All in White Casino Night benefits GiveTeens20

BY SARA GIUSTI

Many teens dread the question, "What are you doing after high school?" as it is indeed a scary, unknown time for young graduates. The options seem endless, and it can be difficult figuring out the right path. A Fremont-based nonprofit is on a mission to help teenagers figure out the next big steps – on teens' own terms.

In 2007, Kathy Laidlaw, a seasoned professional with a background in marketing, customer service, and hospitality, was asked to speak to a "Family Living" class about giving excellent customer service. Instead of exclusively customer service techniques, students wanted to hear about landing an interview or how to dress and prepare for an interview – even how to get their girlfriend's mom to like them.

The need for such resources and information inspired Laidlaw, and she and the "Family Living" teacher, Ruth Bauer (Fremont Unified School District's Health Department Chair), began collaborating on creating presentations that help teens navigate and prepare for the next steps after high school,

Breast Cancer Risk Assessment Can Provide Reassurance and Guide Additional Screenings

Risk Assessment Now Standard with Screening Mammograms at Washington Hospital, for No Additional Cost

According to the American Cancer Society, about one in eight women in the United States will develop invasive breast cancer during her lifetime. Fortunately, death rates for breast cancer patients have been declining since about 1989, partly because of earlier detection through regular screenings and increased awareness.

“Finding breast cancer early reduces the risk of dying from the disease by 35 percent in women over 50 years of age,” notes radiologist Dr. Mimi Lin, director of mammography for the Washington Radiologists Medical Group.

“Mammography and other screenings for breast cancer are obviously important, but it’s also important to screen for a patient’s breast cancer risk level,” Dr. Lin says. “We started conducting breast cancer risk assessments in October 2013 as part of our regular mammography screenings to identify patients who are at a statistically increased risk for breast cancer. Assessing women for their breast cancer risk can be reassuring for those who are at low risk, and it can help guide the timing and methods for breast cancer screenings for women at high risk.”

The decision to offer breast cancer risk assessments resulted from community-needs surveys conducted in the communities served by Washington Hospital. “The surveys noted that compared to national averages, there were a higher number of women in our communities who were being diagnosed with breast cancer at stage III or higher,” explains oncologist Dr. Vandana Sharma, medical director of Washington Hospital’s Oncology Program and Genetic Counseling Program. “Those rates were higher than we had expected, and they indicated that women in our communities were not being screened appropriately to detect cancer at earlier stages. We wanted to improve our service to the community and encourage women to get breast cancer screenings at appropriate intervals.”

The Breast Cancer Risk Assessment Tool adopted by Washington Hospital was developed in 1989 as part of the Breast Cancer Detection and Demonstration Project. It is a statistical tool to estimate a patient’s risk for breast cancer. The as-essment is based on a statistical model known as the “Gail model,” which is named after Dr. Mitchell Gail, Senior Investigator in the Biostatistics Branch of National Cancer Institute’s Division of Cancer Epidemiology and Genetics. The model uses a woman’s own personal medical history, her own reproductive history and the history of breast cancer among her first-degree relatives (mother, sisters, daughters) to estimate her risk of developing invasive breast cancer over specific periods of time.

“The Breast Cancer Risk Assessment Tool is a well-established and valid statistical measure that is considered appropriate by most insurance providers, including Medicare,” Dr. Sharma notes. “The risk factors evaluated in the assessment tool are ones that highly correlate with increased risk for breast cancer. In addition, the questions in the risk assessment are designed to be easy for women to answer, so it doesn’t require a lot of time.”

Dr. Lin adds, “Prior to October of 2013, women having screening mammograms were asked questions similar to those in the Gail model. Formalizing the questions with the Gail model provides the benefit of risk stratification.”

The Breast Cancer Risk Assessment Tool is appropriate only for women over age 35, and considers lifetime risk to age 90. It is important to remember that the risk assessment is based on population statistics. While the tool may accurately estimate a woman’s risk of developing breast cancer, these risk estimates cannot say precisely which women will develop breast cancer or when. In addition, the tool cannot accurately calculate the risk of redeveloping breast cancer for women who already have a diagnosis of breast cancer, or of developing breast cancer in women with a medical history of ductal carcinoma in situ or lobular carcinoma in situ. These women are considered to be in the moderate risk category. Although the tool has been used successfully for some women with strong family histories of breast cancer, more specific methods of estimating risk are appropriate for women known to have breast cancer-producing mutations in the BRCA1 or BRCA2 genes.

A few examples of questions included in the Breast Cancer Risk Assessment Tool – and the reasons for asking those questions – include:

- What is the woman’s age? The great majority of breast cancer cases occur in women older than age 50, and the risk of developing breast cancer increases with age.

In addition to mammography and other screenings for breast cancer, clinicians at the Washington Women’s Center have been screening patients for their cancer risk level. The Breast Cancer Risk Assessment tool helps identify patients who are at a statistically increased risk for breast cancer. For more information about the Washington Women’ Center or to schedule an appointment for a mammogram call (510) 791-3410.

Summertime Fungal Infections

Dear Doctor,
I have a big toenail that looks as though it is about to fall off. Do you think I have an infection?

Dear Reader,
Summertime toenail infections are common. These are usually due to a fungus infection from a less than sterile nail salon, so if you are relying on salon sterility you are bound to get an infection eventually. The best way to avoid this is to invest in your own set of pedicure tools and sterilize them yourself at home in boiling water for 90 seconds after each pedicure. In the meantime, you can remove your toenail and apply a topical over the counter fungal cream and a healthy new nail should be on its way.

Dear Doctor,
I have tried every over the counter product for athlete’s foot and nothings seems to work. How do I get rid of it?

Dear Reader,
Athlete’s foot is another common summertime foot disease usually caused by contact with fungus in a swimming pool area or locker room. The best way to treat athlete’s foot is to avoid getting it! Wear footwear at all times in any public pool or shower. You should wash your footwear each week with a little bleach and remember to wash your feet with soap and water after visits to public pools or showers. If you do contract athlete’s foot, most over the counter medicines applied regularly will take care of it though it may take several weeks (or months) to fully eradicate. Adding foot powder to your shoes will also help. If this fails, then a trip to your doctor for oral medicines is the next step.

THEATRE REVIEW

'Smokey Joe's Cafe' offers pleasing musical menu

By JULIE GRABOWSKI

Need a break from the worry and bustle of life? Chanticleers Theatre invites you to stop into "Smokey Joe's Cafe" for a little musical rejuvenation.

There is no real storyline or theme to "Smokey Joe's Cafe," it's simply an almost 40-song playlist celebrating Jerry Leiber and Mike Stoller who created some of the most popular and enduring music of their era. You know "Stand By Me," "On Broadway," "Hound Dog," and "Jail House Rock"? Yep, that's them.

Director and producer Mike Kasin has put together a fluid and winning production with a solid cast of 10 (Larri Patterson Parms-Ford mysteriously absent) for a feel-good night of song. Kasin gives a bit of shape to the show by setting Act I in an every-town neighborhood and the second in Smokey Joe's Cafe, where the wonderful live band emerges from behind the curtain to become part of the action.

Kaylyn Dowd draws instant attention in "Trouble" and delivers an outstanding performance in "Don Juan" with excellent vocals and a playful, sexy character which secures her as the star of the evening. Any slivers of doubt are firmly put to rest as Dowd goes solo again with the alluring "Some Cats Know" and, goodness me, this girl knows! Her confident, magnetic presence is a show stealer.

Gemma Bulos and Shauna Shoptaw show spirit and vocal power throughout, notably for Bulos in "Pearl's a Singer" and Shoptaw in "Hound Dog." The two also make an impression in "Kansas City" alongside the solid rock of Tyrone Woodrow.

Woodrow looks a little unsure on stage, but his voice is a dependable beauty.

Elmer Strasser is like the class cut-up, jumping into characters with an unhesitating zest and is definitely having fun in numbers like "Searchin'."

The company closes out Act I on a high note with "Saved" where Noel Thomas comes alive in the reverend role and thrills with his voice and energy. Thomas continues to have fun in "Teach Me How to Shimmy" and absolutely wows with "I, Who Have Nothing."

Often in the show you're cruising along on pleasant performances, then one of the cast will break out and step it up a notch, such as Zachary David Marshall in "Little Egypt" and "Jail House Rock." Everyone gets their moment, from the lovely and sweet "Falling" by Mary Troxell, Robert Sholty's entreaty "Dance With Me" to an audience member, and the picked on Chris Ciabattoni in "Charlie Brown."

The songs featuring harmony of the men are the most enjoyable, but the women throw down a hard hitting "I'm a Woman" with powerful vocals and attitude making it a highlight of the show.

"Shoppin' for Clothes" is the one number that falls flat; it is the only spot of pure dialogue and no singing in the show, and though the mannequins are a bit fun, it comes off as pointless and unnecessary.

Lynn Hanson's costumes are subtle and fitting, and the simple but engaging set design by Kasin and Georgia Lee is a bright and welcoming invitation in.

It's a tall task to offer up a continuous stream of songs for a couple of hours, but Chanticleers puts on an impressive evening at "Smokey Joe's Cafe," making you glad that you stopped by this neighborhood.

Breast Cancer Risk Assessment Can Provide Reassurance and Guide Additional Screenings

Risk Assessment Now Standard with Screening Mammograms at Washington Hospital, for No Additional Cost

• What was the woman's age at the time of her first menstrual period? Women who had their first menstrual period before age 12 have a slightly increased risk of breast cancer that may be linked to their longer lifetime exposure to estrogen.

• How many of the woman's first-degree relatives – mother, sisters, daughters – have had breast cancer? Having one or more first-degree relatives who have had breast cancer increases a woman's chances of developing this disease.

The general recommendation from the American Cancer Society for women at high risk for developing breast cancer (having a lifetime risk greater than 20 percent) would be to have a breast MRI in addition to a mammogram and clinical breast exam every year. Women at moderately increased lifetime risk (15 to 20 percent) should talk to their doctors about the benefits and limitations of adding breast MRI screening to their yearly mammograms. Yearly MRI screening is not recommended for women whose lifetime risk is less than 15 percent.

"Women who are at high risk for developing breast cancer are counseled to talk to their doctors about enhanced screenings and risk-reduction strategies," says Dr. Sharma. "Most insurance plans will cover a breast MRI if the woman's lifetime risk is greater than 20 percent. These women also might consider use of medications such as tamoxifen or raloxifene, which can cut their risk of developing breast cancer by 45 to 50 percent. Women at high risk also might be referred for genetic counseling."

The Washington Cancer Genetics Program is a collaboration between Washington Hospital and UCSF Medical Center. The program offers genetic counseling for individuals concerned with the risk of an inherited cancer predisposition. The clinic staff includes genetic counselors, a medical oncologist and registered nurses.

The Washington Women's Center generally performs between 400 and 500 screening mammograms each month. Between the introduction of the Breast Cancer Risk Assessment Tool in October 2013 and May of this year, a total of 107 patients were identified as having a lifetime risk of breast cancer greater than 20 percent.

"The median age of these patients is 50," says Dr. Lin. "About 35 percent of these high-risk patients have had screening breast MRIs. Two patients were referred for genetic counseling. One of those two patients was subsequently diagnosed with early stage breast cancer, which is the most easily treated and has a much higher cure rate than more advanced breast cancers."

Barks and Brass

Daughtrey Building goes to the dogs (and kids)

SUBMITTED BY CASTRO VALLEY EDEN AREA
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Downtown Castro Valley will play host to young musicians and their fans alongside Castro Valley's cherished dogs and their owners. "Barks and Brass," a new community event organized by the Castro Valley/Eden Area Chamber of Commerce and the Alameda County Economic Development Department, will have its inaugural run on Saturday, August 8 in the parking lot behind the Daughtrey Building.

Chamber Executive Director Bill Mulgrew explains, "We wanted to do something downtown that would be just pure fun, and kids and dogs were the first things that came to mind. So many kids spend summers developing musically, we thought it would be a good idea to give them an outlet for appreciation. And people have been suggesting pet related events to us for a long time, so we're going to combine them, have a really fun program."

Entertainment will be on two stages; at 11 a.m. a kids' musical act will start and play for 20 minutes followed by a dog-related contest on the other stage for 20 minutes, then back to the next musical act, and so forth. Five musical acts and four dog contests are planned, including Best Dressed, Best Trick, Owner Look Alike, and Best Looking. The day will conclude with a Dog Parade.

The event will also feature pet-related exhibits and special attractions from local vets, groomers, pet retailers, pet blessings, and law enforcement K-9 teams. There will be food trucks, raffles, giveaways, jump house for kids and lots of community involvement. "We wanted to give the community some reasons to come together and have fun on a Saturday, and thanks to the generosity of Alameda County we get to use the parking lot of the Daughtrey Building before work starts on the building remodel," says Mulgrew.

Come on out for some cool music, great dogs, good food, and awesome displays. Registration for the dog contests opens at 10 a.m., and participants are recommended to come early, as there will be a limited number of entries in each contest.

For more information, call the Chamber at (510) 537-5300 or visit <http://business.edenareachamber.com/events/details/barks-and-brass-1182>.

while truly understanding what they want to do with their lives. These presentations grew into the idea of GiveTeens20 (GT20), a nonprofit providing resources and information to students so they can make thoughtful, educated choices for their future. Laidlaw says that the nonprofit’s name arose from an outreach effort and philosophy: “By giving teens twenty minutes, adults share a little of themselves and make a significant impact in a teen’s life.”

GT20 began presenting in Tri-City area high schools in 2008; since inception, it has reached over 3,000 students. Laidlaw, GT20 staff, and corporate volunteers’ high school presentations help students figure out their own paths, providing the resources to do so. Presentation topics range from “Choosing a Direction” to “Manners Matter,” and are tailored to grade level and needs.

GT20 has also partnered with Safeway Northern California Regional Human Resources representatives and hiring professionals from McDonald’s and Target who present in classrooms about interviewing do’s and don’ts. Classroom presentations are free for both schools and students as well.

Students are encouraged to honestly self-assess themselves in order to discover their strengths and best career choices, then reach out to professionals in those careers to learn more. They are encouraged to ask professionals three questions: what made them choose their career path, how did they get to their cur-

Executive Director Kathy Laidlaw

While the event is a fundraiser (all funds raised will go to operation, technology, and administration costs for the nonprofit), the goal is to discover more professionals from various sectors who want to present in schools and/or be interviewed for the website.

Carrie Dove Catering is providing good eats, and there will be casino games galore. Prizes include, but are not limited to, two nights and three days in Pebble Beach, an Apple Watch, and a spa package. The San Diego Foundation, a philanthropic organization, will rent position, and what is the best piece of advice they would give a teen interested in their career.

The GT20 journey isn’t restricted to the classroom; Laidlaw and her team have created a website, GiveTeens20.org, that provides self-assessment tools, education and career resources, and short videos of professionals sharing their career story. A myriad of careers and industries are represented in these interviews, from surgeons and X Box Engineers to CEOs and sports and news professionals.

GT20 isn’t just for high schoolers. “GiveTeens20 is definitely a resource for all people to explore other options,” said Laidlaw, currently GT20’s Executive Director. “It’s more than just finding a career... it’s understanding the decisions [you] make, and their impact. I like to tell students, the decisions you make now will impact what car you’ll drive to your five year high school reunion.”

Laidlaw has big plans for the nonprofit’s future. She intends to expand their in-school presentations throughout California then grow nationally. In addition, GT20 plans to add videos for each job title on the Department of Labor list.

But before expanding, a little celebration and fun is in order. GT20 is gearing up for its first major event, “All in White Casino Night,” on August 13, and invites anyone interested in GT20 to attend.

be matching donations up to $50,000 as well.

The evening will also honor two influential supporters of GT20, Ruth Bauer and Bo Magnussen. Bauer, the first teacher to invite Laidlaw to speak in her class and collaborator for GT20, will receive the Founder’s Award. Magnussen will receive the first Teen Champion Award for his work with teens, as Magnussen hires and trains entry-level employees at his Lexus dealership in Fremont.

Attendees are highly encouraged to purchase tickets beforehand at www.gt20.org/events-2/. Tickets purchased in advance are $75 and will be $95 at the door. People are asked to dress in white or neutrals.

Have some fun, win some at the All in White Casino Night and help teens plan and navigate their dreams in the process!

Indo American Heritage – Dance Celebration

SUBMITTED BY TERESA MEYER

The City of San Leandro invites the public to an evening of classical Indian dance with the Shri Krupa Dance Company, in celebration of Indo American Heritage. The performance will take place on Thursday, August 13 at the San Leandro Main Library.

“San Leandro is one of the most diverse cities in California, and our diversity is an integral part of what makes it such a special community,” noted Mayor Pauline Russo Cutter. “I encourage San Leandrans to attend the program on August 13 for a wonderful celebration of the culture of India.”

The Shri Krupa Dance Company (SKDC) is the oldest Indian classical dance school in the San Francisco Bay Area and was founded by the world-renowned Bharatanatyam teacher, dancer and choreographer Guru Vishal Ramani. The SKDC is a thriving center of excellence for Bharatanatyam learning where the dance is taught within the strict confines of the style set by the Thanjavur tradition.

The school has produced many of the Bay Area’s finest practitioners and exponents of this ancient art form. Under Guru Vishal’s leadership, Shri Krupa is the first School in the Bay Area to present full-length classical Indian dance ballets with live music to critical acclaim.

Admission is free. For more information, please call the Information Desk at (510) 577-3971.

Child, Family & Community Services announces new website

SUBMITTED BY
ROBIN MICHEL

Child, Family & Community Services, Inc. (CFCS) announced that the non-profit’s new website went live on July 1, providing detailed information on all aspects of the agency, including Head Start and Early Head Start Program, Child Care Alternative Payment, Enrollment and Eligibility, Locations, and Careers & Job Opportunities.

“The information is well organized and easy to find, and the design and photos capture our work,” said CFCS Executive Director Karen Deshayes. “I would also like to thank the web designer, the Board Marketing and Communications Committee, and our diligent staff, led by Cathy Seymour and Diego Vazquez, for working on this effort.”

Child, Family and Community Services, Inc. provides education and family support services to qualified low income families and children with special needs living in Southern Alameda County. Incorporated in 1974 to become the Grantee agency for the Head Start Program of Southern Alameda County, the agency first began as a summer program in 1965. In 1980, the agency expanded services to include the State funded California Child Care Alternative Payment Program, which provides child care subsidies to pay for child care in a location of the parent’s choice while the parent or parents are working, in training, or seeking employment. The Early Head Start Program for infants and toddlers began in 1996.

Child, Family & Community Services, headquartered in Union City, currently serves approximately 3,000 families each year throughout the south county areas, with centers in Fremont, Hayward, Newark, San Leandro, San Lorenzo and Union City. Visit the new website at www.cfcinc.org.

National Tell an Old Joke Day at the Alameda County Library

Did you know that July 24, 2015 was National Tell an Old Joke Day? Usually the origin of a holiday can be found – so and so proposed this holiday and it was enacted at such and such a time. But information about this holiday is as hard to trace as the source of some old classic jokes.

The purpose of this “holiday” is to “keep traditional humor alive.” No dirty jokes — just good, old-fashioned jokes. So go on, make some funnies.

What is a joke? Merriam-Webster's definition is “something said or done to cause laughter; a brief story with a surprising and funny ending; someone or something that is not worth taking seriously.” There are millions of jokes, of all kinds, but the best kinds are those you can tell anyone, and you can tell over and over.

Knock knock! Who's there? Banana. Banana who? Knock knock! Who's there? Banana! Banana who? Knock knock? Who's there? Banana! Banana who?!? Knock knock! WHO'S THERE?!? Orange! Orange who? Orange you glad I stopped saying banana?

So know your joke, know your audience, speak clearly and with confidence, set up the joke, wait to build up suspense, then drop the punch line and wait for the reaction.

What happens to a frog's car when it breaks down? It gets toad away.

One day a man strolled into the paint section of a hardware store and walked up to the assistant. “I'd like a pint of canary colored paint,” he says. “Sure” the clerk replies. “Mind if I ask what it's for?” “My parakeet,” the man said. “See, I want to enter him in a canary contest. He sings so beautifully he is sure to win.” “Well, you can't do that!” the assistant says. “The chemicals in the paint will surely kill the poor thing!” “No they won't,” says the customer. “Listen, buddy, I'll bet you twenty bucks your parakeet dies if you try to paint him.” “You're on” said the customer. Two days later the man walks back in the store and very sheepishly lays $20 on the counter. “So the paint killed him?” asked the clerk. “Indirectly,” the man said. “He seemed to handle the paint okay, but I think the sanding between coats did him in.”

And what could be funnier than a Library joke (or two)?

Chicken marches into the library, walks up to the library desk, and says: “Book, book, BOOK!”

The librarian hands over a couple of slim children's paperbacks, and watches the chicken as it leaves the library, walks across the street, through a field, and disappears down the hill.

Next day, the chicken is back. Walks right up to the librarian, drops the books on her desk, and says, “Book, Book, BOOK, BOOK!” The librarian hands over a few books and again watches the chicken drag them away.

The next day, the chicken comes for a third time. Drops the books on the desk, and says, “Book, Book, Book, BOOK!”

This time, once the chicken is out the door, the librarian follows — across the street, through a field, and down the hill to a small pond.

On a rock on the edge of the pond is the biggest frog the librarian has ever seen. The chicken walks up to the frog, drops the book on the pond's edge, and says, “Book, Book, Book!”

The frog hops over, uses the front leg to push through the pile, and says: “Read it, read it, read it...”

Guy in a library walks up to the librarian and says, “I'll have a cheeseburger and fries, please.”

Librarian responds, “Sir, you know you're in a library, right?”

Guy says, “Oh, sorry. [in a whisper] I'll have a cheeseburger and fries, please.”

East Bay earns maximum accreditation

SUBMITTED BY KIMBERLY HAWKINS

Noting its accomplishments in the areas of diversity, inclusiveness and developing students' core competencies, the Western Association of Schools and Colleges Senior College and University Commission (WSCUC) has reaffirmed accreditation for California State University, East Bay.

Earning WSCUC's maximum 10-year accreditation, the longest reaffirmation possible, caps off a two-and-a-half year review process including an extensive self-study report by the university, a campus visit by a WSCUC evaluation team last April and consideration by the commission at its June 17 meeting.

The commission recognized CSUEB as “the most diverse public university in the mainland United States” and commended the university, “not only for making ‘inclusiveness and diversity’ one of its eight core values, but for supporting that diversity both on campus and in the broader community.”

In addition, the commission, described the university's self evaluation as one prepared with “thoroughness and candor,” focused on an examination of mission after a time of serious budget cuts and the leadership of a new president.

Through its review processes, WSCUC confirms that an institution has the resources, policies and practices in place to achieve its educational goals.

Study: Shasta Dam expansion feasible but financing unclear

BY KEVIN FREKING
ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — A long-awaited study requested by Congress concludes that enlarging Shasta Dam in California by 18.5 feet is technically and economically feasible, though the Bureau of Reclamation declined to make a formal recommendation to move ahead with the project.

The study found the most viable expansion option would cost an estimated $1.4 billion and provide an economic benefit of $30 million annually from increased salmon populations, water supply, flood control and recreational opportunities.

However, it was unclear who would be willing to take on the cost of construction.

The report said non-federal alternative financing would have to be secured for a majority of the construction costs before the secretary of Interior could recommend the project.

State officials made it clear that the project is ineligible for funding through a recently approved bond proposition.

The federal government typically funds construction of major reservoirs that Congress authorizes and is then repaid from the project's beneficiaries over the course of several decades.

California voters last year approved $2.7 billion for additional water storage as part of a bond proposition.

Nancy Vogel, deputy secretary for communications at the California Natural Resources Agency, said the project is not eligible for funding from Proposition 1, as funding cannot go to any project that would negatively affect a river protected under the state's Wild and Scenic Rivers Act.

Raising the dam would inundate portions of the protected McCloud River.

California is in the midst of a four-year drought that has forced tough decisions for many cities and farmers. Gov. Jerry Brown has ordered communities throughout the state to collectively reduce water use by 25 percent.

To prepare for future droughts, some federal and state lawmakers have said securing more water storage through new or expanded reservoirs is critical. They have grown frustrated with how long it has taken for the Bureau of Reclamation to complete feasibility studies on a handful of projects.

Congress first authorized the Shasta study in 1980.

Shasta Reservoir is located on the upper stretches of the Sacramento River about 160 miles north of Sacramento.

Federal officials looked at an array of options for the dam, from raising it by 6.5 feet to raising it by 12.5 feet, then to 18.5 feet. The most beneficial alternative calls for an 18.5-foot increase, adding spawning gravel to the upper Sacramento River and restoring habitat along the river.

The higher lake level would require the relocation of utilities and bridges as well as the modification or total replacement of several marinas, boat ramps and trails. Expanding the dam by higher than 18.5 feet would require much more extensive and costly relocations, including for Interstate 5, the report said.

The study said the most economically beneficial option would increase the amount of water stored in the reservoir enough to cover 634,000 acres with a foot of water. About a third of that additional water would be used to benefit fish populations.

Members of Congress have been calling for more water storage projects in the state, but their immediate response to the study has been cautious.

"Ensuring that local residents, businesses and infrastructure are given proper consideration is key," said Republican Rep. Doug LaMalfa, whose congressional district includes Shasta Reservoir and surrounding communities. "Should this project move forward, I will work to ensure that those residents and businesses that could be affected are justly compensated and have an opportunity to relocate on the lake."

Doug Obegi, an attorney with the Natural Resources Defense Council, said raising the dam would destroy sacred tribal sites and provide "virtually no environmental benefits."

Tough week for social media stocks – no one is spared

BY BARBARA ORTUTAY
AP TECHNOLOGY WRITER

NEW YORK (AP) — It hasn't been an easy week in social media, despite double-digit revenue growth from Twitter, LinkedIn and Facebook. Investors are looking beyond headline numbers and finding reasons to sell.

Not even Facebook, with stronger-than-expected profit and revenue numbers and bulletproof mobile advertising strategy, was spared. Its stock is down 2.6 percent for the week, compared with a roughly 1 percent increase for the Standard & Poor's 500 index. A whopping 82 percent rise in expenses spooked some investors.

Though the stocks dipped across the board, there was no common thread that ties the companies' fates together. Facebook has been trading near record highs, so investors cashing in on some profits after the earnings report seems understandable. Twitter's stock on the other hand, has been trading near its lowest level in two years over concerns about its ability to attract users, not to mention several high-profile departures. It's off about 12 percent since the start of the week. Yelp fared the worst, its shares down 25 percent for the week as some question the company's ability to survive on its own.

LinkedIn, whose stock is down about 8 percent for the week, delivered quarterly results above Wall Street expectations. But the company said that one of its business segments, display advertising, is seeing some softness and investors took that as a sign to cut back. Some industry analysts urged patience, and noted that the professional networking service is showing strength in newer areas. It acquired Lynda.com, an online learning site, in the second quarter in an effort to extend its services to people who are not looking for new jobs.

Sarah Hindlian of Brean Capital, said the Lynda acquisition masked what was actually a weak quarter for LinkedIn. She said she does not think that the company can continue to acquire expensive companies "to bolster growth forever" and added that the company's core talent solutions business is slowing down. This segment makes money from charging businesses and headhunters that use its site to find job candidates.

"We advise investors sell premium valuation shares of LinkedIn, as growth decelerates," she wrote in a research note.

While Twitter's user growth has been stalling, Facebook has nearly 1.5 billion people who check in to the site at least once a month. That's nearly a fifth of the world's population. Twitter, meanwhile, remains in many ways a niche social network, popular with celebrities, journalists and young people. Its biggest task is convincing the rest of us that we need it.

Facebook isn't struggling on the user front, but it is spending heavily on hiring and on new endeavors such as virtual reality and drones helping bring Internet access to remote parts of the world.

"Facebook is making the right choices for the long term but the short-term focused market won't like expenses that grow faster than sales," said Edison Investment Research analyst Richard Windsor.

California site takes anonymous water waste tips in drought

AP WIRE SERVICE

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California is launching a state website that lets residents tattle on water wasters, from neighbors with leaky sprinklers to waiters who serve water without asking.

California has multiple restrictions on water use, including banning washing cars with hoses that don't shut off and restricting lawn-watering within two days of rainfall. But enforcement varies widely across the parched state.

Residents can send details and photos of water waste at www.savewater.ca.gov. Complaints are then sent to local government agencies based on the address of the offense.

The site went online Thursday as the latest conservation initiative. More than 300 agencies have signed up to see the details of water waste tips. Many local agencies already had their own reporting sites.

Tipsters wary of being outed as the neighborhood snitch can remain anonymous.

A lucky streak continued for Joe Marino, Cardio Pulmonary Manager at St. Rose Hospital in Hayward when he attended the 54th annual St. Rose Hospital Charity Golf Tournament. Entering the tournament, Joe, an occasional golfer who usually spends his time on the course looking left and right of the fairway for his ball, Joe picked up a seven iron on hole 11 (par 3) and was surprised to see the ball travel directly toward the hole. His foursome saw the flag wiggle a bit but didn't think too much about it. Advancing to the green, they were amazed to discover Joe's golf ball in the cup. Others commented that using an iron designed for shorter distances made such an accomplishment far beyond unlikely.

Joe said he was shocked by his "impossible" achievement at TPC Stonebrae Country Club but Lady Luck has been with him in the past few months. During a recent trip to the Silver Legacy in Reno, he hit an $11,000 jackpot and was asked to attend a "jackpot dinner." At the dinner, he won another jackpot of $10,000.

Fleet Manager Dave Elkins of Fremont Ford commented that during his many years representing the dealership as sponsor of a hole in one, this is the first time he has had the honor of awarding the prize. There is hope for golf duffers yet!

Joyous Gathering with Dharma Dance

LARRY GISSIBLE

Colorful, kimono-clad participants will gather at the Southern Alameda County Buddhist Church (SACBC) to celebrate the Japanese festival of Obon. The Obon dance is a "Dance of Joy," a memorial day for our departed beloved ones and a day to give thanks to them. With deeply felt joy and gratitude, we honor and remember our deceased loved ones whose very existence made our own lives possible.

There will also be Japanese music with San Jose Chidori Band, an O Nami Taiko Drums performance, and Japanese food.

On Sunday, August 9 SACBC will conduct its annual Buddhist Spiritual Services for all our beloved ones called Obon Service. Those who lost their beloved ones within the past year are especially welcome. We will conduct a special service for them called Hatsubon (First Obon Service). Harry Bridge from the Buddhist Church of Oakland will be the guest speaker. In a deepest sense, our caring and gratitude extends to all people and all living beings.

Two optional dance practices remain before the festival for those who want a head start: practices are August 5 and 6 at 7:30 in SACBC's Sanga Hall.

Park It

If you’ve been to any of the East Bay’s wilder parks lately, especially at dusk, there’s a good chance you’ve spotted a big-eared, 40-pound canine trotting across a hillside: A coyote.

Coyote populations in the Bay Area have been rebounding the past few decades as hunting regulations have tightened, public attitudes have changed and these highly intelligent, adaptable creatures have become more adept at living near cities and suburbs. In recent years coyotes have been spotted in San Francisco and even New York City.

In the East Bay Regional Park District, coyotes live in almost everywhere except for Brooks Island and Browns Island. They’re most common, though, in the larger parks east of the Caldecott Tunnel. Briones, Black Diamond Mines, Contra Loma, Sunol, Round Valley and Brushy Peak are all ideal places to catch a glimpse of these beautiful animals, especially around dawn or early evening.

Coyotes are important predators in our parkland ecosystems, eating large numbers of mice, rabbits, gophers and squirrels. But they’re also very resourceful, and in cities may eat garbage, cats or small dogs.

Here are a few tips to help the public learn to live with coyotes:

- Keep cats and dogs indoors at night
- Don’t leave pet food outside
- If you’re on a hike and see a coyote, put your dog on a leash
- If a coyote approaches you or your pet, shoo it away by throwing small rocks, yelling or waving your arms
- Never feed a coyote.

These days, as the drought intensifies, coyotes might be more visible than usual. They’re likely to be drawn to creeks and ponds in search of water, and also following prey who are trying to survive these hot, dry months.

It’s a treat to observe these handsome, resilient animals. Just give them plenty of space so they can remain wild.

Help plan the East Bay’s newest park, a 2,540-acre expanse of grassy hills and oak woodlands at the former Concord Naval Weapons Station.

The Park District is seeking the public’s help in transforming longtime military operation into a regional hub for trails and open space. Whether it’s hiking, mountain biking, camping, educational programs or historic preservation, the District wants to know what you want.

The property, which comprises about half of the former base, lies south of Highway 4 and straddles the hills between Concord and Pittsburg. It will provide links in several regional trail systems, including the Contra Costa Canal Trail and De Anza National Historic Trail, as well as trails in Mt. Diablo State Park, Black Diamond Mines State Park and beyond.

The new park will also include a visitor center focusing on the Port Chicago disaster of 1944, in which more than 300 mostly African American sailors died in a munitions explosion while loading ships. The tragedy, ensuing mutiny and public protests, led to the desegregation of the military and was an early milestone in the Civil Rights Movement. The center, a partnership with the National Park Service, will also feature exhibits on the role of the Naval Weapons Station in four wars, the contributions of veterans, and the rich history of Concord and the Diablo Valley.

Another important aspect of the new park is that it’s close to a BART station. Linking regional parks and trails to public transit is a priority for the District board, and hopefully will be a boon for bicyclists and hikers throughout the East Bay.

The public’s help is also needed to pick a name for the park. It’s currently called Concord Hills Regional Park, but planners hope to replace the name with something more dynamic. A few suggestions so far: Todos Santos, after the original name for Concord; Los Medanos, after the official name of the hills east of Concord; and Rancho del Diablo, after one of the Spanish-era land grants in the area.

Looking for a fun and challenging hike with like-minded souls? Join the naturalists at Tilden Regional Park for a hike to Wildcat Peak on Aug. 9. Hikers will meet at the Tilden Nature Area at 10 a.m., ascend the peak, hike down through Laurel Canyon and return by noon. Learn about the park’s bountiful flora and fauna on the way, make new friends, and get a good workout. Bring a snack and water. No registration needed.

Another great hike scheduled for August is at Crockett Hills. Learn about the area’s history, its wildlife and plants, and take in some fantastic views from the ridge tops. Crockett Hills is one of the less-visited parks in the District, but is well worth exploring. The 1,900-acre park, between the towns of Crockett and Port Costa, has gorgeous views of the Carquinez Strait and ample wildlife, including golden eagles, Cooper’s hawks and gray foxes.

A great trail network makes this park a perfect destination for hikers, dog walkers and bicyclists, and anyone else seeking some quiet and solitude in a beautiful natural setting. This naturalist-led hike leaves from the staging area at 9:30 a.m. Aug. 14. The staging area is on Crockett Boulevard, just south of Pomona Street in Crockett.

If those hikes sound too vigorous for you, try an easy, relaxing stroll along the Hayward area shoreline Aug. 15. The flat, 3-mile walk next to Oro Loma Marsh and San Francisco Bay will be a great outing for kids and seniors, bird watchers and anyone else seeking fresh bay breezes and picturesque scenery. The walk is from 10 a.m. to noon and begins at the Grant Avenue staging area at the Hayward Regional Shoreline. The staging area is at the foot of Grant Avenue in San Lorenzo.

Fremont Youth Empowerment Academy

The Youth Empowerment Academy, now in its third year, is offered through the City’s Human Services Department, Youth and Family Services Division. It is designed to help “at risk” and Probation youth develop better decision making, health and life skills, while offering opportunities for summer employment, community service and leadership development. This year, 17 young people from the Tri-Cities are participating in the program, with an opportunity to earn both elective and work experience high school credits toward graduation. The program partners with local school districts, the Highway to Work Program, the Alameda County Center for Healthy Schools and Communities, Probation Department Officers, and other organizations in the community.

During this year’s program the youth had an opportunity to work with renowned San Francisco Urban Artist/Muralist, Cameron “Camer1” Moberg to create a community mural which will be mobile and displayed throughout the community. This 8-foot by 12-foot mural will be on display at the August 6 graduation. The youth were highly engaged in this project and have demonstrated a high commitment to attend the Academy three days each week as well as the Highway to Work program. Participants also designed a new logo for the program showing their ownership in the process.

Join us in honoring the 2015 graduating class of the Fremont Youth Empowerment Academy on August 6 from 12 p.m. to 2 p.m. at the Fremont Family Resource Center, 39155 Liberty St., Pacific Room, Ste. H800 in Fremont. Dr. Jim Morris, Superintendent of Fremont Unified School District will be delivering the commencement speech. For more information and to RSVP call Maria Sotelo at 510-574-2121.

“Beyond Bollywood: Indian Americans Shape the Nation”

The City of Fremont’s Olive Hyde Art Gallery hosts the West Coast premiere of Beyond Bollywood: Indian Americans Shape the Nation – August 1 through October 10, 2015. This exhibition, created by the Smithsonian Asian Pacific American Center and the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service (SITES), details the history of Indian Americans and their contributions to the United States from the 1700s to the present.

From the builders of some of America’s earliest railroads and farms to Civil Rights pioneers to digital technology entrepreneurs, Indian Americans have long been an inextricable part of American life. Beyond Bollywood: Indian Americans Shape the Nation explores the Indian American experience and the community’s vital political, professional, and cultural contributions to American life and history. The exhibition moves past pop-culture stereotypes of Indian Americans to explore the heritage, daily experience, and diverse contributions of Indian immigrants and their descendants in the United States. Weaving together stories of individual achievement and collective struggle, Beyond Bollywood uses photography, narrative, multimedia, and interactive stations to tell a uniquely American story, while conveying the texture, vibrancy, and vitality of Indian American communities. Beyond Bollywood: Indian Americans Shape the Nation was created by the Smithsonian Asian Pacific American Center and the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service.

The Olive Hyde Art Gallery is located at 123 Washington Blvd. (on the corner of Mission Boulevard), in the Mission San Jose area of Fremont. Gallery hours are Thursday through Sunday, noon to 5 p.m. For more information call 510-791-4357 or email gkim@fremont.gov.

Bay Friendly Car Washing

Did you know that the way you wash your car can be hurting our environment? Washing any vehicle on the street, in driveways, or on parking lots adds pollution to our creeks and the San Francisco Bay Watershed. Unlike other indoor sanitary water that goes to a waste water treatment plant, water that goes directly to the storm drain system will ultimately end up flowing untreated to the bay. The car wash water contains oil, gasoline, grease, soaps, and heavy metals that all have a negative impact on our sensitive environment.

If you plan on washing your car at home, try doing it on a vegetated area and use a natural soap. Make sure to use a high pressure nozzle to reduce the amount of water you use or try using a waterless car cleaner. A great alternative is to take your car to a local commercial car wash facility instead. Car wash water from these facilities is required to be treated and the wash water does not get released into the storm drain system.

LT. JOHN KELLEY,
SALVATION ARMY
HAYWARD CORPS

For many, Summer Camp is simply a child-care service with educational activities that keep the participants occupied and socialized for three months. Such programs, however, prove invaluable for others.

Fourteen-year old Gabriel "Gabe" Galvan has a maturity beyond his years. When his mother chose to worship at The Salvation Army Hayward Corps five years ago, he became involved in as many activities as possible.

Three years later, he joined the Hayward Corps' After-School Homework Club and has attended other programs, such as Del Oro Camp, Sports Camp and Divisional Youth Chorus.

Now, a Ranger and an older member in The Salvation Army's Troops Program (equivalent to Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts), he assists with activities. The Hayward Corps invited him to become a 2015 Summer Camp Counselor and Team Leader (7-9 year olds) because of his sense of community and involvement. This opportunity for personal development will stand him in good stead.

Galvan has always felt responsible for his mother and younger siblings, Andrew (12), Adalena (9) and Jaeliana (15 months). All are a credit to her.

"For me, Summer Camp is about getting to know the kids, having fun and creating good, lasting memories for them. They seem to enjoy my company; my name's called and they like to clamber over me," he says good-naturedly.

As for the future, Galvan wants to attend college though not too far afield, so he can still care for his family. At this stage, the lure of science is strong. Next semester, the A-grade student will attend Hayward High School where he will focus on college entrance.

Gloria Padilla, a San Lorenzo resident and mother of three, Angel (10) and twins Bobby and Bella (7), realized she could lose everything, including her family, if she did not seek help with an increasing reliance on alcohol. With her employer's blessing, she received counseling. Her husband stopped work to look after the children. Unexpectedly, during her recovery, he fell ill and she lost her job of 15 years.

Keeping her calm, she quickly found another but at half her previous salary. Her husband's eventual return to work was also at reduced pay.

"A much tighter budget hasn't been easy; the mortgage is a struggle but we manage somehow. I've turned to food pantry services a few times but, thankfully, our circumstances aren't dire. We don't have everything we want but we've everything we need," says Padilla. "Free community events help keep the kids entertained; I joined the 'San Lorenzo Community' Facebook Group to see what's happening."

As the summer break approached, Padilla had a choice of leaving her children home-alone or resigning her job to care for them with no guarantee of work on their return to school.

"The Salvation Army Hayward Corps informed the 'San Lorenzo Community' Facebook Group that their Day Camp program, which I could afford, had four remaining places and registration had been extended," adds Padilla. "I enrolled my kids immediately and kept my job."

Padilla's children, who had always known their baby-sitters, did not relish "spending the day with strangers." On the first day, their mother was apprehensive about leaving them but they did not want to go home when she collected them. Now, each morning, the Padilla household is abuzz with excitement as the children anticipate Day Camp and time with new friends.

"My kids have become more socially independent, especially Bobby, the shyest," their mother says proudly. "They have signed-up for Troops. Summer Camp, with its many activities, and The Salvation Army's other youth programs came along at the right time. I'm comfortable entrusting them to the care of the staff and volunteers.

"I received much help during my recovery from different organizations. I was raised comfortably but life as an adult can be difficult. The Salvation Army does not judge, blame or discriminate. Everyone welcomed us. We feel like we belong. Social media posts re-awakened a long-standing wish to volunteer and now I have the opportunity to give back through The Salvation Army," Padilla concluded.

Tri-City Stargazer AUGUST 5 - AUGUST 11, 2015 BY VIVIAN CAROL

For All Signs: Jupiter, planet of expansion, remains squared off with Saturn, the planet of contraction. I wrote about this combination last week. It is important in the larger scheme of things, so I am pointing out this challenging aspect again. It really won't be over until after May of 2016. Historically, Jupiter/Saturn squares point at recessionary trends. Saturn carries greater weight, so its symbolism of tightness, coldness, and maintaining structure will almost always win in the world and in our psyches. Jupiter is optimistic and willing to take risks, but Saturn is fearful of change or the powers that be. If you are contemplating a risky venture, you will probably fare better after this cold season is over. If you must proceed, then do so with a cautious eye and cover your bets as carefully as possible.

Aries the Ram (March 21-April 20): This is a week for bringing small projects to a successful transition point. Then your attention shifts to matters concerning children, play, romance and recreation for the next few weeks. You will likely be the one to initiate activities on these fronts. If you have hesitated to ask someone to date you, now is the time to take a step.

Taurus the Bull (April 21-May 20): Issues related to older property, older family members, or problems that you thought you had resolved in the past surface once again to be managed. Maybe the repetition of the problem is inherent in the resolution. Resources (time, money, energy) are limited so a final fix is not likely now. Do what you can and wait for a better time if possible.

Gemini the Twins (May 21-June 20): This is a truly busy time for you with lots of communications, errands, and maybe even a short trip or two. You may need to consider the needs of your vehicle now. Give it a checkup and a detailing. Fix what needs to be repaired. That may include cosmetic improvements.

Cancer the Crab (June 21-July 21): You likely are finishing projects and preparing the decks for a new focus by the end of the week. You are interested in taking action to beautify your surroundings and this may include your garden. Certainly you will want to make improvements on your property.

Leo the Lion (July 22-August 22): Mars, the red planet of war, enters your sign this week and will be traveling with you through most of September. This energy is best used to handle physically heavy projects or take initiatives that you might not otherwise tackle. If you are not choosing to deal honestly with this assertive energy, the common side effects are irritability and infections. Clearly it is healthier to take charge of it.

Virgo the Virgin (August 23-September 22): You are thoroughly busy this week. At first you may be absorbed with things or circumstances from your past. It may generate a mildly blue mood, but then there is a shift on the seventh to the positive side of the present. When you shift into the lighter place, your mind will be quick and more able to help you move forward.

Libra the Scales (September 23-October 22): For any number of reasons, circumstances may leave you out of the social loop this week. Astrologically this is a time for self-reflection and not self-condemnation. Having a quiet week is appropriate at this time. Don't turn this into a negative belief about yourself. Enjoy the time to be still and enjoy the quiet.

Scorpio the Scorpion (October 23-November 21): During this month and most of September, your attention will be drawn to career and life direction. Activity in the outer world picks up speed. Authorities and others may be challenging, so have your ducks in a row if you take initiatives. Use this time to improve your product or presentation.

Sagittarius the Archer (November 22-December 21): You may be researching a new interest, gazing over travel brochures for your next adventure, or pursuing an interest in philosophy or religion. Activities and concerns related to the Internet, education, and publishing are favored. Someone from your past may surface to give you welcome.

Capricorn the Goat (December 22-January 19): Your mind may be preoccupied with concerns about joint resources. That could include insurance payments, debt, invested funds, partner's income or estate matters. At this time it seems forward motion is blocked in more than one way. These issues will work themselves out one at a time in September.

Aquarius the Water Bearer (January 20-February 18): Uncomfortable issues from the past may surface in your primary relationship. If things don't feel right between you, then examine the past occurrences in which this feeling has occurred. Think/feel it through and make it your goal to come to a better resolution so this won't continue to undermine the relationship.

Pisces the Fish (February 19-March 20): Your work picks up this week and becomes more interesting. Your lifestyle is about to change, maybe because someone becomes available as a partner or a buddy. That individual may surface this week. Your entire outlook brightens.

LEGO rules at Bricks by the Bay homage to that little plastic brick in every conceivable way. There are games, workshops, demos, contests, presentations, vendors, and the grand exhibition, where enthusiasts' creations are put on display.

Bricks by the Bay is a non-profit, volunteer-run organization that was founded by William Ward in 2009. He had seen LEGO conventions in other cities, such as Washington D.C., Portland, and Seattle, and thought the Bay Area would be the perfect place to host another one. With help from the Bay Area LEGO Users Group (BayLUG), they put on their first convention in Fremont in 2010. "We got a lot of media coverage at that event and had a huge crowd, with people waiting in line for many hours (in the rain) to get in, and so we decided we needed a larger venue," says Ward.

The next year they moved the event to the Santa Clara Convention Center, where they have been ever since. Folks come from all over the Bay Area to attend, as well as from several western states. This year they are expecting over 400 people. And while children of all ages are welcome, many of the activities are geared more towards Adult Fans of LEGO (AFOLs).

The convention takes place over four days, with the first three days for registered attendees only. The first day is reserved for workshops, where participants get intensive, hands-on training in a variety of building skills, from lettering to monsters to robots to buildings. The other days are filled with presentations, games, and contests. Try to Guess the Minifig by feeling it through the bag. Or guess how many LEGO parts are in a clear container. If you're right, you win them all! There are several Speed Build competitions as well. One version challenges you to try to build a model using just the picture on the box as reference. Or you can build a catapult at home and test it at the convention, with prizes awarded for the ones that launch minifigs the farthest. There will also be a costume contest and many more fun activities.

On the last day of the convention, the event is opened to the public as attendees exhibit their own creations. Says Ward, "The Grand Ballroom, over 22,000 square feet, will be full of LEGO exhibits of all types, organized by theme. There will be demonstrations at the robotics and Bionicle areas, a 32-foot-long diorama based on the Mouse Guard comic books, a huge castle, spaceships, a model train layout made entirely of LEGO, and much more!" There will also be a vendor room where people can purchase LEGO parts and related accessories.

Bricks by the Bay runs from Thursday, August 6 through Sunday, August 9. There is no age limit, but those under 18 are required to have an adult also registered, and those under 16 must be accompanied by that adult at all times.

The Gilroy junior all-star players and coaches will be packing their bags as they head to Vancouver, WA after winning the 2015 Junior Division II (NorCal) championship with a 4-1 victory over College Glen from Sacramento on July 31st. After being shut out 6-0 the night before by a brilliant pitching performance by College Glen's Savion Poncé, Gilroy wasted no time getting on the scoreboard as they tallied three runs in the top of the first inning. The inning started off quietly as leadoff batter Garrett Santos popped up to College Glen's starting pitcher Ewan Armstrong. But Marshall Silva followed with a base hit and Ben Zanger worked a walk to place runners on first and second base. That is when clean-up hitter Jo Jo Aguliera stepped to the plate and delivered the big blow of the inning as he hit a hanging curve ball for a towering two-run double deep to left field. Aguliera ended up on third base on the play and scored as Jacob Longworth followed with a sacrifice fly to drive in the third and final run of the inning.

Heading to the bottom of the first inning and already down by three runs, College Glen immediately put runners on first and third base as leadoff batter Savion Poncé drew a walk. Kade McKechnie followed by beating out a popup that landed just over Gilroy pitcher Ben Zanger's head. Poncé never stopped on the play and hustled his way all the way to third base. Armstrong then came to the plate with an opportunity to get College Glen right back into the game. Zanger got the better of Armstrong as he struck him out looking on a 3-2 curveball. Clean up batter Kenyon Bowyer then hit a one-hopper back to Zanger who wheeled around catching Poncé in a run-down between third base and home plate before he was tagged out by Gilroy third baseman Marshall Silva. Zanger then got JT Waldon to hit into a force play that ended a once-promising College Glen rally leaving them behind 3-0 after the first inning.

After Gilroy went three up and three down in the top of the second inning, College Glen again mounted a rally in the bottom of the second inning. Kimo Kawelo opened the inning by reach base after being hit by a pitch. Gabe Espinoza then hit a ground ball to third which forced Kawelo at second while Espinoza beat the relay throw to first base. Brandon Shaldone followed with a walk to place runners on first and second base with one out. But Zanger pitched his way out of the jam by striking out Tyler Cutler and getting Poncé to ground back to the mound to end the inning.

Armstrong continued to look strong on the mound in the third inning as he retired the side in order for the second inning in a row. College Glen once again threatened to score in the bottom of the third inning but came away with no runs on the scoreboard. McKechnie opened the inning by being hit by a pitch. Armstrong then ripped a two-hop shot to the left of third baseman Silva who stabbed the ball and started a slick 5-4-3 double play to momentarily end the College Glen rally. But two walks and a base hit by Waldon loaded the bases with two out. Zanger was up to the task once again as he got Espinoza to ground to second baseman Garret Santos to end another College Glen rally.

Both teams went three up, three down in the fourth inning as Zanger and Armstrong continued to pitch effectively. In the top of the fifth inning, Gilroy scored an insurance run when Diego Hsu led off the inning with a sharp single to centerfield. Shawn Hernandez reached base on an error and Travis Romero laid down a perfectly placed bunt down the third base line to load the bases for the top of the Gilroy batting order. Santos hit a high sacrifice fly to centerfield to drive

Triumph at Pan American Games

SUBMITTED BY RAJUL SHETH

After winning big at the 2015 U.S. Open Championship in Las Vegas held July 6-11, 2015, India Community Center's (ICC) table tennis players continue to win major world titles to prove that training quality at ICC in Milpitas is one of the best in the world.

ICC's star players Lily Zhang and Jiaqi Zheng, representing Team USA along with Yue Jennifer Wu, won gold medals at the 2015 Pan American Games on July 19-21, 2015. On their way to gold, they beat Argentina (3-0), Dominican Republic (3-0), Cuba (3-0), Canada (3-0), and Brazil (3-0) in the finals. This is the first time in history that ICC players won gold medals without losing a single match.

Gilroy packs their bags for Vancouver, WA after winning 2015 Junior Division II Championship home Hsu. But Armstrong limited the damage as he retired the side without allowing any additional runs to score.

Entering the bottom of the fifth inning with a 4-0 lead, Gilroy's Zanger continued to pitch well as he retired the first two batters he faced. But Zanger experience some arm discomfort while facing Waldon and was replaced by Marshall Silva. Silva looked sharp as he retired the next batter to end the inning.

Not satisfied with their 4-0 lead, Gilroy mounted a rally in the top of the sixth inning. Armstrong retired the first two batters but Sebastian Duarte and Sergio Sanchez followed with back-to-back singles. Armstrong was replaced on the mound having reached his 95-pitch limit. Kimo Kawelo took over the mound duties from Armstrong and got Romero to fly to centerfield to end the rally.

Running out of time, College Glen once again looked like it was their time to mount a rally in the top of the sixth inning as Kawelo opened the inning with a single. Espinoza then hit a groundball to shortstop Romero whose quick hands were instrumental in the turning of a slick double play. The inning ended as Silva got the next batter to pop up to second base.

In the top of the seventh inning, Kawelo continued his strong relief performance with a three up, three down inning setting the stage for a tense bottom of the seventh inning.

Down to their last three outs and behind by four runs, College Glen looked to create some late inning heroics – and they nearly did. With one out and Silva apparently in control on the mound, Poncé, McKechnie and Armstrong all singled with Armstrong's single driving home Poncé with College Glen's first run of the game. College Glen now had the tying run come to the plate in the person of clean-up hitter Kenyon Bowyer with just one out. Bowyer slammed a one and one pitch from Silva to deep left field and, as the ball rocketed off of Bowyer's bat, it appeared that the long fly ball had a chance to clear the fence and tie the game. But Gilroy left-fielder Jacob Longworth raced back and caught the ball in deep left field for the second out of the inning. JT Waldon then stepped to the plate and battled Silva to an eight pitch at bat before striking out to end the game much to the delight of the elated Gilroy players, coaches and fans.

Gilroy is now the 2015 champion of Northern California Junior Division II which extends from the Oregon border in the north to just north of Bakersfield in the south. Both teams played inspired baseball throughout the seven team tournament and should be commended for their excellent sportsmanship.

Looking forward to the Western Regionals, Gilroy's will play in a bracket that consists of Alaska, Hawaii, Montana and Nevada with their first game coming up on August 6 as they face Nevada. Detailed information about the Junior Western Regional tournament can be found on <http://juniorregionals.com>. Mission Hills Athletic Club brings pickleball to Fremont

BY CASSANDRA BROADWIN
HILLS ATHLETIC CLUB

Tucked away in a quiet redwood grove, four tennis courts of Mission Hills Athletic Club (MHAC) will be converted to host the third seasonal MHAC Pickleball Tournament on August 23rd, 2015 from 4-6pm. In preparation for this event, the courts will be marked to a third of their current size and reserved especially for a mix of 36 participants. All experience levels from novice to advanced are encouraged to try their hand at the sport.

Pickleball originated on Bainbridge Island, Washington, in 1963 as a backyard pastime for the family of Joel Pritchard, a member of the U.S. House of Representatives. One weekend afternoon, Pritchard invented the game to entertain his bored children. He lowered the standard badminton net, used wooden paddles and a wiffle ball, and soon enough the game of pickleball emerged as what is said to be a hybrid between tennis, table tennis, and badminton. “The way I see it, it’s like oversized ping pong,” said MHAC employee Eric Gonzalez.

For years, the origin of the sport’s name had been a disputed topic. The most common theory claims that the sport was named after the family’s cocker spaniel, Pickles, who was known to chase after stray balls. Another theory was that the name referenced Mrs. Pritchard’s maritime vernacular, as she would refer to the “pickle boat” being the slowest vessel in a rowing race, stacked with a team of outliers. To this day, pickleball enthusiasts make a pilgrimage to see the birthplace of the sport in the Pritchard backyard to pay homage, but also in hopes of solving the mystery behind the name.

The sport has been rapidly gaining a following in community centers around the country—its popularity due mainly to its age-variant accessibility. According to the USA Pickleball Association, official membership has now reached over 150,000 players. “It’s very popular among the Baby Boomers. It still requires a great deal of athleticism, but the pace is easier to keep up with for both younger and older generations. The smaller court means that there is less running involved. There is no overhead serving, which allows people who may have mobility issues to still play competitively,” said Christina Broadwin, manager of MHAC and director of the pickleball tournament.

The tournament includes a twenty minute instructional session with all attendees, followed by an hour and a half of rotational play. Members and non-members alike are invited to use this tournament as an opportunity to learn a new skill and enjoy a social afternoon with the MHAC community. The tournament is open to men, women, and teens ages 15 plus, and includes all necessary pickleball equipment.

For sign-up information, contact missionhillsathleticclub@gmail.com or register online at <http://tinyurl.com/PickleballDay>. Tickets are $4 per session for full MHAC members, $6 per session for fitness only MHAC members or non-members if pre-registered and paid by August 16, or $10 drop-in (space permitting) on the day of the event.

San Leandro to host community meeting on downtown parking strategies

SUBMITTED BY TERESA MEYER

Mayor Pauline Russo Cutter and the San Leandro City Council announced that the Engineering & Transportation Department will be hosting a community outreach meeting to discuss parking issues in the downtown area. The meeting will take place on Wednesday, August 5, and will include extensive opportunities for the public to share ideas and concerns about parking in the downtown area.

“Parking congestion throughout our downtown is an ongoing issue that community residents have made very clear needs to be looked at more closely,” noted Mayor Cutter. “For these reasons, the City has launched an intensive parking study and is seeking to start a conversation with the public in order to formulate potential solutions. I encourage San Leandrans to get involved and help the City in its efforts to address the community’s concerns.”

In the downtown area, the City controls about 4,200 parking spaces, of which 2,780 are on-street and 1,420 are off-street, spread across seven parking facilities, including the recently renovated downtown parking garage. Parking regulations and controls have evolved over time and do not currently provide a cohesive parking strategy, which can impede effective land use and economic development planning efforts. For these reasons, the City is seeking to develop a comprehensive Downtown Parking Garage and Downtown Parking Management Plan.

For further details, please contact Reh-Lin N. Chen, Senior Transportation Engineer, at (510) 577-3438.

Homeland Security Secretary ends Civil Detainer Program

SUBMITTED BY JANICE ROMBECK

The U.S. Secretary of Homeland Security Jeh Johnson recently notified Santa Clara County Board President Dave Cortese that the Department has abolished the use of civil detainees to hold immigrants released from custody and instead will ask local authorities to notify ICE (Immigration and Customs Enforcement) when residents convicted of certain crimes are being released.

The information was part of a conference call to elected officials in 50 counties across the U.S. and comes in the wake of the release of a convicted felon who has been charged in the fatal shooting of a woman strolling with her father on a San Francisco pier.

“The use of civil detainees under the Secure Communities program has been rejected by local authorities, held as unconstitutional by the courts and has had a chilling effect on immigrants’ ability to work with law enforcement about crimes for fear

Long Time Bay Area Manufacturer Moves into Town – Q&A with South Bay Solutions

BY MICHAEL DREWNIANY, PRESIDENT

As the Bay Area’s manufacturing sector grows, Fremont continues to welcome new players into its manufacturing scene. Such was a case earlier this spring, when we welcomed South Bay Solutions (SBS) to our community. This long-time Bay Area business has quickly demonstrated its willingness to develop partnerships and join important regional discussions about supporting our advanced manufacturing economy. We asked President, Michael Drewniany to share the company’s story.

City of Fremont: Your company has a great story—can you tell us how it all started?
Michael Drewniany: We are a family-owned and operated business. My father, Adam Drewniany, started working in this industry as a young man in Poland. After moving to the U.S., he founded South Bay Machining, which became South Bay Solutions in 2001. He quickly grew a machining business that distinguished itself from others through superior customer service and design expertise that customers leveraged into more successful products. Today, we pride ourselves on running a business where honesty, transparency, and ethics are our guiding principles.

Fremont: With such an extensive list of customers, the strategy seems to be working. What types of products does South Bay Solutions make?

MD: In a nutshell, anything! We are a machining operation focused on high-precision components that rely on very specialized automation equipment. Our primary markets include automotive, medical devices, semiconductor, and defense. We offer solutions at all stages of product development, from rapid prototyping to high-volume production.

of being deported,” Cortese said. “The Secretary was very clear that ICE now agrees with the County’s original position—that we do not have the local authority to do holds.”

The Secure Communities program had asked local authorities to hold undocumented inmates being released from custody until ICE could interview them with the intent of deporting them. Santa Clara County refused to honor the requests, along with many jurisdictions across the country.

The new Priority Enforcement Program, which is being implemented now, asks that ICE be notified of the release from custody of an individual who has:

- engaged in or is suspected of terrorism or espionage, or otherwise poses a danger to national security;
- has been convicted of an offense of which an element was active participation in a criminal

Fremont: Speaking of automotive, you have been recognized as an important member of Tesla’s supply chain. Was that part of Fremont’s draw—closer proximity to Tesla’s factory?

MD: It certainly did not hurt. But there were a variety of factors that led us to this decision. Chief among them was the availability of the right type of manufacturing facility at the right price. We were able to buy our new building, which provides us a great level of security as we grow into the future.

Fremont: You have enthusiastically jumped into some of the regional manufacturing initiatives that Fremont is helping to lead. What do you see as the value of participating?

MD: It’s really a “no brainer.” Our ability to maintain a successful manufacturing operation in the Bay Area depends on the region fostering a globally competitive environment for our industries. But we know that it’s not up to government alone to ensure this happens. Industry, itself, has a responsibility to participate in and influence these discussions so that strategies around workforce, land use, supply chain, etc. reflect our needs. Frankly, we are excited that Fremont has taken such a leadership role in regional manufacturing policy, and we are happy to support the effort.

Fremont: What’s next for SBS? What are some new projects that you are most excited about?

MD: Being in the Silicon Valley, we are always involved in the early stages of new technology with our customers—most of which are very confidential! What I can say is that this year we will be adding more automated machining equipment into our facility, five axis machines, and building a clean room for critical assemblies.

street gang, as defined in 18 U.S.C. & 521(a), or is at least 16 years old and intentionally participated in an organized criminal gang to further its illegal activities;

- has been convicted of an offense classified as a felony, other than a state or local offense for which an essential element was the alien’s immigration status;
- has been convicted of an aggravated felony, as defined under 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a) (43) at the time of conviction;
- has been convicted of a “significant misdemeanor,” as defined under DHS policy; and/or has been convicted of 3 or more misdemeanors, not including minor traffic offenses and state or local offenses for which immigration status was an essential element, provided the offenses arise out of 3 separate incidents.

OPINION

WILLIAM MARSHAK

Our strategic location at a nexus of Bay Area industry is both a blessing and curse. On the plus side, not only is the Greater Tri-City area home to major businesses at the heart of traditional and new wave technology, but it connects a variety of Bay Area technology centers to each other. This optimal location attracts a veritable flood of commerce to and through the Southeast Bay. Continued construction of commercial, industrial and residential facilities is evident as use permits are approved by Greater Tri-City planning commissions and city councils.

The downside of this “blessing” is the impact of residential and commercial traffic through our area. Originally designed for export from farms and ranches producing agricultural products to outlying commercial centers, the primary system of roads and transportation did not anticipate hoards of commuters traveling along inadequate freeways. Cross traffic using computer applications to calculate alternative routes through city streets, shave seconds from major traffic routes, but instead, clogs residential and service roads.

Gridlock

North/South roadways are especially impacted since connections between I-680 and I-880 are critical junctions. In Fremont, connectors at Mission Boulevard and Niles Canyon are well-known to commuters and, with the help of computer apps, side streets have become known as well. Freeways, expected to expedite flow through our cities, are now stop-and-go parking lots with the added risk of delay due to accidents and other obstacles even as companies have incorporated flex work schedules. Almost all commercial districts are affected and savvy local citizens have begun to avoid travel, shopping and intra-city movement during commute hours which seem to expand almost daily.

Is there a solution?

Apparently, if you look at construction schedules, there isn't even a problem. Planners have bowed to pressure from regional agencies to continue building with little regard to gridlock already apparent on our roadways, especially if projects are in close proximity to mass transit. The hope is that residential and commercial ventures near mass transit will attract daily commuters who will forego automobiles by either walking or using bicycles when not on mass transit. Safe transit to schools is often part of the conversation, but the concomitant factor of family movement using automobiles and parking their cars, adding to the chaos on city streets, is minimized. In-fill proposals that encourage high density living are also favored; infrastructure demands somehow always indicate little effect on traffic.

Last week, when attending an event at Olive Hyde Gallery in Fremont, I was able to inch up Washington Boulevard toward Mission Boulevard and find a place to park. Comfortably ensconced in a chair on the Olive Hyde patio, I watched frustrated motorists, in near total gridlock with engines idling, watching light cycle after light cycle with little movement and realize that similar situations existed throughout the City. Intersections are clogged with many who are simply passing through our city and/or picking up children at countless after school facilities. Somehow this gridlock has escaped our city planners. Is their vision so myopic that traffic impact is overlooked or is it just ignored?

When an attractive nuisance exists, there may only be a few solutions available: eliminate, modify or reduce its appeal. In this case, roads are essential, so elimination is impractical. Alteration of roadways to create throughways to speed traffic though our cities also seems unlikely (although Paseo Padre Parkway might be used as an example). That leaves modifications including dedicated intra-city transit and slowing city travel beyond the endurance of transiting motorists, driving them back to preferable gridlock on interstate roadways instead. This may not be feasible for some roads, but can traffic calming measures be made on Mission Boulevard, Fremont Boulevard and Blacow Road? If not, aid stations and rest stops may be our only hope for the future.

Attorney General Kamala D. Harris announces $700,000 Settlement

SUBMITTED BY OFFICE OF
CA ATTORNEY GENERAL
KAMALA D. HARRIS

On July 31, Attorney General Kamala D. Harris announced that Capital Sweepstakes Systems, Inc. (Capital Sweepstakes), a major sweepstakes gambling software provider, will pay $700,000 in civil penalties and costs and admit that it violated state gambling laws, in a case brought by the joint state and local Sweepstakes Gambling Task Force.

This settlement resolves allegations that Capital Sweepstakes violated state laws governing illegal gambling and unfair competition. In addition to the $700,000 it will pay, Capital Sweepstakes is barred from conducting any kind of sweepstakes operations in the state for 10 years.

This case stems from a joint investigation conducted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and the California Department of Justice, Bureau of Gambling Control that included extensive undercover work and multiple search warrants being served on Capital Sweepstakes' California operations. Additionally, cash and accounts totaling more than $3,000,000 were seized in the investigation.

As a result of the joint investigation, Capital Sweepstakes and co-defendant Kevin Freels pled guilty to federal felony gambling charges and agreed to forfeit $1.6 million to the federal government, in addition to the $700,000 in civil penalties and costs paid to resolve the state's suit, for a total of $2.3 million.

Software developers like Capital Sweepstakes design software systems that create interactive gambling-themed games that they represent as lawful promotional sweepstakes for play at sweepstakes cafés, but they constitute illegal gambling under state law. These illegal operations often are magnets for other crime at the local level and generally target a vulnerable low-income clientele.

Sweepstakes gambling enterprises are a nationwide problem and are estimated to earn over $10 billion a year.

Mosquitoes test positive for West Nile virus in Alameda County

SUBMITTED BY ERIKA CASTILLO

The Alameda County Mosquito Abatement Dis-tract has received confirmation from the State of two West Nile virus positive groups of mosquitoes. Both groups of mosquitoes were collected from the northern part of Fremont on the night of July 22. In addition, there have been five West Nile virus positive birds found in Fremont this year.

The District has greatly increased surveillance and larval control efforts throughout the areas with positive West Nile virus detections. Every effort is being made to locate areas of standing water where mosquitoes may breed including but not limited to catchbasins, stormdrain systems, and swimming pools. Neglected swimming pools continue to be a mosquito breeding issue in Alameda County. If you or anyone you know has an unmaintained swim-ming pool please inform the District so the proper treatment can be made.

“A single neglected swimming pool can produce thousands of mosquitoes capable of spreading West Nile virus,” says District Manager Ryan Clausnitzer. “We can provide free mosquitofish or treatments to prevent mosquito breeding.”

As of July 27, California has had 247 dead birds, 756 mosquito samples, 43 sentinel chickens, and 1 human test positive for West Nile virus. The human case did result in a fatality and the positive number of both mosquitoes and sentinel chickens is higher than this time last year.

Reduce the risk of contracting mosquito-borne diseases by following these guidelines:

DUMP/DRAIN standing water on your prop-erty because that is where mosquitoes develop.

DAWN/DUSK is when mosquito activity peaks, so limit outdoor activities during this time.

DEFEND yourself when mosquitoes are biting by wearing long pants and long-sleeved shirts and apply insect repellent containing EPA-registered ac-tive ingredients such as DEET, Picaridin, IR3535, and Oil of lemon eucalyptus.

DOOR/window screens should be in good repair with no tears or holes.

West Nile virus is transmitted to people and ani-mals through the bite of an infected mosquito. There is no cure for West Nile virus. Approximately one in five people who are infected with West Nile virus will develop symptoms such as fever, headache, body aches, joint pains, vomiting, or rash. Less than one percent will develop a serious neuro-logical illness such as encephalitis or meningitis. Adults over 50 years old and people with compro-mised immune systems are at increased risk of seri-ous complications. Anyone who develops symptoms should seek medical care immediately.

Horses are very susceptible to West Nile virus and vaccines are available. Horse owners are advised to contact their veterinarians regarding timely vacci-nations.

For information about mosquitoes and West Nile virus, visit www.mosquitoes.org.

Wealth gap examined in documentary

SUBMITTED BY REV. JEFFREY SPENCER

The Second Saturday Documentary Series at Niles Discovery Church presents, “Inequality for All,” on Saturday, August 8.

The American economist, author, and professor Robert Reich ex-amines the widening income inequality in the United States and offers his remedies in this 2013 documentary. At the heart of the film are two simple questions: What is a good society? What role does the widening income gap play in the deterioration of the nation’s economic health?

“We’re in the biggest economic slump since the Great Depression,” says Professor Reich, “and we can’t seem to get out of it. Why? Be-cause, exactly as in the 1920s, so much of the nation’s income and wealth are going to the top, that the vast middle class doesn’t have the purchasing power to keep the economy going.”

Reich says that people are stressed and angry in no small part to ris-ing debts. “Until we can take a step back and understand the big pic-ture, we can’t do anything to get ourselves out of this mess,” says Reich. “Our democracy as we know it depends on it. One of the best ways to help people understand the challenges we face, is with a movie that can grab an audience and move them to action. And this movie will do exactly that.”

A discussion will follow the free screening.

The Second Saturday Documentary Series is co-sponsored by Niles Discovery Church, Tri-City Perspectives, and the San Jose Peace & Justice Center.

AP WIRE SERVICE

NEWARK, New Jersey (AP), A man who left his $100,000 diamond-encrusted watch at a Newark Liberty International Airport security checkpoint is getting it back via special delivery.

The Transportation Security Administration says the watch was picked up Thursday by a colleague of the Japanese real estate entrepreneur who left it behind. The friend planned to fly to Japan later Thursday to hand deliver it.

Guards at the airport accustomed to having travelers leave behind sunglasses and stuffed animals found the one-of-a-kind Cartier watch in a bin Tuesday. The owner had already boarded a flight to Japan.

The watch was kept under lock and key until it was retrieved.

Officials say the owner contacted them and that they used security images showing him wearing the timepiece to verify the claim.

NorCal Junior Little League Tournament

Gilroy and Oakland start Junior NorCal Tournament with a bang

The 2015 Junior Division 2 (NorCal) tournament started on July 25th with a bang as teams from Gilroy and Oakland battled for 10 Innings before Gilroy came out on top 9-7. The game began quietly as neither team scored until the fourth inning when Oakland broke the scoreless deadlock on Jason Staples two-out, two run single. The score remained 2-0 through six innings as Oakland starter Benjamin Seashore-Hopson kept the Gilroy offense off balance and off of the scoreboard.

But Gilroy broke through in the top of the seventh inning as Connor Villanueva hit a clutch one-out double to drive home two runs to tie the score. Seashore-Hopson then retired the side without further damage and the game went into extra innings. Gilroy scored a run in the top of the eighth inning as Villanueva rapped out his second hit of the game and eventually scored on a wild pitch. Oakland came right back and tied the game 3-3 as Ryland Henke scored the tying run on an infield out.

After a scoreless ninth inning, both offenses came to life as a total of 10 runs were scored in the tenth inning alone. Gilroy scored six runs in the top of the tenth inning with the big hits coming from the bats of Jo Jo Agulera and David Martinez who both contributed doubles to the rally. Despite being down 9-3, the feisty Oakland team did not give up. Key hits by Henry Quintella, Aaron Gonzalez and Sam Silvera brought home four runs to cut the deficit to 9-7. But with the potential tying runs on base, Silvera was thrown out trying to steal second base to end the very entertaining game.

One inning is the difference as College Glen Downs Porterville in the opening round of Junior NorCal Tournament

College Glen (Sacramento) only scored in one inning in their game against Porterville but that one rally plated all eight of their runs in an 8-2 first round victory in the 2015 Junior Division (NorCal) tournament. Porterville jumped out to an early 2-0 lead as Santiago Sanchez lined out a two-run double in the first inning off of College Glen starting pitcher Ewan Armstrong. But Armstrong toughened up and pitched scoreless ball from the second through the sixth innings picking up eight strikeouts along the way.

His teammate's bats were relatively quiet against Porterville starting pitcher Derek Harris through the first four innings. But with the score 2-0, the College Glen offense exploded for eight runs in the fifth inning to take an 8-2 lead that they would not relinquish. The rally was highlighted by Armstrong who helped his own cause with a two-run double. With an 8-2 lead, Kimo Kawelo pitched a scoreless three up, three down seventh inning for College Glen to secure the 8-2 victory.

Spreckels Park Builds early lead and holds on to down South Siskiyou in Junior NorCal Tournament opener Spreckels Park (Manteca) built up an early 4-0 lead and held on for a 6-4 victory over South Siskiyou in the opening round of the 2015 Junior Division (NorCal) tournament. Spreckels Park scored four runs in the second inning with a two-run single off the bat of S Blyth being the big blow of the inning. C Cruz also drove in run with a single in the inning. R Diaz, Spreckels Park starting pitcher, held the South Siskiyou bats in check as he allowed only one hit through the first four innings. South Siskiyou broke into the scoring column in the top of the fifth inning as they plated two runs to cut Spreckels Park lead to 4-2 with Kekai's Furgerson's run scoring double being the key hit of the rally. Spreckels Park bounced right back with a run of their own in the bottom of the fifth inning to take a 5-2 lead. South Siskiyou then tightened the game up with a two-run rally in the top of the sixth inning with Kaden Riccoumini delivering a key double. But Spreckels Park came right back and tallied a run of their own in the bottom of the sixth inning to take a 6-4 lead with C Cruz delivering a timely double, his third hit of the game. South Siskiyou rallied right back in the top of the seventh inning and had the bases loaded when Spreckels Park reliever J Ortiz-Martinez caught a pop up to end the contest.

Little League Junior Division II (NorCal) Tournament – Day 2

Gilroy consistent Offense and strong pitching result in 9-4 victory over Pleasanton

JoJo Agulera pitched five and two-thirds innings of shutout baseball and his teammates scored in every inning except the first as Gilroy advanced in the winner's bracket of the 2015 Junior Division II tournament in Fremont. Agulera allowed only three base runners on two hits and a walk and he struck out five as he stifled the Pleasanton bats. Agulera also led the Gilroy offense as he rapped out two doubles, scored two runs and drove in another. The Gilroy offense was aided by 13 walks and two hit batters as six of their runners who scored reached base without the benefit of a hit.

Although down 9-0 entering the bottom of the last inning, Pleasanton did not give up. Tyler Carlson led off the inning with a booming home run over the left field fence to break up the shutout. The next four batters reached base on an error, two walks and a hit batter which cut the deficit to 9-2 and left the bases loaded. They did not remain loaded for long as Brayden Mahdavi lined a two-run single to cut the Gilroy lead to 9-4. After another hit batter reloaded the bases with one out, Gilroy's defense turned a slick 6-4-3 double play to end the contest.

Spreckels Park downs College Glen to remain in winner's bracket in Junior Division II Tournament

Slyder Blyth and Louis Aquila combined to pitch Spreckels Park past College Glen in a winner's bracket game in the 2015 Junior Division II tournament in Fremont. Blyth and Aquila limited College Glen to five hits and two runs and the College Glen defense played a strong game committing only one error.

Spreckels Park tallied the game's first run in the first inning as Derrick Kuwada drove home Blyth with a clutch two-out single. Spreckels Park added two runs in the third inning to take a 3-0 lead with Kuwada driving in Rafael Diaz run on an infield ground ball and Christian Cruz scoring on a College Glen error.

College Glen scored their first run in the fourth inning as Gabe Espinoza drove home Ewan Armstrong with a single. But Spreckels Park came right back and scored a run of their own in the top of the fifth inning as Cruz led off the inning with a long double, stole third base and came home on a College Glen error. College Glen answered back in their half of the fifth and cut the deficit to 4-2 as Kade McKechnie had a two-out single, was balked to second base and scored on Kenyon Bowyer's base hit. The Spreckels Park offense then put the game out of reach with a single run in the sixth inning and a pair of runs in the seventh inning and Aquila shut down a College Glen rally in the bottom of the seventh to move Spreckels Park forward in the winner's bracket.

South Siskiyou defeats Porterville, 7-2, to stay alive in Junior Division II Tournament

South Siskiyou used six pitchers to limit Porterville to two runs on four hits as they won their elimination bracket game, 6-2, in order to stay alive in the 2015 Junior Division II tournament in Fremont. Kaden Riccoumini proved to be the most effective South Siskiyou pitcher as he faced the first seven Porterville batters and struck out six using only 22 pitches. The South Siskiyou offense was slow to get started but they scored a single run in the second inning and then added three runs in the fourth inning with the big hit coming from Kayden Cvisci. They added two runs in the sixth inning on a sacrifice fly from the bat of Kekai Furgeson and a booming double by Gage Kinkade. South Siskiyou held on for a 6-2 victory on as Porterville scored a run in the bottom of the seventh inning and had the bases loaded when the final out was made as South Siskiyou catcher Abraham Barr made a fine catch of a pop up in foul territory to end the game.

Friday, July 24

At 6:09 p.m., Ofc. Todd and Ofc. Knutson responded to the area of Cherry Street and Clark Avenue for a report of a male and female in a physical altercation. Ofc. Todd contacted and arrested a 20-year-old male from Hayward for domestic violence and violating a domestic violence restraining order. The suspect was transported and booked into Santa Rita Jail.

Saturday, July 25

At 3:04 p.m., officers responded to Fremont Chrysler, located at 39639 Balentine Dr. Ofc. Rodgers investigated a fraud case involving a male who was attempting to purchase a $75,000 car using someone else's identity. The suspect had been negotiating with the dealership for the past few days trying to get a better deal. The dealership became suspicious and called to report a possible fraud case. Ofc. Rodgers researched the victim's name and learned the name came back to a male who lived in Southern California. A phone call confirmed he had not purchased any vehicles or attempted to purchase a vehicle in Newark. On Saturday, July 25, 2015, the suspect returned and attempted to complete the purchase of the vehicle. The suspect provided false W-2 documents along with fake insurance paperwork and fake pay stubs in the name of the victim. The 31-year-old male suspect was contacted and detained at the dealership without incident. Ofc. Rodgers continued his investigation and determined the victim's information was used to purchase a brand new 2015 Chevy Camaro Z28. Napa Chevrolet reported the Camaro as stolen. Ofc. Rodgers contacted OnStar who located the vehicle in Vallejo. Vallejo Police Department (VPD) located the vehicle and arrested the vehicle's occupant. Ofc. Rodgers also determined the vehicle that dropped off his arrestee at the Newark Chevrolet dealership was a reported stolen 2016 Nissan 370 Z out of VPD from Saturday, July 25, 2015. Ofc. Rodgers was able to locate the Nissan 370 Z in the Holiday Inn parking lot in Dublin. With the assistance of Dublin Police Department, a 27-year-old male from Clayton was arrested entering the stolen Nissan. Ofc. Rodgers' original arrestee was later determined to have given a false name (his brother's). When his identity was confirmed it was determined he had a felony warrant for identity theft.

At 12:02 a.m., Ofc. Khairy investigated a residential ransack that occurred at a residence in the 7800 block of Peachtree Avenue between 8:00 pm-12:00 a.m. Entry was made through a shattered rear door. The contents of the house were deliberately vandalized but there was no apparent loss.

Sunday, July 26

At 11:46 a.m., Ofc. Nobbe investigated an elder abuse case involving an elderly mother and her 59-year-old daughter. The victim reported she was being physically abused by her daughter. The 59-year-old female from Newark was arrested for 368(b) (1) and 368(f) PC. She was booked at Santa Rita Jail.

At 3:53 p.m., officers responded to a reported automobile collision, vehicle versus pole, at the intersection of Cherry Street and Central Avenue. Ofc. Losier arrived on scene and located a female on the curb. The female had suffered a laceration to her face and an injury to her lower left leg. A second female, identified as 30-year-old San Jose resident, was located hiding behind a building at 6520 Central Ave. She was later identified as the driver. A records check of the vehicle found it was a stolen vehicle out of San Jose. A search of the vehicle found a pipe used to smoke narcotics. Due to the injuries of both females, they were transported to a local hospital for treatment and the investigation will be forwarded to the district attorney's office for complaint

At 9:09 p.m., Ofc. Simon responded to the 37000 block Sycamore Street to continue to investigate a domestic violence incident that occurred on Saturday, July 25, 2015. The victim suffered a traumatic injury to her head. A 26-year-old male from Newark was arrested for domestic violence. He was transported to Fremont Jail.

Monday, July 27

At 4:09 p.m., Ofc. Nobbe investigated a commercial burglary in the 39600 block of Eureka Drive. The business reported they had networking equipment stolen from their business. The incident occurred over the weekend.

Tuesday, July 28

At 8:27 p.m., Ofc. Geser investigated an indecent exposure incident that occurred from a window of the residential area above Jacques Lounge on Thornton Avenue. A 64-year-old male, who is a registered sex offender from Newark, was placed under citizen's arrest for indecent exposure and booked at Santa Rita Jail.

SWIFTER HIGHER STRONGER

BUGS WITH RECORD-BREAKING ABILITIES!

SWIFTER! Fastest Runner

Australian tiger beetles are the fastest running insects known. One of the fastest was clocked at 2.5 meters per second (5.6 miles per hour). They run about 170 times their body length per second.

If I could travel 170 times my own body length per second, how far would I be able to run in a second?

If you're 4 feet tall, 680 feet per second!

CHALLENGE: If someone could travel at the rate of 680 feet per second, how many feet would they travel in one minute?

STRONGER! Lifting Champ

Is a rhinoceros beetle stronger than an elephant?

Surprisingly, for its size, the rhinoceros beetle is much stronger than an elephant.

An elephant can carry up to 25% of its own weight on its back. The rhinoceros beetle can carry an amazing 850 times its own weight! That would be like an elephant carrying 850 elephants on its back.

Flea	150
Frog	20
Kitten	3
Kangaroo	4.5

Stage 1 delivers a shining Aladdin, Jr.

Welcome to Agrabah, City of Enchantment, where every beggar has a story and every camel has a tail! All of your favorite characters are here in "Disney's Aladdin, Jr.," a stage adaptation of the Disney hit film. While "Disney's Aladdin, Jr." is a shorter version of the original material, fans of the movie won't miss out on anything essential. The tuneful, accessible Academy Award-winning score, with songs by Alan Menken, Howard Ashman, and Tim Rice, including "A Whole New World" and "Friend Like Me," will send audiences soaring.

The story focuses on a poor street urchin named Aladdin who falls in love with a beautiful princess, Jasmine, winning her hand and vanquishing the villainous Jafar and his sidekick parrot Iago with the help of a Genie. It's a fantastic tale of the street rat who became a prince! The beautiful vibrant costumes were outshined only by the performers themselves. The sets were simple, but worked well for the outdoor amphitheatre.

Jafar, who is usually played by a tall menacing actor, was brilliantly cast and played by Aaron Gonzalez who is short in stature but bigger than life onstage. Alaynah Gonzalez as Jafar's sidekick Iago had just enough sarcasm with great timing. Kaedin Silva played the title role superbly as the charming and endearing Aladdin, and Gabrielle Poma was the stunningly beautiful Princess Jasmine; you would have thought she walked right out of the Disney movie! Both had wonderful chemistry.

Adriannah Gonzalez filled big shoes playing the Genie, being a fan favorite when portrayed by the late Robin Williams, and did the role justice with some quick-witted humor and lots of energy. Two characters that did an excellent job without saying a word were Zoe Hall (Magic Carpet) and Maya Williams (Abu) by delivering their emotions with only facial expression and body language. The 5 Harem girls "narrating" the production were spot on and the 5 Little Harems were just a joy to watch!

Stage 1's 38 performers under the age of 18 make up this wonderful ensemble. The large production numbers "Prince Ali" and "A Friend Like Me" are stunning to watch with the energetic dance numbers and bright colorful costumes. This is a musical the whole family will enjoy!
