillance recording of the assault and were able to determine that several members of the Decoto XIV Norteno criminal street gang had assaulted numerous victims at the bar, including smashing a beer bottle over a victim's head causing severe lacerations. During the assault, two of the gang members pulled out handguns and pointed them at several victims. The gang members were seen putting the guns away and fleeing the scene.

SACMCTF Agents initiated a criminal street gang investigation and were able to identify several gang members involved in the assault based on the video surveillance. Agents obtained several arrest warrants and a search warrant for the involved gang members and their residences.

On September 4, 2014, Agents executed the search warrant for the residences at the following locations:

1. 33100 block of 7th Street, Union City, CA
2. 33300 block of 6th Street, Union City, CA
3. 3900 block of Woodward Avenue, Manteca, CA
4. 1600 block of La Scala Way, Manteca, CA

The search warrant for the residence on 7th Street in Union City, CA, was served by the Union City/Newark SWAT team. Agents seized a loaded 9mm Norinco model 213 handgun with a ground off serial number and gang indicia, including gang clothing.

The search warrant for the residence on 6th Street in Union City, was served by the Union City/Newark SWAT team. Agents seized gang indicia, including gang clothing, and arrested Desiderio Bayona (19 years of age/Union City resident) for assault with a deadly weapon and participation in a criminal street gang.

The search warrant for the residence on Woodward Avenue in Manteca, CA, was served by the Manteca/Ripon SWAT team. Agents seized a loaded 9mm Beretta handgun, a .357 caliber Smith & Wesson revolver, a .38 special InterArms revolver, a loaded .22 caliber Sterling Arms handgun, and a .38 special Smith & Wesson revolver. Agents arrested Mario Flores Bonilla (21 years of age/Manteca resident) for assault with a deadly weapon and participation in a criminal street gang.

The search warrant for the residence on La Scala Way, Manteca, CA, was served by SACMCTF Agents. Agents arrested Cesar Villa Flores (42 years of age/Manteca resident) for assault with a deadly weapon and participation in a criminal street gang.

Bayona, Bonilla and Flores were transported and booked for their warrants at the Fremont Jail.

Two additional suspects, Adrian Lopez (28 yrs/Union City) and Paul Bellinger (36 yrs/Manteca) had warrants issued and have both been subsequently arrested for assault with a deadly weapon and participation in a criminal street gang. Lopez was located in San Leandro and Bellinger turned himself in. A total of five suspects have been arrested for felony charges and six handguns were seized during the course of the investigation.

Several of the arrestees have made bail and are currently awaiting trial.

Anyone who has information about this investigation is encouraged to contact the Southern Alameda Major Crimes Task Force at 510-790-6660 or utilize our tip reporting services at www.fremontpolice.org/tip.

Elaine Nagel, an employee of Ohlone College since 1983 spoke about plans to close the Super Flea Market at the end of December. Nagel's role as manager of the market has spanned all 28 years of its operation during which the market has employed 1200 students – foreign whose employment is restricted and U.S. – who need flexible schedules. She asked the Trustees, "How could this happen?" Through fire, floods, earthquakes and construction, the flea market has been a well-attended source of community and college employment, entertainment and activity. Although the reason cited for closing the flea market is to make room for construction equipment storage, Nagel noted that the market has operated during previous construction activity and there are plenty of alternative parking lots available for storage or the market. "Surely they can keep two lots open once a month for a good thing that happens at Ohlone College the second Saturday of every month? A second speaker, said that ending the Super Flea Market will "take the community out of the college."

School District plans extermination project

If you live near a school in the City of Fremont, please be aware that the Fremont Unified School District is planning to trap free roaming cats, pets or not, and take them to the Tri City Animal Shelter for euthanasia.

A notice appeared at the School District office stating that evidence of raccoon activity has been observed and raccoons can be dangerous and a safety risk. Recently an employee was injured at a school site while encountering a wild animal. Grounds crew will begin trapping free roaming cats and turn them over to the "Humane Society" or most probably the already overcrowded and underfunded TriCity Animal Shelter, where a majority will be killed.

I can understand asking people not to feed on school district property. What I can't understand is the connection between an isolated incident with "wildlife" at one school site and the justification for extermination of cats. I know that several individuals and groups have done Trap/Neuter spay/Release in the business park that houses the School District office.

I called and left a message for Dr Raul Parungao, Assistant Superintendent, who signed the notice. To my pleasant surprise, he called me back in a very short period of time. I asked why it was necessary to trap the cats if cats weren't involved in the attack. I reminded him that wildlife like raccoons are nocturnal for the most part so wondered how this attack on an employee could have taken place. Where was the employee; why was he out at night; was there any provocation on his part?

Dr Parungao stated that cats made a mess on School District property which I don't doubt. In fact I think it's the whole crux of the matter. I asked if the purpose of having a maintenance/ground crew onsite wasn't for the purpose of cleanup. The grounds/maintenance crews are part of the taxpayer paid budget. Dr. Parungao said that hundreds of parents had written or called in. So the story has changed from raccoon attacks and accompanying safety issues to an issue in which proper maintenance is not being done at school sites... and the answer is to kill every living creature at taxpayers' expense.

We ended our conversation with disagreement on the issue but I appreciate Dr. Parungao speaking with me. I would like to make note that at no time did Dr. Parungao say an exploding cat population was an issue. Wholesale extermination is inhumane!

I'm not sure having children see Fluffy or Sylvester struggling in a trap while being hauled away will enrich their learning experience. Yes, some children are allergic to cats, dogs, etc. but some children are allergic to peanuts. We don't ban peanut farms nor kill peanut farmers.

This whole situation is being handled poorly. It's a knee jerk reaction to a situation that the School District can deal with more effectively and humanely. Its overkill – pun intended.

I have contacted both the City of Fremont Police Department and Tri City Animal Shelter to track down the incident with the raccoon; to verify what happened. Neither agency had any information about this attack off the top of their heads. I was given very little information by the School District so it doesn't necessarily mean it didn't happen... but it is suspect.

I hope animal lovers will contact the Fremont Board of Education and the Superintendent of Schools to either find out more about this situation or protest the extermination of innocent animals at the School District office and perhaps throughout Fremont.

With Z3, Sony brings phones to US faster

AP WIRE SERVICE

NEW YORK (AP) — A new version of Sony's Xperia Z3 smart-phone will soon be available through Verizon, the nation's largest wireless carrier. It joins a model coming to T-Mobile. The phones are hitting U.S. stores on the heels of their unveiling last month at a trade show in Berlin, as Sony ramps up efforts to expand its tiny market share by getting to the American market faster.

Its Xperia Z1 phone took months to arrive, by which time it felt old. Sony never found a U.S. wireless carrier for the Z2 this spring.

Both Z3 versions have screens measuring 5.2 inches diagonally and allow people to play Sony PlayStation 4 games through the phone while on the porch or in another room from the TV.

The Verizon phone comes out Oct. 23, just a month after Apple's larger-screen iPhones and a week after the Oct. 17 release of Samsung's new Galaxy Note 4 phone.

Fatal traffic collision in Fremont

SUBMITTED BY FREMONT PD

On September 20 at approximately 8:50 a.m., Fremont Police Officers responded to the area of Mission Blvd and Stevenson Blvd to investigate an injury collision involving a bicyclist and a pick-up truck. The collision occurred in the northbound lanes of Mission Blvd just south of Stevenson Blvd.

Officers arrived on scene and learned from witnesses that the bicyclist had initially been riding his bike in the northbound direction of the east sidewalk of Mission Blvd. For an unknown reason, the bicyclist lost his balance and fell onto the roadway of the #2 (lane closest to the sidewalk) northbound lane of Mission Blvd with his bicycle. The bicyclist was then struck by a passing pick-up truck, towing a boat on a trailer, in the #2 northbound lane. The bicyclist was not wearing a helmet.

The bicyclist suffered life threatening injuries and was transported to the to a trauma center in San Jose, where he succumbed to his injuries shortly before 10 a.m. The Santa Clara County Coroner's Office responded and took over the investigation as to the cause of death. The bicyclist has been identified as a 56 year old male, Fremont resident.

Traffic Safety and the reduction of injury collisions is a top area of emphasis for the Fremont Police Department. Many members of our community have personally experienced the loss and tragedy association with an injury collision. The Fremont Police Department is dedicated to working with our community as well as our partners: Transportation Engineering, City Maintenance, CHP and the Fremont Fire Department, to bring awareness and advance strategies focused at improving the safety of pedestrians, bicyclists and motorists in the City of Fremont.

The investigation was led by Fremont Traffic Officer John Kennedy. For questions, please contact Sgt. Mark Dang at (510) 790-6761 or MDang@fremont.gov.

Multiple callers advised of a female battering an elderly female near Washington High School. During one of the phone calls, Fremont Police Department (FPD) Dispatch could hear the suspect threaten to shoot someone. Units arrived as the suspect was walking away from the scene. The female was later identified as a 42-year-old adult female, and was eventually arrested for elder abuse.

Officers responded to the area of Fremont Blvd. and Bayside Pkwy. to check on 90+ vehicles involved in racing and sideshow activity. Upon arriving on scene some of the vehicles began driving away recklessly in an effort to leave. One of the vehicles attempted to drive away northbound in the southbound lanes of traffic toward patrol vehicles. Emergency lights were then activated. The driver appears to have panicked and attempted to drive between the officers' cars, striking two patrol vehicles and then a third citizen's vehicle. One patrol vehicle was incapacitated by the collision. At the time this appeared to be a deliberate act of assault with a deadly weapon and officers initiated a vehicle pursuit. The suspect fled northbound on Fremont Blvd. to southbound on I-880 then exited West Warren Ave. and eventually back onto northbound Fremont Blvd. As the driver made the turn onto Fremont Blvd., he struck a curb, and his car was then disabled, ending the pursuit. A felony car stop was conducted and the 19-year-old adult male driver was arrested. Subsequent statements and review of the video appears to show the impacts were not intentional. Traffic took over the investigation. The suspect was arrested and booked into Fremont Jail for three counts of hit-and-run and felony evasion. No injuries were sustained.

Officer Nordseth was detailed to the area of 1200 Albacore Terrace regarding a female bleeding from the head. Upon arriving the female was located passed out, intoxicated, and suffering from a large cut to the back of her head. The female victim did not wish to, or could not, recall what happened to her. "Seniors' Night Out" has been providing a memorable event for Tri-City seniors for over 21 years. Through the Tri-City Elder Coalitions' Pathway to Positive Aging plan, Fremont was one of fifteen communities across the county working to identify, prioritize, and implement local, community-based solutions and to involve as many people in the process as possible. One goal for this community effort was bringing joy to elders living in the Tri-City area. "Seniors' Night Out" – a night on the town of dancing and dinner – has been a cornerstone of celebration for the Coalition.

Not everyone understands what keeps "Seniors' Night Out" going strong. It's the support of people and businesses in our community who contribute yearly to the program. We start with a zero budget and miraculously, are able to produce the event and also donate to the Senior Personal Urgent Need fund of the Tri City Elder Coalition.

Often, the only time these seniors get out is for a doctor's visit or other basic necessities. Many are unable to drive or are no longer ambulatory. This is what makes "Seniors' Night Out" so special. For one night, they can enjoy good food, music, and entertainment accompanied by a community volunteer.

This year, "Seniors' Night Out" will be held at the Doubletree Hilton in Newark on Friday, October 17. Donations to offset the costs of the event will be accepted through November. Please send donations to Senior's Night Out; c/o City of Fremont Human Services Department; P O Box 5006; Fremont, CA 94537-5006. For tickets and to volunteer to escort, please contact us at seniorsnightout@comcast.net or call event chair Linette Young at (510) 818-9888. ## Paint Your Pumpkin

SUBMITTED BY JOAN SERAFINO

Once a year at the Historic Shinn House, the front lawn becomes a pumpkin patch. Children and adults search through the different pumpkins looking for the one that will express their artistic talents. Pumpkins are "painted" with permanent markers which are supplied by Mission Peak Heritage Foundation; medals are awarded in several age categories for the best painted pumpkin.

While the pumpkins are being judged, children can play games, walk around the gardens, and enjoy the hot dogs, nachos, soda, water or pastries being sold. Everyone is encouraged to wear a costume and medals will be awarded for Best Costume in three different age groups. It is fun way to spend the afternoon in the beautiful Shinn Park.

Tours of the 1876 Shinn House will be given by docents in Victorian period clothing. Learn the history, secrets and life of the people who lived in the house, and experience what farm life was like before Fremont became a city.

Measure KK will expand Senior Services at the Masonic Home and allow us to provide the best senior health care services available in state-of-the-art facilities.

Bala A., MD

Taking good care of others is what we're trained to do. There are about 300 of us employed at the Masonic Home of Union City today.

Measure KK allows the Masonic Home to expand senior health services on their land along Mission Boulevard, including a state-of-the-art memory care facility to treat Alzheimer's and dementia, for the public and Masonic members.

Marlo C., RN

Measure KK will provide important improvements and more access to the care our elderly need.
