Take a taste bud tour of the world of beer and meet some Bay Area bats when Sulphur Creek hosts "Bats & Brews" Friday, June 9.

Beer is universal. Every culture knows beer and every culture is proud to boast that its brew is the best on earth. Civilized people all over the world brew and enjoy truly great beers, but could it be possible that beer is responsible for civilization as we know it? Ponder this and other truths as you take a taste bud tour from some of our local breweries including Buffalo Bill's Brewery, Das Brew and more.

Join well-known taste master Ira Bletz as he shares the history, lore, and mythology surrounding beer and the brew craft. Learn

Learn the Secrets—Healthy and Tasty Options for Summertime Barbecues

Summer is on its way. That means it's time to dust off the barbecue and get ready for another season of grilling. When it comes to the menu, many people traditionally think of hot dogs and hamburgers accompanied by side dishes like potato salad, chips and other popular menu items.

But, this time of year gives you healthier choices and alternatives for your barbecue. Grilled fruits and vegetables make great menu items that are also flavorful and easy to prepare.

The perfect time

“This is the perfect time to experiment with different fruits and vegetables as part of your barbecue meal,” says Maggie Guting, registered dietitian with Washington Hospital’s Food and Nutrition Services department. “So many things are in season and available at farmers’ markets or your local grocery store. Things tend to be riper, more reasonably priced and locally grown.”

You can learn how to prepare grilled fruits and vegetables as part of your family’s summertime menu at a “Fun Fresh Summer Cooking Demonstration” led by Guting on Friday, June 30, from 1 to 3 p.m. This free class will be held in the Conrad E. Anderson, MD, Auditorium of the Washington West building next to Washington Hospital.

The hands-on demonstration is part of the Hospital’s Health & Wellness seminar series for the community. For more information or to reserve your spot, go online to whhs.com/events or call (800) 963-7070.

Fresher, healthier meals

Nutrition and health experts agree: A diet rich in fruits and vegetables has many health benefits. It can lower your blood pressure, reduce your risk of heart disease and stroke, prevent some types of cancer, and lower your risk of eye and digestive problems. It can also have a positive effect on your blood sugar, which can help control or reduce your risk of diabetes.

“There are so many ways you can incorporate grilled fruits and vegetables into your barbecues, and we’ll demonstrate some of those recipes during the class,” explained Guting. “With these ideas, you can bring more lightness and freshness to your meals while still satisfying everyone’s appetite.”

When you attend the class, you’ll get a chance to taste food samples from the demonstration and take home recipes to try. Guting will also give you other menu suggestions to round out a complete meal.

When it comes to vegetables, Guting emphasized that it’s best not to use starchy items, such as potatoes. With grilling, it’s easier to avoid overcooking foods, which can often happen when you use other cooking methods, like steaming or microwaving. And, grilling helps bring out the natural color and sweetness of fruits and vegetables, so you don’t need to add a lot of other ingredients to boost the taste.

“You’ll highlight the fruit or vegetable’s true flavor,” she commented. “Usually, all you need is a little olive oil, and small amounts of salt and pepper to create an easy-to-prepare barbecued item everyone will love.”

Celebrating with a Washington Hospital family

1967 VW Bus takes Jenó family home—one more time.

Alice Jenó turned 50 on May 21. Alice is number 9 of 11 Jenó children and her sister Marie (number 8 of the 11 and currently living in Alaska), wanted to create a special celebration. Marie enjoys planning family events. According to her brother, Peter Jenó, “Marie has the most energy and loves to brainstorm and plan—must be the fresh Alaskan air.”

It was Marie’s idea to return to the place of Alice’s birth, Washington Hospital, for a family lunch. “At first my siblings thought it was odd to suggest eating ‘hospital food’ for a birthday lunch, but I assured them hospital cafeterias have come a long way!” Marie had a second idea to commemorate the occasion, a 1967 Volkswagen Bus to take the family home. “When Alice was born, my Dad bought a new 1967 VW Bus. When Alice was ready to come home, we all piled in and arrived at the hospital, ready to bring home our baby sister. Peter and I knew both Alice and Dad would be thrilled with a surprise re-enactment.” Peter Jenó took on the task of finding a 1967 VW bus. He found a willing owner through the Golden Gate Chapter of the Vintage Volkswagen Club of America.

Washington Hospital staff cheerfully agreed to help enhance the occasion. “We were glad to hear that the date fell before our kitchen closure,” said Kimberlee Alvari, director of Food and Nutrition/Clinical Services. “We made sure to cook some of our most-requested dishes, including oven-baked fried chicken.” For the table décor, Alvari chose pink dahlia flowers, which coincidentally turned out to be the favorite flower of the Jenó’s late mother, Eloise, a former volunteer at Washington Hospital.

A surprise to all members of the Jenó family was a visit to the Washington Hospital Rose Garden. In 2010, the Hospital created a memorial wall with the names of physicians, employees, board members and volunteers who passed away while an active member of the Hospital staff. The Jenó children, and their father Joseph, were clearly touched to see the name Eloise Jenó, 2011.

The Senior Director of Maternal Child Health Carmen Williams, RN; the Labor and Delivery charge nurse, Ranjini Kumar, RN; and the House Supervisor, Tess Garcia, RN, met the family. Before presenting Alice with an autographed copy of the Washington Township pictorial book, Kumar, told her that they represented the nurses who, 50 years earlier, helped Mrs. Jenó bring Alice into the world. “We are very happy to be part of this occasion,” said Kumar.

“While the place we call home may change, we never change the place where we were born. Alice Jenó—and six of her siblings—will always say they were born in Fremont, at Washington Hospital,” said Director of Community Relations, Gisela Hernandez. “This special family is truly a representation of the Washington Hospital community. We were honored to be part of this unique celebration.”

After lunch, the family proceeded to the front of the Hospital where the 1967 Bus was parked. Exclamations of surprise and unbridled joy met Peter as he waited by the Bus. “My Dad and Alice were completely surprised. All of my sisters piled in, sitting in their childhood spots,” he laughed. Delighted shouts of “Stay on your side of the line!” and “I’m telling Mom” were peppered with laughter. Mr. Jenó was the last to climb aboard and soon the Jenó family was heading out the Washington Hospital driveway—just as they did 50 years before.

Washington Hospital Nationally Recognized for Eco-friendly Practices

Washington Hospital has been nationally recognized for its successful work to help protect the environment while it provides safe, high-quality care for patients. For the seventh time, the Hospital received the Partner for Change Award from Practice Greenhealth, a leading organization dedicated to sustainable, eco-friendly practices in health care.

For the first time, the Hospital also earned Practice Greenhealth’s Greening the OR Recognition Award. The awards were presented at the Practice Greenhealth Environmental Excellence Awards Gala on May 18, in Minneapolis, Minnesota. “Washington Hospital understands the critical link between the health of each person and the health of the environment,” said Paul Kelley, the Hospital’s director of Biomedical Engineering, the Green Initiative and Asset Redeployment. “These prestigious awards are the result of hard work by people throughout our organization who are dedicated to conserving

COMIC BOOKS: their culture and community

By TOSHALI GOEL

With a seemingly never-ending succession of superhero movies and growing interest and attendance at Comic Con events, the world of comic books seems to be constantly expanding. The history of comic books begins with action heroes of pulp magazines. Initially, these heroes were normal humans at the peak of fitness and athleticism. Some examples of beloved pulp heroes include The Shadow, Doc Savage, and Zorro. Action Comics #1, published by what is now known as DC Comics, marked the debut of Superman in June of 1938. Superman, the first modern-day superhero, possessed superhuman abilities unlike the pulp heroes who came before him. Today, 10 films have centered on Superman, ranging from the original “Superman” in 1948 to “Batman v. Superman: Dawn of Justice” in 2016.

The immense success of comic books and subsequent portrayals in other media is a feat in of itself. Many film genres become wildly popular for a couple of years, only to eventually fizzle out. Juan Lecaros, owner of Comic & Figure Addicts in Union City, credits the immortal nature of comic books to their creativity and imagination. “Whatever problems you may be facing, or anything else that could be going on, they transport you to a different world. It gives you peace of mind. It’s an escape and engages other senses. Aside from just reading the words, you have art. Some of these guys are very talented in the way they draw comics, so the art is just amazing.

“I’ve read comics since the second I could start reading. Even before that, supposedly I was holding comic books, looking at the drawings. I’ve always been into the comic book world,” says Lecaros. “Before this I was a teacher. When the economy crashed, I was looking for a second source of income, doing conventions and toy shows on the side. It had always been a dream of mine to open a store of my own, but down the road – when I was older, after I retired, or close to retirement. But then one day I thought ‘Why not now?’” Comic & Figure Addicts opened in 2011, celebrating its fifth anniversary November 2016.

A lifelong fan of all things comic books, Lecaros noted changes in comic books over the years. “I’d say that they’re more socially aware now; what’s going on in the world. They tackle real world problems and situations. Before, it was straightforward: superhero versus super-villain, one goes after the other, and the problem is solved. Now, they tackle real world threats.”

He also spoke about how many new, younger fans are discovering comic books through adaptations in the media. “Batman and Superman are usually top sellers. ‘Walking Dead’ is another example – a comic that started about 10 years ago. They think that the TV show inspired the comic book, but it’s the other way around. People watch these shows: ‘Preacher,’ ‘Outcast,’

‘Arrow,’ ‘Flash,’ and they open doors; [people] come in and [discover] want to read more about these characters. We have kids and adults wanting to read about these characters that they see either on TV or movie screens.”

Comic book events also draw new fans to the community, as they are popular and heavily attended. Comic events hosted locally in the Bay Area receive a substantial amount of traffic and interest; celebrity appearances are also a big draw. The fourth annual East Bay Comic Con was held in Concord, February 12, 2017, and Silicon Valley Comic Con, presented by Apple co-founder Steve Wozniak, experienced another successful event April 21 – 23, 2017. Last year (2016) saw the first San Francisco Comic Con; it will be held September 1–3, 2017 at Moscone Center West.

However, conventions aren’t the only comic book gatherings; local comic book stores: Treasure Island Comics in Fremont, Black Cat Comics in Milpitas, and Comic & Figure Addicts in Union City all host a variety of events –private signings with writers and creators to Free Comic Book Day. Several stores also stock related merchandise including figurines, collectibles, and toys. A variety of age groups are drawn to the world of comic books attesting to the wide appeal of this artform. energy and resources, and reducing waste while staying true to our Patient First Ethic.”

The Practice Greenhealth Partner for Change award is given to health care facilities that have implemented, improved and expanded a significant number of programs supporting a sustainable environment. To earn the award, facilities must have successful sustainability programs in many areas, including recycling at least 15 percent of their total waste, reducing regulated medical waste, and being on track to eliminate mercury.

The Greening the OR Recognition Award recognizes hospitals that have successfully reduced the environmental impact of their surgical suites. Operating rooms are a major contributor to a health care facility’s environmental footprint.

In addition to protecting the health of patients and the community, hospitals have good reasons to adopt more environmentally sound practices. American hospitals generate from 20 to 25 pounds. of waste per patient, per day. And, they use double the amount of energy per day than commercial office buildings.

A core value

“Being green is one of our core values, and we’ve found that we can make a measurable difference in protecting the environment while continuing to put the care and safety of patients at the center of everything we do,” explained Kelley. “We have quite a few programs and practices in place, but there are still challenges ahead. We are continually launching initiatives designed to increase environmental awareness and stewardship among our staff and the people we work with.”

Kelley heads the Hospital’s Green Team of 20 employees from across the organization. Started in 2008, the team leads the way in planning and guiding many environmental initiatives throughout the Hospital. The group also works to educate employees and the community about the importance of sustainable practices.

One program started in the past year is single-use medical device (SUD) reprocessing, which reduces the Hospital’s environmental impact while maintain patient safety. Following FDA-regulated procedures, the Hospital reprocesses certain patient care devices so they can be safely reused. This practice reduces the amount of waste going to a landfill while also helping to lower the cost of purchasing and biohazardous waste disposal.

Other projects include food waste composting, reducing water consumption through changes in landscaping, upgrading technology, and replacing old, inefficient devices. The Hospital has also eliminated some hazardous chemicals, such as silver and mercury, from its processes. It has decreased its use of paper through a house-wide recycling program and increased the recycled content of paper when it is needed.

A measurable difference

The Hospital keeps track of its waste stream to ensure that their green initiatives are making a difference. This also helps identify other areas where they can make an improvement.

Last year, Kelley reports, Washington Hospital recycled 104 tons of cardboard, discarded 727.95 tons of solid waste, and processed 107.44 tons of compost.

“We are committed to being a leader in creating a healthy environment for everyone,” Kelley added. “It’s part of our role as a health care provider, a good neighbor and a member of this community.”

how beer is made and discover a famous story and song. You’ll learn while tasting classic varieties such as lagers, pilsner, ale, malt, and wheat beers. About a dozen beers will be on hand to sample with a special tasting glass attendees can take home. Naturalists will also present live local bats that are amazingly beneficial animals that help the crops from which beer is made.

A wildlife rehab and education center, Sulphur Creek has some animals that can’t be released back into the wild due to injuries that wouldn’t allow them to survive. These animals remain as residents and provide learning opportunities for the community. Sulphur Creek is one of the few centers that have a collection of bats – not the large fruit bats that one can see in the zoo, but native California bats, which are small with a wingspan of about a foot to 18 inches. Current residents include a big brown bat, Townsend’s big-eared bat, and Mexican free-tailed bat, which will be featured at the Bats & Brews event. Attendees will learn about the importance of bats, which serve as a “natural pesticide” according to Sulphur Creek Recreation Coordinator Wendy Winsted, as they capture insects on crops, such as the hops used to produce beer.

Home Sharing Program

SUBMITTED BY
CITY OF FREMONT

Have a room for rent? Looking for a place to share? HIP Housing, a local nonprofit with over 40 years of experience, can help people who live, work or attend school in Fremont find an affordable room to rent in Fremont, Union City or Newark.

All clients, whether seeking or offering a home, are interviewed, provide references and are required to complete a criminal background check. Resources are also available to help participants decide if they are compatible. Potential housemates interview each other, work on inventory checklists, and sign a Living Together Agreement. After matches are made, follow-up support is then provided. The home sharing program is funded by the City of Fremont and is offered at no cost to the public.

For more information, contact HIP Housing’s Laura Moya at (510) 574-2173.

Armor of Light

SUBMITTED BY DISCOVERY CHURCH

Director Abigail E. Disney’s “Armor of Light” follows Rev. Rob Schenk, an Evangelical minister and anti-abortion political activist, as he struggles with his conscience and his conservative beliefs in the wake of fatal shootings in his own Washington, D.C., neighborhood.

Politics and religion converge when Rev. Schenck meets Lucy McBath, the mother of Jordan Davis, an unarmed teenager who was murdered in Florida. Also an Evangelical Christian, McBath’s personal testimony compels Rev. Schenck to reach out to pastors around the country to discuss the moral and ethical response to gun violence with explosive results.

Toni Shellen, coordinator of the Tri-City chapter of the Brady Campaign, will moderate discussion following the film screening on Saturday, June 3 at Niles Discovery Church. The Second Saturday Documentary Series is co-sponsored by Niles Discovery Church and San Jose Peace & Justice Center. “This film is a departure from our typical offerings,” explained Rev. Jeffrey Spencer, senior pastor at Niles Discovery Church. “We tend to show films that address a social issue and discuss it. This time, we’re looking at a spiritual question as it relates to a social issue.

“Niles Discovery Church identifies as a ‘progressive Christian’ congregation rather than ‘Evangelical,’” continued Spencer. “Nonetheless, I think we can learn from the struggles two particular Evangelicals have had to live an integrated faith. After all, don’t we all want to live a life of authenticity, regardless of our religious traditions?”

US Treasurer Rios to receive Honorary Doctorate

SUBMITTED BY KIMBERLY HAWKINS

Cal State East Bay will confer an honorary Doctor of Laws degree to Rosa Rios, an influential civic, business and government leader whose distinguished contributions have enriched California State University, East Bay, the broader East Bay region, California and the country. Rios will receive the honorary doctorate at Cal State East Bay’s commencement ceremony June 11 at 10 a.m. on the Hayward campus.

A first generation Mexican-American, Rios and her eight siblings were raised in Hayward. After attending Moreau Catholic High School, she went on to attend Harvard University where she graduated with high honors. She began her career in real estate finance before turning to the public sector, overseeing economic development in different cities including Oakland, Fremont, San Leandro and Union City. She was a trustee of the Alameda County Employee Retirement Association and a board member of the California Association of Local Economic Development and the Spanish-speaking Unity Council in Oakland.

Ms. Rios became the managing director of investments at McFarlane Partners, a real estate investment firm focused on urban property markets. During President Obama’s first presidential campaign, Rios worked in Virginia to help solidify the Latino vote, leading to her placement on the Treasury Federal Reserve transition team.

Appointed and unanimously confirmed in July 2009 as the 43rd Treasurer of the United States, Rios oversaw the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, the United States Mint and Fort Knox. She was also a key liaison with the Federal Reserve. With nearly 4,000 employees and eight facilities, Rios was responsible for all currency and coin production activities, saving more than $1 billion in taxpayer’s dollars in the first five years of her appointment. Last July she received the Hamilton Award, the highest honor bestowed in the U.S. Department of the Treasury.

While Treasurer, Rios initiated and spearheaded a campaign to put woman on currency. This year it was announced that Harriet Tubman will replace Andrew Jackson as the face of the $20 bill, becoming the first woman to appear on U.S. currency in more than a century.

Since leaving the Treasury, Rios accepted a position as a visiting scholar at the Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study at Harvard University. Rios also developed an educational awareness project Empowerment 2020, which focuses on working with classroom teachers to raise awareness of important female figures in American history.

New BART police chief

SUBMITTED BY BART

Carlos Rojas, a 27-year law enforcement veteran, officially took the helm as BART police chief during a swearing in ceremony during the transit agency’s Board of Directors meeting on Thursday, May 25.

“It is an honor to have the opportunity to lead the fine men and women of the BART Police Department,” said Rojas. “B.P.D. is already one of the most progressive police departments in the state and we will continue on that forward path.”

Rojas came to BART from the Santa Ana Police Department, where he served as chief for five years and as an officer since 1990. He has extensive experience and leadership in community policing. He is not only an advocate but also an educator in Community Oriented Policing practices, having trained the discipline to national police forces in Central America and having taught and mentored college students on the subject. He also brings a wealth of Homeland Security expertise and knowledge to the District.

“It will be critical for us to continue offering one of the best training programs for officers in California,” said Rojas. “De-escalation, cultural competence and fair and impartial policing are all important concepts of law enforcement in the 21st century.”

Rojas is a recipient of multiple law enforcement Medals of Valor, and is bilingual in English and Spanish. He holds a Master of Science in Criminal Justice from Chapman University, and a Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice from California State University, Long Beach, with additional professional training at the FBI National Academy. He is BART’s first Latino Chief of Police.

Repairs start at damaged California spillway

ASSOCIATED PRESS

OROVILLE, Calif. (AP), Construction crews in California have begun demolishing the destroyed portion of the main spillway at Oroville Dam as they race to repair the structure in time for the next rainy season, state water officials and construction managers said May 24.

Using heavy equipment and explosives, crews were clearing away sections of concrete and rebar that have not already washed away. They hope to begin pouring fresh concrete in June, starting from the bottom of the 3,000-foot chute and working their way up.

“We’re always working to accelerate faster,” said Jeff Petersen, project manager from Kiewit Corp., said in a conference call with reporters. Kiewit, based in Omaha, Nebraska, was awarded a $275 million contract to complete the massive project. The spillway is the main outlet for Oroville Dam, the nation’s tallest.

Huge swathes of the spillway’s lower portion began washing away in February. When a second, emergency spillway also began giving way Feb. 12, authorities ordered the temporary evacuation of 188,000 people downstream. Officials described a Herculean operation that includes the construction of miles of access roads, two concrete plants and a maintenance facility for heavy equipment.

By August, 500 employees will be on the site, with work spanning 20 hours a day, six days a week, said Jeanne Kuttel, chief engineer for the project with the California Department of Water Resources. Crews aim to replace the lower portion of the spillway by Nov. 1, when winter rain and snow increase the flow of water into the lake. They’ll reinforce concrete near the top of the structure, which was not damaged then tear it out and replace it next year.

Plans for the emergency spillway call for drilling 30 to 50 feet into the ground and building a wall anchored to the bedrock in order to prevent erosion. Next year, crews will reinforce the hillside.

Professor has taken a selfie every day for the past 30 years

BY PHILIP MARCELO
ASSOCIATED PRESS

(AP), Long before they were called selfies, Karl Baden snapped a simple black and white photo of himself. Then he repeated it every day for the next three decades.

Baden’s “Every Day” project officially turned 30 on Feb. 23 and he says he has no intention of stopping. The stark contemplation on mortality and aging has prompted some to dub the Boston College professor the unwitting “father of the selfie.”

The 64-year-old Cambridge resident grumbles at comparisons to the pouty face, self-congratulatory portraits that now fill Instagram and Facebook. But he recognizes the ubiquity of the selfie has helped raise the profile of the project, which has been exhibited in art galleries in Boston, New York City and elsewhere over the years.

“If it wasn’t for the selfie craze, I’d probably be slogging along in anonymity as usual,” Baden joked this week. “Which is sort of what I had expected.”

What makes the project work is that it reflects a number of universal themes, from death to man’s obsession with immortalizing himself in some way, said Howard Yezerski, a Boston gallery owner who has exhibited the project on two occasions.

“It’s both personal and universal at the same time,” he said. “He’s recording a life, or at least one aspect of it that we can all relate to because we’re all in same boat. We’re all going to die.”

Robert Mann, a New York City gallery owner that exhibited Baden’s work on its 10th anniversary, says he’s impressed with how Baden has stuck to his process. “Watching Karl age (gracefully) in front of the camera has been an honor,” he said.

Baden quietly launched his project on Feb. 23, 1987, the day after Andy Warhol died and nearly two decades before Facebook emerged. He tries to remain faithful to that first image, posing with the same neutral facial expression and using the same 35mm camera, tripod, backdrop and lighting.

“The act itself is like brushing your teeth,” he said. “I’ll just take the picture and get on with the rest of my day. It’s not a holy ritual or anything.”

Baden has taken other pains to maintain the same aesthetic. He has consciously not grown a beard or mustache, and his hair remains simply styled.

“I have to turn all these variables into constants so that I’m not distracting from the aging process,” Baden explained.

Besides mortality, Baden says the project touches on the notions of obsession, incremental change and perfection.

“As much as I try to make every picture the same, I fail every day,” he said. “There’s always something that’s a little different, aside from the aging process.”

Approaching 11,000 photos, the changes in Baden’s appearance over time don’t appear dramatic. But in 2001, Baden underwent chemotherapy to treat prostate cancer and became noticeably thinner.

The cancer is now in remission and, as later pictures show, Baden quickly bounced back. The only lasting change from that time, he says, has been his eyebrows; they never quite grew back.

And there’s been just one day over the past 30 years where Baden admits he neglected to take a photo: Oct. 15, 1991. “It was a dumb moment of forgetfulness,” he said.

Tri-City Stargazer FOR WEEK: MAY 31 - JUNE 6

For All Signs: This is an unusually active week among the planets. Multiple activities are probable for everyone. We've had a long spring of holding back and waiting for the right moment, given the retrogrades of Venus and Mercury. Activity and forward motion started at the beginning of May and now it is in full swing. Every planet is involved in the dance. They are avatars for those of us on earth. Not everything is rosy, but at least circumstances are moving forward, for better or worse. Most of us become itchy when action is thwarted and we must sit on our hands.

Aries the Ram (March 21-April 20): An abandonment issue from the past may be re-enacted in the present, only in different clothing. The symbolism points toward early issues with siblings or elementary education peers. If you have an overdone sense of rage this week, it is most probably caused by issues from long ago.

Taurus the Bull (April 21-May 20): You are planning to make a change soon that will surprise everyone. You have just a few more projects to accomplish and then you can tell everyone. You seek a practical and ordered change, which means laying all the bricks just right. Love life appears stable and unconflicted.

Gemini the Twins (May 21-June 20): This is a time in which you must take a look at reality. The facts are being exposed related to your life direction. Maybe you are just realizing how others see you. Possibly the culprit is yourself as you have avoided clear knowledge of your total picture. Becoming conscious brings the power to resolve issues.

Cancer the Crab (June 21-July 21): Mars, the warrior, enters your sign this week and will be traveling with you for seven weeks. This energy is especially helpful in defining our boundaries. Periodically we need to examine who we are and who we are not. Often something or someone is eliminated. In general, it increases your courage and physical strength.

Leo the Lion (July 22-August 22): There is the possibility that you will attract someone who is needy, causing you to feel that you should help. Before you go very far, talk to your friends and ask who this person is. He or she might be a "vampire," one who takes far more than he can give. On a higher level, there is also the possibility of an encounter with your Spirit.

Virgo the Virgin (August 23-September 22): Your concentration is good at this time and will help you accomplish any mental project you need. Use your hands to create artwork and gardening is also favored. Love life and time spent with children would go well this week. Nurturing will feel good to you.

Libra the Scales (September 23-October 22): Aspects favor the law, circumstances involving distant people, travel, and the internet. Relationships go well with a little surprise change in the mix. You have been needing to do something different together. Now is the time to experiment.

Scorpio the Scorpion (October 23-November 21): A child or a lover might scratch an old emotional wound. In the old days, it felt like an abandonment so this feels painful. It is important for your mental health to stay in the present moment, lest you overreact to the situation and generate misery for yourself and others. Try not to relive that old history in knee jerk fashion.

Sagittarius the Archer (November 22-December 21): Primary relationship(s) are going well now. The two (or more) of you may be working together to accomplish a long-term goal. You have been building and growing your new identity for the last two or more years. This week some of that effort is showing budding signs of favorable results.

Capricorn the Goat (December 22-January 19): Relationships to your family of origin are given a boost. It is possible you are on a family vacation with everyone, including your adult family and children. Make an effort to reach out. Plan a barbecue in the backyard, if nothing else.

Aquarius the Water Bearer (January 20-February 18): Let yourself make changes, even small ones, in your daily routine. It will be a refreshing shift from the norm. Give the artist in you an opportunity to spread its wings and experiment with a new or unusual medium. Play with accent pieces in new colors to brighten your mood.

Pisces the Fish (February 19-March 20): There are vampires loose in the world and the Fish tends to attract them. If you have aged a bit, you probably have begun to smell them when they enter your vicinity. Those who have not will be learning a lesson soon. It's a required course for this sign. Save some energy for yourself. Don't take over someone else's problem.

Greater Niles Village to help elderly age in place

By JOHNNA M. LAIRD

Every day 10,000 baby boomers in America turn 65, an aging benchmark. Begun in 2011, this trend continues for another decade to 2030, according to The Pew Research Center. To face aging head-on, growing numbers of older Americans have launched The Village movement so elderly people can “age in place” and remain in their homes even as skill levels decline.

In this model, residents organize themselves in neighborhoods or larger geographical areas; they coordinate and deliver services to support older people. Boston’s Beacon Hill launched the first Village in 2001. Since then, more than 200 have followed across the U.S. with another 80 in development.

Fremont is poised to join this nationwide movement, with Greater Niles Village preparing to launch this fall. This Village will extend from Fremont’s Union City border south to Walnut Avenue and Morrison Canyon Road, and include neighborhoods on both sides of Mission Boulevard.

After meeting for about a year, Greater Niles Village steering committee members recently walked neighborhoods, hanging information on doors to stir interest in “creating a vibrant, caring community where neighbors of all ages help each other thrive at home and engage with the community.” Printed materials invited participation in an online survey to help organizers better understand needs and define services to be offered. Since not all elderly are computer-literate, survey responders could answer questions based on their own needs or those of older family and neighbors.

Former Fremont City Councilmember and teacher Judy Zlatnik, a driving force behind Greater Niles Village, anticipates with enough volunteers that services could start with transporting frail elderly residents to grocery shop and visit doctors, an important service given that isolation places older people at greater health risks. Daily phone call health checks and home visits may also be offered.

“People hear ‘Village’ and think housing. We are working to get across the concept of giving the frail elderly assistance they need to say in their homes for as long as possible and help communities remain intergenerational,” explains Zlatnik. To operate, Greater Niles Village will need volunteers contributing a few hours to help neighbors. Volunteers will go through a screening process and background checks, says Zlatnik.

Participants will pay a fee, as all villages require. The amount will be determined by the number of members – the more members, the lower the fee. Fees are needed to cover insurance costs, explains Zlatnik. Greater Niles Village will provide referral services to help residents age in place, but will not provide medical services.

Zlatnik has seen the elderly up close for 17 years, volunteering for Meals on Wheels in Fremont and serving as president of the local LIFE ElderCare Board for nearly 10 years. “I’ve learned so much about how many different kinds of needs people have when they are older,” says Zlatnik, a self-described social activist involved in local politics and community services for more than 40 years. When people ask what she’s doing now, she often responds, “Working full time to help the frail elderly and trying like crazy not to become one.”

Some Villages throughout the U.S. employ a staff member or two. That is not the plan for Greater Niles; it will rely on volunteers. The City of Fremont has lent support and views Greater Niles Village as a pilot, a pioneering project that can serve as a resource to other areas of the city interested in supporting older people aging in place.

“Niles is going for it. They have a great, energized group of neighbors and community leaders who want to make this work,” says Karen Grimsich, Aging and Family Services Administrator for Fremont’s Human Services Department. Grimsich describes the relationship between the City of Fremont and Greater Niles Village as a hub-and-spoke model, where the City provides some services, similar to Village projects in Berkeley and Marin. “In a hub-and-spoke model, the City as the hub can help multiple Villages develop. We can share best practices,” she explains, citing data management as an example, vetting and maintaining a list of qualified contractors and monitoring quality.

In the past year, the City has gleaned suggestions from nearly 1,000 people through 30 focus groups and an interactive Community Dialogue workshop on how Fremont can improve its age-friendliness. “What we have heard in focus groups is that people want to feel safe, and there can be a sense of feeling vulnerable,” says Grimsich. Tasks homeowners once performed for themselves, such as gutter clearing in fall, can now pose hazards for elderly residents. A list of vetted contractors maintained by the City could “take the stress and anxiety out for older residents who feel vulnerable.”

According to Grimsich, the City of Fremont is very interested in seeing the Village model develop elsewhere in the city, given inquiries about how to help neighbors and how to remain in one’s neighborhood. “The Village model meets both of these desires in an organized manner.”

Between 2000 and 2010, census data show Fremont’s overall population grew by 5.2 percent, but older adults increased by 28.5 percent—exceeding Alameda County’s increase of 13.7 percent and California’s 18 percent increase.

In October 2016 the City of Fremont applied for and received acceptance into the World Health Organization’s (WHO) Age Friendly Network, an effort gaining momentum in the U.S. and internationally. WHO’s effort is structured around assessing a city’s age-friendliness in eight categories, including: Health and Wellness, Volunteering and Civic Engagement, Transportation, Outdoor Buildings and Parks, Employment and Learning Opportunities, Housing, Community Resources and Information, and Social Participation and Inclusion. Fremont’s Senior Citizen Commission added Dementia-related Support as a ninth category.

Grimsich says she is now using focus-group and community-dialogue information to develop “action steps” to improve Fremont’s age-friendliness. Older residents do not want to be a burden, she says, citing community feedback. They want to be a solution, helping neighbors and each other. “People want to fulfill their sense of needing purpose, to give and share until the end of their lives,” Grimsich says.

Thomas J. Long Foundation gave Fremont a three-year, $350,000 grant a year ago to help the City take steps to become age-friendly. The City’s assistance to Greater Niles Village is a focus area, along with helping senior centers extend beyond places to exercise, meet friends, stay informed and be creative, and to also become wellness centers for routine medical checks.

Making Fremont an age-friendly city will make it livable for all ages, Grimsich says.

FROM BASIC TO CHARMING: BEFORE-AND-AFTER GUEST BATH

By Anna Jacoby

I got to know my client a few years ago while we worked on her kitchen remodel, and I was delighted when she asked me back to work on her guest bath. She knew what she wanted—a free-standing bath tub and vintage charm—and she asked me to put it all together for her.

While her original bath was certainly usable, it was old and tired, and there was nothing charming about it. My client did not care for the tile countertop, and the room lacked precious storage. So here's what we did:

New Bathtub

We couldn't add any square-footage to the bathroom, so I found a 56" wide free-standing tub and tub filler that just fit into the space. (My client affectionately calls it her "tea cup.") To protect the walls from water, we used ceramic tile bead board wainscoting on all four walls. Not only is it functional in terms of water protection, but it is also beautiful and adds a lot of character to the space. The old-fashioned tub filler and hand shower complete the look.

Improved Storage

The old vanity cabinet did not provide adequate storage for my client. To replace it, I designed a custom vanity with a tilt-out beneath the sink and three drawers. I also selected a large wall cabinet with a combination of closed storage and open shelving, which can hold lots of toiletries and also provide display space.

New Lighting

The fluorescent lighting in the old bath was unsightly and inadequate. We added an LED vanity light above the sink, cut into a large mirror, to increase the light throughout the space.

Color Scheme

We kept the colors light, to visually maximize the space. The crisp white of the cabinetry, bath tub, toilet and wall tile is softened by the light blue-gray wall color and the gray and white mosaic floor tile. And the polished chrome fixtures are like jewelry in the room. The blue and cream toile fabric on the window treatment adds another element of softness and charm. The countertop continues the color scheme; it is a Cambria quartz counter named Torquay—with it, you get the look of marble without the maintenance.

The new bath is just what my client envisioned—modern amenities with a lovely vintage feel. She loves it and says she gets many compliments about the newly improved bath—that's music to my ears.

Enjoy an evening of absolutely wonderful symphonic music provided free of charge by the Tri-Cities own 50 musician symphony – the Newark Symphonic Winds – directed by Richard Wong.

We'll begin with a wonderful samba, "It Had Better Be Tonight," composed by Henry Mancini for the 1963 film

"The Pink Panther." Our next piece will be "Night on Bald Mountain" by Mussorgsky, which will be followed by "Fantasia on an Irish Hymn" by John O'Reilly. We'll then transition to a medley of a few of the early, famously popular tunes by the Beatles that all of you will certainly recognize. We'll end the first half of our performance by presenting "A Tribute to Marvin Hamlisch," which includes some of the late, great composer's award-winning pieces such as "The Way We Were," "What I Did for Love," and his arrangement of "The Entertainer" by Scott Joplin.

The second half of our performance will begin with the wonderful music of the extremely talented Newark Woodwind Quintet featuring Myra Downs (flute), Larry George (oboe), Kathy Vork (clarinet), Blossom Santiago (horn), and Adam Williams (bassoon). Once the symphony returns to the stage we'll begin with "Symphonic Dances" from the musical

"Fiddler on the Roof" followed by Stravinsky's "Infernal Dance and Finale" from "The Firebird" ballet. We'll then end the evening with the ever-popular "Suite from Man of La Mancha" by Mitch Leigh, which includes "Man of La Mancha," "Dulcinea," "Little Bird," and "The Impossible Dream."

This free performance (no tickets are necessary) is sponsored by the Fremont Bank Foundation. For more information, visit

Music and dance highlight Multicultural Week

SUBMITTED BY

ANUSHKA MADHAVANI

PURVI SHAH

Students at Gomes Elementary School in Fremont

celebrated Multicultural Week from May 15 to 19. As part of the celebration, students wore different types of clothing each day to represent a specific country or continent. On May 15, for instance, students wore plaid to represent Europe. Every day of the week had a special art project or activity. In addition to dressing up, students watched dance performances by their fellow classmates. On May 18, high school students from Mission San Jose gave a special Taiko drum performance.

The students love this lively annual event and hope to continue the tradition in the future.

Unveiling of Space Glow, Downtown Fremont's Newest Temporary Public Art Installation

The community is invited to attend the unveiling of Space Glow, Downtown Fremont's newest temporary public art installation, on Friday, June 2 at 4:30 p.m. at the corner of Capitol Avenue and Fremont Boulevard. The event will feature speeches from Mayor Lily Mei, Art Review Board Chair Laurie Manuel, and artist Patricia Vader. Following the event, attendees are encouraged to join Fremont Street Eats festivities, our local gourmet food truck event held every Friday from 4:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Capitol Avenue and Liberty Street through October 27. Fremont Street Eats is sponsored by Fremont Chamber of Commerce and Food Truck Mafia.

Space Glow is part of the Downtown Fremont Rotational Public Art program, and is made possible by an art fund established in the Downtown financed through private development fees. The program focuses on showcasing interesting pieces of artwork to support the arts and creates a unique sense of identity for the Downtown. The sculpture will be on display from May 2017 through May 2019.

Fremont Police Department Announces a New, Safe Exchange Zone

The Exchange Zone is a specific space in the Fremont Police Department's public parking lot for community members to conduct private party transactions of goods from internet barter sites and safe custody exchanges. Fremont Police Department is one of several law enforcement agencies now offering an Exchange Zone as a safer alternative to other meeting locations, such as a private residence or retail center parking lot. The parking spaces are now open for our community to begin using and availability is on a first-come, first-served basis. No reservations will be taken.

Our Exchange Zone is located in two well-lit parking spaces in front of Fremont Police Department and is recorded by video 24 hours a day. While video will record the designated Exchange Zone area, the optimal transaction time of Monday through Friday between 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. is recommended. Although police officers will not be present during transactions and the video will not always be monitored

Department to complete an exchange, it could be a scam and possibly not worth pursuing. Our parking lot has been quietly used for years and we are now publicly inviting and encouraging our community to utilize the new safe Exchange Zone.

Police Department employees will not get involved or actively monitor transactions and employees of the City of Fremont will not be able to act as official witness, provide legal advice, or settle civil disputes. The exchange of drugs, weapons, alcohol, and other illegal items is not permitted.

The newly installed video system will also include a second camera that is capable of capturing license plates. This camera is being installed to capture vehicles traveling in the eastbound traffic lanes on Stevenson Boulevard in front of the Police Department. The video for both cameras (Exchange Zone and Stevenson Boulevard) will be used, maintained, and stored in accordance with state law and/or the Police Department's Community Camera Systems policy. A copy of the Police Department policies can be found at www.Fremontpolice.org/Policies.

All exchanges must be person-to-person. In the case of custody transfers, the new Exchange Zone is not a drop-off where parents can leave children for a later pick-up time.

City of Fremont and FUSD Establishing Safer Routes to School

The City of Fremont and Fremont Unified School District (FUSD) are working together to make walking and biking to school safer. As a first step, police, transportation, school officials, and PTA members are conducting traffic safety assessments during school peak hours. The team observes school traffic conditions and areas of concern and based on these observations, the City's consultant will develop recommendations to improve traffic safety and provide maps with safe routes to school.

Recommended improvements could include the installation of new high-visibility crosswalks, stop-controlled intersections, intersection curb extensions (also called bulb-outs) to shorten crossing distance and slow traffic, and rapid-flashing beacons to bring more awareness to students crossing the streets.

The school safety assessment recommendations will be used to identify short-term quick build projects and to pursue capital improvement grants for costlier long-term improvements, as well as programs that encourage and promote walking and biking to school. To date, the City of Fremont has completed 20 school site assessments since spring 2016. For the 2017–18 school year assessments are planned for the remaining 20 schools in the district.

For more information on the project, please contact Rene Dalton at rdalton@fremont.gov or (510) 494-4535. The School Traffic Safety Assessments are funded by FUSD, Measure B, and Measure BB county sales tax dollars.

PG&E urges graduates to celebrate weighted balloons

SUBMITTED BY TAMAR SARKISSIAN

With graduation season in full swing, Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E) is warning customers about the public safety risks associated with helium-filled metallic balloons: If your graduation celebration involves balloons, make sure they are secured with a weight. Otherwise they can float away and come into contact with overhead power lines, causing a public safety risk.

“It may look fun and festive to release balloons in the air during graduation ceremonies, but when helium-filled metallic balloons come into contact with overhead lines they can cause a widespread power outage. PG&E encourages grads to celebrate safely by keeping metallic balloons secured with weights,” said Pat Hogan, senior vice president of PG&E Electric Operations.

In the first five months of 2017, metallic balloons striking electric lines have caused nearly 132 power outages in PG&E's Northern and Central California service areas alone, disrupting service to more than 76,000 customers. These power outages can interrupt electric service to critical facilities such as hospitals, schools and traffic lights. PG&E typically sees a spike in the number of outages caused by metallic balloons during graduation season.

Metallic balloons have a silvery coating, which is a conductor for electricity. If the balloons float away and make contact with power lines, they can short transformers, cause power outages and melt electrical wires, causing public safety risks. Last year, nearly 67,000 customers in Alameda and Contra Costa counties experienced metallic balloon-related outages.

To help ensure that graduation balloon celebrations are enjoyed responsibly, PG&E is reminding people to follow these important balloon safety tips:

• “Look Up and Live!” Use caution and avoid celebrating with metallic balloons near overhead electric lines.

• Make sure helium-filled metallic balloons are securely tied to a weight that is heavy enough to prevent them from floating away. Never remove the weight.

• Keep metallic balloons indoors, when possible. For everyone's safety, never permit metallic balloons to be released outside.

• Do not bundle metallic balloons together.

• Never attempt to retrieve any type of balloon, kite or toy that becomes caught in a power line. Leave it alone, and immediately call PG&E at 1-800-743-5000 to report the problem.

• Never go near a power line that has fallen to the ground or is dangling in the air. Always assume downed electric lines are energized and extremely dangerous. Stay far away, keep others away and immediately call 911 to alert the police and fire departments.

Follow these helpful tips to make sure we all get where we're going safely.

1. Always Cross at the Crosswalk. It's never safe to cross in the middle of the street or between parked cars. Drivers will have a difficult time seeing you and may not have enough time to react. When there isn't a marked crosswalk, everyone should cross at the corner. Make sure you always look both ways before crossing any street.
2. Trucks Take Time. Garbage and recycling trucks take much longer to stop than cars. Play it safe and let a truck go past before crossing the street.
3. Watch for Right Turns. Before stepping off the curb look over your shoulder to make sure there isn't a vehicle behind you about to make a right turn directly in your path.
4. Always Stay on the Sidewalk! Where there isn't a sidewalk available, walk facing traffic and stay alert.
5. Pay Attention in parking lots, driveways, and other non-traffic areas. Garbage and recycling trucks that are backing up or servicing dumpsters, or any vehicle looking for a parking spot may not see you walking around them. Remember, never play in a parking lot.

Gomes Elementary Helps Fight Blood Cancers

SUBMITTED BY QUEENIE CHONG

Since 1994, more than 10 million elementary, middle and high school students throughout the country have raised millions in pennies and spare change to benefit blood cancer research. Over the last several years, The Student Council of Fremont's Gomes Elementary has raised more than $40,000 to help fight blood cancers. Together, as a community, we experience the strength of collaboration for a good cause.

The school recently spearheaded its own fundraiser, "Pennies for Patients." Teacher advisers Mrs. Glenister and Mrs. Vemuri, along with student leaders, led the effort from March 27 through April 7. As an extra special fundraiser, students and staff paid $2 each for pieces of duct tape to lash Principal Whipple to a pole on the basketball court.

At a school gathering on Friday, May 26 in honor of Memorial Day, Leukemia and Lymphoma Society declared Gomes Elementary one of the Champions of Change. School representatives presented a check in the amount of $5,268.82 to Janna Katz, campaign manager of the organization's Greater Bay Area Chapter.

Books bring delight to second graders

Just in time for summer break, more than 400 second graders in Newark schools received new books to keep them busy while away from the classroom, courtesy of Newark Rotary Club. As part of Read Me a Picture program, Rotary members achieved their goal of raising $6,000 to buy 462 beautiful hard cover books for distribution to students in all eight Newark elementary schools and St. Edwards School. Newark Rotarians distributed the books during the last two weeks in May.

The program's mission is to promote visual literacy, vocabulary development and art appreciation, as well as opportunity to exercise a child's imagination through book ownership. Each of the distributed books contains beautiful reproductions of classic works of art, depicting a wide range of cultures and styles. They are designed to appeal to all ages and be interactive and open-ended, giving ample opportunity for observation and discussion.

BRASK CONCERTS

The duo Carbé and Durand bring their amazing guitar talent to the Mission Coffee stage in the format of their own music as well as loved covers done as only they can, thanks to their unique approach to the sound of folk, blues, rock and more.

With resumes that include founding the instrumental world fusion band Incendio, Liza and JP have a Midas touch when it comes to the fretboard. Their new duo project CD, "A Bridge Between," is no exception. With two originals and an impressive variety of covers ranging from Mason Williams' "Classical Gas" to Ozzy Osbourne's "Crazy Train," the skill and artistry of these guitarists simply explodes through each performance. From the brilliant arrangement of Stevie Wonder's "Isn't She Lovely," the uptempo version of Jimmy Webb's "Wichita Line-man" on to the Flamenco-infused Rolling Stones classic "Paint it Black," they show their chemistry works together.

Rare Portuguese classical music concert on tap

SUBMITTED BY SHARON XAVIER DE SOUSA

A concert of Portuguese classical music, including a requiem in memory of Aristides de Sousa Mendes by Luis Cipriano, will be performed on Sunday, June 4 at Five Wounds Portuguese National Church in San Jose. De Sousa Mendes was a consul general of Bordeaux, France, who saved 30,000 people from the Holocaust during World War II.

Mission Chamber Orchestra of San Jose and Deo Gloria Choir of Fremont and San Jose will join forces to present the concert. Members of the choir have performed for Pope John Paul II and sang back up for Glenn Yarbrough in “The Forgotten Carols” in Mission San Jose.

The concert will include two instrumental selections: “Suite Rustica No. 1” by Fernando Lopes-Graca and “Concerto for String Orchestra” by Jose Manuel Joly Braga Santos. All pieces, rarely performed outside of Portugal, are works by Portuguese composers and are performed as part of the Day of Portugal annual events.

De Sousa Mendes is becoming known as the “Portuguese Schindler” and the “Angel of Bordeaux.” He defied orders of the dictator Salazar and issued visas and passports to approximately 30,000 fleeing Nazi Germany during World War II, including 10,000 Jews—among them was the famous modern artist, Salvador Dali.

Details about de Sousa Mendes can be found by visiting the Sousa Mendes Foundation website at www.sousamendesfoundation.org.

Safe Kids Day

LEAH DOYLE-STEVENSON

Five hundred vehicle booster seats and 500 bicycle helmets will be given away at the Alameda County Fairgrounds in Pleasanton on Saturday, June 10. Hosted by Safe Kids Alameda County with Alameda County Supervisor Scott Haggerty, in partnership with AAA of Northern California, “Alameda County Safe Kids Day & Booster Seat Giveaway” will take place at lot 8 of the Fairgrounds, located just inside gate 12.

“Preventable injuries are the number one killer of children in the United States, with millions more injured in ways that can affect them for a lifetime. Alameda County Safe Kids Day is designed to celebrate kids, provide resources and help Alameda County families take action to protect their children on the roadway, at home and while at play,” said Safe Kids Alameda County Childhood Injury and Prevention Coordinator, Kat Woolbright.

The event will be open to the public, but booster seat/helmet eligibility requires proof of Alameda County residency. Parent/guardian, child and vehicle must all be present to be eligible. Booster seats and helmets accommodating children 5+ years of age, weighing approximately 50-110 lbs. and measuring approximately 40-57 inches in height, will be available free of cost. Education and installation will be provided by certified safety seat technicians.

“AAA is proud to help parents determine the proper booster seat for their kids, as 90 percent of child car seats are installed incorrectly”, said John Moreno, AAA Northern California spokesperson. “Car crashes remain a leading cause of death for children and one mistake could leave a devastating impact on a family. AAA’s free car seat inspections and booster seat donations ensure that everyone travels safely.”

In addition to the booster seat and helmet giveaway, the event will also feature an interactive safety fair comprised of over 20 local agencies, family fun, live entertainment and safety activities. A free barbeque lunch provided by Dublin and Fremont Chevrolet will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. Food and safety equipment will be distributed on a first-come, first-served basis and only while supplies last.

Supervisor Scott Haggerty, representing the first district communities of Fremont, Dublin, Livermore and East unincorporated Alameda County, said: “It’s truly an honor to be able to bring a program of this magnitude to the residents of Alameda County. When all is said and done, we will walk away with peace of mind in knowing that 500 children are riding safer on our roadways.”

Traffic control and safety for Safe Kids Day will be provided by Alameda County Sheriff’s Office and California Highway Patrol Dublin branch. This event is made possible through sponsorship and donations from AAA of Northern California, Alameda County, Dublin Chevrolet, Fremont Chevrolet, Sutter Health Eden Medical Center, AEG- Oakland, Alameda County Fairgrounds and Bayco Vending.

California lawmakers aim to strengthen gun
ban in schools

BY SOPHIA BOLLAG
ASSOCIATED PRESS

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP), California lawmakers have passed a bill to revoke superintendents' ability to let people carry guns in a school zone.

The California Assembly passed AB424 43-23 May 22, sending the measure to the state Senate. The Legislature initially let superintendents give people permission to carry guns on campus to ensure domestic violence survivors could protect themselves, Assemblyman Kevin McCarty said. But the Sacramento Democrat says the provision has been "exploited" by school districts to allow cafeteria aids, teachers and yard duty assistants to carry firearms in schools.

"This was not the intent of the bill passed a few years ago," said McCarty, who authored AB424. She added that, "Research shows allowing more guns in schools makes them less safe." About five California school districts have issued permits for civilians to carry guns in school zones, including the Central Valley districts Folsom Cordova Unified, Kingsburg Joint Union,
Anderson Union and Kern.

Opponents say the bill would reverse a limited exemption that makes schools safer.
Assemblywoman Catharine Baker, a Republican from the San Francisco Bay Area, said she supported the intent of the bill but worried it would make schools a place where abusers would know domestic violence survivors would not have guns to defend themselves.

Republican Assemblywoman
Melissa Melendez voted against the measure, which she said is "making a problem where there isn't one."

"Those who have been deemed responsible enough to have a (concealed-carry weapon) ought to be able to have one on school grounds if their school district allows it," said Melendez, who represents a district near Los Angeles. "It is not our responsibility to make that decision for them."

The vote on the bill comes about two months after a teacher and an 8-year-old student were shot by the teacher's estranged husband at an elementary school in San Bernardino, California. Supporters and opponents of the bill mentioned other past school shootings in California as justification for their votes.

Library welcomes back patrons and materials

SUBMITTED BY ALICIA REYES

Alameda County Library will offer a Fine Forgiveness program from June 12 to June 25. During this two-week period, the Library will remove late fees on all overdue items that are returned, regardless of how long overdue.
Alameda County residents can return overdue books, CDs and DVDs to the library circulation desk or book drop at any branch library to have their late fees cleared. They can also have late fees cleared for materials already returned by making a request online at Ask Us, by phone, or at the circulation desk of any branch library.

The program's goal is to welcome back thousands of patrons and recover materials.
About 73,000 patrons have outstanding fines that prevent them from checking out materials. Children and teens make up more than a quarter of patrons with overdue fines.

Recovering overdue materials increases the availability of materials for circulation and reduces material replacement costs.
The program aligns with the Library's core values of equity and eliminating barriers to access.

"Children and teens stand to benefit the most from our programs especially during the summer months. We hope to reconnect with youth and adults through our Fine Forgiveness program," said Cindy Chadwick, County librarian.

Research shows that youth who read over the summer months avoid summer learning loss and return to school better equipped to continue with their studies. The Library encourages youth, adults and families to participate in its Summer Reading program from June 1 to September 15. Participants will discover new places, learn new things, and win prizes by reading and engaging in various activities.

Titans start tournament with a win, lose in second round

SUBMITTED AND PHOTOS BY MIKE HEIGHTCHEW

The John F. Kennedy Titans jumped to an early lead over the Encinal Jets on May 23rd with a great display of hitting as they scored the first two runs of the game in the first inning and never looked back. Adding four more runs in the fifth inning and another in the sixth inning, power at the plate, combined with good defense was more than enough to propel them to a 7-3 victory.

Titans baseball season came to an end on May 27th as they lost to the Campolindo Cougars 7-6 in the second round of North Coast Section playoffs. In a close game that could have gone either way, Campolindo jumped into an early lead with two runs in the first inning, adding another in the fourth inning. But the Titans fought their way back, tying the score in the second inning and adding two more runs in the fifth inning. It looked like a Titan victory was in the offing but the game started to slip away in the sixth and seventh innings as the Cougars offense accounted for four runs. A late Titan surge in the bottom of the seventh inning brought the score to within one run, but a winning hit was elusive and the 2017 Titan season was over.

Cal State East Bay golfers finish historic season

SUBMITTED BY STEVE CONNOLLY

The Cal State East Bay (CSEB) men’s golf team’s historic 2016-17 season concluded on Wednesday, May 24 as the Pioneers finished in 12th place at the NCAA Division II Championships in Kissimmee, Florida. Players shot 301 (+21) as a team in the final round on a day when conditions were tough and scores were exceptionally high on the par-70 Watson Course at Reunion Resort. The Pioneers finished with a 54-hole total of 886 (+46). A pair of seniors and multi-time All-Conference honorees led the way for the Pioneers with outstanding performances throughout the three-day event to secure top-10 individual finishes. Chad Hall carded a 71 (+1) for the second straight round to finish the championships just two strokes over par. His total score of 212 (+2) gave him a share of sixth place, just three strokes behind the individual national champion, Chandler Blanchet of West Florida. Hall was the best player in the field on par-4 holes, where he totaled four strokes under par. He also finished with the second-most total birdies (11) of the 108 players in the field. Fellow senior Adam Stone wrapped up perhaps the best season ever by a Pioneer golfer with his ninth top-10 finish. The CCAA Player of the Year, two-time tournament champion, five-time CCAA Player of the Week, and No. 14 ranked golfer in the nation finished with an overall total of 213 (+3) in a tie for 10th place. Fittingly, Stone fired the lowest score on the team in his final collegiate round. His even-par 70 was one of the best rounds by any player on the course. The native of Garstang, England succeeded by doing what he does as well as any golfer in Division II — make pars. He had 14 in his third round and tallied 41 for the tournament, the most of any player in the field. Senior Owen Hutchison turned in a 79 (+9) and ended up in the middle of the field overall, totaling 227 (+17) for a share of 66th place. Sophomore Jonathan Mulvany contributed the fourth score to CSUEB’s team total with an 81 (+11), putting him at 327 (+27) for the week. He finished one stroke ahead of senior Joel Keylor, who shot 82 (+12) for a total of 238 (+28). The two closed out the tournament tied for 100th and 102nd, respectively. The East Bay men entered the season with lofty expectations and still managed to exceed them. They ended NCAA Championships as the 12th-best team in the country, the highest national finish by any Pioneer team since CSUEB re-joined NCAA Division II.

The victory gave CSD their second Softball, Division 6, NCS (North Coast-Section) of the CIF (California Interscholastic Federation) Championship in four years. They were also champions in 2014. Game was played on the CSD campus and it improved their overall record for 2017 to 20-3. The Lady Eagles are coached by first yearcoach, Jeanne Dike. first three innings, stranding six runners. Lacey Sandoval provided all the run support that Rodriguez would need on the first pitch of the game, lining a ball over the center field fence. An error and a double by Ari Garcia plated the second Logan run. In the third inning, Sandoval walked, Olivia Cazares sacrificed her to second and Aliyah Yates drove in the run with a hit to right. Cazares led the team defensively; she made a diving catch in left field against the Dons cleanup hitter and then threw out the runner to complete a double play. Next opponent is Freedom on May 30th.

- Newark Memorial Cougars lost a close contest with Bishop O’Dowd 6-5.

Baseball:

- John F. Kennedy Titans (Fremont) move on with a 7-0 win over Encinal.

Rounding out the facility will be a multi-purpose room with fully equipped sound and lighting capability, and well-tuned acoustics that will provide a high-tech performance space for music, drama and assemblies. Founded in 1999, Stratford School, a leading private school based in Silicon Valley, has been nationally recognized for its innovative STEAM curriculum, which integrates performing arts, foreign language, and character development. Stratford has been serving students in Fremont for 13 years with campuses on Fremont Boulevard and Curtis Street. The new Fremont Osgood campus will be among 23 Stratford campuses located throughout California. The community is invited to Stratford’s Fremont Curtis campus, located at 5301 Curtis Ave., to see a display of architectural renderings of the new Fremont Osgood campus. Student applications for enrollment for the upcoming school year are also being accepted. Details about Stratford School can be found by visiting www.stratfordschools.com.

Last-minute pitching mix propels Ohlone men’s baseball team to state competition

SUBMITTED BY OHLONE COLLEGE

While Ohlone College had put together a remarkable season already, it wasn’t going to be complete unless they could accomplish one more thing — a trip to Fresno for the CCCAA State Championships. In a year where big names carried the team all season, it was the unlikely hero who emerged Sunday, May 21, to give the Renegades a 5-1 victory over Sacramento City College, and a trip among the state’s prestigious Final Four. The offensive production of LMU signee Ryan Ruley, UCONN signee Thaddeus Phillips, former Sacramento State first baseman AJ Curtis, and CC-CBCA pre-season All-American Isaac Cruz carried the Renegades all season long. The pitching staff was anchored by 11-win ace Carlos Jimenez and 12-win lefty Brian Martinez. But as the final game of the CCCAA NorCal Sectionals rolled around on May 21, the Renegades turned to seldom-used freshman Kawena Alo-Kaonohi to save the day.

After a 4-3 walk-off win for Ohlone on May 19, Sacramento City responded with their own 4-3 thrilling walk-off of their own the next day. After the game, head coach Mike Curran didn’t have a clear idea of whom he would send to the mound for the championship game on May 21. However, late Saturday night, pitching Coach Chris Perry sent a text to Curran saying, “Kawena wants the ball tomorrow.” Curran responded immediately to his pitching coach with one simple word: “Done!” Kawena entered the game on Sunday with just 18 innings and only six strikeouts on the season. However, he didn’t lack big-game experience. Last season, he was the ace of state power at Baldwin High School in Hawaii. Over the summer, he led Team Hawaii to a berth in the Connie Mack World Series in Cary, North Carolina. “He’s not afraid of the limelight,” said Curran. “He just doesn’t get rattled. It’s pretty impressive to see from an 18-year old to be able to handle stuff like that when such huge consequences are on the line.”

Alo-Kaonohi was ready for the challenge. He threw a total of 80 pitches and lasted 5-2/3 innings. He scattered three hits, walked two, and struck out two while exiting the game in the 6th with a 5-1 lead. Teammate Anthony Garcia entered the game in the top of the 6th with bases loaded and two outs; he proceeded to strike out the first batter he faced and went on to pitch the final three innings. His final pitch of the game was a 2-2 breaking ball for a called third strike to end the game and set off a raucous celebration. After winning their conference with a 17-1 record, Ohlone beat Cosumnes River College with a 10th inning, 2 out, walk-off thriller to capture the Regional Championship. The following week they swept Cabrillo College for the Super Regional title. After beating Sacramento City for the Sectional title, the Renegades were to open the CCCAA State Final Four with Grossmont College on Saturday, May 27 at Fresno City College with Santa Rosa facing off against El Camino in the other side of the bracket on the same day.

TAKES FROM SILICON VALLEY EAST

Fremont has the most startups per capita in the nation – where do we go from here?

By TONY CHOW

Working as a graduate intern with Fremont’s economic development team during the past three months has been a delight. The clear focus and leadership that the team exhibits for increasing Fremont’s business profile is energizing to witness. An exciting project on the docket is a Feasibility Study for Fremont’s Innovation District, home of the Tesla Factory. With the Warm Springs BART Station now open for business, it will serve a central role in the District’s transit-oriented development. Directly west of the station, the City is spearheading a new pedestrian bridge that will connect to a public plaza, and where a new center for “innovation cultivators” is planned as a boost to Fremont’s startup ecosystem.

Innovation cultivators are organizations that support the growth of entrepreneurial individuals, firms, and ideas. There are three broad categories: co-working spaces, incubators, and accelerators. There are also hybrid models that include further segmentation and specialization of each category. Some operate independently and some are attached to corporations or institutions of higher learning. One might say that these innovation cultivators are innovative in themselves.

Incubators and accelerators can be hard to distinguish, even among seasoned business professionals. In short, incubators are a place where early stage entrepreneurs can “incubate” ideas, while accelerators “accelerate” (or scale) the business to market, compacting years of learning into 3-6 short months of intense mentoring.

The contract between cultivators and startups also differs. Incubators are accustomed to housing multiple startups under a single roof for 1-5 years, and entry selection is network-based. Accelerators often provide capital in exchange for equity. For example, an accelerator might provide seed funding of $25,000 for a 7 percent return of the startup’s equity. These programs are application-based and usually culminate in a “Demo Day” where entrepreneurs pitch their company to potential investors.

Surprisingly, Fremont ranks as having the most startups per capita in the nation. The Warm Springs project seeks to capitalize on this statistic by connecting startups to the resources that they need to scale locally. Given Fremont’s legacy and expertise in advanced manufacturing, a focus on hardware accelerators makes sense. “Hardware is hard” goes the saying, but there are bullish accelerators who prepare hardware startups to meet the complexities of global manufacturing and challenges of supply chain management.

Another crucial element to a startup’s survival and growth is venture capital. Based on Fremont’s strengths in clean tech and bio tech, VC funds focused on these specific industries would do well to maintain a presence on this corner of Silicon Valley, generating buzz and thereby affecting future investment and development activities.

On May 12, submittals were due for a RFP to plan and position the city-owned Warm Springs Plaza as a center for innovation cultivation. I look forward to following the progress as Fremont plays an active role in celebrating and nurturing its startup culture.

right - and obligation - to not only question, but make changes to our system when things go awry. Political changes should be the result of civil debate over appropriate tactics to achieve desired values and strategies. When alternative methods are used to suppress thoughts and actions, democracy suffers. At all levels of government, open debate and dialogue, without demagoguery, is crucial to honoring those who have sacrificed all or part of their lives to maintaining our way of life.

While events at the national, state and even regional scene may be a bit esoteric for many of us, we can have a significant effect on our local environment. Those who serve their communities through active participation either as volunteers or public employees are at the bottom line of accountability. It is at this level that all of us can make a difference and thereby affect what happens upstream. Those who aspire to regional, state and national prominence start somewhere and that somewhere is in local communities. Action at the local level is not only an affirmation of values that stabilize our country but gives credence to the institution that protects us and values our worth as human beings. The only thing asked in return is participation in community interests at whatever level is comfortable. Doing so adds net worth to society, promotes freedom and gives meaning to Memorial Day.

Whether serving on an advisory board or commission, within a governing body or volunteering, we advance a common good; Memorial Day and those it honors, also honors you. Service to our communities, families and friends is the glue that binds us. The men and women who gave all for us did so to ensure that the American way of life perseveres. Giving our time, energy and talent to activities that make our communities function – from Little League and soccer to boards and commissions – is what we are all about. It is appropriate that summer days begin with a holiday that gives meaning to our freedom and a reminder that this lifestyle is paid for through a willingness to understand and participate in its defense.

We have just passed through a date that marks a national remembrance of those currently in the military and others who have served in defense of our country, many of whom gave their lives for an idea... freedom through our form of democracy. Although an imperfect model and messy, it has served this country well and continues to operate even under trying conditions. Public service and sacrifice for this concept is not new and not exclusive to the military. A plethora of actions by citizens, whether military or not, forms the bedrock of our society; continuation of a particular way of life.

Although some try to undermine the concept of freedom of thought and disagreement, our people have the

FROM THE EDITORS OF E - THE ENVIRONMENTAL MAGAZINE

Dear EarthTalk: Who are some of the greener movie stars out there today and what are they doing to fight for the planet?

-- Stacey DiGiorno, Chevy Chase, MD

While a handful of Hollywood A-listers -- Robert Redford, Meryl Streep and Ed Begley Jr., to name a few -- have been actively campaigning for the environment for decades, a new wave of green celebrities is using star power to help convince millions of fans around the world to live greener lifestyles and speak up for environmental protections and climate mitigation.

Leonardo DiCaprio continues to distinguish himself as one of the greenest stars out there. He started the Leonardo DiCaprio Foundation in 1998 with the mission of protecting the world's last wild places, and has since then channeled millions of dollars in grants toward various direct action initiatives and awareness-raising campaigns all over the world. His 2007 documentary, "The 11th Hour," features interviews with a variety of leaders and luminaries in documenting the grave environmental problems facing the planet's life systems, while his 2016 film, "Before the Flood," focuses on the environmental impacts of global warming on different locales around the world.

Last December, DiCaprio met with then-President-Elect Trump to discuss the importance of the U.S. remaining committed to reducing greenhouse gas emissions and honoring its commitments as part of 2015's Paris climate agreement.

Another big star that's gone green is Arnold Schwarzenegger. The Terminator earned his environmental cred during his six years as California's governor when he shepherded legislation through a hostile state legislature establishing the most stringent emissions reduction mandates in the nation, and issued executive orders to up the energy efficiency requirements for existing and new state government buildings. He also helped pave the way for the introduction of automobiles powered by emissions-free fuel cells by building the beginnings of a hydrogen refueling network across California.

Schwarzenegger has been outspoken about the need for state and local governments to take the lead in the battle against global warming -- a message that never resonated more clearly than now with climate-denier Donald Trump in the White House.

Mark Ruffalo may have played The Hulk in Marvel Comics' "Avengers" movies for good reason: He's pretty green -- and resource extractors don't like him when he's angry. The A-list actor is outspoken against the environmental and health ills of fracking, a technique that recovers gas and oil from shale rock by drilling down into the Earth to direct a high-pressure water mixture at the rock to release the gas inside. He founded the non-profit Water Defense in 2009, and later went on to join engineering professor Mark Jacobson, banker and solar executive Marco Krapels and filmmaker/activist Josh Fox to launch The Solutions Project, which aims to help move the U.S. to 100 percent renewable energy. He has also been active alongside the Standing Rock Sioux in fighting the Dakota Access Pipeline in North Dakota.

Some other movie stars for the environment include Edward Norton, Brad Pitt, Cate Blanchett, Daryl Hannah, Pierce Brosnan, Charlize Theron, Matt Dillon, Matt Damon, Julia Roberts, Will Ferrell, Tom Hanks and George Clooney. At least you can feel better about going to the movies now that you know the stars on the screen are using some of the money they are making at your expense to help the planet.

He is also survived by his sister Patricia Knak (Darryl), 3 nephews, 2 nieces and many cousins. Mickey was pre-ceded by his wife Dorothy J. Rose in 2015 after 67 years of marriage. Wieckowski honors community leaders Among Alameda and Santa Clara Counties' community leaders, three garnered honors from Senator Bob Wieckowski (D-Fremont) for their contributions in education, social justice, arts, culture and the non-profit sectors at his 7th Annual Asian Pacific Islander American Heritage Leadership Awards ceremony Friday, May 12 in Milpitas.

"Each of these individuals illustrates in their own way the broad contributions made by the Asian Pacific Islander community in the region," Wieckowski said. "Year after year, their level of civic engagement is constant and impactful. I am honored to take a moment to recognize their accomplishments and service."

The honorees were: Andrew Kong Knight, Hayward; Richard Konda, San Jose; and the Asian Pacific Environmental Network (APEN), East Bay.

Every day is Internet Security Day

By MARIAELENA LEMUS, SOCIAL SECURITY PUBLIC AFFAIRS SPECIALIST

Being safe online is important every day. There may be days devoted to internet security awareness, but you need to be careful every time you go online.

Do you know what it takes to be safe online? You probably connect daily to get information, shop, socialize, or work. Every time you go online, you need to avoid the risk of theft or fraud. Here are some tips to use while visiting the Social Security website and the other websites you use:

- Use strong passwords. Strong passwords have at least eight characters and include capital letters, numbers, and non-letter characters. These passwords make it harder for someone to hack your account.
- Don't recycle passwords. Although it requires effort to think of new passwords constantly, it provides safety when you do. What if you use the same password for every site and you lose your password? If someone finds it, they could get access to all your accounts. Many people choose to reuse — don't be one of them.
- Take advantage of multifactor authentication.

Many websites offer the option to use a second factor—or method—in addition to just a username and password to ensure that only you access your information. Using more than one factor to establish identity makes it harder for someone to get into your account and steal your personal information. Beginning June 10, 2017, Social Security requires multifactor authentication to access a 'my Social Security' account. Customers choose whether to receive a one-time security code to either their phone or email in order create a new account or sign into their account. Visit this link to find out more about how to secure your personal my Social Security account: www.socialsecurity.gov/myaccount/verifyandprotectid.html. Consider using multifactor authentication whenever it's offered to protect your information.

- Read scam alerts. For information about fraudulent activities related to Social Security, you can find information at our blog 'Social Security Matters' under the Newsroom section at blog.socialsecurity.gov. One way to avoid identity theft is to create your own my Social Security account, if you haven't already.

When you have an account, no one else can set up an account using your information. Social Security's Office of the Inspector General investigates fraud involving Social Security and they publish Fraud Advisories at oig.ssa.gov/newsroom/news-release. The Federal Trade Commission website publishes information about scams that appear in the news at www.consumer.ftc.gov/scam-alerts. You'll want to be aware of current scams to avoid being tricked.

- Review your online accounts and credit reports. Just as you review your earnings record with Social Security for accuracy at <http://www.socialsecurity.gov/myaccount>, you should review your bank and credit card accounts for accuracy. Get a free copy of your credit report available annually from the three credit reporting agencies (Experian, Equifax, and Transunion) at www.annualcreditreport.com/ and check it for incorrect entries.

Protecting your identity can be daunting. Guarding your personal information requires investing some time, but is worth it. Discourage theft and fraud by adopting these security practices when you use the Internet.

US life expectancy falls, as many kinds of death increase

By MIKE STOBBE, ASSOCIATED PRESS

A decades-long trend of rising life expectancy in the U.S. could be ending: It declined last year and it is no better than it was four years ago.

In most of the years since World War II, life expectancy in the U.S. has inched up, thanks to medical advances, public health campaigns and better nutrition and education.

But last year it slipped, an exceedingly rare event in a year that did not include a major disease outbreak. Other one-year declines occurred in 1993, when the nation was in the throes of the AIDS epidemic, and 1980, the result of an especially nasty flu season.

In 2015, rates for 8 of the 10 leading causes of death rose. Even more troubling to health experts: the U.S. seems to be settling into a trend of no improvement at all.

"With four years, you're starting to see some indication of something a little more ominous," said S. Jay Olshansky, a University of Illinois-Chicago public health researcher.

An American born in 2015 is expected to live 78 years and nine-and-a-half months, on average, according to preliminary data released Thursday by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. An American born in 2014 could expect to live about month longer, and even an American born in 2012 would have been expected to live slightly longer. In 1950, life expectancy was just over 68 years.

The United States ranks below dozens of other high-income countries in life expectancy, according to the World Bank. It is highest in Japan, at nearly 84 years.

The CDC report is based mainly on 2015 death certificates. There were more than 2.7 million deaths, or about 86,000 more than the previous year. The increase in raw numbers partly reflects the nation's growing and aging population.

It was led by an unusual upturn in the death rate from the nation's leading killer, heart disease. Death rates also increased for chronic lower lung disease, accidental injuries, stroke, Alzheimer's disease, diabetes, kidney disease and suicide.

The only clear drop was in cancer, the nation's No. 2 killer.

Experts aren't sure what's behind the stall. Some, like Olshansky, suspect obesity, an underlying factor in some of the largest causes of death, particularly heart disease.

But there's also the impact of rising drug overdoses and suicides, he noted. "There are a lot of things happening at the same time," he said.

Some years the CDC later revises its life expectancy estimate after doing additional analysis, including for its 2014 estimate.

Average life expectancy declined for men, falling by more than two months, to 76 years and 3 1/2 months in 2015. It fell by about one month for women, to 81 years and 2 1/2 months, the CDC said.

Death rates increased for black men, white men, white women, and slightly for Hispanic men and women. But they did not change for black women.

The new CDC report did not offer a geographic breakdown of 2015 deaths, or analysis of death based on education or income. But other research has shown death rates are rising sharply for poorer people—particularly white people—in rural areas but not wealthier and more highly educated and people on the coasts.

"The troubling trends are most pronounced for the people who are the most disadvantaged," said Jennifer Karas Montez, a Syracuse University researcher who studies adult death patterns.

"But if we don't know why life expectancy is decreasing for some groups, we can't be confident that it won't start declining for others," she said.

TRI-CITY VOICE[™]

Athletes of the Month

This month's Tri-City Voice Male and Female Student Athletes of the Month matriculate with the other Viking students at Irvington High School. Michelle Stone is the Athletic Director at Irvington High.

Jacob Parsons

Male athlete is 18-year-old senior, Jacob Parsons, a member of the Vikings' baseball team coached by Frank Durand. Parsons grew up playing baseball along with the rest of his family and has lived in Fremont his whole life.

When younger, Parsons played Little League for a few years but mostly for a team called the Fremont Reds. In addition, when younger, he played basketball for Hirsch Elementary School and Horner Jr. High. Now, during the off season, Parsons plays baseball for Turn 2 of Fremont, also led by Coach Durand.

As a utility player, Parsons can play anywhere, but pitching is his favorite position. During the summer, he wants to work on bulking up and improving his pitching velocity so he can play at the collegiate level.

Parsons has three older brothers, Daniel (22), John (27) and David (30) who all played baseball, two of them at the college level. Parents, David and Viki, also were athletes in high school.

Ohlone Community College is next for Parsons before going on to a four-year college. He has no major in mind at this time, just hopes to make the baseball team.

He likes most foods, especially a good turkey, bacon and avocado sandwich; In-N-Out Burger is his favorite place to eat out. Guitar music is what he enjoys the most, with John Mayer and Jack Johnson getting most of his attention.

Jacob's brother Daniel is the person he most admires because of the way he acts and carries himself.

He has been his best friend and values their relationship. Being small himself, Jacob admires other little guys playing MLB (Major League Baseball).

Whenever he has any extra time, he likes to spend it hanging out with friends and/or a girlfriend.

Parsons says he does not eat much before game time, so he can feel light and fast on the field.

Noellah Ramos

Noellah Ramos, a 17-year-old senior, is this month's Tri-City Voice Female Student Athlete from the Vikings of Irvington High. She is a member of the Irvington softball team coached by Ken Campbell.

Ramos was born in Honolulu, Hawaii. She moved to San Jose when two years old, Santa Clara at age five and finally to Fremont when eight years old. Her parents, Noel and Desiree Ramos, signed her up for tee-ball when she was five years old. From sixth to eighth grade she played for Fremont Strike Zone, 12 and under; eighth to the summer of tenth grade, San Jose Sting, 14u; 18 Gold as a freshman; and tenth to twelfth grade, Salinas Storm. She also played basketball at Harvey Green Elementary and Horner Jr. High.

Being left handed, Ramos used to be a first baseman when younger, but her coaches decided her speed was more valuable if they played her in the outfield. She will be attending Cal Poly, SLO in the fall on an athletic scholarship for softball. Her major will be business while her favorite classes in high school were anything related to science.

Ramos has two sisters, Brittany Yasay (22) and Sidney Torrecer (18); and two brothers, Devon Yasay (20) and Alijah Ramos (12). Brittany played softball, attended Irvington and wants to open her own cosmetology business. Sidney attended Mission

San Jose High School and now attends Ohlone. She hopes to open her own day care business. Devon played football and attended Irvington. He now works for Tesla, wants to become a mechanical engineer and was Ramos' closest sibling growing up. Alijah also attended Harvey Green and now Horner JH. He is a shortstop on his baseball team.

Father was very athletic and played baseball, basketball and football while Mother was into aquatic sports such as surfing and canoeing.

Favorite food is pizza and she likes all types of music, rap, reggae, country, soul and r&b, depending on her mood. Ramos also likes the movie Beauty and the Beast (both old and new) and TV show Bates Motel.

She has modeled herself from the skills of her siblings, but her parents have always been her role models. Her Mom is her inspiration and her Dad, her motivation.

When her time permits, Ramos likes to go to the gym, attend kickboxing classes, watch Netflix, hang out with family and friends and sometimes read or color.

A favorite quote from one of her coaches since her sophomore year, Curtis Heen: "On the field and in life, we cannot control the events that are handed to us, but we can control the attitude we have towards it."

Pain serves a purpose.

Former soccer coach arrested; faces molestation charges

UNION CITY POLICE

A former soccer coach was taken into custody by police at his Union City home on Thursday, May 25 and is facing charges of molesting an 11-year-old girl.

Union City Police said Victor Jaime Juarez, 44, was employed by a private girls' youth soccer coach in Union City for several years, until recently taking on a job in Alameda as a soccer league manager. The charges stem from his alleged involvement with a girl during his Union City employment. Juarez was arrested on suspicion of lewd acts with a minor and annoying or molesting a minor child, according to Union City Police.

Although Juarez has no prior reported criminal history of sexual misconduct and is not listed in any sex offender database, detectives are trying to confirm whether the case precipitating Juarez's arrest is isolated, or if there are other victims of similar alleged acts yet unidentified. Police explained that the additional inquiry considers the volume of juveniles to whom unfettered access was routine in Juarez's respective employments as a soccer coach and league manager.

Victor Jaime Juarez

The case is still under investigation and detectives are asking that anyone who might have more information to contact Det. Angela Fonseca at (510) 675-5283, or by e-mail: afonseca@unioncity.org.

Then, the gunman fled on foot, west onto Cherrywood Avenue. The victim's injuries were not life-threatening.

Meanwhile, a San Leandro Police officer who was nearby heard the shooting, which took place just before 3 a.m., and came to the restaurant just minutes later. A K-9 search also was conducted but the gunman was not found.

The suspect was wearing a knit ski mask over his face, concealing his identity. One of the restaurant employees described him as African-American with a thin build. The case is under investigation.

This was in compliance with State-mandated standards for certain types of accessory dwelling units that went into effect in January. On May 25, 2017, the City Council introduced an ordinance repealing Urgency Ordinance 496-U and amending Newark Municipal Code Chapters 17.08 ("Definitions") and 17.16 ("Residential Districts") to comply with recent amendments to state law regarding accessory dwelling units.

An Accessory Dwelling Unit is an attached or detached residential dwelling that is subordinate to a principal residence on the same lot, and that provides complete independent living facilities for one or more persons. The proposed ordinance is essentially the same as the urgency ordinance, but includes the following revisions to Standard ADUs: no requirement for property owner to live at the property, allows two bedroom units and specifies that a second off street parking space would be provided, removes the Conditional Use Permit requirement for an area that has an existing parking problem.

This ordinance will be considered for adoption at the regular meeting of the Newark City Council to be held on Thursday, June 8, 2017 at 7:30 p.m. in the City Council Chambers, 37101 Newark Boulevard, Newark, California. Copies of the full text of this ordinance are available for public examination in the Office of the City Clerk, 37101 Newark Boulevard, 5 th Floor and in the Newark Library, 6300 Civic Terrace Avenue, Newark, California. NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

CITY OF UNION CITY
CITY FACILITIES
DISTRICT NO. 2006-1
(PUBLIC SERVICES)

ANNEXATION NO. 7 (SOARES RANCH)
Notice is hereby given that at 7:00 p.m. on June 13, 2017, or as soon thereafter as practicable, at City Hall, located at 34009 Alvarado-Niles Road, Union City, California, 94587, the City Council of the City of Union City, California (the "City Council") will hold a public hearing on the Annexation of territory ("Annexation No. 7") to City of Union City Community Facilities District No. 2006-1 (Public Services) (the "CFD"), the proposed rate, and method of apportionment of the special tax (the "Special Tax") to be levied on certain property within Annexation No. 7. On April 25, 2017, the City Council adopted Resolution No. 5061-17 (the "Resolution of Intention") declaring its intention to annex Annexation No. 7 to the CFD pursuant to the Mello-Roos Community Facilities Act of 1982, as amended, commencing with Section 53311 of the California Government Code (the "Act"), and to levy Special Taxes to finance police services, fire protection and suppression services, paramedic services, and park maintenance. The following are types of services to be provided for and financed by Annexation No. 7: New police services, fire protection and suppression services, paramedic services, and park maintenance, including but not limited to (i) the costs of contracting services, (ii) related facilities, equipment, vehicles, ambulances, fire apparatus and supplies, (iii) the salaries and benefits of City staff that directly provide police services, fire protection and suppression services, paramedic services, and park maintenance respectively, and (iv) City overhead costs associated with providing such services within the CFD. The Special Tax provides only partial funding for Public Services. Except where funds are otherwise available, a special tax sufficient to pay for such services and related incidental expenses authorized by the Act, secured by recordation of a continuing lien against all non-exempt real property in the CFD, will be levied annually within the boundaries of the CFD and Annexation No. 7. Commencing with Fiscal Year 2009-2010 a Maximum Special Tax shall be levied as follows: (1) $523 per unit for Single-Family Residential; (2) $367 per unit for Duplex; (3) $262 per unit for Low Density Multi-Family Residential; and (4) $200 per unit for High Density Multi-Family Residential. For each subsequent fiscal year, the Maximum Special Tax shall be applied to the Special Tax levied on such parcel in effect for the prior fiscal year.

Any taxpayer that believes that the amount of the Special Tax assigned to a Parcel is in error may file a written notice with the CFD Administrator appealing the levy of the Special Tax. This notice is required to be filed with the CFD Administrator during the fiscal year the error is believed to have occurred. The City and/or CFD Administrator will then promptly review the appeal and, if necessary, meet with the taxpayer. If the City and/or CFD Administrator verifies that the tax should be changed, the Special Tax levy shall be corrected and, if applicable in any case, a credit shall be applied to the Special Tax levied on such parcel in the subsequent fiscal year.

The Special Tax as levied pursuant to Section D of the Rate and Method of Apportionment, shall be collected in the same manner and at the same time as ordinary ad valorem property taxes; provided, however, that the CFD may direct bill the Special Tax, may collect Special Taxes at a different time or in a different manner if necessary, to meet the financial obligations of Annexation No. 7 and the CFD, or as otherwise determined appropriate by the City.

The Special Tax shall be levied in perpetuity to fund Public Services provided to Annexation No. 7 of the CFD.

If at least 12 persons have been registered to vote within the territory to be annexed to the CFD for each of the 90 days preceding the close of the public or protest hearing, the vote in the special election shall be by the registered voters of Annexation No. 7 with each voter having one vote. In that event, the special election shall be conducted by the Registrar of Voters of the County of Alameda and shall be held on a date selected by the City Council and the ballots for the special election shall be distributed to the qualified electors of Annexation No. 7 by mail with return postage prepaid, and the special election shall be conducted by mail ballot election.

If at the time of the close of the protest hearing less than 12 persons have been registered to vote within the territory of Annexation No. 7, the vote shall be by the landowners of Annexation No. 7, with each landowner of record at the close of the protest hearing having one vote for each acre or portion of an acre of land that he or she owns within Annexation No. 7. In that event, the special election shall be conducted by the City Clerk.

At the hearing, the testimony of all interested persons, including all taxpayers or persons owning property in the area, for or against the annexation of Annexation No. 7 to the CFD, the furnishing of a specified type or types of public facilities or services, will be heard. If 50 percent or more of the registered voters residing within the territory proposed to be annexed to the CFD, or the owners of one-half or more of the area of the land in the territory proposed to be annexed to the CFD and not exempt from the Special Tax, file written protests against the annexation of Annexation No. 7 to the CFD, and protests are not withdrawn so as to reduce the value of the protests to less than a majority, no further proceedings to annex Annexation No. 7 to the CFD or to levy the Special Tax shall be taken for a period of one year from the date of the decision of the City Council. If the majority protests of the registered voters or the landowners are only against the furnishing of a specified type or types of facilities or services within Annexation No. 7, or against levying a specified special tax, those types of facilities or services, or the specified special tax shall be eliminated from the resolution of annexation. All capitalized terms not defined herein shall be as defined in the Resolution of Intention to Annex Territory to the CFD. The complete texts of the Resolution of Intention to Annex Territory to the CFD, the proposed Rate and Method of Apportionment of the Special Tax among parcels of real property in the CFD and Annexation No. 7, and the Boundary Map of Annexation No. 7 are on file in the office of the City Clerk and available for public inspection.

A Petition for Probate has been filed by Beatris Bernstine in the Superior Court of California, County of Alameda. The Petition for Probate requests that Beatris Bernstine be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on 06-05-17 at 9:31AM in Dept. 201, located at 2120 Martin Luther King, Jr. Way, Berkeley, CA 94704. If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either

Park It

BY NED MACKAY

Summer fun in the regional parks

A free concert, sand castles, butterflies and trains—the month of June will bring all kinds of activities and festivities to the East Bay Regional Parks.

For example, there's a full schedule in store at Crown Beach and Crab Cove Visitor Center in Alameda.

It starts with Concert at the Cove, a free musical performance from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. on Friday, June 9, featuring The Urban Outlaws, playing modern country with a few classic tunes. You can bring a blanket or lawn chair and a picnic dinner, or purchase food and beverages at the park. Before the music, the visitor center will have nature-themed activities on its deck starting at 4:30 p.m.

Other free cove concerts in the series will be at the same time on July 14 and Aug. 11.

Sponsors are the Park District and Alameda Rotary. The visitor center is at the end of McKay Avenue. But parking there is limited; there's more parking on Webster Street or in the Crown Beach lot at the corner of Otis and Shore Line Drives.

Crown Beach's other real crowd pleaser is the annual Sand Castle and Sculpture Contest, which will be from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, June 10.

Youngster, family and adult divisions can compete in either castle or sculpture category. Free registration is at 9 a.m., judging at noon, and awards at 1 p.m. This is a great event, whether you compete or just enjoy viewing other people's creativity. Cosponsors are the Park District, Alameda Recreation & Parks Department, and the Bay View Women's Club.

And “Nuts About Squirrels” is the theme of Crab Cove's Family Nature Fun Hour from 2 to 3 p.m. on both Saturday and Sunday, June 3 and 4.

For more information on all these programs, call 510-544-3187.

Things with wings are the focus of the 18th annual Butterfly & Bird Festival, from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Sunday, June 4 at Coyote Hills Regional Park in Fremont. Attractions will include educational speakers, photo presentations, up-close interaction with the flying creatures, information on how to create wildlife habitat in your backyard, garden tours, music, and other family friendly activities.

Coyote Hills is at the end of Patterson Ranch Road off Paseo Padre Parkway. There's a parking fee of $5 per vehicle; the festival is free of charge. Call 510-544-3214 for information.

Nearby at Ardenwood Historic Farm, Katie Train Activities Day will be from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on Saturday, June 17. This is the Railroad Museum's once-a-year celebration of Katie, its little green locomotive, with activities designed especially for children ages six and under.

The kids can ride Katie Train to Deer Park, where there will be kid-friendly fun including building a wooden train track, creating a wooden block town, playing engineer, blowing bubbles and enjoying story time.

Katie Train tickets cost $5 for ages 2 and older, there's no charge for children under 2. The fee is in addition to Ardenwood's regular admission, which on Saturday is $3 for adults and seniors, $2 for youngsters ages 4 through 17, and free for ages 3 and under. Parking is free.

Ardenwood is located on Ardenwood Boulevard just north of Highway 84 in Fremont. For information, call 510-544-2797.

A hike to the peak and a program about dragonflies are on the schedule for Sunday, June 4 at Tilden Nature Area near Berkeley.

The hike is from 8 to 11 a.m., led by naturalist Anthony Fisher. It's a somewhat strenuous climb, with animal tracks, birds and native plants along the way. Views from the top are exceptional.

Anthony will reveal the amazing world of dragonflies in a program from 3 to 4:30 p.m. The insects have been around since dinosaurs days.

Both programs meet at the Environmental Education Center, which is at the north end of Tilden's Central Park Drive. Call 510-544-2233.

The nighttime is the right time for a hike from 7:30 to 10 p.m. on Saturday, June 10 at Black Diamond Mines Regional Preserve in Antioch.

Naturalist Kevin Dixon will lead a walk to the park's Prospect Tunnel and back, looking for owls, bats, coyotes, foxes and other night creatures. Bring a flashlight.

The hike is for ages six and older. Meet Kevin at the trailhead at the end of Frederickson Lane in Antioch. For information, call 888-327-2757, ext. 2750.

The visitor center at Big Break Regional Shoreline hosts a free morning coffee session and discussion of Delta News from 8:30 to 9 a.m. the first Wednesday of each month. The next get-together is on June 7. Water tunnels, research projects, farming and fish stocks are all timely topics.

Big Break is at 69 Big Break Road off Main Street in Oakley. For information, call 888-327-2757, ext. 3050.

At 1:47 a.m. officers responded to the Saddle Rack nightclub regarding a report about a fight and vandalism in the parking lot. Several men were in a fight about a vandalized vehicle. Nightclub security intervened and deployed pepper spray to stop the fighting. The victim, a 29-year-old man, received a laceration when he fell to the ground; he was taken to a hospital for treatment. In addition, a security guard was also battered as he tried to stop the fight. A 31-year-old Livermore man and a 27-year-old San Jose man also were arrested on suspicion of battery. The case was investigated by Officer Contrada.

At 4:40 p.m. officers responded to a residence on the 5200 block of Keystone Drive to investigate a residential burglary. The residence was broken into sometime during the day and ransacked. The point of entry was possibly through the front door, utilizing a spare hide-a-key. Electronics, cash and jewelry were taken. The burglary was investigated by Officer Davis.

Saturday, May 20

Officers responded to the area of Michelle Street and Deodara streets after a suspicious vehicle was seen in the area. Officer Kerner arrested a 22-year-old man on suspicion of possessing a switchblade knife discovered in the center console of his vehicle.

Officer Kennedy and Officer Floresca saw four men that matched the description of suspects wanted in connection of a recent cell phone robbery at the corner of Stevenson Boulevard and Leslie Street. When Officer Kennedy and Officer Floresca stop to talk to the group, one of the men, later identified as an 18-year-old Fremont resident, takes off running northbound on Leslie Street. Officer Floresca and Officer Kennedy catch the man who attempted to dump a stolen handgun he had in his possession. The 18-year-old was arrested on suspicion of robbery, obstructing/resisting an officer, carrying a concealed weapon, and carrying a loaded firearm while committing a felony. The three other men were released at the scene.

Sunday, May 21

At 6:02 p.m., officers were dispatched to a report of indecent exposure. A caller said a woman in the area of BART Way and Civic Center Drive had her pants down and was exposing herself. Officer Latimer contacted a female matching the description and eventually arrested the 56-year-old Fremont woman after she was positively identified by a witness.

Monday, May 22

Officers responded to the area of Argonaut Way and Mowry Avenue on the report of a strong-arm robbery called in by the victim. The victim said that while on a walk, two men in their 20’s pulled up to him in a dark-colored 4-door sedan and asked for his wallet and phone. The victim didn’t have any of those items, but the suspects didn’t believe him and hit him about the head with their fists. The loss was about $2 that the victim had in his pocket. The suspects were last seen headed eastbound on Mowry Avenue.

A victim on Perkins Street called 911 to report a person was sitting inside of his F350 pickup truck parked in front of his house, and that no one should be inside. The victim was able to see that the vehicle’s back glass window was broken out. Several officers arrived on scene. The suspect, later identified as 25-year-old woman, refused to exit the vehicle. Sgt. McCormick used a vehicle intercom to try and talk to her, but she continued to refuse. Pepper ball rounds were shot but she still refused to exit the truck. Officers had to break a passenger side door window to remove the woman from the truck. She was arrested on suspicion of auto burglary and resisting/obstructing a police officer.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Water at Mission Peak

We are seeing a new focus on poisonous snakes by our park district. Mission Peak Conservancy is also focused on the safety of park visitors. Vargas Plateau Regional [Park] reopened this month after it was closed by court injunction in May of 2016. To resolve a lawsuit, the city of Fremont spent $20,000 in administrative costs and EBRPD [East Bay Regional Park District] transferred $90,000 in WW Funds from the city’s Recreation Department to the city’s Transportation Department to widen Vargas Road. EBRPD also paid the legal fees for the plaintiffs to the tune of $57,000. Spending public monies to reopen the park is a reasonable cost. After all, millions were spent to buy the land and thousands more were spent to build the parking lot and improve the trails.

However, there is no drinking water for people, though water is provided for cattle and horses. The lack of water at Vargas Plateau is not unique, since Mission Peak Regional Preserve has water for visitors only at the main entrance. Water is made available for cattle, at multiple troughs, in both parks yet more than 150,000 annual visitors must carry in water. Last year, while hiking with 20 Sierra Club members, we encountered a park ranger near the Mission Peak summit whose truck bed was equipped with a five-gallon container of drinking water. A passerby asked the ranger for water, only to be told that water was restricted to medical emergencies and dogs in distress. The visitor persisted, and was provided water reluctantly. A moment later, two more visitors made the same request.

We are blessed with thousands of acres of open space and parklands. EBRPD goes to great lengths to ensure cattle have plenty of water, yet finds it difficult to provide drinking water for visitors who pay taxes for our open space and park operations. Access to drinking water is not an amenity—it’s a necessity for survival.

We appreciate the desire to alert park visitors to poisonous reptiles but it also important to make sure that adequate water sources are provided in our regional parks. With an increase in summer temperatures, we need water to be made available for visitors. A water source at Vargas Plateau was embedded in the original land use plan but has been omitted leaving park visitors at risk. Water also needs to be provided at Mission Peak Regional Preserve, both at the Ohlone College entrance and near the upper vault toilet. This again is a matter of public safety to proactively minimize the need for emergency services.

Mission Peak Conservancy

Do you know a hero? Help spread the word

SUBMITTED BY CYNTHIA SHAW

There are heroes among us. You may not see them every day, but they are there when needed. Heroes step forward in times of need to help make neighborhoods and communities safe while providing a helping hand to the needy and offering assistance during a local or regional crisis.

It’s time to recognize them, and American Red Cross of the Bay Area wants you to help. The organization is accepting nominations from the public to honor individuals who exemplify the values and mission of Red Cross by saving lives, performing extraordinary acts of compassion, or making a significant positive difference in their communities.

Nominees who are selected will be honored September 15 at the Alameda County Heroes

Breakfast at Grandview Pavilion in Alameda. Nomination deadline is Friday, June 23. Community members are encouraged to nominate a hero in one of nine categories:

• Animal Rescue Hero: This award honors an animal that has protected a human in a time of need or is given to a person who has rescued an animal from a traumatic situation.

• Blood Services Hero: Given to someone who has played a major role in efforts to promote and build the community’s life-saving blood supply or has been a part of scientific advancements to the biomedical community.

• Disaster Services Hero: Presented to an individual who has shown extraordinary heroism in response to a disaster or an emergency situation, providing relief through financial or voluntary assistance, or has significantly influenced their community’s disaster preparedness.

• First Responder Hero: Awarded to a professional first responder, such as police, deputy sheriffs, firefighters, search and rescue, or 911 dispatchers, whose lifesaving action or service to the community goes above and beyond the call of duty.

• Good Samaritan - Adult Hero: This award is given to an everyday citizen (adult) who used life-saving skills (such as CPR, water or first aid) to assist or save the life of another in time of emergency or has made a significant impact in improving the well-being of their community.

• Good Samaritan - Youth Hero: This award is given to a citizen (youth) who used life-saving skills to assist or save the life of another in time of emergency or has made a significant impact in improving the well-being of their community.

• International Services Hero: Presented to someone who has provided an outstanding service to the community in the field of international services, including, but not limited to, international humanitarian aid, refugee support, or restoring links within families separated by war, conflict, or disaster.

• Medical (Healthcare) Hero: Awarded to a medical or healthcare professional, such as physicians, paramedics, or nurses, whose life-saving actions or service to the community goes above and beyond the call of duty to saving/improving lives or treating those who are ill.

• Service to the Armed Forces Hero: Given to someone who has provided exceptional support to service members, veterans, or their families or to a member of our armed forces (active, reserve, National Guard, retired, commissioned or non-commissioned) whose life-saving action or service to the community went above and beyond the call of duty.

MY CHOICE IS WTMF,

because I have an entire network of specialists to help me treat my patients.

Doctors join the Washington Township Medical Foundation (WTMF) for lots of reasons. Dr. Vanessa Wilson always enjoyed the challenge of Internal Medicine because “it’s an investigational discipline requiring that a physician understand all the body’s systems, analyze the patient’s problem and formulate the correct treatment.” Being part of WTMF makes it easier to connect with both her patients and their other doctors on EPIC, and confer with any of her colleagues about patient care. She treats a wide variety of patients—many with multi-organ issues—and likes getting consults quickly from physicians she knows and trusts while maintaining continuity of care between providers. That’s one reason why Dr. Wilson recommends WTMF to all her friends and family members. “WTMF is very selective about their doctors. Everyone follows high care standards and practices evidence-based medicine.” Does your doctor choose WTMF?

Part of Washington Hospital

Because WTMF is an integral part of the Washington Hospital Healthcare System, we have immediate access to the system’s wide array of advanced healthcare services, whenever you need them. This includes their highly awarded inpatient and outpatient facilities and specialty centers.

Washington MyChart

is an online resource which allows our patients to see their personal health information in a safe, secure and private manner. Accessible from your mobile or desktop device, you can view your test results, prescriptions, allergies, immunizations, and other portions of your health record. You can also send a message to your doctor’s office, schedule an appointment, or request a referral.
