CAROL DOCKTER

Run the romantic gamut with "Cupid's Arrow," a concert depicting the many faces of love! Guest Conductor Jason Klein returns to conduct the Fremont Symphony Orchestra in music that ranges from the light-hearted to the passionate, from the tragedy of a doomed love affair to the sentimental and popular tunes all will recognize.

Internationally acclaimed pianist Hélène Wickett will perform Mozart's Concerto No. 21 in C, commonly known as the "Elvira Madigan" concerto because its second movement was used throughout the Swedish film of the same name. Its poignant melody can move an audience to tears. Wickett, who trained in Paris with Alfred Brendel, Robert Casadesus, and Nadia Boulanger among others, has performed some 70 concertos with such major orchestras as the Cleveland, San Francisco,

Learn About Stroke Prevention and Moving Forward After a Stroke

Free Stroke Education Series
now presented in Newark and Union City

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, strokes are the fifth leading cause of death in the United States, killing about 140,000 Americans each year. In addition, strokes are a leading cause of serious long-term disability.

“Fortunately, there are a lot of things people can do to reduce their risks for suffering a stroke,” says Washington Hospital Stroke Program Coordinator Denise Lynch, RN, MHA, CNRN, SCR.N. “Knowing what to do if you or someone you’re with experiences symptoms of a stroke can dramatically improve the chances of survival and help limit any brain damage and consequential disability.”

Sometimes called a “brain attack,” a stroke occurs when something interrupts the flow of blood to the brain, causing parts of the brain to become damaged or die. There are two basic types of major strokes:

- An ischemic stroke occurs when a blood clot or other obstruction blocks the blood vessels to the brain
- A hemorrhagic stroke happens when a blood vessel bursts in the brain

Another condition called a “transient ischemic attack,” or TIA, is sometimes referred to as a “mini-stroke.” With a TIA, blood flow to the brain is interrupted for only a short period of time, generally less than five minutes, but a TIA can be a warning sign for future major strokes.

To help people in the community learn more about the causes, risk factors, symptoms and treatment of strokes, the stroke program at Washington Hospital has offered quarterly Stroke Education Series programs for more than a decade. Over the past year, the programs have expanded to other locations besides the main hospital location in Fremont.

“We decided we needed to make this information more readily available to people who live in communities farther away from the Hospital,” explains Lynch, who is a certified neuroscience nurse as well as a stroke-certified nurse. “Our education programs are intended for people who have risk factors for stroke, stroke survivors and the general public. A stroke can affect anyone, at any age, so having more awareness about strokes among people in the community can make a critical difference in saving lives and limiting brain damage.”

The spring Stroke Education Series will feature a two-part program, with both parts presented at two different locations:

Part 1: Stroke Prevention will be offered on Tuesday, February 13, at the Washington Township Medical Foundation (WTMF) Newark Clinic conference room, located at 6236 Thornton Ave. in Understanding the signs and symptoms of a stroke is part of the Stroke Education Series Washington Hospital now offers in Newark and Union City.

Newark. The program will be repeated on Tuesday, April 17, at WTMF's Nakamura Clinic conference room located at 33077 Alvarado-Niles Road in Union City.

Part 1 lectures will discuss the risk factors associated with strokes and explain ways to modify and reduce those risk factors through lifestyle changes and possible medications. These presentations also will talk about the characteristics of different types of strokes, the importance of recognizing stroke symptoms and the urgency of responding to stroke symptoms quickly.

Part 2: Life After Stroke will be offered on Tuesday, February 20, at the Newark Clinic, and on Tuesday, April 24, at the Nakamura Clinic.

Part 2 lectures will focus on topics such as returning to work and other activities after a stroke, the importance of regular long-term follow-up care for stroke patients, and the variety of community resources available for stroke patients and their families. Resources include physical, occupation and speech therapy, as well as the Stroke Support Group at Washington Hospital led by Tashan Arrivas, a certified neuroscience nurse and stroke-certified nurse.

Weight Management May Include Surgery Options

Medical experts discuss effective and practical approaches to maintaining healthy weight

Worried about your weight? How will those pounds that seem to keep adding on, despite your best efforts, affect your future health? What are your options in managing excessive weight gain?

You aren't alone with these concerns, according to Dr. Stacey Barrie, a Washington Hospital board-certified specialist in obstetrics and gynecology. "On a standard day in my office, conducting about 10 well-woman examinations, almost every patient expresses concerns about her weight—whether it's losing the extra 'baby fat' she gained while pregnant or simply maintaining a healthy weight to avoid developing health problems," Dr. Barrie says. "Counseling patients about weight management has become an important part of my medical practice over the years."

Dr. Barrie will offer strategies for weight management at a free community seminar on from 1 to 3 p.m. on Tuesday, March 13, in the Conrad E. Anderson, MD, Auditorium, Washington West, 2500 Mowry Ave. in Fremont.

Dr. Barrie will be joined by Dr. Mary Maish, a Washington

Hospital thoracic and foregut surgeon, who will discuss surgery options for the treatment of obesity. The free seminar is open to the public.

Many individuals concerned about weight gain focus on exercise but Dr. Barrie believes evaluating the types of food you eat is a major factor in managing your weight. "Exercise is important but the bigger part of the equation is nutrition," Dr. Barrie argues. "We really need to rethink our relationship with food, and that means paying attention to how much you eat when you are not really being mindful about your eating patterns."

Dr. Barrie recommends people eat "real food — lots of fresh vegetables and a reasonable amount of lean proteins" — and that they avoid processed foods, saturated fats and added sugars. She also advises paying attention to proper portion sizes. "Everyone should have a kitchen scale to learn what the ideal three-ounce portion of a chicken breast looks like, for example."

Emphasizing "mindful eating," Dr. Barrie counsels people to unplug from their electronic devices while eating and to really pay attention to their meals and conversations with others. "It's important not to be distracted by electronics like television and cellphones while you sit there and stuff yourself," she says. "Children, especially, are really prone to electronic distractions, and parents need to model good eating behaviors for them."

Dr. Maish will discuss weight-loss surgical options that contribute to weight loss in two main ways:

- Restriction in which surgery is used to physically limit the amount of food the stomach can hold, thereby limiting the number of calories a patient can eat.
- Malabsorption in which surgery is used to shorten or bypass part of the small intestine, reducing the amount of calories and nutrients the body absorbs.

The surgical options for treating obesity, listed from the least invasive to most invasive, according to Dr. Maish, include:

1. Endoscopic balloon weight loss — A balloon is inserted in the stomach via a tube deployed down the patient's throat. The balloon takes up room in the stomach, thus lessening the amount of food the stomach will hold.
2. Endoscopic gastroplasty — Again using a tube down the throat, the stomach is stapled from the inside, reducing the size of the stomach by one-third to one-half.
3. Gastric banding — A band using an inflatable balloon is placed around the upper part of the stomach. This creates a small stomach pouch above the band with a very narrow opening to the rest of the stomach. Gastric banding restricts the amount of food the stomach can hold so that the patient feels full sooner.

However, it does not affect the absorption of calories and nutrients.

4. Sleeve gastrectomy — Part of the stomach is removed and the remaining reduced section cannot hold as much food. However, sleeve gastrectomy does not affect the absorption of calories and nutrients in the intestines.

5. Gastric bypass —The stomach is divided into a small upper pouch and a much larger lower pouch with only the upper pouch able to receive food. This greatly limits the amount the patient can eat or drink at one time.

Dr. Maish also will discuss insurance company requirements to qualify for the sleeve gastrectomy and the gastric bypass options.

Learn About Stroke Prevention and Moving Forward After a Stroke

Free Stroke Education Series now presented in Newark and Union City

These sessions also will discuss the needs of caregivers who take care of family members or friends who have suffered a stroke, recognizing the stresses, frustrations and successes that caregivers may experience. All lectures will be followed by question-and-answer sessions, with plenty of time allotted for audience participation.

“Knowing the risk factors for stroke is important,” Lynch emphasizes. “Many people already know about some of those factors, such as smoking, high blood pressure, high cholesterol, obesity, diabetes and family history. Other risk factors might not be as well known, such as atrial fibrillation (irregular heartbeat) and leading a sedentary lifestyle with little exercise. People also might be surprised to learn that African Americans are more prone to strokes than other ethnic groups, and that women are more likely to have a stroke than men. We also are seeing more young adults in our stroke program at Washington Hospital and even children, perhaps because of the increasing rate of young people who are overweight or obese.”

Lynch also stresses the importance of recognizing the sudden onset of stroke symptoms, some of which might include:

- Numbness or weakness of the face, arm or leg – especially if it is limited to one side of the body

- Confusion or trouble with speaking or understanding
- Trouble seeing in one or both eyes
- Dizziness, trouble walking, loss of balance or coordination
- Severe headache with no known cause

“If you or someone who is near you is experiencing any of these symptoms, call 9-1-1 right away,” Lynch notes. “Don’t try to drive yourself or another person to the hospital. You need to get help right away, and emergency treatment can begin in an ambulance on the way to the hospital.

“We frequently say, ‘Time is brain,’ because with a stroke, up to 2 million brain cells could die every minute,” she adds. “Each minute you delay increases the risk of brain damage or death. With today’s stroke treatments, including a medication called tissue plasminogen activator (tPA) that can break up blood clots in the brain, your chances of surviving a stroke can be very good. The key is to get treated quickly.”

Boston, and Indianapolis Symphonies in the United States, as well as with orchestras in England and throughout Europe.

Richard Buell of the Boston Globe wrote, "Here was playing so concentrated and direct, so disquietingly accurate in aiming straight for the soul that, while it lasted, the rest of the world might well have ceased to exist," while Anthony Payne of London's Daily Telegraph, called her playing "an impressive combination of thoughtful commitment and virtuoso flair."

Well known to Fremont audiences, Wickett has performed several times with Preschool and program options abound at annual faire

SUBMITTED BY FUN MOTHERS' CLUB

FUN (Fremont, Union City and Newark) Mothers' Club presents our 14th annual "Preschool Faire" on Saturday, February 10. This Tri-City wide faire brings together over 20 preschools and extracurricular programs designed for young children under one roof. This is a unique opportunity to research what options are available to your child for preschool and beyond in the Tri-City area. This Preschool Faire is free and open to club members and the public, so bring your friends!

Schools and programs registered for the Preschool Faire so far include 4Cs of Alameda County, A Child's Hideaway, American Swim Academy Fremont, Azevada/ Chinese immersion program, BASIS Independent Fremont, Bay Aerials Gymnastics, Challenger School, Early Start Music, Fremont Christian School, Fremont Parents' Nursery School, Fremont Unified School District Preschool Programs, Holy Spirit Preschool, Kimber Hills Academy, Kumon, Learning Kids Montessori, Little Lamb Ministry, Macaroni Kid, Montessori School of Centerville, Music for Minors II, New Horizons School, Our Savior Preschool, Pacific West Gymnastics, Scholarshare529, St. Joseph School, Stellar Academy for Dyslexics, Stratford School, The Marvegos Fine Art School, and YMCA of the East Bay.

February is Congenital Heart Defect (CHD) Awareness Month. CHDs affect roughly 1 in 100 babies and 25 percent of them will require surgery. It is the most frequently occurring birth defect, often to mothers with no high-risk factors. In fact, at least three current FUN Mothers' Club members have children born with CHDs. To create awareness of this cause, we will host a drive to create Bravery Bags through Mended Little Hearts for children undergoing open heart surgery at UCSF and Stanford. Providing these donations makes hospital stays more comfortable for the children and their families during this stressful time. One of our members has a baby who underwent open heart surgery in September 2016; she can vouch that care packages go a long way and are very appreciated.

Here are the items needed for Bravery Bags:

Plastic sandwich bags, small stuffed animals (beanie baby sized), eight count crayon packs, coloring books, sudoku/crossword puzzle books, blank journals, pocket-sized tissue packs, lip balm, travel-sized hand sanitizer, travel-sized toiletries, and hard candy.

SAVE welcomes new Director of Development

SUBMITTED BY SAFE ALTERNATIVES TO VIOLENT ENVIRONMENTS (SAVE)

SAVE welcomes Paula Manczuk, CFRE, as its new Director of Development. Paula brings with her extensive experience both in fundraising and nonprofit organizations. Since obtaining her first nonprofit job right out of college, Paula has spent her entire career working in the sector. She solidified her commitment to the field by obtaining her Master’s in Nonprofit Management from Regis University in 2013. This leadership-focused program helped Paula expand and refine her skills as a nonprofit professional.

After working in clinical and administrative areas of nonprofits, Paula became inspired to move into fundraising in 2006 when she accepted a position at a wildlife museum in Colorado. In the last eleven years, she has tried her hand at all areas of fundraising, and enjoys wearing many hats in smaller shops. Doing so helps her stay close to the mission where she can see in the impact first hand. Paula’s most recent position was the Director of Development for a foundation that supports retired military veterans and wounded warriors in Northern Virginia. In 2015, she became a Certified Fundraising Executive, demonstrating both her knowledge of the field and her commitment to fundraising ethically.

A newcomer to California, Paula moved with her longtime partner when he relocated to Silicon Valley for his job. They look forward to exploring the natural beauty and man-made attractions California has to offer. Looking at the weather back on the east coast this winter, they realize this was the best time to move west.

Paula is thrilled to be a part of the SAVE team and looks forward to helping grow support for such an important cause.

Pathway to STEM for girls

SUBMITTED BY LETHA SALDANHA

The American Association of University Women (AAUW) Fremont has been serving the Tri-City community with Science, Technology, Education and Mathematics (STEM) education programs for girls as part of our mission to bridge gender inequities. For the past 19 years, we have hosted a Mother/Daughter STEM Discovery Day biannually. The goal of this popular event is to invoke and sustain an interest in STEM for girls in third through sixth grades. We will host our 38th event on Saturday Feb 24.

So, what happens after sixth grade? How do we continue to build on this STEM pipeline for girls thorough middle school, high school and onward to college so that there is a continuous pipeline of girls entering the workforce and bridging the continuing inequity in STEM/tech fields? Locally, our Tri-City parents have been requesting a continuation of our pipeline for girls beyond sixth grade.

AAUW Fremont Branch is pleased to announce, “Pathway to STEM,” an interactive panel discussion for girls in sixth, seventh and eighth grades and their parents. Panelists from the tech industry and current college students pursuing STEM will discuss how to continue to stay engaged in STEM as girls move through middle and high school.

More program details and registration information are available by visiting the AAUW Fremont webpage at <https://fremont-ca.aauw.net/stem-education/>.

We hope to see you and your daughters there.

Candle Lighters present awards, name new board members

SUBMITTED BY
JOELLA THOMPSON

The trailers are all tucked away, and the ghosts, goblins, vampires and other scary creatures have all been put to rest until next fall. Now, all that the Candle Lighters have left to do is to present the awards to this year’s recipients.

That was handled at our Presentation Luncheon held Saturday, Jan. 27, at Spin-a-Yarn restaurant in Fremont. Those being presented with awards from the profits from the 2017 Ghost House, Shadow of the Vampire, include the following Tri-City non-profits:

• Washington Township Museum of Local History — $7,079.40 to purchase two storage sheds

• Drivers for Survivors — $6,493.34 to purchase a marketing package
• Boldly Me — $7,697.00 to purchase a book binding machine
• League of Voters of Newark — $2,848.46 to purchase warehouse shelving
• Safe Alternatives to Violent Environments — $8,285.00 to purchase 16 dressers and five bunk beds

The luncheon and presentation were followed by the election of the new Candle Lighter Board for 2018-2019. Here are the newly-elected board members:

• President: Maria Garnica
• 1st VP (Site): Lani Cortez
• Asst. 1st VP: Margarita Saucedo
• 2nd VP (Publicity): Jeff Schinkel

High school girls turn young women into ‘She’EOs

SUBMITTED BY TARA BHATIA

When someone says ‘CEO’ today, you might immediately think of Mark Zuckerberg, Elon Musk, or Bill Gates. Whomever you envisioned, it probably wasn’t a woman. That’s likely because, of the Fortune 500 companies, only 24 have female CEOs. Women in top key roles, such as Marissa Mayer and Sheryl Sandberg, are still a minority in the tech world.

To help bridge the gender gap, Tara Bhatia, Almitra Dabholkar, and Mihira Patel of Washington High School in Fremont started SheEO in 2015 to educate young women in the skills and strategies needed to be successful tech entrepreneurs. SheEO focuses on five key entrepreneurial phases:

1. Finding an opportunity
2. Developing a plan
3. Obtaining resources
4. Implementing the plan
5. Expanding the business

This year, AI4ALL, a nonprofit organization aimed at increasing diversity and inclusion in the field of artificial intelligence, awarded $1000 to SheEO to help fund workshops and events.

More than 200 people attended SheEO’s three 2015 workshops, and a separate Speakers Panel featured women entrepreneurs from the Bay Area. Additionally, the organization worked with Girl Scouts to create a SheEO merit badge.

Visit www.sheeo.info for more information and to register for one of their events.

Judge Aaron Persky recall petition qualifies for ballot

SUBMITTED BY
REGISTRAR OF VOTERS MEDIA

After conducting a random sampling of the 94,539 signatures submitted by a campaign to recall Judge Aaron Persky from the Santa Clara County Superior Court, the Registrar of Voters (ROV) found a sufficient number of them to be valid to automatically qualify the matter for the ballot without additional signature verification. The ROV certified the results on January 23 and will bring the matter before the Board of Supervisors at its meeting on February 6, 2018 for placement on the ballot for the June 5, 2018 Statewide Primary Election. The Elections Code requires the Board of Supervisors to issue an order within 14 days of the meeting ordering an election to determine whether or not to recall Judge Persky. If the Board does not order the election, the Elections Code requires the Registrar of Voters to set the date for holding the election. The random 5 percent sample of 4,727 signatures found 3,389 were valid. When applied to the total raw signature count of 94,539, the number of valid signatures is more than 110 percent of the 58,634 signatures that were required. The California Elections Code dictates that by topping that threshold, the petition is qualified for the ballot with no further verification necessary. If the sample results had showed that the number of valid signatures was less than 90 percent of those required, it would have been deemed insufficient. If the results fell between 90 percent and 110 percent, all submitted signatures would have gone through a full signature verification process. The recall vote will be accompanied by a contest to decide who will replace Judge Persky if he is removed from office. The petition was officially submitted January 11. Starting the following day, the ROV had 30 days to certify whether or not it was sufficient. Both the Secretary of State's and the County's complete guides to Recall Elections are available on the ROV's website at www.sccgov.org/sites/rov/info/pages/recalls.aspx. For more information, contact the Registrar of Voters' Office at 1-408-299-VOTE (8683) or toll-free at 1-866-430-VOTE (8683), or visit www.sccvote.org

Coalition supports Measure 3 Targets infrastructure, transportation

SUBMITTED BY ELISE HOUREN

On January 19 a coalition of planning, transportation, business, and labor organizations announced that they support Regional Measure 3 (RM3). The group is committed to bring necessary improvements to the Bay Area's transportation and infrastructure network, including traffic relief, BART expansion, and highway corridor improvements. The coalition, which includes the Bay Area Council, the Silicon Valley Leadership Group, and San Francisco Bay Area Planning and Urban Research (SPUR), is working with the nine-county region to ensure communities have the promising transit future that RM3 will offer voters this June. "We applaud and encourage the Metropolitan Transportation Commission's ongoing efforts to place RM3 on the June ballot. Traffic doesn't respect city or county boundaries. It's a regional problem requiring regional solutions. That's why we're excited that Bay Area residents will have an opportunity to vote for RM3, a measure funding large transportation improvements, which will reduce traffic and expand transit choices along the most congested corridors in our region," said Silicon Valley Leadership Group CEO Carl Guardino, who's also a member of the California Transportation Commission. "Bay Area commuters battling record traffic are desperate for big investments in our transportation system that will bring meaningful relief," said Jim Wunderman, President and CEO of the Bay Area Council. "Regional Measure 3 will invest $4.5 billion to clear highway bottlenecks, expand and modernize BART, bus, and ferry transit services, and dramatically improve connections between buses, trains, and bikes. With the leadership of the Metropolitan Transportation Commission to place RM3 on the June ballot, voters will have the power to put traffic in our rearview mirror." The Bay Area Council represents more than 275 of the largest employers in the region as the region's voice of business and is a public policy advocacy organization for the nine-county Bay Area. The Silicon Valley Leadership Group represents more than 370 of Silicon Valley's most respected employers on issues, programs, and campaigns that affect the economic health and quality of life in Silicon Valley. SPUR is a respected civic planning organization known for their holistic approach to urban issues. Towards the goal of passing RM3, the coalition has selected a seasoned campaign team, one who recently ran the successful nine-county Measure AA campaign, the ballot initiative to restore wetlands throughout the Bay Area. That measure generated $500 million over 20 years for critical tidal marsh restoration projects.

Tri-City Stargazer FOR WEEK: FEBRUARY 7 – FEBRUARY 13, 2018

For All Signs: The ongoing tension between Uranus (for the people) and Pluto (for the Plutocrats) is punctuated this week by transiting Mars, who is creating a challenge among the three. Mars is the god that rules struggle and arguments. He has no fear and leads with his chin. His presence in this group is likely to bring drama triangles to both individuals and the world at large. In a drama triangle there is a victim, a perpetrator, and a rescuer. Sometimes they alternate roles. For example, the rescuer in one scenario may be turned on by both the victim and the perpetrator, and his or her role evolves to that of the victim. Previous agreements may be broken or negotiations may break down. Steer clear of these dysfunctional games. They only create bruhahas which accomplish nothing and exhaust everyone.

Aries the Ram (March 21-April 20): Your warrior self is front and center during this period. The best use of this energy is on behalf of the Greater Good or another person who needs a champion. Use that energy with thoughtful intentionality. Your reflexes may be off kilter. Ground your adrenalin with heavy exercise.

Taurus the Bull (April 21-May 20): You are tuned in and can find a solution that solves a problem greater than your own. You can help the old traditional and the contemporary to find an answer that makes life better for both sides. That will also help you to feel more a part of the larger group.

Gemini the Twins (May 21-June 20): Gemini the Twins (May 21-June 20): Family issues that surface may be laced with old, unresolved drama. Do the best you can to steer around it without falling into the hole of former habits. After the weekend your troubles lighten and your generally happy attitude returns.

Cancer the Crab (June 21-July 21): The week between eclipses is often tense and challenging for the Moon Children. There is probably a drama happening that has several steps to go until you are finished. Take breaks and rest as much as possible. There will be a positive long-term outcome..

Leo the Lion (July 22-August 22): Old issues between you and your partner may surface this week. Let them go if you have not developed a new solution. Definitely don't play the old, familiar routine that accomplishes very little. Whatever the trouble, make it a point to end this week on a positive note. Invite your partner to do something different for both of you.

Virgo the Virgin (August 23-September 22): Diets and good health habits may fall to the wayside early in the week, but after the weekend you will be able to reinstate the better routine. Don't give up. Activities concerning education, publishing, the law, and travel have positive aspects. You are talkative and in an exploring frame of mind. Curb your tendency to be opinionated.

Libra the Scales (September 23-October 22): Let yourself become creative with detours, roadblocks, or whatever prevents you from going forward. You likely will invent a brilliant solution to resolve an impediment. Imagine that all impediments are vaporized and the answer may come to you. Your attention turns to personal healing, diet or exercise. For some there will be an improvement in the everyday environment at work.

Scorpio the Scorpion (October 23-November 21): You have a desire to celebrate. The temptation to overspend is strong. Consider what would be fun and interesting that doesn't require a big expenditure. Activities concerning education, publishing, the law, and travel have positive aspects. You are talkative and in an exploring frame of mind.

Sagittarius the Archer (November 22-December 21): Whatever is occurring in your life at this time is clearly intense and emotion-laden. You may feel as though your very life depends upon making your point of view heard and acknowledged. It is important to play your personal political cards carefully. Don't attempt a takeover unless you are prepared for a serious pushback.

Capricorn the Goat (December 22-January 19): Listen to the important people in your life who comment upon what you are doing. You have significant power now and could readily run over others like a steam roller. Allow the 'other' equal space or there will be payback time later when the power is on the other side.

Aquarius the Water Bearer (January 20-February 18): Your daily life is truly active now. There is lots of talking, attending meetings, and participation wherever you go. There is a shadow of doubt following you around and whispering that you don't know enough or that you are not good enough. Ignore that lie.

Pisces the Fish (February 19-March 20): Venus enters your sign this week and will be traveling 'with you' through March 10. Her presence gives you an air of poise and people will simply like how you look. Often when Venus is prominent we become more interested in anything which adds beauty to our lives.

Ohlone's Game Design Program is No Child's Play

SUBMITTED BY OHLONE COLLEGE
OFFICE OF COLLEGE ADVANCEMENT

With a curriculum modeled on real world expertise and cutting-edge technology, students in Ohlone College's Multimedia & Graphic Arts Department learn how to master the latest tools used in the emerging game design technology field.

According to 2017 Sales, Demographic and Usage data released by the Entertainment Software Association, the video game design industry is booming. The association reported that consumers spent more than $30.4 billion on video game software, hardware and accessories in 2016, and the demand for skilled labor is high. This is particularly true for California, home to over 800 game companies—300 of which are located in the San Francisco Bay Area, considered the mecca of video game design.

Ohlone College's Game Design Program allows students to take courses in game design, texturing, 3D modeling and animation to create video games for PC, mobile and Virtual Reality (VR) gaming experiences. In addition to a cutting-edge curriculum, students are provided with opportunities to present their games to a large audience and connect with industry professionals. In 2016 and 2017, Ohlone College students presented their Virtual Reality games at the San Mateo Maker Faire. Their self-constructed, multi-leveled games awed industry professionals and audience members in attendance. Users played a Virtual Reality game catching fireflies in a conservatory modeled after the San Francisco Conservatory of Flowers and chased space aliens on planet Mars.

MakerFaire

"Our classes are run like a real game design company," game design instructor Alejandro Jauco explains. "Our students take on different responsibilities such as modeling, concept art, and level prototyping, while others manage the projects and ensure that deadlines for alpha and beta releases are met. Instructors create a collaborative environment for them but the students run the show."

"With growing job demand, our program is expanding," said multimedia instructor Isabel Reichert, adding: "We are developing multidisciplinary classes pairing game design with engineering and computer science."

The Multimedia and Graphic Arts Department at Ohlone College is a high-quality program that allows students to take courses in game design, 3D modeling, 2D and 3D animation, video production, web design, and graphic design. The department provides access to a postsecondary education to a diverse student population, preparing them for transfer to 4-year institutions or a job in a creative field.

For more information, please visit ohlone.edu/multimedia or contact Isabel Reichert at ireichert@ohlone.edu.

A hometown recipe for hope

SUBMITTED BY LEADERSHIP
FREMONT CLASS OF 2018

Each night, 2,100 individuals sleep in a sheltered environment instead of on the streets, due to the efforts of Abode Services. Since 2010, Abode has helped 6,248 people secure permanent housing. Leadership Fremont, a nine-month program of the Fremont Chamber of Commerce, to develop local leaders with the skills and network to address community needs today and in the future, applauds Abode Services and wants to help.

The Leadership Class of 2018 has decided to focus its efforts on an urgent need at Abode's Sunrise Village facility. Sunrise Village, the only shelter of its kind in the Bay Area, was specially designed and built to house homeless families and single adults in an efficient and dignified manner, needs to update its kitchen facilities. Leadership Fremont's goal is to replace dated equipment in the Sunrise Village commercial kitchen that serves three meals a day to approximately 250 individuals on any given day.

Our goal, with your generous support, is to raise $40,900. Excess funds will be used to purchase food and kitchen supplies. Join us by making a charitable contribution to nurture the health and well-being of the children and adults at Sunrise Village.

To donate online, visit: abodeservices.org or gofundme.com/FLA2018-ABODE. Checks can be mailed to Abode Services, 40849 Fremont Boulevard, Fremont CA 94538. Please make your check out to "Abode Services" and put "Leadership Fremont 2018" in the memo line. All donations are tax-deductible.

Leadership Fremont will also sponsor an "Olympic Event" at Campo di Bocce to support hometown figure skating phenom Karen Chen and contribute to Abode Services' Sunrise Village. The event will take place on February 20th & 22nd (details of this event will be published soon).

Classical Jam offers Free Community Concert and Salon Experience

Explosive, lyrical, and brilliant, Schubert's "Death and the Maiden" ranges from delicate and introspective to dark raging despair as the young composer grapples with the knowledge that he is facing death. "Great emotional intensity," according to acclaimed music critic Ted Libbey, "harmonic twists and melodic turns convey emotion with remarkable simplicity and force." This work is considered a pillar of the classical music repertoire and you shouldn't miss the opportunity to experience it as a live performance.

The eclectic program translates rock mega hits into classical crossover works of art, maintaining the groundbreaking rock music lines and high energy of Led Zeppelin's groundbreaking "Kashmir" and The Who's iconic "Baba O'Riley." Wonderfully disjointed jazz riffs of Tom Waits' "Tango Till They're Sore," are "endlessly compelling," said David Dye, host of NPR's progressive rock show "World Café."

Huber, who has rock creds in addition to his impressive classical work, serves as arranger for the rock tunes and delivers a memorable and wildly enjoyable Beethoven Fifth-Game of Thrones Mashup. He captures the soul searching of Don McLean's "Vincent/Starry Starry Night" (from the album "American Pie") and the exquisite joy and pain of Leonard Cohen's most famous song, "Hallelujah."

Onderdonk (who has two Grammy nominations for recordings with chamber ensembles, and a recent crossover album release) changes things up in Tower of Power's funk masterpiece "Don't Change Horses in the Middle of the Stream" and a Hasse "Norwegian Fiddle Tune."

Tickets for Classical Jam on Sunday, February 18 must be reserved in advance through Music at the Mission. The concert address in North Milpitas and directions will be made available upon ticket purchase. Tickets can be purchased online through Brown Paper Tickets and Music at the Mission.

With Valentine's Day just around the corner, love is in the air. And what better way to share – and receive — affection than with a new pet?

The Hayward Animal Shelter can help. It's bringing out a host of dogs, cats, bunnies, Guinea pigs and even a rooster for its "All Fur Love" pet adoption event on Saturday, Feb. 10.

From 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. visitors will have a chance to meet and greet with a variety of critters who are looking for forever homes with lots of love. Hosted by animal shelter volunteers, admission is free. The shelter is at 16 Barnes Court, near the Department of Motor Vehicles at Jackson Street and Soto Road.

The cost to adopt an animal is $14 and include spay/neuter service, vaccinations and a microchip. Hayward residents pay a $17 licensing fee for dogs. Special guest Assemblyman Bill Quick also will be on hand. He is partnering with the shelter at this event to offer a limited number of free spay/neuter vouchers to members of his district. For details, call (510) 293-8818 or visit his website at <http://asmdc.org/members/a20/>.

Also planned will be a Valentine's Day Pet Booth where people can have Valentine's Day photos taken of their pets for $10. Proceeds benefit animal programs.

GET COZY WITH THE RIGHT INSULATION

BY DAVID R. NEWMAN

Insulation is the unsung hero of a house. Often times it's installed and forgotten about, never to see the light of day again. But choosing the right insulation is an important step in creating a cozy home environment, blocking out cold, wind, noise, and moisture, and helping you save on energy costs.

The best time to consider insulating your home is during new construction, or during a remodel, when the walls, floors, and ceilings are open and home. Your home's optimum R-Value is primarily based on where you live (the colder the climate, the higher the R-Value). Some companies, including CertainTeed, as well as the Department of Energy, provide online tools to help you determine the R-Value for each area of your home and, based on that, offer product suggestions.

The most common type of insulation is called "batt and roll" or "blanket" insulation. These rolls are pre-cut to standard sizes and are easy to install between joists or rafters. They are made from three main materials: fiberglass (sand and recycled snugly. They are also more fire-resistant. Some batt and roll insulation comes with special membranes that reduce moisture and allow air flow to help mitigate the growth of mold and mildew.

Of course, when people think of insulation, they often think of their attic. Says Michael Ziegler, General Manager at Valley Heating, Cooling, and Electrical in San Jose, "The most critical part of improving the whole energy efficiency of your home is the attic insulation. That's where the biggest loss of heat occurs, so you want to try and put a cap on it."

Loose-fill insulation is the most effective way to insulate your attic. This is a fluffy, shredded material that is blown out a big tube, and comes in two flavors: fiberglass and cellulose (paper). Typically treated with fire retardant and insect repellent, loose-fill insulation can easily fill hard-to-reach nooks and crannies. Many home improvement centers and tool rental stores rent insulation blowers for confident DIYers.

The standard in new construction in the Bay Area for attic insulation is R44, which is equivalent to 16 1/2 inches of loose-fill insulation! For older homes, Ziegler suggests taking a quick peek in your attic to assess your insulation needs. If you can see the rafters, it may be time to add some more filling. "In many cases the insulation has settled to below three inches. Sometimes when people do work in your attic, like putting in canned lights, the insulation gets moved around and smashed down."

Spray foam is another form of insulation and is often used for crawlspaces or hard-to-reach areas of the house. This is sprayed on as a liquid, which then expands as it dries, creating an air-tight seal. With a high R-Value, spray foam comes in two types: open cell and closed cell. Closed cell is the denser and more common of the two types.

Structural Insulated Panels (SIPs) are the most expensive insulation option, but they're also the most energy efficient. Usually sold in 4x8 foot sheets, these boards will insulate an entire wall surface, including the framing. These are used mostly in new construction with a contractor.

Radiant Barrier Foil is another option for those seeking additional energy savings. Usually installed in the attic, this material differs from most insulation in that it reflects radiant heat away from your home, as opposed to absorbing it. At 25 cents per foot, this is a great way to add even more protection to an attic, and can be easily applied.

Most insulation projects only take one to two days to complete, depending on the area covered. Sometimes, in the case of rodent infestations, the insulation needs to be completely removed and replaced with new material.

So raise a glass to insulation, the under appreciated building material that does so much work. Your coziness depends on it.

For more information, contact Valley Heating, Cooling, and Electrical at (408) 294-6290 or www.valleyheating.com or CertainTeed at (800) 782-8777 or www.certainteed.com exposed. Says Liz McCarty, Senior Marketing Communications Manager at CertainTeed Insulation, "Make sure you get the right insulation installed in the right areas to maximize your home's comfort. Walls, attics, basements – there are special considerations for each. The key thing to remember is that you only get one chance to get it right, as upgrading later can be difficult and expensive."

Insulation comes with an R-Value, which is a measure of thermal resistance. This is the ability of the insulation to prevent heat from escaping through the walls or roof of your glass), rockwool (literally, wool made from rocks – liquid magma is spun into fine threads, kind of like cotton candy), and cotton (also known as "blue jeans"). Installing batt and roll insulation can be a fairly simple DIY project.

Fiberglass is by far the most common type of batt and roll insulation. It is widely available and very affordable at an average price of 70 cents per foot. Rockwool and cotton are more expensive, averaging about $1.10 per square foot, but also have higher R-Values. They are often used for soundproofing, as they are denser and fit more

THE ACWD CONNECTION

Winter is nearly half passed and we have received just a few regional storms compared to the rainy season of 2016-2017. After several years of drought, another "less than average" winter may have some concerned that we are soon headed down that path. Although 2018's rainfall and snowpack have yet to measure up, ACWD's overall water supply is plentiful. Here is a snapshot of overall conditions:

- Local rainfall is 7.62 inches to date, which is 79% of average
- Local groundwater conditions are very healthy due to excessive rain amounts last year
- Reservoirs around the state are also very full for this time of year due to the snow pack from last winter
- Cycles of very dry and very wet conditions are normal for California
- Local drought risk is currently low due to the diversity of ACWD's water supply portfolio and the conservation efforts of our customers

ACWD's Water Supply Sources in a Typical Year

With February typically being the wettest month across the state, there is a chance that we will see more rain and snow. Stay tuned!

Exhibit delivers serene, wide-ranging
Asian experience

SUBMITTED BY BRUCE ROBERTS

When I was young, my mother became interested in Chinese brush painting. Born in and still living in Hayward with absolutely no travels to or obvious interest in Asia, she became fascinated with the peace and beauty of this style of painting – the delicate flowers and the clear joints and connections of bamboo. This same fascination is expressed over and over in the autobiographical statements of the many artists displaying in the O’Lague Galleria’s “Asian Inspired Art Exhibition,” sponsored by the Hayward Arts Council.

Large-petaled peonies, mist-filled mountains, swirling waves and sunlight, small birds on branches, and the ubiquitous bamboo – all are common subjects in the many paintings of this show. This serenity, by their own admission, brought peace to the painters, which is well-reflected throughout the display.

Tranquility is also reflected here in Chinese calligraphy, where carefully constructed lines spell out profound messages in an ancient language. Similarly, Maureen Langenbach’s watercolor of a gold kimono is decorated with the same exquisite natural beauty as the brush painting, whereas Ruey Syrop’s non-representational painting, “Turmoil,” contrasts them all, with spots of blue ink wafting spontaneously upward from a black pool. Beautiful, but different.

The show is rounded out by Japanese dolls, vintage poetry in Chinese calligraphy, modern traveler poetry in English, and quirky, eye-catching sculpture. The broad range of the art validates many different points of view on one topic – Asia.

So, for a wide-ranging Asian experience, without spending thousands of dollars and hours on a plane, come to Hayward’s John O’Lague Galleria on the first floor of City Hall from Friday, February 9 through Friday, March 23. If you would like to meet the artists, bring yourself to the reception on Friday, February 23.

My mother would be delighted.

THEATRE REVIEW

Dial M
For Murder

BY MAURICIO SEGURA

What happens when you plan the perfect murder? You cross all the t's, you dot all the i's, and the crime looks flawless... on paper. Unfortunately for the criminal mastermind, as proven in this Chanticleers Theatre production of, "Dial M For Murder", what looks good on paper, never works out exactly as planned in reality.

The plot of the play centers around former tennis pro Tony Wendice (Danny Martin) who has married his wife Margot (Laura Morgan) for her money. An old flame has reentered Margot's life, the American television crime novelist Max Halliday (Mike Ettel) and they have rekindled their relationship, supposedly in secret. However, Tony knows all about the affair and it has been driving him insane for over a year. He devises an elaborate plan to have her killed in their upscale London apartment using the help of his shady old schoolmate, Captain

Lesgate (John Vincent Burke). Discarded love letters, switched latch keys, loads of cash, and other clues are then scattered throughout for the audience to ponder and the detective to examine. This is not as much a whodunnit, but more of a "can he get away with it" type of story. Dial "M" was based on a stage play by Frederick Knott, which premiered as a BBC TV special in 1952 and later opened at London's Westminster Theater, and later Broadway, where it became a world-wide hit. The rights to the play was sold to Warner Brothers Pictures for $75,000 and was picked up in 1954 by Alfred Hitchcock in what became one of his best loved classics. The film starred Grace Kelly and was filmed in 3D, which resulted in camera angles never before and never afterward seen in a Hitchcock film. Director Katina Letheule brought this adaption to the Chanticleers stage to life wonderfully. From set design to ambient music, to flawless acting, this is a splendidly produced and executed play. There is nothing that can be given to the cast but praise for their performance. It was flawless, easy to follow, and professional. Some people are led to believe that just because a play is produced in a small venue without a huge budget, performance quality suffers greatly. Chanticleers production of Dial "M" proves that you can get just as much entertainment from community theatre than a 5,000 seat Broadway stage.

Laura Morgan's portrayal of Margot was charming. Seemingly subtle, but with a stage presence that made the audience instantly attracted to the character. Danny Martin hit the mark as Tony. A likable guy on the outside, but a real scum when his true colors come through. Martin's spot-on mannerisms further enhanced Tony's evil intentions. Mike Ettel as Max added well-played chemistry, both positive with Margot, and negative with Tony, that glued the three together into a believable love triangle. The rest of the cast was equally compelling and did a great job to create a wonderful evening of live theatre. Head out to Castro Valley and check out a performance of Dial "M" in the weekends to come. An evening of top notch entertainment and fun is the least that can be said of this production.

Summer youth music program

SUBMITTED BY JENNY LIN FOUNDATION

The Jenny Lin Foundation Summer Youth Music Program, now in its 24th season, is open for registration. All music students at the high school level and advanced musicians at the middle school level are invited to attend this exceptional program. During June and July students will not only meet other young musicians from around the Bay Area, but cultivate leadership skills as well. Last summer, about 300 students from 11 cities enrolled in the program. The three performing groups will consist of: Symphonic Orchestra (directed by Cary Nasatir), Symphonic Band (Gregory Conway), and Chorus (Diana Ryan). Rehearsals are at Canyon Middle School in Castro Valley, Mondays and Wednesdays, 6:45 p.m. to 9 p.m., from June 18 to July 27. The program concludes with a free concert at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, July 27 at the Reed L. Buffington Center for Visual and Performing Arts at Chabot College, Hayward. The Jenny Lin Foundation is a non-profit organization in Castro Valley established in 1994 following the murder of 14-year-old Jenny Lin. The case remains unsolved. With the help of volunteers and contributions, the foundation promotes child safety and music education for youth, sponsoring many events around the East Bay.

Flame Keepers host
Black History
Celebration Breakfast

BY RHODA J. SHAPIRO

DEMETRESS MORRIS

For the past 40 years, the community of Milpitas has celebrated Black History Month by hosting a celebration breakfast. Demetress Morris, founder of the organization Flame Keepers, inherited the event about a decade ago and has been organizing it ever since.

When the breakfast first started, it was typically held on Sunday mornings, but over the years, it has shifted to Saturday mornings. Initially organized by leaders in the African-American community in Milpitas, Morris credits people like community leader Herbert Holloway and former Milpitas Mayor Ben Gross, who served as one of the first black mayors in California, for their contributions in starting the beloved annual breakfast. Although both men have since passed away, Morris keeps the tradition alive.

“Just about every year, we have a different theme. This year’s theme is Birth of a Nation,” said Morris. “We’re focusing on women and the part they’ve played. Not only black women, but women of color and all women. Even those like Susan B. Anthony who helped make our nation into what it is today.”

No stranger to community-oriented work, Morris started Flame Keepers in 2004. At that time, she noticed that her oldest son was struggling in high school. Determined to find a solution and to make the “achievement gap” a thing of the past, Morris marched onto the grounds of Milpitas High School to talk to a professional who was knowledgeable about what students like her son were experiencing. She was surprised to find that nobody was focusing on these matters. That’s when Morris took it upon herself to create Flame Keepers, an advocacy organization that would help to close the “achievement gap” in schools.

In the beginning it was slow going. Nobody wanted to listen to Morris, much less address her concerns. However, all that changed when she reached out to Marsha Grilli (Milpitas’ current Vice Mayor), who was serving as President of the Milpitas Unified School District’s Board of Education at the time.

“I couldn’t get a meeting with the superintendent, and Marsha said she would make it happen. She got me on the calendar right away. She set up that meeting with the superintendent. I want to give credit to our women. That’s really what this year’s breakfast is about,” said Morris. “It’s women like Marsha who really move the needle and make the difference. After Marsha got involved, things started to change and move. Awareness started getting out there. There was respect. People wanted to find out about what we were doing.”

Before long, Morris, making use of her bachelor’s degree in management and her master’s in leadership, found herself on the school campus just about every day. She was running monthly meetings and talking to teachers, staff, and counselors. She sat down with principals and with parents. She became a bridge, a kind of liaison, bringing all parties together in pursuit of a brighter future for children. Within a couple of months, test scores started going up. The attitude on campus drastically shifted. Everyone started working together, in a deep flow of collaboration.

At present, Flame Keepers has evolved into an organization that promotes diversity and collaboration, working with schools and the community to represent the needs and concerns of students and families of color. “What we do is engage with the community, and we fill its needs.

People tell us what their concerns are, and we help them push issues,” said Morris. “Parents are calling me all the time, asking for support on challenges in school. We look at the things that aren’t working, and we talk to people to find out what’s happening; we remind them of the framework.”

When asked about the meaning behind the name Flame Keepers, Morris said, “People seemed like they didn’t know where to go. I thought, we need a flame, a light, a beacon. We’ve got to keep this torch lit, so people know where to go and they can find their way. And now, for Flame Keepers, this upcoming breakfast...this is a reflective time for us. So we can look at where we’ve been and where we still need to go.”

Activist and coach Chandra Brooks is slated to take the podium as the breakfast’s Keynote Speaker. Brooks is a powerhouse in the community and has been immersed in a life of service for many years. For the past four years, she has served on the Commission on the Status of Women in Santa Clara County.

After the 2016 presidential election, Brooks felt what she’d seen was a call to action to communities of color; she knew it was time for them to start understanding politics at a local level. Meanwhile, she wanted to inform and empower people to create change in their own communities. This is what led her to write her first book, “Black, Brown & Political.”

At the breakfast, she’ll be speaking about women and their profound impact on community and leadership. “I’m really excited,” said Brooks. “Every time I speak, I try to bring a message of empowerment and inspiration.”

The “Black History Celebration Breakfast” will take place on Saturday, February 10, at Sunnyhills United Methodist Church in Milpitas. Breakfast and admission are free of charge. An awards presentation to honor the achievements and contributions of members of the community will be included as well. For more information, contact Demetress Morris at demetress1@aol.com.

Chabot Park

SUBMITTED BY TERESA MEYER

Officials from the City of San Leandro are excited to announce that Chabot Park (Estudillo Avenue & Sylvan Circle) will be re-opening to the public on Friday, February 9th.

The park has been closed since June 2016 because of extensive seismic retrofit work that was taking place at the nearby Chabot Dam. Opening day visitors can enter the park starting at 9 a.m. After that, regular park hours will be 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. through April, with extended hours in later seasons.

“I am so excited to announce the reopening of Chabot Park,” said San Leandro Mayor Pauline Cutter. “It’s long been a beloved park by many San Leandro residents, and I’m happy that we’ll be able to restore many of the fun recreational opportunities that take place there, including the summer Chabot Day Camp for children. We appreciate the public’s patience during the extended closure that was outside of our control.”

Chabot Park is owned by the East Bay Municipal Utilities District (EBMUD), but maintenance of the park is carried out by the City of San Leandro. The EBMUD Board of Directors recently approved a new 20-year lease agreement for a 9.2-acre portion of the Park, which has been utilized by the city since 1950 for recreational activities and summer children’s camp programs.

No city maintenance has occurred since the park closed for the Chabot Dam Retrofit project. Due to recent weather impacts and muddy conditions, not all amenities will be functional when the park re-opens, such as the disc golf course and horseshoe pits. Updates about the re-opening of these facilities will be posted online by visiting the City of San Leandro webpage at www.sanleandro.org, and then typing “Chabot Park” into the search field.

February is the month to Love Your Body!

February is Heart Month and Dental Health Month. Use the tips on today's page to exercise your heart and be sweet to your teeth!

 Your heart is a muscle. And, like all of your muscles, it works best when you exercise, rest, drink water and eat healthy. Love your heart, and your heart will love you!

Do you feel with your heart?
Are you making pictures of hearts and giving little heart-shaped candies to friends for Valentine's Day? When you make a promise you really, really mean, do you "cross your heart"? Or, do you listen to songs about broken hearts?

We see and hear about hearts everywhere. Long ago, people thought our feelings came from our hearts. Maybe because strong feelings can make our hearts beat faster. Now we know feelings come from the brain, not the heart.

Standards Link: History/Social Science: Understand the purposes of and events honored in holidays.

Draw a heart around the healthy snacks. Draw an X through the unhealthy ones.

SNACKS

Standards Link: Health: Recognize the fitness benefits from various types of foods.

My Funny Valentine
Make a Valentine Puzzle for your special Valentine. Cut a heart shape out of some pink or red paper. Write a message on your heart. Then cut the heart into four or five puzzle pieces. Put all the pieces in an envelope and give it to your Valentine!

Standards Link: Reading Comprehension: Follow simple written directions.

Broken Heart Puzzle
Cut out these shapes. Can you put them together to make a heart? What does the Valentine message say?

Be Sweet to Your Teeth!
Every day a terrible troublemaker hides in your teeth, waiting to carve holes in them – PLAQUE! (Say it like plak, rhymes with tack.) You must remove it everyday, or else it will cause your teeth to decay.

How do you get rid of it? Use the secret code to find the names of the Mighty Plaque Fighters and you will learn how to keep your smile dazzling!

Standards Link: Recognizing similarities and patterns in objects.

Teeth in the News
Look through the newspaper for ads and/or articles that encourage you to eat or drink things that are bad for your teeth. Can you find anything in the newspaper that encourages eating and drinking things that are good for your teeth?

Soul, Rock and Latin Rhythm sounds on tap

SUBMITTED BY
KASSIE SHREVE

Music lovers will want to stay in town this weekend to experience two evenings of live music and vocals at the Smoking Pig BBQ Restaurant on Mowry Avenue in Fremont.

First up at 9 p.m. Friday, Feb. 9, is a program of danger meeting sophistication in the soulful music of The Lucky Losers, San Francisco's premiere male/female duet fronted band. Accompanied by a dynamic six-piece ensemble, veteran Bay Area artists, Cathy Lemons and Phil Berkowitz deliver a truly signature sound, layering elements of Stax/Volt styled rhythm and blues, electric Americana, and psychedelic rock atop a Chicago and Texas blues foundation.

The Lucky Losers were born in the summer of 2013 on a deserted road in Sedona, Arizona. With a Willie Dixon song on the stereo, Lemons and Berkowitz spontaneously began to sing together and felt a spark of magic and came together to begin a new adventure, inspired by the vanishing art of duet singing.

Next up will be the Patrón Latin Rhythms who will perform at 9 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 10. This band is a collaboration of well-seasoned professional musicians with diverse backgrounds who play different styles of Latin music including, jazz, rock, mambo, and even old school rhythm and blues with Latin funk.

The band's goal is to inspire the dancing spirit in everyone with driving percussion rhythms, hair-raising guitar licks, and a horn section that is reminiscent of Tower of Power.

Come for dinner and stay for the show.

Park It

BY NED MACKAY

Love your parks

Valentine’s Day is on Feb. 14, and the East Bay Regional Park District will anticipate it with several activities on the theme of love in nature.

For instance, there’s a ‘Love is in the Air’ hike scheduled from 10 a.m. to noon on Sunday, Feb. 11 at Sunol Regional Wilderness, led by naturalist Ashley Adams. The hike is part of the Healthy Parks/Healthy People series, designed to encourage enjoyable and healthy outdoor recreation in the regional parks and other public open spaces. Ashley will lead the group on a three-mile round trip walk to a pond where newts convene during the breeding season. Newts are a variety of salamander.

Sunol is located at the end of Geary Road off Calaveras Road about five miles south of I-680 in southern Alameda County. Meet Ashley at the park visitor center. The hike is free of charge; Sunol has a parking fee of $5 per vehicle. For information, call (510) 544-3249.

Another newt safari is planned from 10 to 11:30 a.m. on Sunday, Feb. 11, at Garin Regional Park in Hayward, led by naturalist Francis Mendoza. This walk is for ages 12 and older, and heavy rain cancels. Garin is located at the end of Garin Avenue off Mission Boulevard. Meet Francis at Garin’s Red Barn visitor center. Call (510) 544-3220 for information.

There are also lots of newts and other salamanders at Tilden Regional Park near Berkeley. In the rainy season, the newts migrate from woods and fields across South Park Drive to Wildcat Creek for purposes of reproduction.

Naturalist Trent Pearce will lead a walk on South Park Drive from 4 to 6 p.m. on Sunday, Feb. 11 to document the salamander population.

Meet Trent in the Regional Parks Botanic Garden parking lot at the intersection of South Park Drive and Wildcat Canyon Road. Bring a flashlight. The hike will proceed, rain or shine. Call (510) 544-2233.

Also at Tilden, interpretive student aide Brianna Contaxis-Tucker will talk about Charles Darwin and evolution in a program from 1 to 2 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 10 at the Environmental Education Center. She’ll discuss the animal islands of evolution in the Galapagos Islands and at Tilden.

The center is at the north end of Tilden’s Central Park Drive. Call (510) 544-2233.

Elsewhere in the regional parks, one of the more panoramic vistas can be enjoyed from along the George Miller Trail overlooking Carquinez Straits between Martinez and Port Costa.

Naturalist Kevin Dixon will lead a walk from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. on Saturday, Feb. 10 along the paved, wheelchair accessible trail.

Meet Kevin at the staging area on Carquinez Scenic Drive south of Port Costa. You can get there from Crockett or down McEwen Road from Highway 4. For information, call (510) 544-2750.

Recycling is the theme of a program from 2 to 3 p.m. on Saturday, Feb. 10 at Big Break Regional Shoreline in Oakley. The naturalist staff will show how to reuse some common household items and offer hints for recycling and reducing waste.

Big Break is at 69 Big Break Road off Oakley’s Main Street. Call (888) 327-2757, ext. 3050.

A reminder: The Castle Rocks in Mt. Diablo State Park, which overlook Diablo Foothills Regional Park in Walnut Creek, is off limits from now through July 31 to protect nesting peregrine falcons. Please do not enter the area. Signs explaining the restriction are posted at access points along the Old Stage Road trail.

There are lots of other programs scheduled in coming days in the regional parks. For more information, check out the district website, www.ebparks.org.

ZooMobile

With successful visits to Castro Valley, San Lorenzo, and Newark libraries in January, the ZooMobile continues to bring the zoo to you with additional programs through March. The Oakland Zoo’s popular ZooMobile will share “Amazing Adaptations of Animals and Habitats” with a wonderful array of animals including snakes, parrots and more. Education specialists from the zoo will guide the audience through a safari with furry, and not so furry, friends.

FUNDS MISSION
RECONSTRUCTION

SUBMITTED BY JOSHUA JEREMIAH

Pull up a chair and strap on a bib for the 11th annual Committee for the Restoration of Mission San Jose (CRMSJ) Crab Feed fundraiser! Start off your night with a selection of wines from our no-host bar, followed by garlic bread, salad, pasta, and of course, fresh Pacific Coast crab.

Participate in our exciting 50/50 raffle, then satisfy your sweet tooth with our signature CRMSJ wafer and ice cream dessert. Proceeds from ticket sales and the raffle will go toward preserving and restoring Fremont’s beloved Mission, one of the Tri-City’s best known and iconic historical landmarks.

Founded June 11, 1797 the Mission stood proudly until 1868, when an earthquake destroyed the church and part of the padres’ living quarters. In 1973, a group of concerned citizens launched the CRMSJ, a non-profit, non-sectarian organization dedicated to researching, financing, and restoring our beautiful Old Mission San Jose.

Major rebuilding and restoration efforts began in 1982 with the reconstruction of the adobe church, which was completed in 1985. A partnership with the Diocese of Oakland allowed for the completion of seismic retrofitting. Ongoing plans include the reconstruction of missing rooms connecting the Mission church to the adjacent museum.

For tickets to the event, please call or send an email to the Committee and request a reservation form. Payments and forms will also be accepted at the door, but advance purchase is preferred. Please, no outside beverages, doggie bags, or carry outs.

Women's soccer coach Gerace retires from Cal State

SUBMITTED BY STEVE CONNOLLY

After serving as Cal State East Bay's head women's soccer coach for the past 17 years and accumulating 111 career victories, Amy Gerace recently announced her retirement from collegiate athletics. She steps down as the longest-tenured coach in program history.

"I'm so thankful for the opportunities this university has given me, not only in my education, but in providing me the privilege to meet so many great people and create so many amazing memories," said Gerace. "I stepped on this campus for the first time as a sophomore in high school to watch my brother play football. After four years as a student, and 17 as the head soccer coach, I have quite literally grown up here."

Gerace has been a Pioneer for more than 20 years, transferring to Hayward from Diablo Valley College as a student in 1996. She competed for the women's soccer team for two seasons, capturing All-Northern California Athletic Conference honors as a junior and earning a bachelor's degree in marketing in 1998.

The East Bay native spent two seasons as an assistant coach at Chabot College in Hayward while she worked toward her master's degree in kinesiology at Cal State East Bay. After completing graduate school, she was hired as the Pioneers' head coach prior to the 2001 season.

"Amy has had a tremendous impact on Pioneer athletics and the university during her time here," said Jason Carmichael, Director of Athletics. Prior to the 2009 season, Gerace guided the program through the transition to NCAA Division II and the California Collegiate Athletic Association (CCAA). Since then, she has coached eight All-CCAA honorees and two CoSIDA Academic All-District recipients. In 2016, she became the second head coach in program history to record 100 career victories.

Gerace's teams have performed at a perennially high level academically during her tenure. She has coached 68 Academic

All-CCAA honorees, the most of any CSUEB squad since the Pioneers gained membership in the conference. In addition, her teams have collected the National Soccer Coaches Association of America's Team Academic award, for achieving at least a 3.0 collective grade point average, every single year since joining Division II.

"I have had the opportunity to coach some amazing young women and work with some incredible people," Gerace added. "Leaving East Bay was a very difficult decision, but I will be changing careers to join a real estate team whose flexible schedule will allow me to spend more time with my three children and be more active in their busy lives. Coaching has meant the world to me, and I'm excited for what's to come."

Colts outlast Cougars

In a packed gym at Newark Memorial High School on February 2nd, a long rivalry for dominance in Mission Valley Athletic League (MVAL) basketball continued. Always a game of significance, this contest was no different. The James Logan Colts (Union City) took control of the paint area from the outset and took an early lead, but then the Cougars came roaring back with great shooting and defense, holding a slim 16-15 lead at the half. Momentum appeared in the Cougars' corner. The third quarter, however, favored the Colts as they went on a 11-8 run and regained the lead. A solid defensive effort gave the Colts the victory with a 50-43 win.

Both teams now have an 8-2 record, just one game behind

Moreau Catholic (Hayward) at 9-1. The battle for a MVAL championship is tight and who will reign this year is up for grabs. Newark Memorial will next play the Moreau Catholic Mariners on Tuesday, February 13 at Moreau and James Logan plays Moreau Catholic on Friday, February 16 at Moreau Catholic. Both games are critical and not to be missed!

Track and field coach is moving on

SUBMITTED BY STEVE CONNOLLY

After spending the past two seasons as an assistant coach at Cal State East Bay, Mark Del Monaco has been named head cross country and track and field coach at Minot State in North Dakota. The announcement was made on Monday, Jan. 29. "I would like to thank Jason Carmichael, Joan McDermott, and Tony Nicolosi for the opportunity that I received at Cal State East Bay," said Del Monaco. "I also want to thank the student-athletes I had the privilege to work with during my time here. They accepted me into their family from day one, and I was so proud of what they accomplished. I have no doubt that CSUEB's cross country and track and field program will continue to soar to new heights in the coming years."

Del Monaco joined the East Bay coaching staff prior to the 2016-17 season and helped oversee the program's two most successful seasons since re-joining NCAA Division II. This past fall, both the men's and women's cross-country teams posted their highest-ever finishes at California Collegiate Athletic Association (CCAA) championships. A graduate of La Salle University who coached at Metro State in Denver, Colorado before coming to Cal State East Bay, Del Monaco helped elevate the Pioneer distance program to a legitimate contender in the CCAA. Del Monaco helped the Pioneers achieve success in the classroom as well. In 2016-17, the CSUEB men were one of just three CCAA squads to earn United States Track & Field and Cross-Country Coaches Association (USTFCCCA) All-Academic Team honors.

Valle new transportation chair

SUBMITTED BY
TESS LENGYEL

At its first Commission meeting of 2018, the Alameda County Transportation Commission unanimously elected Alameda County Supervisor Richard Valle as its chair, and unanimously elected San Leandro Mayor Pauline Cutter as vice chair.

“I’m truly honored to be elected to serve as chair of the Alameda County Transportation Commission,” says Chair Valle, who has been a member of the Commission since 2012. “It is a great privilege to lead Alameda CTC in partnership with my colleagues, as we deliver critically important transportation programs and projects throughout Alameda County. This year we will focus on leveraging our local Measure BB funds to close project funding gaps with new state and regional funds.”

Upon taking this leadership role, Chair Valle outlined several priorities for 2018, among many, including:

- Advancing our rail strategy in partnership with other agencies and Union Pacific Railroad, while expanding our Safe Routes to Schools program to include a rail safety education program to reduce pedestrian collisions;
 - Major multimodal corridor improvements;
 - Update of the bicycle and pedestrian plan, including the Niles Canyon Trail;
 - Express lane expansion; and
 - Expanding the Affordable Student Transit Pass Program.
- Additionally, the Commission’s accomplishments over the three years since the passage of Measure BB by Alameda County voters were noted, including:
- Managing the more than $1 billion worth of capital projects in various stages of delivery throughout every major corridor in the county, including the recently awarded construction contract for the new I-680 Sunol Northbound Express Lane;
 - Development of the GoPort Project, increasing freight efficiency and reducing truck congestion and air pollution around the Port of Oakland;

- Two years of the hallmark Measure BB Student Transit Pass Program; and
- Expansion of the Safe Routes to Schools program and strengthening of paratransit programs.

Alameda CTC implements the voter-approved Measures B and BB as well as the Measure F vehicle license fee to improve transportation throughout Alameda County. The Commission is comprised of 22 members, with the following representation:

- All five Alameda County Supervisors
- Two Oakland representatives
- One representative from each of the other 13 cities in Alameda County
- One representative from AC Transit
- One representative from BART

“I’m excited to be part of the leadership of Alameda CTC to continue our collaborative work as we deliver projects and programs to the public. Thanks to the voter-approved Measure BB, we are working to improve mobility for bicyclists and pedestrians, support our transportation infrastructure, and leverage our local funding in order to meet the demands on the regional transportation network,” says Vice Chair Pauline Cutter, Mayor of the City of San Leandro.

The chair and vice chair are elected to serve a one-year term. A complete list of Commissioners may be found online at www.alamedactc.org.

New bills address domestic violence, protect the environment

SUBMITTED BY TOMASA DUEÑAS

Assemblymember Bill Quirk (D-Hayward) has introduced two bills in partnership with Alameda County District Attorney, Nancy E. O’Malley.

“One of the first bills I worked on as an assemblymember was in partnership with District Attorney O’Malley,” said Assemblymember Quirk. “This year, I’m glad to work with her again on two bills that will protect lives and the environment.”

“I am proud to partner with Assemblymember Quirk on two important pieces of legislation that are vital to public safety,” said District Attorney O’Malley.

The two bills introduced January 31 are:

- AB 1973: clarifies that emergency medical service workers are mandated reporters.
 - AB 1980: extends the statute of limitations for the prosecution of violations of the Aboveground Petroleum Storage Act.
- “AB 1973 makes clear that emergency medical service workers are mandated reporters for domestic violence. This clarification will enable and empower these first responders make a report, a proactive step vital to preventing further abuse and escalating violence. I believe this bill will save lives. AB 1980 enables prosecutors throughout the state to better protect the environment from petroleum spills. Petroleum spills endanger the environment, which could be extremely beneficial to the advanced manufacturing sector in Fremont and the greater Silicon Valley area.

Ming Lee, Wellex

The Internet of Things (IoT) is changing many business models. IoT helps increase business output and advances automation across a number of industries. As a contract manufacturer (CM) in Fremont, we see the impact from this technological revolution in terms of growing smart manufacturing capabilities.

Many manufacturers in automotive, chemical, oil, energy, heavy machines, appliance equipment, and electronics have already invested heavily in IoT software and hardware devices and have significantly benefited from the technology. Manufacturers utilizing IoT solutions in 2017 saw a 20 percent increase in revenues on average. This year, the emerging innovation and investment in artificial intelligence (AI) technology will enhance IoT even more for manufacturers.

There are hundreds of high-tech manufacturers in the Fremont Innovation District, and Wellex is proud to be among them. In 2018, many will look for innovative solutions and incorporate AI/IoT/smart manufacturing products and systems into their operations for higher output and revenue. Wellex is happy to be a leader in this trend.

Fremont’s focus on attracting and growing its base of advanced manufacturing, biomedical, and clean tech will continue to see dividends in 2018. Fueled by intense investment from venture capitalists and other seed money sources over prior years, look for the growth and maturation of many of these companies. This in turn will drive demand for R&D and commercial space within the City, particularly for mid-size spaces and buildings. In addition, innovation craves collaboration. Fremont’s established base of entrepreneurial companies, coupled with its highly educated workforce, not only fuels organic growth, but will continue attracting outside investment and relocations. All of this has been made possible by Fremont’s foresight into transit-oriented housing. Companies have learned that they can’t disconnect employees’ well-being outside the office from their well-being and performance inside the office. Access to new housing with a variety of transportation options will also spur new tenant acquisitions.

pollute drinking water, and imperil public health,” stated District Attorney O’Malley

“These bills are a reflection of two key priorities for me: helping victims of domestic violence and protecting our environment. I know that when first responders see abuse they report it. However, I was surprised to learn that emergency medical service workers are technically not mandated to do that. AB 1973 clarifies that. Truthfully, they are often at the frontline, helping victims of domestic violence escape their violent environment. AB 1980 protects the quality of drinking water, public health and the environment from contamination that can be caused by petroleum spills” said Assemblymember Quirk.

WILLIAM MARSHAK

new residential land replace it. This is a one-sided zero-sum game since more and more land is being required or rezoned for housing without a similar demand for balance on the retail/commercial side of things.

Pruning in planning terms borrows from horticulturists by assuming that cutting old and “dead” retail/commercial space for housing will energize and stimulate growth in concentrated business sections or corridors. However, cities and communities are not plants; they do not create new land and space each spring. Once land is repurposed for housing, it is difficult to reclaim it, even if desired at a later time. In some instances, repurposing land makes sense and will invigorate and energize an area while in others, it may actually retard or reverse the quality of life for everyone.

Two cases in point will be discussed at the Fremont City Council meeting tonight. One development is called “The Cottages” and will replace what is currently zoned as “Service Industrial” to “Low-Medium Density Residential.” While adjacent to residential neighborhoods, the impact of removing work spaces and parking restrictions for new residences may present a problem. Now occupied by various automobile repair and contractors, the 3.29 acres in the Centerville Community Plan Area next to railroad tracks will be infilled with 37 housing units. There is no parking available on Blacow Road adjacent to the planned development. This is one more commercial/industrial site sacrificed to housing.

The second illustration is an example of housing fulfilling a local need and using existing space for housing that not only makes sense, but will create a noticeable difference for our community.

Eight attached residential units are proposed for a corner of the Pioneer Cemetery in Centerville, site of a former Presbyterian church. Currently, the space is vacant and due to historical relevance, use is restricted. Four units of the proposed development will be housing for “church pastors, youth workers, and church staff, enabling them to continue living in our community.” This site, close to work, some retail and mass transit, should have little traffic impact. There will be no sacrifice to land use and affordable housing will be created for a local institution, Centerville Presbyterian Church.

Whether to prune or not is not only the question, but a critical decision about the future of our communities. In the hands of skilled and patient gardeners who have a clear vision of future growth, pruning can take place without sacrificing a plant’s roots. Completely removing the plant is not pruning, rather clear cutting. This may be helpful at times, but using such drastic measures can also create long range difficulties such as permanent loss of habitat. Those charged with responsibility for gardens, parks and forests know the difference. Does the same hold true for our city planners?

Pruning is a bittersweet process. Watching the deliberate amputation of trees and bushes can be painful when growth of a previous year is discarded as debris and unwanted excess. Horticulturists know, however, that in many cases, the welcome development of one year can be harmful to the next generation of growth. Viewing the carnage of a master gardener following prudent pruning techniques can look awful but the following spring, as new buds emerge, will prove that the slaughter was not only necessary, but healthy. The advantage of space to receive sunlight energy and directing growth in welcome patterns becomes apparent. Fruits of these labors are evident.

The concept of pruning has been adopted by the planning community as a metaphor within urban growth. It asserts that haphazard zoning has allowed poorly defined areas of commercial, retail, industrial and residential to mingle. To allow this to continue defeats the constant drumbeat and demand for more housing. Housing is currently king and must be obeyed; a priority above commercial and industrial land use. Agricultural land is a scarce commodity these days and, if found locally, under ominous jeopardy. If land is diverted to uses other than housing, State mandates are in place to demand that a balance of

$6 million California police tracking system not working

ASSOCIATED PRESS

A California police department dogged by a sexual misconduct scandal has spent $6 million on a court-ordered computer program to track officer conduct that is not working properly, a court official said.

The court-appointed monitor of the Oakland Police Department recently told a federal judge that the computer program is plagued by cost overruns, bugs and data-collection errors.

Monitor Robert Warshaw found the computer program continues to experience bugs and poor data collection after a slow start. The program is designed to help the department eliminate unnecessary and unproductive “officer stops” and track officer conduct, including how often they use guns and engage in vehicle pursuits.

City spokeswoman Karen Boyd said the program initially suffered from staff turnover and miscommunication. But she said the city council has allocated more money to fix the problems and administrators list the program as Oakland’s top computing priority.

“This is an extremely complicated project, and much good work has been done over the years,” Boyd said. “We have a good understanding of where we are today, including usability issues that need to be improved” in the next version.

U.S. District Judge William Orrick oversees the department as part of a civil rights lawsuit. The court appointed Warshaw to monitor the department and submit frequent reports to the judge. Orrick scheduled a hearing for Friday, Feb. 2, to discuss the monitor’s report.

Several officers, including the former chief, lost their jobs in 2016 after an underage prostitute said she traded sex for protection with several officers. The city paid the woman nearly $1 million to settle her legal claim last year. The Associated Press doesn’t generally identify victims of sexual abuse.

Julie Malaspina went home to our Lord and Savior on January 23rd with her loving husband John, daughter Catherine and son Mark by her side. Julie was born August 25, 1938 to Thomas and Julia Mulhall in lovely Dublin, Ireland. Peter, Thomas, Noel, Jerry, John, Margaret, Angela, and May were her siblings. Julie was the “last of the litter.” She is survived by her brothers Jim and Pat. Her extended family includes many wonderful nieces, nephews and in-laws. In 1960, Julie immigrated to the United States and settled in San Francisco. In July of 1962, Julie received a phone call from an admirer named John Malaspina and, after a beautiful courtship, they were married on September 14, 1963. As a young couple, they purchased a home in Newark and raised their family there. During her lifetime, Julie worked for Standard Oil, Pontiac Motor Division, Varian Associates and JC Penny’s, but she always considered housewife and motherhood as her greatest achievements. Julie would have loved to personally say goodbye to her friends at Aglow, Uplift and Hanna’s Circle. They all brought her so much joy and comfort through the years.

Police impersonator nabbed after alleged rape

SUBMITTED BY
LT. RAJ MAHARAJ,
MILPITAS PD

An investigation involving police from Milpitas and Tracy has resulted in the arrest of a man on suspicion of raping a woman at a Milpitas motel while impersonating a law enforcement officer.

On Tuesday, Jan. 16, a man, later identified by police as Stanley Troy Friesen, 54, of Tracy, contacted a female victim through a dating internet site and arranged to meet her at the Baymont Inn, located at 66 South Main Street.

At about 11:30 a.m. Friesen met the victim in her motel room and displayed a badge and firearm. Friesen identified himself as a police officer. He told the victim he wanted to have sex with her and would not tell anyone about the contact if she complied. The victim, fearing for her safety and believing Friesen was a police officer, agreed to have sex with him.

The next week, at about 4:20 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 25, Milpitas Police detectives located Friesen in Tracy, and with the assistance of the Tracy Police Department, took him into custody. Friesen was arrested on suspicion of rape, sodomy, oral copulation, and impersonating a police officer. Friesen also had a no bail arrest warrant for a probation violation out of Santa Clara County and was booked into the Santa Clara County Main Jail.

Based on their investigation, Milpitas Police detectives believe Friesen may have sexually assaulted other women he may have met online and are asking that anyone who might have had

In response to a dramatic spike in Bay Area auto burglaries, Fremont Police launched a regional investigation recently resulting in nine arrests and millions of dollars in recovered property.

Over the last two months, Fremont detectives uncovered a massive international fencing scheme in the Bay Area. The investigation began in late 2017 as detectives were conducting follow-up investigations to several auto burglaries taking place in commercial shopping centers along the I-880 corridor in Fremont. Because of an approximate 35 percent increase in theft from autos during 2017, several department resources were directed at the rising crime.

During an undercover surveillance operation on Dec. 8, 2017, property crimes detectives were led to a storage facility in San Jose. At the location, detectives saw suspects loading suspected stolen electronic devices into a large storage container commonly used to ship freight overseas. Detectives seized and searched the container, discovering more than 900 stolen electronic devices (laptops and tablets). The estimated $1 million in stolen property was intended for shipment to Vietnam.

A careful investigation revealed a highly sophisticated multi-million dollar fencing scheme operating in the Bay Area. Street-level criminal suspects, many of them members of validated street gangs, were found to be breaking and entering parked vehicles in cities throughout the Bay Area to steal laptops, smart phones and tablets. It was determined that the conspiracy was centralized in Santa Clara County. Detectives consulted with the Santa Clara County District Attorney's Crime Strategies Unit, who assisted in authoring warrants and high bail affidavits for the large scale pre-planned operation, throughout the investigation.

On Thursday, Jan. 25, detectives organized a multi-location operation to serve seven search warrants around the Bay Area. With the assistance of United States Customs Airport Division, two of the targets were stopped as they attempted to board a flight to Vietnam. The two suspects had 18 items of luggage containing more than 300 suspected stolen electronic devices. Detectives recovered more than 700 more items of suspected stolen property and arrested seven more suspects on the day of the operation at the suspect locations.

The total recovered loss at this point in the investigation is estimated to be about $2 million.

In collaboration with the Santa Clara County District Attorney's Office, eight of the suspects were charged with multiple felony counts including conspiracy, possession of stolen property and an excessive takings enhancement. The ninth suspect was arrested and released. This case remains open and ongoing with detectives continuing to identify the additional suspects responsible for breaking and entering vehicles in Fremont.

Those arrested included:

- Carlos Paz, 28, of San Francisco
- Huong Tran, 31, of San Jose
- Benjamin Pham, 44, of San Jose
- Luan Huynh, 30, of San Jose
- Hung On, 51, of San Jose
- Cinthia Martinez, 38, of San Francisco
- Marvin Paz, 33, of San Francisco
- Rony Martinez, 34, of San Francisco

Anyone with information about this case is asked to contact the Fremont Police General Crimes Unit at (510) 790-6900 or email Detective A. Stillitano at astillitano@fremont.gov. The City of Newark hereby notifies all bidders that it will affirmatively ensure that in any contract entered into pursuant to this advertisement, disadvantaged business and women owned business enterprises will be afforded full opportunity to submit bids in response to the invitation and will not be discriminated against on the grounds of race, religious creed, color, national origin, ancestry, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition, genetic information, marital status, sex, gender, gender identity, gender expression, age, sexual orientation, including a perception that the person has any of these characteristics or that the person is associated with a person who has, or is perceived to have, any of those characteristics in consideration for an award. Pursuant to Section 1773 of the Labor Code, the general prevailing rate of wages in the county in which the work is to be done has been determined by the Director of the Department of Industrial Relations of the State of California. These wages are set forth in the General Prevailing Wage Rates for this project. The Contractor and all subcontractors shall pay all their employees performing labor under this Contract salaries or wages at least equal to the general prevailing wage rates for the particular crafts, classifications or types of workers employed on this project. These wage rates appear in the latest Department of Industrial Relations publication. Future effective wage rates which have been predetermined and are on file with the Department of Industrial Relations are referenced but not printed in said publication, and are available on the internet at www.dir.ca.gov. NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF CATHERINE BROSNAN PANCONI AKA CATHERINE BROSNAN CASE NO. RP 18 887845

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: Catherine Brosnan Panconi or Catherine Brosnan
A Petition for Probate has been filed by Patricia Dombrink in the Superior Court of California, County of Alameda.

The Petition for Probate requests that Patricia Dombrink be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on Feb 20, 2018 at 9:31 am in Dept. 201 located at 2120 Martin Luther King Jr Way, Berkeley CA 94704.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. Improving your commute with new state funding

Alameda County Transportation Commission (CTC) is working hard to improve your commute. With grant funds from Senate Bill 1, we will be able to fast track the following projects so that you can move around the county and the region faster, no matter what transportation method you choose.

SR-84 Widening and SR-84/I-680 Interchange Improvements will reduce congestion, increase safety and improve the commute for travelers from South County to the Tri-Valley. Senate Bill 1 funding would help Caltrans and Alameda CTC turn SR-84 into a true expressway while also improving interchange ramps with I-680 and extending the southbound

I-680 express lanes northward by about two miles.

Transforming major roads in Alameda County will improve the flow of traffic for drivers, transit users, cyclists and pedestrians along San Pablo Avenue in North County and the East 14th Street and Mission corridor in Central and South County. Alameda CTC has begun work to identify projects that will facilitate improvements for faster transit, local goods movement deliveries, and safe walking and biking facilities.

Express lanes on the fast track

Alameda CTC will help ease your commute thanks to the construction of the I-680 Northbound Express Lane. The project will widen the existing freeway, construct a roughly nine-mile express lane on northbound I-680 from Auto Mall Parkway to SR-84, and upgrade the adjacent southbound I-680 express lane for easier access. In addition to reducing traffic, these improvements will also provide more reliable travel times and encourage ride sharing and the use of public transit, on one of the top 10 most congested freeway corridors in the Bay Area.

I-580 express lanes a huge hit in the Tri-Valley

The I-580 express lanes are now the most heavily used in the Bay Area with over 14.5 million trips since the lanes opened in February 2016. More than 5.1 million trips used the lanes as carpools or clean air vehicles for free and over 9.4 million chose to pay the toll to take advantage of the express lanes. Tolls collected will be used by Alameda CTC to operate and maintain the express lanes and make repairs.

Addressing traffic relief along I-580 in Oakland

Help is on its way for another section of I-580: the commute from the Bay Bridge toll plaza to SR-238, which is one of the top 25 most congested corridors in the region. In late October, Alameda CTC approved $200,000 in funding to conduct a Design Alternative Assessment in partnership with MTC. The assessment will evaluate the feasibility of adding a bus lane, carpool lane or express lane on all or a portion of this part of 580 to help improve overall flow to and from the Bay Bridge during commute hours. Stay tuned for assessment results and a proposed plan in fall 2018!

Driver in stolen car rams into police vehicle

While checking the area of Davis Street and Timothy Drive on the morning of Friday, Jan. 26, San Leandro police officers located a 2011 Cadillac sedan that had been reported stolen parked in the Westgate Shopping Center.

Inside the Cadillac was a man and woman. Officers tried take the pair into custody, but instead, the male driver started the car and sped away. Officers pursued the Cadillac onto Timothy Drive, and while evading officers, the suspect driver clipped the rear end of another vehicle in the roadway.

Police followed the Cadillac into a residential neighborhood, ending up on the 600 Block of Tudor Court, a dead-end street.

While evading officers, the suspect driver clipped the rear end of another vehicle in the roadway.

Trying to escape, the man turned the Cadillac around and drove head-on toward a marked San Leandro Police patrol vehicle and collided with the front end of the patrol car. The officer was not injured. Eventually, the driver lost control of the Cadillac and it veered into a power pole and stopped.

Additional officers arriving on the scene and took the suspects into custody. Neither the driver or passenger were injured, but both were taken to area hospitals for evaluation before going to jail.

“We are thankful that no one was seriously injured in this event,” said San Leandro Police

Lieutenant Isaac Benabou. “This was a deliberate act by the suspect to ram our officer in an attempt to escape. The suspect will now face multiple felony charges.”

Meanwhile, SLPD officers attempted to locate and contact the motorist that was struck by the fleeing suspect, but the vehicle left the area prior to police arrival. The vehicle struck was described as a “white transit van.”

The vehicle had been reported stolen to the Fremont Police Department on Jan. 26. No other information was immediately available. San Leandro Police investigators are asking for anyone with information regarding the incident, including the white transit van that was struck, to please contact them at (510) 577-2740.

Officials celebrate transfer of SR 185 to Alameda County

Assemblymember Bill Quirk (D-Hayward) presided over a ceremony February 1, 2018 to celebrate the first phase of long-needed road improvements to SR-185. The gathering at Ashland Place was to celebrate the passage of Assembly Bill (AB) 333 that bill authorizes Caltrans to relinquish the segment of SR-185 (between the City of San Leandro and Hayward) to Alameda County and clears the way for Alameda County to implement the next phase in significant improvements along this route.

“This is an exciting day. The County has been fighting to claim ownership of this road for years. The condition along this portion of SR-185 has been in continuous deterioration due to a lack of maintenance. Today’s ceremony symbolizes the start of the formal and official transfer of ownership to the County,” said Assemblymember Quirk.

Assemblymember Quirk was joined by Senator Bob Wieckowski (D-Fremont), Supervisor Wilma Chan, California Department of Transportation

District 4 Director Bijan Sartipi, Alameda County Public Works Director Daniel Woldesenbet, and Community Development Initiative Manager with Ashland Place, Breann Gala.

The section of SR-185 running along sections of Mission Boulevard and East 14th Street in unincorporated Alameda County is currently owned and maintained by CalTrans. Proposed improvements include bicycle and pedestrian facilities, pavement rehabilitation, pedestrian scale lighting, utility undergrounding, landscaping, and streetscape improvements.

“I appreciate the tremendous efforts of our public agencies and Assemblyman Quirk to pass AB 333. Transferring ownership of State Route-185 will allow Alameda County to expedite the process for planned corridor improvements that will revitalize the Ashland and Cherryland communities,” said Supervisor Wilma Chan.

“This relinquishment will facilitate the efficient construction and implementation of the Public Works Agency’s corridor improvement project, provide more local control and enable us to be more responsive to constituent concerns regarding roadway conditions,” said Daniel Woldesenbet, Director of Public Works.

“Alameda County has been diligent in listening to the concerns of the community regarding the problems along SR-185. I am excited to see this area revitalized and better utilized. Who knows, you may spot me on a bike along this route,” said Assemblymember Quirk.

Resident Input for 2017-18 Mid-year Budget Review

Calling all Fremont residents! As the City prepares for its Mid-year Budget Review in early March, members of the community are encouraged to share their input on investment priorities for any remaining available funds for the second half of the fiscal year. The City Council will consider feedback from residents along with City staff’s analysis of current budget performance as it plans expenditures between now and June 30.

Based on this information, the City Council will evaluate results and consider making mid-year adjustments to the Fiscal Year 2017-18 Adopted Operating Budget should there be available resources.

Fremont residents can join the conversation via Fremont Open City Hall, the online civic engagement forum. After reviewing spending categories, respondents have the option to classify each initiative as ‘high priority,’ ‘normal priority,’ or ‘low priority.’

Investment categories include the following:

- Social services grants to community organizations
- Downtown community center and plaza enhancements
- Online/mobile customer service system for residents and businesses

- Traffic safety improvements
- Parks/recreation facilities improvements
- General Fund operating reserves

Feedback is welcome via the Fremont Open City Hall forum at www.Fremont.gov/OpenCity-HallBudget. The topic closes March 2.

Fremont Energy Prize Competition

In recent years, the City of Fremont has made great strides in reducing municipal and community energy consumption and improving overall environmental sustainability. As one of 50 semifinalist competitors in the Georgetown University Energy Prize (GUEP) competition—a two-year long national competition among small- to medium-sized communities to reduce per capita energy usage in the residential, municipal, and public school sectors—Fremont committed itself to implementing innovative, replicable, and scalable models of energy efficiency during the 2015–2016 timeframe.

With a final GUEP ranking of 20th nationally, Fremont reduced energy consumption in homes by about 15 percent and in City operations by over 23 percent between 2013 and 2016. To achieve these savings as well as demonstrate continued commitment to the City’s climate action goals, Fremont has promoted energy efficiency upgrades and renewable energy installations for both local residences as well as public facilities.

Fremont residents have not only reduced their energy consumption; they are also producing their own clean energy. In 2015, Fremont partnered with Bay Area Sun-Shares to launch a residential solar group purchasing program. The SunShares program, which just completed its third year, offers residents a limited-time, pre-negotiated discount on solar photovoltaic systems from reputable Bay Area solar vendors. Hundreds of Fremont residents have participated in solar educational workshops, with a total of 77 homes utilizing the SunShares program directly to install rooftop solar. The City has also improved solar permitting processes, provided access to property assessed clean energy (PACE) financing, and supported the local clean technology sector. In fact, these efforts earned the City top designation as a SolSmart Gold community at the end of 2016 from the U.S. Department of Energy for encouraging solar market transformation. By late 2017, a total of 29.1 MW of solar generating capacity had been installed on 3,441 homes and 85 non-residential facilities throughout Fremont, with more than half of those installations occurring in just the past three years alone.

To learn more about energy upgrade and climate action opportunities, visit the Fremont Green Challenge at www.Fremont.gov/GreenChallenge.

New Emergency Alert System, AC Alert

On February 1, 2018, the City of Fremont transitioned to a new mass notification service, AC Alert, to replace the CodeRED® system. The AC Alert system, powered by Everbridge, is Alameda County’s Emergency Notification System that covers Alameda, Albany, Berkeley, Dublin, Emeryville, Fremont, Hayward, Livermore, Newark, Oakland, Piedmont, Pleasanton, San Leandro, Union City, and unincorporated areas. It provides community members with both emergency alerts and non-emergency notifications to targeted geographic areas, the entire city, or county, depending on the scope of the emergency situation.

The Fremont Police Department and Fremont Fire Department will use the new AC Alert system to notify residents and businesses of situations that pose imminent threats to life or health.

A major benefit of AC Alert is its ability to use the nation’s alert and warning infrastructure, Integrated Public Alert & Warning System (IPAWS), which provides public safety officials with an effective way to alert and warn the public about serious emergencies using public alerting systems from a single interface.

To register, visit www.ACAAlert.org and create a profile to enroll landline telephone numbers, cell numbers, and both email and physical addresses. Emergency 911 data and commercially obtained white pages landline numbers will be uploaded into the system and refreshed twice yearly. The AC Alert system uses the 911 database, opt-in subscribers, and Nixle subscribers (Everbridge owns Nixle and the two systems are integrated). The Fremont police and fire departments will continue to use Nixle for non-emergency notifications. The data collected will only be used for community alerts and notifications. Please note that standard text messaging charges apply.

The transition to AC Alert exemplifies the City’s commitment to keep everyone in the community connected and safe. It is essential that all individuals who live, work, or learn in Fremont are updated on any pending emergency situations, as well as any protective actions that may need to be taken.

For more information about the new AC Alert system, visit www.Fremont.gov/CommunityAlert.

Young chess players make all the right moves

Student chess team members from Mission San Jose Elementary School (MSJES) focused hard during a recent match against an all-star team from Berkeley Chess School (BCS).

Their perseverance at the match paid off with a win at the Saturday, January 20 event held at the school which also attracted players from 20 other schools. The victory was especially sweet because Berkeley Chess School is the largest scholastic chess program in the Bay Area and attracts many of the region’s top players.

Twenty-six MSJES students played in the match against BCS which runs chess programs at more than 50 schools in the Bay Area.

In a chess match (as opposed to a tournament) the top players from each team play on board 1, the number two players play on board 2, and so on. In this match each player played two games with the same opponent, switching colors after the first game.

This format meant that most MSJES players were playing the top chess players from an opposing school. In addition to being at a disadvantage of one school playing 20 schools, MSJE was missing its top player Kevin Pan, because of illness.

Nonetheless, MSJE did very well on the top boards. Aghilan Nachaippan, (board 1) Annapoorni Sathappan (board 2) (each team could play one or two seventh grade graduates) and Nicholas Jiang (board 3) each won their first and second games.

On board 4 Allyson Wong contributed a draw and a win to give MSJE a 7.5 to 0.5 advantage on the top four boards.

After this first round the score was tied 13 to 13. MSJE won round two, 15 to 11 for a 28 to 24 victory.

Other MSJES players winning both their games were Lucas Jiang, Aditya Arulta, Swagatha Selvan, Aidan Ma, Arnab Pawar, and Advita Ranga Ramanujan.

Also competing for MSJES were Stephen He, Aidan Chen, Sai Divyesh Tunguturu. Jolene

Liu, Jason Liu, Nivedha Manic, Vivdh Goenka, Artham Pawar, Jainlin Chen, Arnab Gupta, Meghana Satish, Dev Bhatt, and Dhruv Sheth.

Having won all three major state championships (K-6, K-5, and K-3) over the last six years, MSJES is the top scholastic chess team in northern California. The coaches are Joe Lonsdale, Meiyaps Sathappan, Nachi Nachiappan, Terry and Cathy Liu, and Chris Torres.

Alameda County students graduate

Approximately 40 high school students served directly by the Alameda County Office of Education (ACOE) will soon don caps and gowns to participate in the annual Winter graduation activities.

Graduates of ACOE’s Student Programs and Services division (SPaS) will be treated to a graduation luncheon, followed by a graduation ceremony in front of family, friends and supporters, on February 12 at the San Leandro Performing Arts Center.

ACOE is particularly proud to also offer senior portrait photo sessions as a complimentary service to students, as ordering photos can be cost-prohibitive to many. In addition to individual headshots, the students of the parenting teen programs can choose to be photographed with their children and family members.

“All high school graduates should be commended for their academic achievement, but our ACOE scholars are deserving of special recognition for their resilience and perseverance,” said L. Karen Monroe, County Superintendent of Schools. “ACOE graduates are an inspiration to all of us who believe that great things can happen when you never give up.”

Students served by SPaS are often the most vulnerable youth in the County, attending the program as a last chance at high school graduation. SPaS provides year-round alternative education programs for this diverse student population. With a current enrollment of more than 260 students from across Alameda County, ACOE SPaS operates a variety of programs.

In most cases, students are enrolled based on a referral from another institution. These programs provide academic instruction and support services to the county’s most vulnerable students. For more information on participating in a program visit Student Programs and Services on the ACOE website (<https://www.acoe.org/>).

Young Democrats group adopt Dreamers resolutions

SUBMITTED BY CRYSTAL ARAUJO

During their recent winter meeting in New York, the Young Democrats of America (YDA) came together to unanimously adopt resolutions in support of the DREAMers and to recognize Higher Education Student Debt as a crisis.

The two resolutions were drafted through the South Alameda County Young Democrats’ (SACYD) recently established policy committees, and co-authored by East Bay Young Democrats (EBYD). “Now, if we could only get the majority of Congress to [do] its job!” said Igor Tregub, co-author and EBYD member.

The DREAMers’ resolution passed on consent sending a strong and unified message that Young Democrats across the nation have come together in one voice to stand with the DREAMers and to demand the cancellation of deportation of young people and allow permanent residency status to all DACA recipients. The resolution states: “We cannot allow our neighbors and friends to live in fear of the administration. We must continue to demonstrate that we are stronger together and echo the California Democratic Party that also supports Dreamers.”

The resolution on the Higher Education Student Debt Crisis passed with the same urgency as the debt recently reached $1.36 trillion. YDA recognized, “student loan debt as an economic crisis mainly affecting young people pursuing higher education to become contributing members of society and acknowledge that both current and future students should be afforded every opportunity to obtain an education without the burden of crippling debt.”

Crystal Araujo and Kathryn Larrowe, SACYD board members and authors of the resolutions, invite California Young Democrats (CYD) leaders across the state to join efforts to introducing California versions of these resolutions at the CYD board meeting at the California Democratic Party State Convention in San Diego, set for Feb. 23 – 25.

Union Sanitary District Centennial Stories

BY MICHELLE POWELL

Union Sanitary District (USD) is celebrating one hundred years of service to the Tri-Cities in 2018 with a look back at our history, a look forward to the future, and an Open House event in May to share some family-friendly fun with our customers.

USD is proud of its century of providing wastewater collection, treatment, and disposal services to the Tri-Cities, and we’ll share historical highlights and fun facts in this newspaper during the coming months. In our founding year of 1918, USD’s boundaries encompassed 3,300 acres in what was known as Southern Alameda County. The area was primarily farm and ranchland well into the twentieth century, and septic tanks were typically used for wastewater disposal.

Today, USD’s service area covers over 60 square miles (about 38,400 acres), and serves over 350,000 residents in the cities of Fremont, Newark, and Union City, with over 113,000 residential, commercial, and industrial connections. Total flow to our Alvarado Treatment Plant in Union City was over 8.5 billion gallons in 2017, and averages between 22 and 24 million gallons every day.

Here’s a preview of just a few of the subjects we’ll explore in future issues:

- USD’s early years, highlighting how several local sewer districts became part of Union Sanitary District
- The transformation of smaller Tri-City treatment plants into pump stations that direct flow to our centralized plant in Union City, and the plant’s expansions and upgrades to meet the needs of our growing communities
- The Federal Clean Water Act as a catalyst for USD’s partnership with nearby agencies to build a “Super Sewer” common transport line for a regional approach to protection of water quality in the San Francisco Bay

Plant in 1964

• Today’s challenges in wastewater collection and treatment, and how residents can protect their sewer laterals and public infrastructure

• Preparing for the future: USD’s master planning efforts to develop a roadmap for our next 20 to 40 years of service

“We’re honored to be an integral part of the history and daily life of the Tri-Cities,” says General Manager Paul Eldredge.

USD’s Centennial Open House will be the highlight of its commemorative year on Saturday, May 19, from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. A previous event held in 2015 was a smash-hit with the community – over 1,100 attendees enjoyed touring the plant, viewing displays and interactive demonstrations, and chatting with District staff. “We’re busy planning even more fun ways for kids and adults to learn about USD’s protection of public health and the environment during the Centennial event,” says Eldredge. “Our dedicated, highly-trained staff enjoys showcasing the complexities of maintaining over 819 miles of sewer lines and operating a 33-acre wastewater treatment plant. This is a very special birthday for us, and we’re excited to celebrate it with our customers.”
