'Altamont to America' celebrates the work of Bill Owens

SUBMITTED BY KATE JORDAHL

PhotoCentral presents "Altamont to America: Bill Owens and the Legacy of Suburbia" featuring the work of internationally renowned photographer Bill Owens.

Owens was born on September 25, 1938 in San Jose and lives in Hayward. From his travels around the globe including a Peace Corps tour in Jamaica, he developed his unique skills and aptitude as an anthropological and social photographer. His book "Suburbia" (1972), one of the 100 seminal photography books of the 20th century, captured the change in his home territory with

FOG India Day Mela and Parade

SUBMITTED BY RITU MAHESHWARI

Realizing the American dream while honoring the strong roots and culture from the country of origin – This is the motto of "Festival of Globe (FOG) India Day Mela and Parade" being held Saturday, August 18 and Sunday, August 19 in Fremont. Organized by the Federation of Indo Americans (FIA) of Northern California, this large celebration of democracy coincides with India Independence Day. This year FOG continues the celebrations and tradition that has been part of Fremont culture for the past 26 years.

Thousands of people are expected to attend the India Day Mela (fair) and Parade, which will include cultural programs, free health fair, food fest, kids' corner, and the biggest ever Grand Parade with famous Bollywood celebrities Tusshar Kapoor, Tanishaa Mukerji, Manoj Tiwari and others. People can visit, eat, and shop at over 100 booths. Admission is free for Mela and Parade for both days.

PVD—What Is It, How Can It Hurt You?

Washington Hospital Sponsors Free Seminar About Peripheral Vascular Disease

What is peripheral vascular disease (PVD) and how do you know if you are at risk? If so, what are the treatment options?

Sarah Wartman, MD, a vascular surgeon with the Washington Township Medical Foundation, will answer these and other questions about PVD at a free seminar sponsored by Washington Hospital on Wednesday, September 5, from 6 to 8 p.m. in the Conrad E. Anderson, MD, Auditorium in the Washington West building next to Washington Hospital.

According to the Mayo Clinic, PVD is a slow and progressive circulation disorder caused by the narrowing of or a blockage in a blood vessel. It may affect any major artery in the body, but the legs and feet are most commonly affected.

Smokers and those with cardiovascular disease, diabetes, high cholesterol or high blood pressure are most at risk. Some of these conditions may be changed or effectively treated in order to lower the risk. For instance, quitting smoking, losing weight (if needed), exercising, and controlling blood sugar levels, blood pressure and cholesterol can help.

Symptoms may differ among those with PVD, depending on the specific causes, notes Dr. Wartman. She explains that smokers, for example, may experience pain in the areas affected, whereas those with improperly managed diabetes may not feel any pain due to peripheral neuropathy—a condition caused by nerve damage resulting in numbness or loss of sensation in the feet. “It’s important for those with diabetes to prevent trauma to the feet to avoid developing an infection or a wound that won’t heal,” she says. Other symptoms could include numbness, weakness or heaviness in muscles; restricted mobility; and reddish-blue discoloration of the extremities.

“We want to help people recognize the symptoms so when they experience them, they can be addressed before it becomes a serious problem,” says Dr. Wartman. “Peripheral vascular disease can be dangerous, but the majority of the time, it can be managed and treated before it progresses to that degree.”

If you experience any of the above symptoms, it’s vital to consult with your doctor, who may refer you to a vascular specialist for evaluation. Among the many diagnostic tools a specialist may use are angiogram, ultrasound, treadmill test and ankle/brachial index, which compares blood pressure in the ankle with the blood pressure in the arm.

Dr. Wartman explains that there are many treatment options, from the non- or minimally invasive—such as lifestyle changes and medications—to more aggressive treatments, including vascular surgery, angioplasty, atherectomy (where a tiny device on the end of a catheter “shaves” away the blocked area), placement of a stent in the blocked artery, and laser angioplasty.

Washington Hospital is in the process of developing a pilot program for inpatients to identify those who are at risk of losing a limb, notes Dr. Wartman. A multidisciplinary team composed of vascular surgeons, orthopedic surgeons, wound care nurses, Pain or discomfort in legs or feet can be an indication of peripheral vascular disease. Now available: free screening on Saturday, August 25, and information seminar on Wednesday, September 5, at Washington West.

podiatrists, internal medicine and infectious diseases physicians, and others, will collaborate to effectively treat the disease.

“We want to provide all our PVD patients with the tools to improve their vascular status. By caring for them—and teaching them how to care for themselves—we can help them live a full and healthy life,” says Dr. Wartman.

How to Keep Your Brain Healthy

Free Seminar Discusses Prevention of Medical Conditions That Increase the Risk of Poor Brain Function and Dementia

Are you concerned about memory loss or impaired brain function that may be affecting your everyday life? With normal aging, people's brain function and thinking processes naturally slow down a bit, resulting in occasional difficulty in activities such as remembering a specific word or where you parked the car. In addition to aging, however, there are other risk factors that can accelerate a decline in mental functioning.

"There are a number of conditions that can increase your risk for poor brain function and dementia, including Alzheimer's disease," says Victoria Leiphart, MD, FACOG. "Heart disease, diabetes, poor sleeping habits, smoking and excessive alcohol consumption, for example, can all affect your brain function. Actually, anything that affects your cardiovascular health can also impact your brain health."

A board-certified OB/Gyn specialist with Washington Township Medical Foundation (WTMF), Dr. Leiphart also is a member of the American College of Lifestyle Medicine, which focuses on promoting lifestyle changes as a means of maintaining physical and mental health. For the past several years, she has worked with Washington Hospital to provide community education programs. Those efforts recently have been expanded to WTMF clinics in communities outside of Fremont.

To help people in the community learn more about preventing poor brain function, Dr. Leiphart will be speaking at a free seminar on Wednesday, September 26, from 6 to 8 p.m. The seminar will be in WTMF's Nakamura Clinic conference room, located at 33077 Alvarado-Niles Road in Union City. The event is open to men and women of all ages. The seminar will allow ample time for questions from participants.

"The predominant focus of the seminar will be prevention," Dr. Leiphart says. "For example, I will be explaining the benefits of the Mediterranean diet, which has been shown to reduce the risk for heart attacks, strokes and diabetes. There are many variations of the diet, which we can discuss, but it generally is high in healthy plant foods such as fresh vegetables, fruits, nuts and whole grains, and very low in processed and animal-based foods. Various types of fresh fish and seafood can be part of the Mediterranean diet, too."

Find out what you can do to keep your brain healthy. All community members are welcome to attend a free seminar on Wednesday, September 26, in Union City.

Dr. Leiphart also will talk about the importance of exercise in preventing conditions that increase the risk for poor brain health.

"Aerobic exercise – also known as 'cardio' exercise – which increases your heart rate and breathing, is especially important for improving heart and brain health," she notes. "I will explain general physical exercise guidelines as well as the pros and cons of certain 'brain exercises' that are sometimes suggested for helping you maintain mental function. There is some evidence that simple mental tasks such as reading and solving crossword puzzles may be more beneficial than expensive 'brain games' that can be found online. Activities that involve social interaction, including book clubs and card games, also have been shown to be a good means of preserving mental abilities. Socializing regularly with loved ones and friends can also help alleviate depression and stress, which may accompany declining mental function.

"I also will discuss current promising research studies that are evaluating new treatments and medications that could lead to better ways of reducing brain damage related to strokes, Alzheimer's and other forms of dementia," she adds. "This new research has been producing some very hopeful results."

Call today for a FREE Peripheral Vascular Disease (PVD) Screening

Peripheral Vascular Disease (PVD) is disease of the blood vessels outside of the heart. One in every 20 Americans over the age of 50 has PVD, a condition that raises the risk of heart attack and stroke.

Saturday, August 25, 2018 | 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Conrad E. Anderson, MD, Auditorium, Washington West, 2500 Mowry Ave., Fremont

SYMPTOMS CAN INCLUDE:

- Pain or discomfort in your legs or feet
- Difficulty walking any distance without pain
- Color change in the skin of the feet
- Slow healing sores or wounds on toes, feet or legs

YOUR RISKS INCREASE IF YOU:

- Are over the age of 50
- Smoke or have smoked
- Have diabetes
- Have high blood pressure
- Have high cholesterol
- Have a personal history of vascular disease, heart attack or stroke

The PVD screening is simple and noninvasive. It consists of a Doppler study of the circulation in your legs. Physicians and professional medical staff will be on hand to perform the screening and interpret the results of your procedure.

Limited space available. Pre-registration health questionnaire is required. Call (800) 963-7070 to register or for more information.

Longtime festivalgoers should note that this year's event has moved to Southland Mall due to the renovation project taking place at the festival's usual home, Kennedy Park.

Not only a day of outdoor food and fun for the whole family, the Zucchini Festival also raises money for dozens of charities and nonprofit organizations throughout the Bay Area. Over $2,500,000 has been distributed to local charities and nonprofits over the festival's history.

So, try a new dish, support your local vendors, and raise a souvenir glass to Hayward's enduring Zucchini Festival!

General admission is $10, but if you bring one can of non-perishable food to donate to the Salvation Army on Saturday, you will get $1 off the ticket price.

College-bound students receive guidance at Education Expo

SUBMITTED BY GIOVANNI ALBANESE JR.

High school students aspiring to matriculate to top higher education institutions such as Ivy League colleges or within the University of California system have a tremendous opportunity to gain an edge in the admissions process at the annual "Education Expo" Sunday, August 19 at the India Community Center in Milpitas.

This free, community service event will offer valuable tips and information to aspiring students. Organized primarily by the weekly newspaper India-West in collaboration with McDonald's and Insight Education, all students from middle school through high school are invited to attend.

Gaining admission to top schools is harder now than ever before. There are so many applicants with top grades and excellent test scores that only a small percentage are accepted to each college. This year, Harvard and Stanford accepted only five percent of the students who applied. Yale was only slightly better, accepting six percent.

Added to the problem of too many applications for the seats available is the fact that the entire college admissions selection process has drastically changed. Good grades, high test scores and great extracurricular activities do not necessarily guarantee admission any more. Attendees to the expo will gain an understanding of how to simplify the current complicated admissions process and receive practical strategies and tips from college admissions experts on how to meet the new challenges. Students will gain insider knowledge on how to make themselves memorable to college admissions officers. Experts in college financing will provide information about scholarships, financial aid, loans and other ways to pay for college expenses.

Former Stanford University Admissions Officer Timothy Jaconette will be a speaker at the Education Expo on August 19.

An added benefit will be the presence of former Stanford University Admissions Officer Timothy Jaconette. Jaconette, who also founded Advanced Admit to work directly with families to guide students applying for college and graduate school, will speak about five proven strategies to advance a student's application and five pitfalls to avoid. Jaconette's insights about college has been referenced by media outlets, including The Wall Street Journal, US News & World Report, MSN Money and Yahoo News, among other publications. He holds certificates in college counseling and college advising from The University of California and Teachers College, Columbia University. He has also delivered keynote speeches at Apps World and the Global Mobile Internet Conference.

Other speakers at the expo will include Wells Fargo & Company Market Relations Manager for Education and Financial Services Casey Galindo, who will help attendees understand the college financial aid process in five easy steps; Illumin Education co-founder John Chen, who will speak on "Unlocking Harvard Admissions: 3 Proven Strategies"; Insight Education co-owner and lead counselor Purvi Modi, who will provide information on why it is so hard to get into college today; UCEazy co-founder and chief executive officer Vinnie Gupta, who will explore some special challenges many families face and offer parents advice on how to approach these challenges; and College Shortcuts founder Neha Gupta, who will explain how many students are missing the one thing that matters in the college admissions landscape today and how students can do that one thing.

In addition to having time to personally meet and talk to each of the speakers, students and parents will also meet and be able to ask questions to counselors from C2 Education and Flex College Prep. Free full-length practice SAT and ACT tests will be offered by Insight Education, and every family will receive a free copy of Neha Gupta's valuable new book, "College Shortcuts, The Shortcut to Getting Accepted Into Your Dream College."

As an added incentive to attend the event, three Dell laptop computers will be raffled off at the expo. Every student attending will be registered for a chance to win. (Must be present to win.)

India-West will be arranging a complimentary light lunch and snacks. Bottled water will also be available.

Gold Sponsors of the expo include Wells Fargo Bank and Illumin Education; Silver Sponsors are UCEazy and College Shortcuts. Platinum Sponsor is Insight Education.

To register, please visit www.indiawest.com/collegefair. For more information, call Dyana Bhandari at (510) 383-1147.

Bus Museum opens door to Transportation History

SUBMITTED BY RON MEDAGLIA

As technological advancements continue to alter how and what we do, the Pacific Bus Museum proudly dedicates itself to the preservation, restoration and display of buses as part of the history of transportation in America.

The bus museum, founded in 1991, is dedicated to showcasing the glory and magnificence of these machines and showing how they have endured over the years. Located at 37974 Shinn St., Fremont, the museum will open its doors to the public in a “Back to the Future” open house Sunday, August 19.

During the event, visitors will have a chance to inspect an operational fleet and numerous visiting buses and climb aboard various antique and modern motor coaches on display. Also included is a flea market featuring various bus-related items for sale. Rounding out the day will be a barbecue lunch featuring hamburgers, chicken, salads, chips and beverages for $10.

Admission to the open house is free. For details, visit the Pacific Bus Museum website at www.pacbus.org.

Get That Old Bike Rolling Again

SUBMITTED BY NATHAN SILVA

Is your bike making mysterious sounds? Is it in your garage collecting dust because it has a flat tire? If so, come to the Castro Valley Library and take advantage of a free bicycle repair clinic, hosted by BikeMobile of Alameda County. The BikeMobile can fix flat tires, adjust brakes and gears, and even replace worn out parts. (The only thing it can't do is replace missing wheels or gears).

The clinic will be held from 12 noon to 3:30 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 25. While the mechanics work on your bike, they'll explain how your bike works and how to keep it running smoothly. Bikes will be repaired on a first come, first serve basis.

The BikeMobile is a mobile bicycle repair clinic that offers schools, community organizations, and public events in Alameda County free bike repair services, and bike mechanics & safety education.

DON'T TOSS IT FIX IT!

SUBMITTED BY RUTH SHARMILA

Bring your broken appliances, electronics, sewing machines, textiles, bikes and other portable busted items to a free Fixit Clinic cosponsored by Republic Services and the Newark Library.

The free event is set for Saturday, Aug. 18 at the Newark Public Library. Volunteer coaches will be available to help participants take apart their broken items, explore inside and attempt repairs. Tools and a workspace will be provided. The event is open to all ages.

Anyone who is interested in helping at the event as a volunteer coach is welcome. All that is needed is curiosity and a willingness to encourage and help others trying to fix their items. To sign up as a volunteer, visit their Google docs page at goo.gl/kwVNIv.

Dance company brings South Indian classics to library

SUBMITTED BY ALICE KIM

In conjunction with Indo American Heritage Month, the San Leandro Main Library is hosting an evening of music with the Abhinaya Dance Company.

The Abhinaya Dance Company of San Jose was founded by its Artistic Director Mythili Kumar in 1980 to present innovative and professional quality performances of South Indian classical dance forms. Since 1986, Abhinaya has staged several full-length dance dramas choreographed by Mythili Kumar such as Shiva, the Cosmic Dancer (1986), Jwala the Immortal Flame (2011), Gandhi (2012), and the recently acclaimed, Arjuna (2014).

Abhinaya has been awarded several grants from the National Endowment for the Arts and from state and city agencies. The company has collaborated with Kathak and modern dance companies including Japanese Taiko drummers, ShadowLight Theater, and a Balinese gamelan ensemble.

The company has appeared several times in the San Francisco Ethnic Dance Festival and in several different Asian Performing Arts Festivals and Abhinaya dancers have toured India as well as several U.S. cities. Their one-hour San Leandro performance will be at the San Leandro Main Library. Admission is free and open to the public. For details, call (510) 577-3971.

SIR Branch 59 Presents

The Fremont/Newark/Union City Branch 59 of SIR – Sons In Retirement – holds monthly luncheon meetings featuring guest speakers and, twice annual, “sweetheart luncheons” when wives, daughters or significant others are invited.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday August 15, 2018, at the Fremont Elks’ Lodge #2121, located at 38991 Farwell Drive in Fremont.

This month’s guest speaker is Rosemary Robles who is the DMV Bay Area Community Outreach Senior Ombudsman

If you are a retired man you should join Fremont/Newark/Union City Branch 59 of SIR! Socializing is from 11:00am to 12:00pm, and there is time to look over an extensive library of books, sign up for activities, and meet new people or shoot the breeze with old friends. The formal meeting starts at 12:00pm with branch announcements, birthday wishes, a sing-a-long, and lunch, followed by an interesting and entertaining guest speaker. Meetings usually end about 1:30pm.

Activities run the gamut from golf, bowling, computers, wine tasting, bridge, bocce, and couples dining out, and more are being added as interest dictates.

SIR Branch 59 welcomes new members. Visit the website at www.sirbranch59.org or call Ron Brutvan at (510) 794-4019 or email sirbranch59@gmail.com for more information. Do it today!

Sister Cities
Festival

BY TOSHALI GOEL

In an increasingly divided world, the time-honored tradition of the “Union City Sister Cities Festival” aims to bring people from various backgrounds together. For its 14th year, the Union City Friends of Sister Cities (UCFSC) will host the festival to celebrate Union City’s ties to its seven sister cities: Pasay City, Philippines; Santa Rosa, Mexico; Chiang Rai, Thailand; Jalandhar, India; Liyang, China; Asadabad, Afghanistan; and Baybay City, Philippines. The festival will feature several dance numbers, food from across the globe, a fashion show, speeches from foreign delegations, and booths representing various countries.

The sister cities program was started in the United States by President Eisenhower in 1956, who wanted to bring about “citizen diplomacy” and help U.S. citizens feel as though they were a part of shaping the nation’s international relations. Sister Cities International defines a sister city relationship as a “broad-based, long-term partnership between two communities in two countries.” When a relationship exists before the highest official signs off to make the partnership official, the cities are often known as “friendship cities.”

In Union City, the contacts between sister cities are first established by community members who approach the City about creating a partnership.

Pat Gacoscos, an organizer of the event from UCFSC, was one of the founding members of Union City’s Human Relations Commission when it was merged with the Sister Cities Commission. Gacoscos proposed a Sister Cities Festival to celebrate the diversity of the city. “At that time, when we first proposed the festival, Union City only had three sister cities: Pasay City, Santa Rosa, and Jalandhar,” said Gacoscos. “After that, it grew from three to seven. We added more cities, although we do not limit the celebration to our sister cities. We invite everyone. To be able to see all these people in one place, I am hoping the communities within Union City will get the chance to improve their relationships.”

This year, the dance groups showcased include student Mexican dancers from Newark, dancers from a Buddhist church, Indian Bollywood dancers, a taiko dance group, and several others. Local restaurants will provide the food for the event, which will span Chinese, Filipino, Indian, Mexican, Afghani, and Thai cuisines. Several restaurants cater for the festival on a donation basis, with long-time partners being represented through free ads in the UCFSC souvenir program. UCFSC also reached out to delegations from the various sister cities, and citizens from the Philippines and Afghanistan will be attending the festival. Many attendees also dress in costumes reflecting their own culture, spanning far beyond the seven countries from which Union City’s sisters hail.

“[The festival] is also a way of connecting with all people, not just our sister cities. It is a way of improving relationships between different ethnicities and races,” said Gacoscos. “Everyone is welcome, whatever their race, ethnicity, or religion. It’s a celebration of the diversity of cultures, beliefs, and international friendships. For me, it’s a celebration of our similarities and differences. We may look different, but we have one similarity. We are one people.”

Tickets are $20 for adults (children 10 and under are free) and may be purchased at the door or from any UCFSC member.

Leaving for college involves some difficult changes, and one of them can be separation from a beloved pet.

“If an animal is part of your entire life and caring for them is a huge part of it, to take that away is pretty dramatic,” says Kimberly Brubaker.

If it’s a high enough priority, though, you might be able to find a way to stay together, as Brubaker did: She lives in a dorm with her cat Dino and ball python Mars at Eckerd College in St. Petersburg, Florida.

Eckerd is not the only campus in the country that allows pets, but they may have been doing it the longest – since the early 1970s. While its pet policies are broadly accepting, it’s far from a free-for-all. Brubaker is president of a student organization that registers on-campus pets; oversees their well-being and students’ compliance with rules; and adjudicates problems.

“We do pet checks once a month – we go around and knock on all the doors,” she says.

They handle an average of one or two problem reports per month, but most are minor, such as misunderstandings of the registration procedures.

Not only are pets on Eckerd’s campus mostly problem-free, they may actually be beneficial. In a recently published study, students “across the board reported that their pet reduced their levels of stress and had incredibly favorable things to say about living with the animal,” says co-author Miranda Goodman-Wilson, assistant professor of psychology at Eckerd.

A majority of students reported that pets had a positive impact on their academic performance. “I think that for many students, having a pet provides a structure that they otherwise lack,” she says. “If you have a dog who has to go out to go to the bathroom, that’s a powerful alarm clock right there.”

The study’s results were mixed when it came to quantifiable mental health benefits. Pet-owning students did not have overall lower levels of stress, depression and anxiety. However, there was an effect when it came to somatic anxiety – the physical effects of stress, such as a racing heart and sweating palms. For students with pets, increased levels of stress did not result in increased somatic anxiety.

“If pets are having some sort of psychological impact, it may be that they are serving as a buffer,” she says. “So yes, I’m still having stress, but by having my animal, that stress is not translating into this sort of anxiety in the same way.”

While pets might be good for students, some might worry whether college life is good for the pet. Last year, Mekenna Hooper, a senior at the Johnson & Wales University Denver Campus, decided to adopt a dog. When she contacted shelter and rescue groups, she recalls, “none of them liked the fact that we lived in a dorm,” even though she was sensibly looking for a small, lower-energy senior.

She eventually adopted Max, a 16-pound Yorkie mix who’s now 11, and it sounds like he’s living the good life. With Hooper and her roommate on different schedules, he’s rarely alone more than a couple of hours at a time and gets all the attention and petting he could ever want on campus. “Everyone knows his name,” she says. “They know his name better than they know ours.”

Goodman-Wilson believes that there can actually be advantages for a pet on campus, where students have flexible schedules and there are lots of eyes on the situation. “More so than your typical animal, there are ways for the wellness of the animal to be checked up on,” she says. “And I think students generally are around their animals more than your average working adults.”

If you’re looking for a pet-friendly college, be aware of each institution’s specific rules. More campuses allow small pets that can be kept in cages and tanks than allow dogs or cats, and where dogs are permitted, sizes and breeds may be restricted. Some restrict pets to upperclassmen; Eckerd only allows pets that students lived with before coming to campus.

Goodman-Wilson expects the number of pet-friendly schools to grow, partly because of the increase in emotional support animals. Once systems are in place for ESAs in dorms, that can open the door to allowing pets in general.

At Elizabethtown College in Elizabethtown, Pennsylvania, where the first pet-friendly housing will open this fall, the new policy grew out of an increasing number of assistance animals, and because of requests to raise service dogs. Now, it’s seen to have a more general value.

“We see this as part of creating a vibrant campus community that is attractive and promotes well-being,” says Associate Dean Allison Bridgeman.

But it also seems clear that there will be more pet-friendly campuses as long as students anything to say about it.

“I answer emails all that time that say, ‘Hey, I’m trying to start a pet policy on campus, what are the first steps?’” says Brubaker. “I probably get at least one email a week from students at other colleges asking about our program.”

Lessons for next US financial crisis from 3 key ex-officials

By MARTIN CRUTSINGER AP ECONOMICS WRITER

Three officials who played vital roles in combating the 2008 financial crisis say they worry that the painful lessons from the banking system’s near-collapse a decade ago may be forgotten.

“It is important that people focus on the lessons,” said former Treasury Secretary Henry Paulson. “We are not sure people remember everything they need to remember.”

Paulson, who was at the Treasury’s helm when the crisis erupted in the fall of 2008, and Timothy Geithner, who succeeded him in 2009, joined Ben Bernanke, the former Federal Reserve chairman, at a round-table discussion last week in advance of the 10th anniversary of the crisis.

The turbulent period, in which key financial institutions, including Lehman Brothers, Bear Stearns, Fannie Mae, Freddie Mac and American International Group either failed or nearly did, marked America’s worst financial crisis since the Great Depression.

On Sept. 11, former officials from the Fed, the Treasury and other agencies will meet at the Brookings Institution in Washington to discuss what worked and what didn’t and what should be done to prepare for the next crisis.

“We hope to provide some useful guidance – perhaps more than the three of us had,” Bernanke said.

Since President Donald Trump took office, momentum has grown within the administration and among Congress’ Republican leaders to reverse parts of the Dodd-Frank financial overhaul law, which Congress passed in 2010 to tighten regulatory loopholes revealed by the crisis. Legislation enacted this year makes modest changes to Dodd-Frank, mainly in exempting smaller banks from the stricter requirements.

Bernanke, Geithner and Paulson said that so far, the easing of parts of Dodd-Frank represented sensible changes. But they cautioned that deregulatory zeal could go too far and again leave the financial system vulnerable to excessive risk-taking.

“We let the financial system outgrow the protections we put in place in the Great Depressions and ... made the system very fragile and vulnerable to panic,” Geithner said. “One of the most powerful lessons from this crisis should be that you want to work very hard to make sure that your defenses are robust.”

The 2008 crisis deepened a recession that had begun in late 2007 and turned it into the worst downturn since the 1930s, with 8.7 million people thrown out of work. Though the economy has created 19 million jobs since the depths of the downturn and the economy has expanded since 2009, the recovery has been the slowest in the post-World War II period and wage growth has languished.

The resulting economic discontent, fed by widening financial inequality, contributed to Trump’s presidential victory. Similarly weak recoveries fueled populist backlashes in other nations, too.

“Financial crises, particularly big ones, do tend to get followed by a population reaction; that was certainly the case in the 1930s,” Bernanke said, alluding to the rise of Hitler in Germany and other fascist movements.

But Bernanke suggested that some disturbing trends – from worsening income inequality to a lack of upward mobility to the opioid epidemic – go back much further than 2008.

“The changes brought about by technology and globalization displaced many people in many communities, and there was not an adequate effort to deal with these displacements,” he said.

The three agreed that one of their mistakes during the crisis was failing to adequately explain publicly why billions in bailout dollars were being provided to the big banks, whose executives were able to keep their huge bonuses even though they ran the institutions that caused the crisis.

The three asserted that they had no choice but to use taxpayer money to stabilize the financial institutions – money that was eventually repaid – because the only alternative would have been to allow the entire banking system to collapse, with far graver consequences for the country.

“The public was angry; they wanted to see us, if not punish the banks, (then) put limits on bonuses,” Paulson said. “I was totally ineffective at having the American people understand that what we were doing was for them and not for Wall Street.”

Paulson and the others expressed concerns about the huge budget deficits now being projected over the next decade as well as about restrictions imposed on the Fed, the Treasury and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. in managing any future crises. The Dodd-Frank law restricted the ability of the Fed, the Treasury and other federal agencies to make the types of emergency loans to troubled banks that they did in 2008.

But they also noted that government officials confronted tough obstacles in 2008: They had to address the crisis with outdated laws ill-suited to managing the giant banks that needed bailouts. Government officials also faced a lame-duck President George W. Bush and a politically polarized Congress.

At the same time, Geithner said, “We had the benefit of two presidents of two different parties at a very dangerous moment working together and a set of institutions willing to work very cooperatively,” Geithner said.

Such collaboration, he said, is necessary to manage any significant economic threats.

“We need to find a way politically to bring the same level of overwhelming force and creativity to the range of other daunting challenges facing the American economy,” Geithner said.

Court: Starbucks, others must pay workers for off clock work

By SUDHIN THANAWALA
ASSOCIATED PRESS

Starbucks and other employers in California must pay workers for minutes they routinely spend off the clock on tasks such as locking up or setting the store alarm, the state Supreme Court ruled Thursday.

The unanimous ruling was a big victory for hourly workers in California and could prompt additional lawsuits against employers in the state.

The ruling came in a lawsuit by a Starbucks employee, Douglas Troester, who argued that he was entitled to be paid for the time he spent closing the store after he had clocked out.

Troester said he activated the store alarm, locked the front door and walked co-workers to their cars – tasks that required him to work for four to 10 additional minutes a day.

Starbucks said it was disappointed with the ruling. In a brief filed with the California Supreme Court, attorneys for Starbucks said Troester’s argument could lead to “innumerable lawsuits over a few seconds of time.” The U.S. Chamber of Commerce in a court filing also warned of the possibility of “significant liability” to businesses in the state.

A U.S. District Court rejected Troester’s lawsuit on the grounds that the time he spent on those tasks was minimal. But the California Supreme Court said a few extra minutes of work each day could “add up.”

Troester was seeking payment for 12 hours and 50 minutes of work over a 17-month period. At $8 an hour, that amounts to $102.67, the California Supreme Court said.

“That is enough to pay a utility bill, buy a week of groceries, or cover a month of bus fares,” Associate Justice Goodwin Liu wrote.

“What Starbucks calls ‘de minimis’ is not de minimis at all to many ordinary people who work for hourly wages.”

The ruling also applies to tasks done before the workday begins, said Bryan Lazarski, an attorney in Los Angeles who handles wage claims against employers.

Lazarski said he expects the ruling to open the door to additional lawsuits by workers in similar situations as Troester. But he also expects lawsuits that “test the boundary of what this case says” to determine how much time spent doing work off the clock is enough to get paid.

The court in Thursday’s ruling said it was not closing the door on all claims by employers that the amount of additional work was too negligible.

“The court is saying, ‘We haven’t really drawn a line with regard to what is trivial and what is not trivial, but in this case, the time that the employee was not compensated was significant,’” said Veena Dubal, a labor law expert at the University of California, Hastings College of the Law.

Associate Justice Leondra Kruger wrote separately to say that there may be some periods of time that are “so brief, irregular of occurrence, or difficult to accurately measure or estimate,” that requiring an employer to account for them would not be reasonable.

She cited as examples a glitch that delays logging in to a computer to start a shift or having to read and acknowledge an email or text message about a schedule change.

The federal court that threw out Troester’s lawsuit also said it would be hard for an employer to track the additional time that he worked. But Liu said employers could use technology for that or restructure employees’ work so they don’t have any tasks after they clock out.

Employers can also estimate the additional time, he said.

Troester appealed the U.S. District Court’s decision to the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. The appeals court asked the California Supreme Court to determine whether a federal rule permitting employers under some circumstances to require employees to work as much as 10 minutes a day without compensation applied under state law.

The lawsuit now returns to the 9th Circuit.

PetersenDean Roofing & Solar joins solar industry board of directors

SUBMITTED BY CHRISTINE ROMBOUTS

The Solar Energy Industries Association (SEIA), the national trade association for the U.S. solar energy industry, announced August 8, 2018 that PetersenDean Roofing & Solar, a leading U.S. roofing and solar power contractor, has joined SEIA's board of directors. Gary Liardon, President of Consumer Group Nationwide at PetersenDean, will serve as a director. "We are excited to take a more active role with SEIA."

Based in Fremont, Calif., PetersenDean is the largest, full-service, privately-held roofing and solar company in the United States, offering professional roofing and solar installation services nationwide for more than 30 years. "We are thrilled to have the leadership of PetersenDean on our board of directors," said Abigail Ross Hopper, president and CEO of the Solar Energy Industries Association.

PetersenDean has been a member of SEIA since 2008.

"We are excited to take a more active role with SEIA," said Gary Liardon. "At this critical juncture in the evolution of the space, we recognize the duty to adopt a hands-on approach that will bring decades of experience to the table and help shape policy that will ensure thoughtful and responsible growth going forward."

Today, the U.S. solar industry employs more than 250,000 Americans between 9,000 companies nationwide. There are more than 55 gigawatts of solar capacity installed in the U.S., and with roughly 1.75 million solar energy systems installed across the country, we are well on our way to 2 million installations by the end of 2018.

Water district to host public rate structure workshop

SUBMITTED BY LAURA HIDAS

Alameda County Water District (ACWD) customers are invited to a financial workshop focusing future water rate structure concepts on Wednesday, Aug. 15 in Fremont. The workshop will review the district's financial planning model and various scenarios that may affect future proposed rate adjustments.

The workshop is part of a series of six financial workshops that began on April 26 and will meet at ACWD headquarters. The purpose is for staff to provide alternatives and receive feedback from the board, and for the board and staff to receive input from the community

"As a matter of formal practice, our board of directors and management team carefully deliberate future issues when addressing the district's financial plans. Our community must consider tomorrow's needs today," said Paul Sethy, Board President. "Ratepayers are encouraged to participate firsthand in the process and provide their input during ACWD's series of financial workshops."

The board will consider a number of issues during the workshop, including the district's approach to financing its share of California WaterFix, issuing debt for future capital projects, and the timeline for payments toward district liabilities for pension and retiree health care benefits. An evaluation of future water demand scenarios and how they would impact revenue and rates will also be presented.

Additional workshops in the series are scheduled for September 27 (tentative) and December 6. Video recordings of each workshop are also posted to ACWD's website at www.acwd.org for later viewing.

Tri-City Stargazer FOR WEEK: AUGUST 15 – AUGUST 21, 2018

For All Signs: Mercury, planetary ruler of everyday communications and business, turns direct on August 19. We continue to be in its retrograde cycle for 2.5 more weeks before it returns to the starting point. Expect a flurry of changes in plans on the 19th as Mercury shifts into forward gear. This begins the cleanup period which calls for projects in motion to be concluded. We may also decide to pick up the threads of things we left behind before the retrograde cycle began Aries the Ram (March 21-April 20): All forward motion is put temporarily on hold. You must slow down to manage health issues, whether that of yourself or your partner. Be patient. The structure needed to accommodate your original plan is not in place anyway. Time is required while you or someone you care about heals. Soon your Avatar planet, Mars, will go direct.

Taurus the Bull (April 21-May 20): It may be a challenge to hold onto your sense of stability now. Information and new experiences are swirling all around you. Transfer some of that high-wired, electrical energy into a project that uses your muscles and grounds your body. Then you will sleep better.

Gemini the Twins (May 21-June 20): See the lead paragraph. Mercury is your ruling planet. It's possible that you have been waffling over several decisions and unable to choose the right ones. Now that Mercury turns direct, you will be able to untangle the various component parts and move in a forward direction.

Cancer the Crab (June 21-July 21): This recent set of three eclipses is complete. You are probably dealing with the outcomes of whatever crises and new events have come to you. It may relieve your mind to realize there are probably no more new surprises around the corner. Take a break and get some rest.

Leo the Lion (July 22--Aug 22): Mercury has been retrograding in your sign. This week, as it changes to "direct" motion you may no sooner decide on one thing than you switch to another. Be aware you are trying on answers, just as one tries on clothes. Under these cosmic circumstances it is perfectly normal to argue with yourself. It will be better very soon.

Virgo the Virgin (August 23-September 22): Pleasant memories from the past may surface for your review. As your planetary ruler turns direct (see lead paragraph) you may feel called to contact an old friend. Don't hesitate. It will probably bring a nice experience.

Libra the Scales (September 23-October 22): At this time, you may need to review some of the relationship mishaps of recent months. This is a fine time to talk things over and come to a shared point of view. You may also be considering plans to reconnect with an old friend, or a group association.

Scorpio the Scorpion (October 23-November 21): Although you may be sorely tempted to use devious methods to get what you want, that action will only catch you on the backside. Karma is fairly immediate for you right now. Offer those in authority your respect, at least for their status in the world. In the fall you have a more direct path to accomplish your aims.

Sagittarius the Archer (November 22-December 21): You have one or more angels behind the scenes during this period. People are saying positive things about you and are offering help, even if you do not know it. Psychic impressions, along with your ability to provide healing to others is strong. Follow your intuitive hunches.

Capricorn the Goat (December 22-January 19): You are under significant financial pressure now. Make an effort to face the problem and find a way to work it out. Hiding will not help. Don't (late June, early July). Mercury's retrograde purpose is to pressure us to slow down, think and rethink everything, before proceeding with plans. It is ideal for those who meditate and who are working on self-study. It is not favorable for moving forward with important new plans because we will inevitably find something in error as we proceed. We can figure on making final changes to any Mercury retrograde projects over the next two weeks.

let yourself resort to any get rich quickly schemes. That will only cost you money you can't afford to spend. Use care when driving or using tools. Park only in well-lit spaces. You could be subject to accident.

Aquarius the Water Bearer (January 20-February 18): Listen closely to your inner self. If you have tolerated a rule well beyond its time, you may rebel and demand to do something different now. Plan a few hours of refreshing change. Try something new. You may have reason to declare your independence at this time, so you can make your own decisions without accounting for the wishes of others.

Pisces the Fish (February 19-March 20): This is a time in which you are unusually aware of your spiritual self. You will be recognizing things of life for which you are grateful. You prefer to seek the high road and maintain a positive attitude in spite of any difficult circumstances. You can see a bigger picture now. Hold onto it.

Morris Hyman Critical Care Pavilion

Community Open House and Tours

Here's a chance to see and learn about our new state-of-the-art, seismically safe and family-centered pavilion.

Join us on this special day and tour our beautiful new 224,800 square-foot health care facility uniquely designed to provide the very best care and comfort for our patients. Its unique features include peaceful gardens, maximum natural light, the use of green materials, and the most advanced seismically safe technology that will allow the building to remain in operation during and following a major earthquake.

The opening of the Morris Hyman Critical Care Pavilion ensures Washington Hospital will continue to meet the ongoing and growing health care needs of the community. The pavilion has all private patient rooms in a more advanced emergency department that is four times larger than the existing one; a state-of-the-art critical care unit with 48 private patient rooms; and 68 medical-surgical rooms for cancer, medical, telemetry and intermediate care patients.

Washington Hospital is community owned and focused, and you, a resident of the Tri City area, are one of its owners. We hope you'll take this opportunity to celebrate this historic milestone and important step toward better serving our community into the future.

Come see your new facility!

MORRIS HYMAN

The critical care pavilion was proudly named after Morris Hyman, community leader and advocate, visionary, philanthropist and Fremont Bank founder.

For decades, Mr. Hyman improved many lives in our community and gave generously to various causes including health care, education and the arts. His varied contributions included the creation of the Fremont Bank Foundation, Conrad E. Anderson, MD, Auditorium at Washington Hospital, free community aortic aneurysm screenings, the Morris and Alvirda Hyman Hall for Business and Technology at Ohlone College, the Alvirda Hyman Learning Center at Fremont Adult School, Aqua Adventure Water Park at Lake Elizabeth–Central Park, the Silliman Swim Center in Newark, Bridgeway East Transitional Housing in Fremont, and providing food to thousands of people in need throughout our community. His participation on the Fremont Recreation Commission was instrumental in creating Central Park. His commitment to the community and the strong values he embodied live on today through the culture and generosity of Fremont Bank and Fremont Bank Foundation, a key donor that helped bring our critical care pavilion to fruition.

Go mad for a Bromeliad

ARTICLE AND PHOTOS BY DANIEL O'DONNELL

“Shooting fish in a barrel” and “stealing candy from a baby” are idioms that convey how easy making a choice or taking an action can be. There is possibly no better use of these idioms in the plant world than when people refer to bromeliads. However, pineapple is the terrestrial species best known worldwide. Terrestrial bromeliads have been used for food and admired for their beauty for thousands of years by the Indigenous peoples of the New World. Christopher Columbus introduced the first looking at bromeliads. The decision to use bromeliads is “like falling off a log” as they are spectacular houseplants that require very little effort to maintain. There are close to 3,500 known species of plants in the Bromeliaceae family. All but one are native to tropical and sub-tropical regions of North, Central, and South America. They can be found throughout these areas growing from seashores to mountaintops and from lush rainforests to arid deserts. They can survive in three different growing situations: Terrestrial species grow in the ground, saxicolous species grow on rocks, and epiphytic species grow on other plants or structures. Terrestrial bromeliads are the houseplants with the vivid flowers and lush leaves that are commonly thought of when bromeliad, the pineapple, to Europe in 1493, and it became enormously popular. It was almost 300 years later in 1776 that the first ornamental bromeliad, Guzmania lingulata or the Scarlet Star, would be imported and capture European interests. The Scarlet Star is still one of the most recognizable and commonly sold ornamental bromeliads throughout Europe and the United States. A terrestrial bromeliad is one of the easiest plants to purchase. Almost anywhere that sells plants will have at least one bromeliad species. This is because bromeliads’ bracts that are frequently mistaken for flowers have some of the most striking colors of all plants. Many of the shades resemble the colors found on neon casino signs on the Las Vegas strip rather than on a houseplant. The colors include pink, salmon, magenta, fuchsia, burgundy, yellow, orange, red, purple, and white. The strap-like leaves can be just as colorful. They range from dark green to paler shades of green, grey, purple, burgundy, red, pink, yellow, and silver. Most bromeliads, with rare exceptions, flower only once and then die. This is not a reason to avoid purchasing them. A bromeliad will produce offsets or pups at or near its base that will feed off the mother plant until they can grow their own roots. These will become separate plants usually before the mother plant dies. Terrestrial bromeliads have flowers that can live for months, so there is plenty of time for the next generation of plants to get started. Some bromeliads produce pups on long stolons or on top of a flower spike that can be removed and planted. Some bromeliads produce viable seeds. Care for an interior bromeliad begins with placement of its container. Soft leafed plants usually prefer lower light and stiffer leafed bromeliads prefer brighter light as a general rule. Very few perform well in direct sunlight. They usually prefer a warmer to hot temperature range. Top dressing the pot with a small amount of compost or used coffee grounds once or twice a year should accommodate their nutritional requirements. Bromeliads can be grown outdoors in containers or in the ground if the conditions are consistent with the requirements listed above. All bromeliads have some environmental adaptations that makes watering them very simple. One of these adaptations shared by most terrestrial bromeliads is that the leaves grow in a tight rosette that allows the plant to capture and hold water. The water can then be absorbed by tiny scales on their leaves called trichomes. Excess water is funneled down to the roots which will also take in water. Only terrestrial bromeliads have roots that absorb nutrients and water. It is best to water the plant in a way that simulates how it happens in nature. Pour water onto the rosette and allow just enough to overflow and moisten the soil to the consistency of a damp sponge. Repeat the process when the soil begins to dry out. All bromeliads are sensitive to chemicals. Collected rainwater, purified water, or filtered water are the healthiest options for the plant. Because bromeliads are exotic-looking plants that have unique and complex adaptations used for survival, they might give the impression that they require a lot of work to keep alive. However, “the devil is in the details” and growing bromeliads is “as easy as sin.” Daniel O'Donnell is the co-owner and operator of an organic landscape design/build company in Fremont. www.Chrysalis-Gardens.com

Opa! Come dance with us!

SUBMITTED BY CASTRO VALLEY GREEK ORTHODOX CHURCH

Come to Greece over the weekend via Castro Valley. With shopping, music, dancing, food and fun, the Castro Valley Greek Food Festival has it all. Share the warmth and festivities of the Mediterranean lifestyle and heritage as our congregation opens its hearts to the community at large. Our food festival not only will entice visitors with our dances (free dance lessons for everyone!) and music of the Mythos Greek Band but especially, authentic and delicious Greek food prepared with recipes handed down through generations using authentic ingredients and lots of TLC!

Leave plenty of room for our featured a-la-carte entrees of roasted lamb or Greek roasted chicken seasoned to perfection, a hearty pastitsio, Greek salad, rice pilaf, delicious green beans in a savory Greek tomato sauce, freshly baked bread, feta cheese and Kalamata olives. Or, if you prefer, other Greek food specialties include Gyros Sandwich, barbecued Pork souvlaki (kebabs), Tiropita (cheese pie in filo) Spanakopita (spinach pie in filo), Dolmades (stuffed grape leaves), Calamari, Grilled Holloumi cheese, and most delicious Greek Meatballs.

And, don't worry about the calories; with a bit of energetic dancing, you'll be back for more!

Hot August Niles Car Show

When the calendar turns to August and temperatures soar, its time for Niles to strut its stuff at the Hot August Niles Car Show.

A bevy of motor vehicles of every age and type will show up along Niles Boulevard in the historic district of Fremont to enthrall and amaze. Wander around and talk with proud car enthusiasts, chat with fellow road warriors and compare notes with aficionados while reminiscing about days of real carburetors and Hurst shifters. Examples of modern road kings are sure to appear too.

Fans of the 1978 movie Grease with John Travolta and Olivia Newton-John might find examples of Mercury, Dodge, Ford, Chevrolet, Buick and others of the era. It's a sure bet that along with these classics, visitors will see customized rides that rival the famed Greased Lightning and Hell's Chariot that competed for "pinks" in the film.

This is a once a year display of automotive power and innovation that everyone who drives, rides and appreciates the low, full-throated rumble of a powerful HEMI will want to see. Be there or be square!

Recycling Pro Tips

-  Flatten cardboard before placing it in your recycle cart. This may seem like a no-brainer but you would be surprised at how much space is saved in your cart just by taking a few extra seconds to break down boxes.
-  Gather plastic bags and recycle them at special collection bins at the grocery store. Visit this link to find convenient locations: www.plasticfilmrecycling.org
-  Ditch the straw! Plastic cups and lids are recyclable, but please remember to trash the straw. Make sure containers are clean, empty, and dry before tossing them in the recycle cart.
-  Know the rules and take the time to be sure you're recycling correctly. Don't be afraid to ask questions. It's a learning process! Visit republicservicesAC.com to get answers to your recycling questions or give us a call at 510-657-3500.

SMILE POWER

Smile and the world smiles with you! Smiles have the power to make people happy. Maybe that is why millions of people use the smile emoji when sending messages. And with a smile, people from different countries who speak different languages can communicate.

Just What the Doctor Ordered

Doctors even tell us that laughter can help sick people heal more quickly. All in all, a smile is very powerful.

Cut out the word balloons below and paste them in the correct order on the comic strip above.

They were still in the can!

How did you get this bump on your head?

How could some little peas hurt you?

I got hit by some peas.

Standards Link: Health: Identify activities and actions that promote or enhance emotional health.

Laughter! The Universal Language!

There are jokes from all over the world. What can you learn about people by reading their jokes? Draw your own comic strip using this joke from Martinique.

Do you want a cookie, Pierre?

Pierre! Do you want a cookie? Why must I ask you twice?

Because I want TWO cookies!

These riddles are from all over the world and the answer to each one is the same thing. Can you guess what it is?

Spain
What is a small, white chest that all know how to open and nobody knows how to close?

Jamaica
What is more useful when it is broken?

Peru
In a pot there are two kinds of food. What is it?

Zambia
What is an entire little house without a door?

Malawi
I have built my house without any door. What is it?

Afghanistan
In a bowl of china fixed, two liquids with colors unmixed. What is it?

Have you figured out the answer? If not, color all the boxes with odd numbers. Read the letters that are left and you will know the answer.

How many smiles can you find on this page?

Standards Link: Social Science: Compare life in different places and recognize that some aspects of cultures are similar.

Comedy Cafe

How many silly things can you circle in this picture?

Standards Link: Reading Comprehension: Follow simple written directions.

Superlative Fun

Look through the newspaper for three happy pictures. Label one "Happy," one "Happier," and one "Happiest." Repeat this game with other words.

Standards Link: Vocabulary Development: Understand comparative and superlative case.

With so much information available in print, on TV and online every day, it is important to know that some information is true and some is false or misleading.

Sometimes news reports make a mistake. Good journalists will let readers and viewers know of the error as soon as possible. Other times, false information is designed on purpose to make you feel a certain way.

- ### How do you tell the difference between fact and fiction?
1. Read beyond the story's headline. Headlines can't tell the whole story.
 2. Do some research! Go to the library and look up more information. Your librarian can help you.
 3. Look for more information online. Be sure to check more than one online site as some sites simply repeat false information.
 4. Make sure the publications and websites you use to check facts are trustworthy.
 5. Ask a parent or family member to help you understand more about the story.

FACT CHECKER CHALLENGE OF THE WEEK

One of these statements is true and one is false. Do the research and find out. Then share what you learned with your friends and family!

Smiling makes us feel happier.

☐ TRUE ☐ FALSE

Smiling is contagious.

☐ TRUE ☐ FALSE

Was it easy or difficult to find out if the above statements were true or false? It's not always easy being a News Fact Checker. But it's important to always try to get the whole story!

Standards Link: Research: Locate and check information about a given topic using multiple resources.

Kid Scoop Puzzler

Why does a crane raise one leg when he stands in the water?

Put the words in the right order to discover the answer to this joke from Poland.

legs he both down! raised would he Because fall if

FROM THE LESSON LIBRARY

Good News/Bad News

In today's paper, categorize stories as either "good news" or "bad news." Explain why you think newspapers print "bad" news at times. Are there some stories that are bad news to some and good to other people?

Standards Link: Writing Applications: Write formal letters; write persuasive compositions that state a position or proposal.

What is the longest word in the English language?

ANSWER: 'Smiles,' because there is a 'mile' between the first and last letters.

Write On!

What makes you laugh?

What makes you laugh out loud?

Kid Scoop VOCABULARY BUILDERS

This week's word: EMOJI

The noun emoji means an icon or image used to express an idea.

Emily used the smile emoji in her text message to show she liked the joke.

The City of Fremont Promotes Christina Briggs to Economic Development Director

A core member of the City's Economic Development team for over eight years, Christina Briggs has been promoted to Economic Development Director following the departure of former Chief Innovation Officer and Economic Development Director Kelly Kline.

Christina's professional background and passion for economic development and redevelopment for City governments started in the City of Anaheim where she served as a project manager at the Redevelopment Agency managing complex mixed-use redevelopment projects. Christina then joined the City of Fremont in 2010, and in 2015, she became the Deputy Director of Economic Development and Assistant to the City Manager.

She has played a fundamental role in the City's efforts to facilitate business expansion, commercial development, and position the City of Fremont as a high tech manufacturing leader in Silicon Valley. Christina leads efforts in business recruitment, job development, and business retention strategies and cultivates department-wide expertise in Fremont's driving industries, including clean technology, biotechnology, and advanced manufacturing.

In her new role, Christina will serve as an even more vital link to the City's business community. Leading the economic development team, she will bolster a diverse and robust local economy, foster public-private partnerships, and guide strategic endeavors for emerging technology. She takes great pride in serving as an interface between business and government to create "win win" collaborations.

Christina received her Bachelor's degree from UC Santa Cruz and master's in Public Administration from the Middlebury Institute of International Studies in Monterey. She is a member of the Urban Land Institute and holds leadership roles with the Silicon Valley Economic Development Alliance, International Council of Shopping Centers, and the Silicon Valley Manufacturing Roundtable.

Going Green is Easy and Affordable with SunShares

Program offers discounts on solar installations and zero-emission vehicles

The City of Fremont is pleased to announce that SunShares is back again this year. Fremont is one of nearly 40 local government agencies and major employers participating in the 2018 Bay Area SunShares program, a community program helping local residents access discounted pricing and resources to help them go solar and purchase zero-emission vehicles. This is the fourth year of participation for the City of Fremont as a SunShares outreach partner.

Three local and recognized solar installation companies—PetersenDean, SkyTech Solar, and Solar Technologies—have been selected for the program and are offering a 15 percent discount, making now the most affordable time to go solar! In addition, those who choose to go solar can still take advantage of the 30 percent federal solar tax credit.

SunShares is also offering zero-emission vehicle discounts on the 2018 all electric Nissan Leaf and the 2018 hydrogen fuel-cell Toyota Mirai.

Imagine the possibilities—save on your home utility bills, cut your gas costs, reduce your greenhouse gas footprint, and drive on clean energy.

To sign up, visit www.BayAreaSunShares.org. This limited time offer is available until November 15, 2018.

Watch Movies Under the Stars

Join the Recreation Services Division for Summer Movies Under the Stars. Movies include Ferdinand on Friday, August 17 at Central Park's Performance Pavilion and Black Panther on Friday, September 21 at the Town Fair Plaza in Downtown Fremont on Capitol Avenue and State Street. Both movies will be shown after sunset and are free to attend. Grab some blankets, low beach chairs, and a picnic dinner and enjoy two great flicks with family and friends this summer! For more details, visit www.Fremont.gov/MovieNight.

Pixie, the Human Services Therapy Dog, and Handler Julie Sakai Designated 'Community Heroes'

City of Fremont Senior Services Case Manager Julie Sakai and Human Services therapy dog Pixie have been recognized with a Community Hero Award. Julie and Pixie have touched many lives in the Fremont community through their work providing stress reduction and emotional support to staff, clients, and residents.

Pixie was rescued at six months old after her former senior owner was unable to care for her. She was later certified as both an American Kennel Club Canine Good Citizen and a TherapyPets therapy dog. Beyond their work with the City, Pixie and Julie also volunteer at the local library in the "Read to a Dog" program as well as their own children's club called "Pixie's Pals," where children are encouraged to read books, write letters, draw pictures, learn different languages, exercise their creativity, and be kind to others.

Julie's helpful attitude, devotion to clients, and great sense of humor make her a standout City of Fremont staff member and community volunteer. In fact, the client that nominated Julie and Pixie for the Community Hero Award, an 88-year-old senior who lives alone and often feels frustrated by her physical limitations, remarked that Pixie and Julie's visits always bring a smile to her face.

Pixie and Julie attended the Community Heroes Award Ceremony on July 12 at the India Community Center in Milpitas.

Important Information about the Upcoming Fremont City Council Elections

This November, four Fremont City Council seats will be up for election on the General Municipal Ballot. Under Fremont's new district-based election system, voters may elect candidates only from the district that they live in. Voters residing in District 1 (Northwest Fremont), District 2 (Central North Fremont), District 3 (Central Fremont), and District 4 (Eastern Fremont) will elect a City Councilmember to represent their district in the upcoming election.

Fremont residents can identify the district they live in by visiting the Council District Locator tool at www.Fremont.gov/CouncilDistrictLocator and plugging in a home address. This tool includes mapping layers of City and public safety facilities, public schools, shopping centers, and Alameda County voter precincts as reference points. In addition, the locator includes a link to designated polling places.

The candidate nomination period was open from Monday, July 16 through Friday, August 10. Information about the candidates is now available on the City's website.

To vote in the election, you must be a U.S. citizen, at least 18 years old, a resident of Fremont, and neither in prison nor on parole for a felony conviction. Make sure you are registered at least 15 days before the election. Re-registration is required if you have moved since you last registered, changed your name, or changed your political party affiliation. Polls open at 7 a.m. on Tuesday, November 6 and close at 8 p.m.

Those interested in learning more about how Fremont launched the process to convert elections from the at-large voting system to a district-based process can read more at www.Fremont.gov/DistrictElectionsBackground.

For more information contact the City Clerk's Office at 510-284-4060 or cclerk@fremont.gov.

FOG India Day Mela and Parade

India Day Mela will showcase some of the best presentations in dance and music. This year there are multiple categories of dance performances. Over 100 local dance groups will compete in Classical, Folk, Bollywood, Contemporary, Hip-Hop and others. Each category winner will be awarded with a prize. Contestants will participate in age groups, divided as 5 – 11 years old, 12 – 18 years old, and adults.

The Mela will feature a surfeit of delicious cuisines, ranging from different regions of India. North Indian, South Indian, and savory snacks will be served by over 20 food booths organized by the best-known restaurants and caterers in the Bay Area.

The Grand Parade on Sunday, August 19 boasts over 50 floats representing a wide cross section of community, ranging from Indian regional cultural communities to Bay Area organizations. Tusshar Kapoor is the star attraction and Grand Marshal of this year's parade to engage and entertain the community. Kapoor has acted in many blockbuster movies in the recent past including the "Golmaal" series. The parade runs through sections of Fremont and is a spectacle to enjoy. This has become a ritual for families to spend a summer Sunday, watching their favorite celebrities and enjoying the Mela.

This year India celebrates its 72nd Independence Day and FOG India Day Mela and Parade coincides with India's Independence celebrations. This provides an opportunity for the community to celebrate the event and appreciate the value of freedom, both in their country of origin – India – as well as in the oldest democracy and land of dreams – USA.

Dr. Romesh Japra, FOG Founder and Convener, said, "Over the past 25 years, FOG has made great strides in including all parts of the community and carrying out its mission to help communities better integrate."

Local teams prepare for a new football season

SUBMITTED AND PHOTOS BY MIKE HEIGHTCHEW

The 2018 football season is just about to begin as several Mission Valley Athletic League high school squads clashed in scrimmages on August 11th at Tak Fudenna Stadium in Fremont. Both junior varsity and varsity players were able to test their readiness as they were able to compete against opponents they will face in the regular season. This was also the first time coaches could watch their teams in true competition, evaluating strengths and weaknesses.

Washington Huskies, John F. Kennedy Titans and Newark Memorial Cougars teams were joined by Campolindo Cougars as they competed and learned how to compete using effective, safe techniques and avoid injuries and penalty calls. This year will be especially interesting as the James Logan Colts rejoin the Mission Valley Athletic League roster.

RACERS AND WALKERS HEADING TO THE BAY SHORELINE

SUBMITTED BY THE CITY OF HAYWARD

It soon will be time for runners and walkers throughout the East Bay to lace up their sport shoes for the 15th Annual 10k on the Bay Race/Walk along the beautiful Hayward shoreline.

The race course is a flat USA Track & Field-certified run along a peaceful marsh where participants will take in views of the San Francisco Bay and various shoreline wildlife. The event is set for 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 26 and is open to participants of all ages.

Pre-registration fee is $35 through Aug. 24 and $40 after that date. People who pre-register will receive a free commemorative T-shirt. On-site race day registration starts at 7:30 a.m. at the Hayward Shoreline Interpretative Center, 4901 Breakwater Ave. The 5k race starts at 8:30 a.m. followed by the 10k race at 8:30 a.m. Online registrations can be made at www.10konthebay.org.

Proceeds from the event help to maintain and enhance the educational programs, exhibits, and facilities at the Hayward Shoreline Interpretative Center.

Therapy Dog, and Handler Julie Sakai designated ‘Community Heroes’

SUBMITTED BY CITY OF FREMONT

Assemblymember Kansan Chu has recognized Senior Services Case Manager Julie Sakai and Human Services therapy dog Pixie with the Community Hero Award. Julie and Pixie have touched many lives in the Fremont community through their work providing stress reduction and emotional support to staff, clients, and residents.

Pixie was rescued at six months old after her former senior owner was unable to care for her. She was later certified as both an American Kennel Club Canine Good Citizen and a Therapy Pets therapy dog. Beyond their work with the City, Pixie and Julie also volunteer at the local library in the “Read to a Dog” program as well as their own children’s club called “Pixie’s Pals,” where children are encouraged to read books, write letters, draw pictures, learn different languages, exercise their creativity, and be kind to others.

Julie’s helpful attitude, devotion to clients, and great sense of humor make her a standout City of Fremont staff member and community volunteer. In fact, the client that nominated Julie and Pixie for the Community Hero Award, an 88-year-old senior who lives alone and often feels frustrated by her physical limitations, remarked that Pixie and Julie’s visits always bring a smile to her face.

Pixie and Julie attended the Community Heroes Award Ceremony on July 12 at the India Community Center in Milpitas.

Park It

BY NED MACKAY

Flint Stones Days

Coyote Hills Regional Park in Fremont will host an informal “knap-in” from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday, August 18 and Sunday, August 19, with naturalists Kristina Parkison and Francis Mendoza. No, this isn’t a group sleepover. It’s a gathering of folks whose hobby is using methods thousands of years old to transform chert, obsidian, and other stones into spear points, arrowheads and other tools.

Meet on the lawn in front of the park’s visitor center. Young children are welcome to watch. If you’re 16 or older, you can give “knapping” a try yourself. For safety reasons, bring leather gloves and wear long pants, close-toed shoes and protective eyewear. The knapping process produces flying stone chips.

Coyote Hills is located at the end of Patterson Ranch Road off Paseo Padre Parkway. There’s a parking fee of $5 per vehicle; the knap-in is free of charge. Call (510) 544-3220 for information.

Some of nature’s more amazing aspects are the theme of a hike from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, August 18 at Sunol Regional Wilderness in southern Alameda County, with naturalist Constance Taylor. Meet at the Sunol Visitor Center for a five-mile trek in search of natural history highlights.

The park is at the end of Geary Road off Calaveras Road, about five miles south of I-680. For information call (510) 544-3249.

Out at Crab Cove Visitor Center in Alameda, it’s Family Nature Fun Time from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. every Saturday and Sunday, with activities for all ages and a new adventure each week. Then from 3:00 p.m. to 3:30 p.m., the Crab Cove staff feeds the fish at the visitor center aquarium, while talking about the hidden habitats of San Francisco Bay.

Crab Cove is at 1252 McKay Ave. off Alameda’s Central Avenue. Call 510-544-3187.

River otters have been sighted at several regional park lakes and waterways. Naturalist Morgan Dill will lead a safari in search of otter sign — and maybe an actual otter — from 10:30 a.m. to noon on Sunday, August 19 at Temescal Regional Recreation Area in Oakland.

Meet Morgan at the park’s north entrance at 6500 Broadway for a level, one-mile walk around the lake. It’s the entrance with the kiosk and large parking lot. Call 510-544-3187 for information.

Spidering is on the agenda from 2:00 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. on Saturday, August 18 at Tilden Nature Area near Berkeley with naturalist Anthony Fisher. The group will meet a pet tarantula, then venture out into the fields in search of wild spiders.

Meet at Tilden’s Environmental Education Center, which is at the north end of Central Park Drive. Call 510-544-2233.

Out at Big Break Regional Shoreline in Oakley, it’s rambunctious reptile time from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. on Sunday, August 19, a stroll in search of snakes, turtles and lizards.

Or you can release your inner artist by joining naturalist Nichole Gange to celebrate the 7th annual international Chalk the Walks event from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Tuesday, August 21. Chalk will be provided so you can transform the park’s visitor center patio into a chalk art gallery.

Big Break is at 69 Big Break Road off Oakley’s Main Street. Call 888-327-2757, ext. 3050.

Nighthawks will enjoy an evening stroll from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. on Saturday, August 18 through Round Valley Regional Preserve south of Brentwood, led by naturalist Kevin Dixon. The hike is for ages 12 and older. The group will look and listen for signs of predators and prey while ambling along broad trails. Should be good for stargazing, too.

It’s a free event, but registration is required. To register, call (888) 327-2757, select option 2, and refer to program number 21806. For general information, call (510) 544-2750.

There are lots of other programs and activities in the regional parks. Visit www.ebparks.org for a complete listing.

Fremont Area Writers host author Tish Davidson

SUBMITTED BY KNUTI VANHOVEN

Author Tish Davidson will explain how to contact publications to propose paid writing assignments at the Fremont Area Writers meeting Saturday August 25th. The event, at 42 Silicon Valley addresses an on-going dilemma. “So many good writers have no idea how to sell their work or suggest ideas to publications. Even when magazines and publishing houses advertise for submissions, they’re likely to conclude their request with the words ‘Query First’.

“Those words” Davidson points out. “bring many aspiring writers to a standstill. They don’t know what a query is, or what publishers want it to say. How long should it be? Why is writing a good query even necessary to selling your story to a magazine or your book to a publisher?”

Tish Davidson will answer these questions and more. She’s written dozens of successful queries and has the publication list to prove it. Her works-in-print range from restaurant reviews to magazine features to textbook chapters. She’s also written 13 books (published by Scholastic, Mason Crest, and ABC-CLIO/Greenwood Press.) Her creative nonfiction can be found in anthologies from Adams Media, Harlequin and Scribes Valley Press, while Medusa’s Laugh Press, Sand Hill Review Press, and the California Writers Literary Review have published her short fiction.

Her queries get positive results and in the FAW tradition of “writers helping writers” she’ll show how others can achieve the same success. Afterward, she’ll be happy to answer individual questions or sign copies of any of her books.

Fremont Area Writers is a branch of California Writers Club and welcomes writers and aspiring writers of all levels of experience.

Department of Toxic Substances Control

August 2018

Public Notice

The mission of DTSC is to protect California’s people and environment from harmful effects of toxic substances by restoring contaminated resources, enforcing hazardous waste laws, reducing hazardous waste generation, and encouraging the manufacture of chemically safer products.

PROPOSED LAND USE COVENANT

Boulevard Heights, 40744 Fremont Boulevard, Fremont, California 94588

The California Department of Toxic Substances Control (DTSC) and Pulte Home Company, LLC, plan to enter into a Land Use Covenant (LUC) for Boulevard Heights, located at 40744 Fremont Boulevard, Fremont, California. LUCs restrict certain land uses and activities in order to protect human health and the environment. The LUC is necessary based on the results of a Preliminary Endangerment Assessment (PEA) report. Findings from the PEA determine whether a release of hazardous substances has occurred on a site that may pose a significant risk to human health or the environment.

Environmental investigations found tetrachloroethylene (PCE) and total petroleum hydrocarbons (TPH) in soil gas above levels acceptable for unrestricted land use. Previous land uses on the Property do not indicate on-site sources of contamination. The PEA attributes the contamination to off-site sources. The property owner proposes construction of multi-unit residential buildings. The LUC requires that a vapor mitigation system must be operated in order to protect the buildings from potential vapor intrusion. Additionally, soil management activities require DTSC oversight. An annual inspection of the Property, as well as a Five-Year Review, are also required to ensure the LUC continues to protect human health and the environment. DTSC has concluded that the Property, in compliance with the LUC, would not present a significant risk to human health or the environment. This determination will be considered final 30 days after the date of this notice. Please send comments to:

SOCIAL SECURITY COLUMN

You’ll feel like you’re on vacation with how easy this is

BY MARIAELENA LEMUS
SOCIAL SECURITY PUBLIC AFFAIRS SPECIALIST IN SAN JOSE

August might be the last of the months that people think of when we say “summer vacation,” but it’s by no means the least. People are still taking trips and hosting family while enjoying America’s beaches and national parks. Social Security might not be on the top of your to-do list when you’re on vacation, but we’ve made it so easy to do business with us online that you can connect with us pool-side or on the go.

We are constantly expanding our online services to give you freedom and control in how you wish to conduct business with us. Our online services help you plan for the future and keep you in control of your benefits. You can go online to:

- Find out if you qualify for benefits;
- Use our benefit planners to help you better understand your Social Security protection;
- Estimate your future retirement benefits to help you plan for your financial future;
- Apply for retirement or Medicare quickly and easily; and
- Open your personal my Social Security account. It is a powerful tool to help you stay in control of your Social Security record. If you don’t receive benefits yet, you can:
- Get your Social Security Statement to review your earnings and make sure they’re recorded correctly;
- Get a benefit verification letter to prove you don’t receive Social Security benefits or that you applied but haven’t received an answer yet;
- Request a replacement Social Security card if you meet certain requirements; and
- Check the status of your application or appeal a decision.

If you receive benefits, you can:

- Change your address and phone number;
- Get a benefit verification letter to prove you receive Social Security benefits, Supplemental Security Income (SSI), or Medicare;
- Change your direct deposit information at any time;
- Request a replacement Medicare card; and
- Get a replacement Benefit Statement (SSA-1099 or SSA-1042S) for tax purposes

Kick your feet up and grab your laptop or even your cellphone. You can access our online services page and do much of your business with us when you’re on the go at www.socialsecurity.gov/onlineservices.

Remember, you can easily share our webpages and resources by copying the link and messaging a family member or friend. Now, go enjoy that vacation or start planning your next one knowing that, at Social Security, we’re securing your today and tomorrow.

Youth Leadership Academy

SUBMITTED BY GUY ASHLEY

Applications are being accepted for Alameda County’s 2018 Youth Leadership Academy (YLA), a free educational program for local 11th and 12th grade students interested in learning about local government, developing leadership skills and networking with peers from throughout the County.

Youth from high schools across Alameda County will participate in five Saturday morning sessions this fall from September – December 2018. Sessions will allow young leaders to learn about County programs, engage with County staff and elected officials, and build leadership skills to help solve community problems.

The 2018 Alameda County Youth Leadership Academy will be held on the following dates at facilities throughout Alameda County:

- September 15
- October 13
- October 20
- November 17
- December 15

To be eligible, applicants must live in Alameda County and be a junior or senior at a school within the County. The application deadline is August 25, 2018.

Applications are accepted on a first-come, first-served basis with consideration given to geographic location to ensure representation of students from throughout Alameda County.

To apply for the 2018 Youth Leadership Academy, or to learn more, go to <https://www.acgov.org/youthleadership/>.

Opposition to planned census citizenship question

SUBMITTED BY SANTA CLARA COUNTY PUBLIC AFFAIRS

The County of Santa Clara, joined by the County of San Mateo, issued a detailed letter [August 7, 2018] opposing the U.S. Census Bureau’s current plan to include a citizenship question on the 2020 Census. As set out in the County’s letter, the Bureau’s proposed actions will significantly undermine the accuracy of the 2020 Census and cause a systemic and discriminatory undercount of the Counties’ valued and vibrant immigrant communities.

The results of the 2020 Census are used in critical aspects of American political and civic life, including apportionment of congressional representation and allocation of federal funding the Counties use to provide life-saving health and safety services. “The Census Bureau’s plan to include a citizenship question on the 2020 Census is unnecessary and discriminatory, and it patently violates the law,” said County Counsel James R. Williams. “Every person must be counted fairly and accurately. That’s what our Constitution requires.”

The County’s comment letter can be found at: <http://ow.ly/rGsn30lj7L>

AC Transit bus line assignments to S.F. have changed

SUBMITTED BY ROBERT LYLES

With the recent grand opening of the new Salesforce Transit Center in San Francisco, AC Transit has realigned some bus service lines from the East Bay. As of Monday, August 13, AC Transit has transferred its full roster of 27 weekday Transbay Bus Lines, three weekend Transbay Bus Lines, and its fleet of 140 buses to the Salesforce Transit Center.

“The new Salesforce Transit Center allows AC Transit to enhance our commitment to getting riders closer to jobs,” said Board of Directors President, Elsa Ortiz. “Additionally, its world-class design minimizes travel delays. Our buses now bypass congested San Francisco surface streets and travel a new dedicated bus ramp connecting the bus deck to the Bay Bridge.”

Motorists who enter the Bay Bridge eastbound at First and Harrison Streets should be mindful of a newly added merge lane from the dedicated bus ramp. Flashing safety lights are now activated alerting drivers to buses merging on the right.

For more information about AC Transit and the Salesforce Transit Center, visit the AC Transit website at www.actransit.org.

Extreme fire danger restrictions in place

SUBMITTED BY DAVE MASON

Officials from California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection (Cal Fire) recently announced a ban on all outdoor burning because of extreme fire conditions in the state. The ban is in effect until further notice and includes all burning in the State Responsibility Areas within Alameda, Santa Clara and Contra Costa counties and the western portions of Stanislaus and San Joaquin counties. All East Bay regional parks are also included in the fire restriction and visitors are asked to adhere to the following restrictions:

- No open fires, campfires, burning of wood or charcoal barbecues are permitted, except gas or propane-fueled stoves.
- Visitors to campgrounds must clear all flammable material for 10 feet in all directions from their camp stove, have a shovel available, and ensure that a responsible person always attends the stove during use.

- No smoking in any East Bay Regional Park.
 - No use of gasoline powered equipment (generators) outside of designated campgrounds or developed recreation areas.
- Increased monitoring, patrol and strict enforcement of these restrictions will occur by East Bay Regional Park District police and fire personnel, park staff and volunteer trail safety patrollers.

For more information about preparing for wildfires and defensible space visit these websites: www.readyforwildfire.org and www.preventwildfireca.org.

Call PG&E before starting a digging project

SUBMITTED BY LAURA WETMORE

In conjunction with National Safe Digging Day, held in August each year, PG&E is raising awareness about the importance of calling 811 before any digging project — large or small. When called, this free nationwide service dispatches all companies with underground lines to mark the location of their facilities and ensure safe digging, including electric, gas, water and telecommunications services.

Third-party dig-ins and strikes on underground lines happen nearly every day. So far this year, there have been more than 200 dig-ins on PG&E’s underground lines in the East Bay alone. Many could have been avoided by calling 811 or placing an online request to 811express.com.

No project is too small. Whether you are planting a tree, installing a fence, or building a new structure — calling 811 can avoid fines, repair costs and even injury.

Help save lives and keep communities safe with a call to 811 two business days before any digging project.

OPINION

WILLIAM MARSHAK

School bells are ringing... for all of us

A sigh of relief, high expectations and groans of despair are in the air as summer breezes drift away into the fall season that brings brisk winds and school bells. The gap in attitudes toward the beginning of a new school year also can be applied to the approaching political turmoil of general elections in November. How much do we really know about our own government? What is taught in schools to prepare students of today to become responsible voters of tomorrow?

For those who follow the political scene closely, many aspects of our system are open to interpretation, misinterpretation and misunderstandings. Terminology including capitalism, socialism and communism are used to energize or incite the general population without a basic understanding of what they mean. Schools are pressured to teach what began as STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Mathematics) education, that has now morphed to STEAM (adding Arts) and STREAM (adding Reading & Writing). Attention to basic education for everyone is an important cornerstone for our country, but understanding how our system works is a critical factor in that education.

Traditionally, at least a brief introduction called "civics" was required in high school. It seems reasonable to ask our students who are about to enter the political fray to understand the basic ideas that led to our independence and constitution; not just through memorization, but rather with an understanding of why and how our system operates. It is disheartening to read or listen to occasional surveys of citizens who are ignorant of even its basic structure. I suspect that a similar poll among immigrants who have worked toward citizenship would reveal a higher level of understanding. Why? Because in order to become a naturalized citizen of this country, not only is a candidate required to affirm loyalty to the United States of America, but also demonstrate an elementary knowledge of how it operates.

Native born citizens should be at least as conversant with this as those who strive to become naturalized citizens. Requirements for citizenship include reading, writing and speaking English [there are a few exceptions], and answering 10 random questions – six correctly - from a list of 100. It is reported that the overall pass rate is 91 percent. The following is a sample test. Can you pass it?

1. What is the supreme law of the land?
2. What is the economic system in the United States?
3. Who makes federal laws?
4. How many U.S. Senators are there?
5. The House of Representatives has how many voting members?
6. Why do some states have more Representatives than other states?
7. If both the President and Vice President can no longer serve, who becomes President?

8. What are two Cabinet-level positions?

9. What is the highest court in the United States?

10. Under our Constitution, some powers belong to the federal government. What is one power of the federal government?

There are many more questions examiners can choose from. To find the entire list, reference the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services website listed below. You might be surprised by the depth of knowledge required for those who willingly come to this country to become fellow citizens. Those of us who enjoy the rights of citizenship through birth should make the same effort to protect our republic in "the land of the free and the home of the brave!"

Robertson High School named Model Professional Learning Community

SUBMITTED BY BRIAN KILLGORE

Fremont Unified School District's Robertson High School was recently recognized by Solution Tree for its sustained success in raising student achievement. Robertson's successful implementation of the Professional Learning Communities (PLC) at Work™ process was a major contributing factor in the improved achievement of its students.

PLCs are schools and districts in which educators recognize the key to improved learning for students is on-going, job-embedded learning for the adults who serve those students. The three big ideas of a PLC call upon educators to:

- Focus on learning.
- Build a collaborative culture.
- Create a results orientation.

"We are proud to receive this designation from Solution Tree and appreciate its recognition of our efforts to improve the educational experience our students receive while at Robertson," said Robertson High School Principal, Sal Herrera. "This is a welcome reward for a multi-year effort by our staff to create a culture of collaboration focused on student learning."

Recognized model PLC schools are listed on www.allthingsplc.info. The site was developed and is maintained by Solution Tree, a leading provider of educational strategies and tools that improve staff and student performance.

Obituary

Joseph E. Perry

Longtime local farmer Joseph E. Perry passed away on August 7, 2018 of natural causes. He was 86 years young.

Joseph was born and raised on Beard Road in Fremont on November 22, 1931. He was the son of Azorean immigrants, Joseph F. Perry and Rita Mello. The Perrys and the Mellos settled on Beard Rd. where both sides of the family farmed growing various vegetables and fruit.

Joseph attended Alviso Elementary School. He graduated from Washington Township High School in 1950. His passion for dancing led him to eventually met his wife, Patricia Guerra, at a high school dance. Patricia brought the bookkeeping angle to the farming operation which helped take the farm to another level.

Joseph followed in the footsteps of his ancestors and was fortunate enough to pursue his lifelong dream of farming. He honed his skill as a farmer working for his father and uncles growing up.

In his earlier working days, Joseph farmed part time and worked various factory jobs as a machinist. He utilized this skill to make some of his own machinery for farming. Joseph has farmed vegetables, fruit, and raised livestock in Fremont and Newark since the 1960's. This year marks the 50th anniversary of the Perry's Pumpkin Patch which is currently located at Ardenwood Historic Farm.

Joseph was past president of the Alameda County Farm Bureau and served on the Board of Directors at the time of his passing. He was a member of the Native Sons of the Golden West and Washington Township Men's Club.

Had he not been a farmer, he would have enjoyed being a professional dancer. In his spare time, he practiced all forms of dancing from ballroom to disco and could moonwalk. He enjoyed doing Tai Chi. He and Patricia danced regularly at the Fremont Senior Center which he looked forward to every Thursday.

Joseph was preceded in death by his father Joseph, his mother Rita, his sisters Lorraine Perry and Edith Pine. He is survived by his loving wife of 66 years, Patricia. His brother John Perry. His 4 children Diane (Hal), Douglas (Janice), James (Jennifer) and Petrina. 16 Grandchildren and 20 Great-Grandchildren.

Family and friends are invited to attend a vigil Tuesday, August 14, 2018 at 6:00-8:00 p.m. at Corpus Christi Church, 37968 3rd Street, Fremont, CA. Funeral mass will be 10:00 a.m. Wednesday, August 15, 2018, held at Holy Spirit Church, 37588 Fremont Blvd., Fremont, CA. Burial will follow at Holy Sepulchre. In lieu of flowers, please send donations to Autism Speaks.

Eugene N. Maldonado

September 30, 1934 – August 4, 2018
Resident of Union City

He is survived by his devoted wife of 60 years, Romie, sons, David, Raymond (Lisa), and Eugene Jr., grandchildren, Nick (Ana), Nathan (Keri), Alex, Lauren, William, and Jesse, great-grandchildren, Nalea, Ben, Nico, Kalani, and Pia. Also survived by his siblings Molly Esparza, Gilbert Maldonado, and Rufus Perez. Preceded in death by his daughter, Diana, his mother, Lupe Perez, father, Emilio Maldonado and sister, Rita Escobar.

Served in the Navy, post WWII as CS3 for four years where he met and married his wife, Romie, in 1958. They relocated from AZ to CA in 1963. He was a baker for 30 years in the grocery industry. Hobbies over the years included coaching girls softball, bowling, gardening, painting, amateur photography, and belonging to the Gem and Minerals Club. He also enjoyed attending and supporting local youth baseball and softball activities.

Visitation will be held on Tuesday, August 14th from 5-8pm with a Vigil at 6:30pm at Our Lady of the Rosary Catholic Church, 703 C St., Union City. Funeral Mass will be celebrated on Wednesday, August 15th, 10am at Our Lady of the Rosary Catholic Church. Burial will follow at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, 26320 Mission Blvd., Hayward.

Obituary

Fries, Walter Xavier

Fries, Walter Xavier passed in peace surrounded by loved ones in his home in Pleasanton, California on Mon Aug. 6th 2018 at the age of 83, following a long battle with Alzheimer’s disease. Loving husband of Lyla Fries for 47 years. Devoted father of Sherry Ingles, Daniel Fries, and Cassy Stewart. Proud grandfather of Marie Ingles and Noah Stewart.

Born on May 6th during the great depression to Swiss immigrants Marie and Frank Fries, Walt grew up in a simple farmhouse located in Newark, California with his two older brothers Frank and Albert Fries, whom preceded him in death. He is survived by his sister Joanne Hicks of Sunlakes, Arizona.

Walt was a self-made man in the truest sense. He attended Washington high school in Fremont, California and with a modest education he was able to start a real estate brokerage, Look Realty, with his best friend and business partner, Wiley Hatter. In the 1960s this small real estate brokerage was a leader in the residential real estate market in the tri-city area. If he couldn’t sell your home he would buy it. As the market changed in the early 1980’s, so did the goals and opportunities for Look Realty. Over time it was decided to divide the partnership. In 1981, Walt established Fries Properties and expanded his focus on the investment and management of commercial real estate.

Walt will be remembered as a family man; always put his family first and above all. A gentleman farmer and a man of routine, he regularly enjoyed morning coffee in Niles and Sunday breakfast at Dino’s with longtime friend, Bernard Blueford. When Walt wasn’t working, he enjoyed family trips to the Sierras, horseback riding, winning Monopoly, or was on the green, golfing with Dick Rhine. He always kept an eye out for a good bargain at the flea market or local auction, a car aficionado at heart, true workaholic, and proud Republican. He would often say, “My way of helping the poor is to not be one of them.”

Walt is deeply loved and respected by his wife, children, and grandchildren and will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

Friends and family are invited to visitation Thursday Aug. 23, 2018 from 5-9p.m. at the Mission Chapel within the Chapel of the Chimes Hayward.

A funeral service will be held at 11:00a.m. on Friday, Aug. 24, 2018 at the Mission Chapel. The Chapel of the Chimes Hayward 32992 Mission BlvdHayward, CA 94544. Celebration of Life immediately following interment.

Red Cross urgently needs blood donations

SUBMITTED BY CHRISTINE WELCH

As summer winds down, the American Red Cross urges individuals to give blood and platelets now and help end an emergency summer blood shortage that began last month. A critical need remains as many regular donors delay giving to take final summer vacations and prepare for school to start. To ensure lifesaving treatments remain available for patients in the coming weeks, donations are needed now, especially type O.

In thanks for helping at this urgent time, all those who come to donate blood or platelets July 30 through Aug. 30, 2018, will receive a $5 Amazon.com Gift Card via email. (Restrictions apply; more information and details are available at RedCrossBlood.org/Together.)

Make an appointment to donate blood by downloading the free American Red Cross Blood Donor App, visiting RedCrossBlood.org or calling 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767). Those who donated blood earlier this summer may be eligible to give again. Blood can be safely given every 56 days, and Power Red donations can be given every 16 weeks.

Obituary

Jeanette Arlene (Holmes) Wright

March 22, 1930 - July 22, 2018

One of seven children, Jean was born to Everette Holmes and Verna Holmes. She had 3 sisters and 3 brothers, Jean being the second oldest child. Three generations of Holmes lived in Stockton and Jean and Frank (deceased) went to Stockton High. They were on the Class of 1948 Reunion Committee for many years and loved it.

Jean lived in the country where they grew most of their own food until V.E. Day when the family moved into her Grandfather's house after he died. She enjoyed the church youth group and met her future husband Franklin on the church steps. They were married and had 5 children, Dale, Laura, Karen, Arlene and Daniel. Daniel died at 2 months old. Dale died at 55 years.

Frank and Jean also had six Grandchildren and eight Great Grandchildren. They so loved being Grandparents! They took them all out in their RV to explore the parks and nature. The kids learned a lot from them as there were always chores and adventures.

Their marriage went 65 years before Frank's death. Jean passed away on what would have been their 69th anniversary. They lived in Fremont.

They traveled for many years in one of two RV's, a Toyota Dolphin and a American Clipper. They visited all 50 states, went on two cruises (one with Frank's brothers and their wives) and went to China. What a memorable time they had!

Jean was a homemaker, enjoying hand work of all types.

She was a Girl Scout leader for many years. She hosted the neighborhood voting for 30 years and she and the family built integrated circuit boards in our home when computers were just starting out.

Jean loved her family and we loved her and our Dad. They are missed.

Back to school tips for families of children coping with special needs

SUBMITTED BY AMI NEIBERGER-MILLER, EPISCOPAL CENTER FOR CHILDREN

Heading back to the classroom this fall is exciting, but it can also be a challenging time for families of children with special needs. The Episcopal Center for Children (ECC), a nonprofit organization serving children coping with special needs ages 5-14 in the Washington, DC area since 1895, offers tips to help:

Tip #1 – Review your child’s Individual Education Plan (IEP). Carefully look over the IEP. Do you have any new medical or psychological reports that the school should know about? Some parents find using a binder or folder for paperwork can be a big help.

Tip #2 – Keep everyone informed. Talk with the school to make sure their plans for your child match the intentions in the IEP. Ensure the school staff are up to speed on where your child is presently. Make sure you know where your child’s classroom is, any transportation plans, and what he or she will need to bring each day. Talk with your child too. Build up “going back to school” and be positive!

Tip #3 – Calm any stress or first day jitters your child may have. Whether it’s a new classroom or familiar surroundings, children may be nervous about starting back to school. Talk with your child about their feelings. Assure your child that going back to school will be a good thing.

Tip #4 – Delay getting new school clothes. A new outfit may not calm first day nerves. For some children coping with sensitivities, new clothes may aggravate nervousness or be uncomfortable. For children with sensory challenges, new clothes may feel itchy, stiff and uncomfortable. If your child needs it, let him or her wear clothes that are comfortable and familiar for the first few days of school.

Tip #5 – Help your child “picture” going back to school. Some children visually process information and benefit from visual assurances. Create a visual countdown chart at home, so your child can help move the numbers as you count down to the start of the school year. If your child is returning to a familiar school and you have photos showing him or her at school or with friends or a teacher, show the photos to your child. If you visit the school before school starts, take a picture of your child in his or her classroom, and show the photo to your child later at home.

Tip #6 – Begin introducing new routines before school starts. Morning and afternoon routines can help your child transition into and out of school each day. You may need to establish an earlier bedtime routine to make sure your child is up on time and ready to go. Start thinking about how you want to approach homework. Talk with your child about when and how homework will be completed.

Tip #7 – Talk to the school staff about any of your concerns. Open communication helps children coping with special needs. Speak with school staff if you have noticed something new about your child that may impact their education. Open communication with school staff will benefit your child. Some parents find it helpful to keep a communication log or to set reminders on their calendar for regular check-ins with school staff.

Tip #8 – Get clarity on transitions. Because transitions during the school day can be challenging, clarify with school staff how transitions are handled. Who greets children as they get off the bus? Who talks to them when they walk into the building? How are transitions between classes or activities handled? Make sure your child understands what to expect.

Tip #9 – Mark your calendar for school events. If the school has an open house, parent-teacher night, or back to school program, try to attend. Talk with the staff about your child’s progress. If you are not able to go, make a point of calling the teacher or staff at another time and getting caught up on the information.

Tip #10 - Review your child’s school’s Parent-Student Handbook. Carefully review the school’s parent-student handbook to make sure that you are aware of school policies and requirements. Discuss the discipline policy with your child prior to the first day of school...

Stretch and build fitness by learning Tai Chi

SUBMITTED BY JUI-LAN LIU

Patrons who visit the Fremont Main Library have a chance to not only stretch their minds, but also their bodies through the library’s regular fitness programs. The next session will be a Tai Chi for Health program at 1 p.m. Saturday, August 18. Led by Dr. Beverley Kane, the one-hour program will include gentle movements and an introduction to Tai Chi exercise philosophy. The program is geared toward people, ages 12 and older.

Participants should meet at the entrance to the library, 2400 Stevenson Blvd. The class will be held outdoors, so students should bring sunscreen or wear long-sleeves or hats for protection from the sun.

ARTS AND CRAFTS IN SHINN PARK

SUBMITTED BY ARATHI SATISH

Local artists and crafters will display, demonstrate, and sell their work, while historic crafts and skills of the past will be on display at the 16th annual "Arts & Crafts in Shinn Park." Sponsored by Fremont Cultural Arts Council (FCAC) and Mission Peak Heritage Foundation, the Sunday, August 19 event will feature music, food and drinks, and docent-led house tours.

This year, youths can once again participate in special events. Shinn House is one of the nine local Passport to Adventure sites (<https://museumoflocalhistory.org/passport-to-adventure/>), generating quite a bit of traffic on Facebook and other social media platforms. In addition, because of the popularity of the STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts and Math) project last year, four booths with seven different STEAM projects will be present. STEAM's goal is to encourage youth to learn about the world around them by engaging in hands-on projects with a scientific basis. Participants can join in and take their creations home, free of charge.

FCAC President Margaret Thornberry said, "Hard to believe that this is the 16th year since Fremont Cultural Arts Council member Al Minard proposed Art in the Park to showcase our fine local crafters and artists." Thornberry continued, "Looking back over the years at all the fun and entertainment, the outstanding arts and crafts on display, and the relaxing days in the shaded garden, it seems that the time has passed in the blink of an eye, and it occurs to me that small children who came to enjoy this free event with their parents during the earlier years will be off to college soon! This has been such a popular family event that we've made very few changes over time, other than offering even more STEAM activities, fun and educational for adults as well as youngsters."

Minard, who has been organizing this event for years, pointed out its various special features. "There will be art in action. I know that one of our artists will bring her spinning wheel. In the past she has spun wool, bamboo, and dog hair. Music for Minors will be teaching people how to make musical instruments from simple things; that is always fun to do. The Garden Club will be there with garden-related items. And, ceramic artists, jewelry makers, quilters, painters, wood carvers, and sketch artists will also demonstrate their arts and crafts. They are all local artists and really very good. Most items are not only beautiful, but useful as well." The artists and crafters are all local so proceeds will benefit our community. This event provides a wonderful opportunity to purchase beautiful, one-of-a-kind gifts for family and friends.

Soft drinks and food will be available from noon onwards. Costumed docent-led house tours, provided by Mission Peak Heritage Foundation, will begin at noon with the last tour at 3:30 p.m. There is a $5 charge for touring the house for adults, a $2.50 charge for children 7-13; entrance is free for children under the age of 7. The Museum of Local History will display historical artifacts from years gone by. Music for Minors II and East Bay Traditional Youth Jazz band will perform. Boy Scouts of troop 447 will assist with parking.

For more information, visit www.fremontculturalartscouncil.org or contact Al Minard at (510) 552-4839 or Alminard@comcast.net.

Police chief express disgust over attack by son

SUBMITTED BY UNION CITY PD

In a letter posted on the Union City Police Department’s Facebook page on Wednesday, Aug. 8, Police Chief Darryl McAllister confirmed that his son, Tyrone Keith McAllister, 18, was arrested in connection with an attack on an elderly Sikh man last week in Manteca.

In McAllister’s open letter to the community, the chief said he is disgusted by the attack and that his son has been estranged from the family for several months.

The early morning attack near a Manteca park was captured by a nearby surveillance camera. It showed to suspects confronting the 71-year-old man on the sidewalk, apparently in an attempt to rob him. When the man resisted, one of the suspects, later identified as Tyrone Keith McAllister, violently kicked the man, knocking him to the ground. He continued kicking the man while he laid on the pavement. News reports indicated the second suspect arrested was a 16-year-old juvenile.

A statement released by the Union City Police Department said that Chief McAllister is “devastated by how much the nature of his son’s actions are such a departure from everything he has stood for in his personal life and 37-year career of compassionate, engaging police work.” The statement also said that McAllister and his wife worked with the Manteca Police Department to help track down their son and make an arrest.

Union City Police officials said that McAllister expressed deep concern for the victim and the victim’s family and he remains steadfast that his son must be accountable for his actions. Meanwhile, they said that Chief McAllister would not be making any immediate public comments while he attends to his family.

A link to McAllister’s letter to the community was posted on the Union City Police Department’s Facebook page: <https://www.facebook.com/unioncitypd/posts/2304148612935819>.

Security cameras may help police solve crimes

SUBMITTED BY MILPITAS PD

Because the use of security cameras at private residences and businesses has increased over the past several years, officials from the Milpitas Police Department are reminding residents and businesses that they can potentially help police solve some crimes by registering their cameras in department’s Camera Registry Program.

As crimes occur, the Milpitas Police Department may be able to use information from footage gathered from security cameras to assist the investigation. Often times security camera footage helps identify suspects and/or provides additional investigative leads.

Registering a camera in the program is voluntary and the police department will not have remote access to private homes or business security camera systems. Camera footage is provided to police solely at the owner’s discretion.

Anyone who is interested in signing up for the program can do so by visiting the registration website at <https://forms.ci.milpitas.ca.gov/cameraregistry/>.

New Santa Clara County Fire Chief

SUBMITTED BY BILL MURPHY

The Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors has appointed Tony Bowden as the new Fire Chief for the Santa Clara County Fire Department (County Fire). Chief Bowden, currently working as the department’s Assistant Chief, will begin his new assignment on August 13, 2018.

“Chief Bowden is a trusted, dedicated leader who knows our county and cares about our residents. I have no doubt that he will maintain the level of excellence that the Santa Clara County Fire Department is known for,” said Supervisor Mike Wasserman.

Chief Bowden began his career with the Los Altos Fire Department in 1996, and joined the County Fire organization later the same year when the City of Los Altos and Town of Los Altos Hills contracted with County Fire for service. Chief Bowden has held every rank in the organization. “I look forward to this new opportunity,” said Chief Bowden. “I was born and raised in this community and have worked for the fire department nearly all of my adult life. I am honored the Board of Supervisors has entrusted me with leading County Fire as we serve the community.”

The Santa Clara County Fire Department provides emergency response and preparedness services to unincorporated areas of Santa Clara County, and the communities of Campbell, Cupertino, Los Altos, Los Altos Hills, Los Gatos, Monte Sereno and Saratoga. As County Fire Chief, Bowden also serves as the Santa Clara County Fire Marshal.

Bowden holds a bachelor’s degree in Fire Administration from Waldorf University, and is completing a master’s degree in Organizational Leadership. He is a state certified Fire Officer, Chief Officer and Fire Instructor.

Arrest made in Bayfair jewelry store robbery

SUBMITTED BY SAN LEANDRO P.D.

On July 24th, 2018, Sam’s Jewelry store located inside of Bayfair Mall was robbed by two adult male suspects. The incident occurred around 6:30 pm when the two black male suspects entered the store and began inquiring about the “expensive” jewelry line. The two suspects left the store but returned a short time later.

One suspect stood outside the store while the other entered now wearing gloves and produced a hammer from his pocket. The suspect began smashing the glass display cases and eventually reached inside and began stealing the jewelry. Approximately $14,000 worth of jewelry was taken.

Both suspects fled the store and were quickly confronted by a Bayfair Mall security officer. The hammer used in the crime was thrown at the security officer which struck him in the face causing injury. Both suspects reached the parking lot and fled the area in their vehicle. A partial license plate of the suspect vehicle was recorded and later given to police.

San Leandro Police detectives were able to obtain video surveillance footage from the store cameras. The images of the suspects were shared with other law enforcement agencies in the area, and within a few days, a tip was received with a possible identity on the two suspects.

On August 7th, San Leandro Police detectives identified and arrested 35-year-old Oakland resident Steven Glenn as the suspect who used the hammer to commit the robbery and as the suspect who assaulted the security officer. In addition, the clothing worn by Glenn during the commission of the crime were also located. Glenn gave detectives a full confession of the crimes.

On August 8th, San Leandro Police detectives identified and arrested the second suspect; 41-year-old Oakland resident Randy Hawkins. The vehicle used to flee the crime was also located by detectives. Hawkins as well gave a full confession of his involvement to detectives.

“This case is example of how video surveillance and collaboration with partner law enforcement come together to solve a violent incident,” said San Leandro Police Lieutenant Isaac Benabou. “Our detectives continuously share information with surrounding law enforcement agencies in a joint effort to help each other. It is necessary in a time where criminals travel between jurisdictions.”

Both Glenn and Hawkins were charged by the Alameda County District Attorney for robbery and assault charges. Both suspects remain in custody at Alameda County’s Santa Rita Jail in Dublin.

TRUSTEE SALES

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE Recording requested by: TS No. CA-18-811322-NJ Order No.: 8731027 YOU ARE IN DEFAULT UNDER A DEED OF TRUST DATED 4/18/2017. UNLESS YOU TAKE ACTION TO PROTECT YOUR PROPERTY, IT MAY BE SOLD AT A PUBLIC SALE. IF YOU NEED AN EXPLANATION OF THE NATURE OF THE PROCEEDING AGAINST YOU, YOU SHOULD CONTACT A LAWYER. A public auction sale to the highest bidder for cash, cashier's check drawn on a state or national bank, check drawn by a state or federal credit union, or a check drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, or savings association, or savings bank specified in Section 5102 to the Financial Code and authorized to do business in this state, will be held by duly appointed trustee. The sale will be made, but without covenant or warranty, expressed or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to pay the accrued principal sum of the note(s) secured by the Deed of Trust, with interest and late charges thereon, as provided in the note(s), advances, under the terms of the Deed of Trust, interest thereon, fees, charges and expenses of the trustee for the total amount (at the time of the initial publication of the Notice of Sale) reasonably estimated to be set forth below. The amount may be greater on the day of sale. BENEFICIARY MAY BID LESS THAN THE TOTAL AMOUNT DUE. Trustor(s): J.B. ROGER LA RIVIERE, TRUSTEE, OR HIS SUCCESSORS IN TRUST UNDER J.B. ROGER LA RIVIERE DATED SEPTEMBER 9, 2005. Recorded: 4/25/2017 as Instrument No. 2017091862 of Official Records in the office of the Recorder of ALAMEDA County, California; Date of Sale: 10/1/2018 at 12:00PM Place of Sale: At the Fallon Street emergency exit to the Alameda County Courthouse, located at 1225 Fallon St., Oakland, CA 94612 Amount of accrued balance and other charges: $430,419.13 The purported property address is: 33720 15TH STREET, UNION CITY, CA 94587 Assessor's Parcel No. : 486-0042-041-01 NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 916-939-0772 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this Internet Web site <http://www.qualityloan.com>, using the file number assigned to this foreclosure by the trustee: CA-18-811322-NJ. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet

Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. The undersigned trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the property address or other common designation, if any, shown herein. If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. If the trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the trustee, and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. If the sale is set aside for any reason, the Purchaser at the sale shall be entitled only to a return of the deposit paid. The Purchaser shall have no further recourse against the mortgagor, the mortgagee, or the mortgagee's attorney. If you have previously been discharged through bankruptcy, you may have been released of personal liability for this loan in which case this letter is intended to exercise the note holders right's against the real property only. As required by law, you are hereby notified that a negative credit report reflecting on your credit record may be submitted to a credit report agency if you fail to fulfill the terms of your credit obligations. NOTIFICATION OF NATIONAL SCHOOL LUNCH PROGRAM

The New Haven Unified School District (NHUSD) participates in the School Nutrition Programs offered by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA). The District receives funding for providing nutritious meals for breakfast and lunch to NHUSD students. Parents who have children in the district are encouraged to complete a meal application to determine the eligibility category for school meals. The information parents provide is confidential and will be used only for eligibility determination and verification of the data.

To determine your child's eligibility for the meal program you must apply and provide information regarding household size and income. Households that receive Food Stamps (CalFresh) or other assistance programs may be notified of their child's automatic eligibility to receive free meals, and do not need to apply unless they do not receive our notification. These children will be provided free or reduced price meals unless the District is contacted and the eligibility is declined. If you are receiving assistance from these programs and do not receive notification of free meal eligibility, please apply online or complete a paper application.

Households may apply online for the school year 2018-2019 on the District website: www.nhusd.k12.ca.us. Paper applications are also available to all District households beginning in August. Applications may be obtained at all school sites and at the office of Food & Nutrition Services located at 2831 Faber Street in Union City, California 94587.

Please contact Food and Nutrition Services at (510) 475-3992 if you have questions regarding the program.

“The USDA and California Department of Education are equal opportunity providers and employers.”

Vote for Fremont’s Maker Education Specialist Parker Thomas

Last year, the City of Fremont partnered with FUSE Corps, a nonprofit organization with a mission to help local governments address urban challenges, and hired Fremont’s first FUSE Corps Executive Fellow, Parker Thomas. Since then, Parker has been working to build a future advanced manufacturing talent pipeline through nurturing maker education efforts in the classroom, after school programs, and more.

After a listening tour of the Fremont Unified School District, businesses, community organizations, and city departments as well as a trip to study Pittsburgh’s maker ecosystem, Parker is ready to share his insights gained in his time with Fremont with a broader audience, specifically, how to create a sustainable framework to support maker education initiatives that will benefit students, teachers, and the broader community.

Parker has submitted a speaking proposal to the 2019 SXSW EDU, a premiere education conference that gathers and empowers a community of educators and other stakeholders to advance teaching and learning.

In his proposed session, “How Little Bets Can Kickstart Maker Education,” Parker will explore how Fremont used low-cost experiments to catalyze a local maker education movement. This includes how to design little bets with the help of the community, evaluate the success of those little bets, and transform the successful endeavors into larger programs.

To vote for Parker’s submission and increase the chances that his topic will be selected, visit the following link, create a quick profile, and click “Vote Up”: <https://panelpicker.sxsw.com/vote/91204>.

SXSW EDU Community voting will be through Aug. 30. The final decision is derived from SXSW EDU Advisory Board evaluations (40 percent), public voting (30 percent), and staff review (30 percent).

You can find additional information about Parker’s work in Fremont at www.FremontLearningNetwork.org.

Citizens Advisory Committee (CAC) Recruitment

Are you a City of Fremont resident interested in helping low and moderate-income families? Would you like to help determine how the city uses funding to improve our local social service and affordable housing infrastructure?

If so, the Citizens Advisory Committee (CAC) would be a great way for you to serve the community. The City of Fremont is currently accepting new member applications for the CAC. The CAC is a City of Fremont resident body that is advisory to city staff for the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Program. CAC members are appointed by the City Manager.

The CDBG Program is funded by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and administered by the City of Fremont Human Services Department. The primary purpose of the CDBG program is to develop viable urban communities by providing decent housing and a suitable living environment, and by expanding economic opportunities, principally for low and moderate-income persons.

Every year, the City allocates approximately $900,000 in CDBG funds through a Request for Proposal (RFP) process. The CAC’s primary responsibility is to provide recommendations for all of the capital, public service, and microenterprise projects proposed by local nonprofits and public agencies each funding year. The CAC reviews proposals, interviews agencies and, along with staff, develops funding recommendations for staff to forward to the City Council.

Applications may be picked up at the Human Services Department, located at 3300 Capitol Ave., Building B, in Fremont, CA 94538. Applications can also be downloaded from the City’s website at www.Fremont.gov/CDBG. Applications are due August 31.

If you have any questions about the Citizens Advisory Committee, please contact Lucia Hughes at 510-574-2043 or lhughes@fremont.gov.

Volunteer Recruitment Fair for Ardenwood Historic Farm and Patterson House

The City of Fremont, East Bay Regional Park District, and Railroad Museum at Ardenwood are partnering to host an upcoming Volunteer Recruitment Fair on Sunday, Aug. 19 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Ardenwood Historic Farm. Prospective volunteers will receive an orientation and behind-the-scenes introduction to volunteer opportunities as a Patterson House Docent, Railroad Volunteer, and Farmyard Docent.

If you have an interest in leading Victorian-era Patterson House tours, helping out on special event days, participating in farm chores, demonstrating historic cooking techniques, helping to restore historic railroad cars, teaching arts and crafts, or becoming a member of a railroad crew, then this event is not-to-be-missed. This full-day event offers insight into each volunteer opportunity.

Learn more about Ardenwood Historic Farm and how you can be a part of the history. Reservations are required, so be sure to reserve your space by August 14. For reservations, contact Pia Loft by email at ploft@ebparks.org or by phone at (510) 544-3284. Lunch is provided.

Watch Movies Under the Stars

Join the Recreation Services Division for Summer Movies Under the Stars. Movies include Ferdinand on Friday, Aug. 17 at Central Park’s Performance Pavilion and Black Panther on Friday, Sept. 21 at the Town Fair Plaza in Downtown Fremont on Capitol Avenue and State Street. Both movies will be shown after sunset and are free to attend. Grab some blankets, low beach chairs, and a picnic dinner and enjoy two great flicks with family and friends this summer! For more details, visit www.Fremont.gov/MovieNight.

Free Personal Emergency Preparedness Class

The City of Fremont’s Fire Department is offering a free Personal Emergency Preparedness (PEP) class, which will teach you how to take care of yourself and your family before, during, and after a disaster. In just a single three-hour class, you will become an expert in:

- Earthquake and Disaster Awareness

- Gas, Electric and Water Shut-off

- Hazardous Material Awareness

- Fire Extinguisher Types

- Smoke Detector Placement

- Sheltering In-place

Dates for the remaining classes of the year are Tuesday, Sept. 18 and Tuesday, Nov. 20 from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. at the Fremont Fire Training Tower, located at 7200 Stevenson Blvd., west of Interstate 880. To register for a free PEP class, please call (510) 494-4244 or send an email to FirePubEd@fremont.gov.

If you are part of a group and would like to schedule your own personal group PEP class at your location, please contact Chuck Guaraglia, Public Education with the Fremont Fire Department, at (510) 792-3473 or guaragliac@comcast.net.

In addition to PEP, Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) training is a community service program offered by the Fremont Fire Department and its CERT volunteers. The last 20-hour course of the year will take place in October. Participants must attend all sessions on the following dates: Oct. 19 (7 p.m. — 10 p.m.), Oct. 20 (8 a.m. — 5 p.m.), and Oct. 21 (8 a.m. — 5 p.m.). For more information about CERT classes visit www.Fremont.gov/CERT or call (510) 494-4243. To register for a CERT class call (510) 494-4244.

Food bank celebrates Marketplace anniversary

SUBMITTED BY MELLICENT FRATICELLI AND STEPHANIE BRISTOW

Tri-City Volunteers (TCV) Food Bank and Thrift Store celebrates the one-year anniversary of the TCV Marketplace on Thursday, August 16. TCV Food Bank has been distributing food to the community for over 40 years, and prior to the Marketplace, clients went home with a set selection of groceries. Since the opening of the Marketplace, fresh produce and other groceries are distributed in a farmers’ market style, allowing clients to choose which foods and what quantities (up to the set limit) they will take home. TCV has heard from countless clients and volunteers about the positive impact of the Marketplace in their homes. “It’s nice to be able to have the opportunity to pick and choose; I feel that [the Marketplace] brings a different sense of pride to an individual,” says food bank client Thom.

The client-choice philosophy is that family’s preferences, dietary needs, and preparation abilities differ dramatically, and the groceries they go home with should better reflect those differences. The previous distribution system of pre-bagged food items often left households with items that they could not use, could not prepare, or simply did not want. This old model often resulted in a lot of food waste.

Food waste is a great concern in our community, and TCV partnered with StopWaste to actively reduce this problem. StopWaste.org, part of the Alameda County Waste Management Authority, reports that food waste is the largest single item in our waste stream – making up approximately 35 percent of what we throw away in Alameda County. With this in mind, StopWaste is a key supporter of TCV Marketplace, providing both financial and professional expertise for the new client-choice model.

In a recent on-site client survey, with over 230 responses, an overwhelming majority of TCV clients felt the variety and quality of groceries in the Marketplace was good to excellent. And over 90 percent of the clients felt they were offered the right amount of food or even more than enough food. Of those clients, over 93 percent of households reported that they were composting or giving away their excess food rather than throwing it away.

TCV is proud to have made the switch to the Marketplace client-choice model of distribution. Every single week TCV Food Bank provides over 1,000 financially challenged families and seniors with groceries and we hope to bring a sense of dignity to our clients as we work to “Feed the Need.”

The Marketplace operating hours are Monday through Thursday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Volunteers are needed Monday through Thursday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Fridays from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

To learn more, volunteer, or donate please visit tcvfoodbank.org or call (510) 793-4583.

Court of Honor recognizes new Eagle Scouts

SUBMITTED BY JESSIE LIU

In honor of eight Eagle Scouts, Troop 468 held an Eagle Court of Honor to celebrate their achievements at Gospel Chinese Christian Church in Milpitas on August 4, 2018. Close to 100 guests, friends, family members and Boy Scouts participated in this event. Special guests in attendance included Mr. Dave Holt, Committee chair for Polaris District of Silicon Valley Monterey Bay Council of Boy Scouts of America, Mr. Kensan Chu, California State Assembly Member, Mr. Peter Chiu, President of Chinese American Scout Association, Mr. Daniel Bay, Pastor of Gospel Chinese Christian Church, Eagle Scouts from past years, and many senior scouters. “It was wonderful and rewarding to see many returning Eagle Scouts of Troop 468 who turned out to be fine young men in their early 30’s”, said Mr. Pauli Hsueh, founder and first Scout Master of Troop 468. Eagle Scout is the highest achievement in Boy Scout program. Since the establishment of Boy Scout of America over a century ago, only four percent of Boy Scouts are granted this rank after a lengthy review process. In order to achieve the Eagle rank, they must complete a minimum of 21 merit badges, life skills requirements, an extensive service project and many others. More importantly, they must demonstrate Scout Spirit by living and adherence to the Scout Oath and Law. Troop 468 was established in 1999, serving Chinese American youth from Fremont, San Jose and Milpitas areas. The troop has cultivated total fifty-four eagle scouts over the course of nineteen years. Troop 468 has regular troop meetings held on the first Thursday and third Saturday of each month at Weibel Elementary school’s multi-purpose room and nearby Fremont parks, respectively.

If your son or daughter is interested in scouting or wants to have an opportunity to learn new things outside of school, provide service to others, build self-confidence, and reinforce ethical standards, please join us and explore the scouting life. These opportunities not only help them when they are young but also carry forward into their adult lives, improving their relationships, their work lives, their family lives, and the values by which they live. An evening with Writer-Producer-Director Dr. Hassan Zee

SUBMITTED BY HASSAN ZEE

In honor of Pakistan Independence Day, Pakistani American Community Center presents a private screening of the feature film “Salam Pakistan” and a question and answer session with Director Dr. Hassan Zee. Salam Pakistan was named as a semi-finalist at the Eurasia Film Festival, held annually in Kazakhstan. From the award-winning director, of the films ‘Night of Henna’ and ‘Bicycle Bride’ comes a new tale of love and finding homeland. A second-generation Pakistani-American youth, Omar goes to Pakistan to find his roots and his place in this world after the death of his father. He meets, falls in love and wants to marry a gypsy woman Diya, in a small town of Chakwal but his grandparents will not approve of this affair. Salam Pakistan, filmed in Chakwal, Pakistan, is a refreshing eye opener of the enormous beauty of this ancient landscape and the people who live there. The film takes audiences on a tour of beautiful spiritual shrines, the unique life in villages, and the cultural vibrancy of street life. The film stars Naghma (Pakistani top heroine of the 70’s) along with Shabbir Mirza with new faces Ali Raza and Meerab Awan. Salam Pakistan is Dr.Zee’s fourth feature film. Trailers of the film can be viewed at: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=uSCz86MN-JI> and https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=OKDRLVH1_h0 much the same spirit of the traveler that he brought to foreign places. "Our Kind of People" (1975), "Working: I Do It For the Money" (1977), and "Leisure" (1979), followed.

Owens' work is in museums and collections throughout the world including the Museum of Modern Art NY, Berkeley Art Museum, Los Angeles County Museum of Art, San Francisco Museum of Modern Art, Los Angeles Museum of Contemporary Art, the Getty Museum in Los Angeles, and the San Jose Museum of Art. He has received a Guggenheim Fellowship and two NEA (National Endowment for the Arts) grants. Owens founded Buffalo Bill's Brewery in Hayward in 1983, one of the first brewpubs to open since prohibition. In 2003, he founded the American Distilling Institute (ADI), a professional membership organization and publishing house "to promote and defend the art and enterprise of craft distilling." As the president of ADI, Owens has become one of the leading spokesmen of the craft distilling movement.

"Altamont to America" celebrates the work of Bill Owens for his 80th birthday.

Come by for unique experience of seeing a range of Owens' work spanning six decades and meet the photographer. The exhibition coincides with the book release of "Altamont to America: Bill Owens and the Legacy of Suburbia," the catalog for the exhibition. Owens will be on hand to sign copies of the limited-edition book.

The exhibit opens with a public reception on Saturday, August 18; the event is free, and the public is invited. The exhibition continues through Saturday, October 20.

Knap-in Stone Tool

techniques, at which point the flakes are refined to their eventual desired form.

The popular interactive demonstration stands as a reminder of the past and offers enthusiasts an opportunity to meet and share their love of knapping. "It's an event that brings together the community of flintknappers, people who work with stone tools, to share ideas with one another... If you are a native or not, all of our ancestors have used stone tools, so we can relate to this," said Francis Mendoza, an operations naturalist with the East Bay Regional Park District.

Attendees are invited to the park Saturday, August 18 and Sunday, August 19 to watch the demonstrations, headed up by expert knappers Ken Peek and Dick Baugh. Those 16 years or older can even participate in making a stone tool. "The Knap-in is open to the public for the whole weekend," Mendoza said, adding, "We encourage people to look at the demonstrations, though it's not the safest thing for young kids, which is why we have an age limit." If attendees would like to participate, they are encouraged to bring leather gloves, pants, closed-toe shoes and protective eyewear.

Stone tooling, or knapping, is a process that dates back more than 10,000 years in North America, according to flintknappingtools.com. Knapping was an integral part of the native lifestyle, as it provided numerous tools and technological advances. In the East Bay, specifically, a lot can be learned from the tools found in excavations. "Many of the Ohlone people would trade with the Patwin and others for obsidian because obsidian was nowhere to be found. It speaks back to the ancestry and aesthetic beauty but also the economics and commerce when people were here alone without European influence," Mendoza said. Today, a knapping enthusiast community exists worldwide, keeping the tradition alive in modern times. Groups such as Primitive Ways keep the stone tooling/knapping tradition alive through a vast network that invites anyone interested to reach out and learn more.

Coyote Hills itself has a rich native history, as it was part of the landscape the Ohlone people thrived on for generations. "There have been many artifacts found in the village sites all over the Bay Area," Mendoza said. He continued, "[Coyote Hills] actually has a village site that was excavated over the past 80 years to study the Ohlone people. After the excavation stopped, it was turned into an educational benefit to learn about the Ohlone people and that is primarily why Coyote Hills is the location to create these connections with the non-native populations, to show that this place is special to them and their ancestors." In addition to the annual Knap-in, the Gathering of the Ohlone People also takes place at Coyote Hills every October, this year's gathering happening October 7.

Besides the practical uses, stone tools are often regarded for their unique aesthetics. "They represent the beauty that comes from nature. A lot of this rock is obsidian, chert, and flint, and depending on the region it comes from, there's an innate beauty from the process of making these tools," Mendoza said.

The family-friendly, educational event can be enjoyed by all ages and admission is free.
