Olive Festival

Mission San Jose Chamber of Commerce presents the 14th annual Olive Festival – the premier event in the Mission San Jose District – on Saturday and Sunday, October 3 and 4 at the Dominican Grounds behind the historic Old Mission San Jose museum. This year the festival will be expanded to a full weekend, with at least 25 vendors offering olive oil, honey and a wide variety of other items. Local bands and artists such as Dixie Dominus, Georgi and the Rough Week, Ron Thompson, Incendio and Tempest will provide entertainment on both days. Other activities include games, arts and crafts, and projects at the Kid's Booth, as well as raffle prizes donated by local businesses. Food trucks will be onsite to tickle your taste buds, and a beer garden will offer brews.

Adding olives and olive oil to your diet has many health benefits. The olive fruit produces oil, which is commonly used in cooking, cosmetics, pharmaceuticals, and soaps. According to the Mayo Clinic, olive oil is a com-

St. Rose Hospital hosts

'An Evening in Motown'

ST. ROSE HOSPITAL

St. Rose Hospital Foundation is excited to invite the community to its 27th annual Spectacular on October 3 to support the independent, community hospital.

St. Rose's roots began more than 60 years ago, in 1953, when Hayward residents began a hospital building fund; a local Catholic priest then contacted the Sisters of St. Joseph Wichita, Kansas, asking them to sponsor a hospital in Hayward. With the Sisters' sponsorship through Via Christi Health System, the hospital opened its doors on October 22, 1962. However, in 2005, St. Rose separated from Via Christi, becoming an independent, nonprofit hospital.

The St. Rose Hospital Foundation was created in 1977 to manage donations and gifts to the hospital. Since its launch, the Foundation has raised over 18 million dollars at its annual events, such as A Taste of Style, Charity Golf Classic, and The Spectacular, the Foundation's premier black tie event. This year's Spectacular theme is "An Evening in Motown," and the Foundation is ready for some oldies fun.

Manufacturers assemble once again for MFG Day

BY ROBBIE FINLEY

Manufacturing-based companies all over the East Bay are opening their doors and inviting the public in as the fourth annual "Manufacturing Day" (MFG Day) kicks off Friday, October 2.

MFG Day's goals are simple – to educate students and the local community about how the manufacturing industry operates today and dispel popular misconceptions about it. The Rockford, Illinois-based Fabricators & Manufacturers Association (FMA) is one of many organizations that help coordinate MFG Day across North America. Patricia Lee, FMA's director of marketing, is excited for this year's slate of events, especially the amount happening in the East Bay. "Fremont is on fire this year! I was blown away by the number of events," Lee said, adding, "It's really important for (people) to see what happens in these facilities that contribute to the economy." MFG Day will indeed have a huge presence here, with a total of 15 events scheduled in Fremont and two in San Leandro.

Giving back: True North for volunteers at Washington Hospital

For some of the Washington Hospital Service League volunteers, “giving back” means giving back to the Hospital itself because of their own prior experience as a patient at the Hospital. For others, “giving back” is a broader view of giving back to the community and they have chosen the Hospital as the vehicle for a variety of personal reasons.

To celebrate the volunteers of the Washington Hospital Service League and their invaluable contributions, a special 60th Anniversary luncheon will be held 12 noon – 2 p.m. (11 a.m. reception) on Tuesday, October 13, in the Tent at Washington West, 2500 Mowry Avenue, Fremont. All past and current Service League volunteers are encouraged to attend and to celebrate the Service League’s impressive accomplishments these past 60 years. Special guests will include former Service League presidents.

A volunteer for the past 12 years, Marina Fleming sold her telecommunications repair business and decided, now that she had some time, to see about volunteering at the Hospital. She had trained as a nurse in school and thought the Hospital would be a good match for her skills and volunteering interests.

A self-described “people-person,” Marina works in the Hospital gift shop several days a month. “We are the extra pair of hands and feet for the staff, doing the small jobs that have to be done,” she explains.

“Volunteers also can take the extra time to listen to patients or to concerned family members,” she said. “We can sit and listen and provide comfort and unlike Hospital staff members who have other patients and many responsibilities, we can spend as much time as needed with someone who might just want to talk about what’s worrying them.”

Cherie Gamardo, a 15-year volunteer, became involved after having had knee surgery at the Institute for Joint Replacement and Research on the Washington Hospital campus. “I had such a good experience with my knee replacement that I thought I should focus my volunteer interests with the Hospital.”

Cherie spends most of her volunteer hours in the Institute for Joint Restoration and Research helping patients with physical therapy. “We act as coaches for the patients, encouraging them with their exercises so they can go home.”

Marina Fleming, Service League volunteer for 12 years

Cherie Gamardo, Service League volunteer for 15 years.

Nancy Pagan, Service League volunteer for 32 years.

In addition to the specific benefits of volunteering, many volunteers have made new, close friends with other volunteers. “You meet other people who have the same interests and concerns that you have,” Cherie said. “They are there because they want to give back to the community and the Hospital, just as you do.”

Nancy Pagan, who has been a volunteer for 32 years, says she enjoys being of help to the staff and supporting the Hospital and her community — as well as interacting with the public that comes to the Hospital. She works at the welcome desk several days a month greeting visitors, providing directions and information, taking flowers and other gifts to patients and helping with patient discharges.

All three women have served on the Service League Board of Directors and all have served terms as Board President.

Additionally, each undertakes other activities on behalf of the Service League. Nancy also volunteers with the Washington Hospital Healthcare Foundation and with organizing the annual Gene Angelo Pessagno Memorial Golf Tournament, which raises significant funds for Hospital programs and needed equipment.

Cherie works with fellow volunteers to prepare commemorative birth certificates and make the “Magic Hankie and Pinkie Puppets,” felt hand puppets given to each newborn as the family leaves the Hospital. She also volunteers for a pilot program to assist patients in the medical imaging department.

And Marina has volunteered in the emergency department and with the Washington Hospital Healthcare Foundation. She is also involved in other Hospital activities not directly related to the Service League.

Reservations for the 60th Anniversary Luncheon may be obtained by contacting Washington Hospital Volunteer Services at (510) 791-3465. Past presidents and current adult volunteers are invited to the 60th Anniversary Luncheon as guests of Washington Hospital. Past volunteers are invited to attend the luncheon for $10.

Additional information on how to become a Washington Hospital Service League volunteer may be obtained on the Washington Hospital website: whhs.com or by calling (510) 791-3465.

Editor’s note: This is the third in a series of six articles about the history and accomplishments of the Washington Hospital Service League.

Washington Hospital's 7th Annual 'Think Pink' Event Offers Breast Health Education and Support

For the seventh year in a row, Washington Hospital is hosting its free Think Pink event to coincide with National Breast Cancer Awareness Month in October. Think Pink offers women the latest information on breast health, breast cancer screening guidelines and breast cancer treatments.

The event is scheduled for Thursday, October 15, from 5 to 7:30 p.m. in the Tent Atrium at Washington West – located at 2500 Mowry Avenue in Fremont. Guest speakers at the program will include:

• Dr. Vandana Sharma, medical director of Washington Hospital's Oncology Program and Genetic Counseling Program. A medical oncologist, Dr. Sharma will provide an update on services offered at the Washington Women's Center's nationally accredited breast center. She also will discuss genetic testing and counseling for women at high risk for breast cancer.

• Dr. Prasad Kilaru, medical director of the Washington Center for Wound Healing and Hyperbaric Medicine and the Washington Hand Center. A board-certified general and plastic surgeon, Dr. Kilaru will talk about breast reconstruction after prophylactic (preventive) mastectomy and various surgical techniques for breast reconstruction.

• Dr. Ingrid Oakley-Girvan, a research scientist at the Cancer Prevention Institute of California, located in Fremont. She will discuss new developments in breast cancer research as well as quality of life and general health issues for women recuperating from breast cancer.

• Nachal Bhangal, a registered dietitian on the staff at Washington Hospital. She will talk about how proper nutrition can help reduce the risks for breast cancer and the importance of good nutrition for women recovering from breast cancer treatments.

Dr. Victoria Leiphart, a board-certified gynecologist on the medical staff at Washington Hospital, will serve as emcee of this year's Think Pink event. Dr. Leiphart also is a member of the American College of Lifestyle Medicine and the North American Menopause Society. In addition to her gynecology practice, Dr. Leiphart teaches a wellness class at the Washington Women's Center – "Restoring Balance" – a four-week program focusing on meditation, mindfulness, exercise, nutrition and stress reduction.

"Think Pink is a great opportunity for women to learn more about taking care of themselves and to talk with experts in breast cancer diagnosis and treatment," Dr. Leiphart says. "The event has a general focus on preventive care and overall wellness. In addition to presentations by our guest speakers, we will offer mini-classes and demonstrations of various services offered at the Women's Center, including Wellness Massage, Mindful Meditation and Yoga, 'Healing Touch' for women undergoing chemotherapy and Zumba Gold – a modified, lower-intensity Zumba dance exercise program."

Participants at the Think Pink event also will have the opportunity to speak

The seventh annual Think Pink event is a free event for community members to learn about breast health. Additionally, there will be wellness resources including mini-classes and demonstrations, such as wellness massages (pictured above), meditation, yoga and Zumba Gold. Think Pink will take place on Thursday, October 15, from 5 to 7:30 p.m. in the tent atrium at Washington West, located at 2500 Mowry Avenue in Fremont. To register, visit whhs.com or call (800) 963-7070.

with representatives of various organizations, including:

- The Washington Women's Center.
- The HERS Breast Cancer Foundation, including its Bras for Body and Soul program, which offers specialty products for women dealing with breast cancer and other related issues.
- The American Cancer Society.
- Drivers for Survivors, which provides free rides to medical appointments.
- The Washington Hospital Radiation Oncology Department.
- The Washington Township Medical Foundation.

The Washington Women's Center offers a variety of advanced diagnostic services as well as numerous wellness and support programs for women in the community. The Women's Center was designated a Breast Imaging Center of Excellence in June 2012 by the American College of Radiology. The Women's Center also is accredited by the National Accreditation Program for Breast Centers, a non-governmental not-for-profit organization established to identify and recognize breast centers that provide the best possible care to patients with breast disease.

At the Women's Center, women with an abnormal screening mammography are able to obtain diagnostic mammography within three days. Sometimes the Women's Center is able to get the patient in for a diagnostic mammography the same day. The median time from abnormal diagnostic mammography to diagnosis is seven days.

Heartburn vs. Heart Attacks and Is My Migraine an Aneurysm?

Dear Doctor,

How does one know if chest pain is related to a heart attack or is just heartburn?

Dear Reader,

Sometimes it can be very difficult to distinguish between heartburn and a heart attack. Some of the telling symptoms of a heart attack include pain that radiates down the left arm or up into the left jaw, or is accompanied by shortness of breath. Heartburn usually comes on after a meal that is rich or spicy and stays mostly in the mid portion of the lower chest. If you or someone you know is experiencing bad chest pain, a trip to the emergency room is the best way to be sure.

Dear Doctor,

How do I know that my migraine headaches are not brain aneurysms?

Dear Reader,

Brain aneurysms are much less common than migraine headaches. Headaches (migraines included) generally have triggers (stress, dehydration, lack of sleep, etc.) and are most often reoccurring. In contrast, aneurysms have no symptoms unless they begin to bleed. When this happens the headache is generally much worse than the reoccurring migraine you may have experienced. If you are concerned, you should discuss your symptoms with your doctor to be sure that further testing is not necessary.

Which Medicare Plan is Right for You?

Washington Hospital Seminars Help You
Examine Your Options During Open Enrollment

If you are enrolled in Medicare, the upcoming open enrollment period is a good time to examine your options. Is your plan right for you? Have there been any changes in the last year that affect your coverage? You can learn more about the options available to you at three upcoming seminars.

Washington Hospital will present "Get to Know Your Medicare Options" on Wednesday, October 7, from 6 to 8 p.m. "Medicare Part D Prescription Plan Update for Open Enrollment" will be held on Monday, October 12, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., and "Medicare Open Enrollment: What You Need to Know" is scheduled for Wednesday, October 14, from 1 to 3 p.m. The free seminars will be held at the Conrad E. Anderson, M.D. Auditorium, located at 2500 Mowry Avenue (Washington West) in Fremont. Register online at www.whhs.com or call (800) 963-7070 for more information.

"It's important to review your Medicare Part D prescription drug plan or your Advantage Plan every year because the plan that is good for you one year may not be the best plan for you the next," said presenter Kristi Caracappa, health insurance information service coordinator at Washington Hospital. "Some plans change and new plans become available."

Caracappa will provide updates on any new changes to Medicare, Medicare Part D, and Medicare Advantage Plans. At the Medicare Part D seminar, she will provide more details about how the prescription drug plans work and what you need to consider when evaluating the different plans, such as what your annual out-of-pocket expenses will be with each plan.

Washington Hospital's Health Insurance Information Service coordinator, Kristi Caracappa is leading free community seminars about Medicare options, Medicare open enrollment and Medicare's prescription plan open enrollment. The seminars will be held at the Conrad E. Anderson, MD, Auditorium, located at 2500 Mowry Avenue in Fremont. To register or for seminar information, go to www.whhs.com or call (800) 963-7070.

Who is Eligible for Medicare

You qualify for Medicare when you turn 65, or earlier if you have a disability. You need to have worked at least 10 years throughout your lifetime. If you didn't work long enough, you may be eligible through your spouse.

At the time of enrollment, you can choose a Medicare plan that best suits your needs, such as a Medicare Advantage Plan or a Medigap Plan. If you're already enrolled in Medicare, you have the opportunity to review your Part D prescription drug plan each year during open enrollment. It's also the time to take a look at your Medicare Advantage Plan if you have one. This year open enrollment runs from October 15 through December 7.

Medicare can be a bit confusing with the different parts and options that are available, Caracappa acknowledged. Medicare comes in four parts: A, B, C, and D. Original Medicare includes Part A and Part B.

Part A is hospital insurance and covers most medically necessary care by a hospital or skilled nursing facility as well as home health and hospice care.

Part B is medical insurance and covers most medically necessary doctors' services, preventive care, medical equipment, hospital outpatient services, laboratory tests, x-rays, mental health care, and some home health and ambulance services.

Part D provides outpatient prescription drug coverage. Part D is provided through private insurance companies that are approved by Medicare.

Which Medicare Plan is Right for You?

Washington Hospital Seminars Help You
Examine Your Options During Open Enrollment

Advantage Plans

You can choose to get your Medicare coverage through a Medicare Advantage Plan, which is Part C, instead of Original Medicare with a Medigap Plan or supplement. Medicare Advantage Plans are health plans offered by private insurance companies such as health maintenance organizations (HMO) or preferred provider organizations (PPO). Most offer prescription drug coverage.

"If you have a Medicare Advantage Plan that includes a Part D prescription drug plan, you do not enroll in a separate Part D prescriptions drug plan," Caracappa explained. "That's why it is important review both your Medicare Part D and your Advantage Plan during the open enrollment period."

There will be a question-and-answer session at the end of each seminar and attendees who want additional assistance can set up an appointment to review their plans with Caracappa through Washington Hospitals' Health Insurance Information Service. The free and confidential service can provide you with all the information you need to make an informed decision about your health insurance, including Medicare.

Calperf recalls chicken product

SUBMITTED BY USDA FOOD SAFETY SVS

Calperf operating under Creative Foods, a Santa Clara establishment, is recalling approximately 216 pounds of chicken product due to misbranding and an undeclared allergen, as the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food Safety and Inspection Service (FSIS) announced on September 25. The product contains yogurt derived from milk, a known allergen, which is not declared on the product label. While yogurt is declared on the front label, the product is missing an ingredient list identifying milk as a sub-ingredient.

The marinated skinless chicken item was produced on September 16, 2015. The following product is subject to recall:

2-lb. sealed trays of "Green Meadows Premium Meat Cuts Marinated Skinless Chicken Bone-In Cubed Chicken in 23 percent Yogurt-Curry Marinade" with a use-by date/Case code date of September 30, 2015.

The product subject to recall bears the establishment number "P-6052" inside the USDA mark of inspection. The item was shipped to retailers in the San Francisco, California Bay Area.

The problem was discovered by FSIS personnel during routine verification tasks.

There have been no confirmed reports of adverse reactions due to consumption of these products. Anyone concerned about an injury or illness should contact a healthcare provider.

Consumers who have purchased these products are urged not to consume them. These products should be thrown away or returned to the place of purchase.

FSIS routinely conducts recall effectiveness checks to verify recalling firms notify their customers of the recall and that steps are taken to make certain that the product is no longer available to consumers.

Consumers with questions about the recall can call 1-(925) 506-8286.

Safe Alternatives to Violent Environments' (SAVE) teen advocacy group Stronger Than You Think (STYT) is busy. Preparing for the "Eye Opener Breakfast" on October 2 is just one of their activities. Why are they aiming their efforts at violent environments? Teens today are learning there are lots of ways to be hurt. Only a generation ago, violence meant a physical attack. What violence means today is still evolving; it's physical, verbal, mental, and emotional, and it can come at teens in all these ways, including from cyberspace or on a date.

STYT grew from the early efforts of a group of Fremont students who got together several years ago to discuss the issue of date violence. They wanted to bring the message of Loves Me, Loves Me Not (MLMN), another SAVE youth program that will be highlighted at the Eye Opener Breakfast. The school-based curriculum, taught primarily to 9th grade students as part of their health class, reached over 10 thousand students in the past two years alone. Topics covered in this innovative and interactive presentation include signs of dating violence, how to get help, how to safely help a peer, available resources, setting healthy boundaries and more. With one in four youth experiencing some form of dating violence in their teen years, this is an issue that can't be ignored. LMLMN is designed to empower teens with the knowlon-campus and off-campus activities via such efforts as an art contest/exhibit, talent show, information tables, participating in community events like parades and Farmers' Markets, and painting a utility box as part of Fremont's BoxART! program.

Teens who dedicate a year of volunteer service to STYT are doing all they can to make sure students know there are alternatives to dating violence. Director of clinical and prevention services Yasmine Safinya-Davies, Psy. D. (Yasi to the teens in STYT) coordinates their activities toward this goal. "Hopefully, the more information about dating violence that reaches the community, the more easily parents and teens will be able to discuss building relationships they deserve," said Dr. Safinya-Davies.

Tina Fernandez, SAVE director of community engagement, said, "STYT teen advocates are not spending a year trying to raise funds, they are raising awareness." Throughout their volunteer service year, the teens meet for two hours, twice each month; whether huddled together over half-finished posters or receiving training, they have fun working on serious business.

SAVE's upcoming 13th annual Eye Opener Breakfast is both a delicious and social way to raise public consciousness about dating violence, and to honor and celebrate the work of their teen advocates. The breakfast will highlight SAVE's work to teach youth healthy relationship skills for life, and allow Mission San Leyva (D-Chino), author of SB 592, the Healthy Relationships and Safe Schools Act, will share her vision for campus and student safety as Keynote Speaker.

In the midst of preparing last minute artwork for Newark Days, some of the STYT teens talked about being advocates. Nahashah, a senior at MSHS, spoke about how she became aware of the group. "STYT began at Mission, where I attend, and it was about half as big as it is now when I joined; only about six students. Yasi contacted our principal and some counselors with information about STYT and they announced to students that applications were available. So, in the beginning administrators reached out to us." Catherine, a junior at HIS, spoke up, "We've more than doubled in size since then because MHS students like Nahashah visited Irvington and invited us to join them."

Daniel, an IHS senior, added, "Our efforts were launched by Yasi but we are making it grow. One of our past advocates, now at UCLA, established a STYT group there. I would do the same thing if I found nothing available on campus after leaving here. Being involved with others and the community in date violence prevention is something I don't want to leave behind."

Links to LMLMN, STYT, counseling sources for individuals and families as well as information about drop-in groups, advocacy workshops, classes and events can be found at <http://save-dv.org/>. Proceeds from the breakfast will benefit SAVE's many programs and services, including their 30-bed emergency shelter, youth programs, counseling, 24-hour Hotline, and more.

edge and skills needed to have healthy relationships for life. Because many teens are more receptive to messaging from peers, STYT members seek to provide support to one another and build awareness with both

Jose (MSJHS) and Irvington High School (IHS) students to present a multimedia project documenting their activities. Dr. Safinya-Davies will speak about SAVE's youth program, and California State Senator Connie

Manufacturers assemble once again for MFG Day

The modern manufacturing industry is no longer simply conveyor belts and people in safety gear. It has evolved and become multifaceted, a fact that is very apparent in the types of manufacturers that have made the East Bay their home.

AlterG, a Fremont-based manufacturer known for its anti-gravity treadmill, will be staging tours and presentations of their cutting edge medical products. They will demonstrate their products and host presentations from AlterG employees, who come from a variety of backgrounds –former military to those with PhDs. Vice President of Operations Mike Phillips explained that it's important to demonstrate how manufacturing can be home to all types of people, even those without direct manufacturing experience. He also wants visitors to know that the manufacturing industry has more entry-level jobs with higher pay than many other industries. "Everything is built here in Fremont... You can make a living working in manufacturing," he said.

Another organization participating in MFG Day is the Reshoring Institute, a nonprofit organization whose mission is to return manufacturers to the U.S. The institute is partnering with Evolve Manufacturing Technologies, a successful Fremont-based contract manufacturer, to conduct facility tours and promote the modern face of manufacturing. "For MFG Day, because we're focused on reshoring, we want to give as many students as possible exposure," explained Rosemary Coates, the Institute's executive director. "MFG Day is a big deal. It's up to us to change how we talk about manufacturing." The Evolve and Reshoring Institute co-event is scheduled for the day before MFG Day, on October 1. Evolve will host another facility tour and presentation the following day.

Alpha EMS, an electronics manufacturer in Fremont, is opening their doors to demonstrate their claim to fame – flexibility and service in the manufacturing world. "Our goal is to be the best," said Dave Kichar, senior vice president of business development. Visitors will see the manufacturing floor, where a wide variety of products are built for customers, including prototype development, assembly of circuit boards, and large-scale assemblies for mechanical, electromechanical, and medical industry clients. Alpha EMS builds system-level, high-end and high tech products of all shapes and sizes, Kichar noting, "Our products vary from two to three pounds to 500 pounds."

Echoing their sentiment is SNA Electronics, another Fremont-based contract manufacturer that provides its clients "one-stop, total solutions" manufacturing support from concept to production. "We transform electronic product designs into reality, to be utilized in the global marketplace," said Luis Hernandez, SNA's vice president of sales and marketing. SNA will be treating guests to facility tours and presentations as well.

Today's manufacturing looks much different than that of decades past. ALOM, a global supply chain management, exemplifies this point. "ALOM is not a typical manufacturer," said Marketing Communications Director Paul Hendrycks. "It's not blue collar and hard hats." ALOM produces, supplies, and ships clients' products – big name clients such as Ford, PG&E, and Bose. They wear many hats for their customers, who rely on ALOM for warehousing, manufacturing, and product shipments. "There are some really exciting careers in manufacturing and supply chain. It all comes down to advanced tech... it's pretty sophisticated these days," Hendrycks said. Visitors will be treated to 30-minute tours of the facility, with senior management on hand to answer questions.

Since kicking off in 2012, MFG Day has seen exponential growth in events throughout the country and beyond. With the advent of virtual events, participants can now experience MFG Day online, with virtual tours, question and answer sessions, and more.

Newark officials exclude alternatives for historic library

Other Bay Area cities have protected their civic buildings with architectural significance. Mill Valley similarly faced a choice between the needs of a growing city and a library of significant architectural value. But they did not replace their library that was designed by prominent architect Don Emmons. Instead, they thoughtfully integrated a 9,000 sq ft. addition onto the building and updated the original structure—30 years later. Simi-

The rationale for complete replacement is disingenuous. Modernization of the existing facility can be resolved through alternative means like expanding the library,

Thus, the City must order an independent study to evaluate the cost of expanding and upgrading the existing library. Second, the process to select an architect and site locations must be decided by well-publicized community meetings, rather than privately. Thirdly, any future community meetings related to any aspect of project must occur after 7 pm to allow more citizens to provide input.

Celebrate Hawaiian culture

SUBMITTED AND PHOTOS BY RACHEL KAHOALII

The Newark Memorial High School Athletic Boosters present the "2nd Annual Luau" on Saturday, October 3 at the Newark Pavilion. Enjoy a beautiful evening of dining and dancing in celebration of the Hawaiian culture and tradition.

The music will be played by Ho'omana, whose sound is instantly recognized with fresh arrangements of traditional and contemporary Hawaiian, rock 'n roll, oldies, country, reggae, and Christian songs with beautiful three-part harmonies. The group will be joined by dancers coming from Ke Kai O'Uthane of Monterey in entertaining our guests. Dinner menu includes kalua pig, teriyaki chicken, rice, macaroni salad, lomi lomi salmon and a variety of desserts.

The Luau started last year as a fundraiser to benefit Newark Memorial Athletics. The $45 ticket includes dinner and show. Tickets should be purchased by Wednesday, September 30 in the Athletic Office at Newark Memorial; however, there will be a limited amount available at the door. For tickets or other inquiries, contact rkahoalii@newarkunified.org.

Ad blockers rise as ads annoy, bog down websites

BY RYAN NAKASHIMA
AP BUSINESS WRITER

LOS ANGELES (AP), When you visit a website, you often find yourself waiting and waiting for advertisements to load. Video starts playing automatically, and animated ads jump in front of what you were there to see. The seconds tick by.

It doesn't have to be this way.

There are easy ways to block such annoyances, and Apple is now permitting apps that block ads in its Web browser for iPhones and iPads.

All this might help users navigate, but it also threatens the livelihood of websites and publishers that depend heavily on advertising revenue — companies like Google, Hulu and The New York Times. While the rise in ad blocking isn't causing panic yet, publishers and content creators are watching.

Already, some websites are taking steps to reduce the annoyance so users won't turn to ad blockers. They are also subverting the ones out there to make sure they get paid for delivering news and entertainment.

"It is possible to be too alarmist about ad blockers, but it's a very real phenomenon," said Joshua Benton, director of the Nieman Journalism Lab at Harvard University.

It's one thing if just 5 percent of iPhone users install an ad blocker; it's another if 80 percent do, Benton said. If today's ad practices get too annoying, he said, they could disappear just like pop-up windows, which many browsers now block automatically in response to consumers' annoyance with them.

Over the years, websites have been more aggressive at delivering ads that break through the noise and target specific customers more precisely. But websites are also filling unsold ad space by turning to ad brokers to deliver pitches that are less and less relevant.

Every little bit can slow down or freeze your browser.

"I think publishers got very out of hand in terms of what they put on," said Dean Murphy, 28, a Yarm, England, app developer who responded by creating Crystal, a $1 ad blocker for Apple devices.

Craig Smith, a 47-year-old website developer in Musselburgh, Scotland, said Twitter started showing him ads for adjustable waistband trousers not long after he and his followers discussed about how ridiculous his grandfather's trousers looked in a photo.

"All of a sudden you're getting hammered with stuff you've got no interest in," he said. "It just makes the whole browsing experience really unpleasant."

PageFair, a firm that seeks to counter ad blockers, says worldwide usage of ad blockers grew 41 percent from last year to nearly 200 million people. That's 6 percent of Internet users worldwide, including 16 percent in the U.S., 37 percent in Greece and 25 percent in Germany. PageFair estimates these tools will block nearly $22 billion in ad revenue this year and $41 billion next year.

The threats to websites are about to get bigger. The ability to block ads, long available on traditional computers, arrived on Apple's mobile devices with a recent software update, iOS 9. Apps with these capabilities — going by such names as Purify Blocker and Blockr — quickly became top sellers. These tools affect only the Safari browser and won't block ads inside apps such as Twitter, Facebook and Apple's own News app.

Google's Android system also allows ad blockers in Web browsers such as Firefox, as long as they don't affect unrelated apps.

Many websites already have countermeasures for ad blockers.

Hulu, for instance, simply replaces commercials with an unskippable message prompting you to turn your ad blocker off. Or, you can pay Hulu $12 a month to go ad-free.

Meanwhile, some companies are paying developers of ad blockers such as Adblock Plus for the right to bypass them. Companies that benefit a lot from search ads, like Google and Microsoft, pay for the privilege, the Financial Times reported. Microsoft declined to confirm the report.

Google didn't respond to requests for comment, although the list of Web addresses that get a pass includes many from Google. Hulu declined comment.

All this raises questions about the role of ad-blocking companies. Ad blockers streamline the user experience without contributing back to the digital economy, even as they seek to make money by charging websites for the right to nullify their impact. Smaller websites can get a free pass from ad blockers, but only if they forego revenue from video ads or other display ads deemed intrusive.

Perhaps there's another way — a truce, of sorts.

Some companies are trying to create a smoother experience to get at the root cause of consumer frustration.

Apple's News app, Facebook's Instant Articles and SnapChat's Discover all seek to speed up on-line journalism and cut back advertising, while sharing revenue with news outlets.

The New York Times has ads in Apple News, but it's looking for ways to make them less obtrusive. For instance, the Times says it's selling ads by time of day and encouraging marketers to tailor their messages accordingly, like making ads that help readers prepare for the day in the morning, but entertain them at night.

The Washington Post has been testing whether visitors with ad blockers installed would respond to being redirected to a page that asks them to pay for a subscription. And on Tuesday, the Post said all of its articles will be available through Facebook's new service for "lightning-fast" reading, sharing and commenting from Apple devices.

"The market wouldn't be robust for ad blockers if some ads weren't intrusive, creepy, hold you hostage or slow down your experience," said Jed Hartman, the Post's chief revenue officer. "Everything should be on the table: fewer ads, different types of ads, no ads."

Meanwhile, the industry group Interactive Advertising Bureau is pushing for "viewable" ads that load only when that part of the page is visible. That way, marketers don't pay for ads that aren't seen, and sites should load faster.

Randall Rothenberg, the group's CEO, called ad-blocking practices "definitely immoral and unethical," yet he acknowledged that consumers turn to blockers because they are fed up.

"Consumers are speaking and you've got to listen to them," he said.

CREAM to celebrate Fremont grand opening

SUBMITTED BY MARYBETH ST. PETERS

CREAM, a Bay Area-based dessert franchise that specializes in high-quality ice cream sandwiches and other confections, will open its doors in Fremont on Saturday, October 3. To celebrate the opening, free ice cream sandwiches will be given out from two p.m. to midnight, and there will be live entertainment and plenty of activities for guests to enjoy.

The new store, located at 43982 Pacific Commons Blvd. in The Block at Pacific Commons, will be owners Hamid Barakzai, Anshum Jain, and Jay Mujadadi's second location in Alameda County.

"Fremont is our hometown and it's where we grew up," said Jain. "It wasn't just the delicious and affordable product that attracted us to the brand, but the fun-loving and entertaining atmosphere that we want to continue sharing with the community."

"CREAM is a well-loved brand enthusiastically embraced by thousands of loyal customers across California and beyond," said CREAM president and COO Jim Ryan. "Since the opening of our first store in Berkeley five years ago, we've immersed ourselves into the fabric of many attractive communities, and we are thrilled to continue growing in the Northern California area."

CREAM, an acronym for "Cookies Rule Everything Around Me," offers a menu of 20 ice cream flavors and 16 cookie flavors and as many as 18 toppings that customers can mix and match, as well as vegan and gluten-free options.

While the premium ice cream sandwiches are the main draw, CREAM also has milkshakes, floats, malts, scoops of ice cream and other baked goods, such as "The Cream Taco," a taco shell shaped waffle cone.

California regulators restore emissions-cutting fuel rule

By JUDY LIN
ASSOCIATED PRESS

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP), SCali-fornia regulators on Friday restored ambi-tious rules to cut transportation fuel emissions 10 percent within 5 years, a decision that gives Gov. Jerry Brown a boost for his climate change agenda.

The rules further strengthen California's toughest-in-the-nation carbon emissions standards, but oil producers warn the changes could drive up costs for consumers at the gas pump.

The changes are expected to add a few cents a gallon to the cost of gasoline and diesel fuel in the state that already has some of the highest gas prices in the nation. The state estimates a typical com-muter will pay an extra $20 to $24 in 2017, increasing to $52 to $56 in 2020.

"We are on a path to reduce our de-pendence on petroleum and this program is a key piece of that action," Mary Nichols, chairwoman of the California Air Resources Board, said ahead of the vote.

Brown, a Democrat, has vowed to in-tensify his fight against climate change after the oil lobby helped kill a Democratic legislative proposal earlier this month to slash statewide petroleum use by half in 15 years. The board is the state's top regulatory agency to enforce rules aimed at re-ducing air pollution.

Regulators voted 9-0 to re-adopt its low-carbon fuel standard, which requires producers to cut the carbon content of fuels 10 percent by 2020 to help the state meet its emission-reductions goals.

The program was initially adopted in 2009 but the reduction target has been frozen at 1 percent because of a court fight. Friday's vote allows the state to re-sume its program; modifies rules in re-sponse to industry concerns about price spikes; and gives companies more credits for using renewable hydrogen and other investments to reduce pollutants.

Supporters say the program is worth-while because it will encourage greater use of cleaner biofuels and electric vehicles, which can be cheaper to operate than those powered by gasoline or diesel.

"This puts it back on track," Bill Maga-vern, policy director at Coalition for Clean Air, an environmental advocacy group, said after the vote. We have other pro-grams that address vehicle technologies and vehicle miles traveled, and this is the one that tells oil companies to reduce the carbon intensity of their fuels."

Oil producers counter that the rules are unworkable and too costly. They said the standard will impact consumers as the companies try to comply with the mandate or face being shut out of the market.

Catherine Reheis-Boyd, president of the Western States Petroleum Association, which represents oil companies, said the low carbon fuel standard jeopardizes the state's energy future and adds uncertainty.

"California motorists need to know what is coming and how these regulations will impact transportation fuels," Reheis-Boyd said in a statement.

Unlike other rules the state has adopted requiring cleaner-burning fuel or more fuel-efficient vehicles, the standard, first proposed in a 2007 executive order from then-Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger, calls for counting all the pollution required to de-liver gasoline, diesel or alternative fuels to in-state consumers – from drilling a new oil well or planting corn to delivering it to gas stations.

In addition to tailpipe emissions, it includes factors such as whether an ethanol factory uses coal or natural gas to power production or an oil rig uses diesel fuel to drill.

Regulators are targeting transportation fuels because California's roughly 30 million vehicles account for about 40 percent of the state's emissions – the largest source. The rest comes from generating electricity and indus-trial manufacturing, as well as commercial, residential and agricultural uses.

All fuels are measured against a baseline pollution standard. If a fuel falls above or below the baseline, it generates a credit or deficit that other producers can buy and sell to meet the target.

It's up to fuel producers to figure out how to meet the goal, whether by chang-ing production methods, using ethanol or electric vehicles for transportation or buy-ing credits on the market.

After the rule's initial adoption, out-of-state refiners and ethanol companies were among those who sued, arguing that trans-ported the fuels into California alone made them less competitive against in-state pro-ducers. They argued the law unconstitution-ally limits interstate commerce.

The U.S. Supreme Court let stand a 2013 appeals court decision upholding the fuel standard.

Opponents continue to challenge the state's authority to regulate out-of-state production. Oil firms are also trying to block a similar standard enacted in Ore-gon, the only other state with a clean fuel standard.

Friday's move to restore California's program is not related to Volkswagen drawing international attention for violat-ing separate federal and state rules that reg-ulate emissions from vehicles.

Back-to-School signals fresh start

SUBMITTED BY LT. JOHN KELLEY

Irene, whose name has been changed to protect her identity, survived a broken jaw, perforated ear drum and fractured skull. Shortly after leaving hospital, she seized vation Army Hayward," says Sandoval.

"Officer Lt. John Kelley immediately accepted them into the Corps' Backpack Giveaway Program. The family was elated; after a week of school, the timing was per-fect. When Corps Helper Amy Mefford aslege. We were skaters. When he was play-ing in the Pacific Coast Hockey League, we took a house in Portland, OR, with an-other player and his wife for the season. Shortly before Christmas, Mavis answered the door to a uniformed man asking for me or Larry," says Sil-vestri, aged 94.

"He explained that let-ters to Santa are delivered to The Salvation Army, an arrangement that's ex-tant, and was holding our young son's note. He said that by the look of the neighborhood, everything seemed fine. When I asked what he might do if that were not so, he replied that The Salvation Army would ensure our son received something on his list. When Pennies for Kids started, I hap-pened to be Club Presi-dent and made only one stipulation, viz. we must go through The Salvation Army. Every-one's so wonderful. The focus is on the children. Kmart works well with us."

"In Alameda County, there are many good programs for women in my situation and I couldn't ask for anything better. I want to thank everyone from the bottom of my heart," says Irene, overcome by emotion after the shopping spree. "I'm someone's daughter and I'm someone's mother. Some people need to understand they wouldn't want their kids or their mom to go through my experience. Moth-ers in such situations must be strong and turn their backs on domestic violence oth-erwise there's no life, no future. Help is available but you must reach out for it, otherwise you're isolated. People dislike getting involved. Working together, you've given me so much hope through these dif-ferent programs."

Before parting company, Lt. John Kel-ley and Lt. Kyna Kelley presented Irene with two booster seats. The gesture proved overwhelming.

"We're fortunate to work with so many community members to improve people's lives, directly or indirectly," says Lt. John Kelley, The Salvation Army Hayward Corps. "The 11-year collaboration and generous support of The Hill and Valley Club has given many children their dignity and, for Irene's family, a fresh start. Had Arelis Sandoval not called, the referral wouldn't have occurred."

the opportunity to leave her husband, scoop-ing up her two young children with only the clothes on their backs and her overnight bag, and fled to her mother's home.

Two weeks later, her mother lost her job and her mother's boyfriend left. Unable to pay the rent, three generations faced homelessness. Irene and her children en-tered a shelter for victims of domestic violence and were referred to Arelis Sandoval, Public Health Nurse, Alameda County Public Health Department.

"My job entails connecting needy, low-income families, facing psycho-social risks, to community resources. This particular family left another county with nothing and is trying to get back on its feet. I reached out to various organizations but none could help until I contacted The Sal-

It was heartwarming to see them smile for the first time in a long time; the family is so thankful. Such bless-ings make my job worthwhile."

In 2005, Lola Silvestri launched The Hill and Valley Club's Pennies for Kids Project which raised $300, enough to clothe three children. No toys or games were allowed but she took care of such items personally. In 2015, under the aus-pices of Club President Gloria Griswold, the Project raised $2,000 and sponsored a dozen youngsters.

Be a Gift to the World benefit

SUBMITTED BY SANDI PANTAGES

Rotary clubs in Fremont, Newark, and Union City are hosting, "Be a Gift to the World," a benefit dinner in Fremont on Sunday, October 4 for 2015 Rotary world community service projects in Ballia, India and in Matibabu, Kenya. The evening includes a buffet dinner, entertainment and silent/live auctions. Tickets are $50 and can be ordered at <http://rotaryarea3.eventbrite.com> national to make the DSET Public School a grant-funded service project; part of the grant process is to raise funds locally, which is the focus of the benefit dinner.

The recent devastating earthquake and aftershocks in Nepal have resulted in almost total structural damage to the school building, and classes are being conducted outside in 100 degree plus heat. Disruptions in their education are looming large due to the unsafe school building; some of the children have started dropping out, as support project with the Matibabu Foundation in the village of Ukwala, Kenya. The focus of the grant, to be funded with the assistance of proceeds from the October 4 benefit, is to reduce the mortality and morbidity rate of mothers and children under age five, to improve access to essential medical services, train community health workers and leaders, and to support studies for career-minded professionals related to maternal and child health. The delivery of much needed medical supplies and equipment is in collaboration with Medshare, which donates supplies and equipment to medical facilities in other countries.

Dr. Godfrey has made many trips to Kenya to work with the Matibabu Foundation and the hospital. He brings his skills as a surgeon with Kaiser as well as his caring for the improved health of the women and children of Ukwala, who are in desperate need of skilled medical services and supplies.

According to Dr. Godfrey, "Assisting with the Matibabu project is Dr. Walter Adero of Eldoret University Orthopedic and General Surgery, whose education was facilitated by Niles Rotary so that he could return to Kenya to help his people with his medical expertise." Dr. Godfrey was instrumental in the medical education of Dr. Adero.

Founded by Dan Ogola, the Matibabu Foundation in eastern Africa offers health services to over 60,000 Kenyans. Ogola continues as Director of the Matibabu Foundation, which opened the community's first hospital in 2012. The Matibabu Foundation promotes better access to healthcare services. Medical supplies for this hospital are included in the Rotary world community service grant project.

Ogola is one of eight children; a brother died of malaria at the age of two months without the aid of hospital care and another child was disabled due to polio and was hidden in the house due to the stigma and could not attend school. The experience of Ogola's mother supports the need for maternal health care; she was an uneducated housewife married at the age of 15, and with her 8 children lived in poverty. Many of the women in the area die while giving birth due to the inaccessibility of health facilities, and many have been widowed because of HIV/AIDS.

Further information on the Matibabu Foundation is available at www.matibabukenya.org

Rotary International President K.R. Ravindran urges Rotary members to give the gifts of time, talent, and knowledge to improve lives in communities across the globe. He says, "Through Rotary, we can take these gifts and make a genuine difference in the lives of others and in our world."

The Ballia, India project is at the DSET Public School, which was devastated by the Nepal earthquakes; rebuilding of the school is needed to get students back into classrooms. In Matibabu, Kenya the hospital support project will enable delivery of medical supplies and equipment to the rural African village where mortality rates are quite high for infants, children, and mothers.

DSET Public School provides education to underprivileged children in an area of abject poverty in north India. A total of 500 students are currently enrolled in the school, of which 100 are girl students. Brigham Young said, "When you educate a girl, you educate a generation."

The school was established by Dr. Vijay Tiwari, a Kaiser physician, at the behest of his grandfather, to create meaningful and sustainable social change for underprivileged children in the community - with a special focus on educating girls.

Having spent part of his own childhood amidst profound personal struggles in the village, before breaking out to achieve success by becoming a physician, Dr. Tiwari has a strong personal connection to the school and is heavily invested in its success. A member of the Rotary Club of F.U.N. (Fremont Union City Newark) Sunset, Dr. Tiwari suggested the DSET Public School as a worthy project to be supported by the Rotary Club. The club embraced the project, and is working with other Rotary clubs in the Tri-City area and Rotary Inter-their parents are reluctant to send them to school due to safety concerns. The school is a matter of great pride for the children in the community.

With the generous help of the community attending the upcoming "Be a Gift to the World" benefit, Dr. Tiwari aims to rebuild the school from the ground up, with adequate structural controls, in order to continue the quest of educating underprivileged children and help them break out of their inherited legacy of poverty.

A.R.T., Inc. members showing at John O'League Galleria

SUBMITTED BY WINDA SHIMIZU

Hayward Arts Council presents the "A.R.T., Inc. Fall Members Show" at the John O'League Galleria featuring the works of forty local artists until November 20. The impressive display delights the viewers with an array of mediums such as acrylic, poetry, photography, pencil, solar etching, ceramics, mixed media, pastels, and oils.

"Every year the John O'League Galleria presents a variety of shows with an impressive selection of art. These local artists are showing their best material at the Hayward City Hall," stated gallery curator Gerald Thompson.

Winnie Thompson's oil pastel "Malala" is part of the show; "Malala" is a young girl from Pakistan who won the 2014 Nobel Peace Prize for advocating for girls' education. It is a great honor to show this piece in this exhibit," expressed Thompson.

Many A.R.T., Inc. members are also members of Hayward Arts Council so it is a win-win to highlight members of both organizations. The community is invited to meet the artists at the reception on Friday, October 2nd.

Hayward Arts Council is excited to expand its partnerships and share the beautiful setting of the John O'League Galleria with the A.R.T., Inc. members. Hayward Arts Council and A.R.T., Inc. are membership based non-profit organizations with the mission to serve the community by encouraging interest and participation in arts of all kinds.

Laser Dandiya fundraiser

Bay Area non-profit Induz brings their popular Dandiya event back to Fremont on Saturday, October 3 featuring their unique laser lights display. "Dandiya" is a traditional Indian folk dance from Gujarat state. It is played with two sticks and is a very gracious and energetic dance, which has its own form of style and art to it. A popular Bay Area Dhol Baaje band will be providing traditional dandiya and garba live music.

The mission of Induz is to empower children to be creative and innovative through the arts. The organization has been providing arts enrichment educational programs to low-income schools across the Bay Area, and also has global programs in India, Nepal, and Africa. Funds raised from "Induz Laser Dandiya 2015" will go toward the completion of the Resource Center they are building in Kenya, as well as to support and expand other projects.

Induz Dandiya was a sold out event last year and a huge success, so don't wait to buy tickets! They can be purchased at www.sulekha.com/induz or by contacting Ray Mitra at (510) 875-5006. Also contact Ray for volunteering opportunities.

Words of advice for your windows

If it's time to update the window treatments in your home, please allow me to offer you some advice. With so many choices out there—from brands to styles to colors and materials—it can get overwhelming. But on the flip side, with so many choices available, there is no reason not to find the perfect solution for your windows.

As you are investigating your options, make sure to keep in mind functionality as well as beauty. For instance, do you like your room to be dark in the morning? If so, select a window treatment with a room-darkening lining. Some products are described as “black-out” or room-darkening; others are described as “light-dimming.” As you can imagine, “light-dimming” is just that—it dims the sunlight coming into the room, rather than blocking it completely. Only you can decide which option is best for your needs.

Another consideration is light control. Are you a person who opens the drapes each morning and closes them at night? If so, then a single-function window treatment is probably right for you. Examples of single-function coverings are drapes, honeycomb shades, Roman shades and roller shades—anything where the covering is either open or closed. These types are great for a number of reasons, but they offer no light control. Dual-function coverings offer light control options. Examples of this type are wood blinds, shutters, vertical blinds, and Silhouettes. With dual-function shades, you can have them completely open or closed, and also have the option of controlling the light by opening and closing the louvers or slats. This can be important for reducing glare on a TV or a computer, and also for providing privacy without blocking all of the light.

Some clients enjoy the clean lines of the blinds and shutters by themselves, while other clients choose to dress their windows even more with drapery panels and top treatments. Curtain panels, with or without a valance, add a beautiful finishing touch to your windows. Did you know that valances, draperies and curtain panels are more popular than ever? After years of plain windows, clients are back to embellishing their windows with layered window treatments.

If you have purchased new window coverings recently, you probably had some sticker shock over the prices. It's not uncommon to spend hundreds of dollars on one window treatment, depending on the style and material chosen, of course. It's true there are inexpensive options out there—wood blinds, for example, are quite affordable—but I'd like to caution you about purchasing inexpensive knock-off versions of more expensive brands. Knock-offs may be manufactured with inferior materials, leading to warping or fading, or simply not functioning properly. One important difference is the warranty on the product. Make sure to ask about the service charge for sending the blind back and handling the paperwork. Even with these charges, repairs should still be more economical than purchasing a new shade.

How long will you be living in your home? If you plan to stay awhile, invest in top-of-the-line window fashions. Even if you are planning a move in the next few years, it is important to know that beautiful custom window treatments can be a very attractive selling feature for your home.

length of the warranty, and what is covered. How does the manufacturer handle any repairs that might be needed down the road? Is the shade repairable or are you out of luck if something goes wrong? It's common for higher-priced brands to last years and years before needing any repairs. The most common repairs are for broken lift cords. And fortunately, those are relatively easy to deal with.

With inexpensive brands, the warranty may be for only two or three years; higher-end brands offer limited lifetime warranties. What does limited mean? It might mean that after 10 years, some repairs are still covered at no charge, while others might carry a nominal fee. Lifetime warranty can also mean that the blind will never fade or warp. One important note: while the manufacturer might cover the cost of the actual repair, installers will charge to come out to remove and replace the blind, and some dealers may charge a

Hayward Business Expo under the tent

SUBMITTED BY THE HAYWARD CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Imagine being able to connect with a huge tent full of likely clients for your business. That's the situation Hayward area business persons will be in October 7 during the 30th annual "Hayward Business Expo," under the Grand White Tent at St. Rose Hospital.

"This is one of the East Bay's premier business networking and exhibitor activities," said Kim Huggett, president and CEO of the Hayward Chamber of Commerce. "It's a place where networking abounds and deals are made. That's why it continues to attract attention after so many years."

A long list of Hayward businesses have signed up to be exhibitors including financial institutions, telecommunications, health care, utilities, energy, and recycling. Nonprofit organizations also will have exhibits. Check out the chamber website to see the growing list.

In addition to making connections with local businesses, attendees will enjoy food from local restaurants, gourmet coffee, wine, beer, and sodas. Participating restaurants and caterers include Cannery Café, Just Potato Salad, Nothing Bundt Cakes, Rita's of Hayward (Italian ice), Round Table Pizza, Shark Shack, Star Catering & Café, and The Cupcake Shoppe. There also will be food samples from leading Hayward manufacturers and distributors such as Pucci Foods, Sugar Bowl Bakery, and Berkeley Farms.

The cost of exhibitor spaces remains the same as the past four years: $250 for chamber members and $395 for non-members. Admission is free for chamber members and $10 for non-members. Exhibitor entry forms are available at www.hayward.org. For additional information, contact the Hayward Chamber of Commerce at (510) 537-2424.

Help choose Hayward's Business Person of the Year

SUBMITTED BY KIM HUGGETT

You can play a role when Hayward honors its Business Person of the Year at the 72nd annual Hayward Chamber of Commerce Celebration Awards Gala on January 30, 2016. Nominations will be accepted until October 23 for this year's award winner. They will be honored at the gala celebration along with Hayward's Police Officer, Firefighter, and Educator of the Year. Identify your nominee and submit to the selection committee at the chamber office. All nominations will be held in strictest confidence.

The selection committee will evaluate nominees on responses to the following questions. Please number your answers as you answer each one.

1. Give three reasons why your nominee deserves recognition.
 2. How long and why has the nominee maintained his/her business in Hayward?
 3. Describe the person's business. For example, what products or services are provided, how many employees work there, what factors have contributed to its success?
 4. Describe the person in terms of their business innovation, imagination, creativity, resourcefulness, and dealing with challenges.
 5. What are some interesting or special characteristics that single out your nominee from others in the same industry?
 6. Describe the nominee's contributions, service, or volunteer efforts in the community, such as work with service clubs, nonprofit organizations, city commissions or committees, or the chamber of commerce.
- Each submission must be complete, signed, and dated, including contact information for the person making the nomination. Send nominations to Hayward Business person of the Year Committee, Hayward Chamber of Commerce, 22561 Main Street, Hayward CA 94541, or fax to (510) 537-2730. If you have questions, contact the chamber office at (510) 537-2424.

Park It

BY NED MACKAY

Music, dance, storytelling and other aspects of Native American culture will be on display at the annual Gathering of the Ohlone Peoples, scheduled for 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 4 at Coyote Hills Regional Park in Fremont.

Activities will include demonstrations of basketry, jewelry, soaproot brush and string making. You can try your hand at making a fire without matches, or fashion a miniature tule boat. Native plant teas, manzanita cider and acorn soup will be available for tasting. The park's 2,000-year-old village site will be open for tours, too. Parent participation is required.

Coyote Hills is located at 8000 Patter-son Ranch Road off Paseo Padre Parkway. There's a parking fee of $5 per vehicle, but the gathering is free of charge. For infor-mation, call 510-544-3220.

There's a choice between two easy hikes on Saturday, Oct. 3 in the park dis-trict's Healthy Parks, Healthy People series. The hikes encourage families to get out to-gether for fresh air and mild exercise. They're free of charge.

One is from 10 to 11:30 a.m. at Coyote Hills, led by naturalist Dino Labiste. It's a leisurely stroll along marsh and bay trails, with a short section over the hills. Meet at the park visitor center at the end of Patter-son Ranch Road.

The other activity is a fall family fun hike from 2 to 3:30 p.m. at Sunol Re-gional Wilderness, on Geary Road five miles south of Sunol. That one's an easy loop on the Indian Joe Nature Trail. Meet at the Old Green Barn Visitor Center. For information, call 510-544-3243.

Parental participation is required for ei-ther hike.

Shorebirds and ducks on the bay will be the focus of Family Nature Fun hour from 2 to 3 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 3 and 4, at Crab Cove Visitor Center in Alameda.

The visitor center staff will have binoc-ulars available for loan, so you can get a close-up view of our feathered friends. Af-terwards, it's fish feeding time from 3 to 3:30 p.m. at the center's large aquarium.

Crab Cove is at 1252 McKay Ave. off Central Avenue in Alameda. For informa-tion, call 510-544-3187.

At the Tilden Nature Area near Berke-ley, there's a natural history scavenger hunt from 11 a.m. to noon on Sunday, Oct. 4, led by naturalist Anthony Fisher. Anthony will talk about local animal scav-engers, then lead a short hike matching pictures to animal signs.

In the last column I noted that the an-nual tarantula mating season is now under way. Well, Tilden Nature Area is marking the occasion with a spider time program from 2 to 3:30 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 4. Anthony will show slides and then lead a walk in search of spiders in the wild. You may not see a tarantula, but there are plenty of other kinds of eight-leggers around.

For either the scavenger or spider pro-gram, meet at Tilden's Environmental Ed-ucation Center, which is at the north end of Central Park Drive. Call 510-544-2233 for information.

Not to be outdone, Sunol Regional Wilderness plans a tarantula open house on Oct. 10 and 11. More on that one next time.

Dogs and their owners will enjoy a sunset dog walk from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 3 at Black Diamond Mines Regional Preserve in Antioch, led by natu-ralist Kevin Dixon.

Meet Kevin at the uppermost parking lot on Somersville Road, 3½ miles south of Highway 4. The group will walk to the ridge top while Kevin talks about the park's natural and cultural history.

The hike is for ages 9 and older. Black Diamond Mines has a parking fee of $5 and a dog fee of $2. For information call 888-327-2757, ext. 2750.

Dragonflies will be the stars of a pro-gram from 2 to 3 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 3 at Big Break Regional Shoreline in Oakley. The interpretive staff will talk about the life cycle of the insects, and maybe find some in the wild.

Then from 2 to 3 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 4, the naturalists will host a program on the impact of the Delta environment on the plants, animals and people who live there.

Big Break is at 69 Big Break Road off Main Street. For information, call 888-327-2757, ext. 3050.

It's been noted before, but can't be overemphasized – we're at the height of the wildfire season. After four years of drought, the fire danger in the regional parks and other open space is extreme.

As a result, smoking is prohibited in wildland areas throughout the regional parks. Campfires and barbecues are per-missible only in designated areas, and they are prohibited when fire danger is high.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Planning decisions... who controls the process?

A remarkable Planning Commission meeting was held Thursday night... perhaps most important were the comments made by Dr Morris, of the Fremont Unified School district. Dr Morris explained to the Commission how what seemed reasonable a year ago - that the schools in the attendance area of the proposed Granite Ridge development (Paseo Padre and Sequoia) would be those “assigned” to this proposed development. Now, with accolades earned by Oliveira Elementary School and over-population of American High School, this is one more development with no place that can be named for any students generated by these residences. Dr Morris also explained the archaic formula used to “determine” how many students would be generated by each housing type.

Commissioner Reshma Karipineni raised questions regarding traffic studies; formulas are national and asked if any streets other than main thoroughfares examined. Seems our local planning commissioners are also having to drive kids to different schools and finding out how impossible it is to get through the residential streets. Commissioner Dorsey concurred, asking the public works representative to please leave his office on a Wednesday afternoon to observe Parkmont traffic.

Commissioner Dorsey asked the Assistant City Attorney if there was any “mid ground” for approving a development. In this case, the developer was meeting the density requirements and could not be required to cut back any more, They had paid in-lieu fee's and would not have to make any of the 134 - 1 or 2 bedroom “luxury apartments” affordable. If the formula of students generated by these apartments and the 70+ townhomes equals 35, the developer is only required to pay school fees based on that number even if less than the actual number.

Once again, a VERY important meeting.... and this discussion recounted is on Granite Ridge, which would have required City Council approval since it was requiring a zoning change, not the more controversial Mission/Stevenson, and VERY FEW attendee's. On a vote of 5 no, 2 yes, the Granite Ridge project was sent back to the drawing board.....

Perhaps it was the frustration of trying so hard to do what is right when faced with so many contradictory issues... that one “cannot” look at the aggregate of these developments, yet know that it IS the aggregate driving everyone crazy when speaking about permitting “this one”.

There were many lessons to be learned at this meeting, not the least of which is how the Planning Commission is clearly forced to respond to vocal comments from the citizens, and how, as you relate, attendance at the meeting creates a political situation that our City MUST confront. If no one shows up, developers run the city.

Another startling moment was the apparent inability of the Planning Commission to actually demonstrate control of the approval process. The Granite Ridge development was sent back on an obvious pretext - the lack of a few parking spaces - while the ACTUAL and much larger problems concerning schools, traffic, and lack of lower-to-mid income apartments

COULD NOT EVEN BE ADDRESSED by the commission according the City Deputy Attorney. This led to a remarkable moment in the proceedings in which Commissioner Brannon Dorsey wondered aloud why the Commissioners were even there, and why we have a Planning Commission at all! The curtain was drawn back and the perceived powerlessness of our supposed leaders was once and truly revealed. This is ridiculous.

Planning Manager Kristie Wheeler asserted that their only course of action was to give developers a “choice” as to whether they would build lower-to-mid income housing, and that RHNA requires only that the City provide areas “zoned” for lower income housing. Ed Pentaleri added that they can “encourage” builders to provide such accommodations, but that is all.

Under these conditions, what builder in his right mind would construct anything but the “luxury” town homes and apartments offered by the developers at this meeting? (For reference, Commission figured the rental costs of the lowest-end single bedroom apartments in the Granite Ridge development would be over $2000/month.)

We also watched as the only two “yes” votes to the Granite Ridge project, David Bonaccorsi and Raj Salwan, recused themselves from the following proceedings on the Mission/Stevenson development due to campaign contributions from the developers. Just in case you were wondering who is running next year, and to whom they will owe their allegiance.

I can practically guarantee the Granite Ridge plan will be slightly altered by the designers at the developer to accommodate this minor detail, and will be back in front of the Commission for approval in no time. This is no way to run a city, much less a method for creative, thoughtful growth. It is a recipe for disaster.

In our opinion, the citizens of Fremont want our leaders to consistently demonstrate the political will to create growth in our city without sacrificing its unique character. This is not impossible, but it does require a backbone, and an allegiance to the community above the needs or desires of developers.

Tell us, residents of Fremont, is this YOUR city, or not? Are you going to read and react to articles and group posts but not get involved or voice your opinion where it matters, for or against, in support of either the elected or appointed officials?

While our feelings about Niles are the strongest, people - neighbors, if you expect your families to be able to continue to call Fremont home, WAKE UP....

On Sept 29th there is a “working session” as the Planning Commission reviews updates to the plans for 800+ apartments on the Ramirez farm property, corner of Guardino and Walnut... On Oct 13th, the City Council may again meet with Lennar regarding developing in Warm Springs. (A recent published notice listed the date, but as of today, nothing is shown on the Council Agenda.....)

New classrooms at Azevada and Mattos Elementary

SUBMITTED BY ROBIN MICHEL

Fremont Unified School District (FUSD) is celebrating two major achievements later this month and would like to invite the community to ribbon cuttings for two new classroom buildings funded through Measure E. The first ribbon cutting is at Azevada Elementary School on Tuesday, September 29 and the second is at Mattos Elementary School on Wednesday, September 30.

In June 2014, Fremont voters passed Measure “E”, the $650 million school facilities bond that is upgrading and repairing neighborhood schools by updating technology and aging classrooms; upgrading electrical wiring to current safety codes; fixing or replacing leaky roofs, aging plumbing and restrooms; removing asbestos; and repairing, constructing, and acquiring equipment, classrooms, sites, and facilities. Four schools are receiving new classroom buildings. Azevada and Mattos are nearly finished, with the other two schools, Irvington High and Warm Springs Elementary in earlier stages of construction or plan approval.

The buildings at both schools are built with green materials, with classrooms and science labs featuring large view windows and clerestories to provide the best natural lighting, and superior acoustics with insulated walls to reduce sound intrusion and reverberation.

Home of the All Stars, Azevada Elementary School was built in 1965-68, with modular buildings added in 1997. The school has specialized programs for children with moderate to severe needs, and has the district's only Mandarin Immersion Program. Azevada is receiving four general classrooms, one of which is a fourth/fifth Mandarin Immersion class; and as part of the project, the playground is receiving a new inclusive play structure designed for all students.

The new buildings at Mattos Elementary School, which is the district's science magnet school, include two new state-of-the art science labs and two general classrooms. “We are excited about the new building and especially the science labs,” said Principal Liza Muzaffery. “Every child will now have access to twice as much science lab time.” She credits the Math Science Nucleus partnership, the school science committee, and science teachers Wendy Goodfellow and Karen Anderson for making the Mattos Science Program such a success.

The District would like to thank principals Carole Diamond, Azevada, and Liza Muzaffery, Mattos, teachers, staff, students and families for their patience during the construction process. The District also thanks more than 400 participants in the Long Range Facility Plan process, the Azevada and Mattos Elementary School Site Committees, and for attending several meetings, offering input and reviewing designs.

“And we want to thank the Fremont voters who approved passage of Measure E with a 61.8 percent YES vote,” said Dr. James Morris, FUSD Superintendent. “We cannot express deeply enough our gratitude for your support of our students and schools.”

International Day of Peace - dedication of the Peace Pole

SUBMITTED BY ANNE LAU CHOY

The International Day of Peace, September 21, was established by the United Nations in 1981. In Fremont, the Peace Pole dedication was planned with our neighbors at the Islamic Society of the East Bay (ISEB). This dedication was combined with the annual celebration led by the Pax Christi Fremont, Interfaith Women of Peace and Tri-City Interfaith Council held at different peace poles in the area.

The Peace Pole is a physical symbol of our intent together on Peace Terrace and to have a shared desire to live at peace and work for peace together. May the Peace Pole remind us to appreciate and receive the peace offered, the moments when we lack peace and turn again towards peace and to nurture peace in our faith communities and peacemakers, to care for the world.

There were approximately 40 attendees at the dedication; Mayor Bill Harrison, Supervisor Richard Valle and Council Member AnuNatarajan took part in the event. Moina Shaiq welcomed everyone and served as emcee. Pastor Anne Lau Choy and Shamsa Rafay did the Peace Pole dedication. Anu Natarajan, Farooq Hussaini, Pastor Sun Hee Kim, Jack Harrington, Mr. Greg Weiller, and Than Chao Khun shared beautiful prayers with everyone.

Thank you to all who attended and made this event possible.
May peace prevail on Earth!

Gathering of Ohlone Peoples

SUBMITTED BY
FRANCIS MENDOZA

The "Gathering of Ohlone Peoples," a signature event for East Bay Regional Park District, will take place on Sunday, October 4 at Coyote Hills Regional Park. Activities for participants include making abalone pendant necklaces, tasting traditional foods such as manzanita cider, and making small tule boats to take home. The Ohlone will share their history and culture with stage presentations, displays, and songs. They will discuss contemporary cultural involvements, and demonstrate how to make basket, soaproot brush, and dogbane string among others.

The event is celebrated at Coyote Hills in Fremont primarily because there is a 2,400-year-old Tuibun Village site that is open to the public during guided programs. Participants can visit the village site and learn about the reconstructed dwellings and the shellmound within it. Get a sense of how this area looked and felt like, from the Ohlones' intimate connection with nature to imagining the elk, antelope, and bears that used to inhabit this area. They'll also share the traditional way of preparing food such as acorn, but also teach us about modern, contemporary ways that Ohlones practice today.

Beverly Ortiz, Cultural Services Coordinator with the District, originated the event 22 years ago to bring the native community – from as far as the Carquinez Strait in Vallejo to Monterey Bay – together to celebrate their thriving culture and traditions. It is called a gathering of "peoples" rather than "people" because there are historically 58 distinct local tribes inhabiting the region, with distinct languages and practices.

Telling Tales

I've Got a Secret

SUSAN E. EVANS / BOB MILLER

What's your story? The Douglas Morrisson Theatre (DMT) in Hayward announces the first in its 2015-2016 storytelling series, Telling Tales. On Monday, October 5, Douglas Morrisson Theatre (DMT) invites local storytellers to come share stories on the theme of: "I've Got a Secret!" We're looking for stories about secrets kept or revealed. Perhaps it's someone else's secret you accidentally (on purpose?) let slip, or perhaps you'll let us in on a secret you've never told before! We can't wait to hear your story.

DMT welcomes one and all to contribute and participate. It's easy to be a Storyteller – just send a story idea to tales@dmtonline.org. For complete "Telling Tales Story Guidelines," visit the DMT website at www.dmtonline.org and click on the Alt. Monday image. We're looking for true personal stories, no scripts in hand, and stories 10 minutes or under in length. Open Mic at the end of the evening for those inspired to share on the spot.

Tri-City Stargazer SEPTEMBER 30 - OCTOBER 6, 2015 BY VIVIAN CAROL

For All Signs: The eclipse energy of this month continues its background effect on everyone. The world's structures are so precarious that some may have collapsed. Indeed, whether global or personal, anything built on sand rather than solid ground is showing cracks and signs of impending change. That means issues that have been developing for a long time are brought into the light. It is judgment time for good or ill. In Chinese, crisis means opportunity for change. Keep this thought in mind if you are losing something you thought you needed. With hindsight, you may look back on this time as a godsend.

Aries the Ram (March 21-April 20): It is generally unwise to take initiatives for two weeks even though your impulse calls you to rebel. Your intentions may be misunderstood or you may be dealing with deceptive people. Avoid pointing fingers at yourself or anyone else. It's a challenge for you to see yourself into the future with accuracy at this time.

Taurus the Bull (April 21-May 20): If there are power issues between you and another, this is the week that they will be in full bloom. Discomfort means that change is needed in one or both of your attitudes. Intensity is the theme. Concentrate on remaining conscious so that you won't fall into manipulative games, especially the one called "prove it if you love me."

Gemini the Twins (May 21-June 20): During this time old issues may surface concerning your relationships to children and romantic partners. This is a good time to make amends if that is needed. You may wish to back off from interaction while you assess your feelings. Avoid making false declarations of love.

Cancer the Crab (June 21-July 21): Fortunately, the eclipses of September are over. Give yourself a week to sit back, breathe, and relax. Slow your regular routine to a pace that feels right for you. There may still be work to do, but it does not have to flow at the same breakneck speed.

Leo the Lion (July 22-August 22): During this equinox period, changes in your work environment will pressure you to overcome your pride. You must adapt, whether or not this is what you want. Other issues at hand involve siblings and/or family matters. Vehicles or other equipment that have been overused may break.

Virgo the Virgin (August 23-September 22): This is a challenging week. You may very well feel disappointed and angry, but there seems to be nowhere to clearly direct those feelings. The best solution is to identify what, who or where you find solace and deliberately connect with the person, place or thing that will offer reassurance.

Libra the Scales (September 23-October 22): For roughly two weeks before and after October 6 there is likely a crisis of decision in front of you. The subject matter is about property and family matters. It is an old issue returning for review. At depth the most crucial factor is who you really are now and where you want to belong.

Scorpio the Scorpion (October 23-November 21): Transformation lands right on your doorstep and demands that you step up to the best and most mature your sun sign can become. It will require that you summon courage to manage yourself, but if you run away the result would be absolute defeat.

Sagittarius the Archer (November 22-December 21): You are just barely slipping into the new life after Saturn re-entered your sign on September 17. This can sometimes feel like a lonely period and that may be true for a while as you go about recreating yourself. However, this week there are resources and friends who will help you find your way.

Capricorn the Goat (December 22-January 19): You may be applauded for your ethical and moral behavior patterns. Others will let you know your efforts have been noticed. Don't slip-slide around the ethics line. If you do, then a person of minor authority may find the error and bring it to the attention of others. One gets what is deserved on this aspect.

Aquarius the Water Bearer (January 20-February 18): This is an excellent time to pursue any activity that requires your mental concentration. It will work even better for you if you are revising, editing, or itemizing details. Contracts, communication with others at a distance, legal interests, along with short distance travel, have good signals.

Pisces the Fish (February 19-March 20): You are one whose compassionate nature oc-asionally attracts energy vampires. The next two weeks may bring one or two of these into your environment. Don't go beyond what you truly want to give or you may burn out your energy. Do not expect gratitude. It is unlikely, but if it comes, that's a bonus.

St. Rose Hospital hosts 'An Evening in Motown'

So far, over 600 guests are attending this year, and the Foundation expects the number to grow as the event inches closer. There will be a silent and live auction, and Bay Area local band Groove Doctors will be performing Motown hits and more. As in Spectaculars before, expect delicious food and drinks, this year provided by Oakland-based caterer Splurge. Guests have the option of a double cut filet, the Splurge cioppino, or wild mushroom risotto. The Spectacular was voted Classic Party Rentals' "Most Fabulous Event" and awarded $10,000 in 2010 – come see how the event has grown even more fabulous over the years.

Funds raised at the event go directly back to St. Rose. Hospital administration lets the Foundation know what projects are in need, and The Spectacular then raises funds for the chosen department or equipment. This year, funds are going to a new perinatal fetal monitoring system, which monitors both mothers and babies during the last stages of pregnancy and delivery. These monitoring systems ensure a healthy and happy outcome for mom and child, making sure everything is going smoothly and as it should; if not, it allows staff to act accordingly. Such systems are deserved for all new mothers, and St. Rose hopes to replace its outdated system.

Tickets are $250 per person, and tables of ten range in price according to sponsorship intentions. Table sponsorships are given clever names harking to Motown, such as The Supremes, The Temptations, Jackson 5, and so on. For more ticketing, sponsorship, and donation information, visit www.strosehospital.org/giving-volunteering/foundation-events/spectacular-xxviii/.

Community hospitals are gems; they provide general access and care as well as targeted service to its local community at affordable costs. Support St. Rose today, and help a pillar of Hayward shine!

This version of the Dracula legend based on the 1897 Bram Stoker novel is set in the English countryside in 1911 where several village girls have died under mysterious circumstances. Dr. Seward presides over a nearby mental hospital and the locality has acquired a new resident, Count Dracula! A trio of doctors, a young reporter and a stouthearted English lord battle the Count for possession of a lovely heroine. A funny, serious, scary, hilarious and bloody enjoyable show!

VOLUNTEER AT THE
NEWARK CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

We need office help! We're fun to work with! And we're looking for enthusiastic volunteers who will consistently commit to a couple of days, or even a few hours weekly, during regular office hours M-F.

ARE YOU?

- Retired, missing the social interaction?
- Kids in school and have a few hours a day?
- In college, looking for job experience or community service?
- Able to work smart - with some direction, but independently?

WE NEED: Good Communicators with General Office Experience

- Good on the phone, articulate, helpful, friendly
- Accurate typing and/or data entry
- Filing and organizing talent
- Microsoft Office experience
- and, if you have managed websites or Facebook pages, or are QuickBooks savvy – WOW! that's frosting on the cake!

Visit us on Facebook or at Newark-chamber.com to learn what we do to support our community and consider being part of our efforts. Please call 510-744-1000.

Pirates promise a haunted October

With Halloween upon us, the Alameda County Fairgrounds readies itself for the pirates' return. "Pirates of Emerson" is back beginning Saturday, October 3 to deliver a frightful October to those who dare enter the fairgrounds. Dubbed as the "haunted themed park," this Bay Area Halloween tradition will feature five thrilling haunted attractions such as the Cursed Cavern, Demonic Voodoo, The Haunted, Mental Maze, and the original Pirates of Emerson.

In addition to haunted attractions, other events include Nightmare Sideshow, Boneball, Misfortune Teller, Emerson's Oddities, and other nightly entertainment. Tatseena's Serpent Sirens will dance their way to the fairgrounds to provide entertainment, along with KaHooLaw Hooping. The Great Richy Bee will leave the audience in awe as they watch him perform death-defying stunts at the Sideshow of Despair.

Enter all five haunted attractions for the price of one. General admission tickets cost $25; there is an additional $10 fee for a speed pass, which will allow you to bypass long lines. If you want another round of fright, there is an additional $10 fee to enter each attraction twice.

THE ROBOT REPORT

TRACKING THE BUSINESS OF ROBOTICS

As Google cars roll out, Deere reminds us of thousands of their self-driving tractors

Google is sending 25 new self-driving cars onto the streets of Mountain View, CA but John Deere reminds us that they already have tens of thousands of self-driving tractors in service around the world.

John Deere has been selling self-driving kits for their tractors for over 15 years. Their latest version, called AutoTrac, allows the self-driving tractor to follow pre-programmed routes. True, the technology in AutoTrac is less complex than the Google system, but it does the job as advertised and has been doing it successfully for years. When paired with a GPS RTK receiver and display, the AutoTrac kit can automatically steer the tractor. The kit is tied directly into the steering system on the tractor and provides up to 2" accuracy.

Over 60% of new Deere tractors are outfitted with the AutoTrac software and kit (or other self-guidance technology) and can be found operating in more than 100 countries around the world. In fact, "John Deere is the largest operator of autonomous vehicles," said Catherine Sandoval, a California PUC commissioner.

John Deere isn't the only farm equipment manufacturer providing self-driving kits. There are many others including AGCO (Fendt), CNH Industrial (Case New Holland) and Kairos Autonomi to name just a few.

Deere has had self-driving, autonomous, cab-less concept tractors available for discussion and possible sale but thus far they haven't replaced the kits. Farmers want the air-conditioned and cushioned cabin on their tractors to house all the monitors and other computer and automation technologies for the implements the tractor is towing. They want to remain in charge and the cab has become the hub of computerized farm automation.

Sausage and Suds Festival celebrates 18 years

SUBMITTED BY COURTNEY ROSE

More than 6,000 people from the Bay Area will flock to downtown San Leandro on Sunday, October 4 to celebrate the 18th annual "Sausage and Suds Music Festival" with live entertainment, food, family-friendly games and more. In 1997, the first Sausage and Suds festival was planned in downtown San Leandro to celebrate the City's designation as the "Sausage Capital of California" by the state legislature. Today, it's one of downtown's premium annual community events. This year features sizzling sausages from local vendors and over 40 high-quality beer selections, including local beers from San Leandro's new 21st Amendment Brewery, Drake's Brewing and Cleophus Quealy Beer Company. The live music lineup will feature Avance, The Spazmatics and other artists that are sure to keep celebrants entertained through the day and into the night. A Kid Zone is planned, including face painting, interactive collaborative art and kid-focused entertainment.

A nonprofit community benefit district run by property owners, community members, residents and businesses in the downtown district supports Sausage and Suds and its efforts to promote downtown San Leandro. "This is a staple event in our downtown district that's put on by a group of great volunteers. We always support these events that bring our community together and provide them with a well-rounded event for all ages," said San Leandro Improvement Association's (SLIA) President Gordon Galvan. "We strive to make downtown San Leandro an attractive area that residents and visitors want to spend time in and enjoy."

SLIA has installed tables and chairs with umbrellas in designated areas, which will allow attendees to take their food and drinks to shaded areas. No dogs are allowed at the event.

Mariachi Festival features music, dance, taco-eating contest, & family fun

SUBMITTED BY KIM HUGGETT

Mariachi bands, ballet folklórico dancers, kids' activities, a taco-eating contest, and an outdoor market celebrating Mexico's food and art will be highlights at the sixth annual "Hayward Mariachi Festival" Friday, October 2 at City Hall Plaza. The free family-friendly event is hosted by the Hayward Chamber of Commerce Latino Business Roundtable, the City of Hayward, and the Downtown Business Improvement Area. Guests should bring lawn chairs and blankets. This event is built around music with featured performers: Mariachi Juvenil de Hayward, Mariachi Halcones de Oakland, Mariachi mi Tierra Linda, and Mariachi Mexicanísimo. Also performing will be the Grupo Folklórico Tlapalli dancers. Celebrity announcers will introduce each group.

Activities for kids includes face painting, Día de los Muertos mask-coloring, and paper flower making. There will be a taco-eating contest sponsored by Jorge Espinosa and his team at El Taquito Restaurant #2. Specialty beverages to be served include margaritas, sangria, and Mexican beer. For more information, visit the Hayward Chamber of Commerce at www.hayward.org or call (510) 537-2424.

Newark Corporate Games

SUBMITTED BY BRYAN COBB

If your company is looking for fun, team-building exercises that involve physical and mental activities, then the City of Newark has got you covered. The City's Recreation Department is hosting "Newark Corporate Games" from October 5 through 16. Newark Corporate Games began in 1989 and is held for two weeks. Companies and individuals who join Corporate Games develop community goodwill, promote a healthy lifestyle and unity within their company.

This year, the department has decided on the following events: 3-on-3 basketball, brain games, Fun Run/Walk, billiards, indoor co-ed volleyball, team pickleball, 9-hole "Frisbee golf" and bowling. Pickleball is a paddle sport that combines many elements of tennis, badminton and ping-pong. Participants for the Fun Run/Walk will run one lap (1.25 miles) around Newark Lake (Lakeshore Park) and be timed in their age group.

To register, visit www.newark.org/departments/recreation-and-community-services/corporate-games. Team divisions are based on the total number of employees working within a Newark-based facility. Companies providing services to the City are also eligible. The $30 fee per participant includes participation in all events, official games T-shirt, and individual and team awards.

Titans celebrate 50 years of football

Football

SUBMITTED AND PHOTOS BY MIKE HEIGHTCHEW

John F. Kennedy High School of Fremont celebrated 50 years of football as they opened their 2015 season with a loss in a close contest with the American High School Eagles. Following the opening and induction of alumni into a Hall of Fame, the Titans came onto the field ready to rumble. Titan football legends were in the stands as they cheered their alma mater. The outcome remained in doubt when at 2:36 left on the game clock the Titans recovered a fumble at the 50-yard line. With the Eagles leading 41-34 and a touchdown needed to tie the game, Titan faithful cheered their team, but the Eagle defense held firm to secure the win. Even with the loss, it was an exciting night for John F. Kennedy High School with high expectations for the rest of the season.

The Cal State University East Bay (CSUEB) volleyball team rallied for a dramatic five-set win over Stanislaus State in front of an outstanding crowd at Pioneer Gymnasium on September 22. After dropping the first two sets, the Pioneers stormed back to win three in a row, capped off by a narrow 15-13 victory in the deciding game.

Freshman Kiki Leuteneker posted a double-double, leading the team with 17 kills to go along with 13 digs. Sophomore Kiani Rayford provided a huge lift off the bench, scoring 14 kills and hitting .400 for the match. Freshman southpaw Julie Navarro also notched 14 kills on the right side.

The Pioneers were stout in the back row, led by senior libero Angie Maina with 35 digs. Junior Darlene Lee notched a career high with 21 scoops of her own.
Sophomore setter Kylie Fraga was impressive in facilitating the comeback, racking up 54 assists to go along with 11 digs and four kills.
“This was a great team win,” said head coach Jim Spagle. “Angie was superb and controlled the match defensively. Kylie played her best match so far as a Pioneer. Kiki and Kiani had some huge kills on the outside, and Kiani was extremely efficient hitting .400.”

Huskies open season with convincing win

Football

The Washington Huskies opened their Mission Valley Athletic League (MVAL) season on September 26th with a great offense and defense when faced with a determined Newark Memorial Cougar squad. The Huskies took an early lead, moving the ball down the field on the ground and in the air. Even as the Huskies built a lead, Newark grit and resolve made a game out of it as the Cougars fought back in the second half. However, it was too little and too late as the Huskies triumphed 35-12.

SCIENCE TECHNOLOGY ENGINEERING MATH

STEM is a way of solving problems.

STEM subjects help people to better understand the world around us. And they help us to solve problems we see in the world. STEM workers solve problems such as how to clean up rivers, how to make clean energy, how to fight deadly diseases, how to make computers and how to explore space.

Circle the things that are made using science, technology, engineering or math.

ANSWER: Did you circle every item? STEM is needed to make all the things we use every day!

STEM is FUN!

STEM learning is often hands-on and fun. It is experiments, making and testing things, fixing things and more. YOU be the scientist and try this cool experiment!

Girl Scout goes gold

SUBMITTED BY STEFFI KWOK

Steffi Kwok, a Girl Scout Ambassador of Troop 31509, will be earning a Gold Award, accomplished by only five percent of all eligible scouts. It is the highest achievement in Girl Scouting, and recognizes girls who demonstrate extraordinary leadership through individual Take Steffi decided to help provide a solution by dedicating her Girl Scout Gold Award project to MedShare. She constructed an online searchable knowledge database of excess medical supplies. Instead of waiting to ask the Volunteer Program Coordinator/Manager, volunteers can now access this database on their smartphones or the desktop in the sorting warehouse so they can process the donated items.

Action projects that provide sustainable, lasting benefits to their communities. Steffi's Gold Award project is an Excess Medical Supplies Knowledge Database, constructed to benefit MedShare, a non-profit organization.

For her Senior Journey, an expansive series of leadership and life skill activities, she chose to complete "Sow What?" where she learned about how and where food is grown, harvested, processed, distributed, and consumed and why it all matters. She then took action by volunteering at Full Circle Farm, a local sustainable community organic farm.

Steffi first learned of MedShare via her high school's Change Benchmark Project, an environmental service project required for all freshmen. She and her team, after researching many opportunities, decided to work with MedShare because not only does it help the environment, the organization also make a huge humanitarian impact when supplies reach recipients. Bridging the gap between surplus and need, MedShare diverts excess medical supplies from landfills to medical mission teams and hospitals and clinics in need around the world.

Continuing to volunteer regularly, Steffi earned a spot on MedShare's Hour Hero board. She also participated in some of their latest projects, like helping fundraise for two volunteer sponsored containers to a hospital in Tanzania and a maternity hospital in Sierra Leone. The Sierra Leone container was special as it marked the 200th container that MedShare of San Leandro sent out.

After two years, Steffi as a more experienced volunteer recognized challenges in the sorting process. At MedShare, after donated items are received from hospitals, clinics, or manufacturers, they are first sorted into broad categories, then again sorted into more specific items, which are boxed and shipped. The sorting process is knowledge dependent. Seasoned volunteers or retired doctor/nurse volunteers may know what to do but otherwise, when volunteers are uncertain, they have to wait to ask the one or two MedShare staff on the floor in order to proceed. This slows down the sorting process.

For her project, Steffi recruited and led a team made up of friends from school, her troop, and her swim team to help with data entry. Together, they spent over 160 hours to complete the project. She would like to send a big thank you to Gibson Chu, Corrine Maes, Jamie Ng, Hesper Wu, Jenny Zheng, and Telvin Zhong for all their support and help. She would also like to sincerely thank MedShare for making her project possible, and shout out to her project advisors Gabby Brandt, Ashley Gee, Elysse Turney, and Jesse Vazquez.

Between volunteering via Girl Scouts, MedShare, and other organizations, Steffi has totaled over 700 community service hours since entering high school. If you see an issue, don't wait for someone else to fix it - as Gandhi once said, "Be the change you want to see in this world."

If you want to join Girl Scouts, contact the Service Unit, Coyote Hills at: coyote-hillsgs.org or Council Girl Scouts of Northern California: gsnorcal.org. If you also feel inspired by MedShare's mission, sign up to be a volunteer at medshare.org.

East Bay Startup Grind continues:

EdCast founder Karl Mehta to discuss his experience in entrepreneurship

BY SHILPI SHARMA

The East Bay's first Startup Grind Chapter, a sure sign of momentum in Fremont's innovation ecosystem, launched last week featuring a discussion with Poshmark CEO Manish Chandra. Startup Grind, an international business startup community with the mission of connecting, educating, and inspiring entrepreneurs, has chapters in over 175 cities and 70 countries.

Next Thursday, October 1, Startup Grind Fremont will host its second event with Karl Mehta, CEO of EdCast, a personal learning network company. Mehta, a Fremont resident, has vast experience in entrepreneurship and business. Prior to founding EdCast, he started and served as CEO of Playspan, a gaming monetization platform which VISA purchased in 2011 for over $240 million.

Mehta originally got the idea for Playspan from his then 12-year-old son. He has also personally invested in many tech companies and served as a venture partner for Menlo Ventures. The Obama Administration tapped Mehta as a White House Presidential Innovation Fellow, and he currently sits on the Workforce Investment Board for the State of California. Looking to make a positive impact, Mehta founded Code for India in 2013, a non-profit tech community that encourages tech developers to build technology solutions to social issues and help NGOs.

Don't miss this conversation on Thursday, October 1, from 6 p.m. – 9 p.m. at DeVry University. Tickets can be purchased online at www.eventbrite.com/e/startup-grind-fremont-hosts-karl-mehta-edcast-tickets-17592769447.

In last week's initial Startup Grind event, guest entrepreneur Manish Chandra, CEO of Poshmark and a long-time East Bay resident, shared his startup journey with a receptive audience at DeVry University in Ardenwood. Among many nuggets of wisdom, Chandra described how he used his psychological insight to fuel the success of Poshmark. For example, Poshmark's user interface leverages women's visceral conviction that a "yellow dress" is so much more than what it appears on the surface — a yellow-colored, A-line, singular piece of clothing.

Chandra has also worked with the United States Postal Service to create a new flat rate mailing price system based on box size. For a detailed recap of the Q&A from the perspective of an event attendee, check out this piece from Vinod Narayan, of Pen Positive.

Can't make next week's event with Karl Mehta? No worries. We have three more events scheduled in the upcoming months:

October 29: Steve Basta, former CEO of AlterG, producer of an anti-gravity treadmill.

November 19: Andrew Ponec, founder of dFly Systems, creator of a solar power amplifier.

December 16: Dr. Micah Yari, CTO & founder of Tactus Technology, a touch screen technology company.

Streamlined solar permitting process

SUBMITTED BY CITY OF FREMONT

With more and more residents choosing to install solar, the City recently adopted an ordinance streamlining solar permitting for small residential systems, and also updated the webpage related to solar permits. Updates include the following:

Turnaround times for small residential rooftop solar permits have been reduced to three days maximum. (Over-the-counter permits will continue to be offered on Wednesday mornings at the Development Services Center, located at 39550 Liberty St.)

Permit applications may be submitted by fax or e-mail

Only one City inspection is now required

Forms and instructions have been streamlined and are available in an easy-to-use format at www.fremont.gov

OPINION

WILLIAM MARSHAK

It's a grind, but worth it gather in a welcome venue with other local entrepreneurs, discuss and share experiences is a welcome experience.

Advice to understand clients, focus on an initial concept and keep it simple are not new; these tenets can be found in many self help books and lectures. However, talking one-on-one with those who command the attention and respect of their colleagues is invaluable. Somehow, such intimate discussions give more substance and meaning to those admonitions.

Starup Grind is designed as an informal gathering for those in the midst of an entrepreneurial enterprise, those who dream of starting one or others who just want to understand what motivates these people. The Fremont Chapter, hosted by Shilpi Sharma with the assistance of DeVry University and the City of Fremont Economic Development Department has an all-star lineup over the next few months. Next up (Thursday, October 1) Karl Mehta, CEO of EdCast, a personal learning network company will chat with attendees followed by a series of meetings with other industry titans.

Startup Grind Fremont allows everyone to interact in a casual setting without the grand entrance and auditorium venue reserved for those who have succeeded. Instead, it feels like a living room chat, encouraging and inviting. This is a unique opportunity for all to experience the power and vitality of bringing ideas to fruition. Although it can be a bit lonely outside the employee net, it's nice to have contact with others facing the same conundrums.

For more information and tickets to the next meeting of Startup Grind on October 1st, visit: <http://www.meetup.com/startup-Gind-Fremont/> or email Shilpi at: shilpi@startupgrind.com. If you can't make it to the next meeting, others are scheduled for October 29th, November 19th and December 16th; all at DeVry University, 6600 Dumbarton Circle. in Fremont.

He served 42 years in the military including a parachute drop in Normandy during the D-Day invasion. He was awarded the Legion of Honor medal by France for his contributions to the war effort and attained the rank of Command Sergeant Major in Command and Control HQ.

In civilian life, Soria worked as an engine planning branch manager at the Naval Rework Facility, NAS Alameda assisting in the production of engines and components to support military fleets including the Blue Angels. He chaired numerous committees to oversee quality standards and NCO promotion boards.

Daniel’s ashes will be interred in a military ceremony at Arlington Cemetery, Washington, D.C. Donation preference is Wounded Warrior Project.

Daniel Soria will be missed by his family: Nancy Lee, loving wife of 53 years; two daughters, Lissa (John) Rendon and Sandra Rae (John) Harris; granddaughters Michelle (Bruce) Guerrero and Melanie (Mark) Kidder; and two great grandsons. Daniel was preceded in eternal rest by former wives Marjorie Confer and Inez Houston.

Obituary

MARLENE GAFFNEY BERNDL

Marlene was born in 1935, the daughter of the late Warner and Henrietta (Sersland) Gaffney of Calmar, Iowa. Marlene was a high school basketball star and prom queen of Calmar High School class of 1953. In 1954 she started working for American Airlines at Chicago Midway Airport where she met her now deceased husband, Raymond Berndl of Chicago. They moved to California and she worked as a lead freight agent at SFO where she served for the rest of her 40 year career. She is survived by her sister Beth Bigler of Volga, Iowa, her brother Bill Gaffney (Carol) of Surprise, Arizona, her son Michael Berndl (Mia) of Rocklin, CA, her grandchildren Austin and Ashley Berndl, and multiple nieces and nephews.

Marlene lived in Fremont for the last 29 years and was active in the Ardenwood Village HOA as the treasurer. She served as a Senior Commissioner with the Fremont Senior Citizen’s Commission. She was also a volunteer at Washington Hospital for over 10 years. She functioned as a council member at Christ the King Lutheran Church. She rarely missed watching a Giants baseball game. Marlene passed away from cancer on September 25th. Special thanks to those that worked with her through her lifetime and were friends of hers in the community. Also appreciated is to those who assisted with her care over the last several months at Washington Hospital and Windsor Park, including the Care2Care workers and American Health Hospice Care personnel. Those that knew Marlene knew her as a kind soul, yet was out-spoken about the importance of matters to her and those she helped and volunteered with.

A celebration of life will be held for family and friends on Sunday, October 4, 2015, at 2:00 p.m., at Christ the King Lutheran Church, 1301 Mowry Avenue, Fremont, CA 94538.

Obituary

Dolores Rose

Jan. 10, 1929 - July 17, 2015

Resident of Fremont

Dolores was born in Fremont (then Niles) and was a lifelong resident. She graduated from Washington High School and earned her B.A. and M.A. degrees from San Jose State University, as well as a number of teaching credentials. She taught foreign language at Notre Dame High School in San Jose one year before coming to Centerville School District. There she served as a teacher at various grade levels and was Parkmont School’s first principal. Upon unification of Fremont Unified School District, Dolores joined the district staff and retired as a Director in the Instruction Division.

Following her retirement, she volunteered in several areas. She especially enjoyed serving as a docent for the Museum of Local History and her time with the American Cancer Society’s Road to Recovery program where she drove cancer patients to their weekly treatments. During the holidays, she purchased plane tickets for soldiers to fly home to their families, as well as donated hundreds of teddy bears for local children who were less fortunate. Dolores was also a member of various social and professional organizations; her favorite being Delta Kappa Gamma.

She enjoyed reading, writing, travel, gardening and people with a sense of humor. Those who knew her would describe her as incredibly intelligent, witty, pragmatic, resourceful, compassionate, and generous. She is survived by her cousins, Kathleen Russell, Kimberley Driesse, Ryan Driesse, Lauren Driesse, and Kevin Pasin of Cumming, GA and Edward Rodrigues, Jr. of Elk Grove, CA. Services have been held.

Alameda County Water District Board workshop

SUBMITTED BY SHARENE GONZALES

On Wednesday, September 30, Alameda County Water District (ACWD) Board of Directors will be conducting a workshop on financial planning and rate design concepts. District staff will provide an update on significant changes since the Board’s adoption of the fiscal year 2015/16 through FY 2016/17 Budget, provide an overview of the District’s current financial status, demonstrate several potential future financial scenarios, and discuss a potential low-income rate assistance program concept.

Following, the District’s Financial Consultant, Raftelis Financial Consultants, Inc. (RFC), will provide a high level overview of rate design alternatives (e.g., tiered rates, water budgets for landscape accounts, drought surcharges, and alternative approaches to cover fixed operating costs), the concept of multi-year Proposition 218 notices, and late payment charges.

Staff and RFC will receive feedback and direction from the Board which will help further develop any potential rate design alternatives and concepts for future Board evaluation. No Board action will be taken at the workshop. All interested members of the public and media are invited to attend.

State Health Officer urges caution
during wildfire
cleanup efforts

SUBMITTED BY ANITA GORE /
ORVILLE THOMAS

California Department of Public Health (CDPH) Director and State Health Officer Dr. Karen Smith advised residents of recently burned areas to use caution in cleaning up ash from recent wildfires. The ash from trees burned in forest fires is relatively nontoxic and similar to ash that might be found in your fireplace. However, ash from burned homes and other items will likely contain metals, chemicals, and potentially asbestos, items that can be considered toxic if breathed in or touched with wet skin.

If the ash is inhaled, it can be irritating to the nose, throat and lungs and may cause coughing. Exposure to airborne ash may trigger asthmatic attacks in people who already have asthma. The use of shop vacuums and other non-HEPA filter vacuums is not recommended. HEPA filter vacuums could be used, if available.

“People should seek medical care if they experience health issues such as chest pain, chest tightness or shortness of breath. It’s also important to pay close attention to children and the health and emotional impacts they may be feeling,” said Dr. Smith.

Obituary

James “Jim” Stone

July 31, 1939 – Sept. 19, 2015

Resident of Fremont

Jim passed away on September 19th at Washington Hospital. He was preceded in death by his parents, Pearl and Marshall Stone. He is survived by his wife, Frances and his sister-in-law and brother-in-law, Joan and Tony Lombardi of Stockton, CA, his niece Lisa Lombardi Mellor and her husband, Brian of Linden, CA.

Jim was born and raised in Stockton, CA. He attended local schools and began his 41 year career with Lucky Stores in Stockton in 1955. He held several positions in the Northern Division office of Lucky Stores in San Leandro.

He and Fran were married for 52 years and they made their home in Fremont. He served on the DEVCO Board of Washington Hospital in Fremont for many years. He was a member of the Washington Township Men’s Club, the Giuseppe Mazzini Lodge in Fremont and was active in the Washington Hospital Foundation.

He and Fran traveled widely. He enjoyed fishing, hunting and golf, but most of all being together with family and friends. He will be missed by all and remembered for his kindness, his cheerful disposition and his love of life. Jim never met a stranger.

Visitation for Jim will be on Monday September 28 from 3pm - 8 PM at Berge-Pappas-Smith Chapel of the Angels, at 40842 Fremont Blvd, Fremont, CA 94538, with a vigil service at 7 PM. Mass of Resurrection will be held at the Cathedral of the Annunciation, at 400 W Rose St, Stockton, CA 95203, on September 29, at 10:30 AM.

In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to the Washington Hospital Foundation or the Dominican Sisters of Mission San Jose.

Obituary

Faith Elinor Tootell

June 21, 1955 – Sept. 15, 2015

Resident of Fremont

Born in Westchester New York in 1955, to parents Anne Whelan and Geoffrey Howland Tootell.

Faith received her Master's Degree from UC Davis. Juvenile diabetes forced her to undergo dialysis in her mid-twenties. This experience made her acutely aware of the need for dialysis patients to have proper nutritional care and guidance. Faith devoted her life to advocating for her patients and for her field. She published several papers and spoke at many conferences in an effort to improve the quality of life of others. During her life, Faith experienced many medical challenges including several transplants and open heart surgery. Those who encountered Faith during these struggles were amazed by her courage, determination, and discipline.

Faith is survived by her husband of many years, Robert Gates, her father Geoff, her brother Geoffrey and his wife Catherine, and her two sisters Megan and Lizzie. Another of Faith's passions was to be the world's best aunt; her nieces, Anne, Caddy and Rosie, and her nephews Matt, William, Danny and Eric will all attest to her success in this area. She never missed an important event in any of their lives, and was a tremendous role model to them all.

THEATRE REVIEW

Outstanding vocals and costumes make 'Dreamgirls' shine

By JULIE GRABOWSKI

Backstage at Harlem's Apollo Theater The Dreamettes stand ready to take their shot at fame and fortune. Deena, Effie, and Lorrell are sure that winning the talent contest will be the first step in making their dreams come true. They get off to an unexpected start, gaining used car salesman Curtis as a manager, who puts them on the show business road as backup singers for R&B star Jimmy Early. But the journey to being their own solo group is colored by drive, desire, romance, and internal conflict, proving that dreams never quite turn out as expected.

Stage 1 Theatre has never shied from taking big theatrical leaps, tackling such giants as "Aida," "Fiddler on the Roof," "Les Miserables," and "Jesus Christ Superstar." They rise to the task yet again with the Tony and Oscar-winning musical "Dreamgirls." Director Dawn L. Troupe harnesses the drama, passion, and pains of the showbiz world, letting the powerful music, big voices, and glamorous gowns do the talking.

Troupe has scored an impressive trifecta with Kadesia Woods (Deena), Ladidi Garba (Effie), and Drew Armstead (Lorrell) as The Dreamettes. In addition to outstanding vocals, the three mesh well and bring out the emotions and struggle of friends trying to live their dream. Woods grows in her role, showing the development of Deena from a mild young backup singer to a confident woman in charge of the spotlight. Garba exudes power and presence and makes the character and emotion real every time she opens her mouth, closing out Act I with a goose bump-inducing "(And I'm Telling You) I'm Not Going." Armstead brings charm and sweetness as Lorrell, and gets her own moment to shine with the excellent "Ain't No Party."

This show might be all about the girls, but the men hold their own, helmed by live wire Dedrick Weathersby as Jimmy Early. Weathersby's got the moves and the voice, and injects every ounce of spirit he has into Early's showmanship and personality, proving to be an audience favorite. Gary Stanford Jr. (who also serves as the show's choreographer) is rock solid as the controlling, business-minded Curtis, and Jamail Davis provides heart and conviction as Effie's songwriter brother C.C.

The end of Act I rolls out a string of the night's best numbers, with "Family," "Dreamgirls," "Heavy," and "It's All Over" creating a riveting tension and drama. The highlights of Act II are found in Garba's "One Night Only" and her teaming with Woods on the moving "Listen."

While the music is in the driver's seat, the production is in need of a better balance of sound. The live orchestra is wonderful, but frequently overwhelms the vocals, and the mics disappear a fair number of times so that bits of dialogue and lyrics are lost. These issues take away some of the impact from the punch that is clearly there.

The second powerhouse comes in the form of costume designer Debra Milbourne, who creates a gorgeous fashion journey from simple homemade dresses to the shine and shimmer glamour gowns of stardom. Scenic designer Fred Alim gets in on the fun, contributing the fabulous Las Vegas dresses and Effie's finale dress. Alim keeps the set pretty basic with a main piece of scaffolding that serves as both sides of a performance stage, dressing it up with sheer fabric panels and beaded elegance as needed, and brings red and gold curtains into play for a touch of drama.

The opening night of "Dreamgirls" had the audience on their feet, and it's safe to say the show will get more people out of their seats in performances to come.

A talk-back will be held after the show on Sunday, October 4, and a special Thursday performance will be held October 1 at 8 p.m. for $15 (general admission only). Tickets are available at www.stage1theatre.org, Brown Paper Tickets at 800-838-3006, or visit Jewelry by Design at 6299 Jarvis Avenue in Newark.

Park District welcomes new Police Captain

SUBMITTED BY CAROLYN JONES

The East Bay Regional Park District (EBRPD) hired a veteran leader in Bay Area law enforcement to serve as captain of its Police Department.

Capt. Anthony "Tony" Ciaburro, 49, started September 21 at the Park District, where he oversees Patrol Operations throughout all 65 regional parks, the Investigations Unit and the Volunteer Safety Patrol Unit. He also serves as the liaison with the Park District's unit managers. In addition, he will be the District's liaison with the East Bay Municipal Utility District and the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission.

Capt. Ciaburro began his career in law enforcement in 1989 as an officer with the San Jose Police Department. He worked on narcotics, robberies, internal affairs and on the SWAT team. As a lieutenant, he ran Santa Clara County's regional auto theft task force and oversaw investigations. Working his way up to captain, Ciaburro commanded the Central Division, overseeing 125 police officers.

A native of San Francisco, Capt. Ciaburro earned a bachelor's and master's degree in criminal justice from San Jose State University and is a graduate of the FBI National Academy class 245 in Quantico, Virginia.

"We're thrilled to have Capt. Ciaburro join our growing District," said Park District General Manager Robert Doyle. "We think his experience and leadership skills will be a huge benefit to our District, helping keep our parks safe for the 2.5 million people who live in the East Bay."

Fremont Police Log

BOSQUES, FREMONT PD

Friday, September 18

At 3:47 p.m., a female was attacked by a male suspect near 3100 Mowry Avenue in what appeared to have been an attempt to rob her of her purse. The female received a small laceration and injuries to her face. The suspect was described as an older white male, average height, thin build, 2-3" thin grey hair that was spiked, wearing a purple t-shirt and white pants. He was last seen running southbound on Paseo Padre Parkway toward Walnut Avenue. A similar male was spotted near Gateway Plaza, but officers were unable to locate him there. The male is likely transient and may have been at a nearby business aggressively panhandling prior to the incident.

Saturday, September 19

A residential burglary occurred on the 41200 block of Roberts Avenue. The residence was tented for extermination. Losses were jewelry and personal paperwork.

Officers investigated a commercial burglary on the 4100 block of Business Center Drive. Unknown suspect(s) broke the front door, and the reported loss was two computers.

Officers investigated a commercial burglary on the 38500 block of Fremont Boulevard. Unknown suspect(s) shattered the glass front window and stole the cash register with cash and coins.

A 1995 black Honda civic 4D with California license plate #3TWY763 was taken from Masonic Terrace.

A 1998 green Nissan Maxima with California license plate #4DFV480 was taken from Bradley Street.

At 6:53 p.m., a chain snatch robbery occurred in the area of 38000 Lexington Street. The suspect snatched a gold chain off a female's neck and fled north on Lexington Street. He was seen by witnesses running east on Country Drive and then south on Paseo Padre Parkway. The suspect was described as a Black male adult, 20-30 years old, 6'0, medium build, wearing a grey hoodie, unknown color shorts and "strange" shoes.

At 9:47 p.m., officers responded to a residence at the 4400 block of Fenico Terrace on the report of a male chasing people with a knife. Several residents self-evacuated the home. Officers confronted the 54-year-old adult male on the porch and arrested him for exhibiting a deadly weapon.

Sunday, September 20

At 7:34 p.m., Ofc. Navas and Field Training Officer (FTO) Lawrence were conducting a security check at Motel 6 north, and they contacted a 37-year-old adult male, Fremont resident, who was sitting in his vehicle in the parking lot. Officers detected an odor of marijuana coming from the vehicle. A subsequent search of the vehicle was conducted and a loaded handgun was located. The male was arrested for having a concealed firearm in the vehicle and for being a felon in possession of a loaded handgun.

Kohl's security called to report that two suspects that committed a petty theft earlier in the week were now back in the store concealing merchandise in a bag. Officers respond and detained the male half in the parking lot. The second suspect was still in the store. After nearly an hour, the female suspect walked out of the store with the merchandise and was detained. The 29-year-old adult female, San Jose resident, was arrested for grand theft and two active misdemeanor warrants. Case was investigated by Ofc. Samayoa.

Officers investigated a residential burglary in the 300 block of Lippert Avenue. Unknown suspect(s) forced entry through the garage door leading to the kitchen. Loss is to be determined. Case was investigated by Community Service Officer (CSO) Goralczyk.

Officers responded to the 36000 block of Niles Boulevard to investigate a residential burglary. Unknown suspect(s) forced entry through a closed rear kitchen window. Loss reported is gold jewelry. Case was investigated by Ofc. Goepp and FTO Layfield.

Monday, September 21

At 10:00 a.m., Ofc. Ramsey investigated a commercial burglary on the 43100 block of Sumter Avenue. During the night, unknown suspect(s) broke the glass front door and stole money from the register.

At 2:41 p.m., security from Target (39200 block of Fremont Boulevard) tried stopping three suspects from stealing items in the store. When confronted, they pushed and threatened the security personnel. They fled in a silver Hyundai four-door vehicle. Suspects were two black male adults and a black female adult. Officer arrived, but could not locate the suspects.

At 12:36 a.m., Ofc. Fuellenbach was detailed to the 41100 block of Fremont Boulevard regarding a male subject exposing himself to people at a business. The subject fled prior to police arriving. The suspect was described as a white male adult, 25-26 years old, 6'0", 250 lbs., with shoulder-length blonde hair, green eyes, last seen wearing a white, short sleeve t-shirt and grey pants. Investigation is ongoing.

Tuesday, September 22

At approximately 8:10 a.m., two females knocked on the front door of a residence on the 4100 block of Corrigan Drive and received no answer from the occupants. The female suspects then broke the glass near the door to gain entry, at which point, the homeowner yelled from inside and the suspects fled. The two female suspects were described as Asian females wearing all dark blue clothing. There was possibly a male waiting in the suspect vehicle, which was described as a gold or champagne four-door sedan. The suspects were last seen leaving in the direction of Eggers Drive. No loss from the residence was determined, and Ofc. Gourley is investigating.

Officers investigated a residential burglary in the 200 block of Morrison Canyon Road. The unknown suspects used force to open a rear sliding window. The residence was ransacked. Losses were jewelry, purses, sunglasses and watches.

Wednesday, September 23

At 10:50 a.m., an unknown suspect entered Arco gas station in Brookvale shopping center and pretended to be purchasing a soda. When the clerk opened the register drawer, the suspect reached over and grabbed all of the cash in the drawer, then ran out of the store. The suspect was described as a black male adult, 30-35 years old, 6'0", wearing a black hat and all black clothing.

At 3:58 p.m., an auto burglary was reported on the 43400 block Christy Street at Pacific Commons. The owner of the vehicle told officers that a window was smashed and that a backpack containing schoolbooks and supplies was taken. A witness described the suspects as two black male adults driving a small gold or light brown sedan.

At 5:01 p.m., officers responded to take a report of an auto burglary on the 43600 block of Pacific Commons Boulevard. A witness called dispatch and said that a male grabbed a backpack out of a vehicle and set off the alarm. The suspect vehicle was described as a newer model Chevy van, and it was last seen driving toward Automall Parkway. The suspect was described as a black male adult, 30's, short hair, 5'8", 180 lbs. and was wearing a grey T-shirt and black shorts.

PUBLIC NOTICES

PLANNING COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF UNION CITY NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a public hearing will be held by the Planning Commission of the City of Union City for the purpose of considering the following:

Zoning Text Amendment (AT-15-003)

The City of Union City is proposing to update Chapter 18.40, Article IV, Use of Hazardous Materials, of the Union City Municipal Code to clarify standards; update provisions to make them more clear, easy to follow, and consistent with current practices and applicable regulations; remove outdated references and information; and update use requirements for certain types of eligible projects. Updates are also proposed to other provisions of the Municipal Code for consistency with the proposed amendments.

NOTICE IS ALSO GIVEN that the Planning Commission will consider a determination that the proposed amendments are exempt from environmental review in accordance with the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) Guidelines Section 15061(b)(3), which is the general exemption for projects with no potential for significant effect on the environment

This item will be heard at a public hearing by the Planning Commission at the meeting listed below. You may attend the meeting and voice your comments in person, or you may submit comments in writing prior to the hearing. The project planner, Carmela Campbell, can be reached at (510) 675-5316 or via email at CarmelaC@unioncity.org.

PLANNING COMMISSION MEETING

Thursday, October 15, 2015
Said hearing will be held at 7:00 p.m.
In the Council Chambers of City Hall,
34009 Alvarado-Niles Road, Union City

The Planning Commission meeting packet, which includes the meeting agenda and staff report for this project, can be accessed on-line on the City's Agendas and Minutes webpage which is located at <http://www.ci.union-city.ca.us/departments/city-manager-s-office/city-clerk/agendas-and-minutes>. Meeting packets are generally available on-line the Friday before the meeting.

City Hall is accessible by Union City Transit lines 1, 3, 5, 6, 8, 9 and AC Transit line 97. BART riders can transfer to these bus routes at the UC BART station. For information, please call Union City Transit at (510) 471-1411 and AC Transit or BART at 511. Union City Transit maps and schedules are available at www.uctransit.org.

If you challenge the above described project in court, you may be limited to raising only those issues you or someone else raised at the Planning Commission public hearing for this project or the City Council public hearing, or in written correspondence delivered to the Planning Commission or to the City Council at, or prior to, the public hearing.

CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF UNION CITY NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a public hearing will be held by the City Council of the City of Union City for the purpose of considering the following: MOD-15-003

The property owner, Avalon Union City, LP, is seeking approval of modifications to the existing approvals for the prior development of a 438-unit apartment building (Avalon Bay Communities) to: remove an access easement through the site; install three (3) 8-foot gates at the project entrances; and increase the height of the fencing along the rear of the site along the adjacent flood control channel from 8 feet to 6 feet to address security concerns. The following approvals associated with the original development of the site are proposed for modification to accommodate the project:

- Vesting Tentative Tract Map, VTTM-7746;
 - Use Permit, UP-06-05; and
 - Site Development Review, SD-06-05.
- The site is located in the Station Mixed-Use Commercial Zoning District.
NOTICE IS ALSO GIVEN that consistent with CEQA Guidelines sections 15162/15163, the proposed modifications were adequately analyzed in the Environmental Impact Report (EIR) adopted on July 25, 2006 for the original Avalon Bay approval (Resolution No. 3224-06). No further environmental review is required.

The Planning Commission reviewed this project at its September 17, 2015 meeting and recommend approval to the City Council on a 4-0 vote.

This item will be heard at a public hearing by the City Council at the meeting listed below.
If you have questions regarding this application, please contact Carmela Campbell, at (510) 675-5316 or via email at carmelac@unioncity.org. If you would like to provide comments on the project, you may attend the meeting and voice your comments in person or you may submit comments in writing prior to the hearing.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING

PROBATE

CORRECTED NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF RAJENDRA PRASAD A/K/A REGINALD PRASAD CASE NO. RP15784533

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: Rajendra Prasada a/k/a Reginald Prasad
A Petition for Probate has been filed by Rawal Jason Prasad a/k/a Jason Prasad in the Superior Court of California, County of Alameda.
The Petition for Probate requests that Rawal Jason Prasad a/k/a Jason Prasad be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.
A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on October 14, 2015 at 9:30 a.m. in

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by reviewing the county recorder's office or title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on this property. NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE Note: Because this auctioned sale may be the right to bid less than the total debt owed, it is possible that at the time of the sale the opening bid may be less than the total debt NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924(a) of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (866)-960-8299 or visit this Internet Web site <http://www.allsource.com/MortgageServices/DefaultManagement/TrusteeServices.aspx> using the file number assigned to this case 2014-00760-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. Union City Police Log

SUBMITTED BY UNION CITY PD

Tuesday, September 15

At around 12:00 p.m., Ofc. Fonseca responded to the report of an assault that occurred at McDonald's the previous day. The victim said he was in the drive-through lane, when a suspect riding a bike ran into his vehicle. During the subsequent verbal argument, the suspect slashed the victim's cheek with a box cutter, then fled on his bike. The victim did not desire prosecution.

A residential burglary occurred on the 35000 block of Lilac Loop between 10:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. The rear sliding door was pried. The residence was ransacked, and the loss is unknown at this time.

Wednesday, September 16

At around 10:15 p.m., Ofc. Blanchard was dispatched to Union Landing shopping center on the report of a stolen bike. The victim's bike, which was secured to a vehicle bike rack with a lock and chain, was stolen during a two-hour time window.

A residential burglary occurred on the 32600 block of Ithaca Street between 7:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. The front door was forced open. The residence was ransacked, and the loss included jewelry.

A residential burglary (attempt only) occurred on the 32000 block of Paloma Court at 9:00 a.m. The suspect knocked on the door several times, and when no one answered, he attempted to pry open the rear sliding door. The resident interrupted the attempt, and the suspect fled on foot. He was described as a black male adult, 5'11" and 300 lbs., wearing a light blue hoodie and jeans.

Thursday, September 17

At around 7:20 p.m., officers were dispatched to the 1700 block of Decoto Road on reports of a purse snatch. The victim was eating in a restaurant with her purse on the chair next to her. While she was eating, a suspect reached over the chair, grabbed her purse, and ran out of the restaurant. The suspect was described as an Asian or Hispanic male, 5'8" to 5'11" and 160-180 lbs.

A commercial burglary occurred on the 32400 block of Alvarado Boulevard between Wednesday, September 16, 2015 at 5:00 p.m., and Thursday, September 17, 2015 at 7:00 a.m. Entry was made via an unlocked window, and the loss included construction tools.

Friday, September 18

A commercial burglary occurred on the 31200 block of Courthouse Drive between Friday, September 18, 2015 at 10:30 p.m. and Saturday, September 19, 2015 at 8:00 a.m. Entry was made via a window that was broken on September 12, 2015 and then boarded up. The loss is unknown at this time.

Newark Police Log

SUBMITTED BY CMDR. MIKE CARROLL, NEWARK PD

Wednesday, September 16

At 1:54 p.m., Newark Police Department (NPD) officers were dispatched to a residence in the 37300 block of Elm Street for a domestic disturbance. Ofc. Horst investigated the incident and arrested a 32-year-old transient male for domestic battery and vandalism. He was transported and booked into Santa Rita Jail.

At 5:26 p.m., Ofc. Slater responded to a residence in the 37100 block of Sycamore Street for a vehicle theft report. The vehicle (a black 2011 Ford Fusion) was taken sometime during the night. While speaking to the victim, Ofc. Slater saw the stolen vehicle drive by the location. Ofc. Slater stopped the vehicle and arrested a 19-year-old male from Newark for vehicle theft. He was booked at Fremont Jail.

Saturday, September 19

At 3:30 p.m., Ofc. Jackman responded to a report of a shoplifter in custody at Macy's. A 28-year-old male from Newark was cited for shoplifting.

Sunday, September 20

At 2:10 p.m., Ofc. Neithercutt located an occupied stolen vehicle traveling northbound on Cedar Boulevard near Thornton Avenue. Ofc. Neithercutt temporarily lost sight of the vehicle and when he located it, the driver had parked and fled the area on foot, jumping fences. The passenger in the vehicle remained on scene and was detained. A passersby directed officers to the area of Lafayette Avenue and Sandalwood Drive. A perimeter was established and Ofc. Jackman and his K9 began a track. The driver was later identified but not located. Ofc. Neithercutt is seeking a warrant for his arrest.

At 4:30 p.m., the shift was dispatched to a 911 call from security at Swiss Park, reporting that approximately 500 people were involved in a fight within the business. Officers arrived on scene to find what was later learned to be a "Nicaraguan Festival." The event had approximately 800-900 people in attendance. Security advised that several people inside were causing a disturbance, and they needed help removing the people from the event. Officers stood by as approximately 10 people were ejected. Once the problem attendees were ejected, officers observed several disturbances in the parking lots with one leading to a fistfight involving three subjects in the roadway. As officers worked to quell the fights, a 34-year-old female from Concord attempted to intervene and pushed Ofc. Nobbie, leading to her being detained and then arrested for a violation of interfering with police officers. A 27-year-old male, also from Concord, was arrested for a violation of public fighting. The disturbances lead to a large crowd gathering outside of the event. Due to the extremely large crowd and level of intoxication of many of the bystanders, a request was made to Fremont Police Department (FPD) to assist our officers. The crowd began to disperse and leave the event. The event remained open, allowing the large crowd to slowly leave the area peacefully. Thank you FPD for the assistance.

At 5:51 p.m., Ofc. Sandoval, who was off duty, observed a vehicle with front end damage driving erratically in the area of Alvarado Niles and Fremont Boulevard. The vehicle was driving on the wrong side of the roadway and entered the freeway where it continued to swerve and tailgate vehicles. Ofc. Sandoval followed the vehicle into Newark. The vehicle stopped in the 7600 block of Thornton Avenue. Ofc. Sandoval directed officers to the vehicle and driver. The 36-year-old male from Newark was arrested for DUI. It is likely that his vehicle, a white 2002 Hyundai Elantra, was involved in a collision prior to Ofc. Sandoval's observations. He was transported to Santa Rita Jail where he was booked for DUI.

Fremont Adopts the Vision Zero Traffic Safety Policy

On September 15, 2015, the Fremont City Council adopted the Vision Zero traffic safety policy goal of eliminating traffic fatalities by facilitating safer streets, safer travel behaviors, and safer vehicles. The Vision Zero concept was first initiated in 1997 by Sweden and has since been adopted by other European countries and more recently, U.S. cities such as New York, San Francisco, and San Jose.

Best practices identified in the Vision Zero programs include focusing on the 4E's of safety: Evaluation, Engineering, Enforcement, and Education. The City of Fremont is already implementing many of the best practices and is rated among the safest cities in California and the nation for relatively low rates of traffic fatalities and injury crashes. City staff will prepare a "Vision Zero Fremont" status report and action plan for completion in early 2016.

For more information about the Vision Zero Fremont policy, please contact Sheila Marquises at smarquises@fremont.gov or 510-494-4747.

Views of Nature

SUBMITTED BY WINDA SHIMIZU

Hayward Shoreline Interpretive Center presents artists Rosa Bazzani and Terry Preston in the exhibit "Views of Nature" from October 3 through January 10.

"Views of Nature" is a collection of photographs, graphite drawings, and watercolors inspired by local scenes and wildlife. Bazzani and Preston have captured images based on their experiences with nature and its habitants, their commitment to preserve it, and their desire to share it with the viewer. Creative scenes in "Views of Nature" connect you to a world of beauty, stillness, and peace in the natural environment.

"My goal is to represent all nature and wildlife but with a special focus on the threatened and endangered species that the earth is at risk of losing from the threat of Climate Change and habitat loss," stated Preston.

"Art is an integral part of my life. And photography enables me to express, and share, my deepest feelings for Nature with others," said Bazzani.

Bazzani and Preston are members of Hayward Arts Council and A.R.T., Inc. Meet and greet the artists at the Center on Saturday, October 3, 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

OFFERS

Transitional Kindergarten!

St. Edward School is excited to announce Transitional Kindergarten beginning in August 2015. Students will discover a love for learning through monthly themes, letter of the week learning and math concepts presented in a play-based and hands-on environment. We welcome children who are potty trained and 4 years of age as of September 1, 2015.

The TK school day is from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. If you feel your child isn't ready to begin in August, applications will be accepted throughout the school year. St. Edward School, a TK-8th grade Catholic school, is accepting applications for all grades.

Please call 510-793-7242 or visit www.stednewark.org

Feeling great? You ought to see a doctor.

At Washington Township Medical Foundation, we believe there's no better time to see your doctor than when you're feeling healthy. That's the best time for a routine checkup, and to take stock of your overall health picture to help prevent potential problems. Starting at the age of 20, you should have your cholesterol and blood sugars checked regularly to help ward off cardiovascular problems. Prostate checks for men are recommended once you're in your 40s, as are mammograms for women. And at 50, a colonoscopy is a highly effective procedure to catch conditions that could possibly lead to cancer. These are just a few of the tests your care team can help you schedule if needed. We will help you stay on top of and prevent cardiovascular disease, cancer, diabetes and other potentially significant health issues. If you need follow-up visits with a specialist, WTMF has a wide range of Board Certified physicians who work as a team with your primary care physician. If hospital treatment is required, we're affiliated with award-winning Washington Hospital, located right here in our community. So, if you want to stay healthy, a WTMF doctor is a choice you can feel really good about.
