Applying sunscreen or sunblock is an important part of enjoying sunny days.

After a long, wet winter, everyone is anxious to get outside and enjoy the summer sunshine, whether it's hiking, boating, working in the garden or just sitting in a lounge chair reading or napping.

Enjoying the sun is fine, says Dr. Tam Nguyen, a primary care physician with Washington Township Medical Foundation, but the most important thing you can do for yourself and your family is to avoid being sunburned from overexposure to the sun. Sunburns are not just painful, Dr. Nguyen notes, "They can cause skin damage that can accelerate aging and, at times, increase the risk of skin cancer."

Ready for Some Sunshine?

With a little protection, we can all enjoy summertime fun

This doesn't mean you have to stay out of the sun on these lovely warm days. "It's easy to avoid sunburns," Dr. Nguyen explains. "Avoid direct sunlight, particularly between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. when the sun is the brightest and the strongest." A variety of sunscreens and sunblock lotions can help, and covering up with long-sleeve shirts, long pants, and wide-brim hats also reduces the risk of sunburn.

Dr. Nguyen recommends using a broad-spectrum sunscreen that blocks both forms of ultraviolet radiation (UVA & UVB), both of which can cause sunburn and skin damage that may lead to various forms of skin cancer and skin aging.

Most shoppers look at the SPF (sun protection factor) rating to determine what would be an effective sunscreen but it's equally important to make sure your choice has both UVA and UVB protection. The SPF rating only focuses on UVB.

Dr. Nguyen says SPF 30 is effective for most skins — fair to dark. "The difference between SPF 30 and SPF 100 is only 2 percent," he explains. If you need a true sunblock, sunscreens are not the answer. The two effective types of sunblock are titanium dioxide and zinc oxide, minerals mixed in heavy oil that effectively block the sun's rays. These are the white creams one often sees on the faces of lifeguards at the local pool. Some products with these two ingredients are tinted with flesh-color hues to make the cream less obvious.

"Sunblocks are effective for those parts of the skin that are exposed continually, like the face and nose," Dr. Nguyen says. "But it's not practical to cover one's entire body with sunblock, so other strategies should be used." That's where covering up comes into play, wearing long-sleeve shirts, lightweight pants and hats. For those individuals particularly sensitive or concerned about sun exposure, some clothing comes with SPF built in, providing increased protection.

But protecting your skin isn't just a summer job, Dr. Nguyen adds. It's important to keep your skin healthy all year around. He recommends using moisturizers, drinking plenty of water, using sunscreens all year long and no smoking. "Smoking is not just harmful for your lungs; it is harmful for your skin too," he says.

Some parents are concerned about using sunscreen on children — they are worried that the chemicals in the lotions might be absorbed into the child's system. Dr. Nguyen says he's not seen any evidence that the ingredients in sunscreen have caused any harm to young children. "I recommend sunscreen and/or sunblock for children but, if a parent is concerned about it, sunblock is a better choice or covering up the child is a good alternative," he says.

Dr. Nguyen reminds sunscreen users that sunscreen does wear off and wash off. "A sunscreen may be advertised as 'waterproof' but there's no such thing in sunscreens," he adds. "Keep moisturizing your skin; always reapply after swimming and every four hours."

If you get a sunburn, Dr. Nguyen recommends using cold compresses to bring down the inflammation. Aloe vera creams or gels can help, as can an oatmeal bath or oatmeal paste placed on the burned area. Use moisturizers to keep the skin moist and flexible.

Finally, Dr. Nguyen says, "If you must have a tan, use artificial tanning creams and sprays. Never use a tanning booth. The unfiltered light rays are very harmful to your skin."

Dr. Nguyen's summer creed: use sunscreen/sunblock, reapply, moisturize, cover up—four strategies to help you enjoy the summer.

Washington Hospital Healthcare Foundation 34th Annual Golf Tournament

Benefitting Surgical Services at Washington Hospital

On Thursday, May 2, Washington Hospital Healthcare Foundation held its 34th Annual Golf Tournament at Castlewood Country Club in Pleasanton. The tournament brought together friends and community members to raise money for surgical services at Washington Hospital. The day featured an 18-hole golf tournament, putting contest, barbecue lunch, opportunities to win prizes on the golf course, a cocktail reception, and awards banquet. This year, nearly 180 golfers enjoyed a spectacular day on the course and 200 guests attended the banquet at the country club. For 34 years, the golf tournament has raised money for Washington Hospital. The Foundation and golf committee is pleased to announce it was yet another successful year with proceeds totaling just over $89,000! The tournament is held in memory of Gene Angelo Pessagno, a founding member of the Washington Hospital

Healthcare Foundation and long-time Fremont business owner. Through all the years, Laura Pessagno and her family have generously supported the tournament and the Hospital. Laura is a charter member of the Washington Hospital Service

“I would like to thank our generous sponsors and golfers, who support the Foundation and Hospital year after year,” said John Dutra, President of the Foundation. “I would also like to thank all of our volunteers who generously give their time to help at registration, on the course, and at the banquet.”

The Golf Tournament Committee was again chaired by Lamar Hinton, who is also a volunteer for the Washington Hospital Service League. Each year, Lamar works with the committee members and Foundation staff to ensure a successful and fun tournament for all. “I would like to thank our golf committee members and volunteers for their time and efforts with the tournament – it was a great day!” said Hinton.

A history of Carnegie libraries with Annalee Allen

SUBMITTED BY MARCESS OWINGS

Andrew Carnegie can be thought of as an early version of Bill Gates. This wealthy steel magnate and America’s first billionaire preached a gospel of “giving back” on the part of the wealthy. He followed through on his philosophy in the later part of his life, donating about $350 million to charities, foundations, and universities – almost 90 percent of his fortune. Between 1883 and 1929, Carnegie funded the construction of over 2,000 public libraries in the United States, the United Kingdom, and around the world. Some of those historic structures stood in Hayward and San Leandro.

Join Annalee Allen, noted local historian, on Thursday, June 6 as she speaks about the legacy of local Carnegie libraries. For details about the event, call Hayward Area Historical Society (HAHS) at (510) 581-0223 or visit www.HaywardAreaHistory.org.

Summer music program keeps students in tune

SUBMITTED BY QUEENIE CHONG

School is out. The weather is too warm. Friends and relatives are visiting. Families are traveling. Private teachers are on vacation. Any other excuses for musicians to stop practicing in the summer? Play and keep playing; the music school is in session. This is the message behind free band and orchestra classes offered from Thursday, June 27 to Friday, July 19 by Instrumental Music Department of Hopkins Junior High School.

This three-week program, open to eligible high school, junior high school, and intermediate/advanced elementary band/orchestra students, presents an exceptional opportunity for students to keep up and improve their musical skills during the summer. There must be a minimum enrollment of 45 band students and 20 orchestra students to run these classes. Students are encouraged to enroll even if they are going to miss some classes. However, all participants are required to perform at the evening concert on Saturday, July 20.

Registration is open. For details and to register, visit https://musicathopkins.com/programs/summer-

Shape Our Fremont

Now the other side of the street

The Century House and Minerva's building on Fremont Boulevard in Centerville are proposed to be demolished in the latest development plans. In their place, SummerHill Apartment Communities wants to build 202 rental units and 8,420 square feet of commercial space in a mixed-use project on two parcels that stretch between Fremont Boulevard and Maple Street.

Historic Buildings

The Century House at 37447 Fremont Boulevard was built in 1932 for Frank Botelho as the Chapel of the Palms Mortuary. The building at 37463 Fremont Boulevard, which has housed Minerva's restaurant since 1979, was built in 1954 replacing the 1930s home of Max Stevenson. Both buildings, plus another behind the Century House, are currently being evaluated to determine if they are potential historic resources under either the California state criteria or the less-stringent City of Fremont criteria. Any project that proposes to demolish or structurally change a building that is found to be potentially eligible for listing as an historic resource must be reviewed by the Historical Architectural Review Board (HARB).

Project Review

SummerHill has submitted a Preliminary Review Procedure (PRP) request to have their project plans reviewed by city staff. This will include people from planning, engineering, transportation, fire, landscape, solid waste, and urban runoff. A PRP is not a formal application for entitlement. It is an opportunity for developers to get feedback from the City as to whether their initial plans would meet City standards. As part of PRP, the public is encouraged to submit their comments, concerns, and questions directly to the assigned City staff planner. This is the best time to raise issues because it allows the City staff to identify problems and to potentially work out solutions with the developer before work begins on a more detailed formal application.

Proposal Plans

The two mixed-use frontage buildings would be two stories, and the residential building behind would be five stories wrapping around a six-story parking garage. One mixed-use frontage building with retail spaces on the ground floor would be 81 feet wide. Next to it would be a similar frontage building with a leasing office and fitness center, but no other retail space. The city will consider whether that is enough commercial space for a mixed-use project along 290 feet of Fremont Boulevard frontage.

The modern exterior architecture is similar to what SummerHill used for Locale@State Street in the Downtown Center. The style will be assessed as to whether it reflects the community character of historic Centerville Town Center. There would be no apartments designated as affordable housing units, and SummerHill plans to pay affordable housing in-lieu fees instead. However, several market-rate apartments are studios, and the units range from 476 square feet to 976 square feet.

SummerHill's PRP cover letter states that the density would be 81.5 dwelling units per acre (du/ac). These parcels have a General Plan Land Use Designation of Commercial-Town Center and are within the Centerville Transit Oriented Development (TOD) Overlay. Allowable residential density in mixed-use projects depends on space for parking. Will Fremont allow a density so far above the 70 du/ac maximum of a residential-urban designation in a TOD? Access would be from Fremont Boulevard or Maple Street. Could this location in the heart of Centerville and opposite new 165-unit SiliconSage development, handle the additional traffic from 202 more units?

Your Opinion Matters

Let the City of Fremont know what you think of this proposal and the historic buildings they plan to demolish. Email city staff planner David Wage at dwage@fremont.gov regarding Summerhill Apartment Communities' Fremont Multifamily Residential PRP (PRP2019-00017).

Radio Control Aircraft

aircraft by becoming a member of the Southern Alameda County Radio Controllers club (SACRC). In fact, flying your own radio-controlled aircraft can be more than just a hobby. It can be a passion, a sport, a chance to learn the physics and aerodynamics of aircraft and even a unique way of viewing the world.

The SACRC was founded in 1967 and after being based in several locations it finally was established at its current location off of Benson Road in Union City. Currently the club has 113 members and holds club charter #162 of the Academy of Model Aeronautics (AMA). The AMA, which oversees the regulations of flying radio-controlled aircraft models, has existed for 80 years and currently has 187,000 members, 2,400 AMA clubs (one of which is the SACRC), and 3,000 flying fields. The organization has donated over $1,000,000 in scholarship awards and operates the largest model aviation museum in the world.

Radio control aircraft are models that are controlled remotely by an operator on the ground using a hand-held radio transmitter. The transmitter communicates with a receiver within the craft that sends signals to servomechanisms (servos) which move the flight control surfaces based on the position of joysticks on the transmitter. The flight control surfaces, in turn, affect the orientation of the plane. The flight controls within the models are the ailerons that control roll, elevator or horizontal stabilizer that controls pitch (up and down movement), throttle that controls speed, and rudder or vertical stabilizer that controls left and right movement also known as “yaw”.

The SACRC hosts two events annually. According to Jeff Whitney, SACRC member and Secretary of the Board, the first is a “Warbird Fly-in” and involves any scale model of any military airplane. There are no set activities, and the members just get together to fly and have lunch and good times with fellow enthusiasts. This year it will be held on Saturday, July 20 and spectators are welcome. The second event is “Waldo Pepper’s Flying Circus” where radio-controlled aircrafts are limited to WWI and Golden Age (to 1935) models. This will be held Saturday-Sunday, August 24-25. “Depending on the entries we have Racing, which is time-trial style, one airplane at a time in a Figure 8 pattern. We also have Micro Antic racing – a specific model – 36.5” wingspan electric. This one is more of a free-for-all, oval pattern, and as many in the air as want to fly, for a specific time. Most laps wins! And of course, just lots of flying by many interesting models,” says Whitney. “Spectators are welcome as well!”

In addition to these events, members can practice flying their radio control aircraft models any day from 8 a.m. However, they must first be members of AMA, carry their AMA card and display their SACRC badge while flying at the field. Furthermore, there are restrictions as to the type and size of models. For example, aircraft models may not have more than 110 inches or 2.8 meters of wingspan. Also, aircraft models weighing over 55 lbs or 25 kg need a waiver, and turbine powered models are not allowed.

The majority of the models flown by SACRC members are electric powered “sport” models, yet there are a good number of scale models including jets powered by electric ducted fans (EDF). But members are not limited to electric powered aircraft. “We only fly RC (radio controlled), since we have no room for a control-line circle. Most of the models are airplanes, but there are “drones” and helicopters as well. A couple of members will bring RC cars – and when there is enough water, boats as well,” says Whitney.

As for flying your own radio-controlled model, Whitney says, “It can be an addictive hobby. You ask most guys how many airplanes they have, and the answer is usually a variation on ‘Not enough!’ It is the rare hobbyist that has only one or two, and it is a lot less expensive now than when I started.”

By joining the SACRC, in addition to meeting other members and perfecting your radio-controlled flying skills, you are also donating to a worthy cause. One organization the SACRC supports is Viola Blythe Community Center in Newark to which members donate five dollars annually. The Center is a nonprofit, nonsectarian corporation organized to promote, support and advocate social and human services to any person who is in immediate need. According to Whitney, donations have varied between a few hundred to a couple of thousand dollars annually. To join the SACRC, applicants must pay a membership fee of $65 for people 19 and up or $30 for children up to 18, as well as a one-time new field assessment fee of $100. If you would like to find out more about SACRC, the club hosts meetings open to the public on the second Saturday of the month at 11 am at the flying field off Benson Road in Union City, nestled between the Dumbarton and San Mateo Bridge near Hwy 880 and the Alvarado Niles Rd Exit.

BUSINESS

No settlement in latest bargaining session

SUBMITTED BY
JOHN MATTOS, NHUSD

After another ten-hour bargaining session [Sunday, May 26], New Haven [School District] management and NHTA [New Haven Teachers Association] were not able to bridge the gap between their respective last, best, and final offers. The District's standing offer includes a one-time, three percent (3%) off-the-schedule pay increase for 18/19 and an ongoing, one percent (1%) on-the schedule pay increase beginning 19/20 for the County's highest paid teachers. This offer would give teachers, on average, $2,900 for 18/19 and an average ongoing increase for 19/20, starting in July, of approximately $1,000.

New Haven also proposed language for 19/20 that would add additional ongoing pay increases should the District's revenue come in higher than projected. The District's current offer would keep New Haven teachers as the highest paid teachers in Alameda County, would cost the District about $5 million over three years and would not increase the projected cuts of $4.6 million for 20/21.

NHTA's last, best offer was a ten percent (10%) ongoing pay increase spread across 18/19 and 19/20. The teachers' proposal would cost the District between $20 million and $30 million over a three-year period. Any increase beyond the District's last, best and final offer would require serious and significant cuts, above the already required cuts, would jeopardize student safety, diminish the integrity and quality of student programs, and threaten the District's financial solvency.

Examples of such cuts include, but are not limited to the following:

Projected Savings Eliminate all Stipends for Co-Curricular Activities (e.g. Athletics, band, forensics, etc.) $ 400,000

Cut teaching positions and increase TK and Kindergarten Class Sizes to 30:1 $ 800,000

Eliminate Dual Immersion Language Program $ 400,000

Close an Elementary School $ 500,000

Cut three (3) Counselors $ 330,000

Eliminate all Social Workers (4) $ 400,000

Cuts to Union City Family Center (Kids Zone) $ 500,000

Eliminate all Elementary Assistant Principals $ 420,000

Eliminate all Middle School Assistant Principals (4) $ 480,000

Eliminate all High School House Principals (6) $ 750,000

Cut 25 Classified positions (to be determined) $ 1,000,000

Cuts to Adult School (Admin included) $ 200,000

Close Decoto School for Independent Study $ 300,000

Cut three (3) Directors at the district-level $ 450,000

Cut three (3) Coordinators at the district-level $ 360,000

Cut the Business/Payroll Manager at the district-level $ 110,000

Cut one (1) Chief Officer $ 220,000

Cut one (1) Confidential Classified Management $ 100,000

Eliminate Professional Development $ 100,000

Total Potential Cuts $ 7,820,000

New Haven management believes the cuts described above would seriously undermine the core instructional program of the District and create an environment that is non-conductive to learning for its over 11,000 students. New Haven Unified remains committed to reaching an agreement with NHTA that maintains the competitive compensation for all employees and ensures the District's long-term financial health.

Thrift Store connects with community

SUBMITTED BY STEPHANIE BRISTOW

The TCV Thrift Store is no ordinary thrift store — it is an integral part of Tri-City Volunteers (TCV), a local social services agency that has supported the community for over 45 years with emergency food, low/no-cost clothing, and household goods. Not only does the store carry a wide range of gently-used clothing, but also a selection of items for the home, including furniture, household goods, and linens. “When it comes to donations,” said Ann Koeppen, Thrift Store Manager, “we rely on the generosity of our Tri-City neighbors who are clearing out their closets or garages — and this time of year is ideal for spring cleaning! We do pick up household furniture, too (though please email donate@tcvfoodbank.org first with photos of items you wish to donate) — all other gently used, working condition items can be dropped off at the store.” Through generous community donations, items can be sold at very low cost.

The heart of TCV Thrift Store, however, is “community” — the place is not only a bargain hunter's paradise, but a chance to connect with the community that's so important in these challenging times. All proceeds directly support our much-needed programs, including TCV Marketplace, which provides low-income families and seniors nutritional groceries at no cost. The Thrift Store also provides free clothing and hosts a bag lunch program for the homeless in our community.

We wouldn't be able to operate without the generosity and enthusiasm of volunteers. “If the thought of donating your time in a fun, retail setting is appealing,” adds Koeppen, “and you happen to like clothes and shopping — then TCV Thrift Store is the place for you!” You can either contact Koeppen directly at (510) 598-4065 for details or email volunteer@tcvfoodbank.org to find out how easy it is to sign up! We look forward to seeing you — whether as a shopper, a volunteer or a donor!

Wieckowski eyes Congressional seat

SUBMITTED BY MATT LIEBMAN

California State Senator Bob Wieckowski recently announced his candidacy for California's 15th Congressional District. The 10th Senate District he represents in the California State Legislature overlaps considerably with 15th Congressional District, stretching from southern Alameda County into Santa Clara County.

As a bankruptcy attorney helping struggling individuals battle financial hardship, to his time as Vice Mayor of Fremont, and member of the California State Assembly and State Senate, Wieckowski has fought to make sure that every California resident has a chance to succeed in today's economy. Wieckowski has been a leader in bringing clean and innovative technologies to California.

“It's with great excitement and humility that I announce my campaign for California's 15th Congressional District,” Wieckowski said during his announcement on May 21. “As your State Senator, I've worked tirelessly to protect California families from President Trump's reckless assault on our democracy. In Congress, I'll do everything in my power to keep immigrant families together, provide affordable health care access to millions of Americans, confront the crisis of climate change head-on and tackle the rising inequity of wages in our Country.”

Wieckowski currently chairs the California State Senate's Budget and Fiscal Review Subcommittee on Resources, Environmental Protection, Energy and Transportation. He also serves as a member of the Senate's Appropriations Environmental Quality, Housing, Judiciary, and Transportation Committees.

Since he was first elected to represent the East Bay in the State Legislature in 2010, statewide organizations have selected Wieckowski as Legislator of the Year for his steadfast support of consumers and the state's most vulnerable low-income earners.

Wieckowski previously served two terms in the Assembly and as Vice Mayor of the City of Fremont. As a bankruptcy attorney he has helped hundreds of families and seniors persevere through economic hardship. Wieckowski received his B.A. from the University of California and his J.D. from Santa Clara University Law School. He lives in Fremont with his wife, Sue.

More information about Wieckowski's campaign for Congress is posted on his website at www.wieckowskiforcongress.com.

Priorities discussed in strategic plan workshop, another planned

SUBMITTED BY LAUREN SUGAYAN

The Union City City Council and city management team convened a strategic planning workshop on Tuesday, May 21. This was the first of two workshops to create the city's first strategic plan in many years. The strategic plan will be a five-year plan with priorities for attention in each of the years. Developing focused city priorities is vital to stabilizing the city financially, given its current fiscal challenges. The council and city staff discussed five broad goal areas, along with several possible strategies for achieving goals. Those areas included fiscal stability and sustainability, economic and community development, communication and outreach, infrastructure and public safety, governance and organizational effectiveness.

A second workshop is planned for Thursday, July 11 and will focus on finalizing goals, strategies, mission, vision and values. The plan is anticipated to be adopted by the city council this fall and the city staff will then work to create an implementation action plan to operationalize the strategic plan and establish reporting procedures. To learn more and find resources about the strategic plan, visit www.unioncity.org/UCstrategicplan.

California Senate votes to ban smoking at state parks

AP WIRE SERVICE

California lawmakers are trying again to ban smoking at state parks and coastal beaches.

The state Senate voted, 28-10, on Thursday to ban cigarettes, cigars, pipes and electronic smoking devices from state parks and coastal beaches. Violators would be fined $25. But additional penalties and assessments would bring the total fine to about $200.

Lawmakers have tried to ban smoking at state parks and coastal beaches nearly a dozen times over the past 15 years. All have failed to become law. Former governors Arnold Schwarzenegger and Jerry Brown vetoed several attempts.

Park rangers would enforce the ban, but the law would let them exempt people smoking as part of their religious beliefs. The bill does not specify what religious practices, leaving that to the discretion of the park rangers.

SB 518 bill strengthens California Public Records Act

SUBMITTED BY JEFF BARBOSA

With bipartisan support, the state Senate has approved a bill by Senator Bob Wieckowski (D-Fremont), supported by First Amendment advocates and newspaper organizations, that protects the California Public Records Act (CPRA) by preventing government agencies from attempting to shift attorney costs onto the public records requesters. Under the California Code of Civil Procedure Section 998, settlement offers, if rejected, provide that the offering party is entitled to recover its litigation costs in the event the rejecting party fails to obtain a better result at trial.

"A 998 offer is a useful and important tool to bring parties together to settle in civil litigation, but it should have no place in California Public Records Act cases," said Wieckowski. "SB 518 ensures that the CPRA is being used as it is intended: as a way for Californians to get information from their government without fear of being burdened by attorney fees. The threat of possibly having to pay an agency's attorney fees could deter the public from seeking records they are entitled to under the law."

The CPRA mandates that a court award costs and reasonable attorney fees to the requester should the requester prevail in litigation, meaning the agency releases a copy of a previously withheld document. The only time a court can award court costs and reasonable attorney fees to the agency is if the court finds that the request is frivolous. In addition to California News Publishers Association, SB 518 is supported by the First Amendment Coalition, Coalition for Sensible Public Records Access, Oakland Privacy, California Employment Lawyers Association and other organizations. The bill now heads to the state Assembly.

Tri-City nonprofit receives $5K donation

Tri-Cities Women's Club hosted its annual Spring Fling on April 16 at the Elks Lodge in Fremont. The event featured a luncheon with entertainment provided by the Dixie Dominus Traditional Jazz Band from Fremont Christian School. More than 170 guests enjoyed the luncheon and performance, as well as the opportunity to win raffle prizes and gifts donated by local businesses.

The Club has raised money for local charities for more than 55 years, including Meals on Wheels, Kidango, Suicide Awareness Voices of Education (SAVE) and Tri-City Homeless Coalition. This year, proceeds from the Spring Fling went to the Tri-City Volunteers (TCV) – a check of $5,000 was presented to the nonprofit. The TCV Food Bank and Thrift Store provides food assistance, low cost clothing, and household items to Alameda County residents.

The Tri-Cities Women's Club, which has more than 80 members, meets from September through June on the third Tuesday of each month. Each meeting features a guest speaker and lunch. For more information, call (510) 656-0162.

Tri-City Stargazer FOR WEEK: MAY 29 – JUNE 4, 2019

For All Signs: We have a new moon in Gemini at 6:02 a.m. June 3. We also have Mercury in this sign, so the cosmic accent is on communication, scheduling, education and short trips (either in distance or time). New ideas and plans will require increased communication, phone calls, notetaking and letter writing. We can expect frequent schedule changes to accommodate the new information. Those born under the sign of Gemini will appreciate the new influx of energy.

Aries the Ram
(March 21-April 20): This is a fine week to organize clutter as well as keepsakes in your home. You have a desire to prune away that which is not needed to create more order and symmetry. It will be a relief to your eyes and make it easier to find everything. Consider adding storage containers and other helpful items that can create more visual space.

Taurus the Bull
(April 21-May 20): Aspects of this week bring you good news from afar. Activities related to the law, education, publishing, the internet and travel are favored. Business in general will flow well and you will accomplish such things with ease.

Gemini the Twins
(May 21-June 20): You may need to think out loud about whatever you are pondering. If there is no one to listen, satisfy that need by making outlines or lists. Your mind is flowing with good ideas. Perhaps you need to diagram how all these things fit together. Your mind is working fast. You will need to find a way to bring order out of apparent chaos.

Cancer the Crab
(June 21-July 21): Currently, your romantic side is cooperating well with your nurturing side. This is especially good for female friendships. Make a date for lunch and reconnect with people you like. Friendships of all kinds are available if you can overcome your innate shyness and respond.

Leo the Lion
(July 22-August 22): This is a time in which you and your efforts are on display. There is a sense of judgment about this. If you have been diligent and performed your required tasks well, you will be rewarded. If you have been slack, that will be noted as well. This is Saturn, who gives us nothing for free, but rewards effort.

Virgo the Virgin
(August 23-September 22): Communications with significant others may be misunderstood, snarled, or lost altogether. Do not make assumptions about what others mean. Ask questions and clarify for best results. Don't leap to conclusions on any matter, particularly that which has to do with soul and heart.

Libra the Scales
(September 23-October 22): You have several aspects that favor romance, the arts, and things of beauty. You may be the happy recipient of small gifts, compliments or favors from others. Your mind wants to wander in the world of fantasy, daydreams, good books, and music. It is not a great week for getting things done, but you will enjoy the journey.

Scorpio the Scorpion
(October 23-November 21): This week your willingness to serve and take care of others will be rewarding. Your relationship to partners and friends will be positive and supportive to your sense of well-being. Sunshine smiles upon you. It is a good time to let go of nagging resentments.

Sagittarius the Archer
(November 22-December 21): You and your partner may be restless and want to do something different. This is a good weekend to take a day trip to somewhere you haven't been for a while. Go to a concert or a movie with an uplifting message.

Capricorn the Goat
(December 22-January 19): Work is a nuisance this week. It is as though you are being nibbled to death by ducks. You would far rather spend your time in the areas of romantic love, play, and creative pursuits. Time spent with children may be rewarding.

Aquarius the Water Bearer
(January 20-February 18): Circumstances will work in your favor as you deal with home, hearth, family and property matters. In some situations, it is a matter of good will from others, and in other situations, it may just be happenstance that the rule of the "Powers that Be" helps things flow in your direction.

Pisces the Fish
(February 19-March 20): Early in the week your sense of balance may be tilted by something that occurs with your family or your partner. Discuss it with the person in question. It is likely you have misunderstood the intention of that action. Rebalance by reading a good book, listening to soothing music, or pursuing your art.

Four Wolf Pups born at Oakland Zoo

Oakland Zoo's Grey Wolf pair, Siskiyou and Sequoia, have successfully delivered four new pups to add to their pack. Photo Credit: Steven Gotz)

SUBMITTED BY
ERIN HARRISON

Just hours after the official end of Mother's Day weekend earlier this month, Siskiyou, Oakland Zoo's female 6-year-old Gray Wolf, became a first-time mother. Outside of public view, deep in one of the five dens she and her mate, Sequoia, dug recently inside their two-acre habitat, four newborn wolf pups are being diligently cared for by their new mother.

Parents, Siskiyou and Sequoia arrived at Oakland Zoo in April 2018. Both born in captivity, the wolves relocated to the zoo's California Trail expansion as part of a multifaceted partnership with the zoo and California Wolf Center (CWC), an organization dedicated to helping wild wolves return to California after being extirpated during government-run antipredator campaigns a century ago.

Shy, reclusive, and sensitive in nature, wolves, unlike dogs, commonly mate for life and therefore take time to develop relationships. Upon the wolves' arrival, zookeepers, volunteers and docents made every effort to ensure the animals had an ideal environment and atmosphere. The wolf habitat at Oakland Zoo's California Trail is two acres, complete with a pool, trees, dens, and plenty of cover for these elusive animals. Years of planning ensure that wolves at the zoo would be housed in the most comfortable space possible. When wolves feel comfortable, they are more likely to bond and have offspring.

"It is extremely important that mom and pups are comfortable. During this sensitive period over the next couple of weeks, the best thing we can do is allow mom to take care of her pups and watch her behavior to tell us what she needs," said Darren E. Minier, Assistant Director, Animal Care, Conservation, and Research. "Creating a pack is important to the emotional health of wolves; Siskiyou and Sequoia's pups will have a forever home at Oakland Zoo with their parents."

Oakland Zoo is communicating extensively with CWC regarding wolf breeding activities and whelping, seeking their guidance and expertise at every step of the process. The CWC has bred the Mexican Grey Wolf, an endangered species, for reintroduction for the last 30 years, and were instrumental in guiding the Oakland Zoo's wolf wellness program.

With Siskiyou considered an older wolf and being a first-time mother, zoo officials planned for contingencies and interventions for any potential complications. Keepers, veterinary staff, and wolf attendants hired specifically for the sensitive whelping period, monitor the wolves' behavior, appetite, and physical condition through live observation during the day and over remote cameras through the night.

The pups will stay in their den with Siskiyou over the next couple weeks, likely until the end of June. This is a crucial time for development and bonding, as the pups grow and mature. Their eyes and ears will open at about two weeks, and they will become more active inside the den before emerging in a little over four weeks, which will be the first time zoo staff and the public will see them.

Breeding into a pack was a key component for the zoo's wolf wellness program. Having a family pack in a spacious natural environment also means guests can see natural wolf behavior, leading to actions to save this shy species. With the successful birthing of these pups, the zoo does not plan to breed further.

With the story of this new wolf pack, the Oakland Zoo and CWC are working to engage the public's support for the safe return of their wild counterparts to California. By sharing the whole story of wild wolf recovery, including that of ranchers living with this predator, opportunities are created for people in taking action for wolves – such as buying "predator-friendly beef."

The partnership with CWC goes beyond the zoo – to direct involvement in the conservation of wild wolves. Oakland Zoo is sponsoring the Wolf Center's Range Steward program. Range Stewards are trained ranchers working to rekindle the "herd instinct" in cattle, thus reducing the chance of wolf-livestock conflict. These actions increase ranchers' tolerance of wolves, ensuring livestock are safe and wolves achieve long term recovery.

Home & Garden

Bee-friendly gardens

ARTICLE AND PHOTOS
BY LALITHA VISVESWARAN

Consider the first man to stumble upon a wild beehive that was likely hanging from an outcropping of rock on a mountain or from a tall branch. It would have been buzzing with bees. He might have been curious. He would have approached it only to find aggressive bees using their stingers on a suicide mission to protect their hive. And yet, enchanted by the alluring fragrance of sweet floral nectar trapped in the waxy structure we now call a honeycomb he would have gone ahead to taste the sweet honey. Thus, began a love affair – between man and honey.

We have learned so much about bees and honey since then. We now know the importance of bees and other pollinators, and the role they play in our food production. Over 70 percent of crops need to be pollinated by bees. We domesticate bees and keep them in man-made beehives to study them and harvest the floral nectar they collect for their food. We have found many uses for honey – from food to medicine to beauty.

As an apex predator, we have also exploited these miracle workers and endangered their existence with the use of herbicides. Many wild and native species of bees are at the verge of extinction. Apiculture is a contract that beekeepers make with bees – to provide a safe and dry environment in temperature regulated man-made hives in return for their honey. There is also a promise to only extract excess honey after the bees have enough for the survival of their brood. Crucially, we plant nectar plants and bee-friendly habitats free of chemicals and pollutants.

Bee-friendly gardens

The most common question I get from gardeners who are unable to be beekeepers is: “How do I create a bee-friendly environment in my garden?”

1: My answer always begins with a caution – before we create bee-friendly habitats, we must first be aware of what harms the bees. The foremost danger to bees is pesticides and herbicides. What we spray to eliminate weeds and what we consider pests, will harm and kill bees too. Some chemicals can create mutations they can pass on to the next generation. So, let’s start with, “Do not Spray.”

2: Grow flowers throughout the season. Bees go dormant in winter, which means that in California, we would need something that flowers from March to October. Have a seasonal calendar with three to four flowering plants per season so that there is always a food source for the bees. Plant a diverse mixture of plants and fruit trees, they would bestow the blessings of pollination for a bountiful harvest.

3: The next step is to plant flowers that have nectar and pollen. Bees are attracted to “single” flowers, which means they need to be able to easily access parts of flower that are laden with nectar and pollen. An example of a single flower is echinacea or cosmos. On the other hand, most garden roses have multiple layers of petals that make nectar and pollen difficult to access for the bees. Peonies, impatiens, camellias, etc. are examples of double flower tops. Bee-friendly plants with flowers are lavender, honeysuckle, echinacea, cosmos, borage, sunflowers, dahlias, butterfly bush, clover, mints, rosemary, and sage.

4: Go easy on weeding. What we see as weeds are resilient plants that are acclimatized to our soil and weather, and don’t need any tending to germinate and thrive. They are often the best food sources for bees because they are naturally seasonal, and don’t need any extra inputs such as fertilizers or water to make them robust plants.

5: Source your plants carefully. Always check if your nursery sprays young bee plants before they sell. Neonicotinoids are systemic chemicals absorbed into plants and can be present in nectar and pollen. This makes them toxic to pollinators that feed on them.

6: Create bee baths. Bees expend a lot of energy flitting and flying distances from flower to flower, plant to plant to pollinate and collect nectar. In fact, a lot of nectar they collect is spent for this foraging activity and only the excess is stored after they feed the Queen Bee. This is the reason beekeepers have a contract with the bees to not extract so much honey that it will endanger their hives’ survival. However, with climate change and droughts, bees suffer too. Bees, like many other insects and pollinators, need fresh water. Bird baths are too deep, and they cannot always drink dew. It is easy to create a bee bath – all you need is a shallow dish and some stones or large pebbles. Fill the dish with a loose arrangement of stones and then water. Place it at ground level and watch the bees revel in this little oasis.

7: Finally, know the “four Ps against Pollinators.” These are dangerous to not just bees but to all insects and pollinators. They are parasites, pathogens, pesticides and poor nutrition. If you strive to eliminate these four dangers for the survival of our pollinators, you have already succeeded in creating an Eden for our buzzy friends.

Creating a bee-friendly environment is a good exercise and the first step to being a beekeeper. I advise those who wish to be beekeepers to first practice being a steward of a garden that is a pollinator haven. This is helpful to identify the pros and cons of such an environment. With this initial setting, the next step is perhaps building and maintaining a hive? That, my friends, is a whole other adventure.

Harnessing the body's healing power through yoga

BY JUI SADEKAR

GARIMA SHAKTI SHARMA

We all have heard the term “yoga,” but many may not know exactly what it means. Is it just another form of exercise, meditation, breathing technique or spiritual practice?

Yoga was developed over 5,000 years ago in India as a comprehensive system for wellbeing on all levels: physical, mental, emotional, and spiritual. Today, millions of people use yoga to help raise their quality of life in areas such as fitness, stress relief, wellness, vitality, healing, and peace of mind. Yoga is a system, not of beliefs, but of techniques and guidance for enriched living; it does not adhere to any religion or community.

Since the individual experience of yoga is personal and differs for each practitioner, there are a wide variety of approaches. Whether you are young or old, overweight or fit, yoga has the power to calm the mind and strengthen the body. Yoga has recently branched out in many new directions, some of which are quite different from its traditional emphases. For example, power yoga, a fitness-based approach to vinyasa-style yoga with minimal chanting and meditation; and hot yoga, a style performed in hot and humid conditions. All approaches, however, are intended to promote some aspect of wellbeing.

Spiritual Alignment Yoga & Healing Center in Niles is a springboard for inner transformation. Founded by Garima Shakti Sharma in October 2018, the center offers yoga and meditation classes, healing services, and workshops to promote physical and emotional wellbeing. Sharma spent over 12 years climbing the corporate ladder in strategy positions in the banking industry. She was successful in all material terms, but she felt an unexplained emptiness in her heart that kept her disconnected from her true self.

“Over several points in time, I felt lost in my life’s purpose and passion. I knew it was time for a change. Though I didn’t have a concrete plan in mind at that time, I turned in my resignation in the quest of finding a career that is deeply meaningful and fulfilling,” Sharma said.

Sharma has been practicing yoga since elementary school and studied yoga at Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan and meditation at Aesclepiion and Boulder Psychic Institutes. Recognizing the healing powers of yoga, breath, intuition and energy, she opened Spiritual Alignment Yoga & Healing Center.

Sharma said, “So many of us live a life feeling stuck and disempowered with pain as we look at our own physical limitations. However, all it takes is a shift in perspective and commitment to finding a more empowering route. The healing services help clients to live the joyful and fulfilling life that they truly deserve. For example, I have had clients who have come to me with severe depression, childhood traumas and abuse, and many who’ve left feeling more aligned with their truth after having spent months and years feeling lost and confused.”

The center promotes the idea of “well-being” rather than “fitness.” Sharma believes that from the place of wellbeing, we live in the state of accepting ourselves and our life situations. This acceptance allows us to build an empowered mindset. Yoga turns on the healing relaxation response by combining gentle poses with conscious breathing. This combination of movement and breath turns off the stress response and directs the body’s energy to growth, repair, immune function, digestion, and other self-nurturing processes.

Apart from healing services, the center offers yoga classes for all age groups and experience levels. There are gentle, restorative and Feldenkrais classes for seniors and older beginners. People with multiple sclerosis can do yoga on a chair rather than the (traditional) floor. The schedule also has different styles of yoga such as Iyengar, Hatha, Vinyasa, and Yin. Meditation, prenatal, and kids’ classes truly harbor a sense of community. Apart from Sharma, the center has 11 instructors, who are professionally trained in yoga and provide guidance to suit individual requirements and limitations

“Our oldest student is one of our most regular students. At the age of 72 and a resident of Niles, he attends our Sunrise Yoga class at least three to four times a week. Our youngest student is four years old and he comes and attends our kids’ program on Sundays,” Sharma said. “Every day our yoga classes focus on strengthening and toning our physical bodies. In the system of yoga, unique postures are designed to improve overall flexibility, balance and strength in the body.”

Spiritual Alignment Yoga & Healing Center is open Monday – Sunday and offers various pricing options for different age groups and class sizes. Monthly memberships, class passes, and private and corporate workshops are also available.

The center recently announced an upcoming expansion into the store adjacent to their current location. The current space will serve as a holistic healing hub and the new space will house all yoga classes. A Relaunch Party will be held on Saturday, June 8 to inaugurate the new space. The celebration includes a free yoga class, giveaways, refreshments, drinks and much more for the entire family. Limited spots are available, so RSVP at www.spiritual-alignment.com/re-launch.html.

A Universe of Stories

What Makes It Science Fiction?
Read about each of these books. Then check off the reasons each one is considered a science fiction book.

From the Earth to the Moon
By Jules Verne

In this book, written in 1865, three men build a giant cannon called the Columbiad to launch themselves to the moon in a bullet-shaped capsule. Jules Verne called the Columbiad a "spaceship." Some people say that this was the first time in history that the word spaceship was used.

This book is science fiction because it:

- ☐ Takes place in the future.
- ☐ Takes place in another world.
- ☐ Features technology that didn't exist when this book was written.
- ☐ Has alien creatures.

Zita the Spacegirl

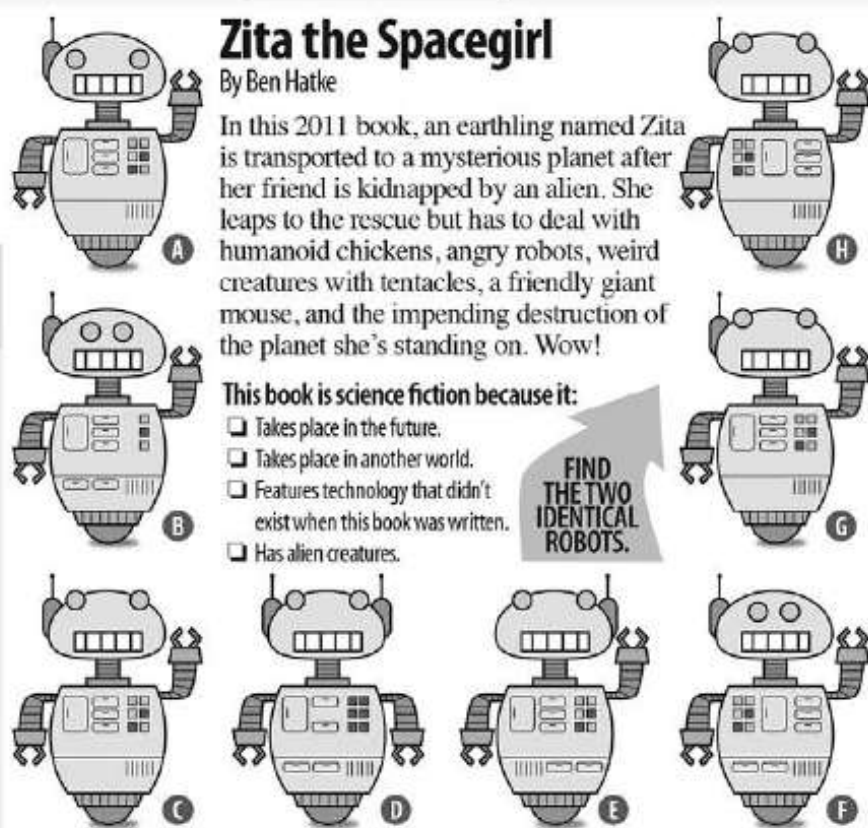

By Ben Hatke

In this 2011 book, an earthling named Zita is transported to a mysterious planet after her friend is kidnapped by an alien. She leaps to the rescue but has to deal with humanoid chickens, angry robots, weird creatures with tentacles, a friendly giant mouse, and the impending destruction of the planet she's standing on. Wow!

This book is science fiction because it:

- ☐ Takes place in the future.
- ☐ Takes place in another world.
- ☐ Features technology that didn't exist when this book was written.
- ☐ Has alien creatures.

FIND THE TWO IDENTICAL ROBOTS.

The Wonderful Flight to the Mushroom Planet

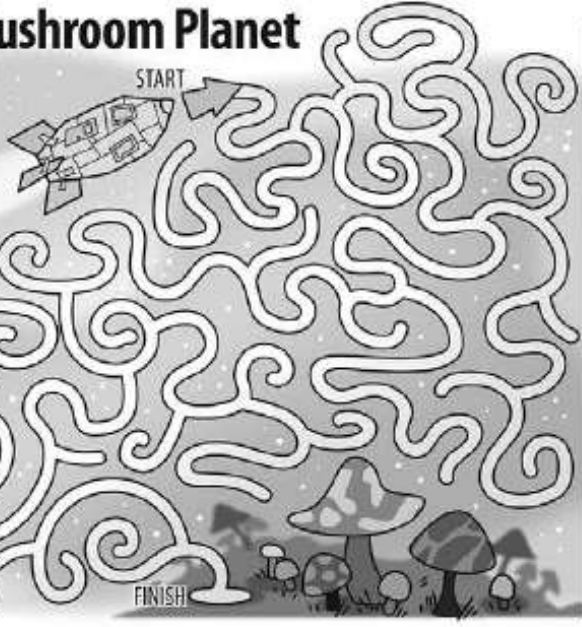

By Eleanor Cameron

This book, written in 1954, follows two boys who respond to a newspaper advertisement looking for a homebuilt spaceship. They build one out of tin and scrap wood and bring it to the advertiser. He makes a few modifications, gives them special fuel, and tells them they must visit the mushroom planet.

They must have a mascot to be successful, he warns, so they grab a chicken and blast off into space!

This book is science fiction because it:

- ☐ Takes place in the future.
- ☐ Takes place in another world.
- ☐ Features technology that didn't exist when this book was written.
- ☐ Has alien creatures.

Extra! Extra! Can you imagine that?

Some things that were imagined by people years ago are real today. Look through the newspaper with an older family member. Ask your family member if they can find anything in the paper that was not invented when they were children.

City of Fremont Budget Hearings to Be Held in June

The City's proposed operating budget for the next fiscal year, running from July 1, 2019 through June 30, 2020, was presented to the City Council at the regularly scheduled Council meeting on May 21. The first public hearing to comment will be held on June 4, and the second hearing and adoption is on June 11. Both public hearings are part of the Council meeting and will begin at 7 p.m.

City of Fremont to Receive Urban & Community Forestry Proposition 68 Grant Funds

The City of Fremont is pleased to announce that it's one of the recipients of this year's Urban & Community Forestry Proposition 68 grants in the amount of $860,000 from California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection (CAL FIRE). Together with a local matching amount of $340,000, the total project amount of $1.2 million will allow the City to undertake the following:

- Establish Fremont's first Urban Forestry Master Plan for all trees in streets and parks, including a 40-year plan horizon for planning the creation of a healthy and expanded urban forest
- In the next two years, plant 250 new trees, of which 84 of them will be in economically disadvantaged neighborhoods in Fremont
- Conduct a thorough inventory and assessment of over 70,000 public trees
- Establish an education and outreach program to teach property owners the value and benefits of trees, and how to care for and manage their trees
- Hold training programs for tree contractors doing business in Fremont to ensure trees are getting the best care and to promote healthy, long-lived trees
- Establish a community Tree Advisory Committee to help bring awareness and to promote the urban forest, help communicate values and benefits of trees to a diverse population, and to assist with tree disputes and appeals

Count on many new activities in the coming years around trees, the urban forest, and the expansion of one of Fremont's most precious assets. Tree program updates will be available at www.Fremont.gov/Trees.

City of Fremont Annual Rent Review Program Fee Invoices Mailed to Landlords

On May 7, 2019, the Fremont City Council approved the FY 2018/19 Annual Rent Review Program Fee of $14 per unit. The invoices have been mailed to all landlords who own residential rental units in Fremont on May 13, 2019, and are due by June 27, 2019.

The source of funding for the Rent Review Ordinance is an annual per-unit cost-recovery fee that is approved annually by City Council and subsequently billed to residential landlords. In determining the fee, City staff used the appropriated expenditure and the number of residential rental units subject to the Rent Review Ordinance, and apportioned the cost equally to all residential rental units in the city as allowed pursuant to state law.

If you received an invoice in the mail and would like to pay your balance or update your landlord account, please visit www.Fremont.gov/RentReview.

Fremont Minimum Wage Ordinance to Become Effective July 2019

On February 5, the City Council approved a minimum wage ordinance that increases Fremont's local minimum wage to $15/hour two years earlier than mandated under State law.

FREMONT MINIMUM WAGE

Beginning July 1, 2019, an employee who performs work within the geographic limits of the City of Fremont must be paid wages not less than the minimum wage stated below.

	Small Employers (25 or Fewer Employees)	Large Employers (26 or More Employees)
July 1, 2019	$11.00/hr	$13.50/hr
July 1, 2020	$13.50/hr	$15.00/hr
July 1, 2021	$15.00/hr	$15.00/hr + CPI
July 1, 2022	Large Employer Level plus increases based on CPI

• Starting July 1 of each following year, the minimum wage will increase by the prior calendar year's Consumer Price Index (CPI) for urban wage earners and clerical workers for the SF-Oakland-Hayward area.

• Employees of a non-profit corporation are exempt from the Minimum Wage Ordinance.

For more information regarding employer responsibilities and employee rights visit: Fremont.gov/MinimumWage

Large employers with 26 or more employees will be subject to a $13.50/hour minimum wage beginning July 1, 2019. On July 1, 2020, the local minimum wage for large employers increases to $15.00/hour. To prevent inflation from eroding its value, the minimum wage for large employers will be adjusted beginning on July 1, 2021 by the local consumer price index.

Small employers with 25 or fewer employees will continue to be subject to the State minimum wage until July 1, 2020, at which time the City's higher requirement of $13.50/hour will become effective, increasing to $15.00/hour on July 1, 2021. On July 1, 2022, the small employer minimum increases to the large employer level. From that point on, both large and small employers will be subject to the same minimum wage increase defined by the local consumer price index.

The ordinance exempts non-profit corporations and incorporates feedback received from residents, the business community, non-profit organizations, and low-wage workers.

For more information, visit www.Fremont.gov/MinimumWage or contact the City Manager's office at minwage@fremont.gov or 510-284-4000.

In partnership with The Mission Peak Company, the City of Fremont is hosting a groundbreaking ceremony on Friday, June 7, at 11 a.m. to celebrate the start of construction on an 11,000-square-foot Age-Friendly Center in Fremont's Warm Springs District.

This new center, the second City building in Fremont dedicated to services for older adults, will provide residents aged 55 years and older a variety of classes and activities such as exercise classes, informational events, and access to many social services and cultural celebrations. As part of the new age-restricted master-planned community, Mission Falls, this center will help fulfill Fremont's goal of being an inclusive community to residents of all ages. It is expected to open by fall 2021.

Master of Ceremonies and Human Services Director Suzanne Shenfil will kick off the festivities, along with Fremont Mayor Lily Mei and City Manager Mark Danaj. The event will be held in the lot immediately adjacent to Pauline Weaver Senior Apartments, located at 47111 Mission Falls Ct.

Recognition Granted for Fremont's School Transportation Safety Initiatives

The City of Fremont's work to improve school transportation safety was recently recognized in the category of Transportation Planning by the Northern California Section of the American Planning Association, the nation's largest professional organization of urban planners.

In partnership with the Fremont Unified School District (FUSD), the City conducted safety assessments at all of Fremont's 42 public schools. Representatives from FUSD, Public Works, and the Police Department, as well as school administrators, parents, and students, worked together to develop safety recommendations by examining access and circulation routes at each school.

The City has subsequently worked to implement short-term recommendations, including improved signage and striping, at all schools over a two-year period.

Take wing ^{with} Butterfly and Bird Festival music. Learn how to bring your backyard to life by creating wildlife friendly habitats!

“The purpose of the festival is to encourage pollinator-friendly actions in our visitors. Whether birds, butterflies, bees, beetles, or bats, pollinators hold such incredibly important roles in food webs and ecosystem health,” says Naturalist Dino Labiste. “We hope through booths highlighting such actions as composting, making bee houses, or planting seeds of pollinator-friendly plants, people will think about the impact of actions they can take. But, it’s also up to each of us as we have conversations with folks throughout the day to help make the connections between those actions and the survival of butterflies and bees in our modern, highly human-centric world – as well as the importance of pollinators to human communities.”

Attendees can stop by booths to get information on specialized topics from master composter Amy Coulter, University of California Master Gardener Program, Johnny’s Bee Farm, Pollinator Posse, Insect Sciences Museum, North American Butterfly Association, lepidopterist Andy Liu (with live host plants and caterpillars), California Native Plant Society, Bay Natives Nursery, California Bluebird Recovery Program, Ohlone Audubon Society, San Francisco Bay Bird Observatory, Ohlone Humane Society Wildlife Rehabilitation Center, and East Bay Regional Park District Mobile Visitor Center.

Nature crafts will have kids making an origami book on butterfly metamorphosis or bird behavior, creating a bird or butterfly twirling craft, constructing a felt butterfly pin, making a butterfly with a wooden clothespin and coffee filter, and potting their own soil and planting wildflower or milkweed seeds.

Guided tours will be offered during the festival: Bug Forays, Bird Walks, and a Nectar Garden Tour. “Our Coyote Hills docents will explore the world of Monarch butterflies and Anise Swallowtails through stories about metamorphosis, milkweeds, fennels, and habitats. Our docents will also treat the visitors to flavored water drinks from garden plants,” says Labiste.

Enjoy “story time” with Carla Marie Munoz, tribal ambassador of the Costanoan Rumsen Carmel Tribe; nature songs with musician Betsy Stern; and two puppet shows by the Magical Moonshine Theatre.

There will be photo presentations of wildlife in our regional parks by photographers Don Jedlovic, Lee Greengrass, and Eddie Dunbar in the Visitor Center. And when lunchtime rolls around, food trucks Ampuli (Indian cuisine) and Los Jarocho Grill (Mexican cuisine) will be on site with delicious food options.

Join in the celebration and be part of the connection between butterfly, bird, and human communities. “We are excited to share stories of our experience strengthening these connections here at Coyote Hills,” says Labiste. For more information, call (510) 544-3220.

I need a Forever Home

Daphne is a sweet, 1 yr old guinea pig. She has deep brown eyes, brown, orange and white fur, and adorable floppy ears. She'd love a family who'll give her some serious cuddle time! She enjoys being pet and having her back scratched. Loud noises startle her. She'd be a happy addition to any home who'll make her a part of the family. Meet Daphne at the Hayward Animal Shelter.

Velma is a very sweet, but timid, year old orange and white piggy. It takes a few minutes and a few chirps from anyone visiting her apartment before she walks up to say hi. Once in your arms, she chirps away and sings you songs about her day. She'd be great in a home with gentle hands and time to help her socialize and build up her confidence. Meet Velma at the Hayward Animal Shelter.

Newark Symphonic Winds

free summer concert

SUBMITTED BY JIM CARTER

Enjoy an evening of symphonic music provided free of charge by the Tri-Cities' own 50-musician symphony – the Newark Symphonic Winds – directed by Richard Wong.

We'll begin the evening's performance with "From the Earth to the Moon" composed by Michael Kamen. Our next piece will be a suite from the movie "Superman" composed by the remarkable John Williams; which will be followed by "The Minstrel Boy," a traditional piece arranged by Leroy Anderson. We'll end the first half of our performance with the symphonic fairy tale "Peter and the Wolf" by Sergei Prokofiev, with the story narrated by the Honorable Dave Smith.

The second half of our performance will begin with music from the extremely talented Newark Woodwind

Ensemble featuring Myra Downs (flute), Simone Williams (oboe), Kathy Vork (clarinet), Blossom Santiago (horn) and Adam Williams (bassoon). Once the symphony returns to the stage, we'll perform a collection of Irish street ballades, "A Longford Legend" by Robert Sheldon, followed by the whimsical "Pie in the Face Polka" by Henry Mancini. Next will be "Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral" by Richard Wagner from the opera "Lohengrin." We'll then get you swinging in your seats with a little "Classic Duke" – as in Duke Ellington – arranged by Luther Henderson. We'll end the evening with the inspiring "Bravura" by C. E. Duble.

We are once again extremely fortunate to have this performance sponsored by the Fremont Bank Foundation. As always, the concert is free of charge and no tickets are necessary. Simply come and enjoy the evening with us – and bring your family and friends. We often have a full house; therefore, please plan on arriving early to get the seating you prefer.

You can find more information about our performances and a map to the venue at our website <http://newarksymphonic.org>.

Tim Devine

BY JOHNNA M. LAIRD

For 19 years musician and community college instructor Tim Devine of Hayward has performed in the orchestra at SHN, the theatrical company bringing Broadway shows to San Francisco.

Devine doesn't play every show, although he counts 70 to 80 performances over the years. He only plays for shows that fit his skills, he explains, and those skill have breadth: all saxophones—soprano, alto, tenor and baritone—plus clarinet, bass clarinet, flute, and piccolo.

In March 2019 he finished a month of "Hello, Dolly!" performances starring Betty Buckley, and played in the orchestra for Roald Dahl's "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory," which wrapped May 12, 2019. He expects to return May 28 for SHN's two-week engagement of "Beautiful," Carole King's true musical story of rising from a teenage songwriter to stardom. Devine played for the pre-Broadway "Beautiful" production a few years ago and again later for a return engagement, so he knows the show well. Usually Devine gets an SHN inquiry about availability a month before a show, with official hiring two weeks before a show starts.

"There's an excitement of putting together something with like-minded professionals at every level. It makes you want to do your best. I particularly like new/pre-Broadway productions – to be a part of something that is a work in progress, changing day-to-day, new arrangements and orchestrations, fresh ideas and perspectives with everybody sight-reading and on high alert, a heightened sense of awareness and reactiveness. It's a real shot of adrenaline!"

"Hello, Dolly!" used an orchestra of 18 musicians while "Beautiful" will rely on a core rock band with a four-piece horn section for authentic sound.

For shows on national tours, there's a long first day with a four-to-five-hour morning rehearsal, a one-hour afternoon sound check, and an evening performance. Practice time? Not much. "Musicians get a book in advance to look at, but putting it all together is where the work begins," says Devine. "New shows and pre-Broadway productions require four to six days of rehearsals leading up to opening night."

Last November and December for SHN's "A Bronx's Tale," Devine played alto and soprano sax, clarinet, and flute, and had featured alto sax solos.

SHN has not been his only gig. He has recorded with BB King, played for Joan Baez, recorded on movie soundtracks "The Game" and "Presto," played at Chicago's Blues Festival in 1991 before an audience of 100,000 people, and opened for Huey Lewis, Gladys Knight, and Buddy Guy (the Chicago blues guitarist influential to Eric Clapton), Jimi Hendrix, and John Mayer among others. Devine regularly worked The Top of the Mark restaurant in San Francisco and Bay Area night clubs. Yet, he admits a musician's life can be fraught with challenges: constantly proving oneself, maintaining practice schedules, and figuring out how to survive with an unstable income and lifestyle.

Still, music has taken him all over the world, playing with blues bands like Joe Louis Walker and The Boss Talkers: performing in England where he claims beer tastes better; above the Arctic Circle, definitely the coldest place to play; into Italy "where Italians know how to eat," and in Denmark, being filmed for public television. Traveling with African American musicians gave him a close look at discrimination and a realization that "being black in this world is not easy."

Like many adults who find their life's work in childhood, Devine began playing clarinet at age 10 when his older siblings were listening to recordings of the Beatles, the Rolling Stones, and bands with horn sounds: Chicago; Blood, Sweat, and Tears; and Tower of Power. Around that time "The Sting" with Paul Newman and Robert Redford appeared in theaters, featuring Marvin Hamlisch's arrangement of Scott Joplin's "The Entertainer" with a clarinet solo. Devine was hooked. By high school, he added saxophone to his repertoire to join a jazz band. Alto sax offered something "in the way of personality and character" that drew him in. In college, he picked up piccolo and later flute, two instruments he describes as "always a struggle," but adds that he "enjoys the challenge" and believes he has something to contribute on those instruments as well.

Devine, a native of San Francisco who grew up on the Peninsula, moved to Hayward in 2005 when he began teaching at Chabot College. In his work as college instructor at Las Positas Community College and College of San Mateo, and formerly at Chabot, he offers lecture classes in music appreciation, primarily jazz, American roots, and classical. He also teaches music fundamentals. As he teaches, he weaves in a message foundational to his own life: "Find something in life that you love, find some way to follow that path, and work hard at it."

His advice for non-musicians of all ages? Stop using music as a distraction. Music "is worthy of full attention. It is a powerful force that moves human emotions like words cannot."

While Devine describes himself as "slamming around," playing music so long that he often forgets what he has done, he still dreams of one day having his own jazz group, writing a musical, and running a small club featuring different kinds of "roots" music.

Fremont Christian Warriors win!

The Fremont Christian Warriors put together an impressive win on May 21st in North Coast Section (NCS) Division 5 semi-final play, beating the Branson Bulls 3-2. For the first time in the school's history, an NCS championship is within reach. With this momentous milestone in sight, Warriors bats came to life early to post three runs.

The combination of the early runs and excellent pitching and defense propelled the Warriors to a NCS Championship contest on May 25 against the Berean Christian Eagles of Walnut Creek.

Coach's Comments:
Bubba Gomez threw a complete game giving up just 3 hits and 1 earned run. Alex Wiley had an RBI single. Emilio Martin scored Bubba on a successful squeeze play. Emilio also played great defense at 2nd base. Westin Coffey caught a great game behind the plate and Daniel Lopez was 2 for 3; John Sanguinetti 1 for 2.

Huskies great season comes to an end

Following a successful regular season for the Washington Huskies (Fremont), they entered postseason play with high hopes. However, in a May 20 quarterfinal contest with the Benicia Panthers, a 5-3 loss ended the Huskies' championship aspirations. Although the Panthers jumped to an early 2-run lead in the first inning, a Huskies run in the bottom of the frame gave notice that the challenge would be answered. As the game progressed, bad infield bounces plagued the Huskies in the third inning to add another run to the deficit; two more runs in the fourth inning painted a bleak picture for the Huskies. But Huskies batters brought the score back to within reach as they added two runs in the bottom of the fourth inning. However, it wasn't enough as Panther pitching shut down additional scoring opportunities and ended the Huskies bid for more post-season play.

Congratulations to the Huskies for a great season.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Not a very pleasant picture

Residents of Fremont should be very scared. In the last year, the city has made and is trying to make changes in my neighborhood that are negligent, improper and have a devastating impact on my quality of life under false pretenses. In the course of the year, the city has turned my residential parkway neighborhood into a urban city street, it is attempting to put some kind of dangerous shelter on a piece of land that should not be inhabited, and is trying to further choke off a land-locked neighborhood from already limited access.

But that is not the scary part. The city is using emotional and fictitious arguments to deflect the focus from what and how they are forcing these changes in Niles. This is a staggering abuse of power and position and have absolutely nothing to do with the public face the city is hiding behind. They are further deflecting scrutiny of their actions by shifting the blame to the residents, accusing us of lack of compassion and desire to make everything safe for our bikers, children and homeless.

I've been insulted, lied to, and treated with utter contempt. The more I investigate what really is happening with Niles Discovery Church, Navigation Center, narrowing of Niles, and turning Rancho Arroyo Parkway into an urban commercial street – the more inappropriate, immoral, and flat out deceitful behavior emerges.

Once again, Fremont is creating a diversion from the real driving force. The only constant in politics always seems to come down to the money. In researching these issues, it's clear that no one involved in these decisions knows or even cares what really is at stake here. We can't seem to pin down one consistent set of facts. It is a shell game and guess what, we're the marks. However, shifting the blame to their constituents is a new and brilliantly arrogant twist.

Cut through the muck of misinformation, investigate documentation and timelines behind the city's actions. Look into resumes of our city officials. Look into the inappropriate and unhealthy relationships and backdoor deals going down. A local government that is spinning out of checks and balances? NIMBY

Hayward native serves

Petty Officer 3rd Class Steven Dones, a Hayward native, was inspired by his family to join the Navy. Two years later at Fleet Activities Yokosuka, Japan, Dones serves aboard the Arleigh Burke-class guided-missile destroyer USS Curtis Wilbur, patrolling one of the world's busiest maritime regions as part of the U.S. 7th Fleet.

A 2012 graduate of Jubileum Academy of Bacoor in Cavite, Philippines, Dones is a yeoman aboard the Yokosuka-based ship, one of several in its class forward-deployed to the region. "I do administrative processing of awards, evaluations, plan of the day, and any correspondence," said Dones.

Dones credits success in the Navy to some of the lessons learned in Hayward. "My family helped shape me into who I am now," said Dones. "I've learned to be more independent."

There are many ways for sailors to earn distinction in their command, community, and career. Dones is most proud of finishing his surface warfare specialist qualification: "I'm proud because I did everything on my own and I was able to stay committed to something and reach my goal."

Gomes Elementary raises $10K, principal kisses pig

John Gomes Elementary School in Fremont annually participates in the Pennies for Patients drive, which helps raise money for cancer patients. The school's student body council coordinated with Leukemia & Lymphoma Society, the world's largest voluntary health organization dedicated to fighting blood cancer, to conduct this fundraiser. The students made posters, held assembly, and visited classrooms to encourage the school to donate in cash or online. This year, the school reached their lofty goal of $10,000.

Every year, John Gomes Elementary principal Douglas Whipple gets taped to a pole to help raise more money. This year, he agreed to kiss a pig if the school reaches its goal, and they did. Thus, Gomes came together to do something amazing to help cancer patients get better and had a lot of fun doing it too.

Park It

By NED MACKAY

As May turns into June, there are a lot of summertime activities on the calendar at the East Bay Regional Park District. Let's begin with the 20th annual Butterfly and Bird Festival from 10:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Sunday, June 2 at Coyote Hills Regional Park in Fremont. The free event is dedicated to increasing the numbers and species of butterflies and birds in the Bay Area. There will be tours of the park's butterfly garden, educational speakers, photo presentations, live music, and hands-on activities for the entire family. Learn how to create wildlife-friendly habitat in your own backyard.

Coyote Hills is at the end of Patterson Ranch Road, off Paseo Padre Parkway. There's a parking fee of $5 per vehicle. For more information, call (510) 544-3220.

Nature lore and ancient survival skills are the focus of some programs at the Environmental Education Center in Tilden Nature Area near Berkeley. Interpretive student aide Brianna Contaxis-Tucker will host a program from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, June 1, talking about animals that live in Tilden's ponds and fields. It's also the birthday of E.O. Wilson, a scientist who wrote about the natural world.

You can also try your hand at two ancient skills, under the guidance of naturalist Anthony Fisher. He will show how to make a fire by rubbing sticks together from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Sundays, June 2 and June 30; and from 2:00 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Sundays, June 2 and June 16, Fisher will run an atlatl clinic. See if you can hit a target with this pre-historic dart-throwing device (trust me, it's harder than it looks.)

The center is at the north end of Tilden's Central Park Drive. For details, call (510) 544-2233.

Oak tales will be told during a hike over steep and varied terrain from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. Saturday, June 1 at Black Diamond Mines Regional Preserve in Antioch, led by naturalist aide Ricardo Black. Learn about these trees and their importance as a home and food source for all kinds of animals. The hike, for ages 9 and older, is a bit strenuous. Meet in the parking lot at the end of Somersville Road, 3½ miles south of Highway 4.

If nighttime is the right time for you, there's a moonless hike, for ages 10 and up, planned from 7:30 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. Sunday, June 2 at Black Diamond. Led by naturalist Eddie Willis, the hike is a 3½-mile round trip, up steep, uneven and rocky terrain to watch the sunset, then down again in the dark. Registration is required for the night hike. For registration and information, call (888) 327-2757, select option 2 and refer to program 25046.

Dashing dragonflies are the stars of a program from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, June 1 at Big Break Regional Shoreline in Oakley. Learn about the life cycle and lifestyles of these insects, which have been around for millions of years.

Big Break is at 69 Big Break Road, off Oakley's Main Street. For more information, call (888) 327-2757, ext. 3050.

Round Valley Regional Preserve is a beautiful and secluded parkland south of Brentwood, a haven especially for birds of prey and several endangered species. Naturalist Kevin Dixon will lead a hike from 9 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday, June 1, talking about the park's natural and cultural history. The hike, for ages 10 and up, is moderately strenuous. Dogs are not allowed; they are prohibited at Round Valley to protect the endangered San Joaquin kit fox.

Meet Kevin at the staging area on Marsh Creek Road, about a mile east of Deer Valley Road. For information, call (888) 327-2757, ext. 2750.

The summer swim season is now underway at East Bay Regional Park District's six lake beaches, three lagoons, two pools and two beaches on San Francisco Bay. Detailed information on regulations, hours, and swim fees is available at www.ebparks.org. Keep in mind some general safety tips, which will assure an enjoyable experience for everyone:

Children ages 12 and under in swim areas must be accompanied by a responsible, actively supervising person age 16 or older.

Swim diapers are required in chlorinated swim areas.

Know your swimming abilities and stay within them. Areas with lifeguard service all have roped-off shallow areas. There's a free lifejacket loaner program at all the district's swim facilities with lifeguards.

Do not mix swimming and alcoholic beverage consumption. Alcohol does not enhance swimming skills. No alcoholic beverages, dogs, glass containers, fishing or barbecues are permitted on beaches or in swim areas.

Swim attire is required. No nudity.

Obey any instructions from lifeguards, rangers, firefighters or police, especially during emergency situations.

AC Transit: Champions of International Bus Rodeo

SUBMITTED BY ROBERT LYLES

The Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District (AC Transit) has announced that American Public Transportation Association (APTA) has awarded its combined Operator and Maintenance Team as Grand Champions during the 2019 Bus & Paratransit Conference and International Bus Rodeo on May 21.

This year, 80 operators from transit agencies around North America put their daily driving safety and agility training to test. Competitors started a time trial that began with navigating a 40-foot long bus through a serpentine course of turning maneuvers, obstacle avoidance, and ultimately a controlled stop of a nearly 40,000-pound bus from high speed.

A second technical competition involved 37 of the nation's best transit maintenance teams. These highly trained mechanics first faced a grueling timed written exam: once pencils were down, each team picked up flashlights and tools, to diagnose hidden bus defects, uncover planted defects, all in eight minutes or less. Thirty-five transit agencies competed as Combined Teams, including AC Transit.

Ultimately, AC Transit's Combined Team of 39-year veteran bus operator Jesse Dela Cruz (Hayward Division), journey level mechanics Sean Burr (Hayward Division), Miguel Lopez (East Oakland Division), and Alvin Tan (Hayward Division) captured the 2019 Grand Champions, Best of the Best title. Superior training, commitment to safety and teamwork have been the underpinnings of AC Transit's seventh APTA Overall Excellence (Best of the Best) honors. For more information about AC Transit, visit actransit.org.

WILLIAM MARSHAK

It is believed that buttons have been around as a practical accoutrement and fashion statement since prehistoric times. Not always used solely as a closure device, the value of a button or pin depended on the material used in their manufacture, indicating levels of wealth and prestige. As a handmade crafted item, buttons were so prestigious that a button guild was formed in France in 1250 and their use restricted by law. Throughout history, buttons have been used for a variety of purposes including hollowed-out smuggler buttons and, with the inauguration of George Washington in 1789, political sentiments.

As the Industrial Revolution took hold in the 1800s, buttons became more accessible and entered the common vernacular as well. Button metaphors abound such as “on the button”, “cute as a button” or “buttonhole” while descriptions of persons with intellect, or lack thereof are described as “having all their buttons” or derisively as “a button short.”

Physical buttons have withstood the onslaught of zippers and Velcro and even expanded to the virtual world of computers. The word has also remained in our vocabulary as a metaphor for mental status. To push someone’s buttons is recognized as a statement of psychological dexterity, usually in a negative sense. Provocation to elicit a strong reaction through a known weakness or desire is a relatively common tactic. Even those who are aware of its use are often helpless to defend against its power without substantial mental restraint.

Our personal “buttons” are ingrained and include a wide variety of biases: mental, tactile, sensual, visual, hereditary, educational, family and social. These are so embedded in our psychological profile that we may not even recognize their existence, opting to explain them as a result of provable facts and demonstrable logic. This power is recognized in the Italian term “stanze dei bottoni”, roughly translated as a war room or control room.

Our current political climate, locally and beyond, is often a result of those who understand shared buttons. Negative concerns of fear and anxiety coupled with group dynamics can be a powerful force and override morality and common sense. In a turbulent era of dissent and conflict, our buttons become extremely sensitive. With this sensitivity, comes the danger of excessive use that overwhelms the message and rational thought. Just as bodily attacks can render unconsciousness and detachment, so can extreme button-pushing.

At the last Fremont City Council meeting, a trio of large groups were heard, expressing their sentiments - employee benefits, the proposed Navigation Center and vaping. This is a clear and positive democratic right and responsibility of the electorate. However, along with thoughtful and persuasive arguments are “me too” proponents who can show their support through their presence without adding dozens of similar oral statements that begin to dull the message. By the time council heard many dozens of comments, often repeating the same message, hours passed and the attention span of councilmembers and observers alike waned. This may not be the most advantageous method to present an argument.

As a solution to allow adequate representation and alert responsiveness, Fremont may want to consider using the fourth Tuesday or alternate day of the week (Wednesday?) as an option for sessions dedicated to a single sensitive subject. Although workshops are used for this purpose, they are typically scheduled prior to a council meeting, eliminating some from attending due to work or home schedules. This also lengthens meeting time and tires councilmembers who may have worked a full day prior to the sessions. Exhaustion lowers resistance to button-pushing but can simultaneously enhance erratic impulses. Although we have all learned to push buttons, incautious use may lead to unplanned results.

Bay Area native receives honorary doctorate

SUBMITTED BY KIMBERLY HAWKINS

Graphic novelist and the Library of Congress's fifth national ambassador for Young People's Literature, Gene Luen Yang, was given an honorary doctorate at Cal State East Bay's commencement ceremony on May 19. Born in Alameda and raised in the South Bay, Yang began drawing comic books in the fifth grade. Decades later, a teacher at Bishop O'Dowd high school, Yang took a leap of faith – fulfilling his dream of becoming a full-time writer of comic books and graphic novels. In 2016, Yang was chosen for a Mac Arthur Foundation “genius” grant.

In New Superman from DC Comics, Yang was able to, in his words, “explore the overlap between an American icon – Superman – and modern Chinese culture.” According to DC, his current project, “Superman Smashes the Klan” will tell the story of an American Chinese girl who moves to Metropolis to find herself and her family's ethnicity targeted by the Ku Klux Klan.

Obituary

John “Jack” Rankin

Resident of Fremont

August 15th 1930 - April 27th 2019

Jack passed away peacefully on April 27th, 2019.

Born in Vancouver Canada to parents William and Nita Rankin. Jack’s early years were strongly influenced by the Great depression and then WWII. Living near the Vancouver Airport, Jack witnessed flight training activities, airplane construction, and supply flights to foreign lands. Old enough to know the significance of the times, but too young to participate in the war, Jack became a lifelong learner of all things WWII. Never a fan of war, but with great respect for those who sacrificed so much. After High School, Jack worked in the printing business. He worked as a typesetter and later a foreman at several publications and firms, including the Vancouver Sun, Oakland Tribune, Hazeltine Typesetting in Oakland, and Atherton’s printing in Palo Alto.

Jack moved to Oakland in his 20’s and joined the US Army in 1955. Stationed at Schofield Barracks Honolulu, he was a downfield Artillery Observer. Some of his favorite stories came from his time in the US Army. Jack married the love of his life, Grace Carstairs in 1956. They made a union of nearly 63 years and were able to share personal growth, family, travel, and all things that six decades together has to offer.

Jack’s next career began in 1972 when he and Grace purchased a franchise convenience market – Quik Stop #60 in Union City. Hard work and skill provided well for his family and after 16 years, they sold the store for semi-retirement.

Jack then worked as a handyman for friends, friends of friends and others. He was able to repair or build most anything. Jack and Grace then spent 14 years as full time RV’ers travelling most of the US, Canada and Northern Mexico. They maintained a home base at Park Sierra, just north of Fresno and on the road to Yosemite.

In recent years, Jack and Grace have lived in a 55 and over community in Fremont. Enjoying friends, family and hobbies.

Along with being a dedicated husband and father, Jack was a talented wood worker, fisherman, sailor, model airplane builder and flyer. But his passion for poker may have been his favorite hobby. With a quiet approach and a friendly smile, Jack could join a game and make new friends while simultaneously taking their lunch money.

During the years 1968 to 2000, Jack built several sail boats that he and the family raced on Lake Elizabeth in Fremont. He was a very accomplished sailor and won many races.

Jack is survived by his wife Grace, brother Bill, sister in-law Paula, three children (John, Bonnie, Tom), Daughter in laws’ Marie and Mary, grandchildren (Carter, Gillian with husband Geoffrey, Cody, and Hannah), and newest arrival great grandson Graham.

A celebration of Life and Memorial service will be held June 7th at 1-3:30PM at Niles Discovery Church 36600 Niles Blvd, Fremont CA. An opportunity to share stories of Jack’s wonderful life.

Hodges Lee Allen

Resident of Fremont

October 2, 1952 – May 20, 2019

Hodges was born on October 2,1952 in Louisiana and entered into rest on May 20, 2019 in Newark, CA. Hodges is survived by his beloved children Alana Allen, Ashley Allen, and loving brother to Robert Allen, Jr. Preceded in death by his Wife, Nita Allen, his parents Robert Allen Sr. & Mildred Chalk, and by his brother Ronald Allen.

When not working, Hodges could be found cheering on one of his favorite ponies at the “Golden Gate Fields” racetrack in the San Francisco bay area. Or, trying out a new recipe for his favorite dish, red beans and rice. He was rarely seen without a smile, and took pride in his work with the County of San Mateo, and in his two daughters. His loss will leave a void in the lives of the many people he touched with his jovial spirit.

A Celebration of Life will be held from 1:00 PM – 5:00 PM, Saturday, June 1, 2019 at Fremont Memorial Chapel, 3723 Peralta Blvd., Fremont.

Legislation to remove weapons of war
from our streets

SUBMITTED BY ANDREW GINSBURG

On May 23, Rep. Eric Swalwell (CA-15) introduced the Freedom from Assault Weapons Act to ban assault weapons and require the government to buy them back, removing them once and for all from American communities.

“Weapons of war have no place in our communities,” said Swalwell. “They are designed to cause the most loss of life in the shortest amount of time, something we’ve seen over and over from our children’s schools to every faith’s house of worship.”

The U.S. has seen a rash of mass shootings involving assault weapons in recent years, in places such as Parkland, Florida; Las Vegas, Nevada; Orlando, Florida; and Newtown, Connecticut. These weapons are essentially civilian versions of military firearms. There are millions of such firearms in the U.S. circulation, with estimates ranging from 8.5 to 20 million.

The Freedom from Assault Weapons Act builds upon assault-weapon bans that have been introduced previously in Congress, defining assault weapons in the same way. But Swalwell’s legislation would not “grandfather in” weapons already in circulation; instead, following enactment and a period in which the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (ATF) would develop a price, ATF would buy back the banned guns from people or businesses. All guns bought back would be destroyed.

Owners would have two years in which to sell their weapons in the buyback program; after that, the possession, sale, and transfer of these banned assault weapons would become illegal and subject to criminal prosecution. The bill contains exceptions for law enforcement and possessing them at hunting/shooting clubs.

“We know part of the answer for ending mass shootings is to make it much less likely people can obtain and use assault weapons,” Swalwell said. “My Freedom from Assault Weapons Act would do that. I look forward to working with my colleagues to pass this bill, to continuing to stand up to the [National Rifle Association] NRA, and to speaking for those who value a person’s right to live overall.”

Dwelling unit bill

SUBMITTED BY JEFF BARBOSA

On May 22, the California State Senate passed SB 13, a significant housing bill authored by Sen. Bob Wieckowski (D-Fremont) to remove some of the biggest remaining barriers on homeowners who want to build accessory dwelling units (ADUs), also known as granny-flats, on their property.

“Solving our housing crisis will take a multi-pronged approach, and ADUs play an important role,” said Wieckowski. “Allowing homeowners to contribute to the solution by building accessory units is a great way to increase the supply of more affordable homes. I have worked to streamline the system and we are making progress. More needs to be done to really take advantage of the full potential of these accessory homes.”

SB 13 attacks three of the biggest remaining barriers to accessory dwelling units by reducing excessive developer impact fees, granting more oversight authority to the housing and community development department, providing a pathway to bring unpermitted existing units up to code, and eliminating owner occupancy requirements. The bill is supported by the Bay Area Council, California Yimby, California Chamber of Commerce, SV@Home, San Jose Conservation Corps, California Association of Realtors, PrefabADU, Casita Coalition, Eden Housing and several others.

• Officers responded to multiple calls about a group of people fighting near the former Ross store located at Mission and Warm Springs boulevards. Initial reports were that six or seven people armed with sticks, a hammer, and a firearm were fighting. Officers detained five people at gunpoint. One of the people suffered a stab wound to his abdomen and had other blunt force injuries. The suspect vehicle was described as a late 90s white Mercedes E320 that was last seen northbound on Warm Springs Boulevard. According to initial statements, the two suspects in the Mercedes attacked the victim and stabbed him. As the victim's friends arrived, the two suspects fled in the Mercedes. One suspect brandished a large revolver at the victims as they fled. The victim was taken to a trauma center and underwent surgery. His injuries are not believed to be life threatening. K9 Karo, with the assistance of Officer Haugh, spotted the suspect vehicle fleeing on Osgood Road near Walmart. A felony car stop was made, the two suspects were detailed and a bloody knife and realistic imitation firearm were found in the car. The 31 and 23-year-old male suspects were arrested. The man was taken to a trauma center. At the time of the call, it was only reported as medical in nature and there was no further information regarding the man's injuries. The following morning, the department was notified that the man's condition was grave and he was suffering from major injuries. Additional information showed that the man may have been involved in a fight. Since that time, officers and detectives have been working the case trying to determine what occurred. The man later was declared dead by doctor at the hospital. The case is under investigation.

BART Police deploy Narcan opioid antidote

SUBMITTED BY BAY AREA RAPID TRANSIT

The doses, single-use nasal sprays sealed in plastic containers that look like your typical allergy spray, have been stocked. Bay Area Rapid Transit (BART) police officers have been trained in how to administer the medication, known as Narcan or generically as naloxone. A policy has been put in place for when and how the opioid antidote is to be used to revive someone who has overdosed. By the end of May, it's expected all BPD officers will carry Narcan.

"It's a public health concern," said Armando Sandoval, BART's community outreach liaison and crisis intervention team coordinator. "We're dealing with the safety of those who struggle with addiction, public, first responders, our officers, BART employees and our community partners. We have a choice either to be proactive by getting out in front of it or we can choose to get out of the way. We choose to be proactive," he said.

Carrying Narcan is just one more tool in the officers' toolkits to combat social issues such as homelessness, mental illness and drug addiction that affect BART and the communities it serves

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF
JAVIER LOPEZ URENDA
CASE NO. RP19019977

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: JAVIER LOPEZ URENDA:

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by BRYAN URENDA ARENAS in the Superior Court of California, County of ALAMEDA.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that BRYAN URENDA ARENAS be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act with limited authority. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on 07/01/2019 at 9:31 AM in Dept. 201 located at 2120 MARTIN LUTHER KING JR. WAY BERKELEY CA 94704 Berkeley.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections and written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the inventory and appraisal of estate assets of any first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a formal Request for Special Notice (DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets of any first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the property address or other common designation, if any, shown herein. If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. If the sale is set aside for any reason, including if the Trustee is unable to convey title, the Purchaser at the sale shall be entitled to a refund of the monies paid to the Trustee. This shall be the Purchaser's sole and exclusive remedy. The purchaser shall have no further recourse against the Trustor, the Trustee, the Beneficiary, the Beneficiary's Agent, or the Beneficiary's Attorney. Age-Friendly Center Groundbreaking

In partnership with The Mission Peak Company, the City of Fremont is hosting a groundbreaking ceremony at 11 a.m. Friday, June 7 to celebrate the start of construction on an 11,000-square-foot age-friendly center in Fremont’s Warm Springs District. The new center, second city building in Fremont dedicated to services for older adults, is expected to open by fall 2021. It will provide residents ages 55 years and older a variety of classes and activities such as exercise classes, informational events, and access to many social services and cultural celebrations. As part of the new age-restricted master-planned community, Mission Falls, the center will help fulfill Fremont’s goal of being an inclusive community to residents of all ages.

Master of Ceremonies and Human Services Director Suzanne Shenfil will kick off the festivities, along with Fremont Mayor Lily Mei and City Manager Mark Danaj. The event will be held in the lot immediately adjacent to Pauline Weaver Senior Apartments, 47111 Mission Falls Ct. To RSVP for the event, visit www.age-friendly.site/groundbreaking or call (510) 790-6600.

Dusterberry Neighborhood Park Master Plan

On May 15, Fremont Recreation Commission voted to recommend that Fremont City Council approve the Dusterberry Neighborhood Park Master Plan. This master plan is the result of six months of community input gathered through four public meetings that also included design exercises with residents and three online surveys. The master plan will be presented to the council at its regularly scheduled meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday, June 18 at City Hall, 3300 Capitol Avenue.

Dusterberry Park is the future 4-acre park in the planning stages and will be located at the corner of Dusterberry Way and Peralta Boulevard. The current building will eventually be demolished, and the concrete and asphalt removed to make way for a park that serves the residents in the neighborhood. For more information, visit www.Fremont.gov/Dusterberry or contact Senior Landscape Architect Mark Mennucci at MMennucci@fremont.gov or (510) 494-4530.

Budget Hearings set in June

The city’s proposed operating budget for the next fiscal year, running from July 1, 2019 through June 30, 2020, was presented to the city council at the council meeting on May 21. The first public hearing to comment will be held on Tuesday, June 4, and the second hearing and adoption is on Tuesday, June 11. Both public hearings are part of the council meeting and will begin at 7 p.m. To view the Fiscal Year 2019/20 proposed operating budget, visit www.Fremont.gov/FY19-20ProposedOperatingBudget.

Opening of Pauline Weaver Senior Apartments

On Friday, May 17, the City of Fremont celebrated the opening of Pauline Weaver Senior Apartments, 89 new affordable rental units for seniors. This new complex, built in partnership with Eden Housing, is at 47003 Mission Falls Court in Fremont’s Warm Springs area. It is named after Pauline Weaver, a longtime Fremont resident, previous Fremont planning commissioner, and Eden Housing board member who has devoted her career to providing affordable housing for the community.

The complex includes a community room, common courtyard, community gardens, a computer lab, and bike storage. Residents have already been selected for Pauline Weaver Senior Apartments, but those interested in future affordable housing opportunities can sign up for the city’s Affordable Housing Interest Lists at www.Fremont.gov/AffordableHousingInterestLists usingInterest. Prayers for the Earth

SUBMITTED BY DORSI DIAZ
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF SUN GALLERY

“Prayers for the Earth” is an afternoon of activities presented by members of the Eden Area Interfaith Council. In these times, our planet is surrounded by strife, upheaval, and the uncertainties of climate change. All the faiths participating will be voicing their concerns and support for the continued wellbeing of our one common home, Earth.

This public event offers hope that if we of different faiths can work together, so can the peoples of the world. It is another chance to broaden public understanding of who we are as a united council, and of our individual faiths.

We encourage the attendance of families with children as many eco-friendly crafts will be offered for them to explore. Guests can also take advantage the last day to experience the gallery’s show “Planet Earth: The Beauty of Life.” This event was sponsored by Eden Area Interfaith Council and Sun Gallery.

Hayward scores ‘A’ on climate leadership

SUBMITTED BY CHUCK FINNIE

The City of Hayward has been recognized as a global leader in environmental action by the environmental-impact nonprofit CDP, formerly Carbon Disclosure Project, making it onto CDP’s Cities A List. Every year, more than 600 cities report their climate data through CDP’s environmental disclosure platform and in so doing demonstrate commitment, transparency and ambition in climate protection.

For the first time earlier this month, CDP published its Cities A List to showcase local government climate leadership and encourage more cities to accelerate their climate action. In 2018, CDP scored cities from A to D based on their disclosures for how effectively they are managing, measuring and working to reduce greenhouse gas emissions, and for adapting to climate risks. Hayward was one of just seven percent of cities who reported their environmental data through CDP in 2018 to receive an A grade. Ponder this and other truths as you enjoy a tasting from some of our local breweries. Join well known taste master Ira Bletz as he shares the history, lore, and mythology surrounding beer and the brew craft. Learn how beer is made and discover a beer famous in story and song.

Jazz Band Festival

The East Bay Traditional Jazz Society (EBTJS) proudly presents the 19th annual “School Jazz Band Festival” on Saturday, June 1. Music will be provided by EBTJS’s own Jazzinators, Horner Hornets Jazz Band, Kennedy Titans Jazz Band, Thornton Thunderbolts Jazz Band, and American Eagles Jazz Band.

The event will be held at Bronco Billy’s Pizza Palace in the Irvington District and there is no cover charge. We will “pass the hat” to stipend each band’s performance for musical purchases.

The East Bay Traditional Jazz Society is a non-profit organization dedicated to the education, promotion, preservation, and enjoyment of live, traditional jazz. EBTJS has accomplished several youth jazz programs, including the Spring School Jazz Fest, scholarships to jazz camp, in-school jazz presentations, community youth jazz band, and the annual Youth Dixieland Festival. We have learned that when we bring OKOM (Our Kind of Music) to where people congregate, it not only benefits the community, but also our student musicians.

Painting with a Knife

SUBMITTED BY SUSAN HELMER

Peggy is currently working with a palette knife in oils on canvas. Although initially a student of the human form, Peggy’s natural curiosity leads her to render various subjects in saturated color and heavy impasto. Her thick impastos give her work a strong sculptural quality rarely seen in paintings. The effect is to pause the viewer and give them a moment for reflection.

The painting demo will show artists how to render objects in water mixable oils with only a palette knife. We’ll start the demo with a simple object rendered in three or four values. Then show how easy it is to create buildings with a knife. The knife is especially adept at rendering old barns. We’ll also render trees using a long knife. Trees, especially tall straight aspen, are also easy to create using a long knife. Finally, we’ll load the knife with multiple colors and move it across a surface to create water reflections.

If you think music composition is only for a famous guy memorialized by a marble bust, think again! Students at Kennedy High School and Walters Junior High School in the Fremont Unified School District (FUSD) are learning to compose classical music through a groundbreaking music education program, Artists In Schools (AIS), created by Music at the Mission.

“Music at the Mission’s Artists In Schools (AIS) residency program is made possible by a grant from the California Arts

AIS brought the three artists of Music at the Mission’s Ledge Trio, Rhonda Bradetich (flute), Bill Everett (bass), and Aileen Chanco (piano), to Kennedy High School and Walters Junior High School, to teach composition for four weeks in October. AIS composition drafts were expanded by Music at the Mission violinist and composer Steve Huber during the winter months. The pieces were tailored to students’ individual abilities and were written to include Music at the Mission AIS teaching artists in the final performance.

For four weeks in March, the Music at the Mission chamber

They’ve done a really good job,” noted Bob Sterling. “When we first started working with the students, it took the kids a while to break out of their shells, because it was a new concept for them. But once they got used to the idea that the teachers would be providing a lot of guidance, teaching them how to go about creating variations, they got very excited about it!”

“When the final composition came in from Steve Huber, there was a bit of a learning curve because there were technical issues for the students to master. When we rehearse the piece, in absence of our soloists, the students have to important to keep learning from the veterans of the music field,” Cruz said, recalling the past year. “The people at Music In The Mission have a vast amount of knowledge and perspective on music that can be refreshing and fun.

The Titans, composed by Kennedy High School band class and Huber; and The Warriors, composed by the Walters Junior High School band class and Huber, will be performed by band class students, conducted by faculty members Sterling and Cruz, on Tuesday, May 28 at Kennedy High School. The performances will feature Music at the Mission’s Ledge Trio. The concert, Side By Side, is free and family friendly. Kennedy High School is and donations from the Music at the Mission 2018 Fund-the-Passion campaign,” explained Aileen Chanco, Music at the Mission Executive and Artistic Director, introducing the program. “We are fortunate to have received this kind of support for the new program, which was launched in October of 2018. It was conceived as a mentoring program to further deepen the musical education of two chosen classes in the City of Fremont, the band class from Walters Junior High School taught by Kristopher Cruz, and the band class of Kennedy High School, taught by Bob Sterling.”

players returned to the two schools to coach, this time bringing in clarinetist Mike Corner to work specifically with saxophone and clarinet students. In May, the bands, Cruz, Sterling, and AIS artists worked side by side again for another four weeks in preparation for the upcoming concert.

“It’s been about two years since the Artists In Residency program was first proposed because of the lengthy process required in order to get the grant, and I was immediately interested in it. What has been really great is having these professional musicians come in and work with our students.

imagine how it’s going to come together. But once the soloists came to rehearsal for the first time, that was when they were able to understand how it all came together!” According to Sterling, “The students are familiar with the soloists because they’ve been coming out to Kennedy High School for years to give performances. This made the interactions easy because the students were very open to new concepts and techniques because of the pre-existing relationship.”

It was also a learning experience for Kristopher Cruz at Walters Junior High School. “As a new teacher with only a few years of experience, I always found it toire. One thing I feel that is missing from a music education is finding ways for students to create something of their own.

“When we started the Artists In Schools program at Walters, I was reminded that the students I teach are more creative than I remember them. I was reminded that my students have a depth of intelligence that I forget to tap into. What the musicians at Music in the Mission do for the community is tremendous. They not only teach and inspire the students, they have inspired me to continue being a better version of myself that hones in on all aspects of education.”

MY CHOICE IS WTMF,

because I don't want to navigate all over the Bay for my health care.

Convenient locations and flexible office hours are often a key consideration when patients choose Washington Township Medical Foundation (WTMF). Since Fremont resident Justin Ruhnke's first visit to a WTMF Orthopedist, he's come to appreciate how easy it's been to find top-notch doctors just minutes from his home. Now, he doesn't have to deal with long trips, traffic delays, and bridge tolls. And he likes being able to get appointments quickly. But there are still other factors that prompted Justin to choose WTMF. "I've received really great care here. Their services are extensive and all work in tandem with each other. Plus, the doctors generally spend more time, are good at listening and offer up-to-date treatment options." Just as important is the fact that his doctors work with him, value his opinions and respect him. It's a win-win for Justin (and he doesn't need those maps anymore).

Part of Washington Hospital

Because WTMF is an integral part of the Washington Hospital Healthcare System, we have immediate access to the system's wide array of advanced healthcare services, whenever you need them. This includes their highly awarded inpatient and outpatient facilities and specialty centers.

Washington MyChart

is an online resource which allows our patients to see their personal health information in a safe, secure and private manner. Accessible from your mobile or desktop device, you can view your test results, prescriptions, allergies, immunizations, and other portions of your health record. You can also send a message to your doctor's office, schedule an appointment, or request a referral.

Our WTMF specialist network has a staff of board certified physicians who work as a team, consulting regularly and collaborating to provide patients with thorough, in-depth care in specialties ranging from Cardiology and Neurosurgery to Endocrinology and Geriatrics.
