Who ya' gonna call? Fremont's radio hams!

SUBMITTED BY BILL ARTELT

Despite the Internet, cell phones, e-mail and modern communications, every year whole regions throughout the world find themselves in the dark. Tornadoes, fires, storms, ice and even the occasional cutting of fiber optic cables leave people without the means to communicate. In these cases, the one consistent service that has never failed is Amateur Radio. Radio operators, often called "hams," provide backup

Broncho Billy Rides Once Again in Niles!

Diana Serra Cary, former silent film child star, will tell a few tales of her early years in front of the camera.

SUBMITTED BY RENA KIEHN

Essanay Film Manufacturing Company made silent films in Chicago and later in Niles as well. The studio shot 2,000 films between 1907 and 1918, with more than 350 of them made in the little township of Niles between 1912 and 1916. Gilbert Anderson, actor, director, and the "A" of Essanay also wore another hat, as a cowboy! As early as 1910, he was known worldwide under the moniker "Broncho Billy," the original "good bad man" who would rob a stagecoach and then save children from a burning orphanage.

Got Some History in Your Future?

BY LINDA-ROBIN CRAIG

Local history gets a breath of new life when the Hayward Area Historical Society (HAHS) opens the doors to their Center for History and Culture. The Grand Opening Gala kicks off the festivities on Wednesday, June 25 with music, culinary delights, specialty cocktails, traveling dessert carts, an espresso bar, and fundraising auction and raffle opportunities. A ribbon cutting ceremony on Saturday, June 28, followed by a full day of activities, officially welcomes the community to the new museum.

Expansion of the space began three years ago when the HAHS board of directors approved the purchase of a block of buildings on Foothill Boulevard that would give them additional space necessary for their museum, galleries, offices and community activities. According to AT Stephens, Executive Director of HAHS, "For us, the priority for renewal was the basement, so we could expand our collections; that had to be number one, then we grew the new Center from there."

Celebration of the new Center includes outdoor and indoor entertainment, including open house tours, kids' activities, a fashion show, a humorous history play, and music by Billy London and the Lucky Dice. A museum-wide open house will be held Sunday, June 29. Admission for the opening weekend is free.

"The HAHS was founded in 1956 to celebrate and preserve the shared history and culture of what was once Eden Township," says Stephens. "The Board of Directors, staff and volunteers have worked several years and long hours to assure that the founders' original notions of mutual interest and curiosity about the area's history resonate with everyone who visits here."

The new Center for History and Culture will feature four galleries: the History Gallery, Community Gallery, Special Gallery, and Children's Gallery. Tales illustrating the history of community members is found in Your Story, the inaugural exhibit in the History Gallery told through resident's own

Magnet® Status Recognizes Excellence

In Patient Care by Washington Hospital Nurses

The excellent level of care and support Washington Hospital nurses provide to patients, their families and attending physicians has been recognized since 2011 with the designation of Magnet Status by the American Nurses Credentialing Center.

Magnet Status recognizes the special relationship between Washington Hospital nurses and their patients that is reflected in the high level of care at Washington Hospital, according to Associate Administrator and Chief Nursing Officer Stephanie Williams, RN.

"Our nurses place the highest priority on patient safety," Williams said. "They work closely with the patients, their families and physicians to achieve the best outcomes for the patients, and to make sure patients have the very best quality of care."

A designation by the Magnet Recognition Program means the hospital provides a superior level of health care for patients, displays innovative practices and retains nurses who perform excellent work as part of its team.

“We’ve developed effective practices (protocols) to reduce incidents of pressure ulcers and sepsis mortality, to eliminate medication errors, to reduce catheter associated urinary tract infections,” said Williams. “We work to improve communication with the patients’ families and caregivers, to engage patients in their own care and to improve patient safety overall.”

Magnet Status designation, now in its third year, is for a four-year period. Washington Hospital nurses currently are working on a "re-designation" application to extend the program for another four years.

"The fine work of our nurses and their efforts to extend Magnet Status is supported by the Gordon and Betty Moore Foundation which recently awarded Washington Hospital $100,000 to fund Magnet work," Williams added. The Moore Foundation grant will underwrite some of the work required for re-designation. It also covers costs for staff time related to Magnet activities.

A study, published in the May 2014 issue of Medical Care, found that becoming a Magnet hospital increases revenue by an average of $1,229,770 to $1,263,926 annually. The study was funded by the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation's Interdisciplinary Nursing Quality Research Initiative.

Several studies have found that Magnet hospitals have lower mortality rates, shorter lengths of stay, higher patient satisfaction and better patient outcomes than non-Magnet hospitals. They also are more likely to adopt National Quality Forum-approved patient safety practices. Until recently, however, little has been known about the effect of Magnet Status on hospital revenue.

According to the research team, the revenue increase overshadowed increases in patient expenses. Net patient revenue increased on average by 3.89 percent compared to non-Magnet hospitals, while costs increased by only 2.46 percent.

The Moore Foundation grant and Magnet Status support Washington Hospital's continuing journey to sustain its culture of excellence and quality which is reflected in its Patient First Ethic, Williams said.

Magnet Status is the highest level of recognition a hospital can achieve for nursing excellence. Only 6.7 percent of hospitals in the United States have earned this status and Washington Hospital is one of only six hospitals in the greater Bay Area to receive this designation.

Have You Had ‘The Conversation’ About Your Wishes?

Part 2 of a 3-Part Series on Advance Health Care Directives

Death is a “taboo” topic of conversation for many people. According to a 2012 survey of Californians by the California HealthCare Foundation, 60 percent of respondents said that making sure their family is not burdened by tough end-of-life decisions is “extremely important,” yet 56 percent had not communicated their end-of-life wishes.

“It’s hard enough to think about how you will approach the end of your own life,” says Washington Hospital’s Spiritual Care Coordinator Michelle Hedding, MA, RN, CHPN. “It’s even more difficult to discuss it with your loved ones. Yet having a conversation with your loved ones about your end-of-life wishes is one of the most important parts of creating an advance health care directive.”

Before you can communicate your health care wishes, you need to decide what they are. Ask yourself what is most important to you. Do you want to play an active role in medical decisions, or do you prefer to have your doctors or someone else make those decisions for you? What kinds of aggressive medical treatments would you want – or not want? What are the most important things that you want your loved ones – or physicians – to know about your wishes?

One resource for helping you prepare for having “the conversation” is the Conversation Starter Kit, created by The Conversation Project and the Institute for Healthcare Improvement. Set up like a workbook, the free kit guides you through the process of getting ready to discuss your wishes.

“The Conversation Starter Kit gives you a chance to think through your wishes,” Hedding explains. “It also helps you think through who, when and where of having the conversation and provides tips for starting the conversation.”

The timing for when to have the conversation is a very personal decision, too.

“The circumstances for having a conversation with others about your end-of-life wishes will vary from individual to individual,” Hedding says. “Some people may prefer to discuss their decisions with one person at a time, while others might want to hold the conversation at a family gathering. If you think it might be helpful, you could invite an outside party such as a pastor, counselor, physician or someone you know who has already been through the process to join you in the conversation. In any case, it’s much better to have the conversation somewhere other than at your hospital bedside when you are facing a health care crisis.”

Hedding suggests that setting a date and time to have the conversation may make sense for some people because it gives them and their loved ones some time to think about it beforehand.

“I made a date with my spouse on Valentine’s Day last year to have the conversation,” she recalls. “We both felt like it was the most loving gift we could possibly give each other.”

Hedding used a card game, the “Go Wish Game,” developed by Coda Alliance. The game features a set of 36 cards, each of which has a short statement of something people often cite as being important to them in the last weeks or months of life. The cards fall into three categories:

- Personal wishes, such as “I want to take care of unfinished business with family and friends,” or

If you become too incapacitated to communicate and make decisions about your own care and treatment, who will decide for you? You can make your wishes known by completing an advance directive, which spells out who will make decision for you and what types of treatment you would or would not want. For more information and links to advance health care directive forms, visit www.whhs/advance-directives.

“I want to be able to talk about what death means.”

- Detailed physical wishes, such as “I want to be free from pain,” or “I don’t want to be short of breath.”
- Specific spiritual wishes, such as “I want to be able to pray,” or “I want to meet with clergy.”

The game also includes a “wild card” so people can come up with their own wish.

“We used the cards as a guide for our conversation, sorting our cards into three piles: what was very important, what would be nice, and what was not a high priority,” Hedding says. “It was really eye-opening. There are things we never would have known about each other’s preferences.”

“The end of life is a heavy topic for discussion,” she admits. “You are talking about very personal values, and you need to respect each other’s choices and values. It’s important to keep an open mind and an open heart, remembering that there are no ‘right’ or ‘wrong’ answers – there are only your answers. Try to be an intentional listener – don’t just listen; try to really hear what the other person is saying. When you are taking part in the discussion, remember this is someone who loves you enough to want to have this conversation with you.”

Hedding notes that “the conversation” is not usually going to be a quick and easy one. In fact, it may take several conversations, and it could be a conversation that changes over time as life progresses and circumstances change.

“For example, if one of your parents dies, you may need to have a new conversation with the other parent because having a loved one die definitely changes your perspective,” she says. “Has losing a spouse changed the other parent’s views with regard to hospice care or continuing to live alone?”

“I recently had another conversation with my mother, and we covered various scenarios to consider what she would want in different circumstances,” she adds. “I asked her a lot of ‘what if’ questions, such as ‘What if you collapsed in the grocery store, where there were a lot of people around you and medical care could arrive quickly?’ versus ‘What if you had collapsed at home alone, and you were not found until much later and your condition was much worse?’ An advance directive can always be revised if you change your mind or if your health or living situation changes. Nothing is set in stone.”

(Part 1 of this series of articles discussed the importance of creating an advance health care directive to specify your preferences for medical care in critical situations and at the end of life, and provided resources for helping you to do it. That article can be found in the June 3 edition of the Tri-City Voice at www.tricityvoice.com or on the Washington Hospital website at www.whhs.com/news. Part 3 of the series will discuss the spiritual, emotional and cultural concerns that people may want to address in an advance directive.)

words. The Community Gallery is a modular space where anyone can host an exhibition, program or social event. The Special Gallery is a place for the Historical Society to focus on topics related to the Hayward area, the greater East Bay community, and California history in more detail through rotating exhibits. The Children's Gallery is a fun, hands-on learning space where young visitors can explore re-creations of Hayward Hotel, Holmes Grocery Store, a cannery, and the natural environment. In addition to galleries, the Center features a research archive where local references, maps, and a variety of materials documenting the history and lore of the Hayward area are accessible. Opening soon is The Cannery Café, where friends can gather in a comfortable space that offers a culinary-driven menu featuring the creations of Blue Heron Catering.

On Saturday from 11:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. kids can peddle up a smoothie on the Smoothie Bike, and take part in crafts including henna art, glitter tattoos, and face painting. Tennyson Farm will offer tastings of local honey, and an antique Hayward Fire Department truck will be exhibited from 2:00 p.m. until 5:00 p.m. Indoors there will be limited capacity tours of collections from 11:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. At 12:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. research and archives tours will be offered; the Hayward Arts Council will give demonstrations and tours in the Foothill Gallery. The Grand Opening is sponsored by California State University East Bay, Wells Fargo, Buffalo Bills, and UBS Financial.

Help decorate Fremont signal control boxes

SUBMITTED BY THE CITY OF FREMONT

The City of Fremont is pleased to introduce boxART!—a new program to create works of art for all to enjoy on our Traffic Signal Control Boxes, commonly referred to as utility boxes. Vibrant public art helps deter unsightly vandalism from our community and creates inviting spaces for residents and visitors alike.

Fremont has over 160 boxes throughout the city. The first phase of the program will transform 15 boxes, eight of which have experienced high incidents of graffiti and are located along high traffic corridors in the city; the remaining seven will be spread throughout the city. Fremont is an award-winning city in education, safety, cultural diversity, government, advanced manufacturing, and so much more! Each boxART! will have a theme that can address any of these subjects or new ideas, and/or other city values. Theme ideas include sustainability, green energy, community, education, technology, innovation, ecology, arts, etc. The project is open to all artists living or working in Alameda County. Artists may work individually or in teams. The Call to Artists for the first phase runs from June 12 through July 18. In August, the art proposals will be reviewed by City of Fremont Art Review Board and then the artists will be selected and paired with sponsors. Interested businesses, organizations, or individuals may sponsor a boxART! mural by underwriting the cost of the box(es). In return, they may select the particular artwork from the portfolio of accepted artists/artwork. This is a great opportunity for everyone in our community to join together as an artist or a sponsor to create exciting and beautiful works of art for all to enjoy. For information about Call to Artists or sponsorship opportunities, contact Susan Longini by email: boxart@fremont.gov or call (510) 494-4555.

Students Create Engineering Solution for Humanitarian Needs

"We took this lens from an old flat screen television," a student told me, swiveling the oversized magnifier on a stand that was built by the student's team. The lens was pointed at a small greenhouse-like object filled with water, also built by the students. He explains that when the mechanism is placed in the sun, the lens focuses a ment of technology. The class caught the IEEE's attention when two Ohlone Engineering students gave a presentation at last year's IEEE Global Humanitarian Technology Conference. Ohlone was the first community college to ever present at this international conference.

"The Humanitarian Needs Project creates the feeling of powerful beam on the greenhouse, boiling the water inside. I am visiting Ohlone Professor Rose-Margaret Itua's Introduction to Engineering class. This contraption is a do-it-yourself water purifier built by one of seven teams in the class for the Engineering for Humanitarian Needs Project. Students are developing engineering solutions to address real-life problems around the world – for this project, the problem they are trying to solve is the lack of clean drinking water.

The Humanitarian Needs Project is funded by a $2,500 grant from the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE), the world's largest professional association for the advancement of technology. The class caught the IEEE's attention when two Ohlone Engineering students gave a presentation at last year's IEEE Global Humanitarian Technology Conference. Ohlone was the first community college to ever present at this international conference. "The Humanitarian Needs Project creates the feeling of being valuable and relevant in solving problems around the world," Professor Itua told me. We walked around the room as other students showed us the prototypes of their design solutions, from portable wind and solar power generators, to a flood-proof house. The top two teams will again present their projects at this year's IEEE Global Humanitarian Technology Conference, which takes place in San Jose this October. There they will join other educators, engineers, and scientists from around the world who are interested in applying technology to develop effective solutions for the challenges facing the world's underserved populations.

STEM Awareness Day Ignites Students' Interest in the Sciences

"We know what it takes to compete for the jobs and industries of our time. We need to out-innovate, out-educate, and out-build the rest of the world," President Barack Obama told the nation, addressing the need to spark an interest in science and technology in our young. This is the mission of the Ohlone College Science, Engineering, and Mathematics Division. For example, the annual STEM Awareness Day, where sixty students from Newark Junior High came to the Ohlone College Newark campus to enjoy a day of learning, fun, and exploration – and some very serious science.

Students watched intently as chemistry professor Dr. Maru

Grant poured a steaming vat of liquid nitrogen around ordinary cream and sugar. The result was delicious ice cream that the audience enjoyed while learning about the fascinating properties of gases. In the biotechnology workshop, the middle schoolers extracted DNA from their own cheek cells to learn about their own individual genomes, such as what type of taste receptor cells they have. Future computer networking students got a head start as they learned to set up home networks using software developed by Cisco Systems. The engineering workshop introduced a few of the many fields of engineering, including materials, electrical, civil and mechanical. Students discovered the shape memory properties of materials, learned electric circuit construction, and experimented in bridge construction. Students inspired by STEM Awareness Day are encouraged to explore the Ohlone College STEM Pathway Program. Students have the opportunity to take courses while still in high school, receiving college credit. Many of the courses transfer to both California State University and the University of California systems, paving the way to innovative and well-paying jobs in the STEM disciplines.

Students who Serve

Graduating with Honors:

Sergeant First Class Jason Manella

- Served two tours of duty in Iraq and one tour of duty in Afghanistan
- Overcame a traumatic injury that required hospitalization and therapy
- Attended Ohlone College throughout his service time.
- Graduated with a 3.9 GPA
- Received Bronze Star, Purple Heart, Meritorious Service and many other medals
- Won the United States Army Reserve Command Non-Commissioned Officer of the Year

title during the 2013 Army Best Warrior Competition, making him the first Army reservist to win the Army-wide title. "I believe a place like Ohlone Community College is a great place to help foster student's dreams, get them on track, set their educational goals, and guide them along their way. I'm incredibly thankful to be a product of this college, and I will always cherish the education, the mentorship and memories I have from being here."

Engineering Social Change

"We are the most powerful people in the world! We get to define the future – to make the future!" This is Ohlone College Professor Rose-Margaret Itua's refrain to her class of engineering students. Hailing from the University of West London where she served as the Engineering Chair, Professor Itua brings a powerful voice to Ohlone College. This ethos is clearly demonstrated in her curriculum, but a glance at her service away from Ohlone reveals the type of leadership she brings to the classroom. Professor Itua is a member of Engineers Without Borders. She regularly travels to Africa, Asia and Latin America, designing and implementing technology solutions for humanitarian needs. Professor Itua stresses that, "Engineering should promote public welfare. It's not functionality alone, but its social implications."

Magnet Status Recognizes Excellence

A Magnet-recognized hospital must demonstrate that:

- Nursing care delivers excellent patient outcomes
- Nurses have a high level of job satisfaction
- There is a low staff nurse turnover rate and appropriate grievance resolution
- Nursing is involved in data collection and decision-making in patient care delivery

The hospital’s Magnet activities focus on recruitment and retention of an excellent nursing staff, improvements in patient satisfaction, excellent nurse-physician relationships, staff education and training, and work with patients and their families to improve outcomes, among other programs.

Carol Severin recognized for distinguished service

SUBMITTED BY
ISA POLT-JONES

East Bay Regional Park District board member Carol Severin was recently recognized by her colleagues for her lifetime of service to the California parks and recreation profession. Her accomplishments were celebrated at two recent professional conferences.

Over a sixty-year career, Ms. Severin supported parks and recreation initiatives in California through her outstanding contributions in leadership, strategic planning, partnership building, communications, and as a creator of experiences at the local, state and national levels for various recreation and parks.

Ms. Severin holds a graduate degree from San Francisco State University, where she taught in the recreation department for 40 years, retiring in 2001.

“I’m endlessly fascinated by Carol as she’s had such an incredible life!” said California Association of Recreation and Park Districts (CARPD) Board member Maryalice Faltings. “Her career has been an inspiration to many. She also has an encyclopedic knowledge of the recreation field, and is able to impart what she knows so clearly.”

The California Association of Recreation and Park Districts (CARPD) awarded Carol Severin the Jim Meredith Award of Distinction at the 2014 CARPD conference held in Lake Tahoe, on May 17. The week prior, Ms. Severin was awarded a lifetime achievement award from the national Society for Outdoor Recreation Professionals (SORP) at their conference in San Francisco. The occasion also honored Ms. Severin’s legacy in the field with the announcement that the Regional Parks Foundation was establishing a Carol Severin Intern Scholarship fund at San Francisco State University’s Department of Recreation, Parks and Tourism.

Ms. Severin is a former board member of the Hayward Area Recreation and Park District, and has been on the board of the CARPD for 25 years. Since 1994, Carol Severin has also served on the East Bay Regional Park District board, representing Castro Valley, Hayward, Union City, and portions of Fremont, Pleasanton and Dublin.

“I’m very pleased to see Carol recognized for her contributions, which have been many. In her tenure here, she’s been instrumental in diligently championing access for all to the parks – especially for youth and seniors,” said EBRPD General Manager Robert E. Doyle. “The new outdoor fitness circuit at Lake Chabot, and the Short Loop Trails guides, are some recent examples. She also was key in developing our internship program. Her leadership will make a difference for years to come.”

“I hope that in my years in the field I’ve been able to encourage access to the parks,” said Ms. Severin. “Saving the land is important. But providing opportunities to enjoy the parks is important too.” Find out more at www.ebparks.org.

Consumers warned about undeclared wheat allergen

SUBMITTED BY CA DEPARTMENT OF
PUBLIC HEALTH

Dr. Ron Chapman, director of the California Department of Public Health (CDPH) and state health officer, warned consumers with wheat allergies not to eat Bread and Cie brand biscotti. People who have wheat allergies can be at risk for life-threatening reactions. No illnesses have been reported at this time.

Bread and Cie in San Diego, is voluntarily recalling all biscotti products, because they contain wheat that is not declared on the product labels.

The biscotti are packaged in clear cellophane packages with tiny opaque silver stars. Packages will contain either eight to nine sticks of regular biscotti, or numerous biscotti wafers. Color of product varies from light to dark brown. All bags are secured at the top with either a green, gold, or maroon raffia tie.

Consumers in possession of these products should return them to the place of purchase, or call Bread and Cie at (619) 688-1788 for further information.

Consumers that have experienced an allergic reaction after consuming this product should contact their health care provider. Anyone observing the product being offered for sale is encouraged to call CDPH’s toll-free complaint line at (800) 495-3232.

Optimists honor police officers

SUBMITTED AND PHOTOS BY
MARLA L. BLOWERS

On Wednesday, June 11, 2014 the Newark Optimist Club held their annual Police Officer of the Year recognition breakfast at Newark's IHOP. In a meeting led by President Pro Tempore Richard Hammock, Fremont Detective Rick Zemlock, Newark Officer Ryan Johnson, and Union City Officer Bruce Vance were honored in front of police peers, city dignitaries, and family members.

According to the club's newsletter, The Informer, Fremont Mayor Bill Harrison recognized that Detective Zemlock was "instrumental in reducing residential burglaries by one third via Operation Sentinel." At the meeting, Zemlock said, "I enjoy coming to work every day. I hope to make a difference in the world."

Officer Johnson has worked 154 cases and made arrests in 29 of them. He is a familiar face at Newark Memorial High School and supported the upgrade of surveillance cameras at the school. Johnson also took part in the Tour de Fuzz Charity Bike Ride to benefit the Police Chaplaincy Program.

City Manager Larry Cheeves stated that Officer Vance "has worked tirelessly to lower crime in Union City by making certain housing area safer for those who live there and for the community." Police Chief Brian Foley recognized Vance's "unwavering leadership" as president of the Police Officers Association.

License Plate Reader locates stolen vehicles

SUBMITTED BY
LT. RANDALL BRANDT, SAN LEANDRO PD

On Sunday, June 22 at 5:15 p.m., an officer driving a marked police car equipped with license plate reader (LPR) technology cameras passed a Honda Accord that was driving south on Alvarado St., near Williams St. The LPR computer alerted the officer that the car had been reported stolen to the Newark Police Department on June 12th.

The officer confirmed the license plate, make, model and color of the stolen vehicle, and followed it as it pulled into an empty parking lot next to the San Leandro BART station. The car's driver and sole occupant, later identified as a 31 year-old male from Richmond, stopped on his own. As the officer began to get out of his car to investigate, the car sped off onto the adjacent street, drove over a sidewalk and fled south towards Williams St., while driving through the gravel, adjacent to the railroad tracks.

The officer pursued the Honda a short distance, until it entered the railroad crossing on Williams St.

and collided with the crossing arms, sheering them off of their base. The suspect quickly ran from the vehicle and hid in a nearby commercial yard in the 600 block of Williams St. Witnesses in the area alerted officers to the direction in which the suspect fled.

Officers established a perimeter around the building and fenced in yard, and with the assistance of a San Leandro Police canine team, began to search for the suspect. He was located by the police canine, hiding on top of a recreational vehicle within the perimeter, and was arrested by officers without incident.

"Without the assistance of the LPR computer alerting the officer of this stolen Honda, it would never have been stopped. It was just one of many cars driving down the street that the officer had passed, while on patrol - The only difference was, this Honda was stolen. Once again, our community is to be credited with assisting in this arrest, as without their help, we may not have found the suspect so quickly," said Lt. Robert McManus.

It was later determined that the suspect was recently paroled from prison as part of the Assembly Bill 109 Realignment Program and Post-Release Community Supervision Act of 2011. His has a history of arrests involving stolen vehicles. The suspect will be held at the Santa Rita Jail in Dublin, and will be arraigned in the Alameda County Superior Court early this week.

This was the second stolen vehicle recovered by the same officer using the LPR technology on Sunday afternoon. Earlier in the day, the officer was patrolling the 1200 block of Gilmore Ave. when the LPR computer alerted to a stolen vehicle parked on the street. That vehicle was unoccupied and no arrests have been made in that case. Police do not believe that the two cases are related.

Please contact the San Leandro Police Department's Criminal Investigations Division with any information regarding this case at 510-577-3230 or contact the Anonymous Tip Line at 510-577-3278.

Citizens can also send an anonymous tip to San Leandro Police Department by texting the word SLPD and their tip to 847411.

Surviving Strokes: Rehabilitation Helps Nearly Everyone

Learn More About Rehabilitation Benefits at Free Upcoming Education Session

uals in the community prevent stroke and recognize strokes when they occur, Dr. Jain said.

As part of Washington Hospital's ongoing Stroke Education series, Dr. Jain and Doug Van Houten, RN, Washington Hospital Stroke Program Coordinator, will conduct a two-hour program on risk factors for strokes from 6 to 8 p.m. on Tuesday, July 1.

The program is part of a continuing free education series on stroke education offered by Dr. Jain and Van Houten on the first Tuesday of each month. The free seminars are held in the Conrad E. Anderson M.D. Auditorium #B at Washington West, 2500 Mowry Avenue, Fremont. To register for the free seminar, call (800) 963-7070 or visit www.whhs.com.

Unfortunately, strokes — the vast majority of which are caused when a blood clot travels to the brain and cuts off oxygen to the affected areas — are still one of the most common causes of patients arriving in the emergency room, according to Dr. Jain.

For stroke victims, cutting-edge care at a certified Primary Stroke Center like that at Washington Hospital, is critical to mitigating the damage from a stroke.

"Our primary goal is to treat a stroke as quickly as possible once a patient reaches our Emergency Room, because time is everything when it comes to effective management of a stroke," said Dr. Jain. "Even small delays can have heavy costs, and research has shown that outcomes are better when people can properly identify signs of stroke and then seek help immediately."

The more community members understand about stroke, the more likely they will be to recognize it and take action, continued Dr. Jain. Most often it is a family member — not the stroke victim — who recognizes stroke and calls 9-1-1. Most importantly, many of the acute management techniques for stroke are only viable for a limited time, which means a patient must reach the ER as quickly as possible.

According to the American Heart Association, an estimated 6.8 million Americans over the age of 20 have had a stroke of some kind and most survivors have had to overcome some level of stroke-induced disability, added Van Houten.

After experiencing a stroke, participation in an ongoing rehabilitation program under the direction of specialized therapists offers stroke victims some measure of improvement.

"Amazingly, if one survives a stroke, the stroke victim almost always gets at least somewhat better with appropriate rehabilitation therapy," Van Houten said. While nearly every stroke patient can measure some improvement, stroke recovery is quite complicated because of the stroke's impact on the whole patient, Van Houten noted.

Rehabilitation activities typically focus on three main areas of disability:

Physical: Recovering motor function such as learning to walk again, becoming independent with activities of daily living, being able to swallow safely. It also means recovering from cognitive impairment: adapting to brain damage that keeps the stroke survivor from processing information and communicating normally.

Psychological: This means focusing on "recovery of the self." Before a stroke, a person thinks of one's self as independent, competent — just like everyone else. Suddenly there may be a loss of independence, a loss of the "normal" self, of other similar identities. A patient's health perception also is impaired as now the patient suffers from a chronic condition.

Social: A stroke survivor may be confronted with the loss of his/her identity as a worker, provider, head-of-family, advisor, other functions or activities. Suddenly the stroke survivor may now find him/herself in the role of a care-receiver, of being dependent on others and no longer able to work. This change can seriously affect a patient's social environment. For example, a marriage partnership may change to a caregiver/care-receiver relationship.

Thus, recovery from a stroke can be a challenge from many different vantage points, according to Van Houten.

Rehabilitation is the key to stroke recovery, Van Houten emphasized. Stroke patients and their caregivers must take advantage of rehabilitation experts who include physical, occupational and speech therapists.

Rehabilitation therapy specialists are a primary reason in stroke recovery but equally important is the will of the stroke survivor to get better, he added.

Studies indicate that recovery from a stroke requires several factors in addition to good rehabilitation:

- 1) A willingness on the part of the stroke survivor to work hard with the rehabilitation therapist.
- 2) A sense of optimism and hope that life will get better with time.
- 3) The assistance of a home caregiver, most often a spouse, who will help, nurture and encourage the stroke survivor to get better.

Some level of recovery from a stroke is likely with the assistance of rehabilitation therapists, personal commitment to the recovery program and the help and support of family and friends, Van Houten added.

Graham School donates for a cause

SUBMITTED AND PHOTOS BY GIL CHESO

According to the Leukemia Research Foundation, someone is diagnosed with blood cancer every four minutes; more than 163,000 new cases are expected in the U.S. this year. Such statistics are alarming, and one of those people might just be someone you know and love.

To support the 2014 Man of the Year campaign for the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society, Newark's Graham Elementary School students raised $730 by conducting bake sales with the aid of their parents. On Friday, June 6, Principal Terrance Dunn presented a check to the society alongside teacher Erika Zandona, who was visiting the school for the first time since her treatment started in April. Two months ago, Zandona was diagnosed with leukemia, a type of cancer that affects the lymphatic system. Soon after hearing the terrible news, students stepped in to raise money and help. Their donation was dedicated to their beloved teacher and friend.

So far, the campaign has raised over $857,000. Over 77 percent of all the money goes directly to blood cancer research, education, and patient services. To support this worthy cause, visit www.mwoy.org/pages/gba/bayarea14/gcheso and make a tax deductible donation. Those interested have until the end of June to donate.

EXTENDED FORECAST

It is not uncommon these days for vehicle owners to hold on to their automobiles past warranty expiration dates. At this point, owners of vehicles with 100,000 or more miles under their belts may not even have factory-recommended service intervals to refer to. If so, they should rely on the experience of trusted auto technicians for maintenance guidance. Older vehicles will likely benefit from changing the engine oil, transmission fluid, coolant, and brake fluid before additives lose their ability to stave off corrosion and unwanted buildups. If they have not already been replaced, spark plugs and oxygen sensors may also be due for replacement. Belts/tensioners, shocks/struts, drivetrain seals, and other components also should be examined to forestall costly repairs.

Old or new, all cars benefit from regularly scheduled care to keep them in the best possible condition. That's why you should schedule a tune-up at BAY STAR AUTO CARE. Our ASC-certified technicians can provide the preventative care that will catch small problems before they turn into big repair bills. That can keep your high-mileage car running just as smoothly as the day you drove it off the lot. Call today for an appointment. And remember, we do smog inspections!

HINT: If overrunning alternator decoupler pulleys or one-way clutches found on some late-model vehicles fail, it can lead to premature wear of other accessory drive components, a no-charge condition, or a weak battery.

History
Centerville
Fire Department

People usually experienced excitement and fun when the circus came to town, but Centerville was nearly burned out when the circus visited in September 1887. Apparently the fire was started by a careless visitor in the John Reiss and Company saloon. Several buildings hart's Drug Store, The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, Hanson's Saloon with lodge rooms on the second floor, George Coir's plumbing shop, and the courtroom of Justice of the Peace John G. Mattos.

The Monday after the fire, the Bank of Centerville sent a check found 52 undersize, out-of-season clams in the car. Since he was also the game warden, he arrested the man and cited him to appear in court. The problem was that Rogers had to keep the clams alive by feeding them corn meal and salt until Judge Allen G. Norris fined the man $50 in court. Then the clams were returned to the bay.

Jack De Luce and Manuel Abreu circulated petitions in 1948 to enlarge the Fire District to the boundaries of adjacent districts. Pending construction was postponed to purchase a new, fully equipped fire truck.

The old station was moved back on the lot in 1954 to make way for a new, $53,000 two-story, four-truck building that was finally dedicated in March 1955. Chief Frank Madruga estimated that 600 residents came to admire the brick and concrete station house with its meeting hall modern kitchen, tiled shower room, and a spacious bedroom for future paid firemen. The foyer of the Center Theater, across the street, displayed the word "Congratulations". The station housed a two-year-old 750 gallon pumper and a 1937 model 500 gallon pumper; and still had room for two more trucks.

David Souza, John Taylor, and George Azevedo began duty as the first full-time paid firemen July 1, 1955. Fred Rogers was Fire Chief burned to the ground; the town was saved by the valiant efforts of citizens who tore down a building to stop the fire.

The Centerville Fire Department was organized in 1890 with either Walter Walton or Judge Sandholdt as fire chief. At first they had only one fire hydrant, several buckets and 500 feet of hose. The Sanborn map noted that the Spring Valley water main passed through town affording ample water with two fire plugs.

The first station was built on North Main Street near the Presbyterian Church in 1905 and was moved to 143 South Main Street in 1917. It was a small building just large enough to hold one fire truck and a small meeting room. Frank Madruga recalled that the first fire truck was painted black, pulled by two horses.

The 1906 earthquake damaged the town of Centerville, but the fire that followed was even worse. It threatened to burn down the entire town. People were so alarmed they carried some of their belongings into the street and waited in fear. The fire destroyed the Gregory and Coney barns, Souza's warehouse, and several other buildings, but the fire department controlled the blaze and saved most of the town. Residents had just a glimpse of what it was like across the Bay, in San Francisco.

A fire broke out in the bakery of A. Bartoletti in April 1915, swept through the business houses, and threatened the entire village. Flames roared skyward and were visible for miles around. Scores of residents joined Centerville and Newark firemen fighting the fire. Flying sparks set houses and stores in adjacent blocks on fire. A large plate glass window across the street from the bakery was broken by the intense heat from the blazing mass of wooden buildings.

Fire fighters saved the town and the nearby Centerville Bank building, but one of the main business blocks was lost. The destroyed property included Lern-for $20.00 to the Centerville Fire Department with a letter expressing appreciation for the good work of the firemen that saved the bank building. Citizens expressed their appreciation to the Centerville and Newark firemen for saving the town.

The department purchased a chemical outfit on an Alco truck about 1920. A Mack truck with high pressure equipment was secured about 1927, and another piece of equipment was added 10 years later.

Fire was discovered in the Centerville Courtroom about 2:30 a.m. August 7, 1931. Firemen and volunteers responded quickly to the alarm and soon had the fire under control, but everything in the courtroom was destroyed. Fixtures, benches, desks, files, and law books belonging to Judge Allen Norris were lost. The fire burned through the back corner of the building and destroyed several tools in Coir's Hardware Store.

Fire Chief Fred Rogers helped put out a fire in an automobile on Thornton Avenue in 1947. After the fire was out, the Chief found 52 undersize, out-of-season clams in the car. Since he was also the game warden, he arrested the man and cited him to appear in court. The problem was that Rogers had to keep the clams alive by feeding them corn meal and salt until Judge Allen G. Norris fined the man $50 in court. Then the clams were returned to the bay.

Cal State East Bay alumnus wins Tony Award

SUBMITTED BY JEFF BLISS

Cal State East Bay alumnus James Monroe Iglehart (Theatre '98) took home the 2014 Tony Award on June 8 for Best Performance by an Actor in a Featured Role in a Musical. Iglehart won for his role as Genie in Disney's "Aladdin."

During his acceptance speech, he gave a "praise shout" and performed a few dance moves at the microphone. Among those receiving a "thank you" was former CSUEB Theatre Department costume technician Celestine Rainey Howes, who was singled out for "...keeping [him] in college."

A Broadway veteran, this was his first Tony nomination. Iglehart has also appeared in "The 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee" and "Memphis." In addition, he has appeared on stage and screen in such shows as "The Wiz," "The Good Wife" and "The Electric Company." James is also a member of the hip-hop improv group Freestyle Love Supreme.

"James was very special. He did it all," said Professor Thomas C. Hird, chair of CSUEB's Department of Theatre and Dance. Hird, who taught the future Tony winner at Cal State East Bay, said Iglehart "could sing, dance, act, and he would even work backstage. And he's still that way today."

Historic partnership plans new school

SUBMITTED BY JAN HILL

The Fremont Unified School District (FUSD) and residential developers in the South Fremont/Warm Springs community plan area entered into a historic letter of intent for the home builders to provide a new 750-student elementary school and school site in the plan area and to mitigate the impacts of residential development at the junior and senior high school levels. The agreement will provide a brand new state-of-the-art elementary school in south Fremont and additional classrooms at Walters Junior High School and John F. Kennedy High.

Enrollment in FUSD has grown by 2,000 students in recent years. The school district has struggled to provide enough classrooms for the growing enrollment. Fremont's excellent schools, ready access to public transportation, and growing job market, have made Fremont a great place to work and live.

According to Dr. James Morris, District Superintendent, "This is an example of the positive outcomes that result when the District and developers work cooperatively to provide state-of-the-art facilities for children coming to Fremont."

Mayor Bill Harrison stated, "The Warm Springs Community Plan will continue to transform our City into a regional job center and hub for advanced manufacturing. I am proud of the partnership the City and School District have recently forged and I am pleased with the commitment the developers have presented to the School District. The City Council looks forward to the discussion around the South Fremont/Warm Springs area in the next month or two."

Governor signs $108 billion California budget

By JUDY LIN
ASSOCIATED PRESS

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP), Gov. Jerry Brown on Friday signed California's $108 billion budget for the coming fiscal year that pays down debt, builds a rainy day fund and provides additional money for schools and health care.

Brown signed the budget in a crowded, sparsely furnished press room at San Diego City Hall, flanked by lawmakers including Assembly Speaker Toni Atkins, a Democrat from San Diego.

"California is demonstrating that the majority can actually govern, unlike Washington, which is mired in gridlock and partisanship and extreme polarization," Brown said, adding that Democrats had "a lot of cooperation from the minority party as well."

Brown said the budget lowers debt, invests in public schools, shores up the teachers' pension fund and guards against another economic downturn. He said he doesn't anticipate tapping the rainy day fund while in office.

"It's certainly going to be untouchable for the next 41/2 years if the election turns out as I think it will," he said, alluding to his re-election bid.

Republican gubernatorial candidate Neel Kashkari said Brown's budget represents more of the same back-room dealing in Sacramento.

"Despite the nation's highest poverty rate and a failing education system, Gov. Jerry Brown today signed the largest budget in state history that is nothing more than a giveaway for special interests paid for by working families," Kashkari said in a statement.

The budget for the fiscal year that starts July 1 is built on temporary tax increases and surging revenue from the booming stock market.

Republican lawmakers called the 2014-15 fiscal year spending plan a mixed bag. They praised the use of a more conservative revenue projection while criticizing spending on permanent programs that they say could be difficult to maintain once temporary, voter-approved tax increases expire in a few years.

Here is where the money is directed:

— Lawmakers agreed to Brown's plan to set aside $1.6 billion for the state's rainy day fund and approved companion legislation to start reducing $74 billion in unfunded teacher pension liabilities.

— Spends $264 million for free preschool and day care for low-income families. The preschool program eventually will serve half of all 4-year-olds in the state, about 234,000 children.

— Increases the maximum aid allowed under California's welfare-to-work program, CalWORKS, by 5 percent starting next April.

— Includes $1 billion to cover higher-than-expected Medi-Cal enrollment rates as part of the federal Affordable Care Act's Medicaid expansion.

— Relatives and workers who care for the elderly and people with disabilities outside of nursing homes will be entitled to overtime pay.

— Gives $250 million this year and a quarter of future revenues from California's greenhouse gas emissions law to the $68 billion high-speed rail project.

Despite broad authority to veto items in the budget, Brown issued just a handful of changes mainly to clean up legislation.

He reduced by half the state staffing responsible for making sure insurance plans provide mental health coverage at the same level as medical conditions to save $2.5 million. He removed $700,000 for a teen driver safety study because the program is already underway.

Associated Press writer Elliot Spagat in San Diego contributed to this story.

California probes Anthem Blue Cross, Blue Shield

AP WIRE SERVICE

LOS ANGELES (AP), California regulators are investigating whether Anthem Blue Cross and Blue Shield of California misled consumers about which doctors they covered under federal health care reform packages.

The California Department of Managed Care is trying to determine whether state laws were violated in the way the medical insurance giants enacted new, limited health coverage networks under the Affordable Care Act, the Los Angeles Times (<http://lat.ms/1lRMe9Q>) reported.

"Our preliminary investigation gave us good cause to believe there are violations of the law," agency spokeswoman Marta Green said.

Patients have complained that they were erroneously told that certain medical providers were included in the smaller networks, and they used that information to choose a health plan through Covered California, the state's health insurance exchange.

Other patients said they received treatment only to find out later that the doctor wasn't considered part of their health plan network.

More than 200 complaints have been filed against the two companies this year.

"Anthem and Blue Shield have led the pack on these network and provider issues," Green said.

"Anthem Blue Cross continually works to improve the accuracy of our provider directory," spokesman Darrel Ng said. "In the process of updating our provider database earlier in the year, we found that while the vast majority of the listings were correct, there were some providers inadvertently listed."

More than 3,800 medical providers have been added to Anthem's statewide exchange network since January, the company said.

Blue Shield said it also has added more doctors and hospitals.

"We are redoubling our efforts to inform physicians and our customers as to what the network makeup is," spokesman Steve Shivinsky said. "If some corrective action is necessary as a result of the state survey, we will do that."

The two companies together grabbed nearly 60 percent of the 1.4 million people who signed up for private health insurance through Covered California in the first enrollment period.

The next open enrollment period begins in November. Information from: Los Angeles Times, <http://www.latimes.com>

State, Amtrak cancel joint high-speed train bid

By JULIET WILLIAMS
ASSOCIATED PRESS

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP), Amtrak and the California High-Speed Rail Authority have canceled a joint agreement to bid on high-speed trains that was billed as a way to save money and lure train manufacturing to the United States.

The agencies said Friday that their needs are too different and that manufacturers are not yet ready to build trains that can run on both Amtrak's 100-year-old rail lines and the high-speed corridors planned for California's system.

The joint proposal announced in January called for bids by mid-May on up to 28 train sets with 400-450 seats each for Amtrak and 15 train sets with a minimum of 450 seats for high-speed rail. The number of cars per train would be up to bidders to propose.

Lisa-Marie Alley, a spokeswoman for high-speed rail, said in meetings with manufacturers during the last few weeks it became clear that the requirements were too different to incorporate into one set of trains.

"The feedback that we got from the industry was that Amtrak and high-speed rail need such different things, it was almost impossible for them to build a train that meets both our needs," she said.

California's $68 billion project, which has been stalled because of repeated legal setbacks that have blocked financing, requires speeds up to 220 mph, while Amtrak is limited to 160 mph on the Washington-New York City-Boston segment known as the Northeast Corridor.

The agencies concluded that too many compromises would need to be made to meet both their needs, which would "move us away from a service-proven design and create significant risks as to schedule and costs," Amtrak spokesman Craig Schulz said in an email.

California Electric Vehicle Charging Stations

SUBMITTED BY LANA MCALLISTER

The California Energy Commission approved funding for cutting-edge clean energy projects at its monthly business meeting, including money for hundreds of electric vehicle (EV) charging stations, an innovative natural gas fuel tank, and emerging but proven technologies that are ready for the marketplace.

To continue building the infrastructure needed to charge California's growing number of electric vehicles, the Energy Commission approved 15 grants totaling more than $5 million to install 475 electric vehicle chargers in communities throughout California, including the cities of San Francisco, Burbank, Torrance and San Diego and the counties of Ventura, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, Orange, Riverside and Los Angeles. These grants are funded by the Alternative and Renewable Fuel and Vehicle Technology Program (ARFVTP).

Report says Apple smartwatch to come this fall

AP WIRE SERVICE

NEW YORK (AP), Apple is likely to launch a computerized wristwatch this fall that includes more than 10 sensors to take health measurements and other data, according to a published report.

The Wall Street Journal also said Friday that Apple Inc. is planning multiple screen sizes for the device, which some people have dubbed the iWatch.

Samsung, Sony, Qualcomm and others have already released smartwatches, but the gadgets have mostly functioned as companions to smartphones, offering email notifications, clock functions and the like. Samsung's Gear 2 line, released this year, added fitness-related apps and has a heart rate sensor.

There's been longstanding speculation that Apple has been working on a smartwatch. The main question has been when it would come out.

Apple intensified speculation this month when it said the upcoming version of its mobile operating system, iOS 8, will include tools for managing health data. The software is expected in September, along with new iPhones.

Apple has been under pressure to release new products, as investors question whether the company that popularized the smartphone and the tablet computer is still able to innovate following the death of co-founder Steve Jobs. CEO Tim Cook has hinted at new products coming this year, but the company hasn't provided details.

Citing unnamed people familiar with the matter, the Journal said production of the smartwatch is expected to begin in two or three months at Quanta Computer Inc., a Taiwanese company that has worked on Apple's Mac computers. Sales of the device could begin as early as October.

Apple declined comment in line with its policy of not discussing future products.

Fireworks in Fremont are banned

The sale, possession, and use of fireworks are banned within the city of Fremont. This ban includes the "safe and sane" variety of fireworks that are legal in some other cities. Fremont's police and fire departments will be patrolling neighborhoods to ensure a safe Fourth of July.

National Night Out in Fremont

Join Fremont Police staff along with community organizations, neighborhood groups and City officials in celebrating the 31st Annual National Night Out on Tuesday, August 5 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. The typical way to participate in National Night Out is to organize a block party or neighborhood party. Ideas include organizing barbecues or ice cream socials where neighbors share good food, laughter and updates on what is happening in the neighborhood. National Night Out provides the opportunity for neighbors to get to know each other a little better and it sends a strong message to criminals that our community will look out for each other by reporting suspicious activity in their neighborhood. Throughout the night, City staff will make visits to the parties where they will share information, network and answer questions community members may have.

You can register your event with the Fremont Police Department by visiting www.FremontPolice.org/NNO. The registration deadline is 5 p.m. on July 25 to be considered for a visit by the police or fire department. To request a party visit from the Fremont Fire Department, please register your party first and then contact Pam Franklin at 510-494-4299 or pfranklin@fremont.gov.

If you plan to block off your street for your celebration, you will need to obtain a block party permit from the City of Fremont. The deadline to file for a permit is Friday, July 7 and the cost of the permit is $20. Call Teresa Garcia at 510-494-4472 for permit details or visit www.Fremont.gov/SpecialEventPermit for more information.

To learn how other communities celebrate National Night Out, visit the National Association of Town Watch online at www.natw.org. If you have questions about National Night Out in Fremont, please call the Community Engagement Unit at 510-790-6740.

Ohlone Humane Society

The animals lose a champion... remembering Virginia Handley

By Nancy Lyon

Sometimes people leave us too soon, we are unprepared for their departure. That was how it was when Virginia Handley unexpectedly passed away in March of this year, leaving a huge gap in the humane movement and the lives of her many friends.

My first memory of Virginia was back in 1991 or 1992; another OHS member and I decided to attend the annual Fund for Animals Christmas party in San Francisco, it was our first time and as newcomers we really didn't know many of the people who would be there. As part of the entertainment, we were treated to a chorus line lead by Virginia and comprised of ladies of varying ages and talent with top hats, shorts, sparkling ruby red tap shoes and lots of laughs. That was my first inkling of Virginia's great sense of humor and dry wit; later, I discovered what a multi-faceted person she was – reader to the blind, a singer, comedienne, and involved in little theater, attributes that probably helped her to off-set the harsh reality of the cruelty and suffering that must be dealt within the animal protection/rights arena.

From the early days on, she and her fellow cohorts, Gladys Sargent (Pets and Pals), Rose Lernberg, and Eric Mills (Action for Animals) often faced the derision and mockery of boorish legislators who didn't "get it" that these folks, strangely dedicated to protecting animals from abuse and cruelty, were there for the long haul.

When you got to know Virginia, you got to know her as a compassionate, multi-talented person –life-long fierce advocate and lobbyist for animals – who for 40 years, spoke out on their behalf in the halls of the California Legislature, fighting for their protection under the law. An unassuming individual who served as the West Coast coordinator and lobbyist for author Cleveland Amory's Fund for Animals, later managing and manning The Animal Switchboard hotline helping to solve just about every kind of animal problem imaginable from the Fund's small San Francisco office at Fort Mason.

In 1980, Virginia co-founded Paw PAC, California's first non-partisan/non-profit political action committee for animals. She tirelessly charted the yearly animal/environment related voting record of each legislator and scored them accordingly. With the documented votes in the Paw PAC report card published, voters were able to track the record of congressional members, informing and influencing people's future contributions and ballots. She was working on the chart at the time of her death.

She was the ultimate mentor, patiently listening and explaining

- sometimes for the third or fourth time – the ins and outs of the California legislative process to those of us struggling to grasp "how things worked" in the hallowed halls of the State Capitol. Today, there are few pieces of worthwhile California animal protection/welfare laws where you don't find Virginia Handley deeply involved in their passage.

Over the years her dedication and persistence made her a force to be reckoned with; as a legislator you may not have liked or agreed with her mission, but you couldn't help respecting her enduring commitment to making the world more humane for animals. Fittingly, a service was held in Virginia's memory in the State Capitol at the end of May. Her longtime friend Eric Mills stated "In my opinion, Virginia was the single best animal activist in California, ever."

It's been two months since Virginia left us and the animal-caring community has come together to comfort and re-home her three little dogs that were left behind. They were, of course, the less placeables that Virginia took in when no one else would.

Virginia, you are missed.

Patterson House hits the jackpot at Antiques Roadshow

SUBMITTED BY CITY OF FREMONT

The City of Fremont's Ardenwood Historic Farm, more commonly known as "The Patterson House," has announced that a painting found in its attic was appraised for between $45,000 and $50,000 at the "Antiques Roadshow" held in Santa Clara earlier this month.

Thousands of people applied for tickets to the Roadshow; admittance was through a lottery system. "This is a true tale of discovering hidden treasure," said Patterson House Manager Christie Dentry. "The painting was found tucked back in the attic of The Patterson House, covered with a simple white sheet. We had no idea of its value until we did a little research. What's even more exciting is that The Patterson House will be one of the only West Coast institutions to have the honor of displaying a John Koch painting."

The artist, John Koch, known most for his portrayals of New York social life, is believed to have been commissioned to paint the piece. Through research and various archival photographs, The Patterson House's staff believe the portrait to be of May Morgan, the sister of Sarah Patterson who lived in Patterson House with her husband, Henry, and their three daughters.

Although an exact date cannot be determined, it is believed that Koch painted the work in his hometown of Ann Arbor, Michigan, before attending formal art school in Paris. The painting's subject, May Morgan, lived in Ann Arbor during the same time with her husband who worked for the University of Michigan, where coincidentally, Koch frequently sat in on art classes.

The painting, as well as the history behind it, will be revealed at the Friday Night @ the Museum Event on July 18 at Patterson House. Live music, great food, beer from a local Fremont brewery, and an opportunity to view this great work will be available for $15. Register online using barcode 208988. Milpitas Historical Society tour

Alviso Adobe

SUBMITTED BY
CATHERINE PELIZZARI

The Milpitas Historical Society is sponsoring its annual “Community Tour” on Saturday, June 28 to acquaint the community with historical sites in Milpitas.

This year’s tour will start at the historic Alviso Adobe Park. The next stop will be at the Silva Apricot Ranch, the last in Milpitas, at 891 Piedmont Road, where the owners will show how apricots are cut, sun-dried, and treated to make this delicious dried fruit known all over the country. The third stop will be just across the street at the old St. John the Baptist Cemetery, dating from 1903, where members of many Milpitas pioneer families are laid to rest. The fourth stop will be a visit to the old Laguna Schoolhouse at 4001 Calaveras Road (at the turnoff to Felter Road), the oldest schoolhouse in Milpitas.

Docents will give tours and hand out information at each stop. Participants are invited to bring a picnic lunch and return to the Alviso Adobe and enjoy food and chat with neighbors after the tour is over. The tour is free and all visitors are welcome.

Mighty 4 Celebrates Hip Hop Culture

SUBMITTED BY ARTHUR H. BARINQUE

Since 1998, Mighty 4 has continued to preserve Hip Hop art forms and history. The organization’s mission is aiming to create a positive outlet for the youth and empowering them with the tools to drive their creativity. Fueled by music, art and dance, the Mighty 4 strives to educate and provide a foundation for future artists. It has served as the San Francisco Bay Area’s only annual Hip Hop cultural festival which hopes to unify and preserve the four cornerstones of what is known as the Hip Hop culture: Emceeing (rap music), style writing (aerosol culture), DJing, and breakin’ (a.k.a. breakdancing).

On Saturday, Oct. 5, Mighty 4, a local non-profit based out of Union City, held its 15th Anniversary at Temple, a multi-functional venue in the heart of downtown San Francisco. Around 800 people from all over the globe showed up to show their support and appreciation for what Mighty 4 has done for the Hip Hop community and culture.

Boy Scout demonstrates edge

SUBMITTED AND PHOTOS BY NELSON KIRK

On Friday, June 6, 2014 Akhil Dua, along with friends and other members of Boy Scouts of America Troop #132, planted 35 native trees along the Old Alameda Creek watershed at San Andreas Park as his Eagle Scout project. Dua also helped install drip irrigation lines and emitters to each tree. This project was done to conserve water by converting an underutilized lawn into a native tree grove.

Dua says, “I had to use various tools such as the EDGE method to teach workers. I had to consult with Mr. [Bill] Bontadelli about this project and he helped me plan the entire thing. The project was approved by Mr. Larry Peck, my scout master, and Mr. Merl Nygren, the Mission Peak Eagle Coordinator.” EDGE is a four-step method for teaching a skill that involves explaining, demonstrating, guiding, and enabling.

Dua is 16 years old and attends American High School in Fremont; he has been in the scouts since second grade. He says, “Becoming an Eagle Scout means that I will finally have achieved a long-term goal of mine. Also, it means that I have successfully learned the methods needed to become a leader and benefit my community.”

Our goal is to help every patient achieve a fulfilling and happy lifestyle full of the activities they enjoy most.

Who ya’ gonna call?

Fremont’s radio hams!

communications for everyone from the American Red Cross to FEMA and even the International Space Station.

Over the past year, the news has been full of reports of ham radio operators providing critical communications during unexpected emergencies in towns across America, including California wildfires, winter storms, tornadoes and other events world-wide. When trouble is brewing, Amateur Radio’s people are often the first to provide responders and rescuers with critical information and communications.

Hams across the U.S. will be holding public demonstrations of emergency communications capabilities June 28 and 29. This annual event, called “Field Day” is the climax of “Amateur Radio Week” sponsored by the American Radio Relay League (ARRL), the national association for Amateur Radio. Using only emergency power, ham operators will construct emergency stations in parks, shopping malls, schools and backyards around the country.

Their slogan, “When All Else Fails, Ham Radio Works,” is more than just words to hams, as they prove they can send messages in many forms without the use of phone systems, Internet or any other infrastructure that can be compromised during a crisis. More than 35,000 amateur radio operators across the country participated in last year’s event.

In the Tri-City area, the South Bay Amateur Radio Association (SBARA) will be demonstrating Amateur Radio at Central Park in Fremont. The public is invited to see ham radio capabilities and learn how to get their own FCC radio license. SBARA will be on site 24 hours with people willing to show, tell, and help operate at radio. While operations will be set up from 11 a.m. Saturday morning through 11 a.m. Sunday, the best time for visitors is Saturday afternoon, from around 2 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Amateur Radio is growing in the U.S. with over 700,000 Amateur Radio licenses in the country, and more than 2.5 million around the world. To learn more about Amateur Radio, go to www.emergency-radio.org.

Cub Scouts achieve highest STEM award

SUBMITTED BY GRETCHEN MORA

On Saturday, June 7, four young men of Cub Scout Pack 112 were awarded the prestigious Dr. Luis W. Alvarez Supernova Award for advanced study of STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Math) related topics.

The award was presented to Andrew Macy, Joseph Morgan, Jaxon Orluck and Ryder Orluck during the annual bridging ceremony of Pack 112 Cub Scouts, marking the end of the school year. The four boys, all under age 10, completed rigorous requirements similar to a merit badge with their Supernova Mentor, Sue Cole. They are the first scouts to receive a Supernova Award in the Mission Peak District (which includes Fremont, Newark and Union City) and within the San Francisco Bay Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

The Supernova Award requires the scouts to earn five academic pins, research famous scientists and learn about their innovations, speak with a teacher, den leader and STEM professional about the importance of science and math in daily life and their careers, design and execute a scientific experiment and report on it, and participate in a STEM activity with their Cub Scout Den or Pack, or a Boy Scout Troop.

The Cub Scout Supernova Award is a beautiful medal named after Dr. Luis W. Alvarez, an American experimental physicist, inventor, and professor who was awarded the Nobel Prize in Physics in 1968.

Transform our Traffic Signal Boxes into boxART! Street Murals

The City of Fremont is pleased to introduce boxART!—a new program to create works of art for all to enjoy on our Traffic Signal Control Boxes, commonly referred to as utility boxes. Vibrant public art helps deter unsightly vandalism from our community and creates inviting spaces for residents and visitors alike.

Fremont has over 160 boxes throughout the city. The first phase of the program will transform 15 boxes, eight of which have experienced high incidents of graffiti and are located along high traffic corridors in the city; the remaining seven will be spread throughout the city.

Fremont is an award-winning city in education, safety, cultural diversity, government, advanced manufacturing, and so much more! Each boxART! will have a theme that can address any of these subjects or new ideas, and/or other city values. Theme ideas include sustainability, green energy, community, education, technology, innovation, ecology, arts, etc.

The project is open to all artists living or working in Alameda County. Artists may work individually or in teams. The Call to Artists for the first phase runs from June 12 through July 18, 2014. In August, the art proposals will be reviewed by City of Fremont Art Review Board and then the artists will be selected and paired with sponsors.

Interested businesses, organizations, or individuals may sponsor a boxART! mural by underwriting the cost of the box(es). In return, they may select the particular artwork from the portfolio of accepted artists/artwork.

This is a great opportunity for everyone in our community to join together as an artist or a sponsor to create exciting and beautiful works of art for all to enjoy. For more information about the Call to Artists or sponsorship opportunities, contact Susan Longini at boxart@fremont.gov or 510-494-4555. For media inquiries, contact Principal Planner Wayne Morris at wmorris@fremont.gov or 510-494-4729.

National Night Out 2014

Join Fremont Police staff along with community organizations, neighborhood groups and City officials in celebrating the 31st Annual National Night Out on Tuesday, August 5 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. The typical way to participate in National Night Out is to organize a block party or neighborhood party. Ideas include organizing barbecues or ice cream socials where neighbors share good food, laughter and updates on what is happening in the neighborhood. National Night Out provides the opportunity for neighbors to get to know each other a little better and it sends a strong message to criminals that our community will look out for each other by reporting suspicious activity in their neighborhood. Throughout the night, City staff will make visits to the parties where they will share information, network and answer questions community members may have.

You can register your event with the Fremont Police Department by visiting www.FremontPolice.org/NNO. The registration deadline is 5 p.m. on July 25 to be considered for a visit by the police or fire department. To request a party visit from the Fremont Fire Department, please register your party first and then contact Pam Franklin at 510-494-4299 or pfranklin@fremont.gov.

If you plan to block off your street for your celebration, you will need to obtain a block party permit from the City of Fremont. The deadline to file for a permit is Friday, July 7 and the cost of the permit is $20. Call Teresa Garcia at 510-494-4472 for permit details or visit www.Fremont.gov/SpecialEventPermit for more information.

To learn how other communities celebrate National Night Out, visit the National Association of Town Watch online at www.natw.org.

If you have questions about National Night Out in Fremont, please call the Community Engagement Unit at 510-790-6740.

SPLASH INTO SUMMER

Student finds gold in ancestor's experience

By M.J. LAIRD
KRISTI PLASKETT

It was 166 years ago that James Marshall picked up a pea-sized bit of gold on January 24, 1848, at John Sutter's Sawmill and changed the fate of California forever. It is an indelible part of history that fourth graders at Glenmoor School in Fremont read in their textbooks. Reading history can be a bit dull, but before the school year ended, 90 students stepped away from the books and back in time to experience what life was like in California during the 1849 Gold Rush.

The 12th annual "Gold Rush Day" offered simulations and activities that have become a high point of the school year for fourth graders. Students panned for gold, stitched leather gold pouches, "whittled" soap bars, and penned letters with feather quills at the Pony Express office. They also created a facsimile of Patty Reed's Doll to remind them of the real doll that traveled in the pocket of nine-year-old Patty Reed across country in a covered wagon with the Donner Party, and which they saw on display at Sutter's Fort during an enrichment trip to Sacramento.

"Gold Rush Day" was punctuated with squeals as some students landed in a jail, designed and built by local architect Ken Neumeister. The imprisoned students depended on the mercy of the sheriff and friends to bail them out.

Across the grassy "street" on the school campus, students cranked ice cream and "churned" cream into butter at the Chuck Wagon station. Others tried their hand at lassoing a steer—a large metal cow designed for real cowboy practice. For most, the event created a fun way to experience history and bring book lessons to life. But the day struck a deeper chord with Joey Plaskett. His great-great-great-great-grandfather came to the state in 1849 to seek his fortune along with the other forty-niners.

After bending over giant bathtubs of cold water panning for gold, Joey said he realized how difficult panning for gold could be. "I thought about how hard it is to get gold. Actually, really hard. A lot harder for him than it was for me on this field trip."

Joey's great-great-great-great-grandfather, William Lucas Plaskett, arrived in California in the spring, having traveled from Indiana by covered wagon. He worked a claim for several months, but didn't strike gold. When the miner next to him gave up and handed over his land, Plaskett worked the second claim as well and struck gold, nuggets worth $10,000. After some traveling, he used the money to acquire 2,000 acres near Big Sur. In the 1960s, Joey's great-great-great-grandmother, Mabel Plaskett, donated 40 acres along the coast to the State of California. A portion of the land is now known as Plaskett Creek Campground at the edge of Los Padres National Forest. Not far away is Plaskett Rock, near Sand Dollar Beach and Jade Cove.

About two weeks before "Gold Rush Day," Joey, his dad Jeff, and grandfather Vernon walked the land purchased by William Lucas Plaskett, hiking Plaskett Creek Campground, visiting a family cabin that Mabel Plaskett had owned, and creating their own "jade rush" on nearby Jade Cove as they searched for pieces of the semiprecious stone.

Jeff Plaskett explained that he wanted to help Joey connect to his ancestor to bring an extra dose of meaning in time for "Gold Rush Day." Plaskett volunteered along with at least 30 other parents to help set up or operate a station. What he says impressed him was the school community of parents, teachers, and students "coming together to create something special . . . to bring history home." "This was meaningful learning for the kids," said Plaskett.

Joey piped in, "I really appreciate the courage, the courage of those miners like my great-great-great-great-grandfather who came to California."

Volunteers tallied more than 90 hours to create the Gold Rush experience. Fourth grade teacher Taimi Price, who retires this year, marked her final Gold Rush. "I can't think of a more meaningful way to teach history. Students look forward to 'Gold Rush Day' all year. It's the first thing my former students mention when they come back to visit."

Joey Plaskett with his dad, Jeff Plaskett.

Broncho Billy Rides Once Again in Niles!

June 27-29, the historic district of Niles celebrates the very first cowboy movie star who made films here; a comedy icon still known worldwide after a century on the silver screen, a classic drama about the first World War, a two-reel silent western made recently using old movie-making techniques and much, much more. The “Broncho Billy Silent Film Festival” will host special guests from the film community, movies of all genres, and fine music by renowned musicians.

The three-day event begins with a reception at the Edison Theater followed by the opening night feature

“The Big Parade” starring screen legend John Gilbert and Renee Adoree, directed by film maker King Vidor.

On Saturday, museum board members will lead a free walking tour of Niles, sharing many stories about various buildings and surroundings. In the afternoon, the year 1914 will be revisited with a selection of short films marking their 100th anniversary. Films made in Niles will be featured in special shorts programs.

Charlie Chaplin will be the star attraction on Saturday night in a lesser-known, yet excellent film called “The Circus.” It was made during a tough time in Chaplin’s career and took several years to accomplish in-between a divorce and the burning of the big top in an accidental fire. But despite all that, Chaplin managed to make a wonderfully funny film.

Baby Peggy started making comedies at the tender age of 19 months with a canine partner named Brownie the Wonder Dog. She was a solo performer at the age of three and by 1924, was starring in features such as “Captain January.” On Sunday, at 95 years young, Diana Serra Cary (aka Baby Peggy) will share stories of her time in the movies and as an author of several film-related books. Several of her short films will also be screened.

Featured in both the opening night and Sunday afternoon programs is a special modern Niles treat. “Broncho Billy and the Bandit’s Secret” was filmed last year with local actors including Bruce Cates playing the role of the cowboy actor/director and Christopher Goodwin from “Beach Blanket Babylon” as the sheriff. There are many recognizable film locations: A train robbery took place on the Robert Dollar steam train in Niles Canyon; a “gun fight” between the sheriff and the bad guys took place in the parking lot of the Edison Theater, which doubled as a movie set, and many scenes were filmed around downtown Niles and in the canyon.

Purchase tickets early as seating is limited. Individual film segments or weekend-long passes are available through Paypal at www.nilesfilmmuseum.org. If you have questions, please e-mail pr@nilesfilmmuseum.org.

The Ugly Buckling

SUBMITTED BY THE THEATER FACTORY

Bullying is entwined in the fabric of our modern society. Schools work to disperse the fear of the unknown and lay the foundation of an inclusive society, but the educational institute itself is plagued by the curse of bullying. The Theater Factory's tailor-made play "The Ugly Buckling" is a one-act play written and directed by Ish Amitoj Kaur, which deals with this problem.

Protagonist Emma Buckling embodies those who are different, or look different. An outsider in her environment, this fantasy fiction takes audiences into Emma's story, a journey of courage, belief, pride, and the undying human spirit, where one can find ways to emerge victorious.

"The Ugly Buckling" is an entertaining musical with a motley cast of true-to-life characters who mirror contemporary society. A must watch for everyone who defies the concept of "fitting in" and believes in defining their own path.

Seats are limited. Go to <http://www.thetheaterfactory.com/#!/the-ugly-buckling/c1ob7> and follow the link to purchase tickets.

Music at the Grove begins summer concert series

SUBMITTED BY DAVID ZEHNDER

The City of Newark Recreation and Community Services Department is proud to announce the 27th season of free concerts at the Shirley Sisk Grove. All concerts will be held on Friday evenings beginning at 6:30 p.m. Concert goers can arrive early to picnic and relax with family and friends. Bring a blanket or low-back chair as all seating is festival style. The concerts are made available through generous sponsorships including the Newark Betterment Corporation, Tri-City Voice, The Sign Zone, and Homewood Suites. Performances this summer will feature some of the best Bay Area party bands including the always popular Big Bang Beat, who will be making their 26th appearance at the Grove.

Pop Fiction kicks off the music on Friday, June 27. Panel OKs 2 percent raise for California officials

AP WIRE SERVICE

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A citizens' commission has approved 2 percent cost-of-living salary increases for lawmakers and statewide officials, including the governor and attorney general.

The increase approved Friday is the second consecutive annual pay raise.

A year ago, the California Citizens Compensation Commission voted to give raises of about 5 percent.

That decision will increase the pay of rank-and-file lawmakers, which at $95,291 are already the highest in the nation. Legislators also are eligible for a $163 daily cost-of-living allowance, but do not get pensions.

During the recession, the commission cut lawmakers' pay by 18 percent and eliminated their state-owned vehicles. Now the state's finances are improving.

The commissioners are appointed by the governor, who currently is paid nearly $174,000 a year.

The commission supported the increase on a 4-1 vote.

California experiences
another significant drop in births to teens

SUBMITTED BY CA
DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH

California's teen birth rate has continued to decline to a record-low of 25.7 births per every 1,000 females ages 15-19, announced Dr. Ron Chapman, director of the California Department of Public Health (CDPH) and the state public health officer. The 2012 rate reflects an 8 percent decline from the 2011 rate of 28.0.

Teen birth rates decreased among all racial and ethnic groups between 2000 and 2012. While Hispanic adolescents continue to have the highest birth rate at 38.9 births per 1,000 females ages 15-19, they also had the greatest decline down from a 77.3 in 2000 – a 49.7 percent drop. From 2000 to 2012, the number of births per 1,000 females ages 15-19 also dropped among African Americans from 59.1 to 30.8, among Whites from 22.3 to 10.2, and among Asians from 15.0 to 5.0.

Delaying childbearing until adulthood can improve both maternal and infant outcomes, and increase youth opportunities for educational and career success. California has a number of programs and policies aimed at preventing adolescent pregnancy and improving outcomes of such pregnancies. Some of the key components of the State's multi-pronged approach include:

State laws requiring school-based and other state-funded sexuality education to be comprehensive, medically accurate, and age-and culturally-appropriate;

Community-based education programs that provide sexual health information, skill development, and supportive environments and opportunities for youth;

Services and supports for expectant and parenting adolescents to empower young families to be successful and thrive.

CDPH funds the Information and Education Program, the Personal Responsibility Education Program authorized through the Affordable Care Act of 2010, and the Adolescent Family Life Program for expectant and parenting adolescents. In addition, the State provides no-cost family planning services to eligible males and females, including youth, through the Family PACT Program. For more teen birth data, visit www.cdph.ca.gov.

Moratorium partially lifted on new stores for WIC Program

SUBMITTED BY CA DEPARTMENT OF
PUBLIC HEALTH

More stores will be able to apply for authorization in the California Women, Infants and Children (WIC) program effective June 1, as announced recently by Dr. Ron Chapman, California Department of Public Health (CDPH) director and state health officer.

To address rising food costs in the California WIC program, the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) in 2012 continued a moratorium on the addition of new vendors into the program so that CDPH and USDA could develop and implement strategies to contain costs and ensure program integrity.

"USDA and CDPH are confident that the strategies now in place are effective in containing food costs and comply with federal regulations and mandates," said Dr. Chapman. "The WIC Program has made great strides in strengthening its oversight and cost containment efforts including new authorization criteria, revisions to the WIC authorized food list, and new peer group and reimbursement system."

California WIC serves approximately 1.4 million infants, children, and pregnant or post-partum women monthly throughout California by providing access to healthy supplemental foods, nutrition education, breastfeeding support, and referrals to healthcare and community services. WIC spends approximately $86 million each month on food.

At the federal level, WIC is administered by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), and California's WIC Program is administered at the state level by CDPH.

Additional information is available at www.cdph.ca.gov.

Governor Brown signs 2014-15
State Budget

SUBMITTED BY OFFICE OF GOVERNOR EDMUND G. BROWN, JR.

Governor Edmund G. Brown Jr. signed a balanced, on-time state budget on June 20 that pays down debt, shores up the teachers' retirement system, builds a solid Rainy Day Fund and directs additional funding for local schools and health care.

"This on-time budget provides for today and saves for the future," said Governor Brown. "We're paying off the state's credit card, saving for the next rainy day and fixing the broken teachers' retirement system."

The budget includes a plan of shared responsibility among the state, school districts and teachers to shore up the State Teachers' Retirement System (STRS). The first year's contributions from all three entities total approximately $276 million, growing in subsequent years to more than $5 billion annually. This is projected to eliminate the unfunded liability in the system by 2046.

The budget also directs $1.6 billion into the state Rainy Day Fund – the first deposit into the fund since 2007. The fund is expected to grow to $4.6 billion by 2017-18, if voters approve of the measure on the November ballot that was proposed by the Governor and passed by the Legislature.

When Governor Brown took office, the state faced a massive $26.6 billion budget deficit and estimated annual shortfalls of roughly $20 billion. These deficits, built up over a decade, have now been eliminated by a combination of budget cuts, temporary taxes approved by voters and the recovering economy.

Significant details of the 2014-15 Budget:

The budget reduces the Wall of Debt by more than $10 billion by paying down $5 billion in deferred payments to schools, paying off the Economic Recovery Bonds one year ahead of schedule, repaying various special fund loans and reimbursing $100 million in mandate claims that have been owed to local governments since at least 2004. Under the budget plan, the Wall of Debt would be completely eliminated by 2017-18.

The budget continues the state's reinvestment in local schools, providing more than $10 billion this year alone in new Proposition 98 funding. This includes $4.7 billion for the second year of implementation for the Local Control Funding Formula, which directs new education revenues to districts serving English language learners, students from low-income families and foster youth. The budget also expands the number of low-income preschool students served, increases the rates paid to preschool providers and provides grants to improve the quality of these programs.

In health care, last year the state adopted the optional expansion of Medi-Cal under the Affordable Care Act, providing millions of Californians with affordable health coverage. Enrollment is now expected to rise from 7.9 million in 2012-13 to 11.5 million in 2014-15, for a total cost increase of $2.4 billion.

The budget includes $872 million of Cap-and-Trade auction proceeds – authorized by AB 32 – for greenhouse gas reduction, with an emphasis on assisting disadvantaged communities. The plan will modernize the state's rail system, including high-speed rail and public transit, and encourage local communities to develop in a sustainable manner. It will also increase energy, water and agricultural efficiency, restore forests in both urban and rural settings and create incentives for improved recycling. The budget permanently allocates 60 percent of future auction proceeds to sustainable communities, public transit and high-speed rail. The remaining proceeds will be allocated in future budgets.

Additional budget details, including line-item vetoes, can be found at www.ebudget.ca.gov.

Tri-City Stargazer JUNE 21 – JULY1, 2014 BY VIVIAN CAROL

For All Signs: We continue to be dealing with the harsh Mars/Uranus energy that is very near to squaring Pluto. Tempers flare easily under this aspect. If you are feeling irritable, cross, or outright angry, the most useful thing you can do with that adrenaline is exercise or use your large muscles in some way. Drive carefully because many will be enjoying their road rage. Alongside that, this week we have Mercury turning direct on July

1. Hallelujah! Since December of 2013 we have had Venus, then Mercury, then Mars, and then Mercury retrograde a second time. No breaks. If you have wondered why it has been impossible to get anything new rolling, this is your reason. These retrogrades have disrupted corporate bodies all over the world, as well as we, the peons on the ground.

Aries the Ram (March 21-April 20): You and your partner may need some time apart and this is a good time to take it. Otherwise, old issues may suddenly rise out of nowhere and generate dramatic disagreements. If difficulties arise, count to 10 and return to your corner to clarify thoughts before speaking.

Taurus the Bull (April 21-May 20): If finances are an issue, leave the credit cards at home. You may run into something or someone that you imagine will make your life wonderful. Give it some time and see if you still feel the same in a week or two. Issues that have been brewing for a while in relationship(s) are coming to a turning point. You and another may be vying for emotional control.

Gemini the Twins (May 21-June 20): Be truly careful with your sense of direction now. Love life, which has been going very well, is subject to go awry for reasons that are so deeply unconscious you may never understand. If there is an issue, bring it up and talk it through until both of you feel satisfied. Don't leave anything to the imagination.

Cancer the Crab (June 21-July 21): You are conflicted on the subject of romance versus caretaking, which is your natural instinct. Perhaps you are caught in the middle between the needs of a spouse and your children. Sometimes a Cancerian becomes a parent to the partner, which usually creates a troubled atmosphere. Set aside decisions on these matters until you are more centered.

Leo the Lion (July 22-Aug 22): During the next two weeks you will be contemplating your existence. You are thinking about how you can position yourself in order to feel more sense of meaning in your work, your family, and your relationships. Some may be pondering on the level of the spiritual. "What is the 'best' that I can become?" The muse is with you and your intuition is high.

Virgo the Virgin (August 23-September 22): You've been sitting on the fence for quite some time about your next direction. This could be about your career or overall purpose and how to contribute your energy to the world. Now that Mercury is turning direct, you may be feeling a bit less anxious about it. Something is beginning to gel that makes sense. Another couple of weeks should make it really clear.

Libra the Scales (September 23-October 22): Someone may tug at your heartstrings and cause you to really work to make things better. Put some limits on your energy and make it a point to keep track of just who has the problem here. Give if you must, but don't break the bank. You may be the one who feels mistreated, and if so, you are making a bigger issue than what is.

Scorpio the Scorpion (October 23-November 21): It is necessary that you give attention to an issue of control that threatens to split one or more of your relationships. Either one of you may be the one who is seeking power, and it may be quite subtle. Step out of these games and take the high road with your Eagle Self.

Sagittarius the Archer (November 22-December 21): It is possible that you will be "over-the-top" with your predictions and expectations of positive outcomes. If you are feeling that buzzing excitement, perhaps you are. Don't make promises right now, to yourself or to others. Don't borrow money or give it away. Handle finances judiciously.

Capricorn the Goat (December 22-January 19): Changes may be occurring in your primary relationship. One or the other of you is probably trying to hang on to what is familiar. Changes and growth must be allowed to happen or the relationship will become stale. Let things flow naturally. Don't jump to conclusions or make problems bigger than they are.

Aquarius the Water Bearer (January 20-February 18): Read the lead paragraph carefully. It is particularly important that you drive and handle tools carefully during this period. Don't allow yourself to get in a hurry to go anywhere, lest you meet with an accident. This might be on foot or in a vehicle. You may feel temperamental and in the mood to keep your own company this week.

Pisces the Fish (February 19-March 20): The green light is on for romance. Beware that you are in a sensitive frame of mind and may misinterpret that which is said to you. You may be the one who hears what you want to hear. So take your impressions with a grain of salt until you clarify what was originally intended.

comments that ranged from thoughtful and reasonable to the absurd.

The issue of privacy is both a personal and public matter, extending to definitions of acceptable behavior within public view and different parameters in private settings, out of public sight. It forms the foundation of our free society along with the ability to express opinions, even if unpalatable to others. However, there are limits; described by Councilmember Bacon as a reasonable expectation of privacy. In public spaces, where behavior is in full view of others and subject to observation and scrutiny by everyone, rules and regulations limit actions and prescribe punishment for grossly aberrant behavior. What may be acceptable in a private environment that does not invite public visibility and inspection, may not be tolerated when no such expectation should exist. Additionally, when public behavior threatens the general public and restricts the rights of others, it can also be regulated, striking a balance between freedom of speech and aggressive, offensive actions.

Subjecting cars and drivers to official scrutiny is subject to interpretation, but the prevalence of smart phones with cameras and recording capabilities, private surveillance cameras and a host of choices that allow open and surreptitious observation, have created myriad possibilities. All of us, public and private parties alike, are already treading across the slippery slope of surveillance, enjoying the benefits of "objective" recordings subject to interpretation and misuse. Private surveillance equipment is a booming business; its recordings, including images of family, visitors and strangers or "uninvited guests," are at times made available to law enforcement personnel when a crime has occurred. Is this okay?

We know from use of "instant replay" in sporting events, that even photographic evidence is not always conclusive. However, it does give another view when disputes arise. The same can be said for observations by traffic cameras and license plate readers. Use or misuse is up to those using such data. Whether it will prove to be a valuable and definitive source to support crime fighting efforts remains to be seen, but, in my opinion, it's worth the gamble.

On one end of the opposition spectrum, a public speaker referred to cameras and license readers as crime prevention tools unsuitable for police personnel. I guess the point being made was that police are only in the business of responding when a crime has occurred rather than using their expertise to assist the public with crime prevention. In answer, Councilmember Anu Natarajan compared this to restricting the medical profession to treating disease, apart from preventive actions and research. Good point, Anu.

Privacy concerns and public surveillance remain as a topic for reasonable debate. The council voted 5-0 to allocate $300,000 toward purchase and installation of the cameras and readers. An article from the San Leandro Police Department in this issue of Tri-City Voice, illustrates the practical value of a license plate reader; a stolen car was recognized and pursued. It sends a clear message to those in the market for a "hot" car.

William Marshak
PUBLISHER

Where is there a reasonable expectation of privacy in this era of email, twitter and cameras that transmit thoughts and images faster than a speeding bullet? In the past, information transfer took time – hours and days – and could be digested and corrected over its lifespan, but no more. In these days of instant communication, fact or fallacy is only contained by the speed of light. News that is broadcast may or may not be entirely true, but that doesn't stop its rapid flight along cables and airwaves. It is a genie out of the bottle, a Pandora's Box opened without restraint or containment.

Along with the ubiquitous presence of "smart" this and "smart" that, comes a mixed bag of opportunities. The ability to record sight and sound instantaneously and surreptitiously can open our eyes to behavior, public or private, that otherwise would remain hidden. At the Fremont City Council meeting of June 17th, a host of television station cameras appeared to record an expected uproar at a request for funds to install cameras and license plate readers at public exit points from the city. A small group raised important questions but the anticipated fireworks didn't happen. Explained by police as a crime fighting tool to record information, useful when attempting to apprehend or identify criminals at egress points from the city, a handful of opponents spoke with

Assembly Health Committee approves Prescription Label Bill

SUBMITTED BY SERGIO REYES

The Assembly Health Committee has passed important legislation by Senate Majority Leader Ellen M. Corbett (D-East Bay) that requires the California Board of Pharmacy (Board) to reveal information that will help improve the health and safety of patients in California.

Sponsored by the California Pan-Ethnic Health Network, SB 204 requires the Board to conduct surveys of pharmacists and electronic health record vendors to determine whether or not the standardized directions for use on prescription labels are being used and—if other non-standard directions are being utilized—what the barriers are to standardized directions' consistent use. This bill also compels the Board to publicly report the survey results in 2016 and publish those findings on its website.

Hayward Police Log

SUBMITTED BY
SGT. ERIC MELENDEZ,
HAYWARD PD

Thursday, June 12

An armed robbery occurred in front of the 500-block of W Tennyson Rd. The suspect pushed the victim against a tree and struck him on the head with a pistol. The suspect took property from the victim and released him. As the victim left he heard one gunshot fired in his direction, the victim was not hit. The suspect was described as an African American male, 5'06" in height, heavy build, and was wearing a black baseball hat and black jacket with white sleeves.

An assault with a deadly weapon occurred at a public park on Berry Ave at 12:50 p.m. The victim and the suspect had a confrontation regarding money when the suspect stabbed the victim in the neck. The victim fled and called the police. The suspect left in a green Ford Taurus or similar vehicle. The suspect is described as an African American male, 6'00" tall, with a thin build. The suspect vehicle was being driven by an African American female.

During a neighbor dispute on the 22000 block of Sonoma St., the suspect pointed a handgun at the victim and threatened him with it. The suspect then fired three rounds in the air and left the scene in a tan 2000-2005 Lincoln Navigator. The suspect was described as an African American male, 6'00" tall, 250 pounds between 45 and 50 years.

Friday, June 13

A robbery occurred at the intersection of B St and Montgomery St. The victim was walking on the sidewalk when the suspects, eight African American juveniles, surrounded him. The suspect assaulted the victim and attempted to take his property. The suspects were unsuccessful in robbing the victim and fled.

Saturday, June 14

A shooting occurred at 7:30 p.m. in front of an address on the 2500 block of W Tennyson Rd. The two victims were sitting in their own vehicle when the suspect(s) drove by and someone in the suspect's vehicle fired one shot through the victims' vehicle's driver side window. Neither victim was stuck during the incident. The suspect's vehicle was described as 2000's black BMW, 4-door with tinted windows.

Suspects arrested at Great Mall for burglary and counterfeit money

SUBMITTED BY SGT. S. HENEGHAN,
MILPITAS POLICE DEPARTMENT

On June 6, at approximately 11:20 a.m., the Milpitas Police Department received a report of a suspect who used a counterfeit $100 bill at a store in the Great Mall. A Milpitas Police Officer stopped the suspect vehicle in the parking lot and identified Robert Earl Waymire (Lincoln, CA resident) as the driver and Rodney Dean Foster (Marysville, CA resident) as a passenger.

Robert Earl Waymire

Foster was found to be on probation out of Yuba County and subject to search by law enforcement. During a search of the vehicle, officers located several counterfeit $100 bills, receipts, and merchandise from the Great Mall and from other retail stores throughout the Bay Area.

Rodney Dean Foster

Waymire was also in possession of drug paraphernalia and was arrested for circulating counterfeit money, burglary, forgery, and being in possession of drug paraphernalia.

Foster was arrested for circulating counterfeit money, burglary, and forgery. Both men were booked into the Santa Clara County Main Jail.

Anyone with any information regarding this investigation or other criminal activity occurring in this jurisdiction is encouraged to call the Milpitas Police Department at (408) 586-2400.

Information can be given anonymously by calling (408) 586-2500, or via the Milpitas Police Department website at: http://www.ci.milpitas.ca.gov/government/police/crime_tip.asp

Cribbage club completes another official season

SUBMITTED BY
ACC GRASS ROOTS
CRIBBAGE CLUB #43

Combining luck and skill, cribbage is a 2-player card game invented in the 17th century and still played today by young and old alike. Members of Christopher's Crusaders, formally known as the American Cribbage Congress (ACC) Grass Roots Cribbage Club #43 in Fremont, one of 185 clubs in North America sanctioned by the ACC, compete every Wednesday evening in a 9-game round-robin tournament. Visitors from the Grass Roots Cribbage Club #337 in Livermore also participate on a regular basis.

The Grass Roots (GR) official season consist of 36 weeks of play between September 1 and May 31 each year. This season marks the 28th season since GR 43 was chartered in 1987. In the last seven seasons of play, the average tournament attendance has grown by 50 percent. The tournament players are a nice mix of male and female, young and old (25 to 96 years of age), with skill levels that include novice, intermediate and advanced.

Reigning club champion Tracy Yott of Newark earned GR points in 11 straight weeks during mid-season to repeat as 2013-2014 Club Champion. Tracy finished the season with 269 GR points, followed by Jim Crawford from Mountain View with 236 GR points to secure second place. Five-time club champion Roy Kaufmann from San Leandro scored 211 GR points this season, just edging out the 196 GR points scored by Ben Holder from Fremont and the 195 GR points scored by Farokh Ziari of Fremont.

Congratulations go to Jim Crawford for earning his Silver Award (2,500 GR points lifetime) and to Reginald Lennie of Newark for earning his Bronze Award (1,000 GR points lifetime) this season. Roy Kaufmann and Jim Crawford each had a Grand Slam this season, winning all nine games of the tournament. Thirteen times somebody won eight of nine games, just one game shy of that rare feat.

For those who don't feel they know enough to play the game on Wednesday nights, there is a "Minor League" on Tuesday evenings at the Round Table where those attending can build their confidence and learn more about the game in an easy going atmosphere. Members Reginald Lennie and Theo Mattingly show players how to play the odds, predict their opponent's cards and play the hand. There is no need to join the ACC to play on Tuesday nights.

ACC Grass Roots Club #43 welcomes all players of all skill levels to join us. Tuesdays evenings are open to everyone who already enjoys the game or would like to learn how to play while Wednesdays are for intermediate to advanced players who are capable of playing a game in 15 - 20 minutes. For more information, email ACCGR43@gmail.com or simply show up on any Tuesday before 6:15 p.m. at Round Table Pizza (Centerville), 37480 Fremont Blvd., Fremont.

CSU East Bay water polo seniors earn All-America honors

Seniors Sara Hudyn and Allison Zell were named to the 2014 Association of Collegiate Water Polo Coaches (ACWPC) All-America Teams, as announced on June 16. Hudyn, a 2-meter specialist was named a First Team selection for the second straight year and Zell, a driver was named to the Second Team to cap off her collegiate career.

Hudyn, a Kitchener, Ontario native, finished her Cal State East Bay career as the program's second leading scorer with 247 goals. In her senior season she led the Pioneers with 75 goals, 41 steals, and ranked second with 28 drawn ejections and 21 assists. Hudyn ranks in the program's all-time top 10 with 79 assists (7th) and 165 steals (5th).

Zell, a native of Walnut, CA led the Pioneers with 43 assists, ranked second with 40 steals, and third with 27 goals. She was a two-time Western Water Polo Association (WWPA) All-Tournament Team pick including a First Team selection in 2014. In two seasons with Cal State East Bay she amassed 62 goals, 78 assists and 76 steals.

Boot camp and master classes at Ballet Petit

SUBMITTED BY EMMA VICTORIA G. BLANCO

Boot Camp:

Ballet Petit (BP) is pleased to welcome back Oakland Ballet Company (OBC) and its summer boot camp. It'll be the second year that BP will be hosting classes in Hayward.

OBC Artistic Director, Graham Lustig, first introduced the boot camp program in 2010. The intensive curriculum is taught by OBC professional dancers and artistic staff and covers classical and modern ballet, as well as pointe technique and choreography. Lustig said, "We chose to hold our summer intensive workshop, 'Ballet Boot Camp,' at Ballet Petit for the dedication of the students, the beautiful studios and to further cement the relationship between OBC and Ballet Petit." Local dancers learn to "broaden their movement vocabulary and deepen their confidence in self-expression."

Application and additional information about the summer intensive workshop (including scholarship information) can be found at www.oaklandballet.org.

Master Classes:

Legendary ballet teacher and staging expert Laura Alonso, daughter of Alicia Alonso, internationally renowned prima ballerina assoluta, and Fernando Alonso, world respected teacher and coach will teach a series of 90-minute classes for dancers in Intermediate 2 through Advanced levels during the week of July 7 through 11. "The Alonso family is known for having built quite a ballet empire in Cuba that has produced many important dancers today," said Peggy Peabody, Ballet Petit's Artistic Director.

Abode volunteers honored for service

SUBMITTED BY PAUL ROSYNSKY

Abode Services was proud to recognize two individuals, three groups, and two businesses for their commitment to ending homelessness through volunteering and fundraising efforts. The Volunteer Appreciation reception, held on April 28, served as a thank you to community volunteers and a celebration of the broad community support Abode Services receives every day.

During the last fiscal year, community members spent more than 18,000 hours volunteering for Abode Services and the families and individuals the organization serves.

Those honored included:

Mrs. Kathleen McCabe-Martin Service Award

As a 4th and 5th grade teacher at Mission San Jose Elementary School in Fremont,

Derrick Lind Liftech Consultants Inc

mont, Mrs. McCabe-Martin covers more than just reading, writing and math. She teaches countless children about the importance of helping those in need. As a result, students from her classes complete chores for money and then donate their earnings to Abode Services.

neering firm made the holiday season brighter for Abode Services participants. Employees collected donations and purchased supplies for 10 families who had recently moved into new homes after living on the street. In addition, the company organized a fundraising drive among employees and then matched the total amount raised.

Corporate Partner Award

When Abode Services put out a call seeking volunteers for Make a Difference Day, Mean Well and its employees rushed to answer. Not only did they help clean Sunrise Village Emergency Shelter and organize supplies there, employees also volunteered throughout the year, preparing meals for participants and regularly making donations. Company leaders also decided to sponsor Abode Services' Journey Home Breakfast, a crucial commitment that allowed us raise the necessary funds to further our mission of ending homelessness.

Douglas Ford, President, Abode Services Board of Directors Founder's Award

Mr. Ford has supported Abode Services from the start and has increased his dedication and commitment every year. As president of the board, Mr. Ford has helped ensure our growth has been balanced and mission-driven, effectively benefiting those experiencing homelessness in Alameda and making donations to our participants for decades. Members routinely cook meals for residents at Sunrise Village Emergency Shelter and sponsor individuals and families moving into new homes. That sponsorship includes donating furniture and purchasing household supplies.

Established in 1989, Abode Services' mission is to end homelessness by assisting low-income, un-housed people, including those with special needs, to secure stable, supportive housing, and to be advocates for the removal of the causes of homelessness in Alameda and Santa Clara counties.

Wear your best smile at Free Dental Event

SUBMITTED BY SUJAY KAZI

Lewelling Dental Care is holding their third annual "Free Dental Event" Friday, June 27, 2014 at Lewelling Blvd. in San Lorenzo. Among the services that will be offered are X-rays and examinations, free of charge. Patients may also choose one of the following treatments: cleaning (plus fluoride for kids), filling or simple extraction.

Patients are encouraged to arrive early as they will be seen on a first-come, first-served basis. Registration starts at 6 a.m. The first 75 patients to arrive, or as many as possible until 5 p.m., will be accommodated. They are also advised to dress appropriately for weather and bring chairs, blankets, water and snacks as they may be outside waiting to be seen. Guests may park in the Orchard Supply Hardware Store across the street.

This event will be in conjunction with Dentistry from the Heart, a public charity that provides support to outreach activities such as theirs. Lewelling Dental Care has been serving the needs of the community for over 20 years. For more information, visit www.lewellingdental.com or call (510) 402-5984.

Snackdown competition at Alameda County Fair

SUBMITTED BY ANGEL MOORE

It's a fact. From classic corndogs to deep-fried Twinkies, "crazy-good" food is one of the top reasons people love going to the fair. This year, Alameda County Fair is taking "fair fare" to new heights with the first annual SNACKDOWN, a live, competitive event featuring food vendors and their newest creations. Twelve finalists will compete for the titles of "Best Taste," "Most Creative" and "Best Theme" ("Taste the Red, White & Blue"). From those winners, an overall "Grand Champion" will be named.

A panel of esteemed Bay Area "foodie" judges will sample and score each entry to determine the winners. "SNACKDOWN Finalist" signs will be posted to food stands to help fans identify the contestant dishes they wish to try.

A FAMILY DIVIDED

SUBMITTED BY CRAIG CABLE

How families experiencing conflict and division can heal will be discussed at Lifetree Café on Tuesday, June 24. The program, titled "A Family Divided: Finding Peace by Letting Go," features the filmed story of a family that struggled with an unwanted teenage pregnancy. Lifetree participants will consider lessons the family learned as they worked through their response to the pregnancy.

Admission to the 60 minute event is free. Lifetree Café is a place where people gather for conversation on life and faith in a casual coffeehouse-type setting.

Corbett Cal-BRAIN bill clears Assembly Health Committee

SUBMITTED BY SERGIO REYES

Senate Majority Leader Ellen M. Corbett (D-East Bay) announces the passage of timely legislation that establishes the Cal-BRAIN program from the Assembly Health Committee. As proposed in SB 836, this innovative research program to be managed by the University of California—in collaboration with California's private research institutions, national laboratories, and industry—will help to accelerate the development of brain mapping techniques and technologies.

Cutting-edge brain mapping research can reveal the causes and lead to treatments for brain injuries and disorders, such as Alzheimer's, multiple sclerosis, autism and mental illness. SB 836/ Cal-BRAIN builds upon the Obama Administration's Brain Research through Advancing Innovative Neurotechnologies (BRAIN) Initiative—a collaborative project that will map the activity of every neuron in the human brain with a proposed investment of up to $3 billion over ten years.

"SB 836 will ensure that California is well positioned to reap the tremendous rewards in both economic opportunity and potentially life-changing advancements for human health resulting from Cal-BRAIN and the BRAIN Initiative," said Senator Corbett.

Fremont City Council

June 17, 2014

WORK SESSION: Discussion of “Downtown” State Street Project

Representatives of Sares Regis and TMG discussed proposed use of 4.05 acre site in the “Capitol Avenue Zone” and “Mid District Zone.” A podium based project is envisioned to support “lively retail” of sidewalk sales with an emphasis on pedestrian traffic is envisioned. Capitol Avenue retail of 21,000 square feet will be combined with 140 townhomes above the podium level and, at grade, behind the retail structure. Two parcels would be merged to create a unified look.

Discussion with councilmembers included comments about the type of retail included, landscaping, urban environment, resolution of conflicts between residential and commercial activities (noise, hours, etc.), sidewalk width, residential unit size, green/solar building, parking, intrusion of education and service enterprises, lifestyle considerations.

Design review scheduled for July; Planning Commission, October 9, 2014 and Council Review and approval, November 4, 2014.

REGULAR MEETING Preliminary:

It was announced by Mayor Harrison that Assistant City Manager Mark Danaj is leaving Fremont to become the City Manager of Manhattan Beach, California.

Consent:

Approve agreement amendment with Santa Clara Valley Transportation Authority to widen Mission Blvd. between I-680 and Brown Road.

Authorize redesign of electronic records management with Askesis Development Group in an amount not-to-exceed $143,900.

Amend agreement with Fremont Unified School District for Bridge Building Mentoring Program in FY 2013/14 in the amount of $35,000.

Upgrade CAD and RMS systems for dispatch services in an amount not-to-exceed $1,414,931.

Execute agreement with The Hoffman Agency for marketing communications services for one year in the amount of $65,000 with three one-year extensions.

Ceremonial:

Proclaim June 2014 as Pride Month

Public Communications:

Comment regarding unfit contractors who may apply for Measure E funding Pride Parade to be held in San Francisco June 29th. A group will be working on the float at 37570 Dusterberry on June 28th. All are welcome to help.

Other Business:

Allocate $300,000 for acquisition and deployment of video cameras and license plate readers at strategic egress locations from Fremont to major highways and freeways. Police presentation noted that 12 locations may have multiple fixed camera/license plate readers primarily at on-ramps and strategic exit locations from Fremont. In addition, four mobile cameras will be used for community events and/or crime hot spots. Information from cameras will be retained for 30 days (may be longer if used as evidence) and one year from license plate readers in Northern California Regional Intelligence System. Attention to privacy and transparency of process concerns were addressed; areas under surveillance are public thoroughfares. Sound recordings are not included in this surveillance and private property is not involved.

Public comment centered on privacy issues, data access, “mission creep” leading to invasion of privacy, storage and misuse of data.

Council comments reflected support of the proposal.

Assisted Living bills

SUBMITTED BY SERGIO REYES

The Assembly Human Services Committee on June 17 approved two companion bills authored by Senate Majority Leader Ellen M. Corbett (D-East Bay) that seek to prevent future tragedies as occurred at the Valley Springs Manor facility in Castro Valley late last year.

Sponsored by the California Advocates for Nursing Home Reform (CANHR), SB 894 will clarify and strengthen California’s role in ensuring the health and safety of residents in assisted living facilities upon the closure of those facilities and SB 895 will require that unannounced, inspections of Residential Care Facilities for the Elderly (RCFE) in California occur at least annually to ensure continued proper quality of care.

By now, you’ve probably noticed that our Think Silicon Valley site is one that tends to stray from tradition. Whether it’s the lack of clutter or absence of information overload, our “ungovernment” approach has been racking up some awards highlighting this unique approach to government communications.

Recognized by The Holmes Report, Hermes Creative Awards and currently in the running for the 2014 PRDaily Awards, Think Silicon Valley doesn’t adhere to typical government design, copy or structure. And we’re not big on sticking to the status quo either.

Here in Silicon Valley, we run on innovation and creativity, and a municipality is no exception.

While we all know what an elevator pitch is – the 30-second speech that summarizes the “who”, “what” and “why” – what about a literal elevator pitch?

In keeping with our history of creativity, we’ve created a unique way to showcase the City of Fremont’s own elevator pitch and displayed it in an actual elevator. For the purposes of this article, you can read the pitch below.

Elevator Pitch:

Fremont is the 4th largest city in the Silicon Valley. With 850-acres of vacant or underutilized land – which is unheard of in the Bay Area – we are growing our Innovation District by connecting businesses with the right talent, partners and investors. Not to mention our real estate is the most affordable in the area.

Advanced manufacturing, clean tech and life sciences are just a few of the leading-edge industry clusters in Fremont. Our Innovation District is positioned to attract high-profile companies and startups, with 20,000 new jobs expected by 2040. And the new Warm Springs/South Fremont BART station will soon make Fremont the connection point between San Francisco and Silicon Valley.

Supported by an entrepreneurial staff, Fremont is a place where we thrive on creativity and problem solving to make this city work for you. We promise not to get in the way unnecessarily but consider ourselves a business partner, serving as a resource on an ongoing basis.

So what are you waiting for? Let’s start the conversation. econdev@fremont.gov

You can access the actual elevator pitch on www.thinksiliconvalley.com to begin the ride and see all the things that Fremont has to offer. From our Innovation District to our cluster of advanced manufacturing companies, Fremont is a place where businesses can thrive.

Wait for the “ding,” because Fremont’s moving up.

Santa Clara Board regulates E-cigarettes

SUBMITTED BY
GWENDOLYN MITCHELL/LAUREL ANDERSON

On June 10, 2014, the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors took action to protect the public’s health by adding e-cigarettes to tobacco control ordinances for unincorporated Santa Clara County. The changes include restricting e-cigarette sales near schools, banning smoking in common areas of multi-unit residences, and protecting the social norm advances related to tobacco use by restricting e-cigarette use in public spaces. This follows the Board’s action in March that added e-cigarettes to the County’s no-smoking policies for County facilities, leased properties, Santa Clara Valley Medical Center and health clinics.

“Santa Clara County has been a leader in protecting and promoting the public health and welfare of our communities, implementing some of the strongest second hand smoke ordinances in the nation,” said Supervisor Ken Yeager, who brought the County’s tobacco ordinances to the Board of Supervisors, and is Chair of the Board’s Health and Hospital Committee. “Electronic smoking devices emit toxic chemicals, lead to an increase in nicotine use, and entice youth to smoke at an early age. E-cigarettes threaten the County’s goal of promoting a healthy community.”

The changes to the Tobacco Retailer Permit Ordinance would require retailers of electronic smoking devices to obtain a local permit and follow the same requirements as tobacco retailers. This ordinance would also prohibit self-service display of electronic smoking devices, and the sale of tobacco products and electronic smoking devices in vending machines. The prohibition on the sale of flavored tobacco products will not apply to electronic smoking devices at this time but may be addressed by the Board later.

As of July 2013, 47 percent of tobacco retailers in Santa Clara County, or 677 stores, sold electronic smoking devices. Currently there are 24 tobacco retailers permitted in the county unincorporated areas, of which nine currently sell e-cigarettes. The e-cigarette use regulations become effective 30 days from the second reading on June 24, and tobacco sales regulations will be effective 60 days following the second reading.

YOUR TREASURE CHEST

You have a treasure chest with you every day. Inside your chest, there is a treasure that keeps you alive. It is your heart.

Your heart is in the middle of your chest, a little to the left. Put your hand on your chest and be very still. Can you feel your heart beating?

Your heart is actually a muscle, a very strong muscle.

It pumps blood to all parts of your body. It works all the time, even when you're sleeping.

Think about how you would make other muscles in your body strong, such as your arm or leg muscles. Exercise, followed by rest and good eating habits, is the key to a strong muscle and a healthy treasure chest.

Can you find the keys to strong muscles and a healthy treasure chest?

Standards Link: Health: Make decisions about food, rest, exercise and hygiene which maintain and enhance health.

Peek inside your treasure chest!

Real hearts don't look much like Valentine hearts. Inside the treasure chest is a picture of a real heart. The tubes that stick out from the heart are the arteries and veins that carry blood to and from all parts of your body. Arteries carry blood from your heart to your body, to deliver oxygen. Veins carry the blood, minus oxygen, back to your heart.

To find out the size of your heart, make a fist with one hand. This is about the size of your heart.

Standards Link: Life Science: Animals have structures that serve different functions in growth and survival.

Jumping Jewel

Your heart needs exercise, just like all of the other muscles in your body. The faster you move, the faster your heart beats. Exercising for a while every day is good for the heart.

Place two fingers on the inner side of your left wrist. Do you feel a little jump? This is the blood from your heart going to your hand. You can feel that jump every time your heart beats. This is called your pulse.

Jump up and down 10 times. Is your pulse faster or slower?

Standards Link: Health: Understand the importance of regular exercise to maintain and enhance health.

Jumping for Health

Jumping rope is fun and it is good exercise. It is a workout for your legs, your arms and your cardiovascular system (your heart and lungs)! Jumping rope is a sport you can do almost anywhere! Try it - you'll LOVE it!

How fast can you find all of the letters of the alphabet in order?

Standards Link: Reading Comprehension: Follow simple written directions.

How many hearts can you find on this page in 60 seconds? Now have a friend try. Who found more?

Heart Smart Treasure Puzzle

Discover the hidden treasure!

To find it, read each food item at right and pick the one that is lowest in saturated fat. Then color the letter of that choice on the grid and discover the hidden treasure!

Heart Smart Clue

Foods high in saturated fat add cholesterol to your blood. Too much cholesterol can be bad for your heart. It can cause the arteries that bring blood to your heart to clog up.

Registration open for Newark’s National Night Out

SUBMITTED BY CITY OF NEWARK POLICE DEPARTMENT

Join the Newark Police Department staff along with RAVEN (Ready Active Volunteers Engaged in Newark), CERT (Community Emergency Response Teams), Ham Radio, Alameda County Fire, the Newark Library, the Silliman Center, neighborhood groups and city leaders in celebrating the 31st Annual National Night Out on Tuesday, August 5, from 7 p.m. – 9 p.m.

way to participate in National Night Out is to organize a block or neighborhood party. Many will organize barbecues or ice cream socials where neighbors share good food, laughter and updates on what is happening in the neighborhood. National Night Out provides the opportunity for neighbors to get to know each other a little better and sends a strong message to criminals that our community will look out for each other by reporting suspicious activity in their neighborhood. Throughout the night, city staff will make visits to the parties where they will share information, network and answer questions that community members may have.

Registration is now officially open. You can register your event with the Newark Police Department by visiting www.newark.org. Type “National Night Out” in the search box and you will be directed to the registration page. The registration deadline is 5 p.m. on July 25, to be considered for a visit by the police, fire, CERT, Hams, etc.

If you plan to block off your street for your celebration, you will need to obtain a block party permit by calling Michael Carmen. The deadline to file for a permit is Friday, July 15. Permit information can be obtained at:

<http://www.newark.org/departments/public-works/engineering-division/encroachment-permits/>

Our goal is to provide each party with one visit from city staff, but it will be dependent upon the number of parties and staff who sign up to participate. For questions about National Night Out in Newark, please call the Community Engagement Unit at (510) 578-4209.

BART website wins “Best Government Site” award

SUBMITTED BY BAY AREA RAPID TRANSIT

The BART website (www.bart.gov) has been selected “Best Government Site” in the prestigious 2014 Blue Drop Awards, an international competition honoring projects that push the boundaries of open source Drupal, a web content management system used by numerous .gov sites including NASA.gov and whitehouse.gov.

In November 2013, BART rebuilt its website from the ground up using open source Drupal. “We believe in using and contributing to open source software as a way of making it easier for agencies like ours to share solutions and improve services for the communities we serve,” said Ravi Misra, Chief Information Officer at BART.

This latest achievement adds to other bart.gov honors including a Webby Award from the International Academy of Digital Arts and Science, a Grand Prize AdWheel Award from the American Public Transportation Association (APTA), and a place in the elite publication “365: AIGA Year in Design” from the American Institute of Graphic Arts.

Honorary degrees awarded to two business/civic leaders

SUBMITTED BY BARRY ZEPEL

California State University, East Bay will award honorary doctoral degrees to two Bay Area business and civic leaders when CSUEB celebrates the graduation of thousands of students during its commencement ceremonies Friday, June 13, and Saturday, June 14.

Stephen D. Bechtel, Jr., chair of the S.D. Bechtel, Jr. Foundation, will be recognized during the Friday afternoon post-graduate ceremony, while Yoshie Akiba, a community activist and owner of Yoshi’s jazz clubs and restaurants in San Francisco and Oakland, will be honored during the Saturday morning undergraduate ceremony.

Bechtel, a civil engineer who became the leader of one of the nation’s foremost engineering and construction firms, is widely recognized as having contributed to building America’s industrial base and improving the quality of life around the world. He did this, primarily, as the third-generation leader of Bechtel Corp. beginning in 1960). He has continued to contribute to society with his philanthropic leadership of S.D. Bechtel, Jr. Foundation as well as his service as chairman (retired) and senior director of the Bechtel Group. President George H.W. Bush awarded Bechtel the National Medal of Technology, this country’s highest honor for technical achievement, in 1991. Bechtel received his bachelor of science degree in civil engineering in 1946 from Purdue University and his master’s in business administration from Stanford Graduate School of Business in 1948.

Akiba, an innovative and successful entrepreneur in the restaurant and music industries, has helped create one of the world’s most respected jazz clubs while building Yoshi’s as one of the Bay Area’s premier locations for food and entertainment. While attending UCB, Akiba opened her first Yoshi’s restaurant in Berkeley. By 1997 she and her colleagues expanded the business into an award-winning jazz club and had relocated it to Oakland’s Jack London Square. A decade later she opened Yoshi’s San Francisco in San Francisco. In addition to the two Yoshi’s locations, Akiba has been practicing Japanese tea ceremonies for more than 40 years and has a professorship in the Domonkai Tea School.

Orphaned during World War II in her native Japan, she came to the United States in 1963 to study fine arts, dance and music. After attending Peabody Music Conservatory in Baltimore for several years, she moved west and earned a degree in fine arts from UC Berkeley in 1974 and a master’s in dance therapy and performance studies from Mills College in 1978. Akiba is a co-founder of 510akalnd, which provides Oakland public school students with access to programs, resources, supplies, instruction, mentoring and training in music and the arts.

Further information about the university’s commencement ceremonies and related events is available at <http://www20.csueastbay.edu/commencement/>.

Union City Police Log

SUBMITTED BY UNION CITY PD

Sunday, June 8

At 2:30 a.m., the Union City Police Department began receiving calls on 9-1-1 reporting that there was female being beaten badly in the intersection of 3rd St. and Whipple Rd. Additionally, one caller stated that a male involved in the incident was armed with a rifle. Officers arrived and made contact with all of the involved parties. It was determined that the fight was between two female friends who had been out drinking in San Jose. A female and a male who were involved in the incident were ultimately arrested for public intoxication. Officers determined that no weapons were used and no rifle was located.

Tuesday, June 10

A resident on the 4900 block of Lowry St. called the Union City Police Department at 9:10 a.m. when she noticed a female enter her front door. The female saw the resident and immediately ran away. There was no loss, however this incident was considered a residential burglary. The female suspect got into a white Honda Pilot, which was reported stolen. The female suspect was described as White Female Adult in her 20’s, 5’08” tall, with medium length blonde hair. The resident also stated that the female smelled of smoke. The Fremont Police Department had a similar incident involving the same suspect and vehicle approximately 2 hours later.

At 3:52 p.m., Officers responded to a report of a residential burglary on the 4300 block of Cambridge Way. The victim stated that she secured and left her home in the morning, however when she returned home in the afternoon, she noticed that one of her windows was partially open. It appears that the suspects entered the victim’s backyard and attempted to gain entry into the residence through a locked window on the side of the residence, however they were unsuccessful. Nothing was disturbed or taken from inside the residence. On a neighborhood check, one of the neighbors stated that at approximately 11:00 a.m., three Black male juveniles were seen on the front porch of the victim’s residence. There was no further description of the males and no other witnesses.

Anyone with information on local crime or any of the listed incidents should contact the Investigations Division at 510-675-5247. Those wishing to remain anonymous can contact the tips line by calling 510-675-5207 or email tips@unioncity.org.

Hayward Police Department prepares for National Night Out

SUBMITTED BY SGT. ERIC MELENDEZ, HAYWARD PD

Join Hayward Police staff along with community organizations, neighborhood groups and City leaders in celebrating the 31st Annual National Night Out on Tuesday, August 5, from 6 p.m. – 9 p.m. The typical way to participate in National Night Out is to organize a block or neighborhood party. Many will organize barbecues or ice cream socials where neighbors share good food, laughter and updates on what is happening in the neighborhood. National Night Out provides the opportunity for neighbors to get to know each other a little better and sends a strong message to criminals that our community will look out for each other by reporting suspicious activity in their neighborhood. Between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m., Hayward city staff will make visits to the parties where they will share information, network and answer questions that community members may have. The goal is to provide each party with one visit from city staff, but it will be dependent upon the number of parties and staff who sign up to participate.

Register your event with the Hayward Police Department by visiting www.haywardpd.net, and clicking on More Information under “National Night Out.” The registration deadline is 5 p.m. on July 25, to be considered for a visit by the police or fire department. If you plan to block off your street for your celebration, you will need to obtain an encroachment permit from the City of Hayward by contacting Shahram Aghamir, Development Review Engineer at (510) 583-4111 or shahram.ghamir@hayward-ca.gov. The deadline to file for a permit is Tuesday, July 15 and the permit is free of charge.

If you have questions about National Night Out in Hayward, please contact the Crime Prevention Unit at (510) 293-5051.

PUBLIC NOTICES

CITY OF UNION CITY
NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a Public Hearing will be held by the City of Union City for the purpose of considering the following project applications:

General Plan Amendment (AG-14-002) and Zoning Text Amendment (AT-14-002)

The City of Union City is proposing General Plan and Zoning Text amendments to comply with requirements listed in State law and the City's current Housing Element, which was adopted in November 2010, and to assist with accommodating the City's housing needs in the next Housing Element update. A General Plan Amendment, AG-14-002, is proposed to revise the existing General Plan designation of Residential – 17 to 29 Dwelling Units per acre (R17-29) to allow up to 30 units per acre and a minimum site area per dwelling unit of 1,450 sq. ft. and revise the existing General Plan designation of Residential – 29 to 60 Dwelling Units per acre (R29-60) to allow between 30 to 60 dwelling units per acre. Zoning Text Amendment, AT-14-002, is also proposed that includes the following revisions to Title 18, Zoning Ordinance, of the Union City Municipal Code:

Amend Section 18.32.060, Site Area Per Dwelling Unit, to lower the site area per dwelling unit for the RM 1500 Zoning District from 1,500 sq. ft. to 1,450 sq. ft. to be consistent with the revised General Plan designation of Residential – 17 to 30 Dwelling Units per acre; Add emergency shelters as a permitted use in Chapter 18.51, Private Institutional District, and add standards that Emergency Shelters must conform to; Remove emergency shelters as a conditional use in Chapter 18.51; Remove Emergency Shelters and Transitional Housing as a conditional use in Chapter 18.32, Residential Districts; Revise definition of Emergency Shelters listed in Chapter 18.08, Definitions, to allow occupancy of such facilities to six months or less;

Update definitions for Transitional Housing and Lodging Rooming House listed in Chapter 18.08 and add a new definition for Supportive Housing; Revise the term "lodging houses" to "lodging rooming house" in Chapter 18.32 to be consistent with the wording listed in Chapter 18.08; and

Add a new chapter to the Zoning Ordinance to address "Reasonable Accommodation." Notice is also given that the proposed text amendments are exempt from environmental review per Section 15061(b)(3) of the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) Guidelines, which is a general exemption for projects with no potential for a significant effect on the environment.

The Planning Commission reviewed the project at its June 19, 2014 meeting and recommended approval to the City Council on a 5-0 vote. Interested persons are invited to submit written comments prior to, and may testify at, the Public Hearing. Details regarding the Public Hearing are listed below. For further information, contact Carmela Campbell, Planning Manager, at (510) 675-5316.

PROBATE

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF LETITIA MOORE AKA LETITIA MARY MOORE AKA LETITIA M. MOORE

CASE NO. RP14-727929

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: Letitia Moore aka Letitia Mary Moore aka Letitia M. Moore
A Petition for Probate has been filed by William Moore in the Superior Court of California, County of Alameda.
The Petition for Probate requests that William Moore be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.
A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on August 4, 2014 at 9:30 a.m. in Dept. 201 located at 2120 Martin Luther King Jr. Way, Berkeley, CA 94704.
If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.
If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.
Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.
You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Thursday, June 12

Auto Thefts occurred at 38900 block of Blacow Rd. of a white 2001 Chevy van; at Enterprise Rental on Peralta Blvd. of a silver 2013 Nissan Altima; and at 5800 block of Via Lugano of a maroon 1990 Nissan 300ZX.
At 2:05 p.m. Officer Magana responded to the Centerville KFC restaurant on a report of a missing 9-year-old male juvenile who was autistic and deaf. The juvenile's father stated he and his son were having lunch in the restaurant when the juvenile got up from their table and walked into the restroom. After a few minutes passed the father checked on his son and discovered he was missing. While the investigation progressed, FPD dispatch put out a Code Red (our highest level alert) and a Nixle message to the community. As officers checked their assigned quadrants citizens began to report information on possible sightings of the juvenile. At 4:12 p.m., a citizen reported seeing the juvenile near the intersection of Bidwell Ave and Trinity Way. Eagle 7 helicopter immediately responded and located a possible match of the juvenile. Sergeant Harvey was directed to the location by Eagle 7, and the boy located was determined to be the missing juvenile. He was reunited with his family.

Officers responded to 7 Eleven at Mission/Niles to investigate a report of a battery. The reporting party/victim stated he was punched and kicked by a heavily intoxicated male adult. Officers Taylor and Stark detained the suspect a short distance away from the 7 Eleven and the adult male immediately fought with officers when they tried to take him into custody. The adult male was handcuffed after a brief struggle and placed in the WRAP device. He was arrested for battery, obstructing/resisting and public intoxication.

A caller reported that and unknown suspect was looking through a window into his home located on the 40000 block of High St. The suspect was not located by responding units. Suspect described as a tall dark complected male, wearing red/black jacket and black pants. Officer Stark investigated.

A caller reported that a suspect was in his patio in the apartments located on the 4100 block of Stevenson Blvd. The caller followed the suspect to the area of Fremont Blvd/Bidwell Ave., where he lost him. The suspect was described as a black male in his 30's, wearing a black hat, black jacket and dark jeans. The suspect was not located. Officer Perry investigated.

A strong-armed robbery occurred on Beacon St in front of the Paragon Apartments. The loss was an iPhone and cash. The phone did not have tracking software. The suspect was described as a black male, 18-22 years, 5'7", short hair, wearing a black t-shirt and black pants. Officer Stark investigated.

Friday, June 13

Officer Gourley was dispatched to Warner Industries on Fremont Blvd. for a theft of a work van that had just occurred. The van was described as a white Chevy Savana cargo van. A short time later, Sgt. Fowlie spotted the van on Fremont Bl at Chapel Way. Other officers responded and a high risk stop was conducted on Stevenson at Leslie. A 29-year-old adult male and Hayward resident was taken into custody without incident and booked for the stolen vehicle.

Saturday, June 14

A citizen called to report that a 38-year-old adult male intentionally backed his vehicle into another male near a residence on the 41600 block of Carmen St. The driver fled the scene and the victim suffered minor injuries as a result of the assault. The driver also hit a parked vehicle as he fled the scene. Investigation is ongoing.

Two stolen vehicles were recovered at an auto shop at Blacow and Central. The two Honda's were stolen off of St Mark in Newark earlier in the day. CSO Allen handled the recoveries.

A battery occurred at the Saddle Rack. A 26-year-old adult female was arrested after battering two security officers. Investigated by Officer Austin.

Officers investigated a second battery at the Saddle Rack. A 30-year-old adult female and friend of the above mentioned female, was contacted after she battered a customer. No prosecution desired. Investigated by Officer Wilson.

A BART Officer was patrolling the back lot at the Fremont Station. He then saw a suspect burglarizing a black BMW 535i. The suspect was arrested and a detective responded to interview the suspect.

Monday, June 16

Cold report occurred on June 13 at the Peppertree Apartments. Point of entry was via the rear slider. Investigated by CSO Gott.

At 11:45 p.m., a victim reported she was arriving home on Rockett Dr. when a suspect hit her in the head and fled with her purse towards Paseo Padre Pkwy. The suspect was described as having dark hair. Officer Nordseth conducted the investigation.

At 12:08 a.m., a victim on Sutter Dr. reported arriving home when a suspect hit her in the head and tried to take her purse. The suspect was unable to take the purse, but hit the victim in the face. The suspect is described as a black male, with a possibly dark blue hooded sweatshirt. The suspect got into a blue SUV driven by someone else. Officer Dooley conducted the investigation.

Tuesday, June 17

While in the area of the 4300 block of Crestwood Dr. Officer Haugh conducted a registration check on a parked black Honda Civic. The vehicle came back stolen out of San Jose with a suspect description of a Hispanic male adult in his 30's. Moments later, a Hispanic male adult and a female exit an adjacent residence and Officer Haugh and Stillitano make contact. During the investigation, the female provided officers with a "shaved" key. The male, a 32 year old adult male, San Jose resident, was under the influence and in possession of drug paraphernalia. The female was booked into Fremont Jail for receiving known stolen property and the male was booked into Santa Rita for: receiving known stolen property, under the influence of a controlled substance, possession of a controlled substance, possession of a government ID, forgery and possession of burglary tools.

Wednesday, June 18

At about 6:45 a.m. a homeowner on Vista Del Sol looked out into his driveway and noted a dark green 2000 Dodge Durango parked in his driveway. The homeowner then noted that a 35-40 year-old Hispanic male wearing a blue hoody and blue jeans standing in the driveway. When the homeowner yelled at the subject, the latter said he was looking for his friend. The subject then fled in the Durango, which was found to be a reported stolen vehicle out of San Jose. The area was checked with negative results. Officer Sanders handled the investigation.

A 21-year-old adult female came to the Fremont Jail with her toddler child to visit an inmate. Unfortunately for her, she also had a felony burglary warrant for her arrest out of Sonoma County. Officer Dooley responded and arrested her. The female was taken to the Santa Rita Jail and a family member responded and picked up the child.

Suspects arrested in large-scale marijuana grow

SUBMITTED BY FREMONT, NEWARK, UNION CITY PD

In early June, Union City patrol officers received information regarding a large scale illegal marijuana operation. The information was referred to the Southern Alameda County Major Crimes Task Force (SACMCTF), who is responsible for investigating crimes associated with large scale drug operations. On June 11 the investigation concluded after task force agents executed five search warrants in three cities, resulting in the arrest of four suspects associated with the multi-residence indoor marijuana grow investigation.

SACMCTF agents executed the search warrants (for the residences) at the following locations:

1. 45900 block of Sentinel Place, Fremont
2. 2700 block of Breaker Lane, Hayward
3. 1000 block of Boyle Street, Union City
4. 30500 block of Mallorca Way, Union City
5. 31300 block of Beacon Bay Drive, Union City

At the Sentinel Place, Fremont, resident agents seized 2.8 ounces of processed marijuana, 5 grams of suspected cocaine, $1,294 in US currency, two computers, three cellular phones, an electronic money counter and indicia. At the time of the search warrant the residence was being converted into a marijuana growing facility and contained ballasts and lights, as well as marijuana growing equipment. The dry wall next to the electrical source had been removed in preparation for an illegal bypass. Justin Chen of Fremont was arrested in the residence for cultivation of marijuana, possession of marijuana for sales, grand theft of utility power and possession of cocaine. Tung Low of Fremont was also arrested in the residence for possession of cocaine.

At the Breaker Lane, Hayward, resident agents seized 492 marijuana plants, 2.2 pounds of processed marijuana, $660 in US currency, two cellular phones and indicia. The residence contained 56 ballasts with an equal number of lights containing 1000 watt bulbs and marijuana growing equipment. It was found that the electrical line to the residence had been illegally bypassed. Hui Zhu Zhao of Fremont was arrested in the residence for cultivation of marijuana and possession of marijuana for sales.

At the Boyle Street, Union City, resident agents seized 199 marijuana plants, $20,229 in US currency, a 2014 Honda Odyssey, a cellular phone and indicia. The residence contained 23 ballasts with an equal number of lights containing 1000 watt bulbs and marijuana growing equipment. It was found that the electrical line to the residence had been previously illegally bypassed, but had been corrected. Pang Chan of San Leandro was arrested in the residence for cultivation of marijuana and possession of marijuana for sales.

At the Mallorca Way, Union City, resident agents seized indicia. It was found that the electrical line to the residence had been previously illegally bypassed, but had been corrected.

At the Beacon Bay Drive, Union City, resident agents found that the electrical line to the residence had been previously illegally bypassed, but had been corrected.

In summary, a total of four suspects were arrested for felony charges and 691 marijuana plants, 2.4 pounds of processed marijuana, 5 grams of suspected cocaine, $22,183 in US currency and a 2014 Honda Odyssey were seized during the course of the investigation.

SACMCTF is comprised of agents from California Department of Justice, Fremont, Union City, Newark, Alameda County Probation and CHP. For more information visit, www.fremont.gov/TaskForce or call (510) 790-6660.

Boudin SF opens its doors in Fremont

The newest Boudin SF opened its doors on June 19, admitting an eager line of guests who camped out overnight to win a free loaf of bread every day for a year. The line started at 7 p.m.; 100 people were lined up by 9 p.m., some having driven from as far as Vacaville. Guests were treated to dinner and breakfast by Boudin, and whiled away the long hours by playing board games and trivia.

The newly minted Bread Winners were the first to enter the restaurant at 7:30 a.m., led by Alameda County Community Food Bank Communications Manager Michael Altfest, who claimed the spot specially reserved for the food bank. The local non-profit provides food for 240 non-profit agencies throughout Alameda County, and Boudin SF has long been a supporter of local food banks, donating the surplus of unsold fresh bread daily to local charities.

SWAT Challenge raises funds for charity

SUBMITTED BY
CMDR. MICHAEL CARROLL, NEWARK PD

The George Mark Children's House in San Leandro received a donation of $25,000 during a check presentation on June 17. The funds were raised from the San Leandro Police Department's 7th Annual SWAT Fitness Challenge held on May 29. The Newark Police Department earned 1st place on the "Weighted Run" SWAT event competition, out of the 40 total participating SWAT Teams. Overall, the Newark PD placed 26th at the SWAT Fitness Challenge.

More importantly, Newark PD raised the second largest amount for the George Mark Children's House charity fundraiser, earning a total of $1,055 through donations prior to the competition event date. Thanks to all the Newark citizens who helped Newark PD by contributing towards the George Mark Children's House! We exceeded our fundraising goal of $1,000 and we couldn't have done it without your help! Thank you!

State legislature adopts landmark expenditure plan

SUBMITTED BY BERNICE ALANIZ

The Santa Clara Valley Transportation Authority's (VTA) BART Silicon Valley Project, Phase II, is positioned well to receive unanticipated funding through the State's Cap and Trade Program, included in the 2014-15 state budget spending plan that the California Legislature passed on June 15.

Currently, the second phase of VTA's planned extension of the regional BART system is in project development. This 24-month project phase includes refining the project scope, state and federal environmental reviews and identifying and solidifying a funding plan. Up until now, the funding plan was comprised of only local and federal money.

The adopted budget bill and a series of "trailer bills" implement two aspects of the Cap and Trade expenditure plan: a budget year (2014-15) appropriation with fixed dollar amounts going to specified programs; and, in 2015-16 and thereafter, specified programs will receive set percentages of annual Cap and Trade proceeds. Most significantly, beginning in fiscal year 2015, 15 percent of Cap and Trade revenues will be specifically dedicated to regional and local public transit purposes.

VTA's BART Silicon Valley Extension Phase II is well positioned to compete for this funding because the project meets the criteria of reducing greenhouse gas emissions, auto trips and vehicle miles travelled, as well as its integration into the overall local, regional and state transit network, including the future high speed rail system. As such, VTA will diligently pursue Cap and Trade revenues to supplement local and federal dollars and meet its long-standing commitment to bring BART through downtown San Jose.

Ash Kalra, VTA Board Chair states, "Transportation contributes nearly 40 percent of greenhouse gas emissions in California. Cars, trucks, and transit must be part of any strategy preventing or reducing the impacts of climate change. VTA's extension of BART will significantly reduce greenhouse gasses and improve our quality of life here in Silicon Valley."

The Cap and Trade Program aims to combat climate change with an unprecedented and ambitious state-wide limit (the cap) on greenhouse gas emissions and a carbon market (the trade) governed by the California Air Resources Board (CARB). CARB will distribute annual allowances to industrial greenhouse gas emitters such as power plants, oil refineries, cement factories and food processors.

The state will reduce the total allotment of allowances by about 3 percent each year, and companies will be required to purchase allowances to cover all of their emissions. They can either buy them from CARB, which holds regular auctions, or from other businesses that have reduced their greenhouse gas emissions. This carbon market provides an economic incentive for emitters to invest in clean energy.

In the coming years, Cap and Trade stands to generate billions of dollars per year to invest in transportation and other efforts to reduce greenhouse gas emissions. The program is expected to generate $850 million in the 2015 budget year and an estimated $2 billion to $3 billion per year once the program expands to include transportation fuels in January 2015. As part of the 2014-2015 spending plan, legislators specified spending priorities for budget year as well as future year proceeds from the Air Resources Board's Cap and Trade program.

Live healthier. Start with a great doctor.

Not just a doctor, an all-star team. At Washington Township Medical Foundation (WTMF), we seek out and recruit only the finest doctors to join our medical group. But great doctors are only the beginning. Every doctor's office is also home to a team of dedicated health professionals who work to make your health care experience less stressful by assisting you with finding specialists, scheduling appointments, answering questions over the phone, and facilitating communication with your doctor. WTMF has 23 clinics located in Tri-City area neighborhoods. Living healthier is a lot easier when you have a team behind you.

We're great with kids. The choice of a great pediatrician is one of a parent's most important decisions. WTMF pediatricians and their staff are some of the finest anywhere. The team is dedicated to making every office visit positive for parent and child alike. Schedule a complimentary meet-and-greet and find a pediatrician who is a perfect fit for you and your child.

You talk, we listen. Being patient-focused means, above all, listening to our patients. We believe in putting the patient first. We take the time to understand your condition, and understand you. We endeavor to reduce your anxieties by giving clear information and answers. And we make an effort to appreciate and respect your unique culture and values.

A world-class network right in the community. WTMF is part of the Washington Hospital Healthcare System, a premier health network that can take care of nearly any health issue you might have, all right in the community. Included in the network is award-winning Washington Hospital with its many cutting-edge technologies. All the various specialists and primary-care doctors in the network work as a team while following our Patient First ethic.

Live healthy, stay healthy.

At WTMF, we believe prevention is the best medicine and that you should never skip a regular checkup. When you're feeling well is the best time to take stock of your overall health picture and help prevent potential problems. Regular screenings, such as cholesterol and blood sugar checks, mammograms, and colonoscopies, can help you stay on top of and prevent cardiovascular disease, cancer, diabetes, and other potentially significant health issues.

Get a doctor with connections.

With the recent addition of the WeCare electronic records system, all WTMF doctors will soon share information easily with one another, with doctors at Washington Hospital, and with any of the imaging or other specialty centers in the network.

We have an app for that. WTMF is proud to announce the release of our new app, mywtmf. You can find a doctor that's right for you, request appointments, request a prescription refill, read up on the latest in medical news from our physicians, and much more.
