People with Purpose: A Pink Tie Gala

SUBMITTED BY JEN KINDRED & TINA FERNANDEZ STECKLER

HERS Breast Cancer Foundation (HERS) announces their 10th annual community awards gala, "People with Purpose: A Pink Tie Gala," which recognizes individuals and organizations who support breast cancer survivors and the foundation's programs.

The gala dinner takes place Saturday, May 4 at the Castlewood Country Club in Pleasanton, a hilltop venue with expansive views. The program for the evening includes a cocktail hour, entertainment, fundraising games, silent and live auctions, three-course dinner with wine, and award presentation. To cap off the night, a DJ will spin crowd favorites while attendees dance in celebration of honorees and breast cancer survivors. News anchor Heather Holmes from KTVU FOX2 will be master of ceremonies.

UKULELE Festival

BY ZOYA HAJEE

From gentle, sweet sounds to captivating colors and design, ukuleles are loved by people all over the world. Their sound is bound to put a smile on your face and learning the various chords and rhythms truly lets your creative juices flow. The "Northern California Ukulele Festival" is dedicated to promoting ukulele music and culture and to inspire youth to keep the traditions and music alive.

The late Hollis Baker and John Ogao founded the ukulele festival in March 1994 with their vision to provide a venue touched by the Spirit of Aloha for everyone to share ukulele talent. The founders were well-known musicians from San Francisco Bay Area's Polynesian community. Ogao was also a ukulele luthier, a builder and repairer of the instrument, while Baker taught a ukulele class called Kaleponi Strings. Due to their dedication to ukulele culture and their constant display of compassion and grace, the embodiment of Aloha Spirit, they are respected musicians and entertainers of all generations.

The ukulele is a portable instrument, and thus enthusiasts have traveled to far destinations to play as a solo act, with another musician, or with a group. Throughout its 25 years, this local event has attracted ukulele enthusiasts throughout California and has spread to the East Coast, Canada, and islands of Hawaii.

On Sunday, April 28, the Northern California Ukulele Festival will celebrate its 25th year, featuring a wide range of talent, from beginners to professionals, from the Bay Area, Southern California, North Carolina, and Hawaii. The theme for this year's performance is "Ohana," meaning family.

Mark Hsu, MD, Joins Washington Township Medical Foundation

Washington Township Medical Foundation (WTMF) proudly welcomes Mark Hsu, MD, a Stanford-trained urologist who has joined the team of physicians.

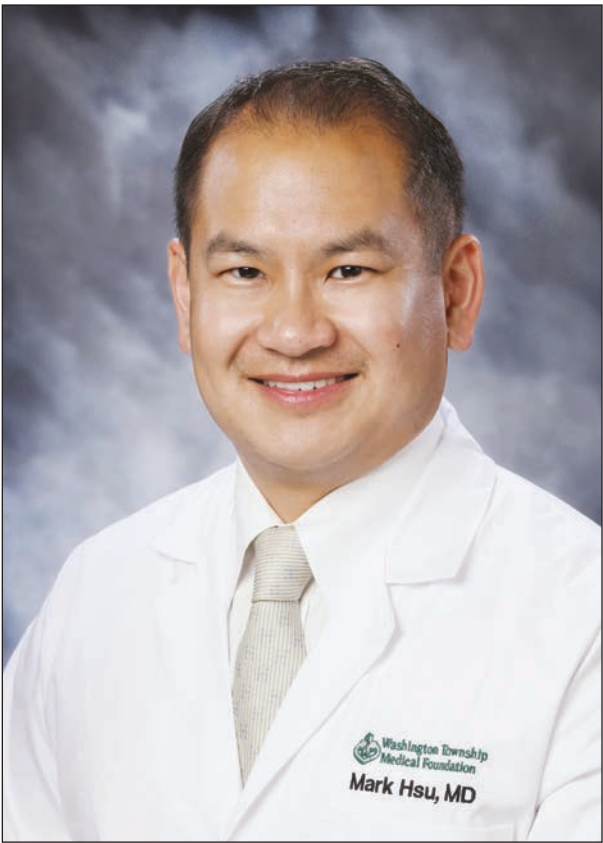

A Bay Area native, Dr. Hsu grew up in Saratoga before attending Stanford University as an undergraduate and continuing with his medical school training at Stanford University School of Medicine. He was inspired from childhood to become a doctor when his grandfather, with whom he was very close, passed away from prostate cancer. “Losing my grandfather sparked my drive to pursue a career caring for people, helping them find relief from their pain and suffering,” he said.

Dr. Hsu specializes in diagnosing and treating conditions of the urinary tract and the male reproductive system. Some common disorders he treats include cancers of the kidneys, prostate, bladder, and testes; kidney stones; urinary incontinence; urinary tract infections; erectile dysfunction; infertility; and benign prostatic hyperplasia (enlargement of the prostate gland).

Dr. Hsu’s personal experience with cancer led him to conduct oncology research during his college and medical school years at Stanford University. He was awarded a one-year research fellowship from the Howard Hughes Medical Institute to conduct research on molecular profiling, an important element of the future personalized medicine movement. This approach allows doctors to choose patient-specific treatments based on the patient’s characteristics.

He also was awarded a Urology Care Foundation research award grant during his residency at Stanford Hospital & Clinics to conduct research on fluorescent molecular markers that can be used to definitively identify bladder cancer tumors during resection. These types of research hold future promise for both diagnosis and treatment of several diseases.

Urologists often develop long-standing relationships with their patients since urologic ailments tend to be longer lasting conditions. “In addition to my grandfather’s experience, I chose to become a urologist because it’s a field of medicine that offers physicians the ability to work closely with people across the medical and surgical spectrum,” said Dr. Hsu. “This was a good fit for me, as I enjoy working with my patients and colleagues and staying current with innovations in medicine and surgery.”

Dr. Hsu is trained in the most current minimally invasive urological procedures. Some are done in the office, while more complex surgeries are performed in the operating room. “The trend in urology is moving toward minimally invasive over traditional open surgeries because they result in less blood loss, a quicker recovery time and overall higher patient satisfaction,” he said.

“The thing I like most about my job is being with patients,” said Dr. Hsu. “There’s a story behind every patient who walks into the clinic, and I enjoy hearing about their lives and what brought them to us. It’s rewarding to help my patients through their health issues and be an integral part of their recovery process.”

For the past two and a half years, Dr. Hsu had a busy urologic practice in the growing market of Modesto, California. He was attracted to Washington Hospital because he prefers the intimate community health care setting over the larger corporate entities. “I appreciate the opportunity to provide excellent patient care here in the diverse and growing Southern Alameda County where the need for urologic care is increasing. And working in a smaller hospital that’s focused on high-quality health care allows me to collaborate more easily with my fellow physicians and the administrators,” he said.

A resident of Fremont, Dr. Hsu enjoys an active lifestyle playing tennis and golf as well as cycling in his free time. He enjoys traveling and scouting out new restaurants as a self-admitted foodie.

“I bring a patient-centered focus to the job,” explained Dr. Hsu. “There are many different treatment options available when it comes to urologic care. I believe in educating my patients on the different paths we can take for their treatment and empowering them to decide which is best for them.”

To find out more about Dr. Hsu or other WTMF physicians, visit www.mywtmf.com. To make an appointment with him, call (510) 248-1414.

Does Your Stomach Hurt?

Abdominal Discomfort Could be a Sign of Serious Disease

May 7, free community seminar helps explain when stomach discomfort may be something more.

Do you suffer from frequent stomachaches? Do you often feel bloated or constipated? You could have one of many gastrointestinal disorders.

“Gastrointestinal disorders, like irritable bowel syndrome and diverticulitis, can cause pain and discomfort,” said Arun Srivatsa, MD, a local gastroenterologist and member of Washington Township Medical Foundation. “But there are many reasons why your stomach might hurt. It can be hard to distinguish common symptoms from serious conditions. It’s important to know if there is something serious going on so you can get it treated before it gets worse.”

Dr. Srivatsa will present a free seminar to help people understand some of the signs and symptoms of more serious conditions. Gastrointestinal Disorders is scheduled for Tuesday, May 7, from 1 to 3 p.m., in the Conrad E. Anderson, MD, Auditorium, located at 2500 Mowry Ave. (Washington West) in Fremont. You can register online at www.whhs.com/events or call (800) 963-7070 for more information.

The gastrointestinal tract is part of the digestive system, which processes the food you eat, extracts the nutrients, and then moves the waste material through your body. It includes the esophagus, stomach, small intestine, large intestine and anus. The liver, pancreas, and gallbladder are also part of the digestive system.

“Any symptoms in the abdomen, from beneath the ribs to the pelvis, are considered gastrointestinal,” Dr. Srivatsa explained. “This will be a general talk that will cover a range of gastrointestinal disorders, their signs and symptoms, and treatment options. I’ll also talk very briefly about how food can affect some of these disorders.”

Digestive Diseases are Common

Digestive diseases affect up to 70 million people in the U.S., according to the National Institutes of Health. Two of the most common are chronic constipation and irritable bowel syndrome (IBS).

“I see a lot of stress-related stomach problems that can be classified as irritable bowel syndrome,” Dr. Srivatsa said. “IBS can be caused by a genetic predisposition or it might be the result of not dealing with stress in a healthy way, and internalizing it.”

At this seminar, Dr. Srivatsa will explain each area of the abdomen and describe what can cause pain or discomfort in that area. For example, pain in the left lower quadrant could be diverticulitis or a hernia. Pain in the left upper quadrant could be acute pancreatitis or a gastric ulcer. He will touch on a number of conditions in his talk.

Dr. Srivatsa will also help participants learn how to distinguish between different types of pain. For example, is it a sharp pain or a chronic dull pain? Is it persistent, or does it come and go? Other symptoms related to the pain can also help determine the cause. For example, do you also feel nauseated or dizzy?

“The seminar will be interactive with time for questions,” he added. “I encourage people to come and get their questions answered.”

Wildfire Smoke and Your Lungs: Do You Need to Worry?

Wildfires, including grassland fires and forest fires, are an ongoing concern where there is dry, hot weather. During a wildfire, people throughout the surrounding area may suffer the effects of the smoke. Wildfire smoke can be especially harmful to the elderly, pregnant women, children and those with chronic heart and lung diseases. At this seminar, learn how to reduce the risk to exposure and how to protect your health.

Art Contest and Summer Camps Mela

SUBMITTED BY INDIA COMMUNITY CENTER

The India Community Center (ICC) is hosting its annual Art Contest and Summer Camps Mela on Sunday, May 5. This year's Art Contest theme is 'Celebrate India.' Children can participate in four age categories: 4-5 years, 6-8 years, 9-10 years, and 11-12 years. Medals will be awarded to winners later; each participant will receive a certificate. Children will be provided with 1 x 14 paper but bring their own art materials – only pencils, markers, crayons, color pencils, watercolors and oil pastels are permitted. First 100 registrations will receive one free admission to Children's Discovery Museum of San Jose.

The ICC Camps Mela will give an opportunity for children and their families to meet vendors and learn about different camp options. Special camp discounts will be offered, excludes table tennis and Gandhi camp. To register for the art contest, visit <http://www.indiacc.org/event/Art+Contest>. For more information about the contest or camp mela, call (408) 934-1130.

AN OPEN LETTER TO SHEENA CHANG, FREMONT MISSION HILLS, LLC

Why are you killing the Mission Hills Athletic Club?

The club manager you installed from your corporate office appears to be doing everything in his power to drive away members. A quick look at the recent 1-star Yelp reviews (<https://www.yelp.com/biz/mission-hills-athletic-club-fremont-2>) tells the story of his hostility to members and guests, even brandishing a screw driver to chase people off the property. The change in reviews from 2016 to those in 2018 is telling.

The planned district proposal you presented to the city council years ago showed walking paths through the open space for the neighbors to enjoy. It included a community center for neighborhood gatherings and meetings. Instead the manager chases away anyone walking through the parking lot, even club members. He has put up a fence to close off a footpath that has been in use for decades, forcing members to walk in traffic to reach the club. He forced USTA league tennis out of the club, causing a large number of tennis members to quit. The women's shower was closed for two months after the toilets were repaired. The manager appears to be at war with the neighbors and his own club members. The facilities are crumbling from lack of maintenance. And, due to it all, the membership is dwindling.

Many of us are left wondering if this is intentional. Is the goal to drive the business into bankruptcy so you can return to the city and try once again to petition for a zoning change to allow you to develop the property? We never really expected the grandiose club expansion you pushed through the city council would be completed. (Though we thought it might at least be started) But that isn't necessary. Just a few modest improvements and, more importantly, management that cares about its customers would breathe new life into the club. That happened during the first year the club reopened. A dedicated manager made customers feel welcome and built the membership. The current management is the polar opposite.

I don't expect to ever see the glory days again when families had barbecues around the pool, the front desk had a bowl of dog treats for people walking their dogs, and the club fielded championship tennis teams. But I will be sad to see the club die.

ARTICLE AND PHOTO SUBMITTED BY SUSAN HELMER

Fiber artist Donna Jeffrey will demonstrate bobbin lace making and how lace is used in blouses and dresses at the next meeting of the Fremont Art Association. Jeffrey is a Fremont resident whose longtime love for textiles started as a child when she took up knitting, embroidery, needlepoint, crochet, tatting, crewel work, spinning and weaving. Eventually she earned a Bachelor of Arts degree at California State University Hayward (East Bay) and an associate degree from the Fashion Institute of Design and Merchandise. The meeting will include a raffle for a bobbin lace pillow and bobbins.

UKULELE Festival

Performers include Faith Ako and Friends, Ukulenny, Ka Nalu, and Hawaii's Side Order Band. Performances will be continuous and throughout the day, starting at 10:45 a.m. and ending at 5 p.m.

Food vendors will open at 9 a.m., offering traditional and fusion dishes. Among them will be Yummi BBQ, Pineapple Whips, and Kirstie's Hawaiian Style Kookies. Snacks such as jam, popcorn, and candies will also be offered. Arts and crafts vendors will sell Polynesian and ukulele-themed products, including ukulele accessories, clothing, hats, jewelry, and ukuleles themselves. Ribbon leis, handmade blankets, and towels will also be sold. Vendors include St. Helena Hat Company, Ohana Music Company, Uke Straps, and Lula Roe. Music will be provided by local radio station KKUP 91.5 FM. In addition, guests will be able to participate in workshops to create their own feather flowers.

At 1:30 p.m., the festival will offer a Scholarship Award as well as a Ukulele Youth Award. The public will have the opportunity to win a ukulele upon purchasing a program admission ticket. A name will be drawn every hour from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., and the winner must be present to claim the ukulele.

The public is encouraged to participate in this celebration of diverse ukulele playing. The graceful Spirit of Aloha is perpetuated as the community comes together to enjoy the warm, rich chords of the ukulele and appreciate the talents of the musicians that continue to keep this heritage alive. The festival is coordinated by the Ukulele Festival Committee, officers, and board members in collaboration with Kaleponi Strings Ukulele Class, all working to continue the legacy of the festival's founders. The staff and performers volunteer their time and talent to give back to the community, sharing the Spirit of Aloha.

World Tai Chi and Qigong Day

and strength, reduced pain and stiffness, better sleep and an improved immune system with minimal risk to the participant.

Qigong—pronounced “chee gong”—is an even more ancient traditional Chinese wellness practice that has been referred to as meditative movement. One unique feature of Qigong is the training of the mind to direct the body's energy, or chi, to any part of the body, thus improving focus, circulation, relieving stress and pain, and restoring health. Tai Chi is encompassed in Qigong. Tai Chi is considered “soft” Qigong practice. Qigong is commonly thought of as easier than Tai Chi.

Master May Chen has been teaching and developing the Tai Chi and Qigong program at Ohlone College since 2008. She is also the Ohlone College Tai Chi Qigong Competition Team coach and faculty adviser to the Ohlone College Tai Chi Qigong Club. Master Chen teaches the popular Saturday morning Ohlone College Community Ed Tai Chi Qigong Basics class.

Master Chen was awarded Tai Chi Master of the Year 2010 by the World Qigong Congress. She received her MA in Gerontology from USC in 2015. Her unique teaching style facilitates a Tai Chi and Qigong based lifelong fitness and leisure pursuit through understanding and incorporating the inherent theoretical, philosophical and physical foundations of self-defense, fitness, and meditation. Along with emphasizing contemporary health sciences perspectives—the regard for the physicality, range of motion, safety in motion; essential theories and principles in complementary East West health practices—she actively seeks to perpetuate the beauty and wisdom of the classic forms with today's mindset and lifestyle. Chen published her first textbook “Qigong, Meditation, and Tai Chi: Your Pathway to Health and Longevity” in 2017 through Kendall Hunt Publishers. A second edition is currently in progress.

The Ohlone College Tai Chi Qigong program includes Beginning and Intermediate Tai Chi and Qigong, Qigong Meditation and Walking Meditation, all with university transferable units.

Master May credits Grandmaster Wang Xian, ChenJiaGo, China, for fostering and mentoring a personal passion into a lifelong sharing process, through teaching while addressing continual refinement in practice and appreciation for healthy longevity.

Chen will lead the opening community exercise and the closing meditation sessions. All aspects of the day's events are carefully orchestrated to share and highlight the changing attitudes and practices regarding healthy mind, body, and spirit within our community and throughout the world.

Celebrate National Arbor Day by planting trees

SUBMITTED BY ARBOR DAY FOUNDATION

National Arbor Day is Friday, April 26 this year, and the Arbor Day Foundation is making it easy for anyone to celebrate the annual tree-planting holiday. Join the foundation in April and receive 10 free shade trees.

By joining in April, new members receive the following trees: red oak, sugar maple, weeping willow, bald cypress, thornless honey locust, pin oak, river birch, tulip tree, silver maple and red maple. The free trees are part of the Foundation's Trees for America campaign.

“These trees provide shade in the summer and vibrant colors throughout the fall,” said Matt Harris, chief executive of the Arbor Day Foundation. “Through the simple act of planting trees, one person can make a difference in helping to create a healthier and more beautiful planet for all of us to enjoy.”

The trees will be shipped postpaid with enclosed planting instructions at the right time for planting in April or May. The six- to 12-inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

To become a member of the foundation and receive the free trees, visit arborday.org/april or send a $10 contribution by Tuesday, April 30 to: Arbor Day Foundation, Ten Free Shade Trees, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410.

Reflections on Water

Drink Water Instead

BY RENEE GONZALEZ

It’s 6 a.m. on a Saturday morning, and while most people would be reaping the benefits of catching up on sleep, not this mom – NOPE. I am frantically scrambling to get my kids up, dressed, fed and out of the house, praying to just be on time for once.

You’d think I work Saturdays and am just rolling with the ever so enjoyable morning routine that most working parents do, every day – catch my drift? Well, no. I work a normal Monday through Friday job at our local water district. The Saturday morning thing, well that comes with the benefits of being a soccer mom to a teenage boy, not to overlook my other children who are forced to get out of bed that early too on their Saturday mornings. Sorry kids no cartoons for you. And of course the very second I get everyone in the car and actually take a breath from what I like to call the “morning marathon,” this teenage boy of mine still has the nerve to ask if we can stop and grab a sports drink before his game, as if he has never heard the answer before. NO! Drink water instead. Get your bottle and fill it up with water before we leave.

I’ve always been a stickler when it comes to what my kids drink; I know they don’t need any additional stimulation that added sugar can bring. Maybe it’s me who doesn’t need the additional stimulation from the kids; they have enough of that already. But I seriously feel like a broken record, telling them over and over to drink more water. Mind you, I’m no doctor or nutritionist, I’m just a pesky mom who knows the importance of drinking water and the negative affects other drinks, such as sports or energy drinks can have on their bodies. These drinks can contain extra sugar that over time can lead to health issues such as obesity, diabetes and poor dental hygiene. We all know that most kids don’t brush as well as they should; well maybe those are just my kids who think I don’t notice when they wet their toothbrush and try and tell me they brushed their teeth. I speak from experience when I say taking your kids to get cavities filled isn’t the most enjoyable thing to do.

On the other hand, there are several benefits that drinking water has for oral and physical health. It flushes the mouth of unwanted bacteria and residue and can help defend against cavities. The body is also losing fluid continuously from sweating through the skin, urination, or even simpler things like breathing that I know my kids aren’t aware of. Drinking water helps to maintain those fluids and aids in all sorts of bodily functions including absorption, digestion, circulation and more.

Working for a water district, I also know the hard work that goes into providing drinking water and having it readily available every time we turn on a faucet. There is treating the water to get it to safe drinking standards, reservoirs and tanks that need to be maintained to store water, distribution system, miles and miles of pipe that allow the stored drinking water to hit our tap whenever we turn it on. That’s just a fragment of the extensive operation for water that I’m sure my kids are annoyed hearing every time they ask for a sports or energy drink. At least I think that’s what the eye rolling thing is all about.

Water is healthy. Our water is safe, clean, and conveniently delivered to us in our own homes. And I can honestly say that I can use any timesaving measures available. My kids may beg and plead for the newest flavored sports drink, or the cool, overpriced energy drink that’s been blasted throughout television commercials, just as I may be contemplating the need for a cold refreshing adult beverage to end the long work week but let the truth be told, we should both be drinking water instead.

Police and firefighters face off in ‘Battle of the Badges’

SUBMITTED BY FREMONT POLICE DEPARTMENT

Get ready to watch as the Fremont Police and Fremont Fire Departments prepare to face off at a “Battle of the Badges” charity basketball game slated for Saturday, April 27 at Washington High School in Fremont.

Proceeds from ticket sales to the game will benefit Special Olympics Northern California. Doors open at 5 p.m. with an intra-mural pregame basketball competition between City of Fremont employees from the Public Works, Community Services and Community Development departments Tip-off for the main event between Fremont Police and Fremont Fire will be at 6 p.m.

The family-friendly event also will include halftime entertainment, a silent auction and photo opportunities with police and fire staff members. A variety of foods and beverages from the Alameda County Sheriffs BBQ team will also be available for purchase. Entry fee will be $5 at the door, with children younger than 5-years-old admitted free. Cash, credit cards or checks (made out to Special Olympics of Northern California) will be accepted.

All proceeds from the event will be given directly to Special Olympics Northern California to support 22,000 athletes in the Northern California region. Special Olympics programs help promote dignity, acceptance, and give people with intellectual disabilities a chance to fulfill their human potential.

California issued 23,500 tax returns without verification

AP WIRE SERVICE

The California board that processes tax returns says it issued 23,500 refunds without verifying whether people had entered accurate wage information.

The Franchise Tax Board will begin notifying people on Monday if they owe more to the government than they paid or if a bigger refund check is coming. Most people in that pool will see no changes to their returns at all, said Denise Azimi, spokeswoman for the board.

The error occurred over three days in March because of a technology glitch that has been fixed, she said. The glitch allowed the returns to be sent before the state could verify that people had reported their withholdings correctly. Anyone who entered their information correctly should see no change.

Azimi could not provide an exact number of incorrect returns.

The error didn't reveal other vulnerabilities in the state's system. Only returns filed between March 8 and March 11 were affected.

The board announced the error on its website Tuesday.

Regional Occupational Pharmacy Technician Program receives recognition

SUBMITTED BY ALLISON ALDINGER

The Mission Valley ROP (MVROP) Pharmacy Technician program is celebrating its new designation as a Pharmacy Technician Certification Board (PTCB) Recognized Education/Training Program. This new notification for the program is welcome news for all Pharmacy Technician students who complete the MVROP program as they now will meet PTCB's 2020 Education/Training eligibility requirements for CPhT Certification.

Students who complete a PTCB Recognized Education/Training Program will be eligible to apply for and take the Pharmacy Technician Certification Exam (PTCE) starting in 2020. If the student passes the PTCE and meets all other PTCB certification requirements, they can become a Certified Pharmacy Technician (CPhT).

Superintendent Thomas Hanson is pleased with MVROP's on-going ability to focus on preparing students for employment and college through industry standard tools, training, and experience. It is the reason MVROP's Pharmacy Technician course now boasts its new designation. He elaborated about the process stating, "To comply with new regulations taking effect in 2020, we applied to be recognized by PTCB, and were approved. Our completing students are now eligible to pursue their goals and take the PTCE."

Apply for summer jobs at Alameda County Job Fair

SUBMITTED BY ANGEL MOORE

Those looking for some work, play, and a full summer of fun will find all that and more at the "Summer Job Fair" on Saturday, April 27. Anyone seeking seasonal employment can meet, apply, and interview on-site with representatives and vendors from the Alameda County Fair. Most positions start mid-June and run through the second week of July. Students, teachers, "first job" applicants, retirees and others interested in short-term employment are encouraged to attend. Centerville Paid Parking Program video surveillance system at the North Parking Lot, located east of the depot. The security cameras are expected to be installed this spring.

In early 2018, the City of Fremont announced a paid

In addition to the video surveillance system, a Request for Proposals (RFP) has been written for daily security and maintenance staff. With the help of the Fremont Police Department, an enforcement Added site presence will help staff to identify the needs of the area creating a coordinated response.

Improvements include improved access for emergency vehicles, landscaping, improvements to the parking lots and depot Café building.

To support these additional services, the Fremont City parking program at the Centerville Train Depot that aims to correct the unauthorized use of its parking lots through enhanced security and maintenance. Given the resources required for ongoing maintenance and operations, the city delayed the implementation of the paid parking program while various other improvements were being completed, including striping, numbering, crack sealing, landscaping, and site cleanup. In the meantime, a partnership was formed with the Altamont Corridor Express to install, maintain, operate, and monitor a plan for unauthorized parking and activity has been strategically developed.

Enhanced Security and Enforcement will include the following:

The program will enable staff to monitor and/or regulate the site more effectively to support the intended use.

Staff will enforce parking violations balancing the need with other prioritized calls for service in other areas of the city. The combination of area patrols and enforcement by city staff and private security will deter crime.

Council will review the revised plan and determine a parking fee at a meeting tentatively scheduled for May 7. Upon award of a service contract, installation of the payment kiosks will begin this summer. For more information, call Ian Champeny at (510) 494-4759 or email parking@fremont.gov.

Cleantech Open Business Briefing

On Wednesday, April 24, the City of Fremont will be partnering with the Cleantech Open to hold a Business Briefing, which aims at attracting new cleantech startups into their 2019 accelerator program. The program will include networking opportunities, overview of the Cleantech Open, and a panel discussion on sustainable manufacturing. The panel will feature representatives from Fremont-based Surplus Service, Flextronics, and Fremont's Economic Development Department.

The Cleantech Open is the world's largest cleantech accelerator, providing entrepreneurs and corporate innovators the resources they need to launch and grow successful cleantech businesses. The briefing will take place at 6:30 p.m. at Fremont Main Library, 2400 Stevenson Boulevard.

Hayward selects operator for Housing Navigation Center

SUBMITTED BY CITY OF HAYWARD

The City of Hayward announced on April 16 that it has selected nonprofit agency Bay Area Community Services (BACS) to operate a planned Navigation Center to provide people living on the streets a pathway to permanent housing. The new Hayward Housing Navigation Center is modeled on a BACS-run City of Berkeley program called STAIR, which provides service-rich transitional shelter for homeless people for up to six months and is successfully moving participants into permanent housing. STAIR is an acronym drawn from "stability, navigation and respite." A community meeting is scheduled on Wednesday, April 24 to give the public an opportunity to hear first-hand from City of Hayward and BACS representatives and ask questions.

The Hayward Navigation Center is expected to open this winter on city property at Depot Road and Whitesell Street. It will provide short-term shelter for 45 individuals at a time, intensive case management, and housing-placement services focused on individuals living on the streets, in encampments or illegally inhabiting vacant buildings. The center will contain showers, laundry facilities, a place to eat and gather, and dormitory housing units with twin beds and movable privacy screens. Participants will be provided with one meal per day. The center will not accept walk-ins; all participants will be selected by an outreach team and go through an intake process. For more information about BACS, visit <https://www.bayareacs.org>.

Walmart buys ad tech startup

By ANNE D’INNOCENZIO
AP RETAIL WRITER

Walmart says it’s buying San Francisco-based ad tech startup Polymorph Labs as it looks to better compete with rival online juggernaut Amazon in targeting shoppers online.

The world’s largest retailer has been quietly building its own advertising business with a unit called Walmart Media Group, though that business is still smaller than Amazon’s.

Amazon’s total ad revenue in the U.S. was $3.3 billion, or nearly 4% of the total digital ad spending pie in 2017, according to research firm eMarketer. The firm expects Amazon’s ad revenue to hit $19.2 billion, or 11.2%, by 2021. No numbers are available for Walmart.

Walmart Inc. said Thursday Polymorph’s technology will make advertising with the discounter easier for thousands of brands while delivering more relevant digital ads to consumers faster.

Terms of the deal weren’t disclosed.

Polymorph’s technology platform, which includes a high-speed ad server, will enable Walmart advertisers to quickly select audience segments based on shopping behavior. For example, brands that advertise could quickly identify cat food buyers versus dog food buyers, and then measure whether their ads influenced a sale.

“We can help brands understand if someone saw their ad on Walmart’s platform or across the internet, and then purchased the product in-store or online,” wrote Stefanie Jay, vice president and general manager of Walmart Media Group, in a corporate blog post. “No one else can do this at scale like Walmart.”

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Morrison Canyon community meeting is important

Single-lane Morrison Canyon Road carves through a steep, wooded canyon, and people enjoy walking on the peaceful path. But the road is narrow (nine-feet wide), and has two-way traffic with few turnouts. The road dates back to the late 1800s, designed for horse-drawn wagons. In the second half of the 20th century, it was paved for motor vehicles, though it was never designed to be a road.

Two residents of Vargas Plateau filed suit against the park district in 2008, citing the “narrow, dangerous and substandard” roads. They claimed that the city is liable for the condition of the roads. The city agreed, and closed Morrison Canyon Rd in November 2018. But the city wants to have the state legislate a “recreational trail” exemption, allowing residents of Vargas Plateau and their invited guests to have access to the road without the city incurring liability for injuries.

A microbrewery ordinance to promote agri-tourism, wineries and microbreweries was proposed in 2016. After alterations, it passed the first reading in early April 2019. However, the County Supervisor for District One [Scott Haggerty] deleted a key provision for road safety at the last minute, with no notice to the community, the city of Fremont, or other interested parties. The Mayor of Fremont and the General Manager of East Bay Regional Park District both supported the (now-deleted) provision:

“At a minimum, access roads shall have a dimension of no less than 24 feet, with the minimum paved width of 20 feet in width to accommodate two passing vehicles along its entire length.” (draft ordinance 17.06.030 E.)

The ordinance will soon come up for its final reading, but the city has not formally responded to the deletion. The Supervisor appears to be deaf to Fremont’s concerns about public safety. Tell the city and the county that the Microbrewery Ordinance should disallow facilities where the roads are narrow.

A large structure permitted for “utility storage” was constructed on Vargas Plateau, without environmental review and without evaluating the traffic impact. This and related zoning issues are presently the subject of litigation. The owner is planting a vineyard, and said he could open a winery and tasting room. With an occupancy certification of 400 persons (and 50–100 parking spaces), the facility would generate traffic for assemblies and gatherings. If Morrison Canyon Road is re-opened, cars and pickups would be back on the road in late 2019. This would endanger pedestrians and bicyclists, and more trash would be dumped in the creek. Tell city officials that you want to dedicate the pathway for pedestrians and bicyclists—no cars on the closed section.

Tri-City Stargazer FOR WEEK: APRIL 24 – APRIL 30, 2019

For All Signs: This week the two planets of war turn retrograde – Pluto, god of the Underworld, shifts on April 24; and Saturn, god of authorities, corporations, rules and regulations, turns retrograde on April 29. These planets have been hanging out in the sign of Capricorn and the tension among rulers of our planet has been high, with occasional near miss threats of war. This energy unnerves everyone and sets the world’s concerns toward the negative. The change to retrograde motion in each of these planets suggests that hostile attitudes are likely to back off (retrograde) for several months of re-evaluation. Unfortunately, this could also be representative of going underground with motives.

Aries the Ram (March 21-April 20): Watch your pennies. On the weekend there may be a surprise car expense. Your attitude about yourself is not altogether accurate right now. You may think way too much of your ideas, or alternately, you may see yourself as lower than scum. Neither is accurate and you should probably not make decisions of any importance this week.

Taurus the Bull (April 21-May 20): Drive and handle tools carefully early in the week. Exercise judiciously. You are likely to be edgy and irritable, thus making an accident of some kind more likely. As the week moves onward, you will feel better.

Gemini the Twins (May 21-June 20): This is not a time to be aggressive or attempt to press your way forward. You can only take small steps in the direction of your choice. It is as though there is some invisible element that keeps you spinning your wheels. Go with that which flows easily and take things slowly for a couple of weeks until your path clears.

Cancer the Crab (June 21-July 21): It is probably time to let one of your business situations or associates flow back into the ethers. You may be "ahead of your time" or "behind the times," but somehow this one is out of sync with today’s trends. If it seems to you that some minor tweaking could salvage the situation, begin now.

Leo the Lion (July 22-August 22): Don't allow yourself to be tempted into grandiosity. You'll be inclined to spend more than you have, take ill-conceived risks, lecture others about your belief systems, and present your viewpoint as the final word. It is an attitude that keeps you overly excited and it is difficult to sleep. You have been there before, and you know how hard it is to step off that pedestal.

Virgo the Virgin (August 23-September 22): Whatever you do to promote healing for yourself and others will be favorable. Now is the time to consider your habit patterns and whether they bring you better health, mentally and physically. Don't allow circumstances to pull you off track.

Libra the Scales (September 23-October 22): You are tempted to abandon a promise or to avoid an obligation that someone lays upon you. Maybe you laid it upon yourself and now wish you had not. You will be dishonoring your spirit if you truly felt the sense of devotion to this promise. But if it was for show, apologize and move on.

Scorpio the Scorpion (October 23-November 21): This is a powerful time to consider your spiritual purposes. It is all too easy for the maya, the things of the world, to overwhelm every waking minute, leaving no time for the higher goals. If you notice fatigue, disappointment, or depression at this time, stop. Any of these represent a message to be still and listen for the Voice deep within your soul.

Sagittarius the Archer (November 22-December 21): This is a time in which your exuberance and enthusiasm may carry you farther than you really intended to go. You will certainly have more energy to do whatever you choose but take care that you don't promise way more than you can deliver. Your warm and generous heart could get you in trouble.

Capricorn the Goat (December 22-January 19): You may be changing your mind about your next direction. Read the opening path carefully because it clearly applies to you and your plans. This week Saturn turns retrograde for the next several months. This will reduce the pressure or weight of your concerns. The cosmos allows for a pause while you reflect on potential outcomes.

Aquarius the Water Bearer (January 20-February 18): You are knee deep in concerns and complications. In your heart of hearts, you want a sabbatical and rightly so. The Waterbearers frequently take on too many responsibilities for their own good. Currently, in your life it is truly a challenge to uncomplicate anything because everything depends on everything else. Take the best break you can. It will be hard to accomplish much at this time.

Pisces the Fish (February 19-March 20): This is a week in which your physical cycle is “off.” Don’t press your body beyond what it wants to do, just because it could do the same thing last week. Pay special attention to your temporary boundaries right now and in a few days, things will return to your personal normal.

This year’s honorees include: Evelyn Paradis, owner of Pacific West Gymnastics and founder of “Barb’s Pink Party;” Funda Dervisoglu, the top individual fundraiser for the foundation’s annual Walk/Run event; Dr. Ming Kuan, a Kaiser Permanente oncologist and advocate for breast cancer patients; and Stephanie Sullivan, Giving Hope Coordinator for Premier Nissan and Premier Subaru of Fremont.

Evelyn Paradis will be honored by HERS for her efforts to raise awareness and funds through her yearly Barb’s Pink Party event. Inspired by the illnesses of three loved ones—her mother-in-law, cousin, and employee, Paradis put her grief into action, establishing Barb’s Pink Party in honor of her staff member and dear friend who did not survive her illness. Paradis’ team of loved ones, business clients, and employees work together each year to grow the event. Last October, their ambitious efforts were an unprecedented success, raising $20,000. Paradis will receive the Hope Award because she works tirelessly to help HERS patients believe in a promising future.

ARTICLE AND PHOTOS BY DANIEL O'DONNELL

The question if Bill Gates dropped a $100 bill, would he be wasting his time picking it up? has actually been answered. The answer is yes, because the average rate of return that he gets on his worth earns him over $100 dollars per second. He would still probably pick up the note because nobody likes knowingly wasting money. However, there are occasions when people waste money without knowing it. One of those times for anyone who eats certain vegetables is when they discard the inedible crowns instead of re-growing them.

A lot of resources go into growing a single vegetable from seed and getting it to the dinner table. Growing a head of lettuce will have used fuel to get the seed to the farm, for transportation on the farm, to get it to a distribution center, and then to market. Energy will be used by anyone that drives to the market to purchase the lettuce. Although a head of lettuce is not shipped by itself, it still contributes to the overall expenditure of energy that it takes to eventually get it home. The energy expended for purchasing one or two heads per week can have a negative impact on the environment over the long run. Replanting the crown and growing more lettuce leaves from what would have been discarded will benefit the environment.

That same grocery store lettuce also needed water to be produced just as ones grown at home will. It takes three gallons of water to produce one cup of iceberg lettuce. A single medium head of iceberg lettuce can yield up to eight cups, thus taking 24 gallons of water to produce it. Re-sprouting the crown can produce more lettuce leaves using far less water than if a new plant was started. Reusing the crown also means less lettuce will need to be purchased, thus saving money.

Not all fruit or vegetable food scraps have the possibility of re-sprouting. There are three types of kitchen scraps that can be used to grow a clone or new plant.

Seeds are the most obvious candidate for growing a new plant but often end up in the green bin with all the other kitchen waste. Although it might be easier to drop $4 on a seed packet, saving seeds instead of discarding them is comparable to picking up that $4. Nonorganic fruits and vegetables might have seeds that have been genetically modified to be sterile, so it is best to always grow seeds from organic sources. Different plants' seeds have different shelf lives as well. Onions have about a 10-month window while a tomato seed has been germinated after 22 years. Most tomato seeds are good for seven to 10 years. There is a comprehensive seed viability chart at www.johnnyseeds.com to help planting be successful.

Cabbage, beet, onion, carrot, and lettuce

Many plants, including some vegetables, can be re-grown from their crowns. A plant's crown is where the stem and the roots come together. It is also the part that is usually disposed of when preparing a vegetable for a meal. Bok choy, celery, leeks, lettuces,

Lettuce, leek, and celery of moist sand or water that does not submerge the top of the crown and placed on a bright window sill. The water should be changed every other day. A small stem or stems and possibly some roots down below will begin to appear within two to three weeks. The plant can then be transplanted into a vegetable bed or container and grown until it is ready to be harvested.

Ginger, turmeric, horseradish, and Jerusalem artichoke are examples of edible rhizomes that are used in many different cuisines. Most need to be peeled and inevitably the small, hard to peel pieces get thrown out. These little portions can be planted in a small pot after the sliced side has dried out for a few days. The plants can be placed or transplanted outside in the spring. When properly cared for they will produce a never-ending supply of these root-based spices.

There is often unknown value in some of the things that get thrown away. Using food scraps to grow more vegetables might only save a little bit of money but will provide a harvest rich in flavor and delight.

THE ACWD CONNECTION

An Earth Day Pledge

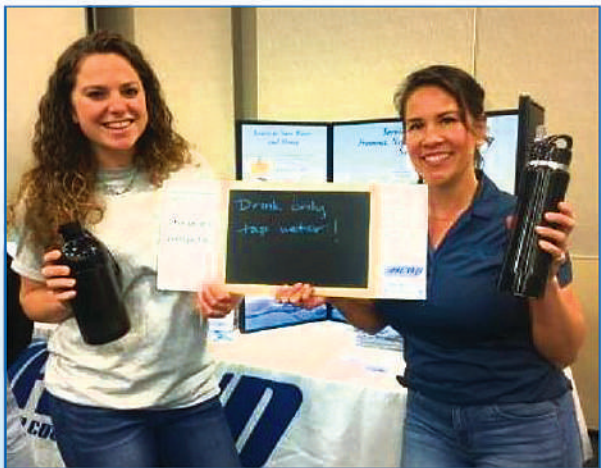

This Earth Day make a pledge to Mother Earth! A small change today can make a big impact in years to come. Here are some ideas:

1. Fill up on tasty tap! Replace single use plastic water bottles with refillable bottles.
2. Plant Bay-friendly plants in your landscape. They are easy to care for and require less water and fewer pesticides and fertilizer.
3. Install a rain barrel at your home. You can harvest rainwater to use at a later time and reduce the amount of runoff from roofs.

No pledge is too small—this Earth Day and every day!

For more information on conservation visit: www.acwd.org/conserve

Holy Spirit Presentation Ball starts the 133rd Pentecost Festival

ROBERT B. PAGLIERI

The Holy Spirit Parish celebrates Portuguese tradition and heritage with the advent of the “133rd Pentecost Festival.” The objective is to espouse a faith-filled mission to create Disciples of Christ and to support the tradition of Holy Spirit School and Church. The celebration will start with the Presentation Ball – an evening of fine dining, entertainment, dancing and good Catholic fellowship – on Saturday, April 27. The theme for the gala night is “Beautiful Korea” to acknowledge the diversity of Fremont.

The 2019 Holy Spirit Parish Festival Queen and her Honor and Senior Courts will be presented to the Parish Community and will preside over festivities. The role of a Festival Queen honors St. Queen Isabella of Portugal, who has been credited with a miracle while feeding the poor during a devastating famine in the 14th century. Queen Isabella gave thanks to God and the Holy Spirit by setting aside a special day every year called the Festa, a tradition at the core of Portuguese Catholic Faith. In early years, the queen was chosen by lottery; now it is the responsibility of the pastor to choose a girl who is devoted to the parish. This year’s Festival

Queen is Angelina Marie Paglieri, supported by Honor Maid Sofia Del Rosario, 1st Side Maid Chiara Bonaccorsi and 2nd Side Maid Erynn Maegan Lundag. On Sunday, May 19, a procession of the Queen’s Court (the Queen, Honor & Senior Court, Younger Court girls, Knights of Columbus and various Ministries) will be led by the Grand Marshalls Geoffrey and Patricia Saturnio. The Queen’s Coronation Mass will be celebrated by Reverend Pastor Kenneth Sales. The annual Holy Spirit Parish Festival will take place on Sunday, June 9. For more information and to buy tickets for the presentation ball, call (510) 797-1660 or visit www.holyspiritqueen.com.

Get set for Family Day at the Rancho

SUBMITTED BY KELSEY CAMELLO

Volunteers from the Washington Township Museum of Local History are gearing up for their 4th Annual Family Day at Rancho Higuera Historical Park in Fremont. The park, a special place with spectacular hillside views, located on Rancho Higuera Road, is a beautifully restored adobe only open to the public once or twice each year.

Entertainment will include traditional Mexican music and Ballet Folklórico performed by talented children from Schilling Elementary School in Newark. Family-friendly games, activities and a piñata for children is also planned. Food will be available for purchase. Other activities include tours of the adobe, a video of the history and restoration of the adobe, and displays on the Ohlone, Mexican, Portuguese and American families that lived in the area. Finally, Rattlesnake Roger will bring his extensive collection of authentic spurs and chaps from the period to show visitors.

Admission is free; suggested donation is $5 per person or $10 per family. Museum members and children 5 and younger admitted free. For details, call (510) 623-7907 or send an email to info@museumoflocalhistory.org.

Help Hayward Celebrate Earth Day

SUBMITTED BY CITY OF HAYWARD

Join the City of Hayward in celebrating Earth Day 2019 by participating in the annual Citywide Clean-Up and Community Fair on Saturday, April 27. Participants will be given gloves, trash picker, vest and trash bags, and they will then be free to collect litter from around Weekes Park and the nearby community. Interested volunteers will also be deployed to collect litter in neighborhoods throughout the city.

The litter-collection will be followed by free lunch and an Earth Day-themed community fair, featuring music and eco-giveaways. The event will also showcase environmentally focused displays provided by Hayward Library Services Department, presenting its seed library; StopWaste (the county solid-waste authority), providing composting resources; East Bay Community Energy (EBCE), offering clean energy question and answer opportunities; Waste Management, distributing resources on best recycling practices; and Rising Sun Center for Opportunity, offering free energy saving resources.

Pre-registration is available until Thursday, April 25; visit <https://earth-day-clean-up.eventbrite.com> to pre-register. The public can also register in-person on the day of the event. For more information, call (510) 583-4727 or visit www.hayward-ca.gov/earth-day.

FESCO SHUFFLE

aims to end Family Homelessness

BY CHARLENE DIZON

After a long day of work, school, or other daily tasks, many are eager to go home, relax, and perhaps enjoy a meal. However, even after they leave," Miller says. FESCO has several housing projects, such as the Les Marquis House, Banyan House, and Third Street Apartments, all located in Hayward.

The Les Marquis House is FESCO's first original shelter.

With 22 beds that can house up to eight families for 60 to 90 days, this housing unit is open 24/7. Not only is shelter and food provided, but life skills classes, children's activities, employment training, and several other aids. The Banyan House is that families crave stability and therefore emphasize the importance that homelessness is not the end of everything. Miller says, "We actually just had a family leave one of our transitional units and find permanent housing. The family consisted of two parents and eight children, so they were a large family. The father had difficulty finding a job. They lived in their car for six months. We were able to help them and now they have their own home, and we couldn't be happier."

Along with FESCO's services are their inspiring events, such as the upcoming 22nd annual "FESCO Shuffle" on Saturday, May 4. The one-mile walk is a community event at San Leandro Marina Park and welcomes FESCO members and other dignitaries, followed by the walk at 10 a.m. Walkers make one loop around the park and are cheered on by the beat of taiko drummers. Lunch and refreshments are available, and participants can receive a FESCO Shuffle T-shirt.

The Shuffle is also an opportunity to educate the community. Vendor booths are present to spread knowledge about the availability of different resources for shelter, health, and other possible needs within communities. "We love the positive community vibe that it brings," Miller states. Attendees are also free to enjoy live musical entertainment, participate in a fun raffle with prizes such as restaurant gift cards, as well as for families on the verge of homelessness, keeping a home is a difficult reality to maintain. Thankfully, the non-profit organization Family Emergency Shelter Coalition (FESCO) has played an integral role in helping families recoup.

Founded in 1986 by an alliance of churches and community members in mid-Alameda County, FESCO ensures that families struggling to find shelter, food, and other resources receive them. Not only are low-income homeless families provided with such support but are encouraged to regain stability in self-sufficiency and permanent housing. FESCO Development Associate Stephanie Miller states, "What many don't realize is that homeless people can also be single-parents working double jobs while having children to take care of and are still not meeting income needs. Homeless people are literally people who are stuck in a domino effect of losing money, food, and other resources because, at this point, it is difficult to maintain employment."

FESCO has assisted roughly 300 families a year, including single fathers, families with teenage boys, or families with members who may have mental health issues and physical disabilities. Depending on each family's personal situation, FESCO helps accommodate them with transitional housing. "Transitional housing is a stepping stone. It's an opportunity for individuals or families to financially save up and learn life skills so that when they re-enter the rental market, they can stand on their feet. We want to help them in any way we can,

"What many don't realize is that homeless people can also be single-parents working double jobs while having children to take care of and are still not meeting income needs. Homeless people are literally people who are stuck in a domino effect of losing money, food, and other resources because, at this point, it is difficult to maintain employment."

the next step for families who may need further time to acquire employment or continue attending school/vocational training. They are provided with the same services as the Les Marquis House, with the incorporation of private bathrooms, community dining space, a computer room, and a children's playground. In order to help families save up financially, only 30 percent of their income is required for rent. Third Street Apartments is currently a full four-unit permanent housing project that provides low-cost rental housing and supportive services, particularly for people with physical disabilities.

Along with transitional housing, FESCO offers mental health counseling, homeless prevention and alumni services, and even educational resources such as homework club and collegial aid. FESCO understands roughly 150 to 300 attendees each year. Longtime FESCO Executive Director Nancy Schluntz created the celebration in hopes of showcasing FESCO's mission while simultaneously gathering the community together for an important cause. Schluntz recently passed away, therefore this year's walk will hold a special tribute in her honor. Last year, the event raised $57,000, with this year's donation goal being $62,000. Proceeds raised go to FESCO and its family/children's services.

All are welcome to attend, including dogs. Attendees can register and make donations at the event itself, however for those who wish to raise money beforehand, teams can be formed on the FESCO website, along with the creation of team fundraising pages. The event begins with an opening ceremony of speeches from have their face painted.

The devotion and passion within FESCO are certain to motivate its members, along with the community, to lift up families who may have otherwise lost hope in finding a home. This organization's determination in acknowledging homelessness and creating a safe space for such serious and sensitive issues to be discussed has and surely will continue to help hundreds of parents and children.

Find a Housemate with Covia's Home Match Program

Covia, a nonprofit organization, has partnered with City of Fremont to provide a free Home Match program to connect individuals (age 18 or older) who live or work or attend school in Fremont with someone who has a room to rent in Fremont, Union City, or Newark.

One of our recent matches was Linda and Debi. Linda came to the program looking for someone to provide her with companionship and to drive her to church and the grocery store. Debi was struggling to find affordable housing. They were partnered through Home Match and completed a service agreement together – Linda receives transportation services and Debi has a safe, affordable place to live. They both appreciated Covia's screening and support. Linda said that "everything is going well and I enjoy having a friend to shop with."

If you are interested in finding a housemate to pay rent or provide a service exchange, please call Covia's Home Match Program at 510-574-2173.

Fremont's Online Express Building Permits

Fremont residents planning simple upgrades to their home can now obtain the necessary building permits online.

As the City streamlines the permitting process for these types of express permits, the option to obtain these permits by fax will no longer be available. The City is encouraging applicants to start using the easier online process. It improves customer flow at the permitting counter, saves time and money, and reduces paper clutter. It's a win-win for the City and the Fremont community!

Online express permits are available for the following residential projects:

- Re-roofing
- Minor electrical panel upgrades
- Minor electrical work such as re-wiring or adding circuits
- Furnace replacement
- Addition or replacement of an air conditioning unit
- Water heater replacement

- Repair of gas, water, or drainage lines
- Window or patio door replacement
- Non-structural bathroom remodels
- Non-structural kitchen remodels

To get started, applicants need to submit a building permit application and any supporting documentation by email to expresspermits@fremont.gov. The turnaround time for issuance of online express permits is within one to two business days.

For more information, please visit www.Fremont.gov/ExpressPermits or call the City's Plans and Permits at 510-494-4460.

Battle of the Badges Charity Basketball Game to benefit Special Olympics of Northern California

The Fremont Police and Fremont Fire Departments will face off at the Battle of the Badges charity basketball game to benefit Special Olympics Northern California on Saturday, April 27, from 4:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. at Washington High School, located at 38442 Fremont Blvd. in Fremont. The doors open and the event will begin at 4:30 p.m., with an intra-mural pregame basketball competition between City of Fremont employees from the Public Works, Community Services, and Community Development departments. Tip-off for the main event between Fremont Police and Fremont Fire will take place at 6 p.m.

In addition to the exciting basketball games, the event will feature halftime entertainment, a silent auction, photo opportunities with police and fire staff, and a variety of snacks will be available for sale.

The event entry fee is $5 per person (children under 5 are free) and will be collected at the entrance to the event site.

Cash, card or checks (made out to Special Olympics of Northern California) will be accepted.

All proceeds from the event will be given directly to Special Olympics Northern California to support the more than 22,000 athletes in Northern California. Special Olympics programs help promote dignity, acceptance, and give people with intellectual disabilities a chance to fulfill their human potential. This special fundraiser was originally founded by the Leadership Fremont Class of 2007, an annual program of the Fremont Chamber of Commerce.

For more information about the event, including sponsorship opportunities or to make a tax-deductible donation to Special Olympics Northern California, please visit the event website at www.FremontPolice.org/Battle-of-the-Badges. Spring weather may be unpredictable, but there is no question about the unvarying virtuosity and charisma of Trio Suono in their upcoming performance in the Music at the Mission Salon Series.

Trio Suono pianist Aileen Chanco is a familiar name and outstanding creative presence among local music aficionados and critics who applaud the “intense virtuosity that is one of her specialties” – MusicWeb-International. The intimate Salon Series setting is a unique opportunity to hear Chanco play with violinist Ertan Torgul and cellist Jennifer Kloetzel, stellar artists whose appearances in Fremont are rare due to their demanding schedules.

The concert program showcases iconic piano trios: Mozart’s charming Piano Trio in G Major, Ravel’s Piano Trio (one profound,” raved the San Antonio Express News. In addition to chamber and solo performances, Torgul served as Associate and Acting Concertmaster of the San Antonio Symphony for 16 seasons.

Pulitzer Prize and Grammy Award winner, Trio Suono cellist Jennifer Kloetzel is a founding member of the San Francisco-based Cypress String Quartet (CSQ). In their 20 years together, the four members of the CSQ played thousands of concerts together throughout North America, Europe, Asia, and Latin America. The Strad Magazine proclaimed her performances, “impressively passionate”!

The Music at the Mission Salon Series recalls the artistic salons of past eras when musicians, their friends, and patrons would gather in private homes to enjoy thrilling performances and conversation accompanied by a light supper. Gael Stewart of Mission Coffee catering is providing the delicious gourmet savories for this delightful afternoon of music, art, hors d’oeuvres and wine.

Holocaust Remembrance Service

SUBMITTED BY TRI-CITY INTERFAITH COUNCIL

The Tri-City Interfaith Council invites the public to attend its annual Holocaust Remembrance Service on Sunday, May 5. This year Jim McGarry, a Holocaust educator since 1992, will be the featured speaker; McGarry’s talk is titled “The Holocaust as a Call to Conscience.” He has trained at the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum in Washington, D.C., and at Yad Vashem in Jerusalem. In 2007, he founded the Helen and Joe Farkas Center for the Study of the Holocaust in Catholic Schools at Mercy High School in San Francisco.

The remembrance service is free and open to everyone from all religious backgrounds, and no religious background. A free will offering will be

SUBMITTED BY RELAY FOR LIFE

The Relay For Life movement is American Cancer Society’s signature fundraiser dedicated to helping communities attack cancer. From team members to volunteers, we all want to remember those we’ve lost, help those affected today, and give us a home team advantage against cancer. Through funds donated, time given, or awareness raised, our communities are teaming up to make a difference. When we rally together in the fight against cancer through this fun and inspirational event, we can accomplish anything.

One out of three people in the U.S. will be diagnosed with cancer in their lifetime. Help even the odds in the fight against cancer. The funds you raise through Relay For Life will not only honor survivors and remember loved ones, but also help give cancer patients and their families the resources they need, like free rides to chemo, free places to stay near hospitals, and a live 24/7 helpline for answers and support.

Mission San Jose High School kicks off Relay in the Tri-Cities with their 24-hour event on Saturday, April 27. Join a team, donate to the cause, or fundraise up to event time. The event will

Titans vanquish Vikings in Battle of Blacow

Baseball

SUBMITTED AND PHOTOS BY MIKE HEIGHTCHEW

Every year, no matter how the season goes for either team, the intricacy rivalry between the Irvington Vikings and John F. Kennedy Titans is a major highlight of the year's season. Both teams are Mission Valley Athletic League competitors but when the challenge is between neighboring schools, league standings are irrelevant. The tradition continued on April 16 this year and it didn't take long for the Titans to establish their offensive power. Following a punishing seven runs in the first inning, the Titans followed in the third and fourth to put the game out of reach. It wasn't until the fifth inning that the Vikings were able to avoid a shutout. Although the scoreboard indicated otherwise, Vikings play was spirited but unable to challenge the Titans. Final score: Titans 14, Vikings 1.

Editor's Note:

The Vikings were able to even the 2019 rivalry on April 18 with a 4-2 victory over the Titans on their home field.

Cougars Report

SUBMITTED BY TIMOTHY HESS

Baseball:

The Newark Memorial Varsity Cougars beat James Logan Colts (Union City) 2-0 on April 16, limiting the Colts to two hits.

The Junior Varsity Cougars' defeated the Colts JV squad, scoring five first-inning runs, on their way to a 7-3 victory.

Softball:

The Varsity Lady Cougars moved into sole possession of first-place in the MVAL with a 3-2 victory over Moreau Catholic Mariners (Hayward) on April 17. Briyana Costa was selected as "Player of the Game."

Bella Dominguez was selected as April 17th Cougars' softball Champion of Character

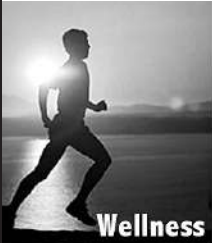

Eagles slip by Huskies in close contest

Softball

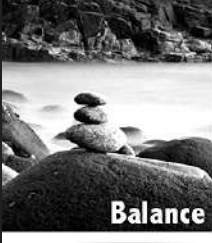

SUBMITTED AND PHOTOS BY MIKE HEIGHTCHEW

The softball match-up between the Washington Lady Huskies and Lady Eagles of American on April 18 was expected to be hotly contested. The game did not disappoint as both teams displayed strong offenses and defenses. The Huskies opened with a 2-run salvo that was promptly answered by the Eagles with three runs of their own. Adding to the lead in the fourth and fifth innings, the Eagles appeared to be in command but the Huskies outfield play kept the score within reach. Adding two more runs in the fifth inning, the Huskies were poised to erase the deficit and pull out a come-from-behind victory. However, the Eagles were able to fly high for a close 5-4 victory.

Swalwell leads 96 house members in urging increased funding for transit security

SUBMITTED BY ART MOTTA

Rep. Eric Swalwell (CA-15) led 96 House Members in urging rejection of President Donald Trump's proposal to slash funding for transit security that is crucial to protecting American lives.

"I have no greater priority in Congress than the safety of the American people," said Swalwell. "The President's plan to gut funding for transit security puts American lives at risk. In Brussels, Madrid, and London, terrorists have targeted mass transit to carry out deadly attacks. To ensure an American city is not next, we must invest in the security of our public transit systems. No one should feel unsafe riding our rails, buses, and ferries."

The Trump Administration proposes cutting funding for the Department of Homeland Security's Transit Security Grant Program (TSGP) by almost two thirds, from $100 million to only $36.4 million in fiscal year (FY) 2020. It further proposes a 25 percent non-federal cost share requirement that will make it more expensive for agencies to accept TSGP awards.

Americans made almost 10.1 billion passenger trips on mass transit in 2017, according to the American Public Transportation Association. The sheer number of people taking these trips, the ease with which anyone can enter and exit public transit systems, and their location mostly in urban areas make them prime targets for attacks.

TSGP is a competitive grant program administrated by the Federal Emergency Management Agency through which eligible public transit agencies operating bus, rail, and ferry systems can get money for measures including operational activities like surveillance or asset protection like tunnel hardening.

Swalwell led lawmakers in sending a letter to the House Appropriations Homeland Security Subcommittee's bipartisan leaders, urging them to reject the President's proposed cuts. In the letter, lawmakers also request an increase in FY 2020 funding from $100 million to at least $105 million as well as a rejection of the suggestion for a non-federal cost share requirement.

"While we recognize that the current budget climate makes funding choices difficult, we urge you to keep in mind the consequences of failing to commit sufficient resources to protect mass transit systems used daily by millions of Americans," the members wrote. "The small amount of money spent now could be dwarfed by the savings in lives and damage by preventing a horrific attack."

To read the full text of the letter, visit <https://swalwell.house.gov/sites/swalwell.house.gov/files/TSGP%20-%20FY%202020.pdf>.

WILLIAM MARSHAK

Macavity

“You’ll be sure to find him resting, or a-licking of his thumbs,
Or engaged in doing complicated long-division sums.”
Macavity is mysterious, fascinating and often malevolent, but in a sly and stealthy manner. His effectiveness is achieved using benign context, although belied by a sinister appearance. Actions are clouded by subterfuge that is difficult to discern.

All of us may recognize a bit of Macavity in our own personality, but choose to maneuver toward more benevolent, altruistic and moral behavior and actions. The Macavity factor can be tempting for everyone, but especially when power, position and wealth is at stake. A political environment is fertile ground for Macavity. His influence isn’t always apparent and can insinuate good intentions but as he gains ground, responsible governance may prove to be simply a thin veneer of civility.

Macavity’s influence can even be found at the local level of government. In the past, there have been many examples of his malevolent behavior, but at the April 16 meeting of Fremont City Council, Macavity tendencies surfaced in discussion of proposed “emergency actions” for a Housing Navigation Center (HNC). Although a site has not been finalized, concerns from residents of District 4 about plans and negotiations for a location in Niles were heard. It appeared from these comments and plan documents that site selection has progressed well beyond the exploratory phase.

Addressing these concerns, assurances were made that site selection was not part of the proposal that evening, rather to enable use of State funds and continue a rapid process toward a facility somewhere in Fremont. However, pre-selection without community participation is a concern. Although there is a January 1, 2020 deadline to obligate 50% of $2,000,000 State funds and completely expend the funds by June, 2021, there is time to do this with adequate community participation.

Council authorization to “issue public works contracts for site preparation and building procurement” and select a “service provider to operate the HNC” may be an attempt to put the cart before the horse. Even though approval by council of a preferred site and budget will be required to finalize any decisions, community input of possible sites is best for those involved in finding remedies for the admittedly profound problem of homelessness. Addressing the community and council with a fait accompli under the guise of an emergency declaration without proper attribution and consultation will lead to harsh feelings and unnecessary delays. Careful preparation and consultation can be a keystone to a smooth and welcome addition to a collective community problem. Without it, the work of Macavity may create dissension and discord.

As “Old Possum” cautions:

*Macavity, Macavity, there’s no one like Macavity,
There never was a Cat of such deceitfulness and suavity.
He always has an alibi, and one or two to spaer:
At whatever time the deed took place -
MACAVITY WASN’T THERE!*

William Marshak
PUBLISHER

T.S. Eliot’s poems are easily read but complex, distinguished by insight and whimsy. One of his most famous collections is Old Possum’s Book of Practical Cats, published in 1939. Currently, its appearance as the Andrew Lloyd Webber musical hit, Cats, is a worldwide phenomenon. Following its debut in 1981, Cats remains a theatre favorite with a wide range of audiences; it has also been adapted to a film version with an expected release at the end of this year.

Among the cats portrayed by Old Possum (Eliot), is a cat named Macavity whose proclivity for crime is well-known. However, as the opening of Macavity’s poetic biography states:

*Macavity’s a Mystery Cat: he’s called the Hidden Paw—
For he’s the master criminal who can defy the Law.*

Not only is Macavity suspected of all manner of wrongdoing, but his prowess is so monumental that he is able to “break the law of gravity.” No matter how long dedicated and savvy detectives may search the scene of a crime, the devious Macavity is simply “not there!” His stealthy manner is a wonder to behold, yet the havoc wreaked can be devastating. Others may be apprehended, but behind it all is Macavity, “the Napoleon of crime” who, if so inclined:

San Francisco’s campy “Beach Blanket Babylon” show to end

AP WIRE SERVICE

The campy “Beach Blanket Babylon” musical revue that has been a must-see for San Francisco tourists for 45 years is coming to an end.

Producer Jo Schuman Silver announced Wednesday the show’s final performances will be on New Year’s Eve.

The show spoofs political and pop culture and has characters in colorful costumes with massive hats, including one with San Francisco’s skyline.

The show follows Snow White around the world as she searches for her Prince Charming. Along the way she encounters a line-up of political and pop culture characters. Recent highlights include Donald and Melania Trump, Nancy Pelosi, Vladimir Putin, Beyonce, Ariana Grande and Oprah Winfrey.

Silver said the show is ending because he felt it was the right time and not for financial reasons. “There was no reason – I just started thinking, “Wow, how much longer do we go?” she told the San Francisco Chronicle.

When the show started in 1974, it was scheduled to run for only six weeks. But then it became an international phenomenon and “the quintessential San Francisco experience,” she said

There have been more than 17,000 performances that have been seen by 6.5 million people, including Queen Elizabeth II, Prince Charles, David Bowie, Liza Minnelli and Robin Williams.

Obituary

Bernice “Bunny” Nordik Rehfeld Voorhees

Resident of Fremont

February 19, 1918 – April 10, 2019

In 1966 she married Raymond Rehfeld and acquired a step-daughter and son, Judith and David. Bernice leaves six living grandsons and one deceased. She is the great grandmother of 13 great grandchildren and 3 great great grandchildren.

She was a member of the Washington Township Business and Professional Womens Club and served as President of that organization 1942-43. Bernice has also served as Chairman of many committees including Scholarship, Legislation, World Affairs and Constitution & By Law Committees. In 1970 she was named the First Woman of the Year for the Business and Professional Women's Club. She was the Chairperson of a three-day Regional Conference of the National Association of Accountants' women activities in San Francisco.

During her lifetime she maintained a keen interest in local affairs, especially those that were focused on the betterment of the Fremont Community. Serving for five years on the Advisory Board of a "Boundary Committee" for the Fremont Unified School District; a long-time member of the Country Club of Washington Township serving as a Director and Treasurer; a Charter Member of the Hobby Section of that club which began in 1944; a member of the Holy Spirit Church and Italian Club, member of the Child Welfare Club and the Snail Pace Club. Her husband of thirty-one years, Ray Rehfeld, died in 1997.

Sam Sansoni, Jr.

Resident of Fremont

May 20, 1931 – April 19, 2019

Sam Victor Sansoni Jr., husband of his beautiful predeceased wife for 58 years, Gloria Teresa Sansoni, the father of Donna Sansoni Allen, Steven (and his wife, Darcy), and Paul (and his wife Cathi) Sansoni, has passed away peacefully on the morning of Friday April 19th, 2019. He was born May 20th, 1931. Also leaving behind his grandchildren Kristen Neilson, Kevin Allen, Kathleen Allen Veltung, Jeffrey, Casey, Gianna, Gabriella, Madeline Sansoni and 6 great grandchildren. Raised in a great Italian family in North Beach San Francisco, leaving behind his Uncle John Bologna, and his sister-in-law Pia Frescura in Italy, and many many cousins, and friends. He was a veteran of the United States Army. In his early years he shared his talent with so many friends and family singing Baritone Opera. He was loved by many, he loved giving parties, cooking up his famous BBQ chicken. He enjoyed cooking as well, taking vacations, and being with family.

He will be missed by many. Thank you to his caretakers for his wonderful care.

So sad to see you go Dad...may you rest peacefully with Mom and your family in heaven.

We will always love you and hold you and Mom close to our hearts. Ciao Dad... Ciao papa..Ciao Sammy...

Obituary

In Loving Memory of Dorothy Edna Radcliff

April 15, 1924 – March 13, 2019

Dottie (Wickstrom) Radcliff was born on April 15, 1924 in Chicago, Illinois. Dottie was the adopted and only child of Swedish couple Severin and Tillie Wickstrom. She spent her early childhood in Chicago and then, through the depression, in Covert, Michigan on an aunt's farm. There she developed a strong work ethic which she carried throughout her life. The family then moved to South Haven, Michigan where in high school she met her future husband Conrad (Connie). After high school Dottie trained to be a nurse at Cook County Hospital and served as a dedicated Cadet Nurse in Chicago toward the end of the war.

Dottie married the love of her life Conrad (Connie) Radcliff on June 8th, 1946 in Covert, Michigan and moved first to South Bend, Indiana and then Niles, Michigan where she gave birth to her two sons, Dale and Jerry Radcliff. After living in Kentucky briefly for one year in 1952 the family moved back to Niles and then, in 1958, to Hayward, California where Connie bought into a local Oakland, CA company. They became socially active in the community with their having become very early and active members of the United Church of Hayward.

Along with her activities as a church youth group advisor, choir member for over 50 years, sunrise service initiator, and helping start the South Hayward Parish center, she also sponsored several children over the years through the Christian Children's Fund. One of her proudest accomplishments was her over 25 years as an outstanding volunteer at St. Rose Hospital where she received many awards for her dedication.

Dottie's other interests, besides her family, were traveling, embroidering, doll making, scrapbooking, baking, and being of constant service to her family and friends. She was a good listener, an excellent confidant and devout Christian.

Survivors include her two sons and their spouses; Dale and Sheila; Jerry and Clare, grandchildren; Timothy and spouse Caitlin, Christine and spouse Jonathan, and Michael. Dottie was blessed with four great grandchildren; Connor, Daniel, Fiona, and Abigail.

A Celebration of Life Service will be held on May 17th at 11am at the United Church of Hayward, 30540 Mission Blvd., Hayward, California.

Obituary

Sylvan “Bud” James Farrell

Resident of Fremont

March 7, 1925 - April 12, 2019

Born on March 7, 1925, in Haakon County, South Dakota, Bud, a nickname bestowed on him in his youth, was the fourth of six children born to Ed and Jennie Farrell. Bud spent most of his pre-teen years in Haakon County going to school and doing odd jobs to earn spending money. Chores before and after school were the norm for Bud and his siblings as the family farm was 150 acres, and maintained by horse drawn machinery.

The family moved to Loyal, Oklahoma, in 1939. Bud completed his high school education in 1942, and was drafted to serve in the U.S. Navy in 1943. His naval training took him to various California locations and New Orleans for training to establish a staging area on the island of Okinawa for an invasion of the Japanese mainland during WWII. The war ended soon after Bud's ship anchored in Okinawa.

As fate would have it, while serving in the Navy, one of Bud's Navy cronies introduced Bud to his sister from Minnesota who was visiting friends in California. Marie Flasch became the love of his life, and they were married on June 8, 1946, in Sausalito, Ca., after Bud's discharge from the Navy. They were to enjoy fifty six years together before Marie's passing in 2003.

Bud began working for International Harvester Company in 1946, progressing from office clerk to Regional Manager responsible for branch operations in the eleven Western states. Bud retired from International in 1981, and became president of Garden State International Trucks, an International dealership, in San Jose, Ca. He ran the business successfully until his retirement in 1998. Bud was nominated for American Truck Dealer's prestigious "Dealer of the Year" award during his tenure at Garden State, and under his leadership, the dealership achieved International's Circle of Excellence award many times.

After retirement, Bud spent most of his time volunteering with Meals on Wheels, St. Vincent de Paul Society, and assisting with any projects the Holy Family nuns needed help with. He was a very generous man who enjoyed helping others in need.

Bud is survived by his two children, Theresa Tegt (Wayne) of Madera, CA., and Thomas Farrell (Joan) of Fremont, three grandchildren, Jason Farrell (Summer) , Brian Farrell (Jaime), and Erika Treat (Steven), and ten great grandchildren, Alyssa, Mollie, Mason, Parker, Brooke, Sophia, Avery, Jaxon, Olivia, and Lexi. He was predeceased by his beloved Marie, his four brothers and one sister, and grandchild Kara Stanley.

Family and friends are invited to attend a viewing beginning at 5 pm, followed by a vigil service at 6:30, on April 23rd at Berge-Pappas-Smith Chapel of the Angels at 40842 Fremont Blvd. in Fremont, Ca. A funeral mass will be held 10:00 AM Wed April 24th at the Mission San Jose in Fremont.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations be made in Bud's name to Sister John Marie's Pantry, St Jude's Children's Hospital, or your favorite charity.

Initiative focuses on youth internships

SUBMITTED BY ALAMEDA COUNTY SUPERVISOR RICHARD VALLE

Spring has arrived and our office would like to celebrate its youthful energy with some exciting upcoming initiatives and events. This month, we'd like to introduce the District 2 Youth Internship Initiative and highlight some upcoming events we have in store.

The Youth Internship Initiative is an initiative we've created with the Hayward Adult School to positively impact the disadvantaged youth of Hayward. It is a program where students from Brenkwitz Continuation High School and William P. Burke Academy, who complete the eight-week Raising Leaders in Hayward-Workshop series, will then interview for a paid eight-week internship.

Youth Academy gives students a peek into police work

SUBMITTED BY HAYWARD POLICE DEPARTMENT

Students from eighth through 12th grades who are looking for a fun and informative activity to do this summer are in luck. The Hayward Police Department's Youth Academy is accepting applications now through June 21 for its week-long program set for mid-July.

The popular program is offered each summer and gives students a unique opportunity to develop a greater understanding of the inner workings of a police department, as well as policies and procedures, taught by the law enforcement professionals. The purpose of the academy is to educate youths on what laws are enforced and their importance, as well as strengthen the relationship between both the community and the police.

Classes will meet 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. July 15 – 19 at the Hayward Police North District office on Main Street or at the main police station on Winton Avenue. Topics and activities covered during the academy include:

- Gangs and the destructiveness of gangs
- Alcohol/drug abuse and the consequences of underage tobacco use
- Forensics and crime scene presentations
- SWAT demonstrations

- Traffic and patrol operations
- Police department physical fitness and obstacle course
- A coroner's presentation
- A police-K9 demonstration
- Firearms training simulator
- Hayward Police Department jail tour

Class size maximum of 35 students; applicants must pass a limited background check and have parent or guardian approval to participate. Hayward residents are given first priority for acceptance. Applications are available at the Hayward Police Department, 300 W. Winton Ave., or can be downloaded at www.haywardpd.net. There is no cost.

Ride the Rail for Relay 2019

SUBMITTED BY LAURA NESS

The Pacific Locomotive Association, operators of the Niles Canyon Railway, in conjunction with the American Cancer Society, is hosting the annual "Ride the Rails' Relay for Life" cancer benefit on Saturday, April 27. The event will feature train rides, wine tasting and vendors courtesy of Niles Canyon Artisans. Those exhibiting at Sunol depot include ceramic artist Helene Marie Roylance, who creates hand painted ceramics with ornate designs.

Three trains will depart from Sunol depot, travel about 45 minutes to the Niles station in Fremont, then return. Lynda Rae Andriotti, chairwoman of the "Ride the Rails" Relay for Life event said, "Each train will have free wine tasting for those who are over 21. There is a snack bar aboard and food can be brought as well. We also have 'family friendly train robbers' that will be coming around and anyone wishing to make donations will be appreciated."

All proceeds from ticket sales will go the American Cancer Society. To buy tickets, visit <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/ride-the-rails-for-relay-2019-tickets-57353010398>. For more information, visit www.ncry.org or call (510) 996-8420.

Students will compete for one of 40 paid internships annually within District 2 non-profit organizations, the City of Hayward and Cal State East Bay. Students will earn $15 per hour, eight hours per week, for a total of eight weeks. Not only will students gain work experience, they will gain five school credits after completing their internship.

Furthermore, students will receive two 31-Day AC Transit Bus Passes to get to and from work and school during their internship along with a $100 stipend for their professional work attire. Lastly, students will also participate in the Keep Hayward Clean and Green Taskforce, in which they will help with community beautification on a monthly basis.

Through these community based organizations, we will be able to offer a wide variety of services to benefit the disadvantaged youth of Hayward. It is our hope that through the internships, students will not only gain meaningful employment experiences, but also foster valuable networks and mentorships that will open doors to new and better opportunities.

In addition to the Youth Internship Initiative, our office is looking forward to hosting numerous upcoming events in 2019: Niles Canyon Stroll & Roll and the Tony Acosta and Arlando Smith's Retirement Luncheon.

The Niles Canyon Stroll & Roll is a popular biennial event where Highway 84 (Niles Canyon Road) is closed to vehicular traffic. This is an opportunity for people to bike and walk safely through the canyon with their friends and family. It will take place this year on Sunday, September 22 from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. More details are available online at www.84strollroll.com/.

Lastly, two important Union City public servants are retiring this year. Tony Acosta and Arlando Smith have done tremendous work in uniting the residents of their city. We are proud to commend their years of service at their retirement luncheon on Wednesday, June 5. For information, call Maria Long at (510) 272-6692 or send an email to maria.long@acgov.org.

Wednesday, April 17
• At about 9:30 a.m. a 38-year-old woman was violently robbed of her iPhone while walking on Davis Street near downtown San Leandro. The woman, who uses a white cane which is used by many people who are blind or visually impaired, told police she tried to resist, but during the struggle fell to the ground and the suspect took the phone. Nearby witnesses called 911 to report the incident while a bicyclist followed the suspect as he ran into a nearby neighborhood. Arriving police officers and detectives found the suspect hiding between to parked cars several blocks away. He tried to flee but was eventually taken into custody. Police identified the suspect as Jajuan Despanie, 18, a student at San Leandro High School. Meanwhile, the woman was assisted by an AC Transit bus driver who took her back to the San Leandro BART station. Despanie was booked into Santa Rita Jail and is facing charges of robbery and abuse of a dependent adult.

Jose Ortiz Felix

Sunday, March 31
• Officers were dispatched to the Rockin’ Jump business on the 39100 Block of Farwell Drive to investigate a report of a man inappropriately touching himself while watching children play. Several people confronted the suspect, later identified by police as Jose Ortiz Felix, 55, of Newark and chased him outside to the business parking lot. Witnesses provided police with Felix’s vehicle license plate number after he drove away. Officers began a search and eventually located Felix on Tuesday, April 9. He faces charges of engaging in lewd conduct in public. Anyone that has information that can help with the investigation of the incident is asked to call the Fremont Police Department Investigations Unit at (510) 790-6900.

Thursday, April 18
• At 10:49 p.m. a uniformed officer was driving a patrol car southbound on Civic Center Drive from Mowry Avenue. As he drove past the intersection of Washington West and Washington Hospital Emergency Room driveways, a man pointed a handgun at the officer and fired, striking the driver’s side of the vehicle. As the officer was turning his vehicle around to return to the scene, the man ran west across Civic Center Drive and crouched behind a large planter on the west side of the street near the driveways. The officer stopped on Civic Center Drive and fired at the man with his service rifle causing him to fall to the ground. Soon, other officers arrived to assist and saw the man lying on the ground with his arms waving and his gun lying nearby. Despite commands to stay down, the man rose and picked up his gun and pointed it at the officers who discharged their weapons, striking him. The suspect fell, but he continued to move as officers took him into custody and recovering his handgun. Medical aid was provided to the man, but he died a short time later. No bystanders were involved in the incident. An investigation is continuing.

Food for Fines

SUBMITTED BY ERIK SANJURJO

Santa Clara County Library District (SCCLD) is half-way through its Food for Fines program, which invites library users with outstanding fines and fees to make a non-perishable food donation and SCCLD will waive up to $100 from their account. All food items will go to Second Harvest Food Bank of Santa Clara and San Mateo counties to build up their much-needed reserves for the 250,000 residents who depend on their services monthly for access to a healthy meal.
To mark this occasion, SCCLD has produced promotional videos in English, Chinese and Spanish to help publicize the program, which ends on Tuesday, April 30. All residents are encouraged to take part in this community support program with or without an outstanding fine or fee. Come to any one of the eight SCCLD libraries including in Milpitas, and the Bookmobile to help a neighbor with a food donation.

Saturday, April 13
• At about 11:15 p.m. officers responded to a report from a resident about two suspicious vehicles, described as a red 2005 Nissan Altima sedan and a white SUV, parked a neighbor’s driveway near the 900 Block of N. Hillview Drive. When officers arrived, both vehicles attempted to speed away with the driver of the sedan striking a nearby parked car and a marked police vehicle. Police started a pursuit but eventually stopped because of concerns for public safety. The SUV fled the area and was not found. Anyone with information about the incident or the vehicles is asked to call Milpitas Police at (408) 586-2400. Information also can be shared anonymously by calling the Crime Tip Hotline at (408) 586-2500.

Monday, April 15
• At about 5:27 a.m. officers responded to a report about a suspicious person with a flashlight looking into a parked van on the 777 Block of E. Capitol Avenue. Arriving officers found two men standing next to the van. One of them, later identified by police as Darrell Ramel Roberson, 38, dropped a loaded Colt 22 handgun to the ground as officers approached. Roberson was arrested without incident and booked into the Santa Clara County Main Jail on suspicion of being a felon in possession of a loaded firearm and other weapons charges. The second person was not arrested.
• At about 4:44 p.m. police responded to a 911 call about an unresponsive 3-year-old child at a residence on the 700 Block of Luz Del Sol Loop. An arriving officer immediately began performing CPR until Milpitas Fire Department personnel arrived to continue lifesaving efforts. The child was taken to a hospital, but later died. Police investigators determined the child’s death was a homicide. Then, at about 6:20 p.m. on Wednesday, April 17, Milpitas Police detectives obtained an arrest warrant for the child’s grandmother, identified by police as Foos Abdi Hashi, 70, of Milpitas. She was arrested in San Jose and booked into the Santa Clara County Main Jail on suspicion of homicide. An investigation is continuing. Anyone with information about the incident is asked to call Milpitas Police at (408) 586-2400. Information also can be shared anonymously by calling the Crime Tip Hotline at (408) 586-2500.

GOVERNMENT

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
ZONE 5 – BRIDGEWAY
LANDSCAPING AND LIGHTING DISTRICT
NO. 19
CITY OF NEWARK, ALAMEDA COUNTY, CALIFORNIA

The City Council of the City of Newark will conduct a public hearing for the annexation of, the improvements to, and the levy and collection of assessments of Tract 8099 and Tract 8436 to Zone 5 – Bridgeway of Landscaping and Lighting District No. 19, City of Newark, Alameda County, California (the "District"). At the hearing, the City Council will take public testimony, including protests against the proposed assessment. The public hearing will be held in the Chambers of the City Council, 37101 Newark Boulevard, Newark, California on the following date:

May 9, 2019 at or after 7:30 p.m.

The proposed improvements to be funded by the assessment are briefly described as follows:

1. The maintenance of the landscaping, landscape irrigation systems and street lighting system within the median islands and traffic circle at the intersection of Hickory Street and Seawind Way;
2. The maintenance of the landscaping and landscape irrigation system within the median islands at the termination of Seawind Way;
3. The maintenance of street lighting system along the project frontage on Hickory Street;
4. The maintenance of an "in-tract" street lighting system along the following public street frontages: Headlands Avenue, Bay Breeze Street, and Seawind Way;
5. The maintenance of trash capture devices located along the project frontage on Hickory Street;
6. The maintenance of trash capture devices located within the "in-tract" public rights-of-way; and
7. The maintenance of the trail area along the project boundary.

The maximum proposed total assessment for the District for Fiscal Year 2019-20 is $40,680.00. The assessment proposed to be charged to individual parcels is based on the parcel type and number of units. The maximum assessment for each single-family unit is $80.00 and $60.00 for each multi-family unit. The assessment rates were established based on the number of residential units planned for the District area, also factoring in the total acreage and the benefit to all parcels. Maximum assessment rates will be adjusted annually based on the Consumer Price Index or three percent (3%), whichever is greater.

For further particulars you may refer to the Resolution of Intention and the Report for the District on file with the City Clerk at 37101 Newark Boulevard, Newark, CA. Inquiries about the improvement proceedings will be answered by the Public Works Director or the Assistant City Engineer at (510) 578-4671.

Any interested person may file a written protest with the City Clerk at the address given above at or before the time set for the public hearing. Each protest must contain a description of the property in which the signer is interested (property address or Assessor's Parcel Number), sufficient to identify the property. If there is a majority protest, defined as ballots submitted in opposition to the annexation out-weight the ballots submitted in favor of the annexation (ballots weighted according to the proportional financial obligation of the affected property), the assessment shall not be imposed.

If you challenge the action of the City Council on this matter in court, you may be limited to raising only those issues you or someone else raised at the public hearing described in this notice, or in written correspondence delivered to the City Clerk at, or prior to the public hearing.

IN ADDITION, THE RECORD OWNER OF THIS PARCEL IS ENTITLED TO VOTE ON THE QUESTION WHETHER THE ASSESSMENT SHALL BE LEVIED.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF
EMMETT DAVIS*CASE NO. RP19015144

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: Emmett Davis

A Petition for Probate has been filed by Cheryl J Payne in the Superior Court of California, County of Alameda.

The Petition for Probate requests that Cheryl J Payne be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on May 22, 2019 at 9:31 a.m. in Dept. 202 located at 2120 Martin Luther King Jr. Way, Berkeley, CA 94704.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

A Petition for Probate has been filed by Butram Reid Nakao in the Superior Court of California, County of Alameda.

The Petition for Probate requests that Butram Reid Nakao be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The Petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on May 29, 2019 at 9:31 a.m. in Dept. 201 located at 2120 Martin Luther King Jr. Way, Berkeley, CA 94704.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

ADMINISTER ESTATE OF
MARILYN BOITANO*CASE NO. RP19011632

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: Marilyn Boitano

A Petition for Probate has been filed by John Balquist in the Superior Court of California, County of Alameda.

The Petition for Probate requests that John Balquist be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The Petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on 5/6/2019 at 9:31 AM in Dept. 202 located at 2120 Martin Luther King Jr. Way, Berkeley, CA 94704-1109.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

New student placement process coming to Ohlone College

SUBMITTED BY TINA VOSSUGH

Officials from the Ohlone Community College District recently announced that a new placement process will soon start will let students enroll in transfer-level English and math courses during their first term. The new policy will go into effect for students enrolled during the summer/fall 2019 semester.

“We are looking forward to the positive impact these new changes will have on our students,” says Dr. Eva Margarita Munguía, Dean of Counseling and Student Success Programs at Ohlone. “With this new system, we will be able to have a better understanding of what our student’s strengths truly are and to be able to create a pathway for their success.”

Under the newly re-designed self-guided placement system students will select their first math and English course without a placement test. The web-based system uses high school grades in English and math, along with the students’ high school grade point average to provide placement advice that is most appropriate to a students’ educational pathway at Ohlone College and beyond.

The following course suggestions are now being made for Ohlone’s math and English students:

- The required English sequence now begins ENGL-101A (Reading and Written Composition Students who feel the need for more support before taking ENGL-101A should consider taking ENGL 151RW (Intro to College Reading and Writing).
- The sequence of math courses has changed. For students in science, engineering, math, and business, the new sequence starts at MATH-186 (Precalculus I). For students in the liberal arts, the new sequence starts with MATH-156 (Math for Liberal Arts) or MATH-159 (Statistics).

The new placement system will also help students save time and money. By being placed directly in to a transfer-level course, students will transfer to a four-year institution and/or find a job at a much more efficient rate. For more information about the changes to Ohlone’s orientation and placement process, visit <https://www.ohlone.edu/orientation>.

Skills workshops and scholarships help teens move forward

ARTICLE AND PHOTO SUBMITTED BY ANNE MARUMAHOKO

On a recent Thursday morning, Dan Kosin, operator of Fremont’s Chick-Fil-A restaurant walked around a high school classroom shaking hands with students. “That was a good one, but don’t forget eye contact,” he coached.

Kosin has been leading interview skills workshops with the GiveTeens20 non-profit for the last several years. With four kids of his own, Kosin has personal experience with coaching teens toward their goals. “It’s not easy for kids now, especially if they don’t have parents mentoring them. This is a great opportunity to step into that need.”

Mentoring is the name of the game at GiveTeens20 head office. “We teach kids to ask adults in their chosen professions to give them 20 minutes to answer three questions.” The organization’s founder Kathy Laidlaw is always ready to talk about her passion project. “Kids need to know that there are options out there for them and they need to know how to find out about them.” Laidlaw has been taking that message to Bay Area classrooms and sending it out online for the last four years. As she wraps up a classroom seminar, she councils “Look for a job that makes you excited to go to work each day. Don’t just look at how much money you might make.”

Presentations are specifically geared toward high school freshmen, with the goal of getting each student focused on working toward their own career goal. Many health teachers have taken an interest in the program and used it to support lessons on life choices and positive self-image.

Positions for summer internships are now open and applications for the annual scholarship competition are flowing in. “These are resume’ lines and job experience guys,” Kathy reminds students as she lists off positions in tech, media marketing, and writing at her organization. “You can work with us or somebody else but find out what you like to do and work toward it.”

Still, the message isn’t getting out fast enough. Laidlaw would like to see more applicants for the GiveTeens20 college scholarship. Officially named “Fem for STEM,” the scholarship offers $5,000 to a female high school graduate, entering the science fields.

Interested high school seniors must attend a full GiveTeens20 mentoring workshop and fill out an application. The scholarship deadline is May 14. Interested students should look at the organization’s website www.gt20.org for more information.

Spring has arrived and the music is flowing

SUBMITTED BY JOHN MONROE

Fans of live music will want to mark their calendars during May for three Spring 2019 concerts performed by bands from Ohlone College in Fremont. Programs include:

- The Mission Peak Brass Band. In the tradition of British-style Colliery Bands, the band will offer an engaging introduction to the brass band genre with various musical styles from the storytelling of George Gershwin’s “Porgy and Bess” and James Horner’s “The Mask of Zorro” to the ethereal “Pie Jesu” by Gabriel Faure, the rousing “Spitfire & Hurricane” March by F.S.Robson/S.Hague. Music will be from well-known British composers including Philip Sparke, Ben Hollings, and Peter Graham. Featured performers include John Monroe on Euphonium, Chris Wilhite on Flugelhorn, Dave Adams and Ken Walter on Cornet and Keith Johns on Eb Soprano Cornet. The Saturday, May 4 concert starts at 3 p.m. at Foothill Presbyterian Church, 5301 McKee Road, San Jose. Tickets are $15 in advance and $17.50 at the door. For program details and advance tickets, visit www.foothillpc.org/mission-peak-brass-band-2019.

- Ohlone Wind Orchestra will perform a program of Springtime Sketches as they tell stories of war, romance, tradition, nature through music. Included are: “Shaker Suite” by Rayburn Wright (featuring the Ohlone College Brass Quintet and Shaker melodies from “Appalachian Spring), the tragic yet romantic “Riften Wed” by Julie Giroux, the fast-paced “Frenergy” by John Estacio, the sacred hymns of “Sacred Harp” by Jay Bocook, the grandiose “Marche Slave” by Peter Tchaikovsky, the graceful and gritty “Pageant” by Vincent Persichetti, and more. The Sunday, May 5 concerts starts at 7:30 p.m. at Smith Center, Ohlone College, 43600 Mission Blvd., Fremont. Tickets are $15 and $10 at the door or online at www.SmithCenter.com; parking fee is $4. For details, visit www.OhloneWindOrchestra.org.

- Pops in the Park. Ohlone Community Band and Ohlone Tuba Ensemble will perform a free Pops in the Park concert at 12 noon Saturday, May 11 in the Performance Pavilion at Central Park on Paseo Padre Parkway in Fremont. The one-of-a-kind Tuba Ensemble will feature more than 20 tubas. Meanwhile, the Community Band will perform various classic and contemporary works including “The Great Locomotive Chase” by Robert W. Smith, “Captain America March” by Alan Silvestri, “Fugue on Yankee Doodle” by J.P. Sousa and “Bunch O’ Bones” by Richard Fote. Admission is free; visitors should bring a blanket and picnic lunch and enjoy the program. For details, visit www.OhloneCommunityBand.org.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The Niles Canyon Railway really appreciates the publicity you provide for us on your own, since we are an all-volunteer, non-profit railroad museum, and don't have much money for publicity. In this week's paper [April 16, 2019] you have a nice photo and article, but the prices are wrong. You have the diesel prices as the steam, and the steam prices as the diesel.

The diesel tickets should be $15.00/adults, $12.00/seniors, and $9.00/kids, and the steam should be $20.00/adults, $15.00/seniors, and $10.00/kids. If we have people coming on steam days expecting to get the lesser priced tickets, we are going to have to tell them it was a misprint in the newspaper.

Thank you again for helping us get the word out about our fantastic railroad museum.

Alameda County Water District receives upgraded credit rating

SUBMITTED BY SHARENE GONZALES

The Alameda County Water District announced an upgraded credit rating from Aa2 to Aa1 on April 9 from Moody’s Investors Service, affecting $80 million in outstanding revenue bonds. Moody’s considered several factors to determine the upgrade, including the District’s healthy debt service coverage, robust liquidity, diverse water supply with ample storage, and effective management team as credit strengths. ACWD’s 25-year capital improvement program (CIP) with annual updates, a low debt burden and a financial planning model attribute to prudent fiscal management, additional credit strengths noted by Moody’s.

“This bump up in our credit rating affirms our responsible fiscal management and ongoing obligation to act in the best interest of our customers,” said ACWD Board President James Gunther.

With the Hayward Fault running through the service area and the threat of seismic events, Moody’s decision considered ACWD’s long-term CIP planning, which includes seismic retrofits and upgrades, and the replacement of aging water mains.

ACWD’s water main renewal program identifies and prioritizes the upgrade or replacement of aging pipelines. With nearly 900 miles of water mains in the Tri-Cities, the program slates $10 million per year toward improvements.

Politics and Animal Welfare

Regarding East Bay Congressman Eric Swalwell and his 2020 run for the White House: A good and decent man on many counts, but there’s one area he needs to work on: animal welfare.

Mr. Swalwell is a member of the “Rowell Ranch Rangers,” an ad hoc group of local politicians who support and promote the annual Rowell Ranch Rodeo in Castro Valley. This rodeo has a long history of animal injuries and deaths. Other “Rangers” include County Supervisors Nate Miley and Scott Haggerty, County Sheriff Greg Ahern, and State Senator Bob Wieckowski. A little self-reflection seems in order here.

Reportedly, Mr. Swalwell’s main focus is gun violence.

Ironically, there was a vendor at the 2018 Rowell Ranch Rodeo selling toy, life-size AK-47 assault rifles, replete with sound effects. The kids were happily gunning down the passers-by, under the approving eyes of their mindless parents. Can you spell “irony”? There are obvious connections to be made here.

It’s said that people who care about animals comprise the single largest lobby in the country. Mr. Swalwell would be wise to abandon the “Rangers,” and instead become an advocate for animal welfare. Could only help his political ambitions, methinks.

Santa Clara County urged to explore establishing a public bank

SUBMITTED BY JANICE ROMBECK

Supervisors Dave Cortese and Cindy Chavez will request on April 23, 2019, that Santa Clara County explore Municipal Public Banking, an initiative proposed in State Assembly Bill 857 by Assemblymembers Miguel Santiago of Los Angeles and David Chiu of San Francisco. The legislation would allow local jurisdictions like the County to create charters that would allow them to form their own local or regional public banks.

The idea is for local governments to collect the benefits and earnings on large municipal accounts that now go to Wall Street. Unlike private banks that make shareholders’ returns the priority, a public bank could consider community needs in its decisions, according to the bill’s authors and supporters.

For more information, contact the Office of Supervisor Dave Cortese at (408) 299-5030.

Small Business Summit of Entrepreneurship and Innovation

SUBMITTED BY LAUREL ANDERSON/MARINA HINESTROSA

Resources to help build your business, new business contracting opportunities, informative and practical business-building workshops, and networking with other small businesses are just a few of the benefits for Santa Clara County business owners who attend the 8th annual Santa Clara County Small Business Summit on April 30.

“The Small Business Summit gathers a broad range of resources and support services for residents looking to establish or expand their business,” said Bruce Knopf, Economic Development Director for the County of Santa Clara. “Participants will have the opportunity to meet program decision makers and influencers in an informal setting, learn about the contract bidding process and meet other businesses with whom they may team up to go after larger contracts.”

“We are excited to welcome business representatives to the Small Business Summit,” said Miriam Singer, County of Santa Clara Chief Procurement Officer. “We specially encourage small businesses or businesses representing underserved communities to participate in this valuable networking and educational opportunity that could help them grow and expand their services.”

News from New Haven School District

SUBMITTED BY NEW HAVEN SCHOOL DISTRICT

- Congratulations are in order for the Cesar Chavez Middle School Girls Wrestling Team which recently took second place in California. All wrestlers did a tremendous job and had a great finish to the season. Team members were: Sisilia Tuafa, Liselle Santos, Isabelle Camarillo, Mari Zamora-Lajes, Mikayla Garcia and Carmella Foley.

- A team of seventh grade students at Itliong-Vera Cruz Middle School won the “Outstanding Overall” award at The Tech Challenge held March 31 in San Jose. The team, named ArcTech Fox, made a hovercraft that covered all five tracks of the Challenge in less than half the given time to win best on all three categories of the Challenge. Team members were Fatima Khawaja, Angeline Ho, Nyela and Brianna Johnson.

- The Hispanic Community Affairs Council (HCAC) is inviting community members to their annual scholarship awards luncheon to celebrate this year’s recipients. The event is set for Friday, May 10 at the DoubleTree by Hilton in Newark. Tickets are $65 per person. HCAC promotes the value of education to the community and youths. For details, visit their website at www.hcac-ac.org/, and then click the “Events” link.

- New Haven PASE (Pilipino American Society for Education) and Filipino Youth Association (FYA) are hosting their first annual Pilipinx Graduation Ceremony on Saturday, June 1 at 9 a.m. at Itliong Vera-Cruz Middle School. This ceremony does not replace the traditional Logan High Ceremony, it is in additional ceremony. During the program PASE Scholarship recipients will be acknowledged. All students who identify as Filipino are invited. For details, call the New Haven School District at (510) 471-1100.

Park It

By NED MACKAY

The East Bay Regional Park District is looking for volunteers who would like to become community scientists for the day on Sunday, April 28, documenting biodiversity in any of three regional parklands.

Two of the “bioblitz” programs will be led by naturalist Trent Pearce. One is from 10 a.m. to 12 noon starting at the Heavenly Ridge staging area at Sobrante Ridge in El Sobrante. The other is from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. starting at the steam train overflow lot in Tilden Regional Park near Berkeley. The third “bioblitz,” led by naturalist Morgan Guenther, is from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. at Crab Cove in Alameda. Since it involves shoreline low tide activity, rain boots are recommended.

Volunteers must have a camera or smartphone. You can register for the day, then attend one or two sessions as desired. The programs are free, but registration is required. For registration and more information, call (888) 327-2757 and select option 2. For Sobrante Ridge, refer to program number 24823. For Tilden, refer to 24824, and for Crab Cove, 24120.

Speaking of Crab Cove, there’s a mid-morning bird walk from 10:30 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday, April 27 at the Elsie Roemer Bird Sanctuary, Crown Beach, led by naturalist Susan Ramos. Spring is a good time to see shorebirds, when their colorful plumage makes them easier to identify. Beginning birders are welcome; binoculars will be available for loan.

Meet Susan at the observation platform near the end of Broadway in Alameda. For information, call (510) 544-3187.

“Coco” is the featured film for a free outdoor movie night scheduled from 8:00 p.m. to 9:45 p.m. on Saturday, April 27 at Lake Chabot in Castro Valley. It’s a beautifully animated, family friendly film based on the Mexican “Day of the Dead” tradition.

The park entrance is on Lake Chabot Road just north of town. It’s best to arrive early to secure a good seat. Bring a flashlight, warm clothes and a blanket or chair for sitting. Snacks and hot drinks will be available for purchase. No pets allowed. The event will be cancelled if it rains. For information, call (510) 544-2567.

Historic Rose Hill Cemetery is the final resting place for many of the 19th century miners and their families who lived and worked at what is now Black Diamond Mines Regional Preserve in Antioch. You can learn many of their stories by joining naturalist Eddie Willis for an old-time cemetery picnic from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Sunday, April 28. Pack a picnic and blanket for a half-mile uphill hike and afternoon tea at the cemetery. Victorian or steampunk outfits are encouraged.

The free program is for ages 10 and older. Meet Willis in the parking lot at the upper end of Somersville Road, 3½ miles south of Highway 4. Black Diamond has a parking fee of $5 per vehicle. For details, call (888) 327-2757, ext. 2750.

While we’re at Black Diamond Mines, the wildflower displays are especially beautiful there this year. For a visual treat, walk up the hill on the Manhattan Canyon Trail from the Nortonville Trail. There’s lots of filaree, Indian paintbrush and black sage, plus great views of the Somersville town site below.

The staff at Big Break Regional Shoreline in Oakley plans a series of great programs to round out the month. Ladybugs are the focus from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. Saturday, April 27. Farmers love the insects’ ferocious appetites; birds can’t stand their taste. Nature journaling is on the agenda from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday, April 28. The group will observe, draw, and write down what is seen, heard and smelled in the park.

And from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tuesday, April 30 is All Abilities Day. Visitors can explore nature at their own pace and in their own way. Travel along paved paths to touch fur, listen to birds, draw wildlife, or sit on benches to scan the water or paint the view. Drop in any time during the day. There will be both indoor and outdoor options, all wheelchair accessible.

Big Break is at 69 Big Break Road off Oakley’s Main Street. For information, call (888) 327-2757, ext. 3050.

There’s always lots to see and do in the regional parks, especially in springtime. For complete information, visit the website www.ebparks.org.

Relay for Life fundraiser results in large donation

SUBMITTED BY NANCY HEOHENRIEDER

On April 19, 2019, Harihar Dahal of Casa Azteca (20 N. Abel Street, Milpitas) presented a check for $1,100 to Relay For Life Tri-City F.U.N. The funds represented 20 percent of sales generated by Casa Azteca on April 17.

We are grateful to Mr. Dahal and all customers who supported Relay for Life and made this event such a big success for team “Friends Bound for a Cure.” The “relay” will be held at Newark Center Park June 1-2, 2019.

Our team’s next fundraiser is scheduled for Wednesday, May 1 at BJ’s Restaurant, 5699 Mowry Avenue in Newark.

Graduating seniors receive scholarships

SUBMITTED BY RANDY SABADO

More than 20 graduating high school seniors from Tri-City area high schools were recently awarded scholarships totaling $25,500 from the South Bay Chinese Service Club (SBCSC).

During the club’s 49th annual scholarship banquet, held April 10 at the Mayflower Restaurant in Union City, Club President Joe Woo praised the students for their outstanding academic records and participation in community activities.

Honored guests at the program included Alameda County Supervisor Scott Haggerty, City of Fremont Mayor Lily Mei and Fremont City Council Member Teresa Keng. Keynote speaker was Dion Lim, a news anchor and reporter at ABC7/KGO-TV in San Francisco.

During her address, Lim spoke about her challenges in becoming the first Asian American women to ever hold a full-time anchor position in each television market where she has anchored. In her speech stressed that one doesn’t have to be the smartest, most athletic, or prettiest student to ultimately succeed, citing herself as a prime example. She also emphasized that if people witness or hear something which is wrong or discriminatory that they must stand up and challenge it.

Before the announcement of the scholarship award winners, all the students received Certificates of Special Recognition from Alameda County Supervisor, Scott Haggerty. Although unable to attend the banquet, U. S. Congressman Ro Khanna and Congressman Eric Swalwell, State Senator Bob Wieckowski, State Assemblyman Bill Quirk, State Assemblyman Kansan Chu and Alameda County Supervisor Richard Valle provided Certificates of Recognition ahead of time to be distributed to the students during the ceremony.

This year’s scholarship winners are an impressive group of students representing six high schools in Fremont, Union City and Newark. Their average unweighted GPA was 3.91 and their average weighted GPA was 4.37. They amassed a total of 8,515 community service hours. In this group there were three National Merit Finalists, seven AP Scholars, seven students with perfect unweighted 4.0 GPAs, one Girl Scout Gold Award, five Presidential Service Awards (Gold), a Ranked Top 10 Rolex National/World Jr. Golf Class , and one student who has a US Patent Publication.

The 2019 scholarship recipients are:

- Jonathan Ko, Mission San Jose High School — Howard Tom Memorial Scholarship for Top Honors
- Bethany Woo, Mission San Jose High School — Dick F. Szeto Memorial Scholarship for Excellence in Leadership
- Edward Yang, American High School — Bing J. Gee Memorial Scholarship for Excellence in Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics

- Tzu (Emily) Yuan Hung, American High School — South Bay Chinese Service Club Scholarship
- Malia N. Jiang, James Logan High School — South Bay Chinese Service Club Scholarship
- Elijah Lin, James Logan High School — South Bay Chinese Service Club Scholarship

The annual Scholarship Program began in 1970 by providing two scholarship of $100 each to graduating high school seniors of Chinese descent. The primary funding for the Scholarship Program is obtained through direct solicitation of donations and through an annual fundraising golf tournament held in May each year. For details about the scholarship program and annual golf tournament, visit the South Bay Chinese Club website at www.southbaychineseclub.org.

Concerned about school funding, class sizes or campus safety? Join our Bus Trip for Education

By SUPERVISOR DAVE CORTESE

Charter schools, teacher salaries, class sizes, campus safety and per-student funding are among the top issues facing education in California. You have a chance to learn more about them and voice your concerns to the people who make the decisions about these and other issues. Our state legislators will meet with us on Wednesday, May 15 in Sacramento during our 17th annual free Bus Trip for Education, a daylong event that has grown from a van-full of concerned parents to four buses full of community members, teachers, elected officials and students.

While the challenges that schools face have changed over the years, the need for our legislators to hear from us has not. Please join me and my staff to hear what our Santa Clara County delegation is working on, their updates on bills and, most important, their answers to our questions. There will also be a tour of the Capitol Building. The event has always been focused on education, but you can also ask questions of our legislators about other current topics, such as housing and healthcare.

We’ll provide information you can read on the bus to help prepare you for the Q&A’s with legislators, including assemblymembers Evan Low, Ash Kalra and Mark Berman, as well as senators Jim Beall, Jerry Hill and Bob Wieckowski. We hope to also be joined by representatives from the State Board of Education and the Controller’s Office.

In January, Governor Gavin Newsom proposed a record $80.7 billion in the state budget for K-12 education and he also added funding for a second year of free community college for full-time students. His budget also includes money for expanding preschool education and $750 million to fund more all-day kindergarten programs. The Local Control Funding Formula will get most of the K-12 funds – $2 billion, and there is an increase in special education funding of $576 million. But teacher salaries are still a big issue considering the teachers’ strikes across the state, often because many are not paid enough to meet the high cost of housing. So, there will be a lot to discuss with our legislators. I hope you will join us.

We’ll gather Wednesday, May 15 at 6 a.m., and the buses will leave at 6:30 a.m. from the VTA Transit Center at Eastridge Mall, 2200 Eastridge Loop, San Jose, and return to the same location around 5 p.m. A light breakfast and lunch will be provided. To register, visit the Bus Trip for Education page on our D3 website, sccgov.org/bustrip, call (408) 299-5030 or email vannessa.turner@bos.sccgov.org.
