HAPPY BIRTHDAY USA

The Founding Fathers of the United States of America wanted to separate from a king and an empire that saw their collection of colonies as little more than a cash cow. Financial survival motivated much of the progress toward the Revolutionary War. The young country that emerged from the fighting, however, was not simply another Great Britain; it was something the world had never seen before.

Exhilarating exhibit

SUBMITTED BY GAIL BLALOCK

The "Olive Hyde Art Guild Members Juried Show," established in 2001, is held every other year. It offers an opportunity for artists in the Guild to enter up to four works of art for judging and, if selected, be part of the gallery's exhibit. The show, juried by outside art professionals not associated with the Guild, is not restricted to any particular medium.

Pinball exhibit celebrates history and lore of the game

SUBMITTED BY CHABOT SPACE & SCIENCE CENTER

Chabot Space & Science Center will be energized with the sounds of bells, buzzers, and bumpers as pinball machines old and new fill the space and the public can enjoy an adrenaline rush learning about science in a completely new, interactive way. A quintessentially American pop-culture phenomenon, pinball had its beginnings in the early 19th century. Its compelling mix of skill and chance together with increasingly ingenious and complex designs, engineering, science and art have made it enduringly popular for two centuries. "The Art and Science of Pinball" unpacks the historical roots, science and art behind the gravity-defying game using a selection of machines the public can play.

Don't Let Injuries Steal Your Summer Fun

Summer has officially arrived. The weather is warm and the days are long. It's a perfect time to get out and hike, swim, or play tennis or golf. But while increased activity is a good thing, it's easy to overdo and end up with a sunburn, muscle pull, twisted ankle or other injury that can ruin summer fun.

"In emergency rooms, summer is often called the 'trauma season'—and for good reason," says Dr. Steven Zonner, a Washington Hospital board-certified Family Medicine and Sports Medicine specialist. Dr. Zonner lists five areas that are most common for summer activity injuries: head injuries, dehydration, diving and swimming accidents, and trampoline or basketball injuries.

Head injuries: Biking and skateboarding are two activities where both children and adults can be severely injured. The most important preventive measure is wearing helmets. "You'd be surprised at how many people, adults and children alike, don't wear helmets," Dr. Zonner says.

"One serious injury to your head can change your life forever, so wearing helmets is essential."

If someone you know has had a fall and may have a concussion, it is best to have the person evaluated by a physician trained in handling concussions. "Fortunately, here at Washington Hospital, we have a device to diagnose concussions in less than a minute. We use eye tracking technology and an algorithm to break concussions down into more treatable subtypes," Dr. Zonner explains. "Our goal is first to discover the type of concussion which then allows us to determine the best treatment for more rapid recovery," Dr. Zonner adds.

Dehydration: Heat-related issues are easily prevented, according to Dr. Zonner. You should primarily drink water if the event or activity lasts less than one hour. If the activity or event will take place in very hot conditions or longer than one hour, then hydration with a combination of water and electrolyte drinks may be preferred. Hydration the day before the prolonged activity is also recommended.

Check the color of your urine; if it's dark yellow, you need more fluids. In addition to fluids, bananas and oranges are good examples of foods that safely assist in maintaining electrolyte levels. Dr. Zonner does not recommend using salt tablets.

Diving and Swimming: The most severe injuries to the head and neck result from diving into shallow swimming pools, and into lakes and other bodies of water where rocks may be hidden below the surface. Always know the depth of the pool where you are diving and don't dive into any body of water where you can't see below the surface.

Swimming is a great activity. It's aerobic and for anyone with joint issues, it's great exercise. However, Dr. Zonner warns, like everything else, start gradually and don't overdo. Too much swimming is possible, especially for more seasoned veterans who swim more than 3,000 yards per day—that's about 120 laps in a standard-sized pool — and can result in shoulder pain due to tendonitis. Children and adolescents can be impacted as well, especially if there is inadequate stroke instruction or too much emphasis on distance logged. Children under the age of 12 years should be limited to swimming a maximum of 1,600 yards per day (about 60 laps or 1 mile) and have days off to rest, hydrate and recover adequately.

Trampoline and Basketball: Children love to jump on trampolines and commercial

School's out! Update vaccinations now—be ready for back to school

Preparing for the next school year is probably the last thing parents and kids want to think about now that summer has finally arrived. Still, there is one important step that parents should take this summer to get their kids ready for school: making sure their children and teens are up-to-date on their vaccinations.

“The State of California is quite strict about requiring various vaccinations for children attending public school,” says Bhaskari Peela, MD, a pediatrician with Washington Township Medical Foundation. “Many private schools also require proof of vaccination, and California even requires vaccines for children who are home-schooled. Summer is the perfect time for updating your kids’ vaccines.”

The newest addition to the list of recommended vaccines protects people against serogroup B meningococcal disease. These infections are to blame for about half of all cases of meningococcal disease in people ages 17-22 years. Meningitis complications can be severe, and even deadly.

“Serogroup B meningitis is more common in young people who live in a community setting, such as college students living in dormitories and people living on military bases, because the bacteria spreads quickly through groups,” Dr. Peela says. “This newer vaccine is recommended for ages 16-18, and is given in two doses, usually four weeks apart. Ideally, the young person should receive both doses before going away to college or another communal living setting, but getting at least one dose during the summer offers at least some protection.”

Because young children’s immune systems are not as well developed as an adult’s, they are particularly vulnerable to bacterial and viral infections. Many vaccines provide long-term, perhaps even lifetime protection against a variety of illnesses. Flu vaccines are recommended every year because the types of flu viruses in circulation change every year.

“Parents need to protect their children from serious, potentially life-threatening illnesses,” Dr. Peela says. “One way you can do that is to make sure your children’s vaccinations are current. Having your children and teens up to date on vaccinations also will protect the health of infants who are not yet old enough to be vaccinated.”

Thanks to vaccines, a number of diseases are becoming rare in the United States. In fact, smallpox—a once-common disease that could be disfiguring and even deadly—has been completely eradicated through vaccinations. The last known case of smallpox on earth was in 1977.

Unfortunately, other potentially deadly diseases that can be prevented by vaccines are still present in parts of the world, including in the United States. In December 2014, for example, a large outbreak of measles started in California when at least 40 people who visited or worked at Disneyland in Orange County contracted measles. The outbreak spread to at least half a dozen other states. The California Department of Public Health (CDPH) also reported a surge in cases of pertussis (whooping cough) in 2014.

Summer is a great time to update vaccinations

“Some people question the safety of vaccines and voice concerns that a baby’s immune system cannot handle multiple vaccines at once, but studies have shown no evidence for those claims,” Dr. Peela observes. “Since those outbreaks in 2014, parents have become more willing to vaccinate their children. In very rare cases when children have a compromised immune system due to chemotherapy or an organ transplant, they should not receive a live-virus vaccine. Also, we would not use the nasal flu vaccine if the child has asthma or allergies, but we could still use the injectable flu vaccine. We work with parents to address any concerns they have about vaccine safety and scheduling, but we do follow the guidelines from the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) to make sure kids get their vaccines at the right time.”

“Most vaccines are given during the first two years of life,” says Dr. Peela. “Many of these vaccines are given at ages 2 months, 4 months and 6 months to build up children’s immunity. Other immunizations are recommended at 15 months, 4 years and at age 10 or 11 before middle school. Certain ‘booster’ shots are recommended throughout life. For example, the Tdap booster shot that protects against tetanus, diphtheria and pertussis is important for pregnant

Ohlone College Finalizes Lease Agreement of Frontage Property with Local Developer

College plans to utilize lease payments to support college’s educational programs

Ohlone College recently announced a lease agreement with Foster City, California, developer SteelWave LLC to develop mixed-use retail space and apartments on 15 acres of surplus property along Mission Boulevard in front of the college’s Fremont campus location.

The college estimates that proceeds from leased land will total over $1 million per year – a stable revenue stream that will be used to benefit the college’s educational programs.

The proposed development consists of 18 apartment buildings that house approximately 275 units and 18,000 sq. ft. of commercial/office space in a premier residential community constructed in the mission architectural style, creating a vibrant connection between the college and the community. The historic olive trees on the site will be preserved.

“Since community college funding is determined by the state, the college and its programs are vulnerable to sometimes drastic cutbacks during tight budget years which negatively affect the quality and depth of education we are able to offer students,” said Dr. Gari Browning, President of Ohlone College. “The funds from the land lease give Ohlone an unrestricted source of income that will enable us to bring stability – in good years and in lean years – to the educational programs our students depend on us to provide.”

SteelWave LLC will begin the process of gaining approval for the City of Fremont for the project in June of this year.

Don’t Let Injuries Steal Your Summer Fun

facilities now offer many opportunities for this fun activity. Injuries can result from collisions, especially if there are several kids jumping in one area. Unanticipated blows to the head, eyes, arms and legs, however, can result in concussions, corneal abrasions, contusions or even fractured limbs. Supervision should include mandating plenty of space to reduce collisions.

Playing recreational basketball surprisingly results in a variety of injuries, according to Dr. Zonner. Concussions, knee ligament tears, knee and ankle sprains and tendonitis are among the injuries from playing too long, wearing the wrong shoes or just not being in good condition. Also, he warns, playing basketball outdoors in hot weather can lead to dehydration which may cause headaches, dizziness or a sudden loss of energy. Again, hydration is critical — both the day before and the day of the game.

“Summer is a great time to get outside and have fun whether it’s basketball, swimming, canoeing, biking or hiking or any other of a myriad of activities,” Dr. Zonner says. “Don’t forget to ice your injuries, be aware of the possible injuries in your sport, wear the right clothes and equipment, and take precautions — such as hydrating, stretching, and not overdoing it — and you’ll have wonderful memories and fun all summer long.”

mothers and any other people who are in contact with infants who are not vaccinated.”

The AAP also recommends vaccination against human papillomavirus (HPV) for both girls and boys, generally at 11 or 12 years of age. HPV infection can lead to possible cervical cancer, and the vaccine protects against several strains of HPV that cause cervical cancer.

“The HPV vaccine now contains more strains of the virus, for additional protection,” notes Dr. Peela. “In addition to helping prevent cervical cancer, the HPV vaccine also can help both boys and girls prevent getting throat cancer later in life. If you have concerns about the HPV vaccine, or the age your child should receive the vaccine, consult your doctor.”

Dr. Peela emphasizes that the protection provided by childhood vaccines far outweighs the very small risk of any serious reactions to the vaccines.

“Most kids have no reaction to their vaccinations other than minor soreness at the injection site,” Dr. Peela says. “Sometimes a child may experience a low-grade fever, a mild rash around the injection site or a slight sense of fatigue or tiredness. The dangers associated with not being vaccinated are far more serious than the fairly common mild reactions a vaccine might produce.”

No-cost energy and water upgrades

SUBMITTED BY KIMBERLINA GOMEZ

For the sixth year in a row, Rising Sun Energy Center's California Youth Energy Services (CYES) program will provide Union City residents with no-cost energy and water conservation services through a partnership with Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E), the City of Union City, and local water districts.

Since 2000, Rising Sun has provided no-cost energy and water conservation services to over 38,000 residents throughout the Bay Area and Central Valley. Last year, CYES served 201 residents in the city of Union City alone. CYES provides local jobs for local youth by training and employing young adults ages 15 to 22 as Energy Specialists, providing their community's residents with Green House Calls (GHC).

At each Green House Call, Energy Specialists may:

- perform an energy- and water-efficiency assessment
 - install energy-efficient LED lightbulbs
 - install water-efficient devices for showers and faucets
 - perform a toilet leak detection test,
 - perform a basic solar assessment
 - install a Tier 2 Advanced Power Strip
 - offer tips on energy and water conservation to save money on utility bills
 - provide an additional energy-conscious item from Rising Sun
- all at no cost to residents.

CYES provides services to all community members, regardless of income, with a focus on serving hard-to-reach residents, including renters, low-to-moderate income households, seniors, and non-English speaking households. The program helps cities reach their Climate Action Plan targets and do their part to address California's drought.

Our clients rave about their Green House Calls: "These young ladies were informed, professional and thorough. We really appreciated the service and information!"

"The two youth represented your organization in the most professional manner. They were courteous and respectful. They were very knowledgeable and answered all questions we had."

Uber searches for a new CEO in wake of Kalanick's departure

BY DEE ANN DURBIN
AP AUTO WRITER

Uber seeks a strong manager who can repair a broken image, juggle multiple lawsuits and government investigations, develop and nurture a new corporate culture and lead a successful IPO.

That's a lot for potential candidates to consider. Uber needs a new leader after former CEO and company founder Travis Kalanick resigned Tuesday night under pressure from Uber's board and investors. A series of missteps, from allegations of stealing technology to a profanity-laced outburst that was caught on film by an Uber driver, led to Kalanick's resignation.

At least one person has already taken her name out of the running: Facebook's Chief Operating Officer Sheryl Sandberg. Sandberg has no plans to leave her current job, a person close to her told The Associated Press. The person spoke on condition of anonymity because Sandberg has not publicly weighed in yet.

Uber's board likely will consider some outsiders with turnaround experience. Jan Dawson of Jackdaw Research says automotive CEOs would be a good fit, and would be familiar with Uber's push into autonomous vehicle research. Former Ford CEO Alan Mulally is well known for turning around that struggling automaker, and he has tech experience from serving on the board at Google. His successor at Ford, Mark Fields, was recently ousted because of Ford's flagging stock price. But Fields delivered record profits while he was at Ford, and he became a familiar face in Silicon Valley after setting up Ford operations there.

David Cush, a longtime American Airlines executive, was believed to be in the running for a chief operating officer spot at Uber before Kalanick's departure. He could now be among those considered for CEO. Cush was named CEO of Virgin America in 2007, shortly after the Richard Branson-backed carrier began flying. Under Cush, Virgin developed a hip image and loyal following, especially in its home market of California.

On Cushman's watch, Virgin America went public with an initial sale of stock in 2014, then was sold to Alaska Airlines last year for $2.6 billion. Cushman did not stay after the sale closed. Tech leaders also are likely to be in the running. Women such as Susan Wojcicki, the CEO of YouTube since 2014, or Marissa Mayer, who most recently ran Yahoo, would help change Uber's male-dominated culture.

“Appointing a woman would certainly send a strong signal given the recent troubles, and that would be one of the easiest ways to cement a broad cultural shift away from the frat mentality that often characterized Travis Kalanick's tenure," Dawson said. But he thinks Uber's board will prioritize track record and reputation over gender in its hiring.

Some insiders could also be on Uber's list, including Uber co-founder Garrett Camp. In a blog post this week, Camp said Uber had gotten obsessed with growth and wasn't listening to employees and, especially, drivers. "I believe that our business can have 10x the impact it has today once we have additional leadership and training in place, and evolve our culture to be more inclusive and respectful," Camp wrote in a blog posted on Medium.

Businesswoman and Uber board member Arianna Huffington could also be a consideration.

Rachel Holt, a fast-rising executive who heads Uber's North American operations, could be in the running. The company also recently hired two standouts: Harvard Business School's Frances Frei as its senior vice president of leadership and strategy and Bozoma Saint John, who left Apple to become Uber's top brand officer.

Gartner analyst Michael Ramsey said there's no reason the next CEO must come from outside. Plenty of people inside Uber didn't get swept up in Kalanick's bad behavior, he said. Uber has already fired 20 people as part of an ongoing sexual harassment probe.

"They know better than anyone what needs to happen to change," Ramsey said.

Google tech campus plan gets OK from San Jose

ASSOCIATED PRESS

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—The San Jose City Council has agreed to start exclusive negotiations with Google for the sale of city property in the heart of the city to be used for the technology company's proposed transit village and mega tech campus.

A local media report said the council voted 10-2 on June 20 to start negotiations with Google for 16 city-owned parcels in downtown San Jose.

If the plan is approved, Google would build between 6 million and 8 million square feet of offices and other spaces in the area around Diridon Station, the central passenger rail depot for San Jose.

Tax officials say the campus would generate millions of dollars in tax revenue and add thousands of tech jobs. But local leader urged the council the projects benefits the entire community in a region already struggling with traffic and high housing cost.

Hi-tech bike racks aim to draw cyclists

SUBMITTED BY BART

BART has a plan to double the rate at which riders access the system by bicycle and now, five years into the 10-year plan, there are some exciting improvements underway to make parking your bike at BART stations more secure and convenient than ever before.

These projects include testing new, more secure types of bike racks, the expansion of bicycle parking at nine stations and stairway channels to help riders transport their bike up and down BART staircases.

A new generation of technology-rich bicycle racks is just coming to market. These racks lock the frame and one wheel with a mechanism that is significantly stronger than the traditional bike rack and U lock combination. They also feature an alarm that sounds if someone tampers with the bike. Users access the racks with a Clipper card, but solely for the purposes of locking/unlocking the racks—the racks will have no access to the financial or any other data from your Clipper account.

"We're using the Clipper card here solely as a convenient identification mechanism," said Steve Beroldo, BART's manager of access programs, who notes that most BART riders already have a Clipper so it be handy without requiring another card. "The racks just read the unique Clipper number and use it as one's personal key to lock and unlock the racks," he said.

The registration process should take less than 30 seconds, which is important with a pilot project, Beroldo said, so that BART can receive feedback from those using the racks. All that is asked for on registering is your name, Clipper card number and email address.

Ten of these units each have been installed at 16th Street/Mission and Pleasant Hill stations. If the pilot is successful, BART may install more of these racks at 24th Street/Mission and other stations.

San Francisco to ban sales of vaping flavored liquid

By OLGA R. RODRIGUEZ ASSOCIATED PRESS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP), San Francisco city supervisors unanimously approved a measure that bans the sale of flavored nicotine-laced liquid used in electronic cigarettes and flavored tobacco products — with city supervisors saying nicotine masked in cotton candy, banana cream, mint and other flavors entices kids into a lifetime of addiction.

Other cities have passed laws reducing access to flavored vaping liquids and flavored tobacco but San Francisco is the first in the country to approve a sales ban. Sales of vaping liquids that taste like tobacco will still be allowed.

“We’re focusing on flavored products because they are widely considered to be a starter product for future smokers,” said Supervisor Malia Cohen, who sponsored the bill.

The measure approved June 20 requires another vote the week of June 26. If it passes, the law would take effect in April 2018.

Cohen, who represents the historically black Bayview-Hunters Point neighborhood, said tobacco companies advertise 10 times more in black neighborhoods and market candy and fruit flavored products to young people, the LGBTQ community and other minorities.

“For too many years, the tobacco industry has selectively targeted our young adults with products that are deceptively associated with fruits and mint and candy,” said Cohen, whose grandmother smoked menthol cigarettes for years and died of emphysema.

“Menthol cools the throat so you don’t feel the smoke and the irritants and it masks the flavors. This legislation is about saying enough is enough,” she added.

Businesses that violate the law could have their city tobacco sales permits suspended.

Small business owners have said they will lose business because people can still buy the flavored “e-liquid” and tobacco products in neighboring cities or online and have them delivered to their San Francisco homes.

“Those tobacco products aren’t 100 percent of our revenue, but they are an anchor product,” Miriam Zouzounis, a board member of the Arab American Grocers Association whose father owns a small corner store, told the San Francisco Chronicle.

She added: “Even at 15 percent of our stock, it’s what brings people through the door. We can’t compete with Safeway or Walgreens for food and milk items, let alone the online retailers filling the gap for everything else.”

Library lovers have something to celebrate

By BECKY BRASELTON

The Fremont Neighborhood Libraries of Centerville, Irvington, and Niles are about to see some big and exciting changes with their hours and days of operation.

Centerville Library was once open five days a week; then the recession hit and the days were reduced to Tuesdays and Thursdays. Now, thanks to the Fremont Library Advisory Commission, the City of Fremont, and many patrons, Centerville Library will open, in addition to its current hours, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. every Saturday beginning July 1.

To celebrate the new hours, Centerville Library will host a performance by magician Pete G. Magic on Saturday July 22, 2017 at 2 p.m. A drawing and refreshments will follow. Bring the whole family out to be amazed at Pete’s entertaining show!

Niles Library will also see changes. The last day Niles Library will open on a Tuesday is June 27, 2017. The open day will change to Fridays, beginning July 7, 2017. The library’s hours will still be 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. This change follows a survey where a majority indicated they would use the library the same amount or more if the days of operation were changed.

The change for Niles Library will also allow for a full staff to be present at each of the Neighborhood Libraries every day.

On Friday, July 7, 2017 the Niles branch celebrates the Friday opening with Family Storytime at 11:30 a.m. Magician and Balloon Artist Mr. Shap will perform at 2 p.m. During the show Mr. Shap will make amazing balloon creations to be raffled off at the end.

Visit the Fremont Neighborhood Libraries this summer and be a part of the exciting changes. Follow us on Facebook and by playing the Summer Reading Game (summer.aclibrary.org)!

Tri-City Stargazer FOR WEEK: JUNE 28 - JULY 4

For All Signs: Many people will be on edge, mouthy, and cranky this week. Try not to join them because it will only generate ill will and few will listen. Drive very carefully because the accelerator foot will be itchy, whether that be yours or others. If you feel compelled to say your piece, make an effort to breathe first, then write down talking points so you will not be dragged off topic into a battle of wills. We can easily identify our ideas as ourselves. Ideas are of the mind. They may be our possessions, but they are not who we are.

Aries the Ram (March 21-April 20): Tension is high. The Powers that Be in your career life are definitely in charge. Progress can be made only through persuasion and even that may not help. Don't succumb to anger or you will have lost your case entirely. You could be tempted to displace your anger onto others. You know that is not fair or productive. Peel yourself off the wall and wait for a better moment.

Taurus the Bull (April 21-May 20): During this period, you may be struggling with two images of relatedness. One is the nurturing, mothering type and the other is more sexual or intellectual. This conflict might be symbolized by home/family versus partners/lovers. Somehow it is a challenge for humans to be conscious of both nurture and sexuality. Set aside decisions on this until you find a "right" solution.

Gemini the Twins (May 21-June 20): Your mind is restless and easily bored this week, so find a variety of interesting things for entertainment. You are feeling independent and you may want more alone time than is the norm. Sometimes we just need to see different surroundings. If you have these symptoms, try a brief weekend trip. Ground your nervous energy by exercising to avoid the jitters.

Cancer the Crab (June 21-July 21): Use extreme caution when dealing with any situation that is potentially volatile. Do not use force to accomplish your means now or it will be used against you. Be wary of parking places that might change character after dark. The energy in your field is best used in clean and honest competition, whether with yourself or someone else.

Leo the Lion (July 22-August 22): It's important that you be aware that your thinking is not as objective as you believe. Listen when others tell you their attitudes and opinions. You do not have to adopt them, but don't reject what they say out of hand. Try to think carefully before assuming you are the only one who knows the right answers.

Virgo the Virgin (August 23-September 22): You want answers and you may insist on having them right now, in spite of the fact that you are irritating the person who has the answer.

Alternatively, you may be brooding over a child or a lover. Be aware that aspects are causing this to happen and try to let go. You know that obsessive thinking wastes your time and energy.

Libra the Scales (September 23-October 22): You may be feeling at odds with yourself or others in your daily life. Don't rush yourself into action here. Perhaps it is better if you discuss this issue with a trusted person. You may need an alternative perspective. Remain conservative with your money. You are tempted to overspend.

Scorpio the Scorpion (October 23-November 21): You could become embroiled in a battle of wills over who is right. In order to steer clear of a war, remain aware that the subject matter is merely what you think, not who you are. You have the controlling word in any battle. Use it ethically and don't blow away your opponent. Drive and handle tools carefully.

Sagittarius the Archer (November 22-December 21): This is not your best week. There is interference in timing and forward motion that that you cannot control. You are pressured to "hurry up and wait." These things happen every now and then in life. It is easier to calm yourself and accept the situation.

Capricorn the Goat (December 22-January 19): You may be so bent on accomplishing something or getting your needs met that you roll over everyone around you. This is a sample of Pluto's power in your sign. Concentrate on the issues at hand and do not set up a battle-ground over egos that no one will win. You have a hot topic there. It may be more workable later when you are less identified with what you think.

Aquarius the Water Bearer (January 20-February 18): You may feel trapped by a variety of circumstances over which you have no control. At times like these, we can only move in baby steps. You are not at fault here. Avoid the blame game, even if you are only talking to yourself. How were you supposed to know how things would develop?

Pisces the Fish (February 19-March 20): It is possible that you are not feeling well this week. You may be subject to allergy symptoms that keep you subdued. Your self-talk is likely to be on the dark side and mainly due to your fears for the future. The Inner Critic is not in touch with the whole truth even though it feels real enough to you. It mainly has a loud voice which you can choose to ignore.

Many Americans, including children, are injured and/or disfigured each year due to the destructive power of fireworks. The City of Union City wants you to safely enjoy this upcoming 4th of July celebration by considering the following fire safety laws and initiatives:

- Only “Safe and Sane” or State-approved fireworks purchased from non-profit fireworks stands are allowed in Union City.
- No fireworks of any kind, including “Safe and Sane”, are allowed east of Mission Blvd.
- All parks in Union City will close at 7:30 p.m.
- City ordinance requires written approval from a property owner(s) if you intend to use “Safe and Sane” fireworks on a property other than your own.
- “Safe and Sane” fireworks can be used: ◦ From 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. on days when "Safe and Sane" fireworks are sold in Union City. On 4th of July sane fireworks will be allowed to be activated until 11:00 p.m

These provisions of the law will be enforced with a “zero tolerance” approach. The Police and Fire Departments will respond to all complaints involving the use of fireworks. Individuals who use illegal fireworks and/or misuse “Safe and Sane” fireworks may be subject to citation and/or arrest.

In addition, the Police and Fire Departments will be issuing citations to property owners and tenants who allow the use of illegal fireworks on their property or property under their control. The property owner and tenant will be held liable and cited for associated violations. Additional fireworks regulation fee schedules are located under Union City Municipal Code Section 15.20.140 Chapter 56, Explosives and Fireworks. Link: <http://qcode.us/codes/unioncity/>

Our 2017 goal is to report that the City of Union City suffered no injuries or damage to buildings due to the use of fireworks. We ask for your understanding and assistance in making for a safe and enjoyable 4th of July celebration! Students enjoy your summer vacation and remember to be safe in everything you do. Congratulations class of 2017!

Viral dress designer graduates and expands fashion line

SUBMITTED BY DIONICIA RAMOS

An up-and-coming fashion designer and entrepreneur is receiving national praise for her unique designs. At the age of 17, this Hayward High School graduate has just won a regional entrepreneurship challenge and is on her way to a national competition in October. What started with a love for fashion has led to the launch of her own clothing line and a possible trip to the White House.

Shami Oshun Carroll began sewing when she was just eight years old. Last fall, she documented the process of creating her own prom dress on social media. Her design went viral and led to a Buzzfeed article that has received over two million hits. The extra attention subsequently crashed Carroll’s website after it received over 50,000 views. Instagram recently profiled Shami in a story that received over 650,000 “likes” in less than 24 hours.

At Hayward High, Carroll enrolled in a course that teaches entrepreneurship and career-ready skills. This program is available to high school students throughout the Hayward Unified School District (HUSD) thanks to a partnership with the Network for Teaching Entrepreneurship (NFTE) and Eden Area Regional Occupational Program (ROP). NFTE is a national organization with a strong Bay Area presence that works in low-income communities to teach students skills and behaviors needed for academic and professional success. Eden Area ROP collaborates with NFTE to offer courses in areas such as business and technology—often providing college credit for those courses.

“Shami is the real deal,” said Alfredo Mathew, Director of the Bay Area Network for Teaching Entrepreneurship. “She’s a wonderful young woman who truly represents the entrepreneur mindset and is going to be incredibly successful as she builds her business.” If Carroll is successful at the next stage of the NFTE competition, she will receive $25,000 and an invitation to the White House.

Two years ago, Carroll’s father returned from a trip to Uganda with a stunning fabric that ignited her passion for dress design. “I can’t do anything other than art,” says the young dressmaker. “I love designing, and as long as I’m surrounded by art, I’ll be happy.” She is looking for a manufacturer to help her keep up with the demand for her unique creations. Carroll hopes to give back to her community by auctioning off a custom design and donating the proceeds to a local charity.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY USA

For the first time, an ideology of equality formed the basis of government. The Constitution, crafted to govern this new enterprise, honored the rights of the people and made them, with their elected representatives, equally responsible for governance; with shared sovereignty came true freedom.

As we prepare to celebrate the 241st birthday of this grand experiment, there is not an inhabitant of the USA who hasn’t understood when the system fails, and where problems need repair. It is hard, at times, to see America’s potential, but where it cannot be seen, it must be envisioned. The Fourth of July is perfect time to do just that by experiencing our community and reminding ourselves that each one of us, regardless of origin and personal identity, are equally important to the cause of this unique nation.

On July 4th, join your neighbors at one of many celebrations in the Greater Tri-City area - many listed in It’s A Date and additional articles in this issue of Tri-City Voice - to wish the United States of America, Happy Birthday!

British schoolboys don skirts amid shorts ban in heatwave

ASSOCIATED PRESS

LONDON (AP), Boys at a British high school have found a novel way around strict uniform rules banning shorts, as the country swelters through a heatwave. The schoolboys at Isca Academy in the southwestern city of Exeter donned skirts instead of the officially mandated gray slacks.

Photos in British media show the boys wearing short-sleeved white shirts, school ties and the gray and white plaid skirts that the girls wear.

Devon County Council spokesman David Beasley said about 30 boys turned up to school in skirts on Thursday, when temperatures dropped to a cool 20 degrees Celsius (68F) after days of much hotter weather. None of the skirted students was punished, he said.

The school’s head teacher, Aimee Mitchell, issued a written statement that did not mention the skirts, but pledged to revisit the uniform rules. “We recognize that the last few days have been exceptionally hot and we are doing our utmost to enable both students and staff to remain as comfortable as possible,” she wrote.

“Shorts are not currently part of our uniform for boys and I would not want to make any changes without consulting both students and their families. However, with hotter weather becoming more normal, I would be happy to consider a change for the future,” Mitchell added.

The British students were not alone in challenging dress codes as a way of cooling down. In the western French city of Nantes, male bus drivers reportedly wore skirts this week that are part of female drivers’ uniform to protest the fact that they were not allowed to wear shorts.

Home & Garden

Smart planning optimizes existing space for growing family

BY ANNA JACOBY

Excited about the upcoming arrival of baby number two and a lengthy visit from the grandparents, these clients challenged me to reconfigure their existing laundry and powder rooms into an improved space, which would include a larger washer and dryer, plus a full bath with a shower. They also desired a little more space for jackets, shoes and all the items needed when leaving and entering the house through the garage. By removing one wall, adding another, and borrowing a few feet from the adjacent hallway, I fulfilled their requests with a lighter, brighter, more modern laundry room, bathroom and “mudroom.”

The new bath could have been featured in my previous article about tiny baths. It is quite small, but it does provide the basics in a very attractive way. The all-glass shower features two shelves for toiletries and beautiful glass tile accents. I used the same large tiles on the walls and the bathroom floor to visually enlarge the room. The matching 2 x 2 mosaics were used on the shower pan, which we made flush with the floor to gain as many inches as possible inside the shower.

The medicine cabinet provides some additional storage, and by using a pedestal sink rather than a vanity cabinet, I kept the room from looking too crowded.

An LED recessed can light in the shower and the vanity light above the sink provide plenty of light. We also updated the lighting in the laundry area with LED recessed cans.

The creamy off-white wall color was chosen to blend with the tiles, and again, to keep the room looking light and bright.

I used the same tile flooring and wall color in the adjacent mudroom and laundry area for continuity. The couple had purchased a few hand-made ceramic tiles on a trip to Europe, and we incorporated them into the floor, adding a personal touch.

The new laundry area features a large stackable washer and dryer. Custom cabinets designed to fit alongside the unit provide plenty of storage for supplies and room for a small countertop to hold the laundry basket. (At the time the photos were taken, the cabinet had not been completed yet, which is why it does not appear.)

In the mudroom space, we placed a bench seat with open cubbies below for shoes, a shelf with cubbies above it, and several hooks on the wall for jackets and bags.

It's amazing what can fit into a relatively small area with a bit of creativity and a few compromises. The finished space is just what the clients wanted, and the best part is that we finished in time for the new baby's arrival!

Pinball exhibit celebrates history and lore of the game

The science, engineering, design, whimsy and style covering nearly 200 years of the evolution of pinball will be featured in a new exhibition opening July 1 at Chabot Space & Science Center. Co-curated by Michael Schiess and Melissa Harmon of the Pacific Pinball Museum in Alameda, “The Art and Science of Pinball” careens from simple, early “bagatelle board” precursors of the game to sophisticated contemporary machines that have captivated the public in arcades and homes, fusing gaming skill, chance, engineering, and popular culture.

Thirty-five pinball machines—many of which the public can use—will be featured, from Parlor Bagatelle and Surf Queens, early flipperless games, all the way to the Hobbit from 2016. In addition, a see-through machine, models and diagrams de-mystify and explain how the machines work; a full complement of public activities and programs will be presented through the exhibition run, which closes September 24. A special weekend celebration of the exhibition and all things pinball will highlight the Center’s “$5 First Fridays” on July 7 and continue with special programming throughout the day

Saturday and Sunday, July 8 and 9.

The Great (and Weird) Venus

Even though Venus is Earth's closest neighbor, it is very mysterious and strange. Some of the words in Woodward's report have been blocked by the planet's hot, poison gas!

LOVELY HEAT

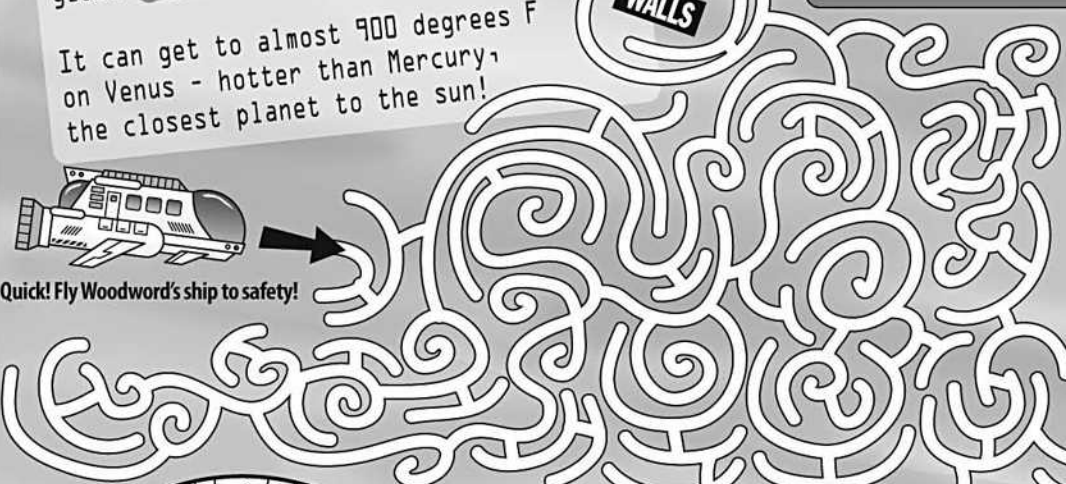

Dear Kid Scoop Readers -

While Venus looks from afar, it would be a pretty yucky place to. The heavy, poisonous atmosphere traps the sun's. The rocks get heated up by the sun and radiate the heat back into the atmosphere which traps it like the glass of a greenhouse.

It can get to almost 900 degrees F on Venus - hotter than Mercury, the closest planet to the sun!

Quick! Fly Woodward's ship to safety!

Venus, the second planet from the sun, is about the same size as Earth and is sometimes called our sister planet. But unlike Earth, the surface of Venus is hidden beneath hot, poisonous clouds making it very hard for scientists to study the planet.

Spin Story

Venus spins in the opposite direction from Earth, so the sun rises in the west and sets in the east.

It spins very, very slowly. To find out how many Earth days it takes Venus to spin around just once, color in the spaces on the planet at left with two dots PINK and the spaces with one dot BLUE. HINT: It's a long time between sunsets!

GEORGIA BARNES

It's December 20, 1970 in the office of Elvis Presley's personal manager, "The Colonel" Tom Parker. A shrewd businessman and former carnival purveyor, the Colonel is usually well in charge of every situation involving Elvis – but not today. It seems that an important concert is scheduled and the King of Rock 'n' Roll has disappeared and is nowhere to be found. The Colonel is frantic because he's acquired a secret gambling debt with a big time mobster, and Elvis' concert appearance is how he had arranged to pay off his debt and escape harm's way. Now what is he to do? What happens from here on out is hilariously funny. Audiences will be rolling in the aisles as the Colonel desperately tries to replace a man who is – well, simply irreplaceable.

"Elvis Has Left the Building" is a farce/comedy written by Duke Ernsberger and Virginia Cate. Jacob Russell-Snyder directs Chanticleers Theatre's production with a talented cast of actors, starring Jeffrey W. Tan (The Colonel), Jon A. Gergen (Candy), Marsha Howard (Trudy), Will Mattingly (Roscoe,) and Tyler Jeffreys (Jill).

"Elvis Has Left the Building" opens with Chanticleers' traditional complimentary hors d'oeuvres, desserts, and beverage gala on Friday, June 30 and runs through July 23.

Curtain time for Friday and Saturday evening shows is 8 p.m. and Sunday twilight matinees start at 6 p.m. (no show on July 2). General admission is $25; admission for seniors (60+)/students/military is $20. On Bargain Night, July 1, all tickets are $18. The Chanticleers Theatre FlexPass (four tickets to use anytime during the season) is $85 general and $68 seniors/students/military. Call (510) 733-5483 or go to www.chanticleers.org for tickets.

BY NED MACKAY

Independence Day, the Fourth of July, falls on a Tuesday this year. The holiday will be celebrated with appropriate festivities at several of the East Bay Regional Parks.

Perhaps the most elaborate will be at Ardenwood Historic Farm in Fremont, where a 1900-style community festival is planned from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Attractions will include patriotic music on the Patterson House lawn, and fiddle music in the farmyard. There will be games and contests all day long, such as nail driving, egg toss, watermelon seed spitting for distance, a bucket brigade and a tug-of-war. Visitors can bring a picnic or purchase food at the farm.

Ardenwood is located at 34600 Ardenwood Boulevard, just north of Highway 84. Admission fee for the Independence Day event is $10 for adults, $8 for seniors 62 and older, $5 for children ages 4 through 17, and free for ages 3 and under. Parking is free. For information, call 510-544-2797.

Independence Day celebrations also are planned at Crab Cove Visitor Center in Alameda. Crab Cove’s Mobile Visitor Center will participate in Alameda’s Fourth of July parade between 9:30 a.m. and 1 p.m., and you can “swim” along with the marching unit. Then from 2:00 to 4:30 p.m. there will be open house at the visitor center at the end of McKay Avenue, with family-friendly activities all afternoon. For information, call 510-544-3187.

Tilden Nature Area near Berkeley will host open house at the Environmental Education Center from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Tuesday, July 4. Nature exploration, lemonade tasting, and ice cream making are all on the agenda.

The center is at the north end of Tilden’s Central Park Drive. For information, call 510-544-2233.

In general, all the regional parks will be open on Tuesday, July 4, with picnic tables available on a first-come, first-served basis. It’s best to arrive early to secure a table, especially at parks that have swim areas, which tend to be extremely popular on hot summer days. When you swim, do so only in authorized areas, stay within your skill level, and abide by any instructions from lifeguards, rangers, police and firefighters.

If all tables are taken, you can spread a blanket on the lawn. Portable barbecues are okay on lawns, but not in dry grass. Please dispose of coals only in the concrete bins designed for that purpose, not in regular trash barrels.

On the Fourth of July, some regional parks do not allow alcohol at all. Alcohol is prohibited that day at Contra Loma in Antioch, Crown Beach in Alameda, Don Castro in Hayward, Miller-Knox in Richmond, Quarry Lakes in Fremont, Shadow Cliffs in Pleasanton, and Sunol in southern Alameda County. Sunol is always dry, the other parks mentioned normally require a permit for beer and wine consumption. Hard liquor is not allowed in the regional parks. And no alcohol is allowed at any park district swim beaches and pools.

Fire is always a summer concern, especially because of the hot dry weather we have been experiencing. Be extremely careful, and remember that smoking is prohibited throughout the year in all regional parks.

Besides the Fourth of July celebrations, there are lots of natural history programs from which to choose in the regional parks.

How about Parasite Day? It’s a free program from 9 to 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, July 1 at Black Diamond Mines Regional Preserve. Naturalist Kevin Dixon will lead a walk during which you can learn about parasites, hyperparasites, parasitoids and other natural phenomena. Meet Kevin in the parking lot at the upper end of Somersville Road, 3½ miles south of Highway 4. For information, call 888-327-2757, ext. 2750.

Or there’s a flat, one-mile, levee-top stroll from 8 to 9 a.m. Saturday, July 1 at Big Break Regional Shoreline in Oakley, to look for Delta plant and animal life. And you can join in fish fun from 2 to 3 p.m. the same day.

Big Break is at 69 Big Break Road off Oakley’s Main Street. For information, call 888-327-2757, ext. 3050.

Peregrine falcons are nesting in the Castle Rocks at Diablo Foothills Regional Park in Walnut Creek. Naturalist Virginia Delgado will be available to talk about the falcons from 1 to 3 p.m. on Saturday, July 1. Look for her at the bench and information panel across from the rocks, just above the Old Stage Road trail.

Diablo Foothills and Castle Rock are at the end of Castle Rock Road. For information, call 510-544-2750.

A final note on Independence Day: fireworks of any kind, even the so-called safe and sane variety, are illegal in the regional parks. The fire danger is just too high. Have a great Fourth of July, but please celebrate it in the parks without the rocket’s red glare.

Relay for Life
cancer fund-raiser

SUBMITTED BY MICHAEL RITCHIE

Anyone whose life, family or friends have been touched by cancer can probably identify with the words used by the American Cancer Society (ACS) to acknowledge the life changes brought about by the disease: Celebrate. Remember and Fight Back.

To help people express their feelings and raise funds to find a cancer cure, the ACS sponsors annual fund-raising Relay for Life challenges in communities across the country.

In Union City, the 2017 Relay for Life challenge is set for Saturday, July 8 on the football field at James Logan High School and will include a host of fun athletic competitions, live entertainment, games, raffles and food. The idea behind the event is to offer an uplifting experience that can help people channel frustrations associated with cancer into many positive outlets.

Any cancer survivor is welcome to join the family-friendly event and will be honored and enjoy a brunch (along with a guest) provided by the Union City Lions Club. An opening ceremony and honoring of survivors starts at 10:30 a.m.

Fund-raising athletic events will include teams of volunteers

Centerville National claims championship

Baseball

SUBMITTED AND PHOTOS BY MIKE HEIGHTCHEW

The Centerville National Little League (CNLL) won their first Championship with a 12-0 victory over the Majors of Mission San Jose Little League (MSJLL) on June 20th. Starting pitcher for CNLL, Wyatt Burnell, was dominating, throwing 2 1/3 perfect innings; CNLL scored three runs in the first inning and never looked back.

Hoping for a comeback, MSJLL got their first two hits in the bottom of the 5th inning only to see CNLL turn an unassisted double play to end the threat.

Congratulations to Centerville National Little League on winning the 2017 CA District 14 Major Tournament of Champions!

Defying expectations: Swimmer breaks record, qualifies for deaflympics

SUBMITTED BY KIMBERLY HAWKINS

When Cal State East Bay junior Liz Cocker was 16-months-old, doctors told her parents not to expect much from their daughter. They said she'd never talk or read above a third grade level, and that normal childhood experiences like participating in sports would be nearly impossible.

Despite the diagnosis, this summer, she is representing the U.S. as a member of the Deaf women's swim team at the annual Deaflympics in Samsun, Turkey, starting July 18.

"My parents always encouraged me to challenge those expectations," Cocker, who is training in Sacramento this summer, says.

Growing up, Cocker learned to read lips, and with the help of cochlear implants, began training her brain to hear and speak just like her peers.

At the age of 7, Cocker started swimming competitively, so when the Rancho Cordova native decided on Cal State East Bay for college, joining the swim team was a given.

"The word to describe Liz is driven," Cal State East Bay's swim coach Shane Pelton says. "When she wants it, she gets it ... [and] if it's in sight, she's going to achieve it."

"I've been incredibly blessed to have always felt supported here [by] the team, from the coaches and from the school," Cocker says.

Recently, Cocker has kicked her goals into high gear. This season, she wanted to accomplish two things: to compete on behalf of the Pioneers at away-meets (only the top 18 out of 23 swimmers travels for the team), and to break a record.

In January, she accomplished her first goal at a meet in San Diego, and with Pelton's help, Cocker also recently nailed goal No. 2 in the 50-yard freestyle with the butterfly.

A few weeks after she broke the record, Cocker received the email from the International Committee of Sports for the Deaf that she qualified to compete in the 2017 Deaflympics games in Turkey. She immediately accepted the invitation.

According to Deaflympics, 109 countries will participate in this year's game. The minimum qualifying time for the women's 50 fly is 40 seconds, so Cocker and Pelton are sure she will do well. But between now and July, they plan on training as much as she's allowed under NCAA regulations.

And while she doesn't know exactly what to expect, she is looking forward to meeting a community of athletes who, like herself, know all about exceeding expectations.

"It will be super fun to compete with other deaf athletes and I know by putting in the work it will go well," she says.

Cal State golfers honored

SUBMITTED BY STEVE CONNOLLY

Cal State East Bay seniors Adam Stone and Chad Hall have both been named to the 2016-17 Golf Coaches Association of America (GCAA) Division II All-America Teams, the organization announced Monday.

Stone was one of eight golfers selected to the Second Team, while Hall captured an Honorable Mention. They are the first two CSUEB golfers to earn All-American status since the program joined Division II and the California Collegiate Athletic Association (CCAA) in 2009-10.

The pair helped lead the Pioneers to their most successful season as a DII squad in 2016-17, taking third place at NCAA Regionals to earn the program's first trip to National Championships. East Bay placed 12th among the best teams in the nation, with Stone and Hall both posting impressive top-10 finishes individually.

CSUEB Water Polo Boasts 10 All-Academic Honorees

The Cal State East Bay water polo team placed 10 student-athletes on the 2017 Association of Collegiate Water Polo Coaches (ACWPC) All-Academic list, it was announced June 13. This marks the third time in the last four years the Pioneers have boasted at least 10 All-Academic, falling just a bit short of last year's program record of 14.

Cal State East Bay also earned ACWPC All-Academic Team recognition thanks to its 3.14 team grade point average. The Pioneers were one of just 45 institutions from across the nation to achieve at least a 3.0 GPA, and it marks the 14th time the Pioneers have earned All-Academic Team honors under head coach Lisa Cooper.

Cheyenne Brady and Olivia Mackell led the way for East Bay, capturing "Outstanding" accolades by achieving a 3.71 GPA or higher for the 2016-17 academic year. All-Americans Nikki Vaughan and Auriel Bill both posted GPAs between 3.41 and 3.70 to earn "Superior" recognition.

The sextet of Beverly Ayers, Brandi Carroll, Brooke Hodgkinson, Katelyn Clark, Rocio Fesembeck, and Shelby Higginson all notched "Excellent" status with GPAs between 3.20 and 3.40.

Seven of CSUEB's 10 honorees have now won the award multiple times. Mackell capped off an impressive career and captured All-Academic honors for the fourth consecutive year. Higginson and Clark are now three-time honorees, while Brady, Carroll, Hodgkinson, and Vaughan were awarded for the second year in a row.

Water district receives top honor

SUBMITTED BY SHARENE GONZALES

The Alameda County Water District (ACWD) has received the highest award for excellence in financial reporting from an international association of government finance officers. This marks the 18th consecutive year ACWD has achieved this recognition. The certificate of excellence is awarded by the Government Finance Officers Association (GFOA) of the United States and Canada. ACWD received the award for its 2016 Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR) for the 2016 fiscal year.

“It is an honor to receive esteemed recognition for our financial reporting,” said ACWD Board President John Weed. “This achievement, along with others, marks our continued commitment to accountability and responsible financial practices,” added Weed.

ACWD’s report was judged by an independent panel to meet the high standards of the program, which includes demonstrating a constructive “spirit of full disclosure” to clearly communicate its financial story and motivate potential users and user groups to read the financial report. It also must satisfy both generally acceptable accounting principles and legal requirements.

“Attainment of this award is a testament to staff’s hard work and the district’s pledge of transparency,” said ACWD Vice President and Finance Committee Chair Paul Sethy. “It is as significant an accomplishment in year 18, as it was in year one,” he added. Sethy went on to say ACWD’s current CAFR will be submitted to GFOA to determine eligibility for another certificate.

For more information on ACWD’s annual financial report, budget or other finance-related items, visit www.acwd.org/Finance.

Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed..."

Action, causing the birth of a new nation was not a casual event, rather an ultimate response to unbearable conditions. The Declaration of Independence cautions that, "Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes..." However, those who favor strict adherence to the philosophy of our founding fathers would be wise to study their thoughts and protests when outlining grievances against the unresponsive king. Some of the specific causes outlined in the Declaration, archaic language and all, may be appropriate today:

"He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good."

"He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them."

"He has endeavoured to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands."

"He has obstructed the Administration of Justice by refusing his Assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary Powers."

"He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harass our people and eat out their substance."

"For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world"

The rebellious colonists go on to state, "In every stage of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms: Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A Prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people."

Fifty-six colonists, representing 13 colonies, signed the Declaration of Independence and a new nation rose into existence. As we celebrate the birth of an idea, it is incumbent upon us as beneficiaries to reaffirm our commitment to freedom of expression and life without fear. Although some have insisted on emphasizing negative aspects of humanity, our community can honor the memory of our founders by continuing good works at the local level for the benefit of all.

Happy Birthday to our country of origin or adoption!

Board vote supports resident rights

SUBMITTED BY JANICE ROMBECK

Responding to actions by the federal government and fears expressed by residents, the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors took a firm stand against government-required registries for individuals and reaffirmed its commitment to protecting the privacy of its residents.

At its next-to-final meeting of the fiscal year on Tuesday, June 20, the Board unanimously approved an ordinance prohibiting the County from participating in or contributing to any type of government registry or internment based on religion, ethnicity, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or any other classification protected by the California or United States Constitution.

The ordinance, which the Board called for on April 25 at the request of Board President Dave Cortese, was in response to executive orders by President Trump that target individuals based on religious affiliation and statements by federal officials favoring a registry for Muslims.

Created with input from the community, the ordinance also assures residents that coming to the County for services will not result in information about them being shared with the federal government that could be used to create a registry.

"We are sending a message that the County will not tolerate Islamophobia or any other form of bigotry or hatred," said Board President Cortese. "And that the County is a safe and accepting place for residents regardless of immigration status, religion, gender identity or ethnicity."

The prohibition on registries applies to all County employees. Any person who is harmed by a violation of the resolution can file a complaint with the County Executive's Office, and, if not satisfied, can appeal to the Board of Supervisors.

On Tuesday, the Board also approved other measures that respond to federal action opposed by the County, which is a leader in protecting the privacy and civil rights of its residents. The Board:

- Affirmed the County's commitment to combating climate change and leading the way for other counties to join the efforts. President Cortese had called for this resolution in response to Trump's decision to remove the United States from the Paris Climate Change Agreement, which 147 countries have ratified.

- Approved agreements with 20 local agencies and nonprofit organizations to provide legal and educational services to immigrants who may be facing deportation as a result of changes in federal immigration policies. In March, the Board approved investing $3.5 million in legal representation and in a Know Your Rights Campaign.

- Approved work plans to implement recommendations that emerged from three public hearings on Immigrant Issues, Hate Crimes and Women's Issues and accepted a report from the Office of Women's Policy recommending solutions to reducing intimate partners' violence.

Supervisors support
Paris Climate Agreement

SUBMITTED BY
JANICE ROMBECK

Acting on a request by Board President Dave Cortese, the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors unanimously voted on Tuesday, June 6, to initiate a resolution affirming the County's commitment to combating climate change and leading the way for other counties to join the efforts.

A resolution will return to the Board at the June 20 meeting. On Tuesday, the Board also approved a plan to enlist other counties across the nation to form a coalition to sign on to the agreement.

Supervisor Cindy Chavez also requested that a yearly report be given to the Board on how the County is living up to the Paris Climate Agreement standards in reducing Greenhouse Gas emissions and following other energy conservation measures.

Cortese's proposal is a response to President Donald Trump's decision to remove the United States from the Paris

Climate Agreement, which 147 countries have ratified. "Trump's decision runs counter to the County's own actions to combat climate change," Cortese said. "We want to let the world know that Santa Clara County and Silicon Valley have a long-term commitment to sustaining our environment and we're ask other counties to join us."

The action comes just after an announcement that the County Fleet Management Team has won an award as one of the "Best 100 Fleets in the Americas" because of the County's heavy investment in hybrid and electric vehicles and its response to community needs.

The County also has:

- Developed over 17 Megawatts of renewable solar energy at 15 sites, which will produce an estimated 26.5 million kilowatt-hours of clean electricity during 2017, and will reduce Greenhouse Gas emissions by over 5,000 metric tons of CO2 (equivalent to removing over 1,000 passenger cars from the road for one year).

- Partnered with 11 additional communities to form Silicon Valley Clean Energy, which began providing 100% carbon-free electricity to enrolled customers as of April 3, 2017.

- Achieved a nearly 70% waste diversion rate (as of 2015 – the most recent data available), saving roughly 8,100 tons from landfill disposal and avoiding over 25,000 metric tons of CO2 emissions (equivalent to removing 5,300 passenger cars from the road for a year).

- Adopted LEED Silver certification as the baseline standard for new County buildings, which requires even greater energy efficiency reductions than those already required in California's stringent Title 24 building code.

- Reduced annual water usage at County facilities by over 65 million gallons since 2009, a reduction of nearly 20%, and a savings of approximately 260,000 kilowatt-hours a year (equivalent to removing nearly 50 passenger cars from the road each year).

Swim team claims honors

The Cal State East Bay swim team has earned Scholar All-America recognition from the College Swimming & Diving Coaches Association (CSCAA) for the seventh consecutive year, it was announced June 21.

East Bay is one 75 women's programs in Division II to earn the award, which recognizes swim and dive teams that achieved at least at 3.0 grade point average for the 2017 Spring semester. For institutions that use the quarter system like CSUEB, the award is based on grades from Winter quarter.

The Pioneers compiled a 3.21 team grade point average during the past Winter Quarter, placing them among the top squads in the West Region. CSUEB followed that up by posting a 3.37 GPA in this most recent Spring quarter, which matches team's highest since re-joining Division II.

Individually, swimmers Claire Beaty and Mariam Lowe were named to the 2017 Scholar All-America Team for achieving at least a 3.5 grade point average. Beaty was a First Team All-American after placing eighth in the 200 Breaststroke at NCAA Division II Championships. She holds the program records in both the 100 and 200 Breast, and this Spring she was also awarded with CoSIDA Academic All-District honors.

Lowe also had a phenomenal season in the pool, earning Honorable Mention All-American status in the 200 and 400 Medley Relays at NCAA Championships. She also captured her first career Pacific Collegiate Swim Conference (PCSC) Championship and set the school record in the 100 Backstroke.

In their first season under head coach Shane Pelton, the Pioneers maintained the high academic standards they had established over the last several years. The team had nine individuals make Cal State East Bay's Dean's List, which awards students who achieve at least a 3.8 GPA.

BART to offer customized elevator alerts

SUBMITTED BY BART NEWS

Starting June 30 BART riders will be able to get email or text alerts about the working status of elevators at the stations they most care about.

Riders already can sign up for different kinds of advisories to be sent to them electronically, however, there is no way to sign up for information about the elevators at only specific stations. That means subscribers must sift through alerts from all stations instead of the ones they arrive or depart from.

BART patrons who currently receive elevator alerts must sign up for the new station specific alerts by July 31 when the old system will be discontinued.

In addition to the individual station alerts, starting June 30, BART will also offer a new daily digest of elevator outages at 6 a.m. daily via email. Elevator status reports are also available by calling (510) 834-5438 or (888) 235-3828.

To sign up for the electronic alerts from BART visit their webpage at www.bart.gov/alerts.

Newark to celebrate National Night Out

SUBMITTED BY TIM JONES, NEWARK PD

National Night Out is coming soon and the word is out to criminals: scram!

Newark Police staff and volunteers along with a host of community groups are busily preparing for National Night Out neighborhood parties and events throughout the city.

Held each year in August, the National Night Out campaign is an effort designed to heighten crime and drug prevention awareness, strengthen neighborhood spirit and community partnerships with police. The nationwide program was founded in 1972 and today involves more than 16,000 communities from all 50 states, U.S. territories, Canadian cities and military bases worldwide. This year's event theme is "American's National Night Out Against Crime," and will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 1

The typical way to participate in National Night Out is to organize a block or neighborhood party where neighbors can get to know each other better and build a community bond which sends a strong message to criminals that the community members are looking out for each other and reporting suspicious activity in their neighborhood. Individuals can also participate by leaving their porch light on supporting the stand against criminal activity.

In Newark, public safety personnel and city leaders will make visits to the parties and neighborhood get-togethers where they will share information, network, and answer questions that community members may have. Parties should take place between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m.

To make sure city and police officials know about specific parties, organizers should register their gathering by visiting the City of Newark website at www.newark.org. On the website, choose "Police" from the "Departments" pull-down menu, then choose "Community Engagement" and "National Night Out" on the left side of the screen. For details, call Tim Jones at (510) 578-4209 or send email to tim.jones@newark.org.

UPDATE TO RESIDENTIAL ZONING STANDARDS AND CITYWIDE DESIGN GUIDELINES, AND CREATION OF SOLAR ACCESS PRESERVATION ORDINANCE - Citywide - PLN2017-00246 - To consider amendments to Title 18 (Planning and Zoning) of the Fremont Municipal Code and the Citywide Design Guidelines. The proposed Amendments include: an update to development standards, design rules, and design guidelines that focus on maintaining the character of neighborhoods and further assist in achieving compatibility of new, expanded, or reconstructed single-family homes with surrounding residences and the neighborhood. Additionally, the proposed amendments would create a citywide Solar Access Preservation Ordinance to ensure that any increase in the height of an existing building or that any new development does not shade solar zones on adjoining properties. Finally, the proposal involves consideration of an exemption from the requirements of the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) per CEQA Guidelines Section 15061(b)(3) in that the proposed amendments do not have the potential for causing a significant effect on the environment. SUBMITTED BY CAPTAIN DARYL SEQUEIRA, MILPITAS PD

As the Special Olympics Torch Run made its way through Milpitas on June 15, members of the Milpitas Police Department were there to help.

The officers received the torch from the Santa Clara County Sheriff's Office at the intersection of Montague Expressway and Main Street. From there the runners, including members from the Santa Clara County Sheriff's Office and the Milpitas Police Department made their way to the Milpitas Police Department building on North Milpitas Boulevard.

They arrived at the site with the Special Olympics torch and participated in a celebration ceremony where Milpitas Police Chief Steve Pangelinan handed the torch to members of the Fremont Police Department to continue its journey to the 2017 Special Olympics Games in Davis, near Sacramento.

The Special Olympics offers people with developmental disabilities in Northern California the opportunity to participate in the summer games, which is made possible by support from volunteers, community members and law enforcement agencies throughout the region.

recently shot into a statue at St. Felicitas Church as a possible hate crime stemming from an earlier vandalism incident.

The events started shortly after 2 p.m. on Saturday, June 10 when police received a call ab out shots fired at the church, located at 1650 Manor Blvd. The caller also gave police a description of the person whom they believed was responsible for discharging a firearm.

Arriving officers found a man matching the description nearby. The suspect did not comply with police commands and struggled with officers. During the struggle, a gun was forcibly removed the man's waistband and he was taken into custody. Later, officers conducted a security check of the church and found that eight rounds had been fired into a statue at the church. There was no other damage.

"While we are not able to share the full details of this incident because it is still an active investigation, please know that we are taking this investigation seriously. We are investigating this act of vandalism as a hate crime," San Leandro Police Lieutenant Ted Henderson explained, adding that "there is simply no place and no excuse for vandalism aimed at a place of worship in our society. The person responsible for this act is in custody and we have no information or evidence that there are any additional threats directed at the church or their congregation."

Meanwhile police are asking that anyone who has information about the incident that may help in the investigation to contact the San Leandro Police Department at (510) 577-2740.

BOSQUES, FREMONT PD

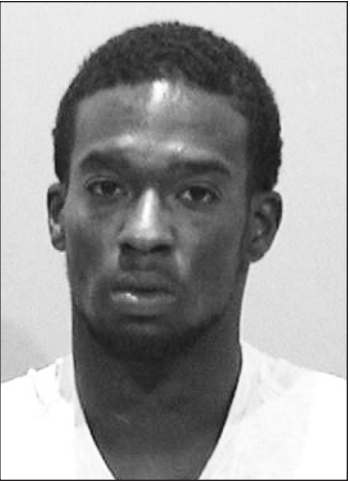

After more than a week of investigating two brazen chain snatch robberies in Fremont, police have arrested a suspect.

The first robbery was reported on Friday, June 9 on Trafalgar Road near the Northgate neighborhood. The victim described the suspect as a black man driving a green Buick with paper license plates.

A week later, on June 16, the second robbery occurred at the nearby Charter Square shopping center. The victim and witnesses to the crime provided police with a description of the suspect and vehicle that matched reports from the previous week's robbery.

Investigators reviewed video from a nearby community camera system and identified the suspect vehicle which had distinctive features; further identification was made using the vehicle identification number. Next, investigators developed information on the suspect, identified as Kenyon Thomas, 21, of Fremont.

Armed with an arrest warrant, they found Thomas at an address on Lake Mask Place in Fremont. Investigators followed him away from the address for a short

Board Briefs for Tuesday, June 20, 2017

SUBMITTED BY NEW HAVEN UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT

Before its regularly scheduled meeting, the Board hosted a reception honoring Co-Superintendent and Chief Business Officer Akur Varadarajan who recently announced his retirement. Mr. Varadarajan first joined the district in April of 2010 as the Chief Business Officer. In August of 2013, the Board made the decision to move to a Co-Superintendent model, elevating both Akur Varadarajan and Chief Academic Officer, Dr. Smith, to the role.

The New Haven Unified School District's Local Control Accountability Plan (LCAP) describes goals and specific actions to achieve benchmarks for all students and each subgroup of students identified, including students with disabilities. Essential to the development of the LCAP is a process that meaningfully engages parents, students, and other stakeholders including those representing identified subgroups in an advisory capacity. A public meeting was held on Tuesday, June 6, 2017, to give the community an opportunity to provide input into the LCAP.

Prior to that public hearing, a draft of the LCAP was reviewed by staff at the Alameda County Office of Education. Suggestions and revisions were made based on their feedback. On June 20, the final Local Control Accountability Plan for New Haven Unified School District was presented for Board Approval, which the Board reviewed and approved.

Co-Superintendent/CBO Varadarajan and Madeline Gabel, Director Fiscal Services, presented the 2017-18 Proposed Budget and Multi-Year

Projections for 2018-19 and 2019-20. The report said that the District can meet its financial obligations for the current and two subsequent fiscal years with a positive certification. The positive certification is contingent on budget cuts included in the 2018-19 and 2019-20 budget years. The Board approved Resolution #085-1617, which authorized staff to begin the process of identifying areas of re-prioritization/reductions of district-wide expenditures.

The Board also approved the appointment of Lisa Metzinger as the District's Chief Academic Officer, replacing Dr. Arlando Smith who will be taking over as Superintendent effective July 1. Ms. Metzinger has served the New Haven community for three decades in roles spanning classroom teacher, Assistant Principal of Curriculum, and Beginning Teacher Specialist. In February of 2013, Ms. Metzinger was chosen as the District's Director of the Race to the Top Grant and was instrumental in the successful implementation of the four-year, $29 million grant. When the grant sunset earlier this year, Ms. Metzinger took over responsibility for the District's professional development and innovation.

The Board also approved the appointment of Annette Heldman as Chief Business Officer. Ms. Heldman will be taking over for the retired Varadarajan. Ms. Heldman is returning to New Haven having served as the District's Director of Fiscal Services from 2009 until the fall of 2014 before transitioning to the San Lorenzo Unified School District where she was the Assistant Superintendent of Business Services.

MY CHOICE IS WTMF,

because not only does my doctor really listen to me,
he understands the things that are important to me too.

For Newark neighbor Kathryn Elkins, choosing Washington Township Medical Foundation (WTMF) was how she met Dr. Prasad Katta, and the beginning of finding excellent, individualized care for her diabetes. Kathryn wanted a patient-oriented doctor who had great credentials, was close to her home with convenient office hours. At WTMF, Katie Vigano, a Certified Physician's Assistant, talked to Kathryn about seeing an endocrinologist and referred her to Dr. Katta. Kathryn said she felt an instant connection with Dr. Katta. "He was very thorough; he listened to everything I had to say, answered my questions in detail and never rushed me. He's encouraging, optimistic, up on all the new medications—and his treatments are working!" As for Dr. Katta, he says he gets "great pleasure treating patients like Kathryn who are motivated to get better," and wants his patients to think of him as their guide to reaching their health goals.
