Arabic-Persian Calligrapher coming to Fremont

SUBMITTED BY SUSAN HELMER

The Fremont Art Association (FAA) presents an evening with calligrapher Arash Shirinbab, who will be speaking about and demonstrating Arabic-Persian calligraphy. The evening presentation on August 3 begins the "Calligraphies in Conversation" exhibit at the Fremont gallery, which will continue until September 23.

Audiences usually perceive calligraphy when it is finished, so the performance of calligraphy is a unique opportunity for them to see the very act of calligraphy while it is done live. The Islamic calligraphy demonstration is about introducing audiences to the way that this calligraphy is done, with traditional tools in small scale as well as using "The Bay Area Night Market" will have its inaugural debut at the Newark Pavilion on Friday, July 29. The event was created by Ria Lauren Abellera, the owner of Sweet Imaginations, a former vendor of many festivals and events all over the Bay Area. The Bay Area Night Market was created to bring a new spin on summer festivals and events in the Tri-City and to bring the community together.

The Bay Area Night Market takes inspiration from the popular Asian night markets found in many Asian countries. The event will take that inspiration and blend it with a Bay Area vibe for a night that is uniquely Bay Area.

Though night markets are traditionally held outside on the streets, the Bay Area Night Market will have a marketplace both outdoors and indoors at the Newark Pavilion. Just outside of the Pavilion, attendees can dine from a global selection of over 12 food vendors ranging from traditional

Neighbors gather for National Night Out

Tri-City folks looking for a way to strengthen their neighborhood communities can organize a gathering or visit an event on Tuesday, August 2 in honor of the 33rd annual "National Night Out." This yearly nationwide event is designed to raise crime prevention awareness and develop partnerships between a city and the community.

Hosting a National Night Out party is a simple way for people to meet neighbors, have fun, and explore how they might work together to improve the safety and quality of their neighborhood. Cities around the area want residents to know about how they can come together to launch a block party, a cook out, an ice cream social or other way to gather together after dark.

In addition to hosting evening parties, citizens are asked to turn on porch and other outdoor lights in support of this event, to send a strong message against crime and illegal drug activity. These practical and symbolic activities highlight the benefits of strong police and community partnerships.

Matt Peskin of the National Association of Town Watch says that National Night Out has grown substantially in the number of participating communities. Peskin reports that this year 16,500 communities are planning events, involving over 38 million people, in contrast to the first year's involvement of two-and-a-half million participating Americans. National Night Out is also being recognized on How Can Palliative Care Help You?

Second of Three Free Presentations Features Panel of Experts Discussing Palliative Care Benefits

Palliative care is a family-centered service that takes a holistic approach to caring for patients. In some ways, it is similar to hospice, which provides comprehensive support for people who likely have six months or less to live as well as support for their families and friends. Both types of care involve an interdisciplinary team of professionals in spiritual care, social work and medical care to deal with all aspects of the patient's needs. Yet there is an important difference between the two. Palliative care is not just for patients who are dying, and it can continue for a much longer period of time.

"Palliative care can be done in conjunction with curative medical care," explains Washington Hospital's Palliative Care Coordinator Father Jeff Finley, MDiv. "In general, palliative care involves pain and symptom management, but I find the emotional support component is one of the most important aspects because it enhances the patient's quality of life. As a Roman Catholic priest, I have long been involved in spiritual care for people who are ill or dying, and my passion for palliative care evolved from that experience."

To promote greater awareness of palliative care and give people in the community an opportunity to meet with experts in the field, Washington Hospital is offering a series of free presentations. The presentations are intended for patients and their families, but physicians and other care providers also are welcome to attend.

The upcoming session – "Palliative Care – How Can This Help Me?" – will feature Father Finley and other members of Washington Hospital's Palliative Care Team. The presentation is scheduled for Tuesday, August 16, from 6:30 to 8 p.m. in the Conrad E. Anderson, MD, Palliative care is not just for patients who are dying, as it can also be done while patients receive curative medical care. To learn more about palliative care, attend the upcoming free seminar titled, "Palliative Care – How Can This Help Me?" The presentation is scheduled for Tuesday, August 16, from 6:30 – 8 p.m. in the Conrad E. Anderson, MD, Auditorium at 2500 Mowry Ave., in Fremont. To register, call (800) 963-7070 or go to whhs.com/events.

Auditorium at 2500 Mowry Avenue in Fremont. The forum will allow ample time for questions from the audience.

The third and final presentation is scheduled for Tuesday, September 20, at the same time and location. Information and forms for completing advance health care directives will be available at all sessions. Individual assistance in completing advance health care directives will be provided as needed. Participants do not need to attend every session.

- At the August 16 session, Father Finley will moderate a panel discussion about the benefits of palliative care in actual patient case studies. Palliative care experts on the panel will include:
- Palliative Care Nurse Practitioner Bernadita Roe, NP
 - Palliative Care Social Worker Catherine Marciano, LCSW
 - Pharmacist Kajal Sheth, PharmD
 - Physical Therapist Alisa Curry, DPT, GTC (geriatric training credential), GCS (geriatric clinical specialist)

"We intend to present three case studies of actual patients who received palliative care at Washington Hospital," Father Finley notes. "One patient suffered from dementia. Another had Parkinson's disease. The third patient had a stroke and was treated here because Washington Hospital is designated as a 'stroke receiving center.'"

"When people think of palliative care, they most likely think of patients with conditions

Bond Refinancing to Save Washington Hospital Taxpayers $5.84 Million

General obligation bonds financing construction improvements at Washington Hospital have been refinanced to save district taxpayers $5.84 million over the remaining life of the bonds following recent action by the Washington Township Health Care District’s board of directors.

The savings are going directly to the residents of the district in the form of reduced future property tax assessments, explained Board President Michael J. Wallace.

“None of these savings will return to the Hospital’s bottom line,” Wallace added. “Our goal was to take advantage of current extremely low interest rates to reduce future taxes for our residents.

“District residents have always supported the Hospital, through the 2004 and 2012 bond measures, along with the extraordinary volunteer work and fundraising by individual residents,” Wallace said. “The residents should benefit from any savings we can achieve.”

Measure FF, approved by district voters in 2004, authorized $190 million in bonds to finance facility upgrades to meet state-mandated earthquake safety improvements by 2030.

The original bond issue in 2006 was financed at 4.48 percent, Wallace said. The new refinanced bonds carry a 2.59 percent interest rate, resulting in an annual savings of $448,000.

The bonds will be paid off by 2036 as required in the original bond measure. The taxpayer savings come from the reduced interest rate, not from extending the bonds out further than the original 30 years, Wallace added.

Construction of the Central Utility Plant, which opened in 2011, is a key component of the Hospital’s long-term facilities master plan. Voter-approved Measure FF bonds financed the construction of the plant, along with other facility improvements to help Washington Hospital meet earthquake safety standards by 2030. Refinancing of the general obligation bonds is saving district taxpayers $5.84 million over the remaining life of the bonds.

The bond measure funded the construction of a new, modern central utility plant, a key component of the Hospital’s long-term facilities master plan program. The existing utility plant was outdated and had reached the limits of its capacity to support the Hospital’s master plan program.

The seismically sound central utility plant, which opened in December 2011, supports all the critical functions the Hospital needs to operate 24 hours a day. This includes boilers for heating, hot water for bathing and other uses, steam generation for sterilization and autoclaving, and medical gases, such as oxygen. The plant also houses a modern, energy- and water-efficient laundry.

Other smaller projects related to the central utility plant also were financed by the 2006 bond issue.

A five-member Citizen’s Oversight Committee reviews all actions taken regarding Measure FF bonds and reports annually to the board of directors.

College Freshman Dorm Health Concerns

Dear Doctor,
My daughter is heading off for her freshman year in college. She will be living in a dorm for the first time. Are there any health considerations?

Dear Reader,
It is important that your daughter is up-to-date on all of her vaccines. Spread of disease, including the whooping cough, is common in dorms. She should also be advised to wear water shoes in the shower area (to avoid athlete’s foot) and to wear regular shoes in all other common areas. Regular washing of towels, sheets and blankets is also important to avoid bed bugs, lice and other common pests.

such as congestive heart failure, cancer, kidney disease or chronic obstructive pulmonary disease,” he continues. “We wanted to broaden the scope of the discussion beyond those four categories so people can see there are other conditions that can merit palliative care.”

According to Father Finley, the panelists were selected because their contributions to palliative care are not as well known as those of physicians and spiritual care professionals.

“The pharmacist coordinates with physicians to determine appropriate medications for each patient and then provides information about the proper use and potential side effects of each medication,” he explains. “The nurse practitioner works alongside the physicians at Washington Hospital to manage the patient’s symptoms and then coordinates patient care with the primary care physician when the patient goes home. The physical therapist and other rehabilitation specialists, such as occupational or speech therapists, keep patients moving and help them recover or improve physical abilities that are lost or diminished. The social worker supports the patient and family, including providing resources for when the patient returns home – such as home health care, support groups, medical equipment and help with insurance coverage.”

Washington Hospital’s Palliative Care Program currently focuses on patients who are admitted with serious, chronic medical conditions. While these patients are hospitalized, the Palliative Care Team helps define both short-term and long-term goals for care. The group hopes to extend services to outpatient settings soon.

“The Palliative Care Program was launched after our group went through training sessions at the University of California-San Francisco,” Father Finley says. “That experience set us on fire. Now we have a program that is evolving from the passion that all of us have for patient care. We want what is best for our patients. Palliative Care at Washington Hospital is really about providing a sense of hope to people who may not have it.”

Increased West Nile Virus activity

SUBMITTED BY CA DEPT OF PUBLIC HEALTH

The California Department of Public Health (CDPH) is reporting increased West Nile virus activity across the state and is investigating numerous suspect cases in humans. While the first human case has not been confirmed by CDPH, a resident of Los Angeles County has symptoms consistent with West Nile virus disease. Initial tests on that patient indicate a probable West Nile virus diagnosis, which requires further testing for confirmation.

To date in 2016, West Nile virus has been detected in mosquitoes and birds in 30 California counties. Approximately 600 dead birds and 896 mosquitoes sampled in California this year have been found to harbor the virus.

West Nile virus is transmitted to humans and animals by the bite of an infected mosquito. The risk of serious illness to most people is low. However, some individuals – less than one percent – can develop a serious neurologic illness such as encephalitis or meningitis. People 50 years of age and older have a higher chance of getting sick and are more likely to develop complications. Recent data also indicate that people with diabetes and/or hypertension are at greatest risk for serious illness.

CDPH recommends that individuals prevent exposure to mosquito bites and West Nile virus by practicing the “Three Ds”:

1. DEET – Apply insect repellent containing DEET, picaradin, oil of lemon eucalyptus or IR3535 according to label instructions. Repellents keep mosquitoes from biting. DEET can be used safely on infants and children two months of age and older.

2. DAWN AND DUSK – Mosquitoes bite in the early morning and evening, so it is important to wear proper clothing and repellent if outside during these times. Make sure doors and windows have tight-fitting screens to keep out mosquitoes. Repair or replace screens with tears or holes.

3. DRAIN – Mosquitoes lay their eggs on standing water. Eliminate or drain all sources of standing water around homes and properties, including buckets, old car tires, rain gutters, birdbaths, and pet bowls. If a swimming pool is not being properly maintained, please contact the local mosquito and vector control agency.

Visit <http://www.westnile.ca.gov/> for more information or call 1-(877) 968-2473 to report dead birds.

Voter Information Book

SUBMITTED BY SAM NEEMAN

The League of Women Voters of Fremont, Newark and Union City (LWVFNUC), a nonpartisan civic organization that encourages the informed and active participation of citizens in government, announced recently that it is planning a “Voter Information Book” (VIB) for the upcoming 2016 elections.

The League is extending an open invitation to all candidates running for an elected position in Fremont, Newark and Union City in the November 8 election to participate. If there are local ballot measures, opponents and proponents may choose to be part of the VIB. This will be the seventh edition of what has been a highly successful program from previous elections where candidates for local office have leveraged a cost-effective method for getting their message to voters.

Many candidates cannot afford the thousands of dollars required for direct mailers to get their message to the voters. The League’s non-partisan, cooperative campaign effort is a powerful medium for each candidate to get their message to likely voters.

Each candidate may design and submit two pages combining information and graphic elements.

The collected pages will be assembled into a book according to the order in which the office appears on the ballot. All participating candidates share the cost of the book, with the cost decreasing per candidate as more candidates participate. The cost per household contact should be much less when compared to mailing an individual piece.

When filing closes August 12, all candidates who have provided contact information will be notified of this year’s opportunity and requirements. Those candidates who are interested in participating should visit www.LWVFNUC.org to find more information and to let the League know of their interest in participating. The book requires a minimum number of candidates to participate in order to make it cost-efficient.

Voters get the information needed to make educated and informed voting decisions, while candidates get their message across to the voting public by participation in the League of Women Voters “VIB 2016.”

For more information, visit www.LWVFNUC.org or contact Marilyn Singer at: singer756@comcast.net or (510) 657-1969.

LOV’s free Summer Camp fun

SUBMITTED BY SHARON SLAYTON

LOV has been bringing free summer recreation services to the Tri-Cities for 36 years and was voted 2015 Best Summer Camp of Newark. More than 400 children, ages 5-12, registered for the free 6-week program in June. This year’s program registration filled up faster and included more children than ever before. Although the program is full, LOV invites parents to inquire about their children joining on a special drop-in basis to help solve summertime recreation dilemmas.

Innovations over the last four seasons at LOV have brought a growing list of community providers and local businesses together to offer this exceptional program, primarily to low income and difficult-to-place families with needs. Trained park staff and a small army of Newark’s finest teen volunteers make daily operations possible and keep the children busy as well as safe. Partnerships with local and Bay Area companies and service providers add excitement to the many weekly-themed games, sports, arts and crafts and other activities already a part of the program.

One of the upcoming special events, Field Trip in the Park, takes place Thursday, July 28 in Newark. Participants include: the Wildlife Associates, CA School for the Blind, Joe’s Honey and Newark Police Canine Unit demonstrations and workshops. This event is open to all local families or anyone at the park to enjoy.

Additionally, on August 18, the End of Summer BBQ at Mayhews Landing Park is also open to local families who wish to attend. This year’s BBQ stars a community Pot Luck with the fun and the main course provided by LOV, a kid’s summer art & talent gallery, and new magical performances by Illusionation Magic and Circus Vargas.

Grant funding from the Lowell Berry Foundation, the Newark Betterment Corporation and Kaiser Permanente have added special nutrition and volunteer development elements to this year’s program. Other important partnerships and donations include offerings from artist/instructor Tania Chavez of the Candlelight Global Fine Art Gallery and Studio, Alameda County’s LocalMotionCA Bike Mobile, Stopwaste.org, the Wildlife Associates, Newark Police Department, Joe’s Honey of Hayward, the California School for the Blind, the Silicon Valley Roller Girls, Aloha Skating Rink, Dick’s Sporting Goods, Newark Grocery Outlet, Illusionation Magic, Circus Vargas, Newark Unified School District and the Federal Free Lunch Program, and the Alameda County Newark Library. Their special support allows LOV to put on this exciting program for about $25 per child.

Thanks to the encouragement and hospitality of the Dominican Sisters of Mission San Jose and the Dominican Sisters School of Music, music directors Steven Hendee and Sharon Hendee of Fremont Youth Orchestra presented its inaugural summer institute, an intensive weeklong program that concluded with a concert on June 26, 2016. At the Dominican Sisters Community Event Space, Sr. Andre Marie, along with more than 20 young string musicians, performed for the first time as the Dominican Chamber Orchestra.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Vargas Plateau shut down

Vargas Plateau was shut down by a court order recently. The court found that EBRPD (East Bay Regional Park District) failed to complete certain specific roadway widening improvements for motor vehicles as required by a settlement agreement in 2012. EBRPD provided $260,000 to the city, according to staff report, for this Vargas Road Improvement Project.

Closing this park to bikes and pedestrians is not in the public interest, since the plaintiffs can't be harmed by non-motorized visitors. EBRPD should disentangle the roadway issues from non-motorized access and close the parking lot until the deficiencies are corrected. The court ruling sought a "balancing of harms," but overlooked this non-motorized alternative. We think that the court should direct EBRPD to restore bike and pedestrian access immediately.

Kiwanis Club honors longtime Fremont resident

SUBMITTED BY SHIRLEY SISK

The public is invited to attend a special tree dedication honoring Allen Sprague on Sunday, July 31 at St Anne's Episcopal Church in Fremont. In his honor the Kiwanis Club of Fremont has planted a Jacaranda tree in his church gardens.

Allen brought his family to Fremont in 1962 and began his career as an assistant city attorney for the City. He quickly got involved in a variety of issues confronting cities, and advising the Planning Commission and staff on land use/development matters. He advanced to city attorney when his predecessor retired. Some City staff members remember Allen for the magic he worked with the California Public Utilities Commission. He secured funding for two railroad grade separations where the rules could have limited Fremont to funding just one. That resulted in the Durham Road overpass and the Grimmer Boulevard underpass being built. Allen retired as city attorney in 1995.

Allen was active in many activities in his church, Pathways Hospice, S.I.R.S., Boy Scouts, Fremont Symphony and Don Edwards Wildlife Refuge. However, Kiwanis remembers him for his dedication and years of service to the community through Kiwanis programs. Allen joined Kiwanis in April 1, 1975 and was active until his death in 2015. He served as a 40-year Legion of Honor member, a member of the George F. Hixson Fellowship, President of the Club and Division Lt. Governor. Allen read at the library, and worked the Ducks for Bucks Race and the Stuff a Bus program collecting school supplies for Fremont Unified School District. Wherever there was a need, Allen volunteered.

The City of Milpitas Office of Emergency Services is hosting free emergency preparedness classes for Milpitas residents on Saturday, August 13, 20 and 27. SAFE (Strategic Action for Emergencies) is a free emergency preparedness program created to teach residents how to save lives and reduce property damage in the aftermath of a catastrophe.

In the event of a major disaster, sections of our community may be severely impacted. Should this happen, public safety professionals will be required to commit all available resources at their disposal to alleviate the emergency. The priorities of City personnel will be saving lives and focusing resources on the greatest number of people. The protection of life and property before, during and after a disaster is the responsibility of all of us.

The SAFE training program consists of classroom and practical training for neighborhood groups of 12 to 20; classroom training by Milpitas

Fire personnel; a Saturday graduation exercise consisting of a simple test and practical applications of learned skills; registration as a Disaster Service Worker; and a SAFE backpack with ID vest and personal safety equipment.

Visa earnings fall due to costs tied to Visa Europe purchase

BY KEN SWEET
AP BUSINESS WRITER

NEW YORK (AP)—Credit and debit card processor Visa Inc. said its fiscal third-quarter earnings fell 76 percent from a year ago, largely due to the cost of completing its purchase of its operations in Europe.

San Francisco-based Visa said Thursday it earned a profit of $412 million, or 17 cents per share, down from $1.7 billion, or 69 cents per share, in the same period a year ago. The results included several one-time items, but the largest one was a $1.9 billion charge tied to Visa completing its $23.4 billion purchase of Visa Europe.

Excluding those one-time charges, Visa earned 69 cents per share, 2 cents above the 67 cents that analysts had been looking, according to FactSet.

"While little has changed in the global economic environment, and cross-border commerce continues to be challenged by a strong U.S. dollar, domestic consumer spend across the globe remains strong and resilient," said Visa CEO Charlie Scharf in prepared remarks.

Visa had a busy quarter. It finished its purchase of Visa Europe, and the company is now working quickly to integrate the two companies, Scharf said in a call with investors. Visa also became the exclusive credit card processor for Costco last month, replacing American Express. The company also renewed several credit and debit card partnerships with banks, including TD Bank.

The company also announced a partnership with PayPal at the same time as reporting its results. Visa cards will be more prominently accepted on PayPal and its subsidiary Venmo, and its customers will be able to send and withdraw money more quickly.

Visa processed $1.347 trillion in purchases on its network in the quarter, up 10.2 percent from a year ago, excluding currency fluctuations. Visa's payment processing volume is closely watched by investors since Visa takes a small slice of every transaction as a fee.

The global payments processor posted revenue of $3.63 billion in the period, meeting Street forecasts, up from $3.52 billion a year earlier.

The company also announced it was increasing its stock buyback program by $5 billion to a total stock buyback program of $7.3 billion.

Visa shares were down slightly in after-market trading to $79.09.

AC Transit launches on-demand Transit Flex

SUBMITTED BY ROBERT LYLES

The Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District (AC Transit) announces the launch of a year-long pilot program known as AC Transit Flex. An innovative advancement in public transit for the East Bay, Flex is an on-demand bus service that gives AC Transit passengers direct control of their daily commute. Using a desktop computer, smart phone device or traditional telephone riders within two designated zones may now bypass waiting-in-the-elements at an existing bus stop. With AC Transit Flex, riders can schedule their pick-up and desired drop-off locations: reducing their wait time, arriving at their destination faster, and increasing the overall rider experience.

Flex's pilot zones include Castro Valley, Newark, Union City and Fremont. Two existing AC Transit bus lines and corresponding stops have been designated for this inaugural launch:

Line 275: serving Union City BART to Lido Faire Shopping Center

Line 48: including new service along Redwood Road between Summerset Avenue and Castro Valley BART and Redwood Road between Seven Hills and the Aitken Community and Senior Center upon request

The existing bus stops, along Lines 48 and 275, now serve as the reserved pick-up and drop-off sites with a single telephone call to (510) 891-5470 or click of actransit.org/flex. Flex riders decide the day, time, and bus stop to begin travel. Flex's website or live customer service assistant will then provide riders with several departure times and estimated arrival times.

AC Transit Flex operates using navigation software called MobilityDR developed by Demand-Trans Solutions. MobilityDR eliminates the traditional fixed bus route and instead provides Flex Operators turn-by-turn directions to reach a reserved rider.

Despite rigorous closed-course testing, the possibility of software technical interruptions may arise. So a beta-testing period will accompany AC Transit Flex's first 30 days of operation.

AC Transit Flex operates Monday thru Friday 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. and excludes holidays. To ensure timely frequency, Flex service is designed with a reservation requirement of at least 30 minutes prior to an intended departure. However, Flex is truly flexible; offering riders the added advantage of reserving an itinerary every weekday — for up to three months — as well as the option to reserve trips for family or traveling companions with a single transaction.

AC Transit Flex riders are asked to create an online account that links to either an email or mobile phone number. Flex riders reserving via the website will receive notice ten minutes prior to the buses arrival via email or text. Riders may opt out of email or mobile phone registration by telephoning a customer service representative to book Flex travel.

AC Transit Flex also offers two exceptions to the reservation requirement. Riders commencing travel at Castro Valley BART may board without reservations every 60 minutes. Similarly, reservations are not required when commencing travel at Union City BART which operates every 30 minutes. Riders should look for Flex's 16-passenger buses each adorned with the AC Transit Flex logo on the passenger windows.

AC Transit Flex brings state-of-the-art transit service without an increase in fare. AC Transit's existing one-way fare of $2.10 for adults applies on Flex. Fares are $1.05 for youth ages 5 – 18, passengers with disabilities, and seniors at least 65 years in age. For added convenience, each Flex bus is outfitted with both a fare box and Clipper Card one-touch readers. Discounted fares are available for Clipper and 31-day pass holders. Tobacco companies give $17 million to defeat cigarette tax

AP WIRE SERVICE

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Tobacco companies are giving about $17 million to defeat a proposed cigarette tax that's quickly attracting some of the highest spending among the initiatives on California's November ballot.

R.J. Reynolds and Altria affil-ates reported giving $16 million in cash and nearly $1 million in non-monetary contributions to defeat a proposed $2 tax on each pack of cigarettes.

Altria spokeswoman Beth Miller says the donations reported Friday will go toward advertising, polling and mailers opposing the measure.

Medical groups and the state's largest union have raised more than $14 million in favor of the cigarette tax initiative.

It's one of 17 that have qualified for the November ballot.

A proposal to extend a tax on wealthy earners to build public schools has received more than $26 million in contributions.

US military bases around the world, including Japan, England, and Iceland.

Local communities are providing ideas for neighbors to conduct events. The city of Newark invites residential neighborhoods to request permission to close a street or street section for a National Night Out event. Additional information regarding street closures and block parties can be located on the City of Newark website. Tim Jones of the Community Engagement Division with the Newark Police Department says those who support National Night Out are the biggest supporters of law enforcement. As cities across the United States grapple with police and public relationships, National Night Out offers a positive venue for the common goal of establishing safe communities.

San Leandro asks that people register block parties, free of charge, giving police or local officials an opportunity to attend, as time permits.

Union City invites citizens to lock doors and turn on outside lights to show their support, and to spend the evening outside with neighbors, community groups, public safety officers and city officials. Additionally, Union City will host activities, music, food and entertainment at Veterans Memorial Park, Accinelli Park, 10th Street Park and Town Estates Park. Police command staff and city officials will be on hand and there will be demonstrations from UCPD SWAT, K-9, Traffic (motorcycle unit) and Paramedics Plus. Smaller block parties will be held at Tamarack Knolls, Ponderosa Cove, as well as Town and Country.

Fremont officials will visit neighborhood events registered with the city by July 28. A Block Party Guide filled with tips and ideas is also available to download from the city website.

The city of Milpitas is planning recognition of National Night Out for Thursday, August 4. The regular even has proven to be an effective, economical and enjoyable program that promotes neighborhood spirit and police?community partnerships for a safer community. Officials say the benefits the community will gain from National Night Out will most certainly extend well beyond this one night.

Hayward Police Department coordinates with Neighborhood Alert and ADP, one of the national sponsors. Department officials say the presence of local law enforcement in the community under positive circumstances of a National Night Out event allows many residents to meet officers on a one-to-one basis.

Residents of the Eden area are invited to St. John's Catholic Church in San Lorenzo to get to know their Special Duty Unit and Crime Prevention Unit deputies. A free dinner will be held from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

For more information about registering and hosting a gathering, visit your city's website. To learn more about National Night Out, visit <https://natw.org/>.

Hilarity ensues in the 'Dro

Justin Lucas

Michael D. Booker Entertainment and Mendocino Brewing Company present "Comedy in the 'Dro" on Saturday, July 30 at The Englander. Booker brings comedians Justin Lucas, Leslie Zimmerman, Mark Leal, and newcomer Randy Farinelli together for a night of hilarity in San Leandro. Comedy in the 'Dro is a monthly one-night event that features local comedians in the Bay Area.

Booker has been producing comedy shows at The Englander with help from San Leandro Downtown Association and San Leandro Chamber of Commerce. Booker started his comedy career in 1984 and has performed at The Punch Line San Francisco and The Voodoo Lounge inside Las Vegas' Rio hotel, among many other places. He has worked with the likes of Steven Pearl, Pat Paulsen, and Larry "Bubbles" Brown, and did a videotaped show with George Lopez. Tired from traveling, he decided to start his own comedy club and produce shows at The Englander, which has been hosting Booker and his group of comedian friends for 13 years.

San Francisco native Justin Lucas began his career in entertainment after graduating from San Francisco State University in 2010. Beginning as a stand-up comedian, he has performed at the legendary Purple Onion, Punch Line, Cobb's, and other popular Bay Area comedy venues. Lucas has successfully entered a number of comedy competitions, including San Francisco International Comedy Competition (2012, semi-finalist), and his awards include the 2015 Bay Area Reporter award for Best Male Comedian. Lucas appeared in Season 2 of the HBO series, "Looking."

Summer Youth Concert

SUBMITTED BY
JENNY LIN FOUNDATION

The official start of summer on June 20 also began the annual music program offered free-of-charge by Jenny Lin Foundation (JLF). Thanks to the Castro Valley Unified School District, this year's 350 young musicians from across the Bay Area, who participate in the six-week program, once again get to use the facilities at Canyon Middle School for rehearsal twice a week. The summer program concludes with a community concert "Shoot for the Stars," sponsored by Chabot College on July 29 at the Reed L. Buffington Performing Arts Center.

Two scholarships will be presented at the concert to be held in Hayward. One is a full scholarship for the YOSAC Symphony Orchestra, to be awarded to an outstanding JLF Symphonic Orchestra musician. YOSAC (Youth Orchestra of Southern Alameda County), a long-time partner of the JLF, is a community-based nonprofit organization started by parents, teachers, and music professionals to augment the school instrumental music programs of Southern Alameda County. It also offers a $100 discount to any JLF musician who applies for YOSAC membership.

New this year is a partnership with Mission Peak Wind Symphony (MPWS) that offers a full scholarship to a JLF Symphonic Band member who displays artistic merit and also meets the instrumental music needs of MPWS. The only youth wind band in the area outside of school, Fremont-based MPWS offers motivated high school wind and percussion musicians the opportunity to immerse themselves in challenging repertoire with peers sharing a passion for creating beautiful music together.

Thanks to the generous donation of time and energy by all-season teachers Diana Ryan

(Chorus director), Greg Conway (Symphonic Band director), and Cary Nasatir (Symphonic Orchestra director), we have been able to host a free music program every summer in memory of our friend Jenny Lin, who was murdered 22 years ago in her own home in Castro Valley. Her murder is still unsolved. While the program is organized to carry on Jenny's love of music and extend her life in a unique fashion, child safety issues remain the Foundation's top priority.

To ensure the safety of our participants, representatives of the Alameda County Sheriff's office continue their presence at the rehearsal venue. This, together with the numerous hardworking volunteers who direct traffic, provide supervision during break-time and serve in other capacities, ensures that the Jenny Lin Foundation Summer Youth Program is not only cost-free to our young people but also worry-free to their parents.

To these and other community partners — individuals and organizations — we thank you all for your care and support!

traditional-inspired tools in large-scale format. After the demonstration there will be questions and answers, and then the audience will have a chance to try traditional tools and experience the calligraphy up close. The program is for all ages, from children to adults with any background.

Arash Shirinbab is an award-winning artist and calligrapher as well as a successful blend of art administrator, art curator, and entrepreneur for the past ten years. He has participated in over 70 exhibitions (over 10 solos) nationally and internationally in the U.S., Spain, Poland, Canada, Russia, France, Italy, and Iran. His work has been featured in the Triton Museum of Art in California, the Kunsthaus-Berlin-Marbella Cultural Centre in Spain, and the Saadabad Palace in Tehran. Shirinbab has led over four dozen public art programs, has curated five international exhibitions from over 1,500 submissions, and has conducted over two dozen calligraphy workshops and demonstrations including workshops at Fremont Main Library, University of Toronto, and master class at the Contemporary Museum of Calligraphy in Moscow.

Calligraphies in Conversation is an annual group exhibition plus a series of public venues including calligraphy demonstrations, workshops, and master classes focusing on endorsing the appreciation of traditional calligraphy in a hands-on and tangible manner. The emphasis of this program is initiating a meaningful conversation between different calligraphy traditions, scripts, and cultures, especially between the Middle Eastern calligraphy and other calligraphy scripts. Such viewing combinations are rare in California, and will provide the public with the unique opportunity to recognize shared features: The traditions all highlight the power of the written word via inscribing it artistically with pen and ink, and emphasize a direct relationship between spirituality and calligraphy.

The chief curator of the exhibition, Shirinbab has assembled a unique collection of calligraphic works with range of diverse traditions and styles including Chinese, Japanese, Tibetan, Arabic, Persian, Turkish, and Western classic calligraphy artworks as well as manifestations of calligraphy in some contemporary and abstract art pieces. The works are curated from over 200 submissions from local, national, and international calligraphers including the U.S., Canada, Taiwan, Check Republic, India, Iran, Hungary, and Brunei Darussalam.

Please join us on August 3 for what promises to be an inspired evening. For more information, call (510) 792-0905.

REAL ROOMS FOR REAL PEOPLE

Don't let fear hold you back from having a colorful home peach to coral to pumpkin to terracotta. The yellow family includes butter, lemon and gold. Open your mind to the whole family of color.

Cool colors, such as blue, green and purple, recede into the background and help calm and pacify. These colors can be ideal for a bedroom, master bath or quiet retreat. However, if you love the idea of red in your bedroom, go for it. There really are no rules, and red can be quite dramatic! The full range of blue includes sky blue, aqua, turquoise and navy. The green family includes avocado, lime, celery, sage and emerald. And purple might mean lavender, mauve or eggplant. Even saturated cool colors like teal or navy exude a calming feeling. To keep a room from feeling too cool, temper it with some warmth by mixing in woods, bronze or gold metals, or the color's complement. For example, include accents of orange in a predominantly blue room.

Neutral colors are tan, beige, gray, or taupe. These colors are useful for combining with almost any other color. They can unify spaces in an open floor plan, for instance, or act as a backdrop for a collection of colorful artwork. Some shades of green, such as moss or sage, are also considered neutrals, and also work well combined with other colors. Neutrals are easy to live with for a long period of time, and are a great way for you to begin using color in your home. After painting walls in a neutral color, my clients will often become inspired to use more color throughout their home. How about a chocolate brown accent wall with tan in the dining room? Or mauve and gray in your guest room. Or try mixing blues and greens with taupe in your bedroom. Or red and black and gray in your living room. Oh, the possibilities are endless.

The question I get asked most often is about selecting paint colors. Many clients have had white walls for years and are afraid of putting color on them. They fear the color will be too dark, too bright, too dated, or just plain wrong. Let me put your mind at ease. What I've found is that once you use color, you never go back to plain white walls. And honestly, what is the worst thing that can happen? You won't like it, and you have to repaint. Don't let that fear take control of you. Start in one room—perhaps your child's room or a powder room—where you might feel a little braver about choosing color.

Using a piece of art or a piece of fabric as a starting point; select a color from the pattern in the artwork or fabric. As you are deciding on a color, keep in mind the mood you'd like to create in this room. Do you want the room to be energizing? Tranquil? Cheerful? Dramatic? Studies of color psychology have determined that people respond to color emotionally as well as intellectually. It is important to consider the feelings you wish to invoke as you select colors for your home.

Colors can be active, passive or neutral. Warm colors, such as red, yellow and orange, are active. These colors are energizing and upbeat. Warm colors advance, greeting you as you enter a room and drawing you in. They inspire conversation and creativity. A yellow kitchen is cheerful and sunny. An orange or red dining room creates a social atmosphere and also adds drama. By the way, when I say "red" or "orange" I don't necessarily mean the color you think of from the crayon box. Red, for example, encompasses the entire family of reds, from soft pink to cherry red to cabernet. Orange spans the range from soft

Tri-City Stargazer JULY 27 - AUGUST 2, 2016

For All Signs: A difficulty inherent in writing the astrological column is the issue of focus. Astrologers are observing numerous planetary cycles, ranging in time from those requiring many years to complete, to mere hours. The longer cycles are really more meaningful, but if one is writing a daily column, the focus tends to fall on aspects of the day. A reader can gather more understanding by looking at a column from a larger framework of time than what is given. Today's Aries the Ram (March 21-April 20): This is a good time to work on a solitary project that requires concentration and the use of the large muscles in your body. You may feel somewhat edgy and irritable this week. Exercise and focused attention are the antidotes. You are approaching a shift of attention on August 2 so it is important to finish current projects now.

Taurus the Bull (April 21-May 20): You are feeling restless and need to try something new. Commute by a different route or go somewhere you have never visited before. Take your partner on a picnic. Try an entirely different restaurant. Maybe you will need to find something outrageous to perk up a room or your clothing.

Gemini the Twins (May 21-June 20): Your focus shifts to matters of home, hearth, and family. Things of the past may float up in your mind for reflection. If this occurs, ask yourself what you learned from the former experience. It probably would help you now. Family concerns may occupy your attention. It is a good time to open important discussions with those most important to you.

Cancer the Crab (June 21-July 21): The asteroid Vesta has recently moved into your sign. It will be with you until mid-October. The name Vesta is borrowed from the Vestal Virgins of Rome. Certain female children were committed to tend the flame from age 6 to around 30. They were allowed to do little else. You may become devoted to someone or something of value during this period.

Leo the Lion (July 22-August 22): You and the authority figures in your world are cooperating and helping each other accomplish a project. Your mind is both steady and imaginative now, able to see how one thing flows into the next. At times like these, work becomes a positive experience. It integrates with your personal rhythm and feels smooth.

Virgo the Virgin (August 23-September 22): Mercury travels through your sign between July 30 and August 29. During this period there likely will be greater emphasis on communications, errands, and other short distance travels. Your mind will be quick and your attitude persuasive. Avoid obsessing over details or trivia for best results. weekly column might be more accurate for last week or next week. Cycles can be timed with mathematical precision, but human beings cannot. We may think about an activity before we can activate it.

Libra the Scales (September 23-October 22): Follow your partner/friend's lead into a new adventure. Take a leap beyond your routine and try something fresh. It's okay to do something outrageous once in a while. It is good for your mental health. It's possible that you have a new electronic gadget or software to learn and/or play.

Scorpio the Scorpion (October 23-November 21): This looks like a week in which you really want to say your piece, but you have a sense that would be a bad idea. If you feel so upset that you can't present your case with compassion, I agree. Say it only if you can do so without shaming or attacking. It's all too easy to believe that you are the only one with a right answer.

Sagittarius the Archer (November 22-December 21): Activities involving the law, travel, publishing, Internet, education and/or church are highlighted for smooth sailing. Necessary information may come your way to shed light on the next step you need to take forward. Your mind is clear and practical at present. It is a good time to make decisions. with those whom you love.

Capricorn the Goat (December 22-January 19): The rules and the world's expectations have you tied up like a pretzel right now. The harder you struggle, the tighter those binds seem to become. It's like a Chinese puzzle. Sometimes if you relax on the control issues, the solution comes through. Give it some space.

Aquarius the Water Bearer (January 20-February 18): This is a favorable time to enjoy your partner and/or family members. Social life is positive and you feel generally more upbeat. At this time you feel less solitary and alone, which may surprise you. Open up and share yourself and your heart

Shape Our Fremont

Where Fremont residents can learn about shaping proposed housing developments

Ten old homes and a small commercial center along the south side of Peralta Boulevard between Parish Avenue and Sequoia Road may soon be replaced with three-story townhomes that will rise straight up at the sidewalk. The Centerville Junction development by Nuvera Homes will go to the Fremont Planning Commission on Thursday, July 28. Nuvera Homes proposes 52 townhouses in 12 three-story buildings. The 2.65 acres is comprised of nine contiguous parcels from 3498 Peralta Blvd. to 3678 Parish Ave.

Not Historic?

Historic evaluations determined that none of the old homes were historically significant and that all of the structures may be demolished. Several of the homes were part of the 1906 August May Tract of 43 lots. The tract was bounded by the Centerville-Niles Road (Peralta Boulevard) and Centerville-Irvington Road (Fremont Boulevard).

The c1910 Goold House at 3498 Peralta Blvd. was evaluated a second time. J. Vernon "Pop" Goold was a well-liked teacher and principal at Washington Union High School, a school superintendent, and an active civic leader of Centerville. He started the Pop Goold Aspiring Educator Scholarship, and the Pop Goold Trophy is awarded in his name to the winner of the annual Washington-Logan football game. His wife, Tillie, was a Logan from Alvarado. Though the house is considered significant because of Pop Goold, the City claims that the house has lost its historical integrity because of a 2003 addition to the side of the house. Only one of the 37 mature trees on the ten properties will be retained.

Out of Character

Not only will the historic character of the area be lost forever, but the proposed Centerville Junction even contrasts with the 2004 development across Peralta

Boulevard called Sequoia Crossings, which has deep grassy front yards and stone-pillared front steps. Twenty-three of the new townhouses that will line Peralta Boulevard will have tall vertical fronts only 6 ft. from the sidewalk. The three-story buildings will rise from ground level unlike Sequoia Crossings which has the garage level partially below ground.

Lately, Fremont has been encouraging minimal front setbacks for townhouses with porches right at the street. Driving around Fremont, one can easily tell which developments are "urban" even if they are not in areas designated as strategically urban.

Parking and Access

Each townhouse will have a two-car garage. There will be 26 guest parking spaces onsite. Thirteen of the garages will have tandem (end-to-end) parking. Those units are full three-bedroom townhouses and not smaller stacked flats. Having tandem garages for attached townhouses with no driveway apron often leads to the owners' cars being parked in the guest parking spaces or on the street. Vehicular access to the development will be off both Peralta Boulevard and Parish Avenue. There will be no connection to Chauntry Common to the south.

Requires GPA

This project requires a General Plan Amendment (GPA) for four of the parcels to change the Land Use from General Commercial to Medium Density Residential. Therefore the application will have to go before the City Council for approval. Centerville Junction plans were submitted before March 2016 when the decision to prioritize GPA was made. The prioritization is for "determining the overall desirability of considering the project in light of affordability, sustainability, community benefit and other long-term planning goals." These same questions should be considered when the Planning Commission hears this development application.

Not What We Need

Nearly 1,000 three-story townhouses have been approved since 2011. The price for those units, many with four bedrooms, starts at around $900,000. These are not generally affordable to those of medium income or below. When is Fremont going to demand moderately priced housing that is affordable by design like condominiums?

Kid Scoop's Backyard Games

Water Balloon Shot Put

(Be sure to pick up all the little water balloon pieces after the event!)

Stuff you need:

- water balloons
- sidewalk chalk

Draw four squares on your patio or the sidewalk. Draw a large numeral 1 in the first box, a large 3 in the second box, a large 5 in the third box and a large 7 in the fourth square.

From a good distance away, each player throws four water balloons, trying to score the most points. If your balloon lands in the box marked 1, you get one point, score three points for the box marked 3 and so on.

Extra Challenge: Before each throw, spin around three times!

Standards Link: Reading Comprehension: Follow multiple step directions to play a game.

Are you looking forward to the Olympics in Rio? It's time for YOU to get in on the fun in your backyard or neighborhood park. Most of the events on this page work for two or more players. So, invite some friends to join you at The Kid Scoop Backyard Games!

Find the two identical girls. Look carefully!

Synchronized Shadows

Choose one person to be the judge. Divide everyone else into teams of two. One person on each team is the stander; the other is the shadow. The judge turns on the music, and each stander moves to the music, while her shadow tries to make the same movements. When the judge stops the music, everyone freezes.

If the stander and the shadow are not in identical positions, they're out. The game continues until only one identical pair remains.

Stuff you need:

- At least 4 players
- 1 person to judge
- Boom box

Can you find each object's shadow on this page?

Standards Link: Investigation: Find similarities in common objects.

Newspaper Catch

Stuff you need:

- newspaper
- tape

Crumple one sheet of newspaper into a ball. Wrap tape around it to hold it together. Facing your partner, hold a sheet of newspaper flat between you. Try to make the ball bounce up and down on the newspaper. How high can you toss it and still catch it? How many times in a row can you catch it?

The Discus Challenge

Stuff you need:

- plastic flying disc or coffee can lid
- empty box or laundry basket

Place the box or basket on one side of the yard. Each player takes a turn trying to throw the disc into it from 10 steps away. After everyone has had a turn, try throwing from 30 steps away. Score 10 points for each successful throw.

Movies Under the Stars!

The City of Fremont Recreation Services Division will host the first of two summer Movies Under the Stars events on Friday, July 22 at the Central Park Performance Pavilion. Community members voted online and picked July's film, The Good Dinosaur. The movie starts in the evening after sunset, so grab some blankets, low beach chairs, and a picnic dinner to enjoy this free community event. Voting for the August Movies Under the Stars and September's Downtown Date Night film is still open until the first of each month. For more details and to vote visit www.Fremont.gov/MovieNight.

Join in on America's Night Out Against Crime

The 33rd Annual National Night Out is set for Tuesday, August 2. This night is meant to heighten awareness around crime and drug prevention; generate support for and increase participation in local anticrime programs; strengthen neighborhood spirit and police-community partnerships; and send a message to criminals, letting them know that neighborhoods are organized and serious about combating crime.

Join us this year by organizing, registering, and hosting a block party to raise awareness. Register your National Night Out party to be considered for a visit by the Police Department, Fire Department, or other City staff and volunteers. Registration will be open through July 28. Visit www.FremontPolice.org/NNOReg for complete details. If you have questions about National Night Out in Fremont, call 510-790-6740. Assistance will be provided to those requiring accommodations for disabilities in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. Interested persons must request the accommodation at least two (2) working days in advance of the meeting by contacting the Community Engagement Unit at 510-790-6740.

Startup Grind Fremont

Startup Grind is a global startup community designed to educate, inspire, and connect entrepreneurs. Startup Grind Fremont, a local chapter, holds monthly meetings for startups, entrepreneurs, and VCs to share experiences, learn from each other, and create a "culture of innovation." The monthly chapter meetings include time for networking and a fireside chat with a local CEO.

Here are details about upcoming Startup Grind Fremont events:

Tuesday, July 26: Join us for a conversation with Andy Pandharikar, founder of Tall Idea Labs, a startup studio with emphasis on startups with global potential. Andy previously founded a San Francisco-based startup, FITIQUETTE, which was sold to India's Myntra/Flipkart, a $16 billion company. Andy is also advising CTO at DreamFunded.

Tuesday, August 30: Join us for a conversation with Amit Kumar, founder and CEO of Trimian, a company that is building new tools for mobile professionals. Amit founded Lexity, a "one-stop-shop of e-commerce services" that had its own app store as well as marketing apps designed to help online merchants drive sales. Lexity was acquired by Yahoo! for $35M+. Amit joined Yahoo! as VP and head of small business and then turned around their Small Business practice ($50mil EBITDA).

Tuesday, September 27: Join us for a conversation with Andrew Dickson, founder and CEO of Acre Designs, a startup creating Zero-Energy smart homes with a unique approach to prefabrication. Acre was recently funded by and participated in Y-Combinator, the world's leading startup accelerator. An interior architect and industrial designer, Andrew has led projects for Loreal, Rubbermaid, Bass Pro, Embraer, Piaggio, Aerion, and many more.

Startup Grind Fremont events will be held from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. at Electronics For Imaging (EFI), located at 6700 Dumbarton Circle. For more information or to register for these events visit www.StartupGrind.com/Fremont

Fremont Youth Empowerment Academy Mural Project

The annual Fremont Youth Empowerment Academy, which is sponsored through the Youth and Family Services Division of the City's Human Services Department, is in session again this year for its fourth year. At-risk youth (some of whom are court involved) are participating in the three-day per week program for seven weeks. The students are gaining educational credit toward graduation, work readiness and leadership skills, employment with local businesses, life skills training, and finding creative ways to engage with and give back to the community. On July 11, the students painted an inspirational mural on an exterior wall at Robertson Alternative High School in Fremont. The mural reflects the colors, textures, and symbols of diversity that make up our world, while the theme reflects the idea that all of us together hold the outcome of the world in our "collective" hands. The Fremont Youth Empowerment Academy partners with local school districts, the Highway to Work Program, the Alameda County Center for Healthy Schools and Communities, Probation Department Officers, and other organizations in the community.

Golden Hills Art Exhibit

"Serval," mixed-media scratchboard by Shone Chacko.

SUBMITTED BY
MARIA LEMERY

The Milpitas Golden Hills Art Association's 15th annual Art Exhibit will be at the Milpitas Library in the reading room area from August 1 through August 31.

The exhibit will consist of around 40 pieces, including works in watercolors, oils, acrylics, colored pencil, graphite, and scratchboard. A watercolor by Gail Noeth titled "Sharing Grapes with Papa" and a mixed-media scratchboard titled "Serval" by Shone Chacko will be among the pieces displayed. Artwork is for viewing only; no sales will be conducted.

The Golden Hills Art Association was founded around 1974 and was active for 10 years before it was disbanded. It was inactive for several years but was reactivated in July 1998 and has been active in the community ever since. The association's purpose is to foster fine arts appreciation, promote art education and instruction among members and the community at large, and to advance art culture within the Milpitas community.

Currently comprised of 35 members, the association offers its artist members art education through monthly art lecture/demonstrations by well-established artists in the Bay Area, as well as a place to socialize with other artists. Two social events are held annually: a potluck picnic and Christmas party, which are always well-attended events.

A big benefit of the association is that it gives its members an opportunity to display their creative works in the Milpitas community. Also, we also had a very successful art show at Fremont's Mission Coffee Roasting Co. in June 2016.

The Golden Hills Art Association invites the public to view the exhibit and to attend the Artists' Reception on Sunday, August 7. To learn more about the association, call (408) 263-8779.

Documentary on Edward Snowden

REV. JEFFREY SPENCER

The Second Saturday Documentary Series will feature a free showing of Academy Award nominated film, “Citizenfour,” Saturday, August 13 at Niles Discovery Church in Fremont. Dr. Sharat Lin, president of the San Jose Peace and Justice Center, will lead the post-screening discussion.

Director Laura Poitras was working on a film about surveillance when Edward Snowden contacted her using the name “Citizenfour” in January 2013. He provided persuasive evidence that the American government was illegally invading the privacy of its citizens. When Snowden explained that he was not going to hide his identity, she convinced him to meet her in person and let her film their encounter.

Much of Snowden’s carefully choreographed release of classified documents was filmed as it happened in a hotel room in Hong Kong. Poitras and Glenn Greenwald, a reporter for Great Britain’s The Guardian, were selected by Snowden to help him break the news to the world.

Snowden, Poitras, and Greenwald try to manage a media storm and the real possibility that they will be discovered, while discussing the National Security Administration’s surveillance of private citizens. Three days in a hotel room are captured with intensity, while interviews with U.S. officials provide context.

The Second Saturday Documentary Series is co-sponsored by Niles Discovery Church and the San Jose Peace & Justice Center. For more information, visit www.nilesdiscoverychurch.org or call (510) 797-0895.

Fremont Youth Symphony Orchestra

Accepting new enrollments

SUBMITTED BY GRACE LAI

Families of tweens interested in music will be pleased to know that the newly created Fremont Youth Symphony Orchestra (FYSO) is accepting new enrollments for the 2016-17 academic year. However, membership and placement is by audition. Auditions will be held in August. Weekly rehearsals will then begin on Monday, September 12, 4 p.m. – 7 p.m., at Cole Hall of First United Methodist Church, 2950 Washington Blvd. in Fremont.

In the tradition of upholding the excellence of classical music in our community, the Fremont Symphony Orchestra (FSO) is proud to have nurtured thousands of impressively talented young musicians with programs such as the Children’s Concerts, the Young Recitalist Competitions, and the Young Artist Competitions. Original winning compositions by Fremont school children are professionally arranged and performed by FSO at the Children’s Concerts. Likewise, competition winners are awarded with performance opportunities. To further serve the many young talented musicians in the Tri-City and the greater Bay Area, FSO is excited to announce the launching of the all new Fremont Youth Symphony Orchestra in September 2016.

“It is a pleasure and privilege for me to be involved in this promising, new program of the Fremont Symphony Orchestra,” says Judy Lam, Artistic Director of FYSO. Ms. Lam has an impressive track record of success throughout her career creating music programs, the most recent being the Virtuoso International Flute Ensemble.

Dr. Grace Lai, who holds a doctorate degree in flute performance and a recent member of the Fremont Symphony Orchestra since May, will join

FYSO Artistic Director Judy Lam

Ms. Lam in FYSO as the Associate Director. Retired high school teacher and former member of the Fremont Symphony Orchestra, Mrs. Merna Morse, will also serve as the FYSO Strings Director.

Young musicians, who are interested in joining FYSO, may request an audition appointment online via the FSO website: <http://fremontsymphony.org/youth-orchestra> or email: youth@fremontsymphony.org. Auditions will take place on August 8 and August 28.

Union City native participates in international maritime warfare exercise

SUBMITTED BY
DUSTY GOOD, NAVY OFFICE COMMUNITY OUTREACH PUBLIC AFFAIRS

A 2007 James Logan High School graduate from Union City is serving in the U.S. Navy and is participating in the world's largest international maritime warfare exercise, the Rim of the Pacific Exercise (RIMPAC).

Petty Officer 1st Class Rickey Streeter is a yeoman aboard USS Chung-Hoon, currently operating out of Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. A Navy yeoman is responsible for executive level administration and paperwork support for the ship's commanding officer and executive officer.

"I look forward to having a broader view of how the Navy works with its allies," said Streeter. "RIMPAC is an awesome opportunity to experience different navies and cultures."

According to Navy officials, RIMPAC provides a unique training opportunity that helps participants foster and sustain cooperative relationships that are critical to ensuring the safety of sea lanes and security on the world's oceans. RIMPAC 2016 is the 25th exercise in the series that began in 1971.

The theme of RIMPAC 2016 is "Capable, Adaptive, Partners," Navy officials explained. The participating nations and forces will exercise a wide range of capabilities and demonstrate the inherent flexibility of maritime forces. These capabilities range from disaster relief and maritime security operations to sea control and complex warfighting. The relevant, realistic training program includes: amphibious operations, gunnery, missile, anti-submarine and air defense exercises, as well as counter-piracy, mine clearance operations, explosive ordnance disposal and diving and salvage operations.

The Department of the Navy's Great Green Fleet yearlong initiative will also play a major role in RIMPAC. The initiative highlights global operations using energy conservation measures and alternative fuel blends to demonstrate how optimizing energy use increases resiliency and operational readiness. During RIMPAC, almost all participating units will operate using an approved alternate-fuel blend.

Participating in the biennial Rim of the Pacific Exercise, are 26 nations, 45 surface ships, 5 submarines, more than 200 aircraft and 25,000 personnel.

"The camaraderie is second to none aboard this ship," said Streeter. "It's like working with a sports team. Once the bigger goal is identified, it all runs smoothly."

Challenging living conditions build strong fellowship among the crew, Streeter explained. The crew is highly motivated, and quickly adapt to changing conditions. It is a busy life of specialized work, watches, and drills.

"I have more patience, mental toughness, and am always becoming a better leader since I joined the Navy," said Streeter.

California Women Veterans Leadership Council established

CAMARA RAJABARI

Two million women nationwide, and 170,000 women in California, served in the Armed Forces. However, many do not identify as veterans. For this reason and others, women are not inclined to access the state and federal veterans benefits they earned at the same rates as their male counterparts. According to a Veterans Affairs (VA) Women's Health program overview, the VA has found that women veterans underutilize VA care, largely due to a lack of knowledge about VA benefits and available services and their eligibility to them. Women also experience gaps in services as cited in a women veteran study conducted by Disabled American Veterans (DAV), which found current reintegration services fail to embrace alternative family structures.

To address this issue, women veterans, in partnership with Army OneSource, California Department of Veterans Affairs (CalVet), and Women Veterans Alliance, formed a new California Women Veterans Leadership Council (CalWVLC). "The CalWVLC is the first opportunity for women veterans in California to collaborate with each other and use our leadership skills to encourage our continued success through education, advocacy and mentorship. It is exactly what we need to have a collective voice to make sure women who have served are never again forgotten and the benefits we earned are available to us today and in the future." Kristine Hesse, MSgt, U.S. Air Force (retired), Director of Women Veterans Outreach, National Veterans Foundation.

The mission of the Council is to improve the quality of life of California's women veterans, including aspects of their education, career success, physical health, and mental well-being. "This Council is long overdue and will work to elevate issues women veterans face and create positive change for them in California," stated Melissa Washington, Navy Veteran and Chair of CalWVLC.

The Council plans to promote the needs of women veterans across California and heighten awareness of the issues faced by women service members and veterans. The Council will accomplish

TAKES FROM SILICON VALLEY EAST

Takes from Silicon Valley East: Fremont Startup Grind Digest: Female Founders Panel and Tall Idea Labs' Andy Pandharikar

From left: Yukte Oberoi, co-founder of Yuhmbox; Shilpi Sharma, director of Fremont Startup Grind; Saylee Raje, CEO of Ethnic Thread; and Niousha Zadeh, CEO of Brite Health

BY SHILPI SHARMA,
DIRECTOR OF FREMONT STARTUP GRIND

In May, Startup Grind Fremont celebrated Female Founders Month. This vibrant panel of female CEOs represented a diverse array of industries and different stages of startup-hood. During the panel, the four women shared stories about creating a work/life balance, as well as the ups and downs of their respective startup journeys.

- Niousha Zadeh is the founder and CEO at Brite Health, a brain health app for senior citizens. Niousha has a PhD in Experimental Medicine and is among the top 100 influential innovators in the Persian community.
- Yukte Oberoi and Anuja Jaiwal founded Yuhmbox to provide busy families with healthy dinner options during the week. Yukte left her successful corporate career at NetSuite to follow her passion for family and healthy foods.
- Saylee Raje, founder and CEO at Ethnic Thread, splits her time between the U.S. and India and is living her dream of building a community of fashionistas that want to buy, rent, and exchange ethnic dresses. She is an engineer by education and has also worked as a life coach.

The female founders had the following pieces of advice for the attendees who have launched or are thinking of launching a company:

- Don't worry about conflicting advice. Listen and make your own decisions.
- Use empathy to identify an unserved market and create products that serve them.
- Know your target customers and the best way to reach them.

On July 26, Startup Grind Fremont will be speaking with Andy Pandharikar, founder of Tall Idea Labs at EFI (6700 Dumbarton Cir., Fremont, Calif.). Pandharikar is an experienced entrepreneur and a self-described "hands-on entrepreneur" investor. He has built and sold a fashion-tech startup to India's leading ecommerce fashion portal, Myntra, which was recently acquired by Flipkart, a multi-billion dollar ecommerce company in India. He will share advice on how to attract funding and what investors are looking for in order to make investment decisions. Don't miss out! Get your tickets online at <http://bit.ly/2ahyddl>.

Can't make the event? Not to worry – Startup Grind Fremont has other events scheduled through September (see page 19 of this newspaper for more information). Stay informed by visiting www.startup-grind.com/fremont or by following us on Twitter @FremontGrind and Facebook at www.Facebook.com/StartupGrindFremont.

this by creating a statewide structure for information sharing and leadership in order to address the accountability and effectiveness of services and highlight exceptional programs. The Council will spend their first year educating themselves on the issues that currently affect women veterans, such as increased suicide rates, military sexual trauma, access to female-designated primary care providers, affordable family housing and employment opportunities.

The Council members currently include 18 women veterans from across California and are scheduled to meet monthly in order to identify statewide solutions to improve the lives of women veterans. For more information about the Council, contact Camara Rajabari, Army OneSource California State Community State Coordinator, at (925) 222-5934. Power of the future computer would do it all. We were told that an age of paperless offices was about to unfold and technology was the answer to long work days. This was touted as the future and we looked forward to it with anticipation, trepidation and amazement.

That future has come and with it, paper is more evident than ever. Computers have proliferated and expanded to almost everything we use, but our present day lives are different than imagined at the dawn of computer technology. It is difficult to predict the path of the future from within the confines of the present. Paperless offices may exist, but use of the printed word still maintains a large presence in offices throughout the world. The future tends to have its own path that conforms to requirements that unfold over time.

When this lesson is applied to city planning, similar flexibility is required to accommodate anticipated changes along with those revealed over time. One example it allowances for personal automobiles in new developments. It appears that planners project less ownership and use of personal automobiles. The ratio of parking spaces to living spaces has decreased, especially in proximity to mass transit. Will this prove to be accurate or will transportation take another path, unrecognized at this time? Just as the paperless office represented transformation in a different direction than anticipated, so too can assumptions of parking requirements morph into something different than anticipated.

I remember the first time a colleague brought a wonderful new contraption, called a personal computer, to the office. In another business at the time, much work – and angst – was created by corrections to sheets of computations used to analyze product costs. This new machine would allow changes to be made instantly and printouts to show the results. No more typing spreadsheets and moaning when a small change was necessary. The

Alameda County selected for 7 achievement awards

SUBMITTED BY GUY ASHLEY

Alameda County has been selected to receive seven Achievement Awards from the National Association of Counties (NACo) for a wide range of programs that include initiatives in the areas of environmental protection, improved customer service through technology, and improving health outcomes and school attendance records of local youth.

One winner, the Alameda County District Attorney's Office's Safety Net Program, which works to help youth exploited through the commercial sex trade, was judged Best of Category in the Children and Youth category out of entries from counties across the U.S. The District Attorney's Office also won an Achievement Award in the Criminal Justice and Public Safety category for its Health, Education and Attendance for Life (H.E.A.L.) program, a partnership with the County's Healthcare Services Agency that is effectively addressing the links between health struggles faced by children in local schools and excessive school absences.

"These awards not only are a validation of the innovative work being done across our County organization," said Susan Muranishi,

Alameda County Administrator. "They also reflect the significant progress we have made in protecting the environment, supporting our community's most vulnerable residents and finding efficient, cost-effective new ways to do business."

Other Alameda County Achievement Award winners:

- The County's General Services Agency for its Green & Healthy Events Program, which trained employees in 20 County agencies, as well more than 18,000 people from the community, on how to put on events that are healthy, are sustainable and minimize waste. The program won in the Energy and Sustainability category and was lauded for taking a "replication-ready approach" that can be followed by agencies everywhere.
- The County's Information Technology Department won four awards in the Information Technology category for a wide range of projects. Winning projects were:
 - The Alameda County Permit Portal, a one-stop shop available to the public for obtaining licenses and permits. The online portal helps residents receive the approvals they need to upgrade property, start businesses and undertake many other tasks regulated by local government.
 - Innovate AC, an initiative engaging Alameda County's 9,600 employees about efforts led by the Board of Supervisors and County Administrator to remake the County organization to be more visionary and innovative in serving shifting public needs. The plan included numerous employee town hall meetings and a new website where employees are urged to contribute ideas for improving County services.
 - New Collaboration Tools (Skype): The County implemented Skype countywide to improve internal and cross-department collaboration. This allows for virtual meetings that can prevent inefficiencies and costs associated with travel between different County worksites.
 - The Technology Reuse Program, which has created a streamlined process for Alameda County to centrally collect employee computers and other electronic equipment, wipe them of all data and prepare them to be reused. This has allowed many employees to receive repurposed technology and prevented the County from incurring costs associated with purchasing new devices. Those devices that truly have reached the end of life are recycled in an eco-friendly manner.

Obituary

Sister M. Margaret Hakeem, SHF

June 10, 1922 – July 13, 2016

Sister M. Margaret Hakeem, SHF, died peacefully at the Motherhouse of the Sisters of the Holy Family in Fremont on July 13, 2016 at the age of 94. She was born Ida Hakeem on June 10, 1922, in Stockton, California, and entered the Sisters of the Holy Family from St. Gertrude Parish there on January 6, 1946, at the age of 23. Her death came just three weeks after she celebrated her 70th Jubilee as a member of the Sisters of the Holy Family.

Sister Margaret served as catechist and Director of Religious Education in parishes in San Francisco, Oakland, Los Angeles, and Fresno, until coming to the Motherhouse in Fremont in 1984. She was Director of Religious Education at St. Joseph Parish in Mountain View from 1984 to 1991, and after a year of serving as receptionist at Callison Day Home in Fremont, she began a new career as spiritual director.

Obituary

Patrick Alan Dulli
January 29, 1954 – July 21, 2016
Resident of Fremont

Patrick (Pat) passed away unexpectedly but peacefully on Thursday, July 21, 2016 at home. We lost a wonderful devoted husband, dedicated dad, loving son and brother. Pat was born in 1954 in Hamilton, Ohio to Dorothy Hubbard and Albert Dulli. He was on the swimming and diving teams in which he won several awards. In 1972 after graduation from high school, Pat joined the US Marine Corps and was sent to Parris Island for boot camp. Pat served in Camp Lejeune, North Carolina, Iwakuni, Japan and Parris Island, South Caroline where he met his future wife Diane.

After departing the Marine Corps in 1976 Pat moved to the bay area to be close to his mother and sister. During those years Pat attended Cal State East Bay and worked several different jobs until he fully dedicated himself to his trade - Custom Window Covering Installer. Pat worked over 40 years for several companies and decorators. He was a dedicated craftsman that took pride in his work.

Family meant everything to Pat. He is survived by Diane, his wife of 32 years, his son Travis, his daughter Tess, his niece Megan, his mother Dorothy, and sister Gretchen. Pat enjoyed coaching and watching Travis and Tess’s little league teams. When Travis played on the UC Davis Football Team, Pat would not miss home games. He was so proud of Travis for all his accomplishments. Pat was so proud of Tess graduation with BS in Nursing from Sacramento State. Words cannot express how much joy and love family brought to Pat.

Pat enjoyed working on home projects and having family gatherings. He loved telling stories and jokes. Pat had a knack for remembering lines from famous movies, songs & saying. His passing leaves a huge void in our hearts, but our memories will provide a path from sorrow and sadness to eventual acceptance and peace.

A Memorial Service will be held for Pat on Saturday, July 30th, 11am at Fremont Chapel of the Roses, 1940 Peralta Blvd., Fremont, CA 94536.

Fremont Youth Empowerment
Academy mural project

SUBMITTED BY CITY OF FREMONT

The annual Fremont Youth Empowerment Academy, which is sponsored through the Youth and Family Services Division of the City’s Human Services Department, is in session for its fourth year.

At-risk youth (some of whom are court involved) are participating in the three-day per week program for seven weeks. The students are gaining educational credit toward graduation, work readiness and leadership skills, employment with local businesses, life skills training, and finding creative ways to engage with and give back to the community.

On July 11, the students painted an inspirational mural on an exterior wall at Robertson Alternative High School in Fremont. The mural reflects the colors, textures, and symbols of diversity that make up our world, while the theme reflects the idea that all of us together hold the outcome of the world in our “collective” hands.

The Fremont Youth Empowerment Academy partners with local school districts, the Highway to Work Program, the Alameda County Center for Healthy Schools and Communities, Probation Department Officers, and other organizations in the community.

Child Advocates Gala a success

SUBMITTED BY LAURA FULDA

Child Advocates of Silicon Valley’s 30th Anniversary Gala on May 21, was a night to remember! The agency raised more than $350,000 which will help provide advocacy services to 780+ foster youth in Santa Clara County.

One of the evening highlights was when Donaisha, a former foster youth and Milpitas high school student, shared her personal story and the impact her CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocates) volunteer had on her life. Donaisha grew up with a drug addicted mother who could not properly care for her and her siblings. There were times when they had no place to live. At the age of 12, she was placed into foster care.

“My CASA Nicole met me with open arms. She provided voice for me and brought back my hope,” Donaisha explained. “Nicole advocated for me at school and helped me make up credits so that I could graduate on time. She helped me fill out college applications and apply for scholarships.” Donaisha, now 21 years old, is attending Spelman College and studying nursing. After her speech, she received a standing ovation.

“CASAs make a huge difference in the life of a foster child,” said Karen Scussel, Child Advocates’ executive director. “Less than 60 percent of children in foster care here in California graduate from high school. But in our county, with a CASA, 80+ percent of these children complete their high school requirements and over 90 percent continue their education after high school. Donaisha is a tremendous example of the potential of our children when they have the guidance and support of a CASA.”

You can read Donaisha’s full story at: <http://files.ctctcdn.com/c0018b97001/b58ccc80-75aa-47ab-ad60-4cc6db9f2832.pdf>

Child Advocates recruits, trains and supports CASAs to work one-on-one with foster children. For more information, visit: www.BeMyAdvocate.org

Facilities and Bond Projects Director John Chwastyk and former Facilities Director Therese Gain

SUBMITTED BY ROBIN MICHEL

At its June 29, 2016, Fremont Unified School District Board of Education meeting, the Board approved the assignment of John Chwastyk as the new Director of Facilities and Construction. His primary role will be overseeing the Measure E Bond Program.

“John knows our schools and knows Fremont very, very well,” said Superintendent Jim Morris during his introduction. “He has spent many years as an architect and designed many of the buildings here, and worked intimately with our school sites. It is a pleasure welcoming him to the team...he will capably, ably, and energetically work on getting the bond projects completed.”

Chwastyk, who has most recently served in San Ramon Valley Unified School District, thanked the Superintendent for the warm introduction, adding that he has worked as a consultant on various bond projects over the span of 20 years. “I [first] met Therese Gain [former Facilities Director] at Brier Elementary in the Principal’s Office—under very favorable circumstances. It was my very first portable project.” Since then he has worked on projects at all school sites, portables and modernization, as well as the creation of the Mission Valley Regional Occupational Center.

“Now I have my Measure ‘E’ ticket,” Chwastyk said after thanking the Board, “and I am ready for the ride!”

You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on this property. Hayward received All-America City Award

SUBMITTED BY DAVID KORTH

At a special Hayward City Council meeting on Tuesday, July 12, 2016 Hayward residents recognized the City's recent accomplishments at the National Civic League's All-America City Award Conference in Denver, Colorado. The celebration coincided with the City's installation of the recently elected and re-elected councilmembers, including Mark Salinas, Francisco Zermeno, Elisa Márquez and Al Mendall.
Hayward is one of 10 cities in the nation to have been awarded the 2016 All-America City Award, and the only city in California to have been recognized this year. The All-America City Award is an honor given each year to towns, cities, counties, tribes, neighborhoods and metropolitan regions for outstanding civic accomplishments. The criteria for winning include impact, inclusiveness, public engagement and the use of collaborative problem-solving strategies linking the private, public and nonprofit sectors. Additionally, Sophia Espinosa, a recent graduate (with honors) from Moreau Catholic High School, was the recipient of the All-America City Youth Award.

A 33-member community delegation went to Denver in June with the support of local private and public community partners. Community delegates included local students and parents; a local business representative; Hayward resident graduates from Tiburcio Vasquez Health Center's Promotora de Salud Certificate Program; La Familia Counseling Center; representatives from Hayward Unified School District's Board of Education and Administration; Hayward Adult School; Chabot College; California State University, East Bay; and Hayward Promise Neighborhood Initiative, as well as city officials, including Mayor Barbara Halliday, Councilmember Mark Salinas, City Manager Fran David, Fire Chief Garrett Contreras and support staff.

Join the Cause - Fremont's Habitat Restoration Days for Sabercat Creek

Love nature and serving the community? Join City of Fremont's Environmental Services for a day of habitat restoration work on Sabercat Creek the first Saturday of every month from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. Heavy rain cancels the event. The next day of work will be held on Saturday, August 6. Volunteers will assist with removing invasive plants, planting new native trees and shrubs, and caring for previously planted ones by refreshing plant basins and installing browse protection cages. This work will help stabilize soils and creek banks, filter pollutants, increase native plant diversity, and improve food and shelter for wildlife.

No experience is necessary. Volunteers of all ages are welcome, and a signed waiver form is required for each participant. Children under 12 years old must be accompanied by an adult. Habitat stewards will guide you through the projects.

Come dressed for the weather and prepared to get dirty (sturdy, closed-toe shoes/boots, long pants, hat, sunscreen, and long-sleeved shirt are recommended). Bring a signed waiver form, a reusable water bottle, and community service hour forms, if applicable. We'll provide tools, some gloves, and water to refill bottles. If you wish to bring your own gloves or tools, please label them.

For complete details and to register visit www.Fremont.gov/SabercatRestoration. Be sure to check the location on the map, and print the map and waiver form. For more information, or to arrange a large group work day, contact Sabrina at ssiebert@fremont.gov or Barbara at bsilva@fremont.gov, or call the Environmental Services Division at (510) 494-4570.

U.S. Marine Corps veteran honored

SUBMITTED BY MICHAEL L. EMERSON

U.S. Marine Corps veteran, Charles “Chuck” Kadlecsek, who is a member of the veteran’s groups AMVETS and VFW, was honored in Sacramento at our California State Capitol as the 2016 Veteran of the Year on June 29. Chuck was selected by our State Assemblyman Bill Quirk for this honor.

Chuck served during WWII and the Korean Wars. Chuck fought in the Battle of Iwo Jima and landed on the beach on the first day in the third wave. He then spent 26 days fighting on Iwo Jima and also saw the famous raising of both U.S. Flags on Mt. Suribachi. One of Chuck’s children, Tim, also attended to see his father honored. AMVETS Post 911 Commander Michael L. Emerson volunteered to be Chuck’s driver. Thank you Chuck for your service to our country!

Local student spends summer conducting research

SUBMITTED BY MEGAN MCKENZIE

While most high school students are lounging around the pool, playing video games, or maybe working at the nearest mall, Sabrina Liu is spending her off-time doing research at UC Davis. Liu, a senior at Mission San Jose High School, is among a select group of students attending the UC Davis Young Scholars Program this summer. The advanced science program, now over 50 years old and offered by the School of Education, introduces up to 40 high achieving high school sophomores and juniors to the world of original research in the biological and natural sciences.

Participants work one-on-one with research faculty in state-of-the art laboratories for six weeks. Each student works on an individual project and prepares a professional-level research paper and presentation about his or her work. Under the mentoring of Dr. Grace Rosenquist, Liu is researching tyrosine sulfation in the Department of Neurobiology, Physiology, and Behavior. Tyrosine sulfation is the process by which a sulfate ion is added to the amino acid tyrosine which permanently alters the protein it occurs in. Since tyrosine sulfation is crucial to many chemical processes in our bodies, predicting where it occurs within a cell is important and may be linked to various diseases.

(accompanied by the adorable Valerie Golobic as Chip). James Reynolds and David Kautz are entertaining as the mismatched pair Gaston and Lefou,

A famous French fairy tale tells of a beautiful girl in a provincial town who longs for adventure, and a spoiled, selfish prince punished for his heartlessness with a spell that transforms him into a fearsome beast and all the inhabitants of his castle into household items. Only when he learns to love and be loved in return will the spell be broken, but this must happen before the last petal falls from an enchanted rose, or everyone will be doomed to remain as they are.

Originally written by Jeanne-Marie Leprince de Beaumont, Disney put their stamp on the tale in 1991 in an animated feature that was a smash hit, and set itself apart by becoming the first animated movie to be nominated for a Best Picture Academy Award. Based on the Disney film, "Beauty and the Beast" appeared on Broadway in 1994 and earned 9 Tony Award nominations, including Best Musical. It has been performed in 13 countries and delighted over 35 million viewers, and will surely delight many more when the new live-action version comes to movie theaters in March 2017.

But it is currently charming residents of both the Tri-City and Tri-Valley areas in the capable and magical hands of StarStruck Theatre. Director Lori Stokes is an excellent manager of the beloved tale, delivering a pure slice of joy on a theater stage. StarStruck has become known for top-notch productions that shine with vibrancy and young talent, and "Beauty and the Beast" undoubtedly maintains those expectations.

Kaleca Parungao's beautiful voice and energy make her a surefooted Belle, and Paulo Gladney harnesses the anger and frustration of Beast to good effect. Gabriel Reyna shows heart as Maurice, and Anne Marie Salgado is a sweet Mrs. Potts Kautz delivering lots of good fun with the physical humor of the bumbling, goofy Lefou.

While there are several duos in this story, the most dynamic and pleasing of the bunch are Zac Richey as the proper and dignified Cogsworth and Tim Sanders as the debonaire Lumiere. Their exchanges are sharp and full of humor, and each actor fully embodies their character with a remarkable ease and sense of fun.

The actors are beautifully and cleverly costumed by Diane Scherbarth, and set designer Stephen C. Wathen creates an impressive sense of place with town structures, wooded backdrop, and excellent adjustable castle pieces.

And of course, there is the music. With live orchestration under the direction of Nancy Godfrey, the first showstopper comes with "Gaston," which is great fun and has an excellent bit of stein choreography courtesy of co-director and choreographer Jeanne Batacan-Harper.

"Be Our Guest" is another crowd pleaser and dazzles with its shimmering curtain backdrop and the appearance of other enchanted objects, including dancing plates and tea cups, measuring spoons and a whisk. The song gets some enjoyable new additions: a tango interlude between Lumiere and Babette (a sparky Jasmine Lew), and another another lively dance bit with Lumiere and the salt and pepper shakers.

The twinkling night backdrop, lovely singing from Salgado, and beautiful dance from Parungao and Gladney make the title song "Beauty and the Beast" as enchanting as it should be.

Several new songs were added to the stage version with notables including Gaston outlining their future for Belle in the humorous "Me," and Beast lamenting his state in "If I Can't Love Her."

Charming and fun with plenty of heart, StarStruck's "Beauty and the Beast" is one invitation you can't refuse.
