The 12th annual Union City "Sister City Festival" returns Sunday, August 21 at Mark Green Sports Center. The sister city program began in 1956, a decade after World War II, as a way of promoting international friendship among nations starting with a person-to-person or city-to-city relationship. Union City is unique to have seven sister cities, while most cities have only one or two.

The seven sister cities are Pasay City and Baybay City, Philippines; Santa Rosalia, Mexico; Jalandhar, India; Chiang Rai, Thailand; Liyang, China; and Asadabad, Afghanistan. These cities are represented by former resi-

Dr. Taghioff Counsels Cleveland Clinic Grads On Achieving Medical, Life Success

Truth, empathy, life balance and sharing wisdom are all keys to a successful career in neurological surgery as well as in life, Washington Hospital's Dr. Moses Taghioff told graduating neurological surgery students at the Cleveland Clinic's annual commencement in June.

A neurological surgery specialist at Washington Hospital for the past 43 years, Dr. Taghioff was invited to give this year's prestigious Gardner Lecture commencement speech as a "Distinguished Alumnus" of the Cleveland Clinic where he was a resident in Neurological Surgery from 1969 to 1973.

Dr. Taghioff serves as the medical director of perioperative and strategic surgical services for the Washington Hospital Healthcare System. A former chief of staff at the Hospital, he also previously had a private medical practice in the community which was established in 1973.

"Life balance is what you need to succeed," Dr. Taghioff told the graduates. "Don't neglect your family; your family is the foremost contributor to your success. Make sure you always have time for them."

"Choose a job you love and you'll never have to work a day in your life," continued Dr. Taghioff as he quoted Confucius in conveying to the graduates that they must love their work.

"Patients need to know what to expect," remarked Dr. Taghioff. "You must tell the truth, all the time." He said patients and their families will not forgive you for not telling them the truth.

Learn empathy, he advised.

"Empathy is different than compassion, different than sympathy," Dr. Taghioff said. "Listen to your patients with empathy. Remember that when a patient comes into your office, it's the worst time of their life."

He told the graduates that they must share what they have learned with others – their colleagues and their junior fellows.

A neurological surgery specialist at Washington Hospital for the past 43 years, Dr. Moses Taghioff was invited to give this year's commencement speech as a "Distinguished Alumnus" of the Cleveland Clinic.

"You have experience and, even better, wisdom," continued Dr. Taghioff with his words of advice. "Be a mentor. Be a role model. Be confident in whatever you do. Be reliable; and above all, do no harm."

He gave each graduate a copy of the Hippocratic Oath and told them to put it on the walls of their offices and read it every day.

"Never, ever retire," said Dr. Taghioff in closing.

A native of Bombay, India, Dr. Taghioff graduated from medical school in Bombay in 1966 and then immigrated to the United States to work as an intern at St. Vincent Charity Hospital in Cleveland, where he came to the attention of Cleveland Clinic physicians also working at the hospital.

After completing a general surgery residency at Albert Einstein Medical Center in Philadelphia, he was a resident at the Cleveland Clinic Education Foundation, completing that program in 1973.

While working in London in the Department of Neurological Surgery at the National Hospital for Nervous Diseases, Dr. Taghioff was recruited to join the medical staff at Washington Hospital.

"Where is Fremont? I asked," Dr. Taghioff said. He then learned it was in California where one could grow lemon trees because the climate was so mild. "It was the lemon tree that did it," he said. "And I've been here happily ever since."

During his 43-year association with Washington Hospital, Dr. Taghioff has served in a wide variety of leadership positions within the Hospital – on the medical staff as well as working to support the Hospital in the community through numerous fundraising and other community efforts. He has been active in several Fremont and Alameda County organizations.

New Approach to Ancient Cup Therapy

Washington Outpatient Rehab Center Offers Myofascial Decompression

Cup therapy was developed thousands of years ago to promote healing. Now the technique is one of the tools physical therapists at the Washington Outpatient Rehabilitation Center use to treat back, neck, shoulder and leg pain when it is appropriate.

If you’ve been watching the Summer Olympics, you may have seen the odd purple circles on swimmer Michael Phelps’ shoulders. The Olympic gold medalist has been undergoing a technique known as “cupping” to alleviate pain and boost his performance.

“It’s a new approach to an ancient Chinese practice,” said Sharmi Mukherjee, director and lead physical therapist at the Washington Outpatient Rehabilitation Center. “Cupping refers to a technique called myofascial decompression therapy. We’ve been doing it here for a couple years to treat muscular stiffness and pain.”

In fact, Mukherjee learned the technique at a continuing education class, from Chris DaPrato, the physical therapist and assistant clinical professor at UCSF, who taught it to some of the Olympic trainers and physical therapists heading to Rio de Janeiro for the summer games.

Cupping techniques were developed thousands of years ago and have been mostly used in Chinese medicine to promote healing, Mukherjee explained. But in recent years, myofascial decompression therapy has been used by athletes and others looking to reduce muscle pain and immobility.

Now the technique is one of the tools physical therapists at the Washington Outpatient Rehabilitation Center use to treat back, neck, shoulder and leg pain when it is appropriate. After a thorough evaluation of each patient, physical therapists determine if the patient would benefit from myofascial decompression.

Less Pain in Half the Time

“The results have been amazing,” Mukherjee said. “Patients who would have typically needed 10 to 12 sessions to get results are now seeing their pain alleviated and mobility returned in half that time.”

Myofascial decompression involves the use of small cups that are placed on the skin along the tissue where mobility is limited, she explained. Unlike the Chinese tradition that uses heat to create a vacuum so the cups cling to the skin, the newer technique uses a pump that creates suction so the cups stay in place. Patients then move through their exercise patterns with the cups on, she said.

“Cup therapy or myofascial decompression therapy basically improves blood flow to the area, which has a healing effect,” explained Mukherjee.

She added that going through movement patterns under the guidance of the physical therapist with the cups on assists in neuromuscular re-education.

“It works well with the athletic population,” Mukherjee said. “We see a lot of people who play sports or work out regularly. Overall it helps with functional mobility and reduction of pain in a short time. But it’s just one tool physical therapists use. It’s designed to be part of a treatment plan.”

Preventing Food Poisoning

Dear Doctor,

I think I got food poisoning after a barbecue last summer. What should I do differently this year to prevent it from happening again?

Dear Reader,

Spoiled foods at outdoor events like barbecues and picnics commonly cause upset stomach and diarrhea. To avoid this, be sure that meats are cooked thoroughly on the inside (chicken to 165°F, pork 160°F and beef to 145°F). Try to avoid bringing perishables; if you can’t, bring extra ice to place perishable items in. To avoid spoiling food in the cooler, pack in layers of ice so that the foods in the middle and bottom are less affected by the hot air rushing in.

Most food poisoning will go away after 24 hours. Follow a bland BRAT (banana, rice, applesauce and toast) diet until your symptoms resolve. If your symptoms last longer than a day, you should seek medical attention.

Tri-City Health Centers' Irvington Dave Clinic reopens after renovation

SUBMITTED BY NICOLE NORTON

As part of National Health Center Week, Tri-City Health Center celebrated the dedication and reopening of its Irvington Dave Clinic serving low-income patients, in Fremont on August 8. The clinic is located at 40910 Fremont Blvd.

This multi-million dollar renovation effort was funded in part through a $1 million dollar loan provided by Capital Impact Partners; a nonprofit Community Development Financial Institution dedicated to helping transform underserved communities.

The loan is part of Capital Impact's Healthier California Fund, a new lending initiative designed to help community health centers and clinics meet the Affordable Care Act mandates. The Irvington Dave clinic is also a recipient of Health and Human Services funds as part of the Affordable Care Act's goal of providing healthcare to the communities where it is most in need.

The newest of Tri-City Health's clinics is taking an innovative approach to health care delivery, particularly within underserved communities. The Irvington Dave clinic employs the Patient Centered Medical Home (PCMH) model of care that integrates and coordinates patient visits across medical teams (lab, mental health, physicians, radiology). The new 20,000-square-foot, including 10 medical and 10 dental exam rooms, increases access to quality care for many local residents who live below the federal poverty line and use Medi-Cal. The clinic further supports working families by offering extended and weekend care, as well as a limited number of same-day appointments.

The PCMH care model has proven to be particularly effective at managing chronic conditions and emphasizes: the use of electronic health records and data analytics to identify and reach out to patients who are due for preventative or chronic disease management services. In addition, it provides tracking, follow up, lab and imaging results; and creates regular and systematic connections to enabling and ancillary services, including health insurance enrollment assistance and linkage to WIC or assistance with CA's food stamp program.

BASIS Independent Fremont, the newest private school from the nationally-ranked BASIS.ed network, opened its doors Wednesday, August 10, 2016 to its first classes of students. The new K-5 school is just the fifth of its kind in the nation.

"We are pleased to welcome our inaugural classes from across the Bay Area to BASIS Independent Fremont," said Head of School, Dr. Ashley Leyba. "With the help of our nationally-renowned curriculum, we look forward to watching our students grow and learn over the coming years and develop into the future leaders and entrepreneurs of our community."

The Fremont-based school teaches the award-winning curriculum from BASIS.ed, which has attracted attention from across the U.S. for routinely having students rank among the highest in the world on international tests. The BASIS.ed program incorporates hands-on, project-based, STEM learning, with engineering and Mandarin courses beginning as early as kindergarten and lab-based sciences with students as young as 10 years old. Both US News & World Report and the Washington Post have ranked this curriculum among the best in the nation this year.

BASIS Independent Fremont is designed to blend the rigor of European and Asian education models with American creativity and a strong liberal arts base. Equally unique is BASIS Independent Fremont's approach to teaching: students learn from subject expert teachers who often possess either a masters or doctorate in their respective field and have both deep expertise and a passion for teaching their subject.

BASIS Independent Fremont students are coming from across the Bay Area, from Fremont, San Jose, Milpitas, Sunnyvale, Santa Clara, Palo Alto, Union City, Newark, Dublin, and Pleasanton.

"Our goal is to ensure that we give all of our students a quality education which includes high-caliber teachers and a creative curriculum," Leyba said. "We are committed to ensuring that our students are excited, inspired and challenged in the classroom in a way that facilitates the highest levels of learning possible."

BASIS Independent Fremont has opened to K-5 classes but plans to incrementally expand grade offerings each consecutive year by enrolling K-6 in 2017, K-7 in 2018 and K-8 in 2019. The school is working towards securing a high school campus by 2020. Enrollment for the 2017-18 school year begins in September.

The BASIS Independent Fremont facility, located at 3300 Kearny Street in Fremont, was designed by Sean O'Donnell of Perkins Eastman. Key features include new refurbished classrooms filled with natural light, multipurpose spaces and a new playground.

The school is still accepting transfer students for the 2016-17 school year. For more information, parents can visit fremont.basisindependent.com.

Tri-City Health Centers' Irvington Dave Clinic reopens after renovation

SUBMITTED BY
NICOLE NORTON

Tri-City Health Center celebrated the reopening of its Irvington Dave Clinic in Fremont on August 8, following a multi-million dollar renovation.

The new 20,000-square-foot clinic, including 10 medical and 10 dental exam rooms, increases access to quality care for many local residents who live below the federal poverty line and use Medi-Cal. The clinic further supports working families by offering extended and weekend care, as well as a limited number of same-day appointments. Irvington Dave employs the Patient Centered Medical Home (PCMH) model of care that integrates and coordinates patient visits across medical teams, including medical care, lab, mental health, and radiology.

The renovation effort was funded in part through a $1 million dollar loan provided by Capital Impact Partners through their Healthier California Fund, a new lending initiative designed to help community health centers and clinics meet the Affordable Care Act (ACA) mandates. The clinic is also a recipient of funding from the NonProfit Finance Fund, as well as the Department of Health and Human Services funding as part of the ACA.

"As a mission-driven lender, we are so pleased to be part of the reopening of the Irvington Dave Clinic, bringing access to care to the previously underserved through this state of the art facility," said Ellis Carr, president and CEO of Capital Impact Partners.

An open house event celebrating the reopening of the Irvington Dave Clinic included community members, local elected officials, and a dedication by Dr. Zettie Page, CEO of Tri-City Health. The event also paid tribute to the clinic's namesake Irvington Dave, a freed slave who helped found the Irvington area of Fremont in 1849, and included New Orleans style music and cuisine, as well as food representing Irvington Dave's travels.

The Irvington Dave Clinic is expected to serve 8,000 new clients by the end of 2017.

Miguel Márquez appointed Chief Operating Officer for County of Santa Clara

SUBMITTED BY LAUREL ANDERSON

County Executive Jeffrey V. Smith, M.D., J.D., has announced the appointment of Miguel Márquez as Chief Operating Officer for the County of Santa Clara. Márquez brings more than 20 years of legal experience to the position, including service as an Associate Justice for the California Court of Appeal and as County Counsel for the County of Santa Clara. His appointment went into effect August 1.

"Miguel is a true public servant who has dedicated most of his career to serving the community. His legal and financial experience have prepared him well for his new role as Chief Operating Officer," Smith said.

Before his appointment to judicial office in 2012 by Governor Edmund G. Brown, Márquez served as County Counsel for the County of Santa Clara. During his tenure as County Counsel, he oversaw a staff of 124 employees, including 61 attorneys and a budget of approximately $30 million.

"I am incredibly excited to begin this next chapter in my public service journey," said Chief Operating Officer Miguel Márquez. "I am grateful for the opportunity I had to serve on the Court of Appeal and as County Counsel. These positions, and others, have prepared me to take on the important challenges facing the County. I look forward to working closely with County Executive Jeff Smith in service to the residents of Santa Clara County."

Márquez earned a Juris Doctor degree from University of California, Berkeley, Boalt Hall School of Law, where he received the AmJur Award as the top student in Accounting and Finance. He also holds a Master's in Public Policy from Harvard University, and a bachelor's degree in Public Policy from Stanford University.

Opa! Castro Valley's Greek Festival

BY SARA GIUSTI

Greece has given the world much to enjoy, from beloved mythologies and democracy to the Olympic Games and foundations of modern philosophy. Largely considered the cradle of Western civilization, Greece has one of the longest histories of any country, spanning centuries upon centuries.

We all know Athens' white columns intimately, even if we've never seen them in person. Names like Aphrodite, Poseidon, Hermes, or Hades are etched into our brains. And don't forget the food: gyros and baklava, Greek salad and dolmades are just a handful of Greek deliciousness internationally beloved.

Castro Valley's Resurrection Greek Orthodox Church is having their 46th annual "Greek Festival" August 19 through 21, and aims to share such aforementioned cuisine and more while providing a lively space to experience Greek culture and heritage.

Food is the heart of the festival, and is freshly made and packaged during the fest. "The food is fantastic, the best in the Bay Area," said Liz Levy, office administrator of Resurrection Greek Orthodox Church.

Definitely come to the festival hungry. Savory main options include roasted lamb, gyros, tiropita (cheese pie), dolmades (grape leaves stuffed with rice), spanakopita (spinach pie), roasted chicken, Greek salad, rice pilaf, pork souvlaki (kebabs), calamari, green beans in Greek tomato sauce, Greek meatballs, and pastitsio (oven baked pasta) and halloumi (cheese). Attendees can now choose a la carte items if they do not want a full meal.

Sweet options are sure to delight those with a sugar tooth. Try the baklava (layers of flaky and crisp filo dough with walnuts and honey), kataifi (similar to baklava), paximadia (Greek-style biscotti), saragli (walnuts, almonds, cinnamon and honey rolled in filo dough), galaktoboureko (custard filling with honey syrup), karidpita (walnut torte with honey syrup), koulourakia (butter cookie twists), kourabiedes (butter cookies with powdered sugar), or melomacaronia (spiced cookies dipped in honey syrup). All of these pair great with a cup of Greek coffee.

Eating isn't the only thing to do during the festival, however! There will be Greek dance performances and lessons, a kid zone, and tours of Resurrection Greek Orthodox Church, as well as music planned for each evening.

A DJ is scheduled to play music on Friday, and the San Jose-based Greek band Mythos will perform Saturday and Sunday. Get ready to dance and shout "Opa!", a jovial Greek phrase exclaimed during dances and celebrations.

For several years the festival was held in Hayward by City Hall, but is now held at Resurrection Greek Orthodox Church. Although the festival is a bit more compact due to space, "[there is] wonderful camaraderie, [it's a] more intimate setting," Levy explained.

Admission and parking are both free. Booths take credit cards, so don't worry if you do not have cash.

Experience Greek culture, cuisine, and heritage right here in the Tri-City's backyard – your belly will thank you!

Auto Review

2017 Hyundai Elantra: Stepping Forward and Back

BY STEVE SCHAEFER

The Hyundai Elantra has established itself in the compact sedan market over several generations. Now, it's a destination model and brand, and for 2017, it's redone again. The last generation car featured the Fluidic Sculpture design theme, with lots of swirling lines and undulating concave and convex surfaces. It helped to distinguish the brand. But now, the Elantra grows up a little, moving to the attractive but more restrained Dynamic Precision design motif—just like the midsize Sonata.

The new Elantra is rated as a midsize car by the EPA, thanks to its 110.2 cubic feet of room inside. That places it directly in hunt with the Honda Civic and Toyota Corolla. The new car grows about an inch in length and width on the same 106.3-inch wheelbase as last year's model.

The Elantra's roomy accommodations compare favorably to those of some luxury sedans you'd never mention in the same breath, such as the 2016 Audi A4 and BMW 3-Series. The new car is lighter, thanks to greater use of high strength steel, which also makes the vehicle more rigid. That's a good thing for everything from ride to handling, quiet, and durability.

Choose from two new engines: The SE and upscale Limited versions come with a 2.0-liter four-cylinder with 147 horsepower and 132 lb.-ft. of torque. It uses an Atkinson cycle, which delays closing of the intake valve. This makes it more powerful and efficient. You can order up a manual six-speed in the SE or an automatic six-speed in either model.

The EPA gives these Elantras ratings of 28 City, 37 Highway, and 32 Combined with the automatic. The manual gets 26/36/29 respectively. My automatic-equipped tester got a respectable 29.0 mpg during my review week. The Green numbers are 7 for both Smog and Greenhouse Gas. Elantras have scored near the top of compact gas-burners for years.

The Eco model sports a new 1.4-liter turbocharged four-cylinder that churns up just 128 horsepower but a strong 156 lb.-ft. of torque—better than the 2.0-liter! It earns 32 City, 40 Highway, and 35 Combined.

My Electric Blue Elantra Limited was a fine traveling companion for commuting and errands.

The roomy trunk held lots of musical equipment. The interior is more restrained than before, but looks purposeful and feels well built. The switchgear has a nice weight and action. Things like this can make or break a car, and Hyundai has these sorted out to perfection. The 2.0-liter engine is not a powerhouse, but it moves the 2,976-pound Elantra along without a ruckus. It might be interesting to sample an SE with the manual, but I'm betting they are a rare sight on dealer lots. Were they to produce a sporty model, perhaps with a turbocharged version of the 2-liter and a manual six, then we'd be talking!

As it is, you can select from three drive modes, using a console-mounted button. Pick Normal for, well, normal driving, Sport for a little fun and Eco to save some gas. With things like electronically controlled accelerators, it's easy to restrain or liberate your consumption.

As a Limited, my Elantra had a generous helping of electronics. The sophisticated audio system is easy to use, unlike some European offerings. Hooking up Bluetooth is a snap. You can connect Apple Play and Android Auto, too. Navigation includes SiriusXM Travel Link. There's "Eyes Free" Siri integration. The list goes on. For safety, you can have lane departure warning, lane-keeping assist, and blind spot detection with rear cross-traffic alert. For better night vision, you can order Dynamic Bending Light for the headlamps with automatic dimming. The trunk opens just by you standing near it with the key in your pocket.

Over the past 23 years, Steve Schaefer has tested more than 1,000 cars and published a weekly story on every one. As a teenager, he visited car dealers' back lots to catch a glimpse of the new models as they first rolled off the transporter. He is a founding member of the Western Automotive Journalists. Optimists provide backpacks for children

SUBMITTED BY MARLA BLOWERS

Recently, the Newark Optimist Club held an annual event in conjunction with the Tri-City Corps of the Salvation Army. We provided ten backpacks filled with school supplies for local grade school children. As in previous years, the club buys the backpacks and members "adopt" the children and go shopping for appropriate items for their grade level.

This year, thanks to the generosity of our club members, we were able to gift the Salvation Army with enough supplies for several more children. This type of project helps us fulfill our Purposes of Optimism, i.e. "to aid and encourage the development of youth in the belief that the giving of ones' self in service to others will advance the well-being of human-kind, community life and the world."

FOOD ALLERGENS AND "THE BIG EIGHT"

By Manny Gallardo, Masonic Homes Executive Chef
Chefs Association of the Pacific Coast 2015 Chef of the Year

Do you or anyone you know have a reaction to particular types of a food? If the answer is yes, I wouldn't be surprised. According to the Food Allergy Research and Education group (FARE), approximately 15 million people in the United States – 4 percent of adults and 5 percent of children – have been diagnosed with a food allergy. FARE also states that approximately one in three Americans claim to have food intolerances. (This statistic is less clear since undiagnosed "claims" may not be legitimate.)

"THE BIG EIGHT"

For readers who are sports fans, I'll start by stating that The Big Eight is NOT a college football conference: They are the top eight food allergens, causing approximately 90 percent of all food reactions.

1. Milk/Dairy
2. Eggs
3. Fish
4. Crustaceans/Shellfish
5. Tree Nuts
6. Wheat
7. Peanuts
8. Soy Products

The remaining 10 percent of food allergies are caused by other foods, including tomatoes, alcohol, legumes, and garlic, to name a few. Although fewer people are affected by these foods, reactions to them can be just as severe as those caused by The Big Eight, with symptoms ranging from rashes and migraine headaches to death.

COMMON MISPERCEPTIONS

In 2004, the Food Allergen Labeling and Consumer Protection Act began requiring manufacturers to label The Big Eight on packaged foods. Still, misperceptions about food ingredients abound – such as that dairy products don't contain gluten and that breads aren't made with eggs or dairy. In reality, this varies by recipe. Many baked items contain dairy and/or eggs, and some high-end blue cheeses use gluten in the molding process. And, though the most common source of gluten is wheat flour, it is also present in malt, barley, couscous, faro, and bulgur.

RESOURCES TO HELP

Luckily, as public awareness of food allergies has grown, so have sources of support for those who are affected. FARE maintains a website (foodallergy.org) filled with information and advice for navigating the challenges posed by food allergies. Here, users can access a wealth of resources, from everyday tips like understanding food labels to help for parents of children suffering from food-related issues, opportunities for food allergen advocacy, and current research in the food allergy field.

As the definitions of allergens and intolerances become clearer, chefs and the general public will continue to become more knowledgeable about what foods can be eaten by whom and how to minimize the effects of food allergens on those with dietary restrictions. Remember, as the famous writer Virginia Woolf once said, "One cannot think well, love well, sleep well, if one has not dined well."

STEPPING UP FOR MEMORY CARE

The Masonic Homes is once again a gold sponsor of the San Francisco Walk to End Alzheimer's, taking place Saturday, September 17 at Fort Mason. This important event, held in 600 communities nationwide, seeks to raise awareness and funds for Alzheimer's care and research.

According to recent statistics, Alzheimer's disease affects more than 44 million people around the world, including one in every nine Americans over age 65 and a third of those over age 85. Please join the Masonic Homes in supporting this critical cause. To give, visit act.alz.org/sanfrancisco2016 and search for the MASONIC HOMES OF CALIFORNIA team. Together, we can make a difference!

HEALTHY RECIPE: TABASCO CHILI SAUCE

By John Marshall, Masonic Homes Director of Dining Services

INGREDIENTS:

- 100 Tabasco chili peppers (or other long hot red peppers)
- 3 garlic cloves
- 2 ½ tablespoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3 teaspoon horseradish
- 3 cups white wine vinegar
- 2 ½ cups water

DIRECTIONS:

Cook the peppers and garlic in water in a medium non-reactive pan until tender, then press through fine sieve, discarding the dry pulp. Put back into the saucepan and add all other ingredients. Simmer until blended, about 15 minutes. Pour into hot sterile jars; seal at once. The sauce may be thinned as used with either vinegar or salad oil.

Creativity unleashed in Flights of Fancy

SUBMITTED BY DORSI DIAZ

Sun Gallery's latest show offers up an eclectic mix of mixed media and sculpture in "Flights of Fancy," the annual members show. Open to the public, Flights of Fancy's call for art encouraged local artists to think outside of the box, try new materials and mediums, and to do something with their creativity that they might not normally attempt.

Opening Thursday, August 18 and featuring 24 artists, Flights of Fancy has something for everyone, from the delightful and whimsical bear figurine sculptures by Anthony Diaz to the large acrylic paintings by Maria Luisa Penaranda gracing the entrance walls to the gallery. Other participating artists include Jessica Doerr, Ernest Aguirre, Joan Miller, Susan Ashley, Alex Miloradovich, Christa Schanda, Christopher Wong, Nina Starr, Hollie Adamic, Cathy Tella, Renea Turner, Jeanne Bertolina, Bruce Roberts, Amy Nelson-Smith, Tino Banuelos, Tatiana Secu, Rucy Syrop, Alani Tara, and Peter and Maureen Langenbach.

A special treat during the show are the latest paintings by Sun Gallery member Betty Isabel Ferguson, who at 99 years old is still inspiring the community with her zeal for art and creating. Ferguson's paintings feature bright and vibrant flowers painted in acrylic. She will also be attending the Artists Reception, which will be held on Saturday, September 10. Light refreshments and finger foods will be served at the reception, and admission is free.

During Flights of Fancy there is also a special showing of art from China, lovely and whimsical acrylic paintings by five children from China that recently partnered with and visited the Sun Gallery. The children's paintings, on display in the Ken Cook Room, are for sale for $10 each and will be available until the last week of August.

The Sun Gallery is a non-profit organization (501c3) and welcomes donations from the community to fund programs such as the gallery's Free Art Saturday Classes for Families and Children, plus scholarships for children to attend Summer Art Camp. The gallery can be reached at (510) 581-4050. For a full list of programs, visit www.sungallery.org.

Tri-City Stargazer AUGUST 17 - AUGUST 23, 2016

For All Signs: We have entered an eclipse season in which the Aquarius full moon eclipse of August 18 is followed in two weeks by a new moon eclipse in Virgo (September 11). This summer is loaded with tense and potentially explosive aspects. The eclipse this week is punctuating those tensions with an extra smack that has already begun and will likely continue through the summer. Truths become apparent and houses built of cards will begin staggering toward a fall. That includes global, national, regional and personal arenas. Even those who have built their houses of bricks will feel the brunt through others in their lives. Hold in mind that the things that collapse have become flawed. Because humans do not take action except in discomfort, this is what we get for our lassitude. Crises, while scary at the time, bring transformation for the good. This eclipse pattern will be extant for the next 18 months.

Aries the Ram (March 21-April 20): The new eclipse season will be opening your mind and heart to accept a larger circle of friends. You may become a leader or a strong supporter of a community network which has shared ideals. Certainly you will continue to have the friendships you have built in the past. However, your attention may be focused on goals greater than your own.

Taurus the Bull (April 21-May 20): The new 18 month series of eclipses will bring a certain amount of intensity in the arenas of career (work in the world) and also home, hearth and family. You will be stretching your worldly boundaries to serve a new group of people. Family relationships will include one loss and one gain.

Gemini the Twins (May 21-June 20): Legal, ethical or educational issues will be emphasized by the new 18-month series of eclipses. Travel will be punctuated, whether it via body, mind, or spirit. Exposure to those of different backgrounds or cultures opens your heart and expands your philosophy. A challenge concerning siblings, roommates, or neighbors may press you to seek a higher road.

Cancer the Crab (June 21-July 21): This new eclipse pattern will emphasize issues of sexuality, intimacy, and material accumulation. Reorganization of debt, investments and your estate may be in progress. You may become more conscious than usual about existential matters related to life, death, and what is on the other side of normal, waking consciousness.

Leo the Lion (July 22-August 22): The eclipses of this new 18-month series will draw your attention to your partnerships. Patterns from your childhood history needed to be uncovered, repaired or removed in order to allow your growth into a more mature relationship. Psychotherapy may be truly helpful. There may be a crisis of consciousness at this time.

Virgo the Virgin (August 23-September 22): This Libra eclipse pressures you to concentrate on improvement of work-related relationships and health maintenance. Diet, exercise and improvement of physical regimen will become imperative. Honing your management systems in personal and work arenas is necessary to create order in your daily work routine.

Libra the Scales (September 23-October 22): This eclipse pattern emphasizes your progeny or other personally creative births. Romantic ventures will be intensely emotional and self-revealing. You will be learning a few lessons in discernment concerning friendships and associations that no longer serve you well.

Scorpio the Scorpion (October 23-November 21): Matters concerning your family and property will be accented for the next 18 months. Old problems in relationships, even with the deceased, will surface for cleansing and healing. A new family member may enter the scene, or you may begin to spend more time with family in general.

Sagittarius the Archer (November 22-December 21): The accent of this eclipse cycle will be on travel, education, care of vehicles and relationships to siblings, roommates, neighbors, or others who daily traverse your life. Habit patterns of thought will be brought to consciousness so negative thinking can be corrected. You will be introduced to new practical life skills.

Capricorn the Goat (December 22-January 19): During this new 18-month series of eclipses you will be learning to value yourself in new ways. Along with that comes education in the management of money and other resources, such as time and energy. There will be less assistance from others in these arenas, but you are creating these resources for yourself.

Aquarius the Water Bearer (January 20-February 18): Your sense of personal identity will be the subject under consideration. Who are you becoming and who do you need to be? How do you wish to define yourself before the world? You will be learning what is required for you to hold onto your identity while simultaneously maintaining a personally rewarding relationship.

Pisces the Fish (February 19-March 20): The new series of eclipses emphasize your need to create order, both internally and externally. The development of your projects will call upon you to develop faith in your deepest self. Bringing order out of chaos is done on both the inner and outer levels simultaneously, so while you organized files you will be also organizing your mind.

Park It

BY NED MACKAY

National Lemonade Day, an observance I hadn't heard of until just now, takes place on Saturday, August 20. Started by Michael Holthouse in 2007, its purpose is to teach kids the principles of entrepreneurship through starting and running a small business. You guessed it – a lemonade stand.

Crab Cove Visitor Center in Alameda will celebrate National Lemonade Day in a program from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. on August 20, organized by naturalist Susan Ramos. Visitors can help make lemonade, sip the old-time summer beverage, then take a Memory Lane history tour of Crab Cove. There's a lot of history to learn. In its time, Crab Cove has been an amusement park, a training center for Merchant Marine officers, and now a marine preserve protecting habitat for San Francisco Bay wildlife.

Susan also will lead an early morning minus tide exploration from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m. the same day at Crab Cove. Wear old shoes, boots and clothes. The visitor center is at 1252 McKay Ave. off Alameda's Central Avenue. For more information on Susan's program, call (510) 544-3187. For more about the National Lemonade Day organization, visit www.lemonadeday.org.

Besides lemonade squeezing, there are lots of other activities scheduled in coming days in the East Bay Regional Parks. For instance, there's a bug and slug safari planned from 10:30 a.m. to noon on Sunday, August 21 at Redwood Regional Park in Oakland. Naturalist Morgan Dill will provide nets and other tools to help capture, study and then release spiders, worms and other non-mammalian animals. Meet at the park's Canyon Meadows staging area. It's at the end of the park entrance road on Redwood Road about two miles east of the intersection with Skyline Boulevard. For information, call (510) 544-3187.

Native Americans constructed boats out of tule reeds to travel on San Francisco Bay. Naturalist Trail Gail Broesder will help park visitors to make miniature tule boats during a program from 1:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. Saturday, August 20 at the Environmental Education Center in Tilden Nature Area near Berkeley.

After construction, the group will test float the mini boats on a nearby pond. Spoiler alert: they float very well.

District naturalists have constructed full-size tule boats with the help of Ohlone consultants and taken them out on the bay. The center is located at the north end of Tilden's Central Park Drive. For information, call (510) 544-2233.

Trail Gail also will lead a Wednesday Walk from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. on August 24 at Kennedy Grove Regional Recreation Area in El Sobrante. The park has a beautiful eucalyptus grove and panoramic hilltop views of San Pablo Dam and Richmond. Kennedy Grove is located on San Pablo Dam Road between Orinda and El Sobrante, closer to El Sobrante. For information, call (510) 544-2233. The Wednesday Walkers are an informal group that explores different regional parks on hikes of varying difficulty. Everyone is welcome to join.

Early birds will enjoy a "beat the heat" hike from 8:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. on Sunday, August 21 at Black Diamond Mines Regional Preserve in Antioch. Naturalist Eddie Willis will lead a strenuous 3-mile climb to beautiful views of East County and the Delta. The heat will be beat by stops for cool breezes outside the mine entrance. The hike is for ages 8 and older. Meet Eddie at Black Diamond Mines' uppermost parking lot at the end of Somersville Road, 3.5 miles south of Highway 4. For information, call 888-327-2757, ext. 2750.

"Reduce, reuse and recycle" is the mantra for a program from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, August 20 at Big Break Regional Shoreline in Oakley. The park naturalists will show some fun ways of reusing common household items and offer hints for recycling and reducing waste. Then on Sunday, August 21, almonds are the theme of a program from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. Crack a husk, shake a branch, and find out all about everyone's favorite nut. Big Break is at 69 Big Break Rd. off Main Street in Oakley. For information, call 888-327-2757, ext. 3050.

Let out your inner mad scientist and get outrageously creative—or just breathe some new life into an old friend. Franken-stuffies are hybrid creations sewn together from bits and pieces of two or more bound-for-the-land-fill stuffed creatures. They can be cute or creepy, artistic or awful, or all of the above.

At this workshop we'll take stuffies apart and piece them together again using basic sewing skills. We'll provide all the supplies and "subjects" you'll need—but feel free to bring along any stuffies you'd like to use and/or share.

Crafting @ the Library workshops are designed for ages 12 and up, but this month kids ages 10 and 11 are also welcome with an adult. Crafting @ the Library is a monthly DIY series where we explore using natural, recycled, and repurposed materials to create jewelry, household décor, gifts, and more.

Cats have been pets for people for thousands of years. They were taken in to help keep mice and snakes out of homes, farms and businesses.

Cats also appear in all kinds of stories, from fairy tales to legends to comic strips.

Ancient Egyptians

Egyptians considered cats to be sacred, which is why they mummified and buried them in tombs. They would honor a god by portraying it with a cat's head.

The Egyptian goddess Bast was shown with the head of a cat. Bast is the Egyptian goddess of sunrise and the protector of cats, women and children.

It's a Desi night to remember!

BY MAURICIO SEGURA

Imagine yourself in a theater, laughing hysterically as top notch stand-up comics from different corners of the world dish out their best material for you, one after the other. The Desi (pronounced “they see”) Comedy Fest is just that, a celebration of laughter and cultural unity featuring the best stand-up comics of Southern Asian decent. 54 comedians are taking part in this year’s tour, and it’s coming this Friday night to

A year later, Samson met fellow comedian Abhay Nadkarni, who had similar ideas, and together they took the necessary steps to turn their dream into a reality. Samson explains, “For me, it was about how do we bring everyone together? There are a lot of good people on all sides who just want to live peacefully and share a few laughs; this is my way of getting that done. It’s not all about the jokes, there are also a lot of cultural bridges we can build just by sharing some time with the James Logan Center for the Performing Arts. Comedian and co-producer Samson Koletkar came up with the idea to put this comedy festival together, the largest of its kind in the US, after witnessing something that opened his eyes to what he never realized was even possible. A few years ago, a friend asked him to be a part of Pakistani fundraiser. Koletkar, who was born in India but is Jewish, hesitated at first, but joined in at the insistence of the friend. “Relations between Jews and Muslims, despite me being Indian, is obviously not that great,” explained Koletkar. “There is a lot of tension, border disputes, and religious differences.” He went on anyways, and realized first hand that comedy and laughter, like music, transcend all cultural barriers. There were no ill feelings, there was no awkwardness at all, everyone just had a great time. It was then that the idea for the Desi Fest was born.

each other.” The festival’s first year in 2014 was very experimental. No one was quite sure if it would be successful. However, four shows in four different venues sold completely out. The following year saw eight shows played in five cities, another huge success. This year’s tour consists of 11 shows in nine cities, with a projected audience of over 4,000 expected for the duration. By far, this year’s Desi Fest is going to be something special and unforgettable for all who perform and attend.

The August 19 comedic extravaganza will feature a buffet of the funniest comedians from India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Afghanistan, Iran, Egypt, China, South Korea, the U.S. and more. Many of the comedians on this tour were invited personally by the promoters, others were referred, and yet others were chosen via video auditions that were submitted from all over the globe. One of the performers touring with the show will be Fremont’s own Kabir “Kabeezy” Singh, who is making a name for himself nationally with appearances on Gabriel Iglesias’ “Stand-Up Revolution” on the Comedy Channel, he’s voiced a character on the hit FOX cartoon “Family Guy,” is the 2016 winner of the San Francisco International Comedy Competition, and will also appear on Fox’s new show “Laughs” on September 10.

Singh, who has been a performer at the Desi Fest since the beginning, is eager and excited for this year’s shows. “They’re great shows, the theaters are packed with great audience members. Many [of them] don’t generally go to comedy clubs on a regular basis, and it’s pretty cool to turn them on to new comedy, stand-up comedy; it’s a lot of fun!” The complete schedule of performers for Friday night’s show will be posted on the festival’s official website, along with the remaining tour dates. Regardless who performs, it will definitely be a night of laughter and fun. Don’t miss out on this great event promoting togetherness, peace, and laughter. As Koletkar puts it, “All we just want to do is make the world a slightly better place, one laugh at a time.”

a glow in the dark spectacular

lighting and unique costume design to make the artists appear to glow in the dark. The show will appear August 25 through September 5 at Southland Mall in Hayward.

Arrive 45 minutes early for the interactive pre-show where kids can join the circus! Stay for a post-show meet and greet with the stars. iLUMINOUS will feature:

- Yeromenko, a high-octane, Ukrainian gymnastic team that makes dazzling leaps and spins from three horizontal bars 20 feet from the ground.

- The Skating Torrelblancas, a Chilean duo of roller skating artists where the brother propels in a circle while whipping his sister through the air in a series of life-threatening lifts, poses, and swings, including one heart-in-your-throat moment when they are chained neck to neck while spinning on a 6-foot platform.

- Known as the "Justin Bieber of the circus world," 21-year old Patrick Marinelli gained a rabid fan base after showing off his magic on "America's Got Talent." The fifth generation circus artist dons a light up suit to join the guys on the electrifying Trampoline Wall before partnering with the elegant Nicolette Fornasari on a breathtaking aerial strap act.

- The girl power Osmani Trio combines dance and contortions in an amazing display of strength and grace.

- The comic antics of two brothers from Italy get laughs and make music. Steve Caveagna, whose spiky hair takes up to two hours to style, spins multiple diabolos (Chinese yo-yos) to incredible heights while the saxophone-playing Jones instigates pandemonium.

- Wearing a Tron-like, light up costume, Vova whirls light up objects such as a 4-foot cube through the dark.

- A pair of glow-in-the-dark motorcycle daredevils zoom around in a 16-foot Globe of Danger while avoiding a courageous beauty who stands in the center.

- Direct from a royal command performance for Prince Albert of Monaco, the trapeze artists known as the Flying Tabares sporting phosphorescent gear fly with the speed and beauty of fireworks through a darkened tent.

- Jon and Laura Weiss preside over the interactive pre-show where Jon, a former contestant on "The Amazing Race," balances anything from a dollar bill to a 12-foot tall ladder on his chin.

Tickets are $20 – $35 for general admission seating and $50 – $70 for reserved ringside seats. Purchase tickets online at www.circusvargas.com, call 877-468-3861 or visit the box office onsite.

County Line Trio

'60s Folk Revival

the COUNTY LINE TRIO

SUBMITTED BY BRASK
HOUSE CONCERTS

Brask House Concerts presents a '60s folk revival as they welcome the County Line Trio to Mission Coffee. Performing the original arrangements of hit songs from the legendary Kingston Trio, the County Line Trio brings these and other folk music classics to their lively fun-filled shows.

"These guys clearly love what they do and it shows. Their salute to The Kingston Trio started 45 years ago and has gone on so long and successfully and faithfully that even The Kingston Trio enjoys them," says concert organizer Wayne Brask. "In addition to the classic Kingston Trio tunes such as 'Scotch and Soda,' 'Tom Doolley,' the humorous 'Charlie on the MTA' and others, their jokes and kidding around keep the audience laughing and clapping. Come and enjoy them again or for the first time. If you love The Kingston Trio you will enjoy the County Line Trio."

Dean Hammer grew up in San Mateo and played Ricky Nelson and Elvis songs in high school. A graduate of San Jose State who had a career in human resources in Silicon Valley, Hammer is now retired. Bob Lawrence lives in the south peninsula and played guitar in the Naval Academy in a folk group called the Anchormen. A former airline pilot, Lawrence is currently a consultant for NASA when not playing with the trio. Tod Brendlen was introduced to Hammer at Chuck's Steak House of Hawaii in San Mateo and met Bud Olsen (former trio member) at the University of Nevada, Reno, where he sang with a group of fraternity brothers. Brendlen is retired from the safety equipment distribution business.

The group has performed in several venues over the years, from nightclubs and music festivals to corporate functions and private parties. They have opened for comedian Pat Paulsen, former Limelighter Glenn Yarbrough, country singer Teri Gibbs and singer/songwriter and former member of The Kingston Trio John Stewart.

"We are bringing the County Line Trio back again to Mission Coffee because they are a lot of fun, we love The Kingston trio, and we as well as our audience loves them. We are constantly amazed at the quality of entertainers who come to perform here in Fremont at the Mission Coffee venue," says Brask.

Don't miss "A Salute to The Kingston Trio with the County Line Trio" Saturday, August 20. Tickets are $15 at the door.

10K on the Bay promotes healthy lifestyle

Partake in a healthy outdoor activity before summer ends by joining Hayward Shoreline Interpretive Center’s 13th annual “10K on the Bay” on Sunday, August 28. Run or walk along the Bay Trail and enjoy breathtaking views of the San Francisco Bay estuary. Runners may choose to participate in either a 5K or a 10K race.

Over the years, the event has grown into a community effort involving hundreds of participants who promote a healthy lifestyle in the greater Tri-Cities. Program Director Adrienne De Ponte had a similar vision when she initiated the event in 2003. Years later, 10K on the Bay has not only promoted health and wellness, it has also helped the Interpretive Center maintain and enhance their educational programs, exhibits and facilities through funds raised from the event.

Register before August 26 to avail the $35 fee. The cost is $40 after the deadline and on the event day. Children ages 10 and under may race for free. To register, visit www.10konthebay.org.

Welcome Teacher Day

SUBMITTED BY DIRK LORENZ

On Tuesday, August 30, Fremont Flowers and Bay Area Wholesale will welcome 1,500 elementary school students to visit our store for a free bud vase to present to their teacher on the first day of school (Wednesday, August 31).

This goodwill gesture of the bud vase, containing a Gerbera Daisy with a matching teacher welcome card, will be presented to each student who visits the store between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. on Tuesday, August 30. Additional giveaways will be handed out to adults who accompany their children.

Fremont Flowers / Bay Area Wholesale owner Dirk Lorenz feels that teachers are heroes, who possess heroic qualities and are regarded as a model for our children. Throughout Dirk’s life, teachers helped form his character and establish the basis for being a successful business person and one who cares deeply for his community. Dirk says, “In a small way, Welcome Teacher’s Day helps to convey our appreciation for our teachers as we welcome both teachers and students back to school!”

Many activities are planned for the day and additional sponsors include Centerville Business Association, who will be on hand to give out coupons and certificates appropriate for a variety of treats in the local business community. Four $50 gift certificates, to a local stationary store, will be awarded by Fremont Flowers to the classroom whose teacher receives the most bud vases on the first day of school.

The Fremont Education Foundation will have board members present, to help staff the flower giveaway. The Fremont Education Foundation is dedicated to enhancing educational opportunities for all our students in Fremont Unified School District’s schools.

For additional information or sponsorship opportunities, please contact Dirk Lorenz at (510) 797-1136.

Zucchini Festival

a short distance to Hayward on August 20 and 21 for a full week-end of zucchini-themed foods, kids’ activities and musical performances by local bands at the 34th “Hayward Zucchini Festival.”

Festival organizer Richard Essi promises attendees lots of great music and zucchini treats such as hot-dog stuffed and roasted squash, zucchini breads, cakes and tasty stir-fries. Zucchini Man is set to make his appearance, and another tradition – the annual poster by Ron Strawser – will also debut. This year’s poster is a suggested design created by Strawser 25 years ago and was nominated runner up to another design used that year. Strawser passed away in 2015, and Essi wants to honor his contributions to the Zucchini Festival this year in honor of his life and work.

Known for his comic characterizations, Strawser, a local Alameda County resident and graduate of the San Francisco Art Institute, created ten posters for the Zucchini Festival over past years. Essi says that this year’s poster art has not been shown before, and he’s proud to honor Strawser with its publication for the 2016 festival.

More local talent will be featured at the celebration. Two stages will host an exciting line up of music, including a Saturday afternoon appearance by the Unauthorized Rolling Stones, also slated to perform in August at Yoshi’s in Oakland and Mill Valley’s Sweetwater Music Hall, two hot venues for Bay Area music.

Another top musician, Rick Stevens, former lead singer with Tower of Power, will be backed by his band Love Power on Sunday. According to their website, the band has built its reputation around “souled-out” shows that connect the power of vocals, rhythm, and horns in a funky party-like atmosphere.

Hayward’s Zucchini Festival is again being staffed with volunteers from area non-profits such as local Boy Scout troops and Lions Club chapters. The festival attracts over 20,000 attendees each year and has given over $2,500,000 to local charities and non-profit organizations since 1983.

This year’s festival’s operating budget topped $68,000 and Essi hopes the community will continue to turn out and donate above the admission price by way of supporting not only non-profits, but the continued presence of this popular regional event.

Zucchini, the versatile vegetable, which is botanically a fruit, is known for its abundance in summer gardens. It’s also a very low-calorie vegetable with no saturated fats or cholesterol. The skin is good source of dietary fiber and it’s rich in potassium, vitamins A and C, as well as B-complex vitamins. If you grow zucchini yourself, you may have a favorite recipe, but here is a delicious and simple way to showcase the humble green-skinned summer squash:

Posh Squash: Two pounds zucchini; two eggs; one cup mayonnaise; one yellow onion, chopped; one-fourth cup diced red or green bell pepper; one-fourth teaspoon thyme leaves, chopped;

salt and pepper; three-fourths cup Parmesan cheese, grated; and one tablespoon butter.

Cut zucchini in half-inch slices and cook in salted water for five minutes. Drain and set aside. In separate bowl, beat eggs with a fork, then blend in mayonnaise, onion, peppers and thyme. Stir in zucchini and season with salt and pepper. Spoon into greased shallow casserole dish, sprinkle with Parmesan cheese and dot with butter. Bake uncovered at 375 degrees for 25 minutes until puffed and lightly browned.

Eden Night Live opens as positive community-building effort

SUBMITTED BY GUY ASHLEY

On July 29, the public was invited to a special Grand Opening Celebration of Eden Night Live, a new social space for healthy entertainment, community engagement and business development that is lighting up Alameda County's Ashland-Cherryland community every Friday and Saturday evening through October. Eden Night Live is located at the corner of Mission Boulevard and Hampton road in Alameda County's unincorporated Ashland-Cherryland community.

It is hoped that the innovative and twice-weekly Eden Night Live events will bring new levels of positive activity and community building to Ashland-Cherryland. The events are result of a lengthy planning process led by Ashland-Cherryland Rising, a community-based collective impact initiative involving the Alameda County Sheriff's Office and other public agencies, local business and neighborhood groups.

Organizers say the Eden Night Live events are setting a positive example for communities everywhere at a time when discord between law enforcement and the public is getting worldwide attention. Alameda County Sheriff's Office and the Deputy Sheriff's Activities League (DSAL) are playing central roles in this multi-dimensional effort to boost the Ashland-Cherryland community.

The initiative is being funded by a $1 million federal Byrne Criminal Justice Innovation (BCJI) grant. In 2014, the Sheriff's Office received a $1 million grant from BCJI, which helps local communities develop placed-based, community oriented strategies to change neighborhoods of distress into neighborhoods of opportunity.

The Sheriff's Office and DSAL have been working closely with the Eden Chamber of Commerce to create the family-friendly events, which aim to provide new opportunities for locals to positively engage with their community and learn more about local businesses.

For more information about Eden Night Live, call (510) 537-5300 or visit www.edennightlive.com

* Developer Rebuttal: Would not lower density or have underground garage. Would be open to “specific” instructions for change.

* Commission Deliberations: Density, character, TODs, housing needs, parking, traffic, incomplete TDM, Affordable Housing obligations.

* Decision: After two failed motions, the Planning Commission finally approved a Continuance with a vote of four Ayes and three Nays.

The approved Continuance motion was to have Carmel Partners work with Staff and come back to the Planning Commission with the following:

1) A full Transportation Demand Management (TDM) proposal based on the Preferred Alternative recommended by Staff (53 du/ac, 1.75 parking spaces per unit).

2) Staff to work on amending the current Affordable Housing ordinance to allow developments in the Irvington BART TOD to be granted Affordable Housing status before the Irvington BART station is constructed. That would enable Carmel Partners to partner with St. Anton’s on the Osgood Road project to fulfill Carmel Partners’ Affordable Housing requirements rather than pay in-lieu fees.

Send your children back to school protected from serious disease

SUBMITTED BY CA DEPT OF PUBLIC HEALTH

With the arrival of back-to-school season, the California Department of Public Health (CDPH) urges parents and guardians to ensure their children are current on vaccines. Immunizations protect against a number of serious and potentially life-threatening diseases.

“Getting children all of the vaccines recommended by the Centers for Disease Control is one of the most important things parents can do to protect their children from serious diseases,” said Dr. Karen Smith, CDPH Director and State Public Health Officer. “If you haven’t done so already, check with your child’s doctor to find out what vaccines your child needs. Vaccinations are the best way to ensure that students are protected against serious and preventable diseases, including measles.”

When children are not vaccinated, they are at increased risk for contracting diseases and can also spread diseases to other people, including students in their classrooms and both children and adults within their communities. Babies who are too young to be fully vaccinated, and people with weakened immune systems due to cancer or other health conditions are especially susceptible.

California law requires students to receive certain immunizations in order to attend public and private elementary and secondary schools as well as licensed child care centers. Schools and licensed child care centers are required to enforce immunization requirements, maintain immunization records of all children enrolled, and report student immunization status to CDPH.

Talk to your child’s doctor to find out which vaccines are recommended for them before going back to school.

Visit www.ShotsforSchool.org for more information on immunization laws and required vaccinations.

Shifting Role of IT in High-Tech Manufacturing: The Merging of Enterprise IT and OT

BY AMIT SHAH, CIO, EXCELITAS TECHNOLOGIES CORP.

Traditionally, the IT organization’s role in manufacturing has been well-defined. At the very core of any chief information officer’s (CIO) mission is to provide tools and technology to make employees and business processes more productive, create new revenue models, and provide data-driven analytics for decision makers. The aforementioned objectives drive adoption of ERP, CRM, SCM, PLM, and BI classes of applications to run front office and back office business operations. The economic value created by these initiatives is measureable and undeniable

Now, as manufacturing processes become increasingly advanced, we are entering a chapter where IT is playing an integral, if not crucial, role in operations. Historically, OT (Operation Technology) was managed by the chief operating officer (COO) to support manufacturing processes. With the advent of cheaper, intelligent, and standards-based OT technology platforms, we now see the convergence of IT and OT for further value creation in a 21st century manufacturing company. This presents a great opportunity for CIO and COO offices to work together to create a sustainable, competitive advantage.

At Excelitas Technologies, we embarked on this journey a couple of years back. Here are some of the lessons we learned along the way:

Create a shared vision and tackle the organization challenge: It is imperative that COO and CIO offices have a shared vision, a well-defined governance structure, and a plan to harmonize key processes (both business and manufacturing). It is also crucial to allow employees to make mistakes and learn from them. The Silicon Valley motto, “failing fast” is very much applicable in this case.

Implement effective communication and collaboration: Communication protocols should be defined to ensure all stakeholders are aware of these initiatives. Furthermore, IT should treat these projects with a different set of project management standards, and not burden the innovation process with non-value add activities. Lastly, it is paramount to build a “feedback loop” in the communication process so that employees can provide necessary input to continuously improve the project outcome.

Define data integration, security, and governance framework: Intelligent, actionable, and accurate data is central to success in any IT/OT project. In our case, our COO defined the key parameters he wanted to measure and share across our global factories. Based on this input, IT put together data integration architecture, procured necessary tools, and deployed intelligent dashboards. We leveraged our existing investment in key planning tools, such as ERPs and SCMs, to provide a holistic view of material flow and quality metrics that drive continuous improvement (CI) initiatives across our factories. Additionally, it is very important to have data and network security built into the architecture and solution offering to ensure data is protected from hackers and other outside intruders.

In the past, most industries separated IT and OT frameworks and toolsets. Today, OT is adopting IT-like technologies at a rapid pace. The convergence of IT/OT promises cost and risk reduction, flexibility in manufacturing processes, and better decision making to enhance stakeholder value across the board. In my opinion, there is a strong rationale for developing these organizational design and technology frameworks, which stand to create long-lasting value for enterprises worldwide.

City Council acts to place public safety services extension

SUBMITTED BY LAUREN SUGAYAN

Union City’s City Council voted unanimously July 26 to place a Public Safety Services Extension Measure on the November 2016 ballot to maintain and protect local public safety services, with no increase in tax rates.

If renewed, the Public Safety Services Extension Measure would continue to maintain emergency response times and paramedic services, neighborhood police patrols, youth violence prevention and gang intervention programs, safety at Union City public schools, fire protection services and will keep Union City fire stations open full time, with no increase in tax rates.

If the extension measure is not renewed, Union City will have to consider cuts to community and neighborhood policing, youth and family services, and partially close fire stations throughout the City, potentially increasing emergency response times.

“Thanks to our community, UCPD, and Youth and Family Services working together, incidents of youth violence have decreased by 30 percent between 2012 and 2015,” said Union City Police Chief Darryl McAllister. “If the measure extension is not enacted, youth violence and gang prevention programs will have to be cut,” continued Chief McAllister.

“If enacted, the Measure will renew the public’s investment to maintain rapid response times for fire and emergency services, police patrols that keep our neighborhoods safe, and youth crime prevention services – without increasing tax rates,” said City Manager Tony Acosta.

The extension measure continues to include strict accountability provisions, including independent financial audits and yearly reports to the community to ensure all funds are spent as promised. WILLIAM MARSHAK

Summer days are quickly fading, giving way to cooling winds and reopening of school grounds for students, returning and new. Our future is on display as children, adolescents and young adults enter school grounds to engage in the art of education. Teachers, aides and management staff will attempt to engage young minds with the knowledge they need to succeed in a complex world. The struggle to find the best tools to achieve that goal continues and, through it all, educators remain the front line of communication with the next generations.

Schools form the framework of good citizenship. Not only do they create an opportunity for academic progress, but social and civic awareness as well. In order for future generations to understand their vital role in our form of government, educators need to give high priority to providing information about our political system. The input of elected officials can promote participation. Not only learning the pledge of allegiance and textbook descriptions of the branches of responsibility, but participatory exercises and interaction with civic leaders is necessary. Without face-to-face discussions and presentations, government becomes existential, far removed from daily life. Students of all ages form their own priorities from outside cues and influences. The foundation of civic responsibility and action begins from an early age within families, schools and social interaction. Along with reading, writing and arithmetic, civic awareness should be a top priority. Our system of government depends on it.

A possible civic curriculum could include:

At the fourth grade, a visit from an elected official to tell students about why he or she is involved in the system and what they do. This would bring politics to a local level that is understandable and create additional opportunities for discussion.

In Junior High school, students could be asked to view a select portion of a council or commission meeting – or a series of them – to report on a topic of interest and how it was resolved. Attendance at a board or commission meeting would also be instructive.

Senior High School students could form groups to study an issue that is under consideration by the city council and create an oral pro or con presentation by a spokesperson of the group. This not only would engage students in a logical and thoughtful investigation, but be part of the process as well.

It is only through citizen interaction with government processes that democracy can thrive. There are some who are naturally attracted to participation, but many others who have little or no involvement. It is in our best interests to include as many of our students as possible in civic affairs. Our cities know this and actively recruit youth for advisory commissionx. However, it is critical to involve all students in this process so as they mature, their government and its effects are familiar.

Local students host Fremont Splash

SUBMITTED BY KEVIN WU

On July 23, 2016, students and alumni from Mission San Jose (MSJ) High School organized the second annual "Fremont Splash" at Fremont Adult School. Sponsored by Fremont Unified Student Store (FUSS), Splash was a day-long science event for elementary and junior high students from 5th to 8th grade. Throughout the day, they were able to experience classes in over 10 unique science subjects, in fields that most students have not yet been exposed to in schools or textbooks.

There were almost 100 Splash attendees from across the Bay Area, including several Title I students who were kindly supported by FUSS. The central focus of Splash was to teach science through hands-on work and interaction. Many classes, such as astronomy and neuroscience, included student games, activities, and demonstrations to engage students. A highlight for many students was the technology entrepreneurship workshop, where students were able to form teams to solve a real-world problem using solar technology and pitch their idea to the class. Young innovators created some amazing concepts, including a voice-activated, solar-powered e-reader to improve literacy in developing countries.

Students also sharpened their technological skill base. In computer science, they were introduced to the Java programming language and development environment. The 3D printing team, assisted by MSJ High School teacher Charles Brucker, used TinkerCad to teach basic computer modeling, and the rocketry classes used OpenRocket to simulate real-world aerodynamics.

Overall, students came away with an exciting experience and broad exposure to a plethora of subjects. Parents and students alike gave great reviews for the smooth logistics and quality instruction. Many students, sparked by the interactive classes, were looking forward to more opportunities to work and learn hands-on with science.

FUSS representative Ivy Wu stated, "We're so proud of these high school students who are not only knowledgeable and passionate about the topics they teach, but also responsible and skillful in sharing their knowledge with younger students."

Fremont Splash was supported by FUSS sponsors Ivy Wu, Letha Saldanha and Pallas Wang; MSJ teachers Peter Geschke and Charles Brucker; Fremont Adult School staff and custodians; Fremont Unified School District Superintendent James Morris; MSJ Principal Zack Larsen; and all of the Splash instructors and volunteers.

Texan survives being hit by lightning twice

AP WIRE SERVICE

SAINT JO, Texas (AP), An off-road racing enthusiast has survived being struck by lightning twice during the same storm in North Texas.

Casey Wagner said Sunday that doctors told him a tingling feeling would last for about a week.

KTVT-TV (http://cbsloc.al/1g5mf18) reports Wagner was at an off-road competition in Saint Jo, 85 miles northwest of Dallas, when storms arrived.

The 31-year-old Wagner was under a tree when he was hit by lightning. He dropped to his knees then he was struck again. Wagner says he saw sparks during the strikes.

A nurse who happened to be nearby cared for Wagner until he was taken to a hospital, where he was treated and released.

Wagner says he believes God kept him alive – and he plans to start going to church more.

Saving water and growing beautiful gardens

BY DIRECTOR
RICHARD P. SANTOS,
SANTA CLARA VALLEY
WATER DISTRICT

It was a good winter, but the drought isn't over, and as we move into summer, the Santa Clara Valley Water District wants to remind everyone to keep conserving. In June, my colleagues and I on the water district's board of directors voted to continue asking for water conservation, this time targeting a 20 percent reduction in water use over 2013 levels. Our local water providers are supportive as well.

We previously set the target at 30 percent for most of 2015 through June of this year, and we applaud the community for stepping up. Last year, we saved 27 percent between January and December, and this year so far, we're up to 29 percent. We recognize we received significant rain and snow this winter, enough to allow us to lower the target and to increase the number of days you can water your lawn from two a week to three.

We also recognize that we can't let our guard down. One winter's worth of rain won't get us out of four years of drought, and while our reservoirs look full, our groundwater stores have a long way to go before they're back up to normal.

By continuing to save water, you are helping to restore our groundwater reserves, which we depend on during drought periods. You can think of groundwater storage like a checking account. When it's running low, we can deposit more money into it, when we have more available. And we can slow our spending. Both actions work together to restore the account balance.

To help the community conserve, the water district offers a number of rebates and programs to switch out high-water-using appliances for low-water-using ones. We also are accepting new applications to our Landscape Rebate Program, which includes rebates for converting grass to drought-tolerant and native plants and rebates for installing water-wise irrigation equipment.

In the last fiscal year (July 1, 2015 to June 30, 2016), the Landscape Rebate Program proved so popular that we ran out of money and had a lengthy wait-list of interested applicants. For this fiscal year, which began July 1, the recommendation was to allot $1.6 million to the program. However, at the urging of our volunteer committee that advises us on landscaping issues, the board added another $1 million, for a total of $2.6 million.

This amount will allow the water district to clear the waiting list of those who had applied and were approved for the rebate, but could not get the funding because it ran out. While the amount set aside may necessitate a few changes in the program, we believe there will be adequate funding for some new program applicants, as well as funding to target disadvantaged communities and provide assistance for designing and maintaining irrigation systems.

We have also invested in training landscape professionals in sustainable landscape design and maintenance, with the goals of conserving water and energy, reducing waste and decreasing runoff.

On May 26, we held a landscape summit to assist about 100 landscape professionals, master gardeners and nursery employees to do just that. The water district and industry leaders recognize the need to work together to create solutions that help save water and help maintain healthy water supplies.

For more information on the landscape rebate program, including photos, and other important conservation programs, please visit the water district's website at <http://valleywater.org/programs/waterconservation.aspx>.

Use water wisely,
Richard P. Santos

Jenny Lin Foundation reaches for the stars

SUBMITTED BY
JENNY LIN FOUNDATION

For the Castro Valley community, the last Friday of July has for many years been devoted to the memory of Jennifer Han-chi Lin (1980-1994) when the Jenny Lin Foundation presents its annual community concert to carry on Jenny's musical dream that was brutally shattered 22 years ago with her murder. As the Alameda County Sheriff's Department continues to work hard on the case throughout the years, Jenny's parents, John and Mei-Lian Lin, have been able to transform their grief and sorrow into a positive experience for thousands of young musicians. This year, more than 300 members representing 54 schools in 14 cities in the Bay Area participated in the program.

The Summer Youth Concert "Reach for the Stars," held July 29 at Chabot College in Hayward was the result of the tremendous efforts that the community has put into its fruition. More than 20 high school student-musicians were trained and guided all year long in its planning and execution. They enjoyed this great volunteer opportunity to develop leadership and management skills. Another 200 adult volunteers served in various capacities during the six weeks when the free summer program was held at Canyon Middle School.

Addressing an audience of over 1,000 attendees, Master of Ceremonies George Granger, former member of the Castro Valley School Board, and a supporter of the Jenny Lin Foundation since its inception, recognized the Foundation's contribution toward enriching the learning environment of students in Castro Valley through the annual scholarship awards and the free summer music program. On behalf of the Castro Valley Unified School District, School Board Trustee Gary Howard also thanked Jenny's family for turning a tragic event into a real gift that continues to benefit our students for years to come. Retired Alameda County Supervisor Gail Steele was also in attendance.

In addition to the scholarship awards, Jenny's family and friends also donated a beautiful viola (the instrument played by Jenny) to the District's Music Department, to be entrusted to a promising Castro Valley violist to play for a year. Raspberry Carpenter of Canyon Middle School earned the honor to keep Jenny's Viola for a year! More scholarship awards from two other community-based symphonies, Mission Peak Wind Symphony and

On May 7, students from August Shilling Elementary, John F. Kennedy Elementary and Newark Junior High School, along with 300 other students from across the Bay Area, attended Khan Academy's LearnStorm Final event at Levi's Stadium in Santa Clara, to recognize their math accomplishments.

These students were among the 75,000 students that registered in the Bay Area for LearnStorm, a free 9-week math challenge that celebrates student progress, mastery, and hustle learning math on Khan Academy.

This year, students from more than 1,500 schools registered in the Bay Area for LearnStorm 2016, and each of the three schools (Shilling, Kennedy Elem and Newark Jr High), ranked among the Top 3 schools on the leaderboard during the course of the challenge.

Youth Orchestra of Southern Alameda County, were also announced.

Working tirelessly to prepare the talented young musicians for the concert were directors Cary Nasatir (Symphonic Orchestra), Greg Conway (Symphonic Band), and Diana Ryan (Chorus). "I tried to pick music that Jenny would have liked, and would have been playing in her musical pursuit," said Mr. Nasatir as he shared the repertoire of the ensemble. "I hope to help create a music community among these musicians because they are our future," he added. While Mr. Conway appreciated the opportunity to work with his students to maintain their skills during the summer, Mrs. Ryan hoped they would also remember to just relax, let go and allow their talents to shine. Five years ago, Mrs. Ryan herself displayed exceptional talents when she started Jenny's Jewelry — the Foundation's major fundraiser to help keep the summer program free-of-charge to participants. Jenny's Jewelry was available for purchase in the lobby.

"Reach for the Stars" was more than a musical concert event. It was an evening of reunion, fellowship, dedication, service, partnership, remembrance, legacy, and much more. Thank you, Jenny Lin Foundation, for all the difference you have made to the community.

Sunday, August 7

Ofc. De Stefano and Field Training Officer (FTO) Loughery investigated a strong arm robbery near Washington High School where two male suspects robbed a 15-year-old victim of her bicycle. Shortly after units responded to the area, a perimeter was quickly set up in the area as the suspects were seen running. After an extensive search, the suspects were not located and the perimeter was shut down. Ofc. Koehler and FTO Perry continued to stay in the area and eventually conducted a pedestrian stop on a possible suspect who was walking calmly on the sidewalk in front of Washington High School on Fremont Boulevard. The juvenile suspect was positively identified and he was released to his parents with a promise to appear. The victim's bicycle was later found dumped in an apartment complex.

Monday, August 8

At 8:11 p.m., officers were dispatched to Fry's Electronics for a robbery that just occurred. Loss prevention attempted to stop a female theft suspect who threatened them with pepper spray and stated she had a knife. The license plate to the suspect vehicle was broadcast and the vehicle was later located by Ofc. Perry and Ofc. Koehler traveling north on I-880. Two female suspects were positively identified and arrested for robbery. The loss and the pepper spray were located inside the vehicle. A 24-year-old adult female, Union City resident, was arrested and booked at Santa Rita for robbery, possession of a controlled substance and possession of drug paraphernalia. A juvenile female was arrested and released to her mother with a notice to appear for petty theft.

Tuesday, August 9

At 8:22 a.m., a reporting party called to report that he saw a male using garden shears to cut wires in an electrical box in the area of Fremont Boulevard and Capitol Avenue. The caller was also concerned that the male may hurt someone with the shears. The first arriving officer saw a male with a similar description sitting down on the sidewalk on Fremont Boulevard in front of the old Goodyear tire store. Officers tried to talk to the male about the vandalism incident and he became verbally aggressive toward the officers. As officers were attempting to detain the suspect, he tensed up and resisted. During a tense struggle, the suspect pushed one officer into a fence. He then reached for an officer's handgun and tried to grab it out of his holster. He also attempted to grab hold of the officer's collapsible baton. Tasers were deployed to assist with taking the suspect into custody. The shears were found to have been taken during the commission of a robbery from a gardener who the male suspect threatened. The vandalism to the wires was estimated at $1,000. The 34-year-old male, Fremont resident, was booked on charges of robbery, vandalism, obstructing a police officer, attempting to remove an officer's gun and for a probation violation.

Wednesday, August 10

At 7:15 a.m., officers responded to a report of a suspicious vehicle in the 37000 block of Glenmoor Drive. The caller advised a silvery Camry was parking in the garbage bin area and there were three males standing around taking items out of the vehicle. Ofc. Han contacted the males and determined the vehicle was an unreported stolen vehicle. A 35-year-old male, Fremont resident, was in possession of the key for the vehicle and he was arrested for the stolen vehicle, being in possession of stolen property and for a probation violation. A 36-year-old adult male was arrested for appropriation of lost property and a 20-year-old adult male was arrested for possession of marijuana for sales, possession of a controlled substance and possession of unlawful drug paraphernalia. Ofc. Sanders canvassed the area and located a video showing all three males in the vehicle with the 35-year-old as the driver.

At 1:54 a.m., officers responded to the 300 block of Castro Lane for subjects in a Chevy Suburban possibly stealing mail. Ofc. Wong located a possible involved vehicle and conducted a stop on Driscoll Road. Two males were in the vehicle and one was on probation. During a search of the vehicle, a very large duffel bag stuffed full of stolen mail was located. Officers also found heroin packaged for sales with a scale inside the vehicle. Contact was made with one of the victim addresses near Hancock and Wolcott and it seems every mailbox in the Chapel neighborhood was left empty and open. They were both arrested and the investigation is ongoing. A 30-year-old male, San Leandro resident, was booked on charges of possession of a controlled substance for sales, receiving known stolen property and committing mail theft. A 33-year-old adult male San Leandro resident was booked on charges of receiving known stolen property, possession of a controlled substance, possession of drug paraphernalia, committing mail theft and a probation violation. Case was investigated by Ofc. Wong with Ofc. Gregory getting the assist.

Remember, drive sober or get pulled over

SUBMITTED BY SEAN HENEGHAN, MIPITAS PD

On Labor Day weekend, families and friends will be celebrating the end of the summer. Sadly, this festive time has also become a dangerous time for America’s roads, as many drunk drivers get behind the wheel after celebrating. For this reason, the Santa Clara County DUI Task Force, in conjunction with the City of Milpitas, is partnering with law enforcement agencies throughout the county and state to stop drunk drivers and help save lives.

The high-visibility national enforcement campaign, Drive Sober or Get Pulled Over, runs August 19-September 5. During this period, local law enforcement will show zero tolerance for drunk and drugged driving. Increased national messaging about the dangers of driving drunk, coupled with sobriety checkpoints and increased officers working DUI saturation patrols on the road, aim to reduce impaired driving on our nation’s roads.

Within the City of Milpitas, the Avoid the 13 campaign will conduct a DUI/Driver License Checkpoint and another five DUI saturation patrols to stop and arrest alcohol and drug impaired drivers during the end of summer 18 day DUI campaign. Police, Sheriff and the California Highway Patrol’s routine patrols will be out looking for the tale-tell signs of drunk driving in order to stop and arrest impaired drivers.

In 2014, California recorded 882 alcohol involved deaths. During the 2014 Labor Day holiday weekend, 40 percent of the fatalities in traffic crashes involved drunk drivers, which was the highest percentage of the previous five years. Nighttime proves to be the most dangerous time to be out on the roads. During the 2014 Labor Day holiday period, 83 percent of drunk driving crash fatalities occurred between 6 p.m. and 5:59 a.m.

The Avoid the 13 DUI Task Force reminders everyone:

- Plan a safe way home before the fun begins.
- Before drinking, designate a sober driver.
- Drivers are encouraged to download the Designated Driver VIP, or “DDVIP,” free mobile app for Android or iPhone. The DDVIP app helps find nearby bars and restaurants that feature free incentives for the designated sober driver, from free nonalcoholic drinks to free appetizers and more. The feature-packed app even has social media tie-ins and even a tab for the non-DD to call Uber, Lyft or Curb.
- Drugs, Medication & Alcohol = Crashes: Recent statistics reveal that 30 percent of drivers in fatal crashes had one or more drugs in their systems. A study of active drivers showed more tested positive for drugs that may impair driving (14 percent) than did for alcohol (7.3 percent). Of the drugs, marijuana was most prevalent, at 7.4 percent, slightly more than alcohol.
- If you know someone who is about to drive a car or ride a motorcycle while impaired, take your friend’s keys and help them make other arrangements to get to where they are going safely.

As the summer winds to an end, remember that there’s no excuse for impaired driving. If you choose to break the law, police, sheriff and CHP officials will see you before you see them. Drive Sober or Get Pulled Over!

Swalwell urges EPA to support renewable fuels

SUBMITTED BY JOSH RICHMAN

Rep. Eric Swalwell (CA-15) led five of his California colleagues in writing to the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to urge that it live up to Congress’ intent in enforcing the Renewable Fuel Standard (RFS).

The RFS is a federal law that requires transportation fuels be blended with renewable biofuels – fuels made from living things, the use of which provides environmental and economic benefits. The law sets targets which increase each year for how much biofuel is to be blended. The EPA has proposed waiving these levels and setting total required renewable fuel levels below the statutory amounts.

The House members urged EPA Administrator Gina McCarthy to get the program back on track. The letter was sent as advocates from the across the country joined to celebrate the landmark legislation’s 11th anniversary.

“The RFS was created to reduce our dependence on foreign oil and provide U.S. consumers with access to cleaner transportation fuels. Despite the recent increase in domestic oil production, the U.S. economy remains heavily dependent on foreign oil and at the mercy of international market prices,” the lawmakers noted.

Billions of dollars in private investment have made the United States a leader in homegrown, clean biofuels – California alone is home to dozens of companies working on approaches from algae and biodiesel-based products to municipal solid waste, supporting almost 60,000 jobs.

But the EPA’s proposed rule for 2017 falls short of total renewable fuel volumes set in the law by Congress.

“Under this methodology, which Congress previously rejected, EPA allows the oil industry to avoid its statutory blending obligation by claiming there is inadequate infrastructure to bring more biofuels to consumers,” the lawmakers wrote. “Yet due to the fact that the oil industry controls the fuel distribution infrastructure, the EPA is essentially allowing the oil industry to cap the RFS and limit future growth in the biofuels sector.”

Increased fuel demand and greater availability of higher ethanol blends is more than enough justification for the EPA to increase volumes for 2017 and get the RFS back on track, they concluded.

“California and the nation have made great strides in protecting the environment, improving air quality, meeting fuel demand and creating jobs through use of biofuels under renewable fuel standards,” Swalwell said. “The EPA must follow Congress’ intent and keep up the pressure on the oil industry to provide the infrastructure needed to deliver these cleaner fuels.”

Harness the Power of Solar with SunShares

Solar electricity is helping cities throughout the Bay Area meet energy needs while reducing air pollution, enhancing resiliency, and revitalizing neighborhoods. The City of Fremont is one of nearly 40 local government agencies and major employers participating in Bay Area SunShares, a community-wide clean energy program that expands access to solar energy and zero-emission vehicles via pre-negotiated discounts. By pooling the buying power of individual participants, SunShares has negotiated competitive pricing from solar and ZEV vendors, passing those discounts on to residents.

Three local and recognized solar installation companies (PetersenDean, SkyTech Solar, and SunRun) have been selected for the program and are offering discounted pricing to residents, making now the most affordable time to go solar. This year, SunShares is also introducing zero-emission vehicle discount options on the Nissan Leaf and Toyota Mirai.

Imagine the possibilities: Save on your home utility bills, cut your gas costs, reduce your greenhouse gas footprint, and drive on clean energy. Plus, you’ll be doing your part to help Fremont win the $5 Million Georgetown University Energy Prize. Learn more by attending an upcoming workshop at Fremont Main Library:

Fremont Youth Empowerment Academy - Graduation of Class of 2016

The Youth Empowerment Academy, wrapping up its fourth year, is offered through the City’s Human Services Department, Youth and Family Services Division. It is designed to help at-risk and probation youth develop better decision making, health and life skills, while offering opportunities for summer employment, community service and leadership development.

This year, 10 young people from the Tri-Cities participated in the program, with an opportunity to earn both elective and work experience high school credits toward graduation. The program partners with local school districts, La Familia Counseling’s Youth Employment Program (formally known as Highway to Work), the Alameda County Center for Healthy Schools and Communities, Probation Department Officers, and other organizations in the community.

During this year’s program the youth had an opportunity to work with renowned San Francisco Urban Artist/Muralist, Cameron “Camer1” Moberg, to create an inspirational mural on an exterior wall at Robertson Alternative High School in Fremont. The mural reflects the colors, textures, and symbols of diversity that make up our world, while the theme reflects the idea that all of us together hold the outcome of the world in our collective hands. The youth were highly engaged in this project and demonstrated a high commitment to attend the Academy three days each week as well as Familia Counseling’s Youth Employment Program. In addition to painting the mural, the youth taught seniors self-defense and assisted in serving lunch at the Fremont Senior Center as community service. Congratulations to this year’s Youth Empowerment Academy graduates.

Join Us for a Memorable Seniors’ Night Out on Friday, September 30

Escort a senior neighbor, friend, family member, or associate for a fun evening

Join us for the 23rd annual “Seniors’ Night Out” on Friday, September 30 for an extraordinary evening honoring elders in our community. This truly remarkable event will take place from 5 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at DoubleTree by Hilton Hotel in Newark. This year’s theme, “A Night in Rio,” is sure to be a hit with all who attend!

This celebration, planned by a community of volunteers, is only possible through the generous donations from our community. The event serves as an opportunity for seniors to enjoy a night on the town while being accompanied by a volunteer. Seniors’ Night Out has come to mean a celebration for our senior citizens and an opportunity to raise funds for the Personal Urgent Need (PUN) Fund administered by Tri City Elder Coalition and the City of Fremont Human Services Department.

Aging often means becoming disconnected from daily social networks with growing social isolation. Seniors’ Night Out offers an opportunity for many elders to re-engage with others for a night of music, entertainment, and fun. Most of all, the evening presents an opportunity for younger members of our community to meet and escort an older adult to dinner and to share in lively conversation and dancing. Many of our elders have interesting stories to share and dance moves you won’t soon forget! What’s remarkable is that many of our escorts are seniors themselves, yet able to accompany elderly seniors who are more advanced in age. Last year, our oldest attendee was 103!

Thanks to the tremendous generosity of our donors, the event has continued to grow in size year after year! For information about becoming a sponsor, serving as an escort, purchasing tickets, donating a raffle prize, or volunteering at the event, please visit www.Fremont.gov/sno or contact event coordinator Linette Young at (510) 818-9888 or email SeniorsNightOut@com-cast.net.

Niles Boulevard Bridge Construction Update

Work to replace the Niles Boulevard Bridge connecting the City of Fremont and Union City continues to progress. The new bridge is being built immediately south of the existing bridge, which will remain open throughout construction. The project is anticipated to be complete spring 2017.

Weekday and weekend night work to complete the new bridge columns and install a protective shield over the rail tracks will continue until late September. Week-day (night) work will take place Monday – Friday from 11 p.m. – 7 a.m. Weekend (night) work will begin Friday at 10:30 p.m. and end Saturday at 9 a.m., and then resume Saturday at 10:30 p.m. and end Sunday at 9 a.m.

Weekend and weekday night work is necessary due to the columns and protective shield being located over the BART and Union Pacific rail tracks. Weekday (day) work can take place over the tracks after the protective shield is installed. As with any major construction project, it is important to note that anticipated work dates and times are subject to change due to weather, unforeseen conditions, and/or the availability of onsite Union Pacific Railroad flaggers and BART safety monitors.

Changeable message boards near the project site (in each direction) notify roadway users of upcoming weekend night work dates and times. Advance notice of future weekend, night and/or noisy activities will be provided as work is scheduled. Weekly updates are posted on the project website at www.nilesblvdbridge.com. Community members can also sign up to receive weekly message updates by emailing nilesblvdbridge@fremont.gov, or by calling the project Construction Info Line at (510) 355-1502. Please share this information with others who might be interested in receiving future updates.

You out-did yourselves this year by holding 44 events (four more than last year). We enjoyed attending all of the events and talking with everyone. We had a great time and hope you did too.

A special thank you goes to our Police Explorers and Citizen Volunteers, all of whom volunteered their time to help us. Thank you to all of the officers that were at the events as well.

A world in the clutches of discrimination

Zita Harrison’s fictional novel, “Ink – Beneath the Stain,” is about the damaging effects of prejudice and discrimination, and the need, now more than ever, for acceptance and love. The novel is now available on Amazon.com.

A boy is born with a giant blue birthmark covering half his face, and given the name “Ink” by his quirky artist mother. In a world full of bias, we watch him grow from an unconcerned toddler to a spirited, defiant young boy, to an angry, hostile, and lonely teenager who despairs that no one will ever see the boy beneath the stain. Finally we see him as a calmer young man who is starting to accept his fate. Providence steps in and he is swept away by a billionaire entrepreneur to a different world—a world of modeling and art—where what the rest of the world sees as eccentric and bizarre are celebrated. Perhaps he has found his niche. Except that, even now, all he is to people is his birthmark. No one really has any interest in getting past it. Then he discovers that two other people have also suffered from bias all their lives: the billionaire entrepreneur, lord and master of this new world of art; and a poor, beautiful dancer from Paraguay. The three form a charged and passionate relationship which hurtles toward tragedy. In the end, however, love prevails.

“Ink – Beneath the Stain” is Harrison’s first novel and a product of who she is. She has lived in many different countries, loves to travel and experience different cultures, and feels very fortunate to be living in California, home to so many different ethnicities. Harrison holds an M.A. in English Literature. For more information about the novel, visit www.zitaharrison.com or contact Harrison at (510) 794-8691.
